Editor Missouri Alumnus,
Columbia, Missouri.

Dear Sir:

I was looking through the sample copy of The Alumnus you were kind enough to send me, and saw a letter from Panama giving a list of the Missouri men on the big job. I was surprised when I saw that I was not in the list. It set me to thinking: He was a Missouri man I had never heard of who had been on the job several months and it was very evident that he had never heard of me. I began to realize how out of touch I had allowed myself to become-- therefore this subscription.

Sincerely yours,

....., '05.

P. S.--I would like to get a Directory of Graduates.

It Isn't Too Early

to begin to think about coming back for Commencement in June.

As last year, an attractive program will be arranged for the alumni. Come and see the New University, attend the student stunts and renew the associations of college days.

Even those who were graduated in 1913 will find changes. The White Campus of science buildings is growing in beauty and importance, and work on the splendid new Library Building, connecting the old campus with the new, will be under way.

An additional feature of the exercises—perhaps the most noteworthy of all—will be the celebration of the seventy-fifth anniversary of the dedication of the University. A definite program for this will be announced later.

Write to The Alumnus that you are coming back, so that your classmates may know.

Alumni Business and Professional Guide

This guide is published for the convenience of Missouri Alumni of the various professions who may wish to obtain reliable correspondents at a distance to transact business for them.

Alumni of all professions who are in a position to be of service to other alumni are invited to place their cards in the guide.

The charge is $1.65 for the remaining five issues—33 cents a month.

“I REMEMBER WHEN---”

By HIRAM PHILLIPS, T.E.'80, C.E.'91

To an old student of the University of twenty-five or thirty years ago a visit to Columbia and the old school is interesting from many standpoints. Columbia of a quarter of a century ago was a country village without a public water supply, electric lights, sewers or telephones, and with scant paving. Now it has taken on metropolitan airs and few of the old marks remain. Many of the old familiar faces are gone. You can see Jake Sellinger's smiling face on the balmy days but he won't shave you; rich, retired and taking it easy. Dr. Victor with his rhymes and "old curiosity shop" is no more. Bill Chapman is dead; Jim Williams, however, can be found down the street, where he will give you a "scrape" for a dime notwithstanding the high cost of living. Our old treasurer of the University, Col. Beverly Price, trim, erect and alert as forty years ago, still receives the matriculation fees as of old.

It is, however, when one visits the old campus that the changes are more pronounced. As you approach the main entrance from the north you note the fence and steps have disappeared. In the old days cows, pigs and mules roamed the streets with easy familiarity with Columbia's elite and if you did not want your lawns and shrubbery trimmed by these improvised lawn mowers it took a strong lawful fence to protect you.

As you advance in the campus you note that the old chalybeate spring (with accent on the "be") with its pagoda and iron pumps is no more. This was a favorite trysting place. The mineral properties were generally credited to a liberal deposit of old nails in the spring. It was always highly recommended to the sub-preps for nerve stimulant. You will also notice that all the rustic seats around the majestic old elms have disappeared and there are numerous glaring electric lights to disturb the frequenters of this favorite resort. In the old days a few old flickering oil lamps only emphasized the twilight.

As you still further advance you note that Lake St. Mary, with its old associations, has been obliterated. It was a real lake with water, an island, capes, bays and promontories; with willows, rushes and mosquitoes and a rustic bridge and a full chorus of bull frogs. It once had up a sign "No Fishing!" The "ing" was erased and it told the truth. It was told and believed that Prof. McNally trained a bull frog quartette and their singing excelled that of the common denizens of the swamps. There is a tradition that freshmen when discouraged, disheartened and longing for home and mother would go down and listen to their music and return to their studies refreshed, consoled and contented. The old lake was also the official repository on Hallowe'en night for gates, wagons, etc. I once saw a full-panoplied medical student, silk hat and all, floating majestically on the placid surface.

Immediately in front of the old Academic Building which faced the columns was a parapet some twenty-five or thirty feet above the surface of the lake where brass cannon stood sentinel. They were ornamental and useful. I do not remember their bore but it took $1.25 worth of black powder for an ordinary salute, and $2 worth for a presidential one. On special occasions after salutes were fired they were rolled into the lake. It was always an even bet that the cannon would turn over one and a half or two times in making the descent; if one and a half times they landed on their backs; two times, right side up. It was the labor of our librarian, Scott Hayes, to rescue them; he was usually encouraged by the ribald shouts of the students.

Nothing remains of the old building but the columns, but to the old student they bring up pleasing memories of the past. Who can forget the old circular stair with its massive well-polished rail? It was told and believed that its high polish was a result of the co-eds using it as a means of locomotion.

And the old chapel with its circular rows of straight-back wooden benches, and the gallery, every point commanding a view of the rostrum. Compulsory chapel attendance was in vogue then; the students were all numbered, not on their backs, but given numbers to cover. A sharp-eyed monitor was on guard and if your number was not covered you were "it." I remember having a seatmate who was of such generous proportions that he could cover both of our numbers. He was very popular with me.

I remember there were many small wires stretched across from the balcony to points above the rostrum, thereby, it was said, improving the acoustic properties of the chapel, but every one knew they were there to protect Dr. McAnally's choir and the faculty from missiles thrown by the law students who inhabited the gallery.

And who can graphically describe a chapel exercise; the faculty, solemn and sedate seated in tilted, high-back chairs up against the wall, behind an austere railing, and the restive and often noisy students? Dr. Laws, brusque and forcible, who was built on plans for strength and durability and not for speed. (I recall a time when the students took a vacation on April 1st and formed boisterous bands who marched over the city. Dr. Laws tried to catch or disperse them. He could disperse them all right but he never caught a one, except a cripple who did not know the doctor was after him.)

Dr. Laws would read a passage from Scripture and each morning offer the same old prayer for the same old kind of sinners. He would pray standing, facing the students, with one eye open, for the President of the United States and all others in authority. Those to whom he referred were popularly supposed to be Horace, Tom Jones and Jack Rummans, as they cut quite a figure in the physical operation of the University. The doctor would close his supplication by repeating the Lord's Prayer. One time he made a miserable flunk in repeating it and was vociferously cheered by stamping by the law students, whom he thereupon dubbed as a lot of "Mules"—which has righteously stuck to them to this day. The exercises were closed by the doctor announcing the names of those he wished to see "in his private study," and then the day's labors were under way.

As to the social life of the students there "warn't no such critters" as fraternities or sororities. Now their number seems only limited to combinations of three of the letters of the Greek alphabet. They were prohibited by law and the ordinances; you had to sign an obligation, solemn and severe, not to join such organizations, and if you had already joined, not to affiliate with such a body. I cheerfully signed the pledge and religiously kept it. I was not tempted—no one asked me.

Notwithstanding there were no fraternities the "barbarians" managed to create in their minds associations who were plotting against the peace, welfare and dignity of the University. One of the mysterious duties of the unaffiliated was supposed to be the consumption of various and sundry decoctions that only the profligate use.

Dr. Laws was gruff, austere, but withal kindly and sympathetic; but we held him in awe. It seems different now. I heard Dr. Hill referred to as "Prexy," "A. Ross" and "A No. 1" by a freshman and he did not seem to think he was committing lese majesty.

Jack Rummans, the old watchman who carried a star, club, revolver and a bull's eye lantern, is dead. He could not run, was too good-natured to strike any one, his revolver was not supposed to be loaded. He only carried the lantern to let us know where he could be found.

Memory can only replace the old faculty. There are only two left: Dr. Moss and Dr. McAlester, the latter of whom I believe has retired.

New buildings are everywhere; they have even invaded the old horticultural grounds where they formerly raised strawberries in the spring and grapes, etc., in the fall. The students always seemed to be welcome to these delicacies, if they would go for them at night and avoid the dog and the watchman.

Old "Jumbo" the elephant, the pride of the University, is not in evidence. He was dead but would occasionally come out of his haunts and display himself on the roof of the main building.

The lot where Dr. Laws' cow, whose normal color was a pure white, overnight changed into a brilliant deep red, is occupied by a stately building.

The calf pasture, where the cadets used to drill and shoot gravel from blank cartridges at the calves, is now the site of the main building.

Parker Hospital now occupies Prof. Ficklin's cow pasture. His cows were sometimes utilized as bell ringers when tied to a twine string attached to the bell clapper in what is now Switzler Hall.

The students now are not required to do anything, have no compulsory chapel, are allowed to do as they please, have no rules to break and don't have a good time doing what they are told not to do.

My reverie is broken. I meet a serious senior whom I felicitate in his new surroundings, magnificent buildings, ample equipment and large attendance, and he tells me that "we have a fine school here now." It did not amount to much until a few years ago, but, thanks to wise management and liberal appropriations, it now ranks with the best universities in the land."

It Pays to Play Football.

When J. J. Gallagher, the big guard and center of the 1913 football team, walked into the senior designing class room one day just before the holidays, he noticed something besides his drawing tools on his desk. It was a 17-jewel, open-face gold watch, with a fob bearing a gold football, which the senior civil engineers had presented to the big Tiger in appreciation of his work on the football field. The class called for a speech, but "Mike" was too overcome to say more than that they "could see how he felt about it and he certainly appreciated it and would always remember it."

FARMING BY MAIL

"If you cannot come to the University, the University will come to you."

This is what Charles H. Williams, A.B., B.S. in Ed. '07, secretary of the University Extension Division, is telling the farmers of Missouri. He does more than just tell them—he convinces them.

Mr. Williams was busy with a heap of mail when a visitor entered his office recently. He tossed a letter across the desk.

"Remember that story about 'farming by mail' that the University publisher sent out to the papers of the State the other day?" he asked. "Well, I've gotten dozens of letters inquiring about the course. Some of the letters are naturally a little skeptical. Correspondence work is a new thing to farmers. They must be 'shown,' despite the fact that all who inquire about the course are not from Missouri."

While Mr. Williams was opening the letters, the visitor read the one that had been tossed to him. It was from a 13-year-old girl of Kansas City. She had not yet completed her work in the grades and she said so frankly. She wanted to study the propagation and cultivation of plants.

"I have raised plants in a small green house and in a garden," she said, "and I think this will be of assistance to me in studying the course. I need the information and feel confident your correspondence course will bring it to me. As you will see, I have here at home the necessity which is even better than an opportunity to put it into practical use at all seasons."

"The key word is there," said Mr. Williams. "It is now a 'necessity' for the farmers to study more scientific methods of cultivation and propagation. And that is why the University of Missouri is going to carry its courses of study into their very homes.

"I have received a hundred letters from people inquiring about the course. Many of them live in the cities. No less than a dozen letters have come from Kansas City and St. Louis. On one farm both the farmer and his wife are taking courses. Oh, yes! we give courses for women. All the courses are open to them.

"The course in home economics seems to be the most popular. This reading course deals with such phases of life as cooking, ventilation, house decoration, house sanitation, care and feeding of infants, feeding of children, training children, laundry and cleaning, canning and preserving and house decoration. The aim is to give as many short cuts as possible to good house-keeping learned from the experience of other women. It will be an exchange bureau of ideas."

Mr. Williams tossed another letter across the table. It was from a farmer who lived in Idaho. He was inquiring about the course in fruit growing.

"The farmers of Missouri are losing millions of dollars every year through failure to take proper care of their orchards," said Mr. Williams. "Statistics show that orchards well cared for produce four times as great profits as orchards poorly cared for. We offer the farmers of the state expert knowledge upon the subject of fruit growing. Courses conducted by specialists are offered by correspondence at the cost of reading and correcting the papers. We have a reading course in fruit growing, a course in orcharding and small fruits and a course in cultivation and propagation of plants. These courses run fourteen weeks.

"We offer the farmer courses upon every branch of farm work—stock raising, feeds and feeding, soils, crops, dairying and poultry raising. All these are given at the actual cost of conducting the work. A regular high school course, based upon Warren's 'Elements of Agriculture,' is given. This counts for one unit's credit toward entrance in the University. Many of the younger farmers are taking this course.

"We also have an elementary reading course in agriculture and home economics. These courses are intended for persons who wish a simple reading course but who do not care for University credit. The cost of each course is but $1.50. The high school course cost $15 and runs forty weeks. Courses counting for credit in the two-year winter course are also given. Special lectures upon any of the courses are furnished by the University."

Another letter came from Florida. "Do you get letters from all over the country?" Mr. Williams was asked.

"No," he said, "not from all the states, but we do receive letters from half a dozen. Idaho and Florida are the two most distant states from which we have received inquiries."

The cost of the courses by correspondence is about one-third that of the same courses, including room and board, to students actually attending the University. Mr. Williams says the correspondence work is as thorough as that done in actual attendance. The courses can be begun at any time of the year and no examinations are required. A certificate is awarded at the close of the course.

The Extension Division of the University was formally established by the Board of Curators in January, 1910, but no course was given particularly for farmers and their wives until last year.—J. L.

GAME ON COLLEGE GROUNDS

The Missouri-Kansas football game will continue to be played on college grounds.

This is the effect of the refusal of the Missouri Valley Conference representatives, meeting at Lincoln, Neb., January 19, to rescind the rule requiring intercollegiate games to be played in the college towns.

Of the seven schools in the conference, only the Kansas Agricultural College voted against the present rule. The Kansas University representative did not vote, giving as his reason that the Kansas educational board was evenly divided on the proposal. The other schools in the conference are Missouri, Nebraska, Drake, Ames and Washington.

The Missouri Board of Curators met at Kansas City January 17 to determine finally their attitude on the question. The Kansas City Alumni, as an organization, made no recommendation, but three members, Ed S. North, J. A. Kurtz and R. B. Caldwell, appeared before the board to urge the removal of the game to Kansas City. The St. Louis Alumni had sent a statement strongly opposing such a change. Prof. J. W. Hudson, representing the Missouri faculty, spoke in favor of the present rule.

The result of the poll taken by The Missouri Alumnus was submitted. One hundred and three subscribers voted for and twenty-nine against the college-grounds plan.

After hearing the arguments, the board unanimously instructed its representatives to the Lincoln meeting to vote for the rule now in force.

THE 1914 SCHEDULES

Missouri and Purdue may meet on the gridiron next fall, according to present tentative arrangements. The date has been agreed upon, October 31, and all that remains to be settled is whether the game is to be played at Columbia or Lafayette, Ind. Both universities want to play two games, one in 1914 and one in 1915, but Purdue wants the first game played on its grounds and Missouri has not agreed to that yet.

Only one more date remains to be filled on the football schedule. The games arranged are:

October 3, Rolla at Columbia; October 17, Oklahoma at Norman; October 24, Ames at Columbia; October 31, Purdue at either Lafayette or Columbia; November 7, Drake at Des Moines; November 14, Washington at Columbia; November 21, Kansas at Lawrence. October 10 is still open and probably will be filled with a game with some state institution. This makes an exceptionally strong schedule, all the games being with schools that have football reputations.

The game with Purdue will take the place of the Illinois game. Purdue always has one of the strongest teams in the Western Conference. In the season just past the Boilermakers tied Illinois and lost to Chicago, the Western Conference champions, by the narrow margin of a field goal.

The baseball season will start with two games with the Kansas Aggies at Manhattan. These games will be played on a trip to be taken during the Easter holidays. Two other games not yet arranged will be played on this trip. The schedule follows:

April 9 and 10, Kansas Aggies at Manhattan; April 17 and 18, Ames at Columbia; April 22 and 23, University of Honolulu at Columbia; April 27 and 28, Texas at Columbia;

May 1 and 2, Kansas Aggies at Columbia; May 6 and 7, Ames at Ames; May 8 and 9, Kansas at Lawrence; May 14 and 15, Kansas at Columbia. The University of Honolulu is the same team of Chinese that played here last spring. The games with Texas will be the first athletic contests between the two schools for several years.

The 1914 track schedule is as follows:

March 7, K. C. A. C. invitation meet at Kansas City; March 14, M. A. C. invitation meet at St. Louis; March 27, indoor dual meet with Kansas at Kansas City; April 18, Drake relay games at Des Moines; April 25, annual Varsity meet; May 2, Ames at Columbia; May 9, Minnesota at Minneapolis; May 16, Kansas at Columbia; May 23, Kansas Aggies at Manhattan; May 30, Missouri Valley Conference meet at St. Louis; June 6, Western Conference meet at Chicago.

The meet with Minnesota is the only date not yet certain. The Gophers are now trying to arrange their schedule so that they can meet the Tigers on the date selected.

A. B. Men May Play.

Men with the A.B. degree who have not played their full three years are not now excluded from intercollegiate competition in the Missouri Valley, according to a ruling of the conference at Ames, Ia., in January. Formerly a man who had taken the degree was automatically excluded, even though he had not played the three years allowed by the conference. The more liberal rule permitted George Taaffe to play this year as captain of the basketball team. Taaffe took his A.B. degree last June and is now in the School of Engineering.

WOMEN'S INTERESTS

A New Department That Should Interest the Men Also.

The Alumnus: As an interested reader of The Alumnus I wish to commend the splendid technique of the magazine—the mechanical details and arrangement of material are very satisfactory. May I suggest an addition to the subject matter? Could we not have a page devoted to the interests of the alumnae? The alumnae organizations over the state could be asked to send in reports of their work and members.

It delights me to know that the Kansas City women have organized—that word recalls the time when the girls in the University "organized" and selected the section of seats to be occupied by them at all functions held in the Auditorium. Three of us in Liberty have said many times that we wished the alumnae in Kansas City would get together, as they have done in St. Louis for so long. We have even talked of initiating the movement. Now we hope that they will consider us as suburbanites and eligible to membership.—From a letter by Mrs. Robert S. Withers (Ethel Massie), A.B.'03, Liberty, Mo.

Now here's the very page, Mrs. Withers—and a good deal more than a page. The department will be run monthly, and the editor hopes that the secretaries of the various alumnae organizations, in Missouri and elsewhere, will help to make it interesting by sending in reports of their meetings. Not only that, but every alumna of the University is urged to contribute news or opinion. The whole magazine is made for the women as well as for the men, but this department will deal with matters of special concern to Missouri's alumnae.

Missouri alumnae were as keenly interested in the fortunes of the 1913 Tigers as were the men. This letter from Miss Gladys Craig, A.B.'10, is typical: "Alumnus day is always a gala day for me, but that last number telling all about the Kansas game kept me tingling for a week. I am doing graduate work in the University of Washington and have met quite a number of Missouri students who live here in Seattle. They all fight for Missouri and love to talk of the 'good old days'." Miss Craig's address is 4534 University boulevard, Seattle.

Mrs. Nelson, A.B.'13, is at Liberty, Mo., this winter. Her husband is a member of the William Jewell faculty.

Mrs. Robert S. Withers A.B.'03, regent of Alexander Doniphan Chapter, was chairman of the credentials committee at the Missouri State Conference of the Daughters of the American Revolution which convened at Lexington in October, and also conducted the election of officers.

Women at the University don't require men in order to have a good time at their parties. One of the unique "stunts" of the season was the pre-Christmas party of the Women's Athletic Association, which the members attended dressed as "kids." All received gifts, toys and dolls and the like, from a Christmas tree. The Women's Pan-Hellenic Association gave a dance for girls only at the Kappa house before the holidays. Those who went as "ladies" wore party frocks, while their escorts were severely clad in white shirtwaists and black skirts.

The enrollment statistics printed on another page of this issue show that approximately one in every four students in the regular term of 1913-14 is a woman. Adding the figures for the summer school, which is attended by men and women in almost equal numbers, the proportion is one in three.

A Women's Debating Club has been organized at the University, with Miss Ruth Hendrick of Carthage, Mo., as president, and Miss Clara Waterstripe of Marshfield, Mo., secretary. The club will apply for recognition as one of the permanent organizations of the University.

Delta Tau Kappa, an honorary society for junior and senior women who are specializing in English, has elected to membership Misses Helen Harris, Mildred Veazy, Louise Marbut, Marion Ryan, Mildred Bell and Vivian Bresnehen. Delta Tau Kappa was organized last year. It meets every two weeks to discuss modern authors.

Miss Ecel Hays, A.B.'07, is a welfare worker with the Northwestern Telephone Company. Her home address is 2285 Gordon, St. Paul, Minn.

The members of the home economics class are preparing meals for seven persons at a maximum cost of $1. The girls must make out the menu, do the buying and prepare the meal. There are more than a hundred in the class and the meals will be given daily until each girl has prepared one.

The Women's Pan-Hellenic Council has decided that no underclass member of a sorority shall have mid-week engagements. The upperclassmen are allowed but one. The penalty for violation of this rule is a whole week without "dates." Another feature of this Pan-Hellenic decision is that the escort may stay only half an hour after an evening in the library.

The Y. W. C. A. sold 15,000 Red Cross seals on the campus before the holidays. Miss Marguerite Jackson was chairman of the committee of forty who directed the sale. This is the first year that the stamp sale was under the management of the Y. W. C. A.

Miss Caroline Moreell, A.B., B.S. in Ed.'09, is social service secretary with the Legal Aid Society of the St. Louis Bar Association, 602 Board of Education Building. She is also assistant in the night high school in St. Louis. Her home address is 6008A Suburban avenue.

Mrs. Lou R. Essex, A.B., B.S. in Ed.'10, is assistant probation officer of the Juvenile Court in St. Louis.

The small girls in the Elementary School of the University have annexed athletics to their course of study. The boys play. The big co-eds play. Why can't little co-eds, too? There are eighteen in the two track teams. They have their training rules, too: No hot biscuit, no coffee, no candy. The "men" are getting in condition.

The University women dressed dolls and made other Christmas gifts for the Happy Hollow mission tree. In addition, the girls at Read Hall filled stockings with small toys. The Christmas tree was given by the Chi Omega sorority.

To Guard Against Fire.

During the Christmas vacation a committee from the University faculty, composed of Prof. L. M. Defoe, Prof. C. S. Lynch and Secretary J. G. Babb, together with Fire Chief E. N. Kurtz, inspected all the fraternity and sorority houses in Columbia and recommended that they be fitted with adequate fire escapes in the near future. Most of these houses are without fire escapes. On the others many of the fire escapes are not located where they are easily accessible.

THE ENROLLMENT

The present net total registration at the University, including the last summer session and the School of Mines, is 3,339, again over the previous session of 52. This increase will be made more pronounced by the enrollment for the second semester this year.

In detail, the figures as compiled by the registrar are as follows:

	Men	Women	Total
Summer Session 1913.	427	383	810
Regular Session 1913.
14.....	1877	650	2527
Summer Session students who returned in fall.....	150	78	228
Net registration since June, 1913.....	2154	955	3109
Registration at Rolla.			230
Total for Columbia and Rolla.....			3339
Total net registration last session, Columbia and Rolla.....			3287

23 Churches Represented.

Twenty-three church denominations are represented among the students of the University of Missouri this year. Among them are eighteen denominations of the Protestant church, the Catholic, the Jewish church and several others, including the Moravian and the Latter Day Saints. Seventy-one per cent of the students are church members, and of the non-members 18 per cent express a church preference. The Methodist church has the largest student membership and preference list, with the Christian church second and the Presbyterian third.

Typhoid Vaccination Now.

More than 300 University students have recently been vaccinated against typhoid fever. Only a small fee is charged to cover the cost of the vaccine.

FOOTBALL RECEIPTS

The gross receipts of the 1913 football season were $23,552.90—an increase of $5,526 over 1912 and of $986 over 1910, the last year in which the Kansas game was played in Kansas City.

The receipts for the last eight seasons have been: 1913, $23,552.90; 1912, $18,026.52; 1911, $21,023.14; 1910, $22,566.53; 1909, $22,352.81; 1908, $14,664.84; 1907, $8,640.17; 1906, $5,413.60.

The various games in 1913 brought in the following gross sums: Drury, $201; Oklahoma, $663; Illinois, $450; Rolla, $434.87; Ames, $902.18; Drake, $593.37; Washington, $903.37; Kansas, $12,633.86.

The balance of the total gross receipts came from the sale of yearly tickets, Freshman-Varsity games, the sale of Old Guard Buttons and other miscellaneous accounts.

Football Class Organized.

Coach Schulte believes in teaching football the year round. Immediately after the Christmas holidays he organized a football class composed of men on the 1913 freshman team and others who are interested in the game. Forward passing will be practiced and the chief points in line offensive and defensive work explained. Varsity men who are not busy with track work are helping Mr. Schulte.

"Nick's" Medals Stolen.

All of the medals belonging to John P. Nicholson, the former Tiger star, were stolen on a trip from Chicago to St. Louis recently. "Nick" was on the way to see his wife, who was ill.

Another Building Ready Soon.

The new Livestock Judging Pavilion on the State Farm will be ready for class work early in the spring.

THE NEWS IN BRIEF

Two Basketball Victories.

Missouri got a flying start toward the Missouri Valley basketball championship by defeating the Ames five in two games at Rothwell Gymnasium, January 12 and 13. The scores were 32-19 and 37-9.

About 1,400 persons saw each game—the largest crowds that have ever assembled in the gymnasium. The Missouri line-up was: Captain Taaffe, right forward; Brodie, left forward; Bernet, center; Speelman, left guard; Palfreyman, right guard.

The remainder of the schedule is as follows: February 4-5, Washington at Columbia; February 11-12, Kansas at Columbia; February 13-14 Ames at Ames; February 18-19, Kansas Aggies at Columbia; February 25-26, Kansas at Lawrence; February 27-28, Kansas Aggies at Manhattan; March 2-3, Washington at St. Louis.

President Hill Returns.

President A. Ross Hill returned to Columbia January 12 after a brief vacation in Europe. He went abroad with his family, who will remain in Munich for the winter. Dr. Hill arrived in time to welcome the farmers of Missouri at the opening session of Farmers' Week.

Library Contract Awarded.

The contract for the main portion of the new library building of the University of Missouri has been awarded to J. W. Wilson and Son of St. Louis. The bid was $158,332, the lowest of fourteen received. This amount includes the building of part of the library stacks, but does not include the cost of heating, lighting and plumbing. The work is to be finished by February 1, 1915. Wings will be added to the building later. The winning contractors built the Rothwell Gymnasium, the Physics Building and the extension to the engineering laboratories, and are now working on the Biology Building. The architect of the new library is James P. Jamieson of St. Louis, who has designed all the buildings on the new White Campus.

To Edit Paper in Japan.

Carl Crow, a former student of the University, is now managing editor and general manager of the Tokio Advertiser, the leading foreign daily of the Japanese capital. Mr. Crow had previously spent a year and a half as one of the editors of the China Press, an American-owned daily in Shanghai, China. The Chinese gave him the name Kai Lo, meaning Untiring Energy. He is the author of several books and has written extensively for the magazines. His newest book, "America and the Philippines," will be issued in April.

A New Book by H. M. Lyon.

A distinctively Missouri-made book is "Graphics," written by Harris Merton Lyon, an alumnus of the University, and published by William Marion Reedy of The Mirror, St. Louis. "Graphics" is a collection of fifteen short stories, some of them published for the first time. As Mr. Reedy says in a review, one must read Lyon's work to form an adequate conception of the short-story art in America. The stories in "Graphics" more than fulfill the promise of Lyon's writings while a student of the University. In subject they range from a delicate modern fairy tale to the stinging realism of "The Race Rioter." The style is powerful in its restraint. "Graphics" is a companion book to Lyon's "Sardonics," published a few years ago. Lyon has been a frequent contributor to McClure's, The American and other magazines since his graduation in 1905. His home now is at North Colebrook, Conn.

Alumnus is College President.

George Lincoln Brown, vice-president of the State College of South Dakota, at Brookings, has been chosen head of the college for the remainder of the school year. Mr. Brown has these degrees from the University of Missouri: Pe.P.'88; B.S., B.P.'92, and M.S.'93.

Graduates' Babies Win Prizes.

Camilla Collins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Collins of 3103 Eads avenue, St. Louis, is the prize baby of Missouri. She was awarded the sweepstakes prize and the first prize in the 3-year-old class at the baby contest held in Columbia in January by the State Home Makers' Conference. All her life Camilla has slept in a room with open windows. Her diet and general care have been strictly regulated, on the plan set forth in Holt's book on the rearing of babies. Charles Collins, the father, received the A.B. degree in 1903. He is now teaching in the Soldan High School of St. Louis. Mrs. Collins was Miss Madeline Branham of Columbia, A.B.'05.

Donald Meyer, son of Prof. and Mrs. A. J. Meyer of Columbia, won the first prize for 1-year-old babies. Vivian Long, daughter of Mr. and C. M. Long of Warrensburg, Mo., was first among the 2-year-olds. Mr. Long is a Missouri alumnus, with the degrees A.B. and B.S. in Agr.'05 and M.S.'06.

Maybe He Will Be "The Hon."

Stockton Fountain, B.S. in Agr.'11, of Centralia, Mo., is being urged by a number of farmers of Boone County to make the race for representative in the State Legislature this year. Mr. Fountain was president of the Agricultural Club and a member of the all-victorious stock judging team of 1910. Since his graduation he has been associated with his father in conducting a large farm near Centralia.

Lawyers Issue a Bulletin.

To present the results of legal study and research at the University of Missouri is the object of a new series of bulletins by the School of Law, the first number of which was recently issued. This number contains an article on "Estates Tail in Missouri" by Prof. Manley O. Hudson and "Notes on Recent Missouri Cases" by the student editors.

The bulletin will be issued quarterly. During the first year it will be sent free to all members of the bench and bar of the state whose addresses can be learned. After that it will be sent only to those who request it. Each issue will contain contributions by students who have been elected to the editorial board on account of superior work in their studies.

Advertising the University.

Nearly every newspaper reader in Missouri will have a chance to learn something about the University of Missouri in the next few weeks. H. J. MacKay, University publisher, has arranged to get information about the different counties and what the students of those counties are doing at the University. From this material he will prepare a series of articles to be sent to county papers all over Missouri.

McCoy to Teach in Oklahoma.

Alexander W. McCoy, who received the degree of C.E. in 1912 and this semester completed his work for the M.A. degree, has received an appointment as instructor in geology in the University of Oklahoma, effective February 5.

Attended Athletic Conference.

Prof. W. G. Manly of the University of Missouri attended the ninth annual convention of the National Collegiate Athletic Association, held in New York December 30. He went as representative of this district, which is composed of Missouri, Kansas, Nebraska, Iowa and South Dakota. The association aims to promote amateurism and keep college athletics on a high plane.

Keeping Out of Temptation.

Following precedent, this year's seniors in engineering are letting their beards grow as a means of protection against the lure of society till after the mid-year examinations. Several of the electrical engineers have signed a pledge, binding themselves to grow at least one inch of beard if they can. Premature use of the razor will be punished with a fine of $2. The money, if any is collected, will be used for a "feed."

Glee Club Will Tour West.

In competition with the clubs of thirty other institutions, the Glee Club of the University of Missouri has been chosen by the Santa Fe Railroad to make a three weeks' concert trip for the employes of the road. The club will probably leave February 1 and be back February 22. In connection with the concerts to be given in all the principal towns that the Santa Fe enters, the moving pictures of the Missouri-Kansas game will be shown. In addition, the company owning the pictures will feature the students in scenes which it will make on the trip. These pictures, it is expected, will be shown all over the country under the management of the Pathe Company. The students will be accompanied by a faculty adviser who will see that they keep up with their studies while on the tour. Alumni in the towns to be visited are looking forward to the trip. W. H. Truitt has promised that a banquet will be given the club by the alumni in Los Angeles. The trip was arranged by R. N. Klass, business manager of the club.

Another Farm Adviser.

A. W. Orr, a 1913 graduate of the College of Agriculture, recently began his duties as farm adviser of Hamilton County, Indiana.

Freshies in a "Night School."

Fraternity men, having improved their own scholastic standing materially in the last year, have undertaken to see that their freshmen pledges "toe the mark" in their studies. The scholarship committee of the Pan-Hellenic Council regularly calls before it those freshmen who have been reported delinquent and lectures them on the need of improvement. In some of the chapter houses "night schools" have been started, at which the freshmen are required to assemble from 7:30 to 10:30 each night. The study hall is in charge of an upper-classman, who sees that the younger men "get down and dig." At first the study-hall idea was taken as a joke by some of the pledges of the Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity. They sang what they called their "national hymn," beginning "School days, school days, dear old golden rule days," and gave a night-school yell, but certain effective treatment administered by the older members convinced them of their error.

"Cy" Helm Operated On.

News comes from Shreveport, La., that C. T. ("Cy") Helm has been successfully operated on for injuries received in Columbia three years ago while playing football. Helm, then quarterback for the freshmen, was hurt when tackled unexpectedly in a scrimmage with the Varsity. His collar bone was broken, his shoulder dislocated and three ribs jarred loose. Last fall, when the coaches issued a call for more material, "Cy" went out. The bad shoulder began to trouble him again and he was forced to quit school and go to his home in Shreveport. Helm is best known as pitcher for the Varsity baseball team the last two years. This was his fourth year at the University. He will not return to Columbia, planning instead to take a course in sugar engineering offered by the State University of Louisiana.

Student Voters Acquitted.

E. L. Joyce, a University student, was acquitted December 10 of illegal voting in the election of councilman in the Fourth Ward of Columbia last spring. The case was tried in the Callaway County Circuit Court at Fulton. The cases against all the eight students charged with the same offense have now been settled in the students' favor. Those who came to trial were acquitted and the charges against the others were dropped by the prosecution.

Banquet for the 1913 Tigers.

More than 125 attended a banquet given by the citizens of Columbia after the football season in honor of the victorious 1913 team. A miniature gold football was presented to each member of the team and the coaching staff.

E. S. Stephens, A.B.'03, was toastmaster. "The success of this, the second banquet of the kind, will make it an annual affair—when we beat Kansas," he said.

Dean J. C. Jones read a letter of congratulation from President A. Ross Hill, who was then in Europe. "Our spirit is a new spirit," said Dean Jones, "one that was born only a few years ago. It is a spirit of generous rivalry, fair play and justice to our opponents."

Other speakers emphasized the harmony which existed throughout the season between the coaches and players. Coach H. F. Schulte said that the spirit of the men on the bench was one of the greatest helps. In several instances where two men were rivals for the same place on the team, each lost no chance to help the other. Mr. Schulte said he had looked up the scholastic standing of the football players, and found that they were above the average of the University men as a whole.

Varying Views of Slang.

Most University professors acknowledge the value of slang—up to a certain point. This was brought out in a recently published symposium of opinions by faculty members and students of the University. Dr. H. J. Davenport, professor of economics, expressed the majority view when he said: "Good slang is good stuff." On the other hand is the opinion of Dr. Max Meyer, professor of psychology: "I have always abhorred slang, abhor it now and shall abhor it as long as I live."

He's Still a Good Persuader.

W. B. ("Bottles") Burruss, A.B., LL.B.'02, who will be remembered by many old grads as the man who brought Carrie Nation to Columbia, is general agent for the Provident Life and Trust Company at Springfield, Mo. His home address is 841 East Elm street.

Three Chapters to Build.

Three new fraternity houses will be erected in Columbia next summer. The Phi Delta Thetas will build a three-story brick house, costing $17,000, on their present location, 606 College avenue. Rooms will be provided for twenty-two men. The Sigma Nus plan to build a $20,000 home at Hitt street and University avenue. It will be a three-story brick building, 100 by 136 feet. The Delta Tau Deltas will build, but as yet have announced no definite plans.

A Record for Tipton, Mo.

With less than 1,300 population, Tipton, Mo., has fifteen students in Columbia. They claim the record attendance in proportion to the size of the town.

"The Girl and the Bomb."

"The Girl and the Bomb," a three-act musical comedy, presented in December at the Columbia Theater, afforded an outlet for the dramatic ability of University students. The book was written by Samuel Ayres, Jr., the lyrics by Robert R. Miller and the music by Frank W. Pirkey. Two performances were given before crowded houses and the efforts of the amateurs were liberally applauded. Militant suffragettes and a bomb were the chief elements in the plot. Twelve girls and twelve young men made up the chorus. Some of the songs that are still being whistled on the campus are "When Cupid Plays the Two of Hearts," "Woo Me," and "I Want to Be Close to My Man."

Another Class Memorial.

The senior class has voted to assess each member $1.50—$1 to go toward a class memorial and 50 cents toward a women's loan fund. The memorial probably will be a monument on the campus.

More Work for a Busy Dean.

Dean W. W. Charters of the School of Education of the University has been elected president of the Board of Curators of Stephens College. James M. Wood, an alumnus of the University, has been re-elected president of the college for a term of three years. The college recently cleared itself of debt by raising $75,415. It has started another campaign to collect $25,000 for re-equipping and remodeling the school plant.

Columbia M Men Organize.

Forty wearers of the Varsity M now in Columbia posed for a group picture recently and then elected officers as follows: President, H. H. Broadhead; vice-president, James A. Clay, captain of the 1914 football team; secretary, Harry LaRue. One of the purposes of the organization is to aid in getting good high school athletes to come to the University.

Saw Themselves in "Movies."

Nearly everybody in the University community went to see the "movies" of the Missouri-Kansas game when they were shown in Columbia. The game was an incidental attraction in many cases: the spectators wanted to see how their own faces showed up in the films. "The kick that beat Kansas"—a clear view of the ball soaring from McWilliams' toe across the goal bar—was the feature of the show.

Honors for "Bob" Harshe.

International recognition in the field of art is being won by an alumnus of the University of Missouri. Robert B. Harshe, who received the degree of Bachelor of Letters in 1899 and who is now assistant chief in the art department of the Panama Exposition, has just sold five of his etchings to the Luxemburg Museum in Paris. Few American artists win this distinction so early in their careers.

Alumnus is Student Pastor.

A new religious movement started in Columbia last September has developed to large proportions. It is the organization and direction of the religious life of the Methodist students in the University and colleges under the supervision of a man especially appointed for that work, the Rev. A. C. Zumbrunnen, student pastor of the Methodist Episcopal Church. This department of church work was designed to fill a need not met by the University, which as a state institution is not allowed to give any definite religious training. Mr. Zumbrunnen took the master's degree at the University of Missouri in 1909.

Their Shingle Up in Oklahoma.

C. C. McCollum, A.B.'09, and James A. McCollum, LL.B.'11, opened an office for the practice of law in Pawnee, Okla., January 1.

Craig Teaches Advertising.

J. H. Craig, A.B.'06, who is one of the proprietors of the Ad Service Bureau in the Midland Building, Kansas City, is telling what he knows about advertising to a night class of the Y. M. C. A. in Kansas City. Twelve young men are in the class and current publications are used as textbooks.

Fine for Jackson County!

Jackson County, Missouri, is the home of forty-two students in the College of Agriculture—seven per cent of the enrollment in the college. Thirty-six of these are from Kansas City. The figures do not include the short course enrollment.

To Debate on the Recall.

"Resolved, that the judges of the Supreme Court should be appointed for an indefinite time, subject to recall by the voters of the State," will be the subject for debate in the inter-high school contest at the University in May, 1914. Any high school accredited by the University may send representatives. The winner receives a University scholarship valued at $125.

Package Libraries to Schools.

The sending out of package libraries to high schools, in an effort to foster interest in debating, is a new activity of the Extension Division of the University. Each package will contain books, references and clippings on selected subjects. The only cost to the high school receiving a library will be that of transportation. The material may be kept two weeks. About fifty high school principals have approved the plan.

St. Joseph Club Organized.

A St. Joseph Club has been organized at the University with George Palfreyman as president, Byron Spencer, vice-president, and Carl Thomas, secretary-treasurer.

Building Roads in Texas.

W. C. Davidson, a '07 engineering graduate and formerly instructor in the School of Engineering, is with the Travilla Engineering Company of Fort Worth, Tex., which is engaged in building a million dollars worth of roads in that state.

Oklahoma Alumni in Club.

In Pawnee County, Oklahoma, is a society composed of twelve former students and alumni of the University. Redmond S. Cole is president and Miss Jennie Berry is secretary.

Plenty of Thrills for Wong.

Hin Wong, who was graduated from the School of Journalism in 1912, has been leading a life full of thrills since he entered newspaper work in his native China. In Canton recently he was thrown into prison and sentenced to death for writing an article that offended the party in power. Influential friends were able to obtain his release. While other Chinese educated in foreign countries are enjoying governmental offices of fame and profit, Wong has incurred the displeasure of his former associates by devoting his time to the poorer classes. He is general superintendent of homes for the blind, aged and infirm in Canton and is now trying to build a hospital for the 3,500 wards in his charge. He hopes also to found a school for the blind in Canton. Wong has connections with more newspapers than any other writer in Canton.

Making Their Own Way.

The payroll at The Commons this year amounts to approximately $1,400 a month. Seventy-five students are making practically all their expenses by working at the Club and Cafeteria. This is only one of the means students are using to make their way through school. The Co-Op employs fifteen student clerks. The Y. M. C. A. Employment Bureau is supplying odd jobs to a large number of men.

Literature by the Mile.

One hundred and eighty thousand copies of University bulletins and circulars were distributed in Missouri and other States during the last year. Altogether 72,300,000 pages, or 2,600,000,000 words, were sent out concerning the work being carried on here. The University publisher estimates that the reading matter if printed on one strip of paper would be 1,141 miles long.

Ad Club Wins a Prize.

An advertising library consisting of more than forty books and pamphlets was the prize recently won by the University of Missouri Ad Club for selling the most copies of Cherington's "Advertising as a Business Force." The prize was given by the Associated Advertising Clubs of America. The books have been placed in the library of the School of Journalism for the use of students in advertising.

Score One for the Men.

Contrary to the usual order of things, the men outnumber the women in the new group of Phi Beta Kappas. Of the five elected in December three are men. The new members are: Thomas Foster Wheelton of Moberly, Mo.; Guy Vernon Head of Flemington, Mo.; Clyde Trone Levy of Clinton, Mo.; Miss Zay Rowena Rusk of Columbia, and Miss Hettie Johnson of Princeton, Mo.

Teaching in the Philippines.

Missouri-trained teachers are becoming almost as widely scattered as the engineers. Several have found places in the Philippines. Jesse Bryant, who left school in the spring of 1913 to teach there, writes that he is now superintendent of a school at Laoang on the Island of Samar. He is one of four Americans in a town of 10,000. Others in the islands are A. F. Lagemon and V. C. Wright, both '13 graduates of the School of Education. Miles Thomas, a senior in the School of Education, recently returned from the Philippines.

Would Enter Columbia U.

Four graduates of the University of Missouri recently applied for entrance as graduate students in political science and philosophy in Columbia University, New York City. The applicants are Virgil Lee Board, Windsor, Mo., E.E.'10; George F. Miller, Farmington, Mo., B.S. in Ed. '12; Lyndon B. Phifer, Rush Hill, Mo., A.B.'13, B.S. in J.'12, and William C. Thompson, Columbia, B.S. in Ed.'13.

Lawyers in the Limelight.

Those were not English tourists that excited the curiosity of University people in December. They were junior law students, each wearing a "stand-up" collar, a swagger, and a walking stick. The lawyers adopted the regalia as distinctive of the class and wore it until the Christmas holidays.

Patterson Opens Law Office.

Edwin W. Patterson, A.B.'09, LL.B.'11, now has a law office of his own in the First National Bank Building, Kansas City, Mo. Mr. Patterson writes the interesting notes from Kansas City that appear monthly in this magazine. He will be remembered as the author of the lyrics in "Hundred Dollar Bill."

"Honorable" Comes to M. U.

"Honorable," a famous Percheron stallion imported from France, has been bought by the College of Agriculture. He won the championship of Wisconsin in 1912, and is known as the sire of more prize-winning Percherons than any other stallion in this section of the United States. "Honorable" will be used in class work in the courses in animal husbandry.

The Queerest Club of All.

Of the many clubs at the University of Missouri the queerest is the Quo Vadis, each member of which has the distinction of having "bummed" a thousand miles or more. This is one of the requirements for membership. The total mileage of the club is 174,381. Its motto is "Please, mum."

A Chance for Student Poets.

An effort is being made this year to arouse interest in the Field poem prize of $100, which has not been awarded in the last three years. The contest, formerly limited to students in the College of Arts and Science, has been thrown open to students of all divisions, and definite subjects have been assigned for competitors. Poems submitted must be on "Tolstoi," "The Balkan Struggle" or "The Santa Fe Trail." It is planned to have the winning poem recited at Commencement.

Alumni at Kirksville.

Thirteen alumni of the University of Missouri are in the faculty of the First District Normal School at Kirksville, Mo.

WEDDINGS

Miss Eva Whittaker.

H. J. Wobus, '10.

H. J. Wobus, E.E.'10, and Miss Eva Whittaker were married at the bride's home in St. Louis December 10. The ceremony was performed by the bridegroom's father, the Rev. G. D. Wobus of Swiss, Mo. The couple are at home at 3890 Juniata Street, St. Louis.

Miss Lillian Hufford.

I. A. Lowry, '13.

I. A. Lowry, B.S.in Agr.'13, and Miss Lillian Hufford were married December 10 at Smithville, Mo. They are living at Liberty, Mo., where Mr. Lowry is farming.

Miss Florence M. Boltze.

Thomas A. FitzGerald, '13.

Thomas A. FitzGerald, A.B.'13, was married December 13 to Miss Florence M. Boltze at Fort Madison, Ia. Mr. FitzGerald is teaching Latin and Greek in the Classical School at Pensacola, Fla.

Miss Ruth Price.

Edwill B. Smith.

Edwill B. Smith, a senior engineer, of Springfield, Mo., surprised his friends by taking the most binding of New Year's vows. He was married on that day to Miss Ruth Price of Springfield.

Miss Ethel Edwards.

Quincy Harrington.

DEATHS

---

Miss Barbara Hart, '11.

Miss Barbara Hart, AB.'11, and her grandmother were asphyxiated at their home in Fort Worthington, Ohio, December 10. Miss Rachael Hart, a sister of the dead girl, was overcome, but recovered. Gas had escaped from a heating stove in the room where the three were sleeping. Miss Barbara Hart was a charter member of the local chapter of Delta Gamma.

Mrs. James Terrell.

Mrs. James Terrell, wife of a former student of the University and sister of Boyle Clark, LL.B.'06, of Columbia, died December 15 at Parker Memorial Hospital in Columbia after an illness of only a few days. Mrs. Terrell's home was two and a half miles southeast of Columbia.

J. S. Branham.

J. S. Branham, a merchant of Columbia, known to many University alumni, died suddenly of heart trouble at his store on Broadway December 10. He was the father of Robert T. Branham of St. Louis, Warren S. Branham of Columbia and Mrs. Charles Collins of St. Louis, all graduates of the University.

Calvin M. Woodward.

Dr. Calvin M. Woodward, a member of the Board of Curators of the University of Missouri from 1891 to 1897 and at one time president of the board, died January 11 at his home in St. Louis. He was professor emeritus of Washington University and former dean of the faculty.

IN KANSAS CITY

By E. W. Patterson

A joint luncheon of the Kansas City alumni and the delegates from the University to the Student Volunteer convention was held at the Savoy Hotel Saturday, January 3. About fifty were present. Among those who made talks were: Prof. Edwards of the Missouri Bible College at Columbia; John S. Moore, secretary of the University Y. M. C. A.; E. Paul Steele, student secretary of the Baptist Church of Columbia; Prof. A. E. Douglass, A.B.'77, and O. H. Swearingen, LL.B.'97. At the close of the meeting, "Old Missouri" was sung and the "new yell" echoed through the hotel corridors in a way that left no doubt as to the existence of "Missouri spirit."

To the Kansas City Alumni and Alumnae Associations fell in large measure the task of caring for the visiting delegates to the Student Volunteer Convention held here December 31, 1913, to January 4, 1914. Seven young women from the University were entertained by the women graduates, and thirteen young men were given accommodations by the men's organization. The University was well represented at the convention.

Monte T. Prewitt, A.B.'10, LL.B.'12, who had been in the legal department of the Metropolitan Street Railway Company for more than a year, was promoted to the position of head of the claim department on January 1. The post carries with it the supervision of all the work of investigating claims for the Metropolitan and allied companies.

Samuel R. Freet, LL.B.'09, was elected president and Frank C. Wilkinson, A.B.'10, was elected secretary of the Young Men's Jefferson Club, a Democratic Club of the younger generation, at the annual election of officers at the Densmore Hotel on January 7. William F. Woodruff, A.B.'07, LL.B.'09, was the retiring president of the club.

IN ST. LOUIS

By L. J. Portner

Several members of the St. Louis Club of the University enjoyed the luncheon on December 24 with the local association. Impromptu talks were made by the officers and some of the visitors.

Malcolm I. Frank, LL.B.'11, has formed a partnership with L. P. Crigler, in whose office he was formerly employed. The firm is on the eleventh floor of the Third National Bank Building.

Gustav Vahlkamp is practicing law in the office of Lubke and Lubke in the Title Guaranty Building.

E. E. Chiles, A.B.'10, is teaching English in Smith Academy, a preparatory school allied with Washington University.

Walter D. Condie, who was in the Law School from 1908 to 1910, is now in the office of George B. Logan, in the New Bank of Commerce Building. Mr. Logan is the attorney for an insurance company and Condie is assisting him in this work.

Joseph T. Davis, LL.B.'04, is pushing his candidacy for the office of United States District Attorney for this district. George H. Moore, another Missouri alumnus, is also an acknowledged candidate for the position. Davis is a colonel now, having been appointed to Governor Major's military staff.

Alumni in Pittsburgh.

Alumni of the University living in the Pittsburgh, Pa., district recently formed an association and gave their first annual dinner, December 13, at the Pittsburgh Athletic Club.

The following toasts were given: "The University," by Dr. C. C. Guthrie, M.D.'01; "Our Association," by Frank Thornton, Jr., B.S.in E.E.'08; "By-gone Days," by T. J. Wilkerson, C.E.'90, and "The Newcomers," by W. P. Jesse, M.E.'13.

The association will hold four meetings a year—one early in the fall, one on the night of the Kansas game, one on St. Patrick's Day and one on University Day. The following officers have been elected: Frank Thornton, Jr., '08, president; W. P. Jesse, '13, secretary; Henning W. Prentis, Jr., '03, treasurer

Alumni in San Francisco.

The following notes about Missouri alumni and former students in San Francisco are contributed by John H. Snow, B.S.in Agr.'08, whose business address in that city is 522 Market street:

Milo H. Brinkley, B.S.in C.E.'03, C.E. 06 is assistant engineer with the State Railroad Commission, with offices in the Commercial Building. He has charge of the valuation of the Southern Pacific system in California.

Omar Denny, B.S.in M.E.'04, is a consulting engineer, with an office at 455 Humboldt Bank Building.

Porter Magruder, A.B.'11, is with the Citizens' League of Justice, Monadnock Building.

Fulton Allen Miller is with the R. G. Dun Company, 201 Sansome street.

R. W. Vaughn is at the Service Building, World's Fair grounds.

L. G. Tegtmeier is in the city engineer's office.

W. Paul Jones, a former student from Kansas City, is representing the Stine-Kendrick Realty Company, selling California land. He is at their Sacramento office.

Alumni in Los Angeles.

Miss Ella S. Foglesong, A.B., B.S. in Ed.'06, writes to the magazine of the football banquet and rally of the Los Angeles alumni on the night of the big game, November 22.

"At a previous meeting," her letter says, "when we felt a little uncertain as to the issue of the game and questioned the probability of a jollification, Mr. W. H. Truitt, one of our heartiest supporters, suggested that if we couldn't crow we could at least eat crow. Well, that settled it. We met to crow and we did crow. All our anxiety changed to ecstasy, and in our enthusiasm, songs and yells we were once again transported back across the Rockies to our dear old Alma Mater.

"From our number of forty-three we were entertained with interesting talks by Dr. French, a former professor of surgery in Missouri University; by Dr. C. M. Browning, who had recently returned from the University; by Porter Albright, a practicing engineer of the class of '02, who spoke on the vast possibilities and opportunities of the West, and by Judge J. H. Hummer, who delighted us with pleasing reminiscences of the years of '55 and '56.

"Our association, which has been organized less than a year, is growing rapidly, and after each meeting we feel a little more drawn to each other and more loyal to our University."

Alumni in Butte, Mont.

Dr. Peter Potter, B.S.'01, A.M., M.D. '03, writes from Butte, Mont., that there are only a few alumni there, but they see one another often. Dr. Potter and Dr. C. B. Rodes, A.B.'03, A.M.'05, are both connected with the Murray Hospital. Another on the hospital staff is Dr. H. D. Kistler, who was a student in the School of Medicine in 1902-3. Dr. Caroline McGill, A.B.'04, A.M.'05, Ph.D.'08, who was at the hospital till recently, is now receiving her magazine at the Johns Hopkins Medical School, Baltimore, Md.

Alumni in Salt Lake City.

W. J. McMinn, B.S.in E.E.'08, writes: "On December 27 the Missouri alumni of Utah held a reunion at Salt Lake City. Out of a total of twenty-three alumni in the state, twelve alumni and the wives of six of them were present. The reunion was held at the home of our president, Mr. H. E. Diehl.

"We gathered around the banquet table, ate, renewed old friendships, made new ones and entertained each other with reminiscences of college days dating from the early seventies to the present time.

"These alumni were elected officers: Leo Brandenburger, '03, president; Walker T. Gunter, '90, vice-president; Walter J. McMinn, '08, secretary-treasurer."

Alumni in Hannibal, Mo.

Eleven graduates of the University of Missouri are teaching in the Hannibal (Mo.) High School.

Miss June Findley, '13, and Miss Jean Harris, '13, have classes in domestic art.

Miss Bess Carter, '13, is girls' instructor in athletics and also teaches some of the Latin classes. Miss Elizabeth Letts, '10, teaches English. Miss Ida Jewett, '12, is in charge of normal training, a new department. Miss Arretta Watts, '12, is teaching English. She attended the University last summer to take work in journalism, in which she now has classes. The students are issuing a paper, "The Black and Red Review." Miss Minnie Gray, '12, is instructor in mathematics. Miss Carrie Barnett, '08, is teaching history. Andrew Jackson, '11, is for the third year instructor in manual training. Russell W. Hibbert, '13, is instructor in chemistry. Miss Martha Singleton, '08, is for the third year instructor in Latin.

Alumni in Kansas.

A newsy letter comes from Albert J. McCulloch, B.L., B.P.'94, M.L.'95, who is teaching history and political science in Southwestern College, Winfield, Kan.

Other alumni there are Mrs. McCulloch, who was Miss Isabella A. Winslow, A.B.'03, and R. W. Gentry, A.B.'05, pastor of the First Christian Church.

"On the eve of the K. U. game," Mr. McCulloch writes, "I was entertained at dinner with Prof. Hadder of that university and four Kansas alumni. We could not keep to the 'weather.' Next evening two of these called me up to break the 'glad news' to me—assuring me that it was more 'blessed' to tell than to be told.

"I am enjoying my sojourn among the Jayhawkers and 'root' for K. U. when M. U. is not the opponent. We have in Southwestern the second college of the state and we play good football—beating the 'Aggies' and losing none of eight games."

FROM PEOPLE YOU KNOW

"We have (note the 'we') received the last two numbers and enjoyed them exceedingly, these being the first copies of The Alumnus I have ever had the pleasure of reading thoroughly. In explanation of the above 'we,' the 'w' stands for 'Wilson' and the 'e' for 'Edwards.' Miss Edwards consented to become Mrs. Wilson four years ago. Hence the 'we.' Mrs. Wilson (Jessie M. Edwards) was a student in the University from 1905 to 1908; she quit the University at my earnest solicitation for the school of matrimony. I am a loyal member of the Knights of St. Patrick, the title having been conferred on me March 17, 1907, and the degree of B.S. in E.E. in June following. At present I am with the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Company, engineering department."—G. P. Wilson, B.S. in E.E.'07, 324 Mifflin avenue, Wilksburg, Pa.

"Here's my $2 for the good old mag. Put me down for Columbia on the vote in The Game. What is Kansas City to me or hundreds of other men or women who have left the University and are now working over the state? Moreover, there is every danger that the student will have his pocket picked while in the metropolis."—Edward R. A. Felgate, A.B., B.S. in J.'12, Brashear, Mo.

"The magazine fills a long-felt want, and never fails to be of interest. Let the good work go on! Herewith are the ballots of myself and my partner, Virgil E. D. Landon, alias 'Big,' LL.B.'11, on the proposal to take the Missouri-Kansas game back to the 'old stand,' Kansas City, next year. In our opinion Kansas City is the only logical place for holding the annual tangle. Mr. Landon and I have been together in the practice of law here since the last of July. Old grads and former students will always find the latchstring hanging out for them at 321 Ohio street."—J. F. Rogers, A.B.'09, LL.B.'11, Sedalia, Mo.

"I could not get along without news of the college. We have a small Missouri colony here and we get together occasionally."—H. P. Davis, B.S. in Agr.'11, department of dairy husbandry, Pennsylvania State College, State College, Pa.

"It makes all of us that are away from the University thrill with joy to read of the repeated triumphs of Missouri men in competitive contests. It makes us feel that someone—not one but many—are helping to put our Alma Mater upon the map and to put her in her own place in the ranks of the progressive colleges. The Alumnus has won a place in our hearts by giving us the first-hand, pulse-raising accounts of all these good things that are happening."—Floyd B. Riley, A.B.'04, 122 South Michigan avenue, Chicago.

"Say, the report of that Kansas game was worth many times the price of subscription. I want to express my appreciation of the way the 1913 Tigers picked the feathers out of the Jayhawks. Yes, I'll bet that was some shirt-tail parade. If it hadn't been quite so chilly up here in the mountains, I would have been tempted to have a parade all by myself. How we used to wait in suspense for the returns from the Kansas game! Then when the last word was in we would settle down to a seven days' discussion of 'Tiger luck.' It was pretty tough! But then—oh, well—I tell you, fellows, we had a good track team! What is the matter with the Missouri alumni in Idaho? We should have an alumni association in this state. Have written to a few of the old grads in the state concerning the matter, but have received no replies. Let's get together."—James N. Price, B.S.in Agr.'05, Cabinet, Idaho.

"It happened that the Alumnus' account of the recent argument with Kansas was the first to reach me. That alone was worth a year's subscription. I always enjoy the Notes of the Classes. Some names are sure to appear that stir memories of the good old days."—R. W. Robinson, E.E.'99, Shawinigan Water and Power Company, Shawinigan Falls, Quebec, Canada.

"I have read everything in the number (for December) and enjoyed every word of it, especially the glowing and thorough account of the game."—Glenn D. Mitchell, B.S.in M.E.'12, 417 Lincoln street, Johnstown, Pa.

"The Alumnus is the most satisfactory publication of the University that has ever come into my hands. Each number is read from cover to cover with great interest, and it is laid aside with regret that the end has come so soon."—A. E. Russell, A.B.'99, LL.B.'00, Exchange National Bank Building, Spokane, Wash.

"Having a newspaper on hand myself, I can very readily appreciate what payment of subscriptions in advance means. The Alumnus is but the consummated dreams of a number of old alumni of the University and the things which brought it to a new life are finding expression in its columns. Undoubtedly the paper is the most interesting bit of news we have because it tells of those with whom we went to school. It fills a place distinctly its own."—D. C. McVay, LL.B.'11. Trenton, Mo.

"Each and every number of The Alumnus has been read with great interest by several of the cadets here who are looking forward to entering the University in the fall—that is, after I have read every word in it."—C. A. Rockwood, A.B.'10, Culver Military Academy, Culver, Ind.

"The Missouri Alumnus appeal, which I frankly confess cannot be withstood, grips like the hand of an old friend. Its welcome visit always brightens bits of memories of days at Old Missouri."—Chas. A. Harvey, B.S.in J.'12, Maysville, Mo.

"I should like to know of more of the Old Timers. I was of the class of 1871."—Thomas E. Holland, S.B.'71, Dugan-Stuart Building, Hot Springs, Ark.

"I am always glad to receive the Missouri Alumnus, as it fills a place that nothing else could do."—W. D. Bannister, A.B.'02, principal Lemoore Union High School, Lemoore, Cal.

"I enjoy reading The Alumnus and I am always looking forward to the next issue."—Kathryn E. Baum, B.S.in Ed.'12, Clinton, Mo.

"The Alumnus is a wonderful means for helping the alumni to become better acquainted. It has been needed for the last half century and the alumni are greatly indebted to the founders of this magazine. A great thing, too, is that it comes very regularly."—H. B. Hill, A.B.'10, LL.B.'12, Shamrock, Tex.

"I enjoy every issue of The Alumnus very much and look forward to its coming. I surely hope the December issue for many years to come will have the same cause for celebration as the issue just received—a victory over Kansas."—Fred H. Bernet, A.B.'09, 5557 Cates avenue, St. Louis.

"About ten days ago I passed through Los Angeles on my way here and found two issues of The Alumnus at my old address. Needless to say, they made great reading while traveling across the desert. I got my two dollars worth then and there, so you will find said two enclosed."—A. H. Rigsby, LL.B.'12, Carrollton, Mo.

"I surely enjoy the magazine every month. It's the best thing for keeping in touch with the 'good old days' that I know of."—John W. Read, A.B.'09, Greeley, Colo.

"To one who has not seen the sun rise in the 'Show Me' state since July 4, 1912, The Alumnus is thrice welcome. According to some of my associates—alumni of other schools—Missouri keeps in touch with its graduates better than their schools do. (They see The Missouri Alumnus.)"—Count Harvey, B.S.in C.E.'12, Hickory Point, Tenn.

"The Alumnus as usual is chuck full of good 'dope.' Good work! I am waiting for the next issues."—William Stava, B.S. in C.E.'09, Manteca, Cal.

Hunting and Fishing

On the Gulf Coast of Texas

WITH hunting bag or creel there is no need of passing a single idle hour along the Texas Coast. The lordly tarpon offers more excitement than the northern muscallonge; there are bass, sea trout, mackerel and dozens of other gamey fish. In season ducks and geese flock to the waters of the Gulf literally by "the million."

The way to go is via

For the man who wants to get really close to nature, there's a stretch of hundreds of miles of gulf coast with bays, inlets and coves where he may pitch his tent in quietude and have all the fishing or, in the hunting season, all the shooting he desires.
