

The Kansas Citizens had plenty of enthusiasm. Here Sam Bornhauser leads the cheering.

Kansas City Pep Rally

The traditional pep rally and dinner held in Kansas City on the eve of the Kansas-Missouri game drew an enthusiastic attendance of 150 alumni at the Hotel Muehlebach on November 23. A portion of the program was broadcast by KCMO. A succession of speakers assured the cheering audience that the Jayhawks would be helpless facing the Tigers next day.

On a quieter note, Alan Roby, outgoing president of the Kansas City chapter of the University Alumni Association, presented a $500 check to the M.U. scholarship fund. Accepting for the University was Dr. William Baughn, new dean of the School of Business and Public Administration.

In a pep talk, Dean Baughn told the Kansas City group: "We are fortunate to have such a strong and noisy outpost so near enemy territory. We consider you our first line of defense."

Others who spoke briefly included Don Faurot, M.U. athletic director; Dan Devine, head football coach; Eddie Sowers, national president of the Alumni Association; and G. H. (Bus) Entsminger, the University's Development and Alumni Activities director.

A. G. Eddy, former president of the chapter who headed the nominating committee, presented a list of candidates for chapter officers. They were accepted unanimously. Jack Senter is the new president. Sam Bornhauser, Elmer J. Corpeny, Wayne Swetman, and Dr. Frank Williams were elected vice-presidents. William W. Chiles is secretary and John Lyle Wells, Jr., treasurer.

Alan Roby (left), outgoing president of the Kansas City chapter, congratulates his successor in office, Jack Senter.