

Public Abstract

First Name:Robert

Middle Name:Merrill

Last Name:Shireman

Adviser's First Name:Sean

Adviser's Last Name:Nicholson-Croty

Co-Adviser's First Name:Lael

Co-Adviser's Last Name:Keiser

Graduation Term:FS 2010

Department:Political Science

Degree:MA

Title:Redundancy in a Community Corrections Network

Implementation networks are composed of policy service providers that are continually changing in the winds of differing implementation adjustments. Service provider redundancy has been observed by scholars as a possible solution to improving the effectiveness and reliability of the services provided. This research provides new insights into implementation, network, and corrections literatures by illuminating evidence that suggests a re-appraisal of the limitation of the benefits redundant services can provide.