

Justin Puckett, Atmospheric Science

Year in School: Senior

Hometown: South Fulton, TN

Faculty Mentor: Dr. Anthony Lupo, Atmospheric Science

Funding Source: Dudley & Virgie Alexander Gift

Effect of a gravel base on temperature profiles in the lowest 2 meters of the atmosphere

During the early 90s, temperature observation stations were changed in how temperature was measured. It was formerly done over a grass surface but was changed to being measured over a gravel surface. This project examines the difference in the temperature profile over the different months of the year to see if there is any difference.