BONNIE KAY (NOBLE) COOK

(Written text and photographs provided by Bonnie Kay (Noble) Cook). Bonnie Kay Noble was born April 13, 1940, in Polson, Montana, and was the first daughter of Richard Herald and Lillian Ruth (Krause) Noble. She attended school from kindergarten through the second grade in Polson, Montana, and continued her education in Darrington, Washington, graduating from Darrington High School in 1958. Bonnie then enrolled in the Mary Stone Beauty School in Seattle, Washington, graduating in 1959. Bonnie had a variety of jobs while she lived in Seattle, Washington. She worked for several banks as a teller, proof operator, bookkeeper, and with overdraft personal. Bonnie Kay Noble married Gerald Alfred Cook (Jerry) on June 16, 1961, in Kenmore, Washington. Gerald Cook was born March 13, 1938, and was the second child of Ralph and Elizabeth (Enyeart) Cook of Monroe, Washington. Jerry Cook worked at several different jobs, but most were associated with oil refineries. Jerry was employed as a maintenance worker at Texaco and Shell refineries at Anacortes, Washington, and at ARCO refinery at Cherry Point, Ferndale, Washington, from 1972 to 1986 when he retired on a medical disability. In 1984 Jerry put in a beauty shop at their house for Bonnie Kay and she worked out of their home for several years as a hairdresser. She also worked as a hairdresser for nearby nursing homes for a number of years, which she found to be a very rewarding experience.

Bonnie Kay (Noble) Cook enjoyed oil painting, traveling, camping, fishing, and being with family and grandchildren and great grandchildren. Earlier, Bonnie Kay particularly liked going to dances in which her husband, Jerry Cook, played the lead guitar with the Road Runner Band. Her sister's husband, Ed Blanton, was the lead singer for this band. Gerald Cook and Ed Blanton performed during the early 1960s with the Road Runner Band. She also enjoyed watching Gerald and Ed race Mini Sprint cars in Deming, Washington. Bonnie Kay was one of the members of the pit crew for Gerald (Jerry) Cook. Jerry, Bonnie Kay and her family enjoyed traveling together and did so in their first motor home, which was a Wonder Bread Truck that Jerry converted into a recreational vehicle. Later, the Cook family actually bought a real motor home in which they enjoyed traveling, camping and fishing together. Jerry and Bonnie Kay Cook bought a 3-acre home in Sedro Woolley, Washington, which was their permanent residence for 25 years. On this three acres they were able to raise cows, pigs, chickens and their son Travis Cook. Their grandchildren referred to this residence as Grandpa and Grandma's Cookie House.

Gerald Alfred Cook (Jerry) died of a male form of breast cancer, after battling this disease for six years, on February 10, 2004. His remains were cremated and ashes spread at French Creek. In 2006 Bonnie Kay (Noble) Cook sold their 3-acre home and bought a condo in Burlington, Washington.
