

Kay and Cottrell Fox Gift Announcement

Back to Album · College of Veterinary Medicine at the University of Missouri's Photos · College of Veterinary Medicine at the University of Missouri's Page

Previous · Next

College of Veterinary Medicine at the University of Missouri
Dr. Carolyn Henry, Director of the Scott Program for Veterinary Oncology, Mr. & Mrs. Cottrell and Kay Fox, CVM Dean, Dr. Neil C. Olson & Chancellor, Brady Deaton.

Album: Kay and Cottrell Fox Gift Announcement

Shared with: Public

Open Photo Viewer

Download

Report

University of Missouri College of Veterinary Medicine received a gift of more than $5 million from Kay and Cottrell Fox. Their gift will have two parts. The first will be used to provide for the advancement of the medical and surgical care provided to the companion animal patients of the Veterinary Medical Teaching Hospital. The second part will fund studies in Comparative Oncology. — with Carolyn Henry at Reynolds Alumni Center.

Trudy Jacobson, Karen Dale, Phil Bergman and 12 others like this.

Jane Fairbanks Schild looking good.
February 11 at 3:12pm

Cindy Besser Guerrero Rock on Carsey!!!
February 11 at 4:59pm via mobile

Carolyn Henry Thanks for the kudos, but to clarify, Dr Jeff Bryan is the current director of the Scott Endowed Program. I just dress up and get credit for other people's hard work.
February 11 at 5:57pm · 1

Megan Baebler Like is for the comment and also for Dr. Bryan's awesomeness
February 11 at 6:11pm via mobile

Phil Bergman Congrats Carolyn, Jeff and Neil!!
February 12 at 5:51am via mobile

Cindy Besser Guerrero Rock on Dr Jeff Bryan!!
February 12 at 9:25am via mobile

