

April 4, 2013

Teresa Shipley was employed by Wisconsin Public Radio in 2011 as a Lee Ester News Fellow. During that time, she regularly produced stories that aired on WPR and were posted online.

It is my understanding that Teresa would like to use some of this work as part of her Master's degree project to satisfy her degree requirements.

I'm happy to give permission for her to reproduce the work she did for WPR to fulfill her academic requirements.

Sincerely:

Michael J Leland

News Director
