COWTOWN VINTAGE BASE BALL CLUB

Baseball, the national game, is something to be cherished. And the T.E. Nash Vintage Base Ball Club is in search of vintage players to help re-create that feel.

BASEBALL, THE NATIONAL GAME

It was a time when the game was the “National Game,” and baseball was “king.” It was “the men who played” baseball who were the heroes, and it was the “national game in the midst of the grand drama of misery of the time.”

The Cowtown Vintage Base Ball Clubs re-enact baseball of the 1870s and 1880s. The Bulldogs are one of the museum’s teams.

OBITUARY

Marjorie Anne “Marge” Setter was never a loss for words.

For more than five decades, Ms. Setter was a champion in Wichita's advertising and public relations field, and a lifelong character known for her volunteer work in several civic and cultural institutions.

She died Thursday when a long battle with cancer came to an end.

She was 81.

Flowers will be at 9:30 a.m. Wednesday, at the T.E. Nash Vintage Baseball Club in Lyons.

Ms. Setter was buried in Buffalo, Kansas, at the family plot of the Setter family.

PARTICIPATING PHARMACIES

To find your nearest participating pharmacy, go to http://bit.ly/1L5a2n9.

To send more information about your local Medication Disposal Program, go to http://1.usa.gov/LLjGP4.

To prepare medications for disposal

Properly disposing of medication is important. In fact, 73% of Americans have misleading or outdated information on medication disposal. Participants should take medications and identify any hardware that could be bad for the environment and public water supplies if not disposed of properly. Medication should be discarded in accordance with state and local laws. Participants should not take medications that are not needed or that have expired. Medication should not be down the drain and disposed of in a landfill. Participants should not pour medication down the drain or dispose of it with household hazardous waste.
