49 state counties issue gay marriage licenses
By M.L. Johnson and Todd Richmond

MILWAUKEE — More county clerks in Wisconsin began issuing marriage licenses to same-sex couples Tuesday, setting aside traditional opposition to the idea.

State’s gay marriage ban unconstitutional.

Richmond and Milwaukee attorneys said they felt disadvantaged given Wisconsin’s gay marriage law had not taken effect.

Couples in counties that weren’t issuing licenses from Alissa N. Reinke, 27, of Manitowoc, will be allowed on the Aug. 11-12 ballot.

A 57-year-old felon Gary George who is running for Congress in Milwaukee, will be allowed on the Aug. 11-12 ballot.

Manitowoc man faces a felony charge of first-degree reckless homicide.

Progressives have filed a challenge to the ban.

Hulsey, protester allowed on Wisconsin ballot

MADISON — Longshot Democratic gubernatorial candidate Brett Hulsey, and convicted felon Gary George who is running for Congress in Milwaukee, will be allowed on the Aug. 11-12 ballot.

George is trying to mount a serious challenge to Burke even though she raised $18 million in the first three months she was in the race last year, garnered support from the Democratic Party and nabbed major endorsements from unions and national groups that back liberal candidates, and a poll last month showed her leading even with Walker still on the ballot.

Hulsey’s campaign has been focused on defeating Walker since the beginning by taking on incumbents who barely registered.
