

New Student Center Phase II
MUTV Studio
Estimated completion: January 2011

Where we were

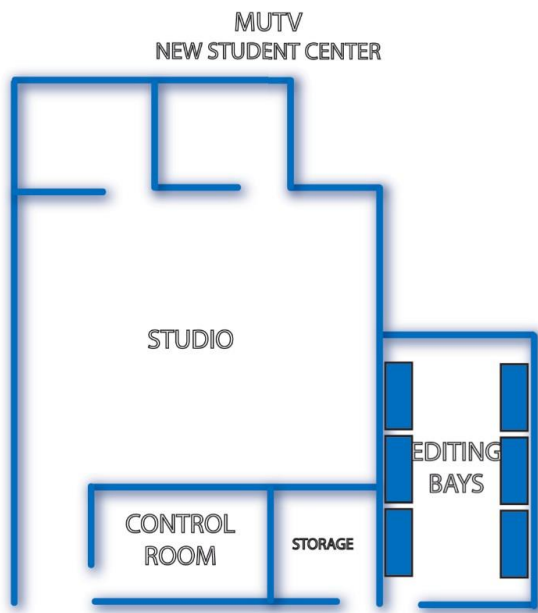

- When we first came to your group for support, we had only raised $36,000.
- That's just under 10% of our financial need!

Where we are

- As of today, we have raised $180,619 towards our goal of a little over $350,000.

When it's finished

- Below is a diagram of how our space will be broken up in the new space.

Although the main floor of phase two of the new student center will be open in the fall, the MUTV studio is on the floor below that and will not be open until January of 2011. In an effort to have some things already purchased before our final move into the new studio, I have been using leftover budget money to purchase furniture for the space. The money received from the Interdisciplinary Innovations Fund was placed into an account that can only be used to purchase the specified equipment once our new studio is open. We will update you again in late fall 2010 as to our progress. As always, thanks for your support of MUTV
