The event marked the midpoint in the students' professional curriculum. The first two years of preclinical training included courses in anatomy, physiology, cell and molecular biology, pathology, pharmacology, microbiology, virology and toxicology. They also learned fundamentals in clinical disciplines, including anesthesiology, clinical pathology, radiology, public health and medicine and surgery. The students each received a white laboratory coat before starting their next two years working in the Veterinary Health Center in the Small Animal, Food Animal and Equine hospitals, as well as completing preceptorships in private practices or with public agencies.
