

Threads of Imperfection

Shirley A Boudreaux

Dr. Josephine Stealey, Supervisor

Abstract

The quest for perfection is exhausting and unrelenting, although many strive to attain it. This project challenges the notion of “perfection” as it pertains to the idealized family. Garment-like sculptures, depicting family members, highlight the range of positive/negative emotions involved in family dynamics in order for viewers to evaluate their personal relationship with family.