SHOWBOAT LORE-Senior Will

We, the Senior Class of 1951, being totally and wholly of unsound minds and bodies, leave these, our most precious possessions as follows:

- I, Coy Again, do hereby will and bequeath my ability to sit on the basketball bench to Bob Forshee.
- I, Charles Aly, do hereby will and bequeath my horn-rimmed glasses to Skip Johnston.
- I, Paul Andrews, do hereby will and bequeath my ability to do "forced" calisthenics in physical education to any person weak enough to need it.
- I, Eliza Barkshire, do hereby will and bequeath my ability to walk into class at nine every morning without getting an excuse to anyone who likes to sleep as late as I do.
- I, Rex Barnes, do hereby will and bequeath my first chair in the violin section to the next energetic violinist.
- I, Wayne Blake, do hereby will and bequeath my muscular physique to Frank Harris.
- I, Tom Clymer, do hereby will and bequeath my musical abilities to Denis Overholser.
- I, Frank Conley, do hereby will and bequeath my hydraulic switchboard to E. Ford in the hope that someday he will find someone who can master it.
- I, Betty Sue Crane, do hereby will and bequeath my clean (?) gym clothes to Nancy Weatherly in the hope that she will wash them out.
- I, Barbara DeHaven, do hereby will and bequeath my pains-taking methods of taking showers in gym to Jewell Piano.
- I, Earl Deimund, do hereby will and bequeath my ability to heckle student teachers to the rest of the students in the student body.
- I, Melvin Fisher, do hereby will and bequeath all my mechanical ability which I have accumulated through the years to Billy Bradshaw.
- I, Lesley Hardin, do hereby will and bequeath my smile to Jack Maxwell with the request that he put it to good use on the basketball court.
- I, Wesley Hardin, do hereby will and bequeath my height to John Crane.
- I, Bill Hawks, do hereby will and bequeath my politely inconspicuous yawn to John Townsend.
- I, Darry Hindman, do hereby will and bequeath my pet rabbit, Harvey, which everyone except me can see, to anyone who will take him.
- I, Larry Hogan, do hereby will and bequeath my flying machine to Gordon Sapp in the hope that he will break his neck before some teacher does it for him.
- I, John Laffan, do hereby will and bequeath my brains to John Laffan. What do you think I am, crazy?
- I, Walt Melton, do hereby will and bequeath my charm and "know-how" with the female sex to "Weenie" DeHaven.
- I, Elise Overholser, do hereby will and bequeath my banking ability to Don Hankins to add to his love of figures.
- I, Ruth Pierce, do hereby will and bequeath my violin to John Peters with the knowledge that someday he will be concertmaster of the New York Philharmonic Orchestra.
- I, D. A. Purdy, do hereby will and bequeath my ability to sleep through history class to Carl Barnes.
- I, Jane Ellen Reid, do hereby will and bequeath my long-standing feud with the species Studenti Teacherus to the I.B.A. with confidence that no member will ever be bested.
- I, Enid Stearn, do hereby will and bequeath my ability to prepare a three-minute speech in three minutes to all slow-witted people who need such talent.
- I, George Wallis, do hereby will and bequeath my head to Mr. Bull's biology class in the hope that he can do more with it than I can.
- I, Glenda Weston, do hereby will and bequeath my ability to make good grades in chemistry to Clarene Carlton.
- I, Pat Wetherell, do hereby will and bequeath my long list of alibis to get out of classes to Raymond Sauder.
- I, Helen White, do hereby will and bequeath my ability to blush to Julia Deimund with the intention of preserving her femininity.
- I, John Whitmore, do hereby will and bequeath my ability to do more of the talking in class than the teacher to Bob Clatanoff.
- I, Rachel Bradley Winn, do hereby will and bequeath my ability to get "the man" to Henrietta Holt.

FUTURE PRODUCTIONS-Senior Prophecy

Coy Again is heroically repairing the Rocheport road by hand after waiting ten years for someone else to do it.

General Charles Aly and his victorious United Nations Army are approaching the 38th parallel for the 99 1/4 time.

Paul Andrews has just won first prize for his Boone County ham.

Eliza Barkshire is now occupying padded cell 1-0561A after having burned Photo Service and having shot Harvey in cold blood.

Rex Barnes spent so much time at the library that he was finally made head librarian.

Wayne Blake is head soda-jerk-supervisor of the Rexall Drugstore chain.

Rachel Bradley Winn has successfully applied her bookkeeping knowledge to embezzle $100,000 from Smith's Hatchery.

Tom Clymer is now making $1,000,000 a year singing commercials.

Frank Conley, the great "Shack" spearean actor, is now playing at the Varsity Theater.

Betty Sue Crane is manufacturing overstuffed modernistic chairs.

Barbara DeHaven is the new office girl.

Earl Deimund has written a trig-pony which is fast becoming a bestseller.

Melvin Fisher is the head mechanic of McKay Chevrolet.

Lesley Hardin was just elected mayor of Brown Station at the end of an extensive campaign.

Wesley Hardin is the editor of Showme.

Bill Hawks, world-famous mountain climber, has just scaled Lover's Leap--barefooted.

Darry Hindman built a large moat around Columbia and has collected a fortune in tolls with which he has bought the world's largest carrot farm.

Larry Hogan has just bought the Hadacol Company from Senator Le Blanc.

John Laffan went stark, raving, mad proving that  $2 + 2 = 4$ .

Walter Melton is playing for the Harlem Globe Trotters.

Elsie Overholser is taking care of twenty-five little children in nursery school.

Ruth Pierce has just been crowned Showme Queen.

D. A. Purdy has just bought the Brooklyn Bridge. He traded in his hot-rod for it.

Jane Ellen Reid is now the literary editor of Bugs Bunny.

Enid Stearn has replaced Tallulah as M.C. of the "Big Show."

Pat Wetherell's whereabouts is unknown.

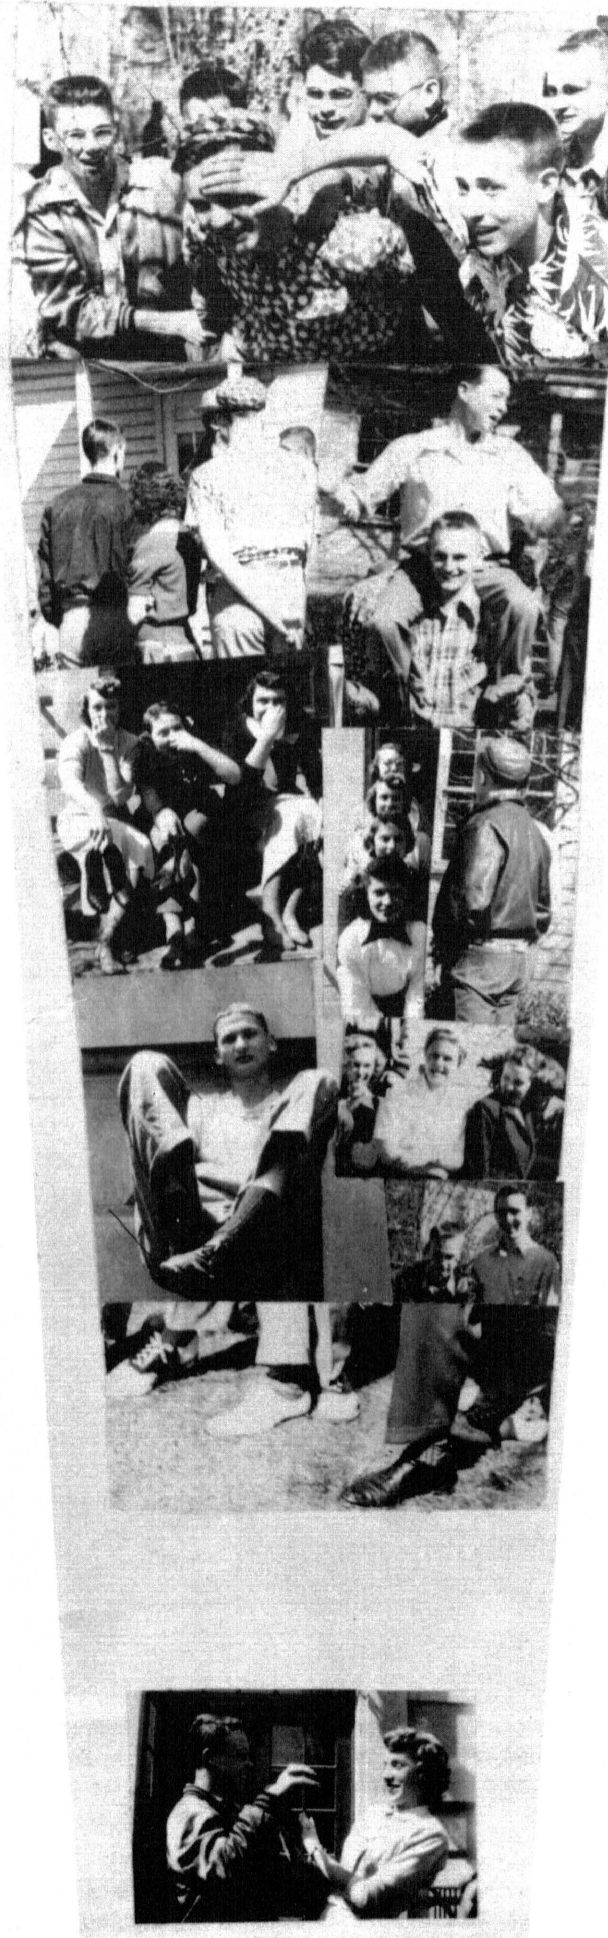

Helen White finally got back to Memphis, Tennessee.

Glenda Sue Weston is the home economics teacher at Hickman High.

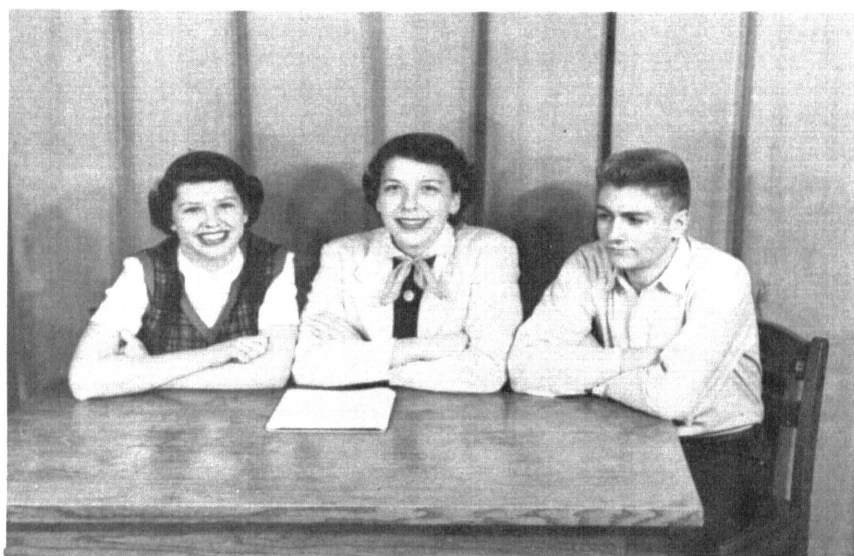

John Whitmore has established the world's largest mail-order undertaking establishment.

George Wallis is the editor of Horror Comics.

SEPTEMBER

18. The first day of school. My, it sure is good to get back to school again!
19. Quick! Tell us when the next vacation is!
30. Thirty days hath September
April, June and November,
All the rest have thirty-one,
Until we hear from Washington.

OCTOBER

4. Student Council elects the Tiger Tales Editor. Martha Marquardt is the new editor.
12. That ambitious ninth grade is already having its first activity, a hayride.
19. The Senior Class gets off to a flying start by electing Tiger Claw Staff. We are really early--the deadline isn't until April first.
20. Due to a large number of crossed fingers, it doesn't rain, and we get to have the class picnics.
30. Holy Cow! Tomorrow is Uesta, and just think of the decorating that still has to be done.
31. Everybody is so busy working on Uesta that they hardly notice that all the lights are out.

NOVEMBER

2. First basketball game of the season, against the Alums. We win!
7. The G.A.A. finally gets a "vee-hick-le" large enough for a hayride.
13. Season tickets go on sale. Oh, boy, a chance to save 50¢.
14. We visit Jamestown. Kindly drop the curtain over the score.
17. Those desperate seniors raise $24.51 1/4 for Tiger Claw with a Sadie Hawkins Party. Kent McKinney and Mary Ann McMullan are crowned Li'l Abner and Daisy Mae.
22. Oh happy day! Thanksgiving "holidaze" begins at 3:30.
- 22-24-25. Boonville Tourney. And in a most exciting game, we eke out a win over "that school," Hickman.
28. We trounce Fulton.
30. A WHOLE MONTH goes by without a Tiger Tales. Those lazy juniors!

DECEMBER

2. We beat New Franklin in the Glasgow Tourney and win our second first place trophy.
8. Eldon falls, 59-37.
12. Fulton loses too.
14. So does Fayette.
15. The big Christmas Dance is held in the library, that junior night-club. Megan McKinney is crowned by Santa.
18. Two assemblies in one day! The Junior High presents an operetta, "Surprise Christmas." The Speech Class gives "The Thing" assembly.

JOHN

MARSHA

- 20. The sixth grade gives their annual Christmas Play just before we all leave for vacation.
- 20-24. Sleep, sleep, sleep.
- 25. Christmas.
- 26-31. Sleep, sleep, sleep.

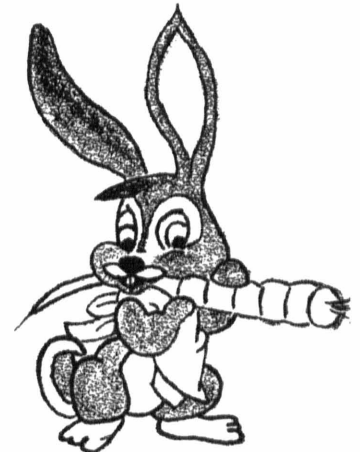

JANUARY

- 3. School begins. Thank heavens it starts at 12:30 and not at 8:30!
- 5. Centralia is beaten.
- 12. So is New Franklin, or how monotonous can this get?
- 17-19-20. Hurrah! We win first place in the Fulton Tournament.
- 23. Oh, Oh! Everybody sits up and takes notice as we lose by one point to a "revenge-mad" Boonville team.
- 25-26. That marvelous, stupendous, amazing play, Red Spider, goes on. It wins the Oscar for "being produced faster than any other play." What we want to know is, how come they left out the kitchen sink?
- 31. Those unfortunates in the Speech Class give term speeches before an unexpectedly huge audience.

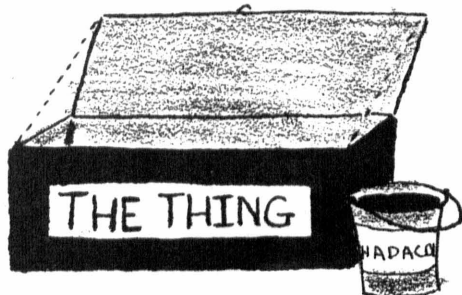

FEBRUARY

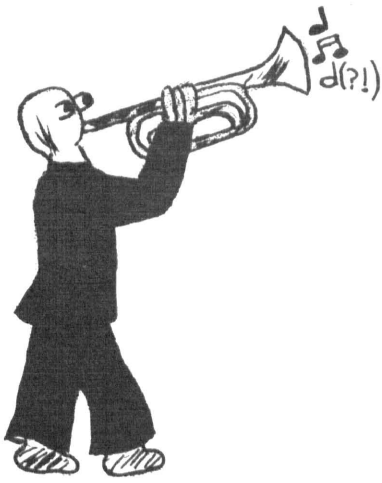

- 1. Mr. Ford is practically lynched. He has said that the audience would consist of the people in library. The "other half" of the Speech Class finishes up.
- 2. Fayette loses to those rampaging Cubs and Joy Rehberger is crowned Homecoming Queen.
- 2-3. The Jr. Cubs win third place in the Jeff. Junior Invitation Tournament.
- 5. We hear the joyful news that the Student Council has unanimously voted to give Tiger Claw the stupendous sum of $100.
- 6. Everyone wears black bands as we lose to Jefferson City by a measly two points.
- 9. We thoroughly trounce Glasgow.
- 5-15. Each day, four Seniors get out of English to have those alluring yearbook pictures taken.
- 13-14. Those world-famous photographers, Darry and Frank, spent all day taking pictures. (We hope they know as much about photography as they say they do!)
- 14. Student Council sponsors a Valentine's Dance.
- 16. Jamestown falls, 53-71!
- 19-20-21-22-23. We sweep through the Sub-Regionals!

MARCH

- 1-2-3. Hot dog! We win our fifth first place trophy--the most important of all, the Regional. U. High gets to go to state, the first team since 1942.
- 2. The honor roll comes out. Pity the unlucky initiates. The members are so proficient in chicanery.
- 6. We lose to Willard by 2 points. Alas!

8. Finally! That yearbook goes on sale. A party is promised to the first class with 100%.
7. Seems the Freshman Class already had 100%. Well, the other classes can try again next year.
12. Tryouts for Seven Sisters.
16. The Junior High puts on a super assembly. That night Charles Aly is crowned St. Pat's King, as the school has a Free St. Pat's Party.
22. Spring Recess begins at 11:30. Three cheers!
27. Spring Recess ends. Three groans!
28. Gee whiz! We thought we were so early that no one has done ANY work on Tiger Claw. The deadline is April first!!

APRIL

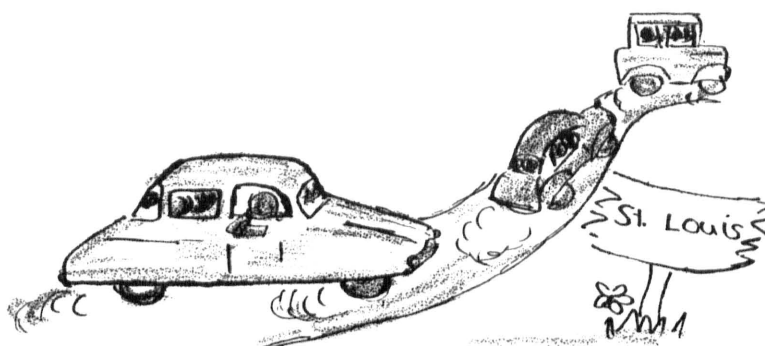

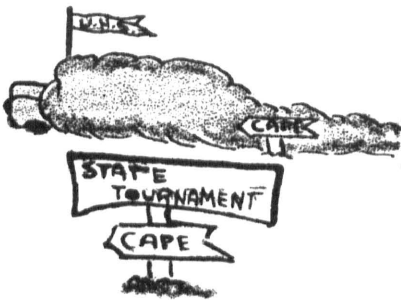

1. Tiger Claw deadline is moved forward.
- 2-3-4. Yo-yos arrive. Teachers leave.
6. Time for third quarter grades. There is a surprising boom in the (rotten) apple business. The sixth grade gives a swell quiz show, sponsored by Yeast Bubble Gum.
17. Kid Day, and the Seniors dress the way they generally act.
20. U.N. assembly.
24. The Seniors get up hideously early to eat breakfast.
- 26-27-28. Seven Sisters goes off successfully. Everybody concerned gives himself a pat on the back.
27. Everybody suddenly becomes a devoted music lover and gets out of school.

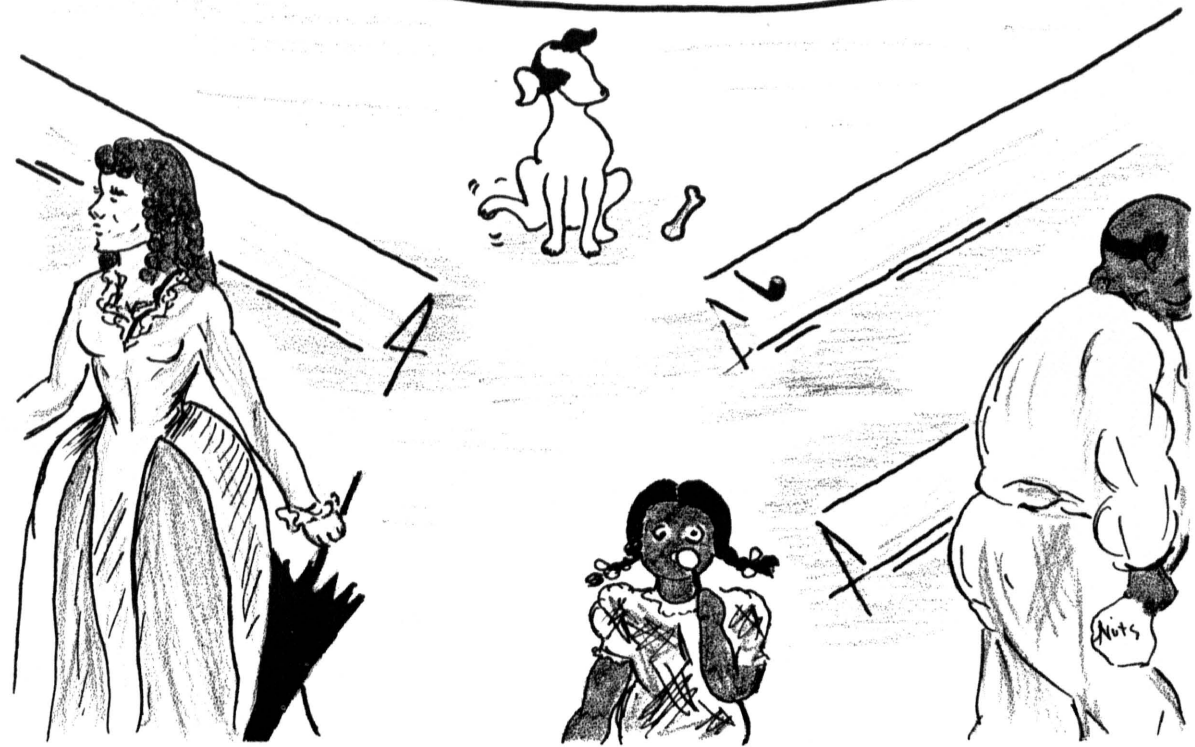

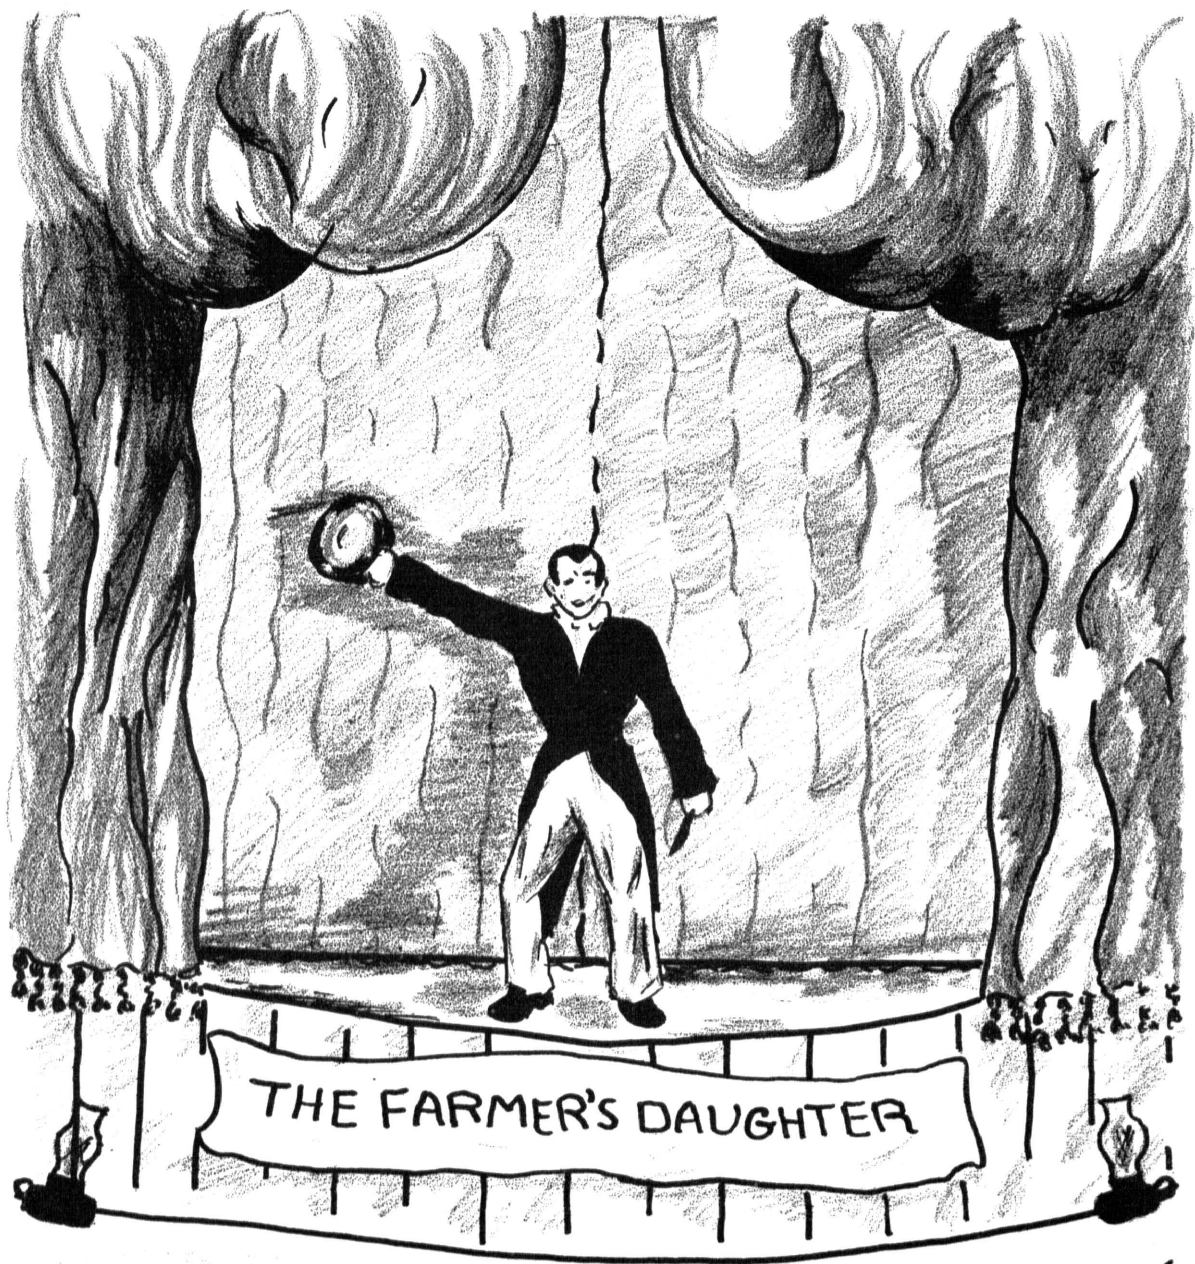

MAY

2. The Student Council had its first un-unanimous vote today. They voted to adjourn and John Laffan wasn't ready to leave.
4. We have the Spring Formal. Such blossoming of tulle and organdy and lace.
8. Student Body President Candidates make campaign speeches. One thing about the short names, it sure makes it easier on the poster-drawers.
11. Classes are dismissed a half-day for class picnics. Flash!!! No picnics!
15. The G.A.A. has a gym party.
18. Amateur Night.
23. The Seniors "retreat" to St. Louis--although St. Louis may have considered it an attack.
25. Senior dance. Tiger Claws are passed out. So is the Tiger Claw Staff.
29. The G.A.A. has their annual banquet and awards.
30. Several freshmen are trampled on as the Seniors stampede out of school.
31. The Literary Staff is going batty trying to write this stuff ahead of time--but we know the above statement to be true!

JUNE

5. Commencement. . . . joy and tears. . . . memories and prophecies. . . . the end and the beginning. . . . discarded term papers and crisp, new diplomas. . . . and so we of the Senior Class of 1951 say good-bye to all our friends in University High School.

SENIOR PLAY

The Senior Play was a play with a purpose. When the Tiger Claw Staff first met, the financial editor climbed on the stage, took a deep breath, and shouted loudly enough to be heard over the usual commotion of a staff meeting, "We are broke!"

Taking advantage of the stunned silence, he hastily continued, "Printing costs have risen by twenty percent. That means that it cost the seniors last year about $360, but it will cost us about $450 to print the Tiger Claw. A leather cover will cost another $150. Any ideas?"

Yes, there were plenty. Among them was a Sadie Hawkins party, which most of you will remember, and, everyone agreed, that with all our talent, a play would be a fine "money-maker."

Everyone had a different idea about the type of play we should choose. The girls favored an all-girl cast, with maybe a chorus line--just for kicks; the boys preferred something like Mister Roberts. The choice of the Tiger Claw Staff was easy--it should be a comedy, a melodrama, or a mystery.

When we finally selected a play, mishaps began on every side. The first play we chose was "unavailable for amateurs." Then Christmas came with members of the cast visiting all over the United States, Alaska, and Newfoundland. Next, one of the players broke his leg. The set fell down nearly every night. Finally "props" people were detailed to lean against it at six strategic points. On the night before "the night" one of the leads was injured and a new problem arose: Can romance triumph over a black eye and a bad limp?

Undaunted, the cast performed The Red Spider two nights and added the sum of $175 to the Tiger Claw's meager account.

In conclusion, we say: A simple little play is not nearly as simple nor as little as it sounds.

SPRING PLAY

The Spring Play was variously, according to "informed" sources, Life with Father, Life with Mother, and Cheaper by the Dozen. Therefore no one was the least surprised when it was definitely announced as Seven Sisters.

The most important aspect of Seven Sisters was the fact that the sisters had to range in height from Katinka to Klara. All the girls immediately began comparing heights. Am I tall, taller, tallest? Am I too tall, too short, or maybe too wide?

Still another aspect was the fact, that according to the playbook, every actor had to be a registered communist, and show his party card before even trying out for the play. Since it was difficult to find a sufficient number of "fellow-travelers" the dates had to be changed from the present to pre-Russian.

Not to be out-done by the well-jinxed Senior Play, the Spring Play had its share of mishaps too. Mr. Ford was considerably vexed by the fact that measles continually threatened to run rampant through the entire cast. There was some difficulty in getting enough members of the cast together to have a rehearsal. The seniors were generally to be found in room 219 working on the Tiger Claw, and Mr. Ford was forced to send polite messages to the effect that if any of the seniors had a few minutes now and then, he would be greatly obliged if they could run down to the auditorium to rehearse for a brief time.

Eventually lines were memorized, costumes were made, and the set completed. And on opening night the play was a huge success. We want to congratulate Mr. Ford and the cast.

Chorus and Orchestra

This past year, the chorus took part in a wider variety of activities than usual, ranging from the minstrel show to the formal spring concert. The minstrel show, the "Land o' Cotton," was a great success and a new innovation. Although there were no lights, and the chorus had to put on blackface by kerosene lamps, the results were considered "almost perfect." After the lights finally came on, the show went on to become a hit.

Several assemblies were presented for the student body--Thanksgiving, Christmas, and Easter. This year, many of the members were given opportunities to sing solo parts in the various programs.

The orchestra also had a successful year in several ways. They gave a fine program of their own as well as joining in the spring concert. Their rehearsals provided plenty of distraction for the members as well as for all those engaged in other pursuits. Interviewing a few of the virtuosi after one of their performances, all the writer was able to obtain from them were discouraged signs and remarks such as: Oh, that sour note! Why did I have to drop my music? Boy, did I flub up on that solo!

In spite of these mishaps (which happen to everybody) this was a year of which Mr. Conner and the music department may be proud.

BASKETBALL SEASON

This year, the University High Cubs concluded one of the most successful seasons in the school's cage history; they wound up the season with a 29-4 record and a blistering .878 percentage.

That the Cubs were definitely a tournament team was shown by the fact that they won every invitational tournament and two out of three state meets.

The Cubs rolled through the Boonville meet held in early November with apparent ease; their only real threat being Hickman High whom they met in the semi-finals. The Kewpies were able to hold the Cubs to their lowest score of the season, though they lost with a 34-27 score.

After the Boonville tourney the Cubs smashed their way through the Glasgow tournament averaging better than sixty points a game and were rewarded with another first place trophy to add to their rapidly-growing collection. In this tourney, the Cub B's were also successful as they captured first place in their division.

The next stop on the Cub's tournament train was the Fulton Invitational Tournament in the middle of January. The Cubs met stronger competition in this series than they had experienced at the Glasgow meet. But the Fulton event proved that the Cubs were a strong team as they again swept through this tourney with ease.

The next meet for the Cubs was the sub-regional held at Centralia which was a stepping-stone to the state meet. The Cubs were able to overcome all opposition in this meet and went on to the regional which was held at Shelbina the following week.

The Cubs had come within a game of the state meet a year ago and this year they were not to be denied as they moved on through the regional. Their biggest test was Monroe City whom they met in the semi-finals; for that game would tell whether or not they would go to the state meet. The Cubs finally overcame them and rolled into the finals.

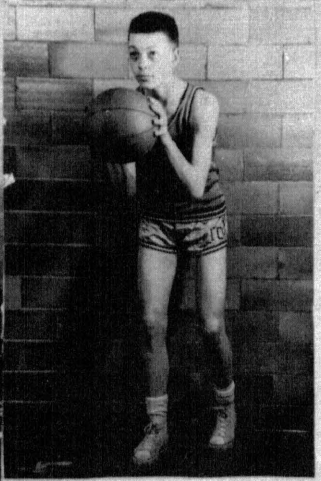

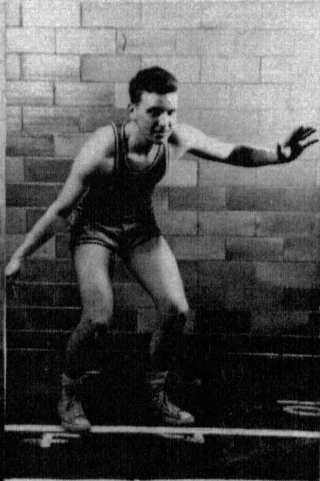

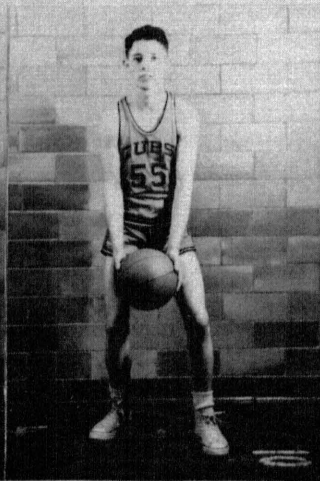

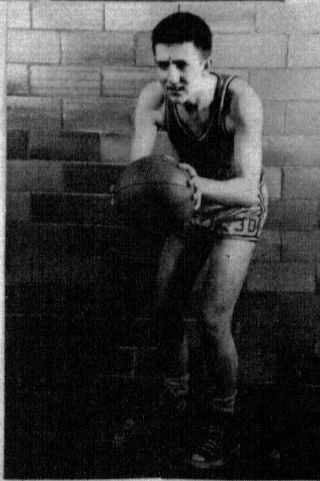

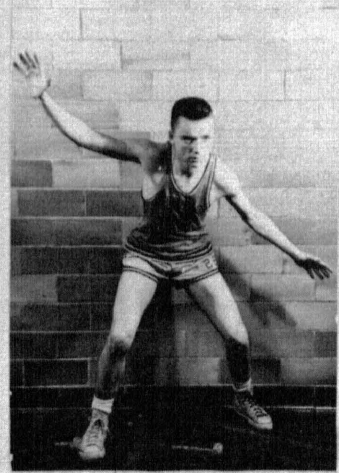

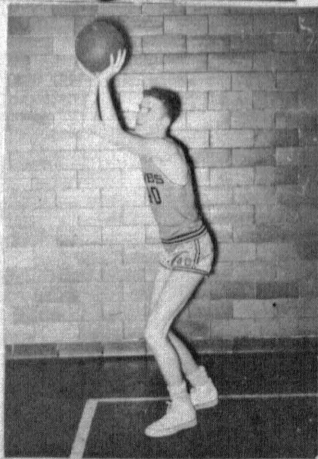

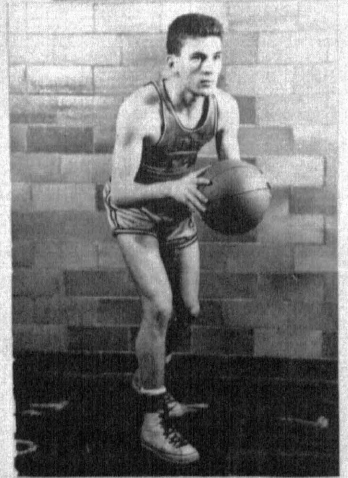

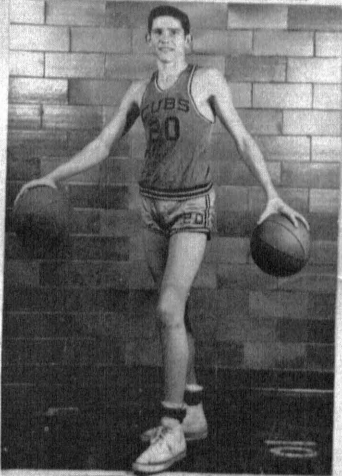

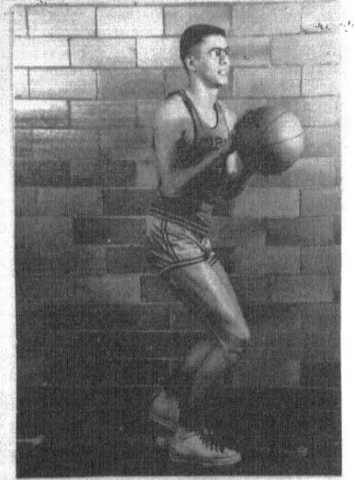

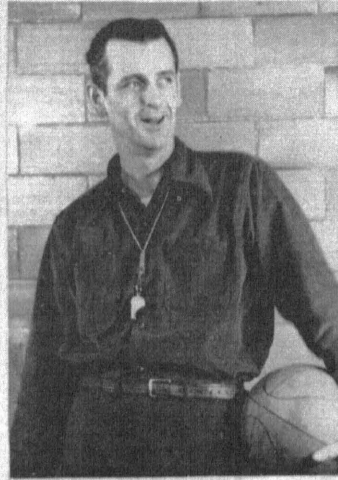

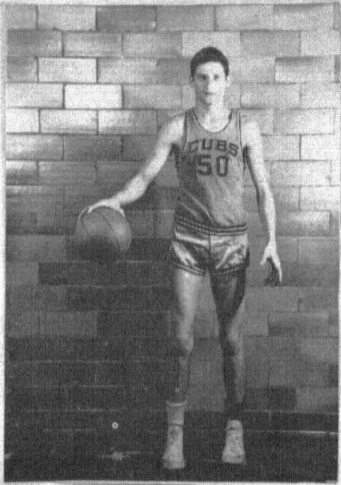

Then the Cubs won the final game of the regional tournament and moved on to the state meet. In the State Tournament, the Cubs ran into a surprise in the form of Willard High, the team which finally defeated them in a game which was nip and tuck the whole way.

This ran the Cub's record for a period of two years to 59-9, an excellent record in anyone's league, and one which Cub fans will remember for many years to come.

G. A. A.

The Girls' Athletic Association is sponsored by the physical education instructor. The purpose of the organization is to enlist the interest of as many girls as possible in athletic activities, both indoors and outdoors; to foster in them school consciousness and school spirit; and to foster the ideals of good sportsmanship, cooperation, and a willingness to work with others.

The organization was headed by Mrs. Gregory, the sponsor; Ruth Pierce, president; Helen White, vice-president; Eliza Barkshire, secretary-treasurer; Megan McKinney, reporter; Pat Wetherell, pianist; Martha Marquardt and Anne Sutton, librarians.

This year, the G.A.A. sponsored volleyball and basketball tournaments which were played during the noon hour. The volleyball championship was won by the Pierce Pirates captained by Ruth Pierce. The DeHaven Devils placed second; Reid's Riot placed third; Fellows' Fighters were fourth; and Deimund Dodgers came in fifth. The basketball championship was won by Carolyn Whitmore's Poodles. Second place went to Barkshire's Beagles; third was a tie between White's Scotties and Bueker's Bulldogs; while fourth place went to Overholser's Underdogs.

The activities of the year consisted of a picnic at Rollins Spring, a hayride, a skating party, and a spring formal combined with one planned by the student council.

The Junior G.A.A. is the same organization set up for all girls interested in athletics who are enrolled in the Junior High. It too, is founded upon the same principles of good sportsmanship, school spirit, and cooperation. The officers of this group are: Sylvia Johnston, president; Sue Dierking, vice-president; Mary Ann McMullan, secretary; Martha Thomas, treasurer; and Grace Smith, reporter.

Pep Squad

A group of the best noise-makers in school forms the U.H.S. Pep Squad. The sole purpose of this organization is to give loyal support to the team and to serve as hostesses to the visiting teams and pep squads.

Last year, the pep squad uniforms underwent a change. The cheerleaders wore all-white uniforms and the girls wore black skirts and gold sweaters. With their new uniforms, the girls formed a colorful picture at all the ballgames. They now not only have that "ol' school spirit" but also the "new look."
