

The Missouri Alumnus

"My experience with the alumni of the University of Missouri is that they are loyal supporters of their Alma Mater, and that they have also learned that one of the purposes of the university is to prepare its graduates for the upbuilding of the community in which they live. I have found, therefore, that the Missouri alumni representatives in Oklahoma have had a clear conception of the value of a university and an aggressive and active interest in the support of the university of the state of their adoption. Such an attitude speaks well for the character and quality of their training in their own institution."

Vol. XI. No. 9

MAY, 1923

COLUMBIA, MO.

Dr. Stratton D. Brooks Elected President

Dr. Stratton Duluth Brooks, President of the University of Oklahoma, was elected President of the University of Missouri by the Board of Curators in session at St. Louis, May 7. He will begin his duties at the University July 1.

Doctor Brooks is a graduate of the Michigan State Normal College and of the University of Michigan. Later he received his master's degree from Harvard University.

For a time Doctor Brooks served as principal of the high school at Danville, Ill., the high school of Adrain, Mich., and the high school at La Salle, Ill.

He served as vice-president of the Mt. Pleasant (Mich.) Normal School in 1893. From 1899 until 1902 he was assistant professor of education and high school inspector at the University of Illinois.

From 1902 to 1906 Doctor Brooks served as assistant superintendent of schools in Boston. In 1906 he was named superintendent of schools in Cleveland. He left Cleveland to return to Boston where he served as superintendent of schools until 1912.

In 1912 Doctor Brooks became president of the University of Oklahoma. He is a member of the State Board of Vocational Education, an executive officer of the State Geological Survey and served as Federal Food Administrator for Oklahoma in 1917 and 1918. He is trustee of Massachusetts College, member of the national council of the National Education Association, member of the National Society for Scientific Study of Education and a member of Phi Beta Kappa.

Doctor Brooks is the author of books on composition, rhetoric and has written a series of school readers. He is also a contributor to educational magazines.

He was awarded the degree of LL. D. by Colby College in 1912 and Kingfisher (Okla.) College in 1920.

Dr. Brooks was the only one considered by the Board of Curators for the Presidency. Former Governor Herbert S. Hadley, whose name had

From the St. Louis Globe-Democrat of May 9, 1923:

Points of special interest in the announcement of the selection of Stratton Duluth Brooks as president of Missouri University are these: He was the unanimous choice, after long consideration, of the Board of Curators; he is himself a beneficiary of higher education under state auspices; he has had an experience of eleven years in very successful direction of the university of an adjacent state, Oklahoma, and—a point not to be over-emphasized and still one that will have a pleasant place in many minds—he is a native of Missouri.

If there are reasons for unusual gratification in Mr. Brooks' appointment, there are also reasons for unusual gratification and pride in the institution Missouri now commits to his hands. Never before has the University of Missouri had as bright an outlook as now and never before has the Legislature placed resources as generous at its disposal. An attractive personal opportunity has come to Mr. Brooks and we may believe that, with the appointment of a man of his broad, practical experience, an opportunity has come to our state University that will rejoice its alumni and Missourians generally.

While Brooks was superintendent of the public schools at Boston he inaugurated one of the early efficient programs of vocational education. He inaugurated the system at Boston after an intensive study of the vocational school systems of Europe.

Brooks is opposed to the injection of politics into the educational institutions, and it is said of him that, while serving as president of the University of Oklahoma, he obtained liberal appropriations not through political wire pulling but by convincing the lawmakers that the university was deserving of liberal support.

He is a believer in school athletics and said he hoped the high rank of Missouri University in athletics would not be lowered while he is president. Brooks served during his school days at Michigan University as pitcher on the baseball team.

He is married and is the father of four daughters, two of whom are married.

been mentioned in this connection, asked that his name be not considered by the Board.

Dr. Brooks is a member of the Rotary Club of Norman, Oklahoma and has been active in the Chamber of Commerce and religious work of that city. He is described as being the biggest figure in education in Oklahoma, and is a man who stood positively against politics in school. All Columbia is looking forward to the coming of Dr. Brooks. The alumni have pledged him their staunch support and have assured him of any assistance they can render at his command. Columbia likewise is looking forward to the coming of Mrs. Brooks.

The record Doctor Brooks has made in his eleven years at the University of Oklahoma has attracted national interest and the curators were unanimous in the belief that under his leadership the University of Missouri would continue to develop as one of the leading universities in the country.

"Dr. Brooks has done a brilliant piece of work at Norman," said Dr. J. C. Jones, who has known Doctor Brooks for a number of years and speaks highly of him as a man of fine character, and clear executive ability. "He is adaptable, and the faculty, the people, the alumni and the students will all like him."

From every section of the United States have come letters of approval from the alumni and former students and friends of the University of the selection of Doctor Brooks as president. The alumni are congratulating the University on the appointment of Doctor Brooks and the alumni association, both the county organizations in Missouri and the city organizations all over the country, have sent messages and letters to Doctor Brooks pledging their support to his administration.

The officers of the general alumni association have offered to President Brooks their undivided support and cooperation. Hal Thurman, president of the alumni association of the University in Oklahoma City, is planning a dinner in honor of Doctor Brooks before he leaves Oklahoma.

Class of '02 Had Tree.

Charles B. Davis, A. B. '02, LL. B. '05, Judge of the Circuit Court, St. Louis, sent the following letter to H. F. Major, relative to Mr. Major's article about class trees on the campus, in the last issue of the ALUMNUS:

"I have read with great interest your recent article in the ALUMNUS, and desire to call your attention to one class tree on the campus you did not mention. The Class of 1902 planted a hard maple tree on the campus near the sidewalk, northwest of the President's home, and I hope that if the tree is not marked that you will have it done. I'll be glad to pay the expenses of having it marked. I was delegated by the class to have the tree planted, so in the spring of 1902 I walked down the M. K. & T. tracks, dug up the tree and planted it myself on the campus. You can understand why I am interested. The last time I saw it, '11, it was growing, and must now be a fairly large tree."

Arrangements will be made through the alumni recorder's office with Mr. Major to provide for suitable markers to be placed at the base of each of the class trees on the campus. The alumni recorder's office would appreciate letters from members of other classes relative to their class trees. Please do not delay in writing the office for we are anxious to get all the information possible.

R. O. T. C. Is Inspected.

The Infantry Unit of the R. O. T. C. was inspected on April 12, by Major Charles Lull, Colonel C. H. Millar and Captain William Bergin of Washington, D. C. The inspection was held on Francis Quadrangle. Colonel W. E. Persons and his staff of assistants are to be congratulated on the splendid showing made by the R. O. T. C.

C. A. Luther, a member of the rifle team, was given a gold medal for the highest individual honors.

The Cadet band under the leadership of George Venerable gave a Schubert composition concert on the campus in the afternoon concluding the R. O. T. C. inspection.

Student Body Incorporated.

A Pro Forma decree of incorporation was granted to the Student Association of the University of Missouri in Circuit Court, April 12. The student body is incorporated under the constitution that was adopted at the student elections this spring.

Curators Reappointed.

Gov. Hyde announced on March 9, that he had reappointed Milton J. Tootle, of St. Joseph, and P. E. Burton, of Joplin, as members of the Board of Curators of the University. Their terms expired January 1, 1923. Their new terms will run until January 1, 1929.

"Doc" Lawler to Leave.

Dr. M. P. Lawler, trainer of Missouri's athletic teams for the last three years, will go to Purdue University to take up the same duties there next fall. During his stay here Doctor Lawler has achieved fame for his ability to keep men in the game, and has made himself popular because of his never-failing good humor and wit. He is one of the oldest professional trainers in the country, having been connected for almost twenty-seven years with major-league baseball clubs. He is a graduate of Pennsylvania Orthopedic Institute.

University Gets Reid Estate.

An estate of $8,000 has been granted the University, the income of which is to be used by the Board of Curators as a loan fund for students in Boone County. The receipt of this fund by the University is the result of a decision of the Kansas City Court of Appeals concerning the estate of James C. Reid, of Boone County.

Reid died in 1909, and left his estate to his daughter, Mamie Crazier. After her death it was to go to her children, or, in case she had none, to be given to the Board of Curators of the University, to be used as a loan fund.

In 1920 Mamie Crazier died. She had no children of her own, but had adopted a daughter. The adopted daughter went into court, asking that she be declared a child with the meaning of the will. The Circuit Court of Boone County held that she was not a child. She appealed to the Kansas City Court of Appeals, which affirmed the finding of the Circuit Court.

Bible College Plan Changed.

The co-operative plan of the Missouri Bible College to make this institution a great interdenominational school of religion was unanimously adopted by the annual state convention of the Christian Church of Missouri, held in Kansas City, April 17.

Until 1916 the Bible College was supported wholly by the Christian Church. At that time other denominations were invited to join. The college now has Presbyterian and Congregational representatives in its faculty.

Dean Walter Gibbs represented the Bible College at the convention and while in Kansas City was entertained by Archie Bedford, an alumnus of the University.

Commencement Notes

The Commencement exercises were held on Wednesday, April 25. The following alumni met in the Alumni Recorder's office and formed a part of the Academic procession: Walter Ridgeway, J. Kelley Wright, C. M. Barnes, '98, C. M. Sneed, M. D. '01, C. J. Blackburn, M. D. '83, John C. Turk, '85, B. F. Hoffman, '84, Kenneth Sears, '13, C. M. Jackson, '98, H. H. Shackelford, '10, Julia Spalding, '10, Flora Hartley Green, '08, Virginia Hudson, '22, Kathryn Douglass, '16, Bennetta Barkley Lee, '09, Herley S. Daily, '10, Mrs. J. H. Davis, '78, Mrs. J. T. Gibbs, Jr., '21, A. D. Elkin, '18, Mrs. Earl F. Nelson, Gran A. Goodson, Mrs. Gran A. Goodson, J. Kirk Fyfer.

The Commencement address, "The Purpose and Functions of the State University", was delivered by Victor Clarence Vaughan of the National Research Council of Washington, D. C. Dr. Vaughan told the graduates that their diplomas served as an implied moral contract. He said:

"The world of effort is before you, young men and women. The road ad astra lies per aspera, but bruised heels and aching limbs count for naught when the way leads upward toward mountain tops of human growth and perfection. Keep to this road, doing what you can to lift yourself and your fellows to a more rational life, and Missouri will have done well in bestowing upon you her richest gift, an education."

Dr. Vaughan is a native Missourian. He was born at Mount Airy, near Moberly, and received his B. S. degree from Mount Pleasant College located at Huntsville, but which is not now in existence.

Later Mr. Vaughan attended the University of Michigan where he received his M. D., Ph. D. and L. L. D. degrees. From 1876 to 1884 he was assistant professor in the University of Michigan, and from 1886 to 1921 professor of hygiene and physiological chemistry, at the same time serving as dean of the department of medicine and surgery.

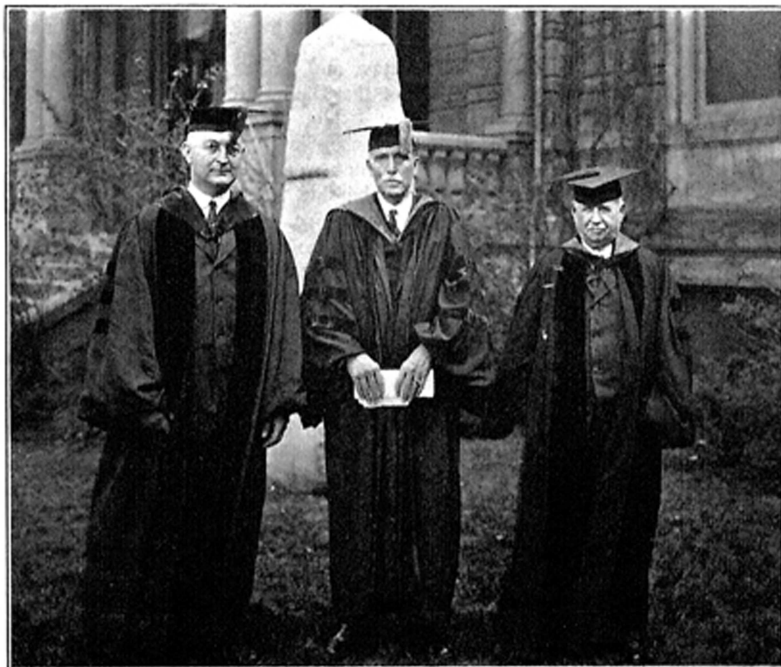

the National Academy of Sciences, and a honorary member of the French Society of Hygiene and of the Hungarian Society of Hygiene. He is the author of more than 150 contributions to current American and European scientific literature.

Exactly 700 degrees were conferred by the University at the 81st Commencement.

These included two honorary degrees conferred by the University on Dr. Vaughan, the Commencement speaker, and Dr. Clarence Martin Jackson, a native Missourian, B. S. '98, M. S. '99, M. D. '00, University of Missouri, formerly Dean of the School of Medicine, now of the University of Minnesota.

Following the presentation of diplomas, Paul P. Howard, president of the senior class, presented a portrait of Dr. J. C. Jones, retiring president, to the University by the class of 1923. It was accepted in behalf of the University and the Board of Curators by H. J. Blanton, of Paris, a member of the Board, of Curators. Mr. Howard told of the wonderful service performed by President Jones in his 41 years' of service in University of Missouri and paid high tribute to him. Mr. Blanton also expressed the appreciation of the Board and friends of the University for his service to the institution in accepting the gift. Mr. Blanton announced that President Jones had been made president emeritus and professor emeritus of Latin in the University by the Board of Curators at its last meeting held in Kansas City. Governor Arthur M. Hyde arrived after the exercises began and was presented to the graduates, the alumni and friends of the University by President Jones. Dr. Jones said that

Dr. Clarence Martin Jackson, B. S. '98, M. S. '99, M. D. '00, Former Dean of the School of Medicine, now of the University of Minnesota, upon whom was conferred the honorary degree of LL. D. at the Commencement exercises April 25.

Dr. J. C. Jones, retiring president of the University, who has been connected with the University for 41 years. He has been made president emeritus and professor emeritus of Latin of the University by the Board of Curators. Dr. Jones says that he will work a little and play a whole lot.

Dr. Victor Clarence Vaughan, of the National Research Council, Washington, D. C., who delivered the Commencement address on April 25, and upon whom was conferred the honorary degree of LL. D.

During the Spanish-American War he served as Division Surgeon and was recommended for bravery by President McKinley for meritorious conduct at Santiago. In the World War he served as colonel in the Medical Corps, in charge of the section of communicable diseases.

Mr. Vaughan is a member of many societies and associations both in this country and in Europe. He was president of the Association of American Physicians in 1908-09, and is a member of the American Philosophical Society, as his last official act he desired to testify to the efficient service that the Governor had rendered for the State and for higher education and the University. He said that the progress of the University for the last two years was due largely to the Governor and that the Governor was largely responsible for the appropriations made for the University this year.

The Governor in a brief speech stated that he came to Columbia to attend the exercises chiefly to be with President Jones on the final day of his administration. He spoke of the value of the work performed by the President in his many years of work for the University and said that he wanted to express the thanks of the state to him.

Governor Hyde announced that he had appointed Dr. Jones, president emeritus of the University, a member of the Board of Curators of the University. There are two vacancies on the Board to be filled. The announcement of only one appointment was made. Dr. Jones has declined to accept the appointment.

"It was a very impressive occasion" commented the Governor on Commencement just after the exercises were over. "This is the foundation upon which we must build if we are to make Missouri a greater state."

Dr. Herbert L. Willett, professor of Old Testament Languages and Literature in the University of Chicago, delivered the baccalaureate address at the 81st Annual Commencement on April 22. His address was one of the most interesting that University audiences has ever heard. He suggested biblical faith, kindly faith, liberal faith and social faith as fundamental to the faith which should grow out of education.

The class day exercises of the graduating class were held on Tuesday, April 24, at the Columns, presided over by Paul P. Howard, president of the senior class.

Prewitt B. Turner read the class poem dedicated to the class of 1923 and composed by Florian P. Gass.

In after years, when we have come to know
Life in the large, when days march slow,
When, balancing experience, we trace
Our source of strength back to its primal base, We'll bless these times, yet laugh that they were so.

And yet some things will never dimmer grow,—
Some things will never lack an innate grace,
When back through and the past we turn our face

In after years.

Let these things live through weal and woe,—
The halls, the Columns, and the debt we owe.
The flux of men and things change not their place:

The withering hand of time cannot erase
Their word. Let these then live, through all else go

In after years.

Miss Alline Smith, class historian, told of the history of the class.

President J. C. Jones made a short talk to the members of the class at the Columns after which motion pictures were taken of the members of the class, the deans and honored Commencement guests.

The Phi Beta Kappa and Sigma Xi luncheon was held at the Daniel Boone Tavern on Tuesday. The following members of the senior class in the College of Arts and Science were elected to undergraduate membership and initiated into Alpha Chapter of the Phi Beta Kappa Society: Irene Schneider, Lester S. Parker, Jr., Herbert Bunker, Racine Spicer, Walter R. Batsell, Bernice V. Burkhardt, Ben A. Stinson, Ralph A. McCause, Florian P. Gass, Katherine Indorf, Margaret Huston, Norinne Dorgan, Paul E. Basye, James D. Smith, Marjorie Woodhead, Cleo Bankhead, George E. Bates and Elizabeth W. Lindsay.

The following are associate members of the Society of Sigma Xi: D. R. Briggs, Virgil B. Cole, William Raymond Crooks, Frank O. Eppright, H. M. King, H. S. McQueen, Agnes Orbison, E. H. Payne, Ruth Rusk and Nelly Turner.

One of the most interesting features of the Commencement Week was the planting of the Douglass fir trees on the agricultural campus, sent by Scott Hayes, '73, who now lives at 1369 Beach St., Eugene, Ore. Under date of April 19 he wrote Dean F. B. Mumford of the College of Agriculture as follows:

"Having just learned the senior class of the College of Agriculture will plant a tree during Commencement Week, as a class memorial, I am addressing you to make sure of getting in touch with the class to commend their action and ask them to extend a favor to the class of 1873 and set a fir tree which I will get, and mail or express from here, for an additional feature of the occasion. There are four varieties of wild fir growing in this vicinity. I will try and get the Douglass fir.

"It would afford me great pleasure to place myself among the members of the class of 1923 and extend personal greetings. But the distance is too great. I plan a visit for Homecoming time next fall, however."

The place chosen for the planting of the tree was in the northeast corner of the Agricultural Building lawn. Harold Hanser, permanent president of the class of 1923, was in charge of the tree planting. E. W. Stephens, A. B. '67, A. M. '70, LL. D. '05, delivered the Scott Hayes tree oration.

The commencement exercises of the School of Mines and Metallurgy were held in Rolla, May 5. The address to the graduating class was delivered by Jay William Hudson, professor of philosophy at the University of Missouri. Dr. Isidor Loeb, acting president of the University, also delivered a short address, and conferred the degrees upon the candidates. A banquet was given in Dr. Loeb's honor.

Colonel William Ernest Persons conferred commissions in the United States Reserve Corps upon fourteen candidates. The graduating classes this year are the largest in the history of the school, 180 degrees and commissions being conferred.

During the reception a gold watch was presented to President J. C. Jones by members of the faculty as an expression of respect for his long service with the University. A resolution, signed by the deans of the University memorializing his long services, was also presented to him. The presentation was made by Dean Isidor Loeb, who assumed the chair duties of acting president on April 26.

The watch is a 23 jewel Hamilton and bears Dr. Jones' initials in old English on the back. On the inside is the inscription,

*"Cum amore atque integra veneratione
Facultatis Universitatis Missouriensis
A die VIII Kalendis Maius MCMXXIII."*

The translation is: "With the sincere love and deep respect of the Faculty of the University of Missouri, April 25, 1924."

The resolution of the faculty reads as follows:

"On the eve of the retirement of John Carleton Jones from the Presidency of the University of Missouri, the Faculties unite in expressing their high appreciation of his distinguished services. For over forty years he has given unstintingly of his best to this institution: as a teacher, scholarly and inspiring; as a Dean, wise and sympathetic with the problems of both students and colleagues; as President, loyal to the best traditions of the University and true to the highest educational ideals, achieving the glad cooperation of his Faculties by his frank and unflinching spirit of friendship, his intellectual and moral integrity, and his earnest and active concern for their welfare as inseparable from the efficiency of the institution which they serve.

"Such devotion, tested and proved through long years, culminating in conspicuous achievement, will be a significant part of whatever greatness the University of Missouri may yet attain."

The resolution was signed by the following: F. M. Tisdell, Dean of the College of Arts and Science; F. B. Mumford, Dean of the College of Agriculture; J. P. McBaine, Dean of the School of Law; G. L. Noyes, Dean of the School of Medicine; J. H. Coursault, Dean of the School of Education; E. J. McCaustland, Dean of the School of Engineering; Walter Williams, Dean of the School of Journalism; Isidor Loeb, Dean of the School of Business and Public Administration; Walter Miller, Dean of the Graduate School.

President Jones' last official act was the awarding of diplomas on April 25.

The annual Board of Curators' Commencement luncheon was held at the Daniel Boone Tavern following the Commencement exercises. Covers for six hundred were provided filling both the main dining room and the ball room floor. President Jones presided and the following responded to toasts: Dr. C. M. Jackson, Dr. V. C. Vaughan, H. J. Blanton, member of the Board of Curators, Dean Isidor Loeb, F. B. Rollins, president of the Alumni Association, Paul P. Howard, president of the senior class and Miss Cornelia Compton, president of senior women. The musical program was composed of vocal solos by Mrs. Robert Waddell, violin solos by Mrs. Agnes Emberson Filler and cornet solos by Richard Compton.

President Jones announced the permanent officers of the class of 1923 as follows:

President ----- Harold Hanser
 Vice-president ----- John E. Miller
 Secretary-treasurer ----- E. L. Bush
 Executive Committee
 College of Agriculture ----Prewitt B. Turner.
 School of B. & P. A. ----- George E. Stayton.
 College of Arts & Science ----- Miss Margaret C. Houston.

Arkansas to Have Mizzou Day.

E. G. Bylander, Secretary of the Arkansas State Fair, Little Rock, and Herbert K. Thatcher, B. S. in Ag. '15, President of the Arkansas Alumni Association and District Ag. Agent, 310 Bonaghey Bldg., Little Rock, announced that Wednesday, October 10, 1923, has been designated as the second annual University of Missouri Day at the Arkansas State Fair. The program will consist of an alumni parade to the State Fair grounds, motion pictures of the alumni, a dinner in the evening, a speaking program and a showing of University of Missouri motion pictures. This is a big party of the year for the Arkansas alumni. They are a progressive lot of men and women and are giving wonderful support to their Alma Mater.

Portrait of Dr. Whitten Presented.

A portrait of the late Dr. J. C. Whitten, former Professor of Horticulture in the University, was presented to the College of Agriculture, April 26, by Prof. T. J. Talbert on behalf of the former students and friends of Doctor Whitten.

The portrait was accepted by Dean F. B. Mumford for the College of Agriculture and Dr. J. C. Jones for the University.

The portrait of Dr. Whitten will be hung over the oaken doorway and arch in the main corridor of Whitten Hall. It was painted by Miss Gertrude Heinrich, a Columbia artist, for the group of friends of Doctor Whitten who subscribed to the memorial fund.

The University catalog of 1923-24 is ready for distribution. If you want a copy write J. F. Williams, University Publisher, Columbia, Mo.

1923 Spring Festival Held.

Miss Hazel McIntyre, student from Mexico, Mo., member of the Kappa Alpha Theta sorority, was crowned Queen of the Spring Festival, April 20, by Miss Margaret Huston, President of W. S. G. A. Rain prevented having the exercises on the East Campus and the play was held in the Gymnasium. The procession of the Queen and her attendants was announced by two pages, Miss Ruth Mary Packard and Miss Frances Ragland. Little Frances Logan was the flower page with little Rose Marie Kerner, crown bearer, and Mary Jane Hill and Joel Dinwiddie were train bearers. The eight attendants to the Queen were Misses Cornelia Compton, Gertrude Martin, Alline Smith, Mildred Irish, Helen Mengel, Margaret Hudson, Virginia Keith, and Barbara Reavis. The seniors with their junior attendants followed in the procession of the Queen and the crowning of the Queen was followed by the dances of the nations, given for the Queen's entertainment. Rain prevented taking motion pictures of the Spring Festival. It was one of the outstanding features of the school activities of the year and the committee in charge of the Spring Festival deserve congratulations.

No Change In Credit System.

There will be no change in the hours of credit given when the University goes back to the semester plan this fall, according to Leslie Cowan, secretary of the University.

"The net amount of class work accomplished will be almost exactly the same as in three terms," he said. "This is accounted for by a later registration, longer vacations and an additional observance of holidays."

The calendar for the school year 1923-24, arranges for the first semester to open September 11 and to close January 26. The second semester will last from January 26 to May 31. The mid-year examinations will be given January 19 to 26, and the finals May 24 to 31.

The first term of the two-year winter course in agriculture begins October 29; the second term lasts until February 23.

The Christmas holidays will last nearly two weeks—from December 21 to January 3, while Easter will be celebrated April 16 to 22. Commencement will be held June 1 to 4.

The summer session will be held from June 9 to August 2.

Dr. H. W. Loeb Returns.

Dr. H. W. Loeb, A. B., Pe. P. '82, A. M. '96, brother of Acting President Isidor Loeb, accompanied by Mrs. Loeb have returned to their home in St. Louis from an extended trip to the Orient. Doctor Loeb, who is Dean of the St. Louis Medical School, devoted most of this time to a study of medical institutions in Japan and China.

Luncheon for Major J. S. Fleet.

The alumni and former student of Culver Military School, who are in Columbia and those who are enrolled in the University attended a luncheon in honor of Major Fleet, a few days ago, given by Edwin Williams, a freshman in the University, who graduated from Culver last year. Major J. S. Fleet played football on the famous team of 1895. He was greatly surprised to find the wonderful growth in Columbia and at the University. He found many class mates and old friends with whom he visited during his stay in Columbia.

Major Fleet's father, A. F. Fleet, was responsible for bringing the monument of Thomas Jefferson from Montecello to the University of Missouri where it now stands just west of the front entrance to the auditorium in Jesse Hall.

"After an absence of nearly thirty-three years you can imagine my complete surprise at the tremendous growth of the University, both in buildings and enrollment," he said. "When you remember that the only buildings on the campus at that time, which remain standing today, were Switzler Hall, the president's residence, and, of course, the historic columns."

Gwinn L. Henry Named Coach.

Gwinn L. Henry, athletic director of the State Normal School at Emporia, Kansas, was elected as head football coach for the coming year at a meeting of the Board of Curators held in St. Louis, May 7. Henry will be assisted by Captain William C. Dunckel, former Tiger Star and member of the last years coaching staff, and Herbert Bunker, last years football captain, who has been elected freshman coach for the next year. Henry was graduated from Southwestern University at Georgetown, Tex., where he won letters in four sports—football, basketball, baseball and track, and as a member of the Irish-American Athletic Club in New York in 1910 and 1911 he competed in all track meets, football games and basketball games which that organization entered.

In 1912 Henry was named a member of the American Olympic team running the 100 and 220 yard dashes. He holds the world's record in the 125-yard dash—12 1/5—and is coholder of the world's marks in the 120-yard dash outdoors and the 75-yard dash indoors. He won the national championship in the 220-yard dash at New Orleans in 1910 and in the 100-yard dash at Pittsburgh in 1911.

Henry first coached the Baptist College, an Oklahoma institution, in 1911-12 and 1912-13, and from there went to Howard-Payne College at Brownwood, Tex., coaching there in 1914-15 and 1915-16. Since 1917 he has coached at the College of Emporia. In his five years of service there he has lost three conference football games, won three conference football titles, tied for one and finished in second place once.

Henry has also played seven or eight years of minor league baseball.

The members of the athletic committee have received many congratulations on securing the services of Henry, for attempts have been made by other schools to secure his services and he has been repeatedly spoken of as Big Ten Caliber.

Bunker will complete his work in the University at the end of this term. He was recently elected to the National Honorary organization of Phi Beta Kappa. He has won three letters in football, basketball, baseball and track. He will coach the freshmen teams in all four sports and will be an all-year-round coach.

The Shanghai Club.

This club never got its picture in the Savitar or rented Wyfer Hall for a dance but it was some club. It was composed of students who came over from Shanghai in 1906 to enter the university.

Wilmot Boone, A. B. '11, was the chief offender, and he got the rest of the members lined up. Next came James G. Ware, Medicine, '11, his sister, Grace Ware, A. B. and Phi Beta Kappa, Doris went to Christian College and Helen to Fulton, Edward Felgate, A. B., B. J. '12; his brother, Reginald, former student in Teacher College, and G. A. Hellstrand, Rolla and now a mining engineer in Butte, Mont.

The club members were all school boys in Shanghai and had many good times in Columbia talking over the Chinese days. All of the men are married except Hellstrand, and with the exception of Boone and R. Felgate are all in this country.

New Law Professor Appointed.

M. L. Ferson, dean of the School of Law of George Washington University, was appointed Professor of Law at the University of Missouri, at the meeting of the Board of Curators in St. Louis, May 7.

A Message From Dr. J. C. Jones

To the Alumni and Former Students of the University:

Before retiring from the office of President of the University, it appears desirable to give a brief summary of the development of the institution during the past two years and also a brief statement of the outlook for the future. In all material things the University has grown during the past two years more rapidly than at any period of its history. The Fifty-first General Assembly not only made the largest appropriation for all purposes that the University has ever received, but made a notably large appropriation for buildings, the sum total exceeding a million dollars, if the Hospital for which an appropriation was made at the special session is included. The following buildings have been completed and are now in use:

- Addition to the Medical Building.
 - Addition to the Engineering Building.
 - Power Plant.
 - Beef Cattle Barn.
- The following buildings will be completed during the summer and will be ready for occupancy in the fall:
- Agricultural Building.
 - Women's Gymnasium.
 - Chemistry Building.

The Hospital will probably not be completed before early in 1924. In the above list are six complete buildings and three extensions—the largest number of buildings constructed in any one biennial period in the whole history of the University. The material growth of the University, however, great as that has been, is not comparable to the growth of the University in other ways that cannot be measured in figures. First in importance and in ultimate results to the institution should be mentioned the increased cooperation and support of the alumni and former students that has been given during the past two years. This has come from the effective efforts of the Board to bring the alumni and former students into closer touch with the University and to keep their interest and enthusiasm alive by letting them know about the needs of the institution and the plans of the Board for its advancement. To the active interest of the alumni and to their influence exerted directly upon the Legislature, the liberal appropriation made by the last General Assembly was in no small measure due. The attitude of the press of the State and especially of the metropolitan press has been one of great cordiality, especially during the past year. By the publication of special articles in regard to the service of the University to the State and in regard to its needs, the interest of the people of the State in the institution has been greatly stimulated. Numerous editorials have been written advocating a more liberal policy on the part of the General Assembly toward the University and the State Teachers Colleges. All of this fine publicity has served to keep the University before the people of Missouri, while the strong support given by the press has served to inspire a greater confidence in the institution.

The relations existing between the University and the other state educational institutions are most cordial and the influence of these institutions materially assisted in carrying through the campaign for better support for the University.

The morale of the faculty has grown steadily better during the past two years. The great increase in the cost of living incident to the war which the members of our faculty had to meet without any corresponding increase in salary created for them a very difficult economic situation. Even in the period of greatest economic pressure, when humiliating economies had to be practiced, the patience of the faculty was most admirable and their loyalty notably fine. When it became necessary during the last biennial period, in order to escape a deficit in our maintenance fund, for the members of the faculty to dispense with some of the usual readers and assistants and assume a heavier burden of teaching they met the situation willingly and cheerfully. It gives me much pleasure to testify to the devotion and loyalty of our faculty during a very difficult and trying period.

The Fifty-second General Assembly made an appropriation for all divisions of the University for the next two years of $4,027,548.04. Of this sum $536,000.00 was appropriated for the School of Mines at Rolla and $3,491,548.00 for the divisions at Columbia. Not only is this the largest appropriation ever made for the University but that part of it which is intended for the maintenance of the institution during the next two years is notably large, $1,- 950,000.00. This large maintenance fund was given for the avowed purpose of making it possible for us to retain our best men and to put an end to the practice by other institutions of using the University as a recruiting ground. Of this sum Governor Hyde has held up only $150,000.00, leaving $1,800,000 available for carrying out the program for which we made our appeal to the Legislature for an increased appropriation for maintenance and support. Although a large part of our special fund is held up ($450,000 altogether), yet each of these funds is as large or larger than two years ago. It is, of course, expected that a portion of these funds will be released during the biennium. If, however, this cannot be done, these special funds will still be as large or larger than two years ago. The total amount which has been held up by Governor Hyde is $900,000, made up as follows: maintenance $150,000; special funds $450,000; buildings $300,000. If we deduct the above $900,000 from the total appropriation for the next two years, $3,491,548.00 we have $2,591,548.00, available for the next two years. This is some $90,000 less than the total appropriation made by the Fifty-first General Assembly, excluding the Hospital voted at the special session. We must remember, however, that no part of the appropriation for the next two years left after deducting the $900,000 held up by Governor Hyde will be used for buildings, whereas a very large part of the appropriation two years ago was for buildings. It will then be quite clear that as far as maintenance is concerned the situation of the University is incomparably better than two years ago. We have a much larger fund for the development of the University in other than material lines, which is the kind of development that the friends of the University desire and expect during the next two years. I think, therefore, the alumni may feel greatly gratified and encouraged and may confidently look forward to a full realization of their hopes in regard to the future of their alma mater.

I take this opportunity to express again to the alumni and former students my great appreciation of the loyalty and devotion to the University which they have shown in countless ways during the past two years. Their enthusiasm, their interest and their untiring efforts for the advancement of their alma mater have been my support in time of discouragement and their expressions of approval and of pleasure my most valued reward in time of success. It will be a constant joy to recall their loyalty to me during the past two years and their unstinted service to the University. I am sure that these will continue to be given in the same abundant measure.

—J. C. JONES.

Dean J. H. Coursault Resigns.

Dr. J. H. Coursault has, at his own request, been relieved of the duties of the Dean of the School of Education that he may devote himself to teaching, research and writing, it was announced by Acting President Loeb today. The Board has requested him to continue as Dean until a successor can be obtained.

Dr. J. H. Coursault

Dean Coursault's request was granted by the curators upon receipt of the following letter from him:

"At the request of the President of the University, several years ago, I undertook the administrative work of the School of Education, although it conflicted with my personal interests. I preferred teaching research, and writing to administrative work; but, under the circumstances, believed it my duty to comply with his request. The expected expansion of our graduate work in education, in the securing of which I have been actively interested during my administration, will not only add to the duties of my office, but also, I believe, presents an opportunity for reorganization of work which will relieve me of administration. I therefore urgently request that I be relieved of the office of the Dean of the School of Education. I am willing of course, to continue the work of this office until a successor has been obtained."

Dean Coursault has been a member of the Faculty of Education since 1905 and has been in charge of the administration of the School of Education since September, 1917. He holds the degrees of Bachelor of Arts from Ohio State University, Master of Arts from Harvard, and Doctor of Philosophy from Columbia University. He is a member of Phi Beta Kappa and Phi Delta Kappa. During his administration he has been actively interested in bringing about closer co-operation between the University and the state teachers' colleges and has largely promoted the plans looking toward the expansion of graduate work in education.

Dean Coursault's latest book entitled "The Principles of Education," is used in numerous American universities and teachers' colleges in the United States and in foreign countries.

Prep School Press Association Formed.

The Missouri Interscholastic Press Association was formed, May 5, when representatives of publications at eleven preparatory schools of the state met in Columbia and adopted a permanent constitution.

The purposes of the organization, as set forth in the constitution, shall be to further the interests of preparatory school journalism in Missouri, and to stand for the highest standards of journalistic effort and achievement among preparatory school students.

The following permanent officers were elected for the year of 1923-24: president, Bernard Van Horn of the Purple and Gold, Columbia High School; vice-president, Morris J. Harliss of the Manualite, Manual High School, Kansas City; secretary-treasurer, T. T. Johnson, Jr., of the M. M. A. Eagle, Missouri Military Academy, Mexico.

1923 Savitar Distributed.

The 1923 Savitar was distributed April 11. It is an outstanding publication and congratulations are due the members of the Savitar Staff. The book is dedicated "To the Tiger Spirit, Invisible, Invincible, Winner of Battles, Unvanquished Even in Defeat, Gathering Unto Itself the Best Traditions of the Past and Reaching Into the future to Conquer With the Highest Ideals of Honor, Valor and Glory." The Savitar Staff is: T. Spencer Shore—Editor, Lewis E. Baker—Business Manager, Vernetta C. McKenzie—Associate Editor, Robert A. Baldry—Associate Editor, Marjorie S. Harbaugh—Associate Editor.

Alumnus Is Chinese Bandits' Captive.

J. B. Powell, B. J. '10, was among a party of Americans kidnaped by the bandits in China, May 6. Powell was instructor in advertising in the School of Journalism of the University from 1912 to 1917. He was a member of the second class that was graduated from the School of Journalism. For two years after his graduation he was business manager and editor of the Hannibal Courier-Post. He left the faculty of the School of Journalism to accept a position as business manager of Millard's Review in Changhai, China.

After working on the publication about two years as manager, he bought it and changed the name to the Weekly Review of the Far East. The publication is a business trade paper, printed in English, for the Far East.

In Shanghai, Mr. Powell is the correspondent of the Chicago Tribune. He has been secretary of the American Chamber of Commerce in China and also representative of the bureau of public information in China in the World War. In 1921 he was vice-president for the Orient, of the Associated Advertising Clubs of the World. In the latter part of 1921 and a part of 1922 Mr. Powell was in the United States as official representative of the American Chamber of Commerce of China in Washington.

Mr. Powell married Miss Martha Hinton, a daughter of J. P. Hinton, prominent banker of Hannibal. They have two children.

Last year Powell returned to this country and was instrumental in putting through congress a bill of foreign corporations.

Alumni Duties.

The eighty-fourth anniversary of the University was celebrated on April 19, Founders Day, by alumni associations all over the United States. In no finer way can alumni observe the birthday of their Alma Mater than by a renewed awakening to their University opportunities and their duties. Their opportunity is to herald the cause of this University far and wide, that the citizens of Missouri may know of their richest storehouse; that the citizens may know what the University is doing in training men and women for leadership and in solving the problems that confront them. Their duty is to defend the University from those who would assail it; to uphold it in times of stress; in short, to think and act toward it in relation to its welfare, not merely in terms of sentiment, but in deeds of service.

The people of this state, the state itself, will finally and completely believe in the University when they are convinced that the sons and daughters believe in it. When so convinced they will never let the University lack for support. The alumni and former students, who have been enriched by University teaching and training must show their belief in the University of Missouri. This does not mean by gifts alone, although this is a concrete way to show how much one really does believe in the University of Missouri, but also by that constant interest in the institution that causes one to really think. Remember the University in your strength and her weakness.

A Splendid Bequest.

J. W. Whiffin, retired Kansas City business man, has made a will leaving a quarter million dollar estate which is to be administered by the Board of Curators of the University of Missouri for the sole benefit of students who are financially handicapped. No restrictions are imposed.

Mr. Whiffin lives on a stretch of the beautiful farm land which distinguishes that part of the country around Greenwood, a village southeast of Lees Summit in Jackson County. He plans to erect a factory on the property he holds in Kansas City that the income from his estate shall be sufficient to aid a greater number of needy students.

A veteran Westerner, Mr. Whiffin took up a residence in Kansas City in 1885. He had lived previously in Iowa and recalls some, at least, of the days when Council Bluffs was an outfitting station for overland travelers. One of his real estate developments there was the planting of an addition which was named for him. When he acquired the property it was a corn field.

In a lifetime spent, there have been few greater happinesses for the now aged man than have results from aiding needy students.

"Never once have I been disappointed," he declared the other day, "by anyone who had asked a loan and promised to repay me. There have been others, too, who have not been expected to return what they spent. How many? My memory grows poor, and that is not a point anyway."

"I think a man is obligated to return to the public something of what he has accumulated. After all, that is where he got it. And surely no one is more deserving than the person who is anxious to help himself."

Sigma Epsilon Prize Awarded.

In 1905 the first poetry prize at the University of Missouri was established through the generosity of Mr. Nelson C. Field of Brunswick, Missouri, a former student of the University. The Nelson C. Field prize of $100.00 offered to Missouri students an inducement for poetical composition equalled at but two other universities: at Harvard with the Garrison Prize, and at Oxford with the famous Newdigate Prize, of approximately the same value. The stimulus thus supplied brought forth a gratifying response and ever since, although not in every year has a poem been submitted that was deemed worthy by the judges of the award, there has been a continuous and growing interest at the University in the writing of poetry.

The first prize, that of 1905, was awarded to Miss Lulu Belle Wooldridge, of Boonville. In 1907 the award went to John S. Huson of Sedalia; in 1908, to John Robert Moore of Columbia; in 1910, to Harold F. Childs of New York City; in 1914, and again in 1915, to Walter Clare Martin, of Lamar, Mo.

The Field Prize was discontinued in 1916, and in its place a similar prize was established in 1917 by Walter S. Dickey of Kansas City. The Walter S. Dickey Prize, which was offered for two years, was won in 1917 by Miss Katherine Foster Smith of St. Louis, and in 1918 by Miss Miriam Thurman of Wichita, Kan.

For several years thereafter no prize for poetry was open to Missouri students; and it is an evidence of their very real enthusiasm that the prize has recently been renewed by an organization among the students themselves. The local chapter of the Sigma Upsilon fraternity, under whose auspices the present volume is published, established in 1922 the Sigma Upsilon Poetry Prize. In 1922 it was awarded to Miss Sara Saper of Kansas City, and for the present year to Miss Ida Judith Johnson of Poplar Bluff.

The ten prize poems are included in the present volume, and with them a number of other poems by the prize winners and by fifteen of their competitors. All the poems were written by students of the University and, so far as is known, while they were in residence.

The Sigma Upsilon fraternity is, I believe to be heartily congratulated on collecting and publishing a body of poems entirely worthy of preservation, and including several whose loss would be a genuine misfortune. When the achievements of the University of Missouri during the past eighteen years are recorded, perhaps not the least memorable among them that are herein contained.—Robert L. Ramsay.

All alumni and former student, especially those of the School of Journalism, are again reminded that Journalism Week dates at the University of Missouri will be May 21-25, celebrating the 15th anniversary of the School of Journalism, the oldest and largest School of Journalism in the world. Don't forget the Journalism Alumni Luncheon on Friday, May 25.

Alumna Is Social Worker.

After I had graduated from the University with an A. B. in 1913 and a B. S. in Education in 1914, I taught English, 1915-17 in the Mexico, Missouri High School.

I returned to the University in 1917-19 and studied, for the most part, Economics and Sociology.

During 1919-20 I held a Research Studentship under the Russell Sage Foundation at the Chicago School of Civics and Philanthropy. During this year I worked on a nationality survey among the workers in the steel mills in South Chicago, a housing study in the negro section, and a wage investigation among colored working mothers. One investigation I shall never forget.

Adeline Jesse

In order to gain additional experience in social research, the students of the school were turned into U. S. agents to help take the government census of 1920. During the bitterest January weather I have ever known I called from house to house in a Polish neighborhood. The ink froze in my fountain pen while I strove, through the half-inch the door was grudgingly opened, to learn to spell, in eight or ten consonants apiece, the names of the eight or ten members of the family.

Since 1920 I have held the position of Visiting Teacher under the Vocational Guidance Bureau, Department of Education, Chicago. Having struggled hard to get away from school teaching, I may be allowed to explain that a Visiting Teacher is a social worker. I do vocational advising and general family case work in a public school of over 1,300 children, most of whom are of Polish parentage.

Since 1921 I have been a resident of Hull House, the settlement founded by Jane Adams. Here I teach English two evenings a week to adult foreigners who range in age from 20 to 60 and in nationality from Italian to Greek, Czecho-Slovakian, and Mexican.

I should explain that, contrary to popular belief, Hull House is not altogether a resort for "Reds". There are residents who are most conservative in their opinions as well as some who are more radical; the combination makes the House a very entertaining place in which to live. So, if any of my old friends meet me, they need not be deterred from greeting me by the thought of bombs in my pockets. I have not, as yet, taken to them.

High School Day a Success.

Three hundred sixty of the best high school athletes in the state were entered in the Twentieth Annual Interscholastic Track and Field Meet held on Rollins Field, May 5. About forty high school teams were entered.

In order to make competition among the different schools a little more even, they were classified according to the size of the school which the teams represented. In Division No. 1, which comprised the smaller schools from the smaller towns, first place was won by Liberty with 22 points. In Division No. 2, Kansas City Northeast was the winner with 52 points. First place in Division No. 3, which was made up of military schools only, was captured by Kemper with 80 points.

A state record fell during the meet, when M. Henley, Kansas City Northeast, ran the 220-yard dash in 21½ seconds, ½ of a second better than the previous record. Henley also tied the state record for the 100-yard dash when he ran it in 10 seconds. Wilcox of Liberty also ran the 100-yard dash in 10 seconds. The Kansas City Northeast half-mile relay team equaled the state record for that distance.

Much splendid material was shown Lancaster of Northeast, and Tillatson of Kemper, tied for high honors in individual points won.

Z. G. Clevenger, athletic director, Bob Simpson and members of the Tiger track team officiated at the meet.

Saturday night the final contest of the year in the Missouri High School Debating League was held in the University Auditorium between teams representing Lebanon and Louisiana High Schools. Lebanon was the victor by a two to one judge's decision. This gives Lebanon the State Championship and a silver loving cup.

The winning team was composed of Jean Bradshaw and Leo Nyberg, and Louisiana was represented by Raymond Garner and Herbert Penick. Bradshaw was awarded the $125 scholarship for the best individual debater. The question was "Resolved: That the National Government of the United States Should Own and Operate the Coal Mines."

Professor H. M. Belden presided. The judges were Dean J. H. Coursault, Dr. C. A. Ellwood and Professor R. K. Watkins.

Alumna Conducts Mental Tests.

There are many phases of modern education that break the monotony of the old time school. For the most part they are hailed with joy by the little folks as an interesting diversion. One of these is the mental test, that is being more and more widely used by the schools all over the country.

In Kansas City, Missouri, we find one of Missouri's graduates, Alma Betz (B. S. in Ed. '17, A. B. '18, University of Missouri, Phi Beta Kappa, Pi Lambda Theta), doing mental testing for the psychological department of the public school system of that city. Her work has been general testing of children in the lower grades of the elementary schools. The results of these tests are used to classify children into groups where they can work most effectively.

Do the children enjoy this new kind of examination? Oh, yes. You would think so too if you could go with Miss Betz some day into a school room where she has been working and see the eager hands go up and hear something like the following: "May I go next?" "When will you come for me?" "I wish I could go again; I like to do those things." One little boy, who had probably been questioning a comrade who had already had his chance, said with a confident air: "I betcha now you can't catch me. I can count money and do most every thing. See if I can't." With such an attitude who could not do "most every thing!"

Miss Betz in the morning is teaching a kindergarten class in the Scarritt School; the afternoon she devotes to mental testing in schools where there is a demand for it. She finds her work very interesting and enjoyable.

News From Alumni Centers— Founder's Day Parties Held

More than fifty loyal sons, daughters and friends of 'Old Mizzou' gathered in Chicago at the time and place named in the following invitation-announcement:

"M. U. Comes to Us on Founder's Day! Graduates and former students of the University of Missouri living in and around Chicago move the Columns to the Loop twice a year. You will doubtless remember our 'peppy' and prophetic gathering last November 23 that presaged the downfall of the proud Jayhawk at Columbia a week late. Well, the time is almost at hand for another gathering of the faithful, and this time the occasion is the annual Founder's Day party, which is a tradition in Chicago. Missing this will be the same as missing a trip to Columbia. Mark this in your date book or on your desk pad and underline it:

"6:30 p. m., Thursday, April Nineteen, Nineteen Twenty-three.

"Our guest of honor and speaker of the evening will be Dr. Frederick M. Tisdell, dean of the College of Arts and Science; there will be at least four reels of University of Missouri motion pictures, including those of the Homecoming last fall; there will be good food, good music, good company and an opportunity to dance when the program is over. If you are hungry for old Missouri and for a sight of the Columns, here's your chance. Pass the word along. There will be no solicitation of money. Your relatives and friends are likewise welcome if they love the old University. Note the place:

"Chicago College Club, fourth floor, northeast corner of Michigan and Randolph."

Everything came off as advertised, except the dancing. By the time the last motion picture flickered out—at 11 p. m., after more than four hours of reunion and reminiscences—there wasn't enough activity left for dancing, although the music continued and the floor had been cleared.

After going through the usual preliminary re-making of acquaintanceships and doing full justice to the excellent meal served by the College Club, those present were thoroughly taken back to the Campus by the reminiscent and gossipy talk given by Dean Tisdell. The dean recalled to memory many of the noted characters among the faculty, paid tribute to the work that had been done and then went on to prove that University was making a real and permanent progress. The hearty applause that greeted his remarks proved how well he had re-awakened in the alumni an understanding of the Missouri spirit.

W. T. Cross, an alumnus, treasurer of the Missouri Society of Chicago, made a short talk describing the purposes of the newly formed state society and urged as many of the alumni as possible to join.

It was announced that a new author had appeared among our members—Mrs. Sue Hutchison Dodd, '11, secretary-treasurer of the Chicago alumni. Mrs. Dodd and her husband Walter F. Dodd, formerly associate professor of political science in the University of Illinois and the University of Chicago, are just issuing, through the University of Chicago Press, a book entitled "Government in Illinois". This book takes the government of Illinois as a basis from which to present the essential facts concerning all government in this country. Mrs. Dodd herself has supervised the teaching of government at the Southern Illinois State Normal University, was for several years a member of the State Examining Board of Education of New Mexico, and is now chairman of the Municipal Citizenship Committee of the Woman's City Club of Chicago.

At the suggestion of Lee Walker, resolutions were unanimously adopted to extend to Dr. J. C. Jones, retiring president of the University, the appreciation of the Chicago alumni for the service he has rendered and to Dean Isidor Loeb, acting president, the best wishes of the Chicago alumni for a successful administration. The Resolutions follow:

RESOLVED, that the Missouri Alumni of Chicago record their appreciation of the great and devoted services to the University of Dr. Jones, the retiring President, and pledge their loyalty to Dr. Loeb, the new acting President, and that the best wishes of the Alumni be conveyed to them through the Alumni Recorder.

A telegram of good wishes was read from Dean Loeb and a letter of the same sort from Bob Hill, alumni recorder.

C. E. Kane '15, who presided at the meeting, had appointed as a nominations committee, J. F. Rooker, '11, Jay Barton, '13, and J. R. Bryant, '13. The committee's report, which was unanimously adopted, was as follows: President, Lee Walker, '10; vice-president, M. N. Witt; secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Sue Hutchison Dodd, '11; third member of the executive committee, to serve with Mr. Walker and Mr. Kane, Mrs. Bess Phillips Kennedy, '12. Those named above are therefore at present the officers of the Missouri alumni in Chicago.

After the business session came the showing of the five reels of motion pictures—"Tiger Topics" and "The Mirror of Old Mizzou". Applause was frequent as well-remembered figures appeared upon the screen, and everyone seemed to gain from the pictures something of particular benefit to himself or herself. It is to be hoped that the alumni motion picture camera will be used on every possible occasion, so as to keep current releases ready at all times.

Among those in attendance were: Jay Barton, J. M. Bewick, T. F. Blackburn, L. P. Blattner, Mr. and Mrs. James R. Bryant, Paul Burns, E. T. Carstarphen, E. S. Clark, Lee Comegys, W. T. Cross, L. W. DeMuth, Mrs. Sue Hutchison Dodd, Miss Nora Edmonds, William F. Etz, Mr. and Mrs. Okel S. Fuqua, Mr. and Mrs. Graham, Mr. and Mrs. Melvin L. Griffith, Eugene C. Hall, Prof. E. W. Hinton, Miss Adeline Jesse, Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Kane, H. R. Kibler, Dr. Clarence Loeb, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence D. Loeb, Dr. and Mrs. Raymond H. McPherson, Mrs. Irene Brown McKnight, Robert McKnight, D. M. Nelson, Mr. and Mrs. John P. O'Shaughnessy, George Palfreyman, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Rooker, Miss Virginia Savage, Miss Clara Schmidt, Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Thatcher, Lee Walker, M. N. Witt, Weightstill Woods, C. M. Wynne, Mr. and Mrs. C. C. H. Zillman.

PHILADELPHIA ALUMNI

E. V. Thiehoff, A. B. '21, A. M. '22, 3700 Locust St., Philadelphia, Pa., sends the following report of the Philadelphia Alumni Association meeting on April 26:

"The Philadelphia Alumni Association meets on the fourth Thursday of each month during the school year.

"We have our meeting April 26 in the Medical Laboratories of the Medical School of the University of Pennsylvania, 26th Street and Hamilton Walk. The five reels of moving pictures which you sent us arrived safely. Everybody surely did enjoy the pictures from start to finish. I could hardly refrain from jumping up and trying to race out on the field (even if it was only a picture) during the K. U.-M. U. Thanksgiving game. You should have heard exclamations from different ones as they recognized various familiar faces. It certainly did our hearts good to see the pictures and Mr. Daggy and I both conceded that we would have given our last year's false teeth to have seen that Homecoming Game last November.

"I hope to be there for Homecoming in 1924 when Kansas comes to Columbia again. By then I will be through my medical course and out practicing. We had a new member present at this meeting—Mrs. H. Lamar Crosby, 4312 Osage St., Philadelphia, Pa. She is a sister of Professor Manly of the University of Missouri. After the pictures were over I called the meeting to order for a short business session. We decided to make it the last meeting for this (school) year for in May we will all be very busy with our final examinations. So our next meeting will be next October when the schools reopen again. It would hardly be worth while being active during the summer as there will be so few in the city. During the summer we will make great plans for a very active organization next year. We feel that we have at least made a good start. Next year there will doubtlessly be many new members who will transfer here to various schools from Missouri and so our number will be strengthened. I don't think we will lose more than two or three this year, at the most.

"We have a program committee of which Mr. Daggy is chairman, the other two members being F. E. Dexheimer and Carl Schutz. They are going to get up some very interesting programs for next year. Mr. Daggy asked Bill Roper to come out to the last meeting and talk to us. He accepted, but at the last minute unforeseen circumstances arose which necessitated his being absent. We were very sorry as we were anxious to hear Bill talk. We had two guests at the meeting—Mrs. Daggy and Mrs. Lombard. Too bad they are not alumni of the old Alma Mater. I guess we will have to make them associate members since they both used to live in Missouri. Mrs. Daggy attended school in Nevada, Mo.

"Perhaps you would like to have some details as to what the various ones out here are doing. So I enclose the following items:

"Miss Bernice Thomure, who as you know graduated in Journalism last year, is a reporter on the Philadelphia Evening Ledger. She has become quite popular in the social circles here in the city and is certainly making good in her profession.

"Miss Ella Garber, who was in the first year medical class in the Medical School there the year 1920-21, is now in the third year class in the Womens Medical College here in Philadelphia.

"Dwight Clark, A. B. '21, is a senior in Jefferson Medical School here. I understand that after his graduation this June he is planning on going to Panama to interne.

"Ted Meredith, who hails from Joplin and was in the Medical School there in 1920-21, is also a senior medic at Jefferson this year. I do not know what his plans are after he gets through.

"John Orris, A. B. and M. A. '22, Beta Theta Pi, Phi Beta Pi, former member of Student Senate and the best looking fellow on the campus, is now a member of the third year medical class at Jefferson. John is still breaking the hearts of the girls—the Quaker girls fall for him too.

"Frank Cooper, A. B. '22, is also a third year medic at Jeff. Medical School. He and Dwight Clark maintain bachelor apartments where they are always glad to entertain former Missouri students. We have many reunions there.

"Erwin Floreth, who ws in Arts and Science last year, a Sigma Phi Epsilon, is in the School of Commerce of Temple University here. He is the same old Pee Wee. He plans on going home to Monett, Mo., to spend the summer.

"W. W. Buckingham, who was in Arts and Science last year is a first year Medic in the Medical School of the University of Pennsylvania. He is to be found at the Alpha Kappa Kappa House, 3604 Walnut St. Buck hails from Kansas City, Mo.

Leland Carter, A. B. '22, Phi Beta Pi; E. E. Dexheimer, A. B. '22, Alpha Kappa Kappa and William Ford, Jr., A. B. '22, Phi Gamma Delta and Alpha Kappa Kappa, who were all second year medics at Missouri last year are in the third class of the Medical school of the University of Pennsylvania this year. They are burning the midnight oil fairly well and have hopes of tacking the little old M. D. on their names a year hence.

Carl Schutz, who was a first year medic at Missouri in 1920-21, is also in the third year medical class of the University of Pennsylvania. Carl is a Beta Theta Pi and Nu Sigma Nu. He comes from Kansas City, Mo. He traveled throughout Europe last summer during which time he acquired a mustache.

"Mary Shockley is in the Graduate School of the University of Pennsylvania.

"Candy Wyeth, Phi Delta Theta, who was at Missouri last year, is in the School of Architecture of the University of Pennsylvania.

"Mr. Daggy and Mr. Lombard are both in business here. I guess you have more dope on them than I have.

"I guess I am last. Little me got my A. B. in 1921 and my M. A. in 1922. I was in the Medical School there for three years, last year being graduate assistant in Anatomy. Everybody knows me as "T". I am an Alpha Kappa Kappa and a Sigma Xi. I hail from Monroe City, Mo. At present I am in the third year class of medicine in the Medical School of Pennsylvania. I expect to act as in-terne in the Methodist Episcopal Hospital in Brooklyn, N. Y., this summer. I will get my M. D. in June, 1924, if all goes well. Here's hoping. I guess you know I'm president of the Alumni Association here.

"Well I think I have given you all the dope. I would be glad to hear from you soon. I will be at present address until June 15 after which I will be at the above hospital."

ST. LOUIS ALUMNI.

Dr. Isidor Loeb, recently chosen acting president of the University, addressed members of the St. Louis Alumni Association at its banquet and dance on April 19, Founder's Day, in commemoration of the Eighty-fourth anniversary.

Dr. Loeb outlined the University's achievements and aspirations and told of his own desire to return to his former position as Dean of the School of Business and Public Administration in order that he might continue his research work there.

"For that is the work I find I care most about," Dr. Loeb told the St. Louis group. "And so, when I accepted the presidency it was with the understanding that I be relieved of its duties as soon as the Board of Curators could possibly find a permanent executive."

There were more than 100 alumni present. Among them was William A. Horner, of the class of '67.

Earl F. Nelson, presiding, was chosen vice-president in the election of officers for the ensuing year. George E. Wilson was made president, Ernest M. Staude, re-elected secretary, and James Mackay again was made treasurer.

A report by Forrest Donnell, chairman of the committee to consider membership in the Federated Association of Universities in St. Louis, recommending affiliation, was accepted.

Ernest (Beaver) Staude, who wrote up the original notes on this meeting, ends up by saying "Dancing concluded a very enjoyable evening". And there you have it. It was a very enjoyable evening. And a good time, the secretary might, with originality, have added, was had by all.

The St. Louis organization is "picking up". There's lots of pep due to Nelson's activity. And the younger additions to the association are more interested. It might explain the situation to say we're all boosters for the University, and want folks to join our own little "boosters club".

"Come to see us!" might be a Babbit-like way of closing this report, but one which, though trite, would be none the less seriously sincere.

H. Francis Misselwitz,
Corresponding Secretary.

FOUNDER'S DAY PROGRAM IN WARREN, O.

Mary McKee, B. J. '20, was elected president of the University of Missouri Alumni Association April 19 by a unanimous vote. Terence Vincent, Class of '16, was elected secretary, also at the first annual gathering of the Missouri U. grads and former students in this city. Those present had a delightful dinner, then attended the theatre together, followed by a line party at the best refreshment stand in the city.

Miss McKee is feature writer for the Chronicle, and has completed her special assignment as "Mib Editor" for the first annual Lions-Chronicle Marble Tournament. More than 300 boys and girls were entered in this tournament and Miss McKee provided all the copy, awarded all the prizes, and saw that the rules were enforced.

Terence Vincent, whose home is in Chicago, is director of Warren Community Service for April only. He was general promoter of the tournament, selected the officials, and carried out Miss McKee's suggestions efficiently.

Present at the banquet here were McKee and Vincent, only. "A good time was had by all."

MICHIGAN ALUMNI.

The Michigan Alumni Association was born April 21, 1923. Early in the year the group of alumni at the Michigan Agricultural College met and formed a local association with the purpose of extending it to a state association. April 21 was set as the date when all the alumni in the state whose addresses were known, were to be invited to East Lansing for a banquet and good time. They met in the reception room of the M. A. C. Union Building at 6:00 p. m. A five-course banquet was served at 7:30 at one of the cafes with Dr. M. M. McCool as toastmaster. Each alumnus present was called on by classes for short reminiscences after which the "Mirror of Old Mizzou" and "Tiger Topics" were shown. Everyone was highly enthused over the meeting and went away with a feeling of renewed Tiger spirit.

A short business meeting was held at which Dr. M. M. McCool, of the class of '08, was elected Secretary-Treasurer. A committee was appointed to draw up a resolution of appreciation to former President J. C. Jones, and a letter of encouragement to acting-President Isidor Loeb. The following telegrams were sent:

To Dean J. C. Jones:
"The Michigan alumni association express their deepest appreciation for your loyal and efficient service as leader, teacher and executive at the University of Missouri for many years. You have done great work in the various capacities and will long be remembered by the many students, who have been inspired by your teachings and leadership."

To acting-President Isidor Loeb:
"The Michigan Alumni Association congratulate you on having been made acting-President of the University of Missouri. We consider this fitting recognition of the great service you have rendered the institution and are confident it will continue to progress under your leadership."

The following were present at the meeting: Dr. A. J. McCulloch, '00; Mrs. A. J. McCulloch, '03; J. O. Veatch, '04; Mrs. J. O. Veatch; Dr. M. M. McCool, '08; Mrs. M. M. McCool; Prof. O. E. Reed, '08, and Mrs. Reed; Prof. L. H. Coolidge, A. M. '12; Prof. C. R. Megee, '14; A. C. Baltzer; Mrs. A. C. Baltzer, '15; J. G. Wells, '15; Mrs. Ruby McClure Barton, '17; A. L. Barton; Miss Marian Rogers, '17; Tudor Lanus, 18; O. B. Price, '20; Miss Edna Wolfe, '22. Prof. and Mrs. T. C. Bradford and Mr. and Mrs. Cardinell were also present.

NEW YORK ALUMNI.

The New York Alumni Association held its Founder's Day dinner at the Cafe Boulevard,

Times Square, April 18. Over fifty alumni and friends attended. This is the largest number we have ever had, with one exception this is the biggest number of Alumni that have been gotten together in several years. There were a number of new members as well as several who had not attended for a considerable time. The good attendance was contributed chiefly to the untiring efforts of Russell Bandy, our secretary-treasurer.

The principal speaker of the evening was Mr. Hamilton M. Dawes, A. B., B. P., '95, who gave an eloquent and entertaining talk on "The University in the Early Nineties". Mr. Dawes is a lawyer at 120 Broadway, New York City. He paid a tribute to those professors of the early nineties—Fischer, Lowrie, Schweitzer, Allen, McAlister—who build the traditions of the University in sound scholarship, but many of whom died before seeing the fruition of their labors.

Miss Jewell Palmer, B. S. in Ed. '16, who recently returned after four years in Japan, gave an entertaining talk on her experience in learning the Japanese language and in teaching English to Japanese.

John Casey arrived from Nova Scotia at 4 p. m., in time to attend the dinner and told us of some Missourians he saw on his way back to the States from the Far East.

Frank B. Houston, who graduated in journalism last year, played a number of selections from the student musical comedies produced at the University.

Your correspondent presided at the meeting and, in addition to using up all his available jokes in introducing the speakers (the crowd seemed not to recognize these choice pearls of humor), read a communication from President Jones about the appropriation bill and its gratifying effect upon the future salary scale of the University, and commented upon recent events at the University. The fitness of commemorating the work of Major James S. Rollins as the Father of the University was pointed out.

From the standpoint of "getting acquainted", which we feel here is the chief benefit from such meetings, the one last night was quite successful. We adjourned at an early hour with the singing of "Old Missouri".

I did not get a complete list of those present, but among those whom I recall were: Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Ball (Marjorie MacArthur), Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe Houston (Katherine Price), Mr. and Mrs. B. M. (Mac) Anderson, J. A. (Jim) Jackson, Faris Campbell, Major-General Edgar Russell, Professor Walter Rautenstrauch of Columbia University, William Mack, Marquis H. Lockwood, Dr. and Mrs. Bert Munday, Mr. and Mrs. Homer Croy, Miss Mary McDaniel, Jackson V. Scholz, Mr. and Mrs. Burton Thompson, Mr. and Mrs. Victor Talley, and Oscar E. Riley.

The next meeting will be in the fall, probably October. Yours truly, Edwin W. Patterson, Pres.

JASPER COUNTY ALUMNI.

A Founder's Day banquet held April 19, at the Drake hotel by the Jasper County Alumni Association at Carthage, Mo., was pronounced a most enjoyable affair by the 57 persons in attendance, some of whom were guests. The entertainment committee had arranged to take every one back to the schedule of university days. Guests were received at the door by Mrs. Walter Bailey, who impersonated Miss Eva Johnston, dean of University women. They were sent to the secretary, Miss Elizabeth Wetherell, where "fees" were paid and receipts given. Then they were enrolled in three classifications: "freshmen"—those who had never attended the University; "regulars", those who had attended but had not graduated, and the graduate class.

They were given their courses of study, which were printed on paper of three colors, green for freshmen, pink for regulars, and old gold for graduates. Those who enrolled the "students" were Miss Baitie White, Mrs. Ralph Hallett, and Hoyt Huff. On receiving their course cards they found the first requirement was the medical examination. This was given in the operating room by Doctors Murto & Brown, assisted by nurses, Anna McMurtry, Mary Keith, and Esther Schroer.

Allen McReynolds, toastmaster, impersonated former President A. Ross Hill. Four tables placed in the shape of an M, and each, representing two colleges of the University, were presided over by their respective deans. These were:

1. Agriculture—J. H. H. Mote.
- Education—W. C. Barnes.
2. Arts and Science—Walter Bailey.
- Commerce—W. T. Morrow.
3. Engineering—A. M. Baird.
- Law—Allen McReynolds.
4. Journalism—Frank Moore.
- Medicine—Sam Murto.

Talks were made by the president and all the deans. G. W. Asendorf talked on the early football days at the University. Walter Bailey spoke of the present financial condition of the institution compared with what it was in the early days, and contrasted the few hundred thousand dollars that were appropriated then with the yearly appropriation of $3,500,000 that is now received.

Songs were sung during the course of the banquet, "Old Missouri", "Mid the Hills of Old Missouri", and the "Missouri Banquet Song". The tables were decorated with old gold and black, the colors of the University. At the conclusion of each course the students moved to another table, and in this way were able to get the entire course of "instruction". It was expected to have a radio program but this could not be heard on account of the static.

Following the banquet the meeting was called to order by A. M. Baird of Carthage, president of the county association of M. U. students. The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, Justin Brown of Carthage; vice-president of eastern district, Mrs. Ralph Hallett of Carthage; vice-president of central district, Ray Watson of Webb City; vice-president of western district, Herbert Wheeler of Joplin. Miss Mabel Terry of Carthage was elected secretary.

Those present at the banquet were: Miss Baitie White, Miss Elizabeth Wetherell, Miss Elizabeth Lawson, Miss Louise Halliburton, Miss Susan McCoy, Miss Anna McMurtry, Miss Mary Keith, Miss Eva Tedrick, Miss Ruth Hackney, Miss Mary Hackney, Miss Lella Shepherd, Miss Esther Schroer, Miss Lucille Cherry, Miss Clarice Fulford, W. C. Barnes, J. H. H. Mote, Harold Williams, Sam Murto, Justin Brown, Cecil Metsker, Glen Stemmons, Hoyt

Huff, Heber Woodward, Walter Stickney, G. R. Deatherage, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Asendorf, Mr. and Mrs. Orie Snyder, Mr. and Mrs. Frank L. Moore, Dr. and Mrs. H. A. La Force, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Williams, Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Morrow, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Morrow, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Bailey, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Reardon, Mr. and Mrs. Allen McReynolds, Mr. and Mrs. Frank McGregor, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Hallett, all of Carthage; Miss Beemer, Miss Elizabeth Clark, Dr. E. E. Moody, and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Heberder from Joplin; Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Baird of Carthage, and Mrs. Homer Morrow of Winnipeg, Canada.

HENRY COUNTY ALUMNI.

One hundred and sixty alumni and high school seniors attended the Henry County Alumni Association dinner at Clinton on April 26, 1923. Following is a report of the meeting written by Charles Whitaker, editor of the Clinton Democrat and a former student of the School of Journalism:

The University of Missouri graduate can close his eyes and see Rollins Field with its concrete walls and stands; his blood tingles as he hears the "Varsity" thundering forth from ten thousand lusty throats; he can picture those valiant Tigers fighting for every inch of Rollins Field and vanquishing the Kansas Jayhawk; he can hear the liquid sweetness of the old bell in Switzer Hall as twilight settles upon the beloved columns of the campus—those are the days really worth while, when life was sweet and full of promise to youth.

It was just such scenes that former University students painted for the graduating classes of Henry County high schools at a banquet and party given for them in Clinton Thursday night. One hundred and fifty or more were present, and the visitors including students from the Ulrich, Blairstown, Deepwater, Montrose, Calhoun and Clinton high schools.

The party started at the Bixman Theatre with the showing of the moving picture film, "The Tale of the Tiger", showing the classic defeat of the cadaverous Jayhawk by the Tiger on Rollins Field last Thanksgiving.

Then the whole party adjourned to the Franklin Street Methodist Church where they had a period to get acquainted and talk over old times in the University, or future experiences as freshmen there, following which a banquet was served in the basement. It was served by the Susannah Wesleys which is the highest possible recommendation that it was perfectly cooked and served.

Following the banquet was a series of talks, Charley Calvid acting as toastmaster.

Ray Goodwin, letter man in track at the University, gave an address of welcome to the visitors. He was followed by W. M. Godwin, one of the "old timers" of the University, who told of the different big men of the University and the difference between "then and now".

Seddon Dickinson, who was in the University until the early spring semester, told of the various student activities. He touched upon athletics briefly and told of student government, the work of the Y. M. C. A., the "Savitar".

Prof. Hugh J. Gwynn, of the Clinton high school, related tales of University athletic prowess and touched upon those gold and black clad warriors who had made the name of Missouri stand foremost in the Valley. He emphasized that Missouri spirit—"Never Say Die"—that has won many a contest seemingly lost.

Miss Kathryn Spangler told of the women's activities. Formerly girls had no part in school life; they were at college to study art and go to parties. Now the leading parts in student activities are taken by women.

Bob Douthat, just back from Columbia, talked of the school of Arts and Sciences, "Academ Hall" which is usually the first "hang-out" of the Freshman.

Prof. A. K. (Speck) George told of the College of Agriculture, one of the dominating schools, and one which has had a wide reaching influence for the betterment of the State's basic industry.

Miss Alice Marseilles spoke of the School of Journalism in its new quarters in Neff Hall, in which is housed the "Daily Missourian", a daily newspaper edited and published by the students of that department.

William F. Hall compared School of Engineering when he attended it with the many improvements today. Prosecuting Attorney Floyd Sperry discussed the Law School and the friendly and historic rivalry between the Engineering and the Law Schools.

J. Kelly Wright, a graduate of the University, now with Christian College, gave an interesting and much appreciated talk.

During the evening a musical program was given, under the direction of Miss Dorothy Hart, played the accompaniments of the songs of "Old Mizzou". Miss Luallin gave a much appreciated solo. Miss Marian Haire's chorus of junior girls sang several selections. A saxophone quartette consisting of Clark Brown, "Buster" Woodruff, Ferrel Ambrose and Bob Miller was encored to the echo.

Mr. and Mrs. Norton H. Shepard announce the birth of a son, Norton H., Jr., 8 pounds, on March 28, 1923, at their home, Valley View Farm, six miles southwest of Columbia. "I was shocked to hear of the untimely death of Abner C. (Cub) Birney. I had the privilege of knowing Birney—first, as one of the outstanding men of my University days, and later, as a devoted husband and proud father. In a day when college athletics had not reached the high plane of sportsmanship, which we now accept as a matter of course, "Cub" Birney stood out as a clean cut, fair paying, high type athlete. He was well liked by all his football and baseball team mates and was a favorite with the men of other schools visited by the Missouri teams.

"All Missourians of that day knew and loved 'Cub', and his death will be mourned the country over by the Alumni."

The Old Campus Is Green Again

And activities on the campus are renewing themselves in preparation for this summer and next fall. The spring enrollment has been a record breaking one. We have a new President and every day something happens in the way of news that you should know about. You can't depend on letters alone to tell you the events of interest—there is only one way and that is a subscription to the Evening Missourian.
