"Permatite" Stringing

An important improvement which reduces tennis costs and eliminates gut troubles.

Weatherproof

Permatite is not affected by dampness or adverse weather conditions. No broken strings ever night!

Durable

Permatite is long wearing. We guarantee it for a playing season of ninety days.

Ever-tight

Permatite strings stay tight.

The Laminated Throat

Do You Know

that a general weakness in most rackets is found at the throat? The glued joints loosen with play, moisture creeps in, and the throat cracks open.

The Spalding Patented Laminated Throat strengthens the throat by binding together all the joints and sealing them tight.

The throat of a Spalding Laminated Racket cannot crack open, either in play or in restringing. It is the strongest known racket construction.

and these are only two of the many improvements found on Spalding Autograph Rackets. Ask to see one.

COLUMBIA, MO.

More Than 350 Come Back

Over 350 alumni and former students came back to the University for the eight-second annual Commencement, June 1-4, the first June Commencement since 1918. Although four circular letters had been sent out to the members of the classes which were to hold reunions at Commencement under the plan adopted at the annual meeting of the alumni in 1923, only 70 odd replied that they would attend their class reunions, but when the final count was made the number of returning alumni was gratifying. The alumni officers, and members of the faculty, were indeed encouraged with the results of the 1924 Commencement, and predict that the Commencements hereafter will be of such proportions as the University of Missouri Commencements should be.

The baccalaureate address, "The Obligations of Culture," was delivered by Richard Henry Crossfield, LL. D., President of William Woods College, on Sunday June 2.

The Class of 1924 elected permanent officers as follows: President, Thomas T. Koppin; vice-president, Margaret Milton; representatives, Arts and Science, Russell Casteel; Education, Mary Winchester; Agriculture, Fred Richmond; Law, Alvin H. Juergens Meyer; Journalism, Jessie Laning; Medicine, William Langston; Engineering, Sam English; Business & Public Administration, John A. Smith.

The class poem entitled "Give Heed" was written by Miss Sara Saper. True D. Morris delivered the class oration. Alvin H. Juergens Meyer delivered the oration at the planting of the tree near Whitten Hall, East Campus. The history of the Class of 1924 was prepared by Jerry Burke. All of this material has been filed in the alumni office.

Alby G. Anderson, senior class president presented for the Class of 1924 a fund to be applied to the Memorial Union and Stadium projects. This fund was accepted by President Stratton D. Brooks.

President Frank B. Rollins of the General Alumni Association presided at the meeting of the officers and board of directors of that organization on Monday afternoon, June 2. All of the officers were present with the exception of A. I. Foad the representative on the board of directors from the College of Agriculture, and Miss Kathryn E. Spangler of Clinton, Mo. The following are the minutes of the meeting which were submitted to the open meeting of the general alumni association on June 3, and approved unanimously at that session:

President Frank B. Rollins presided. The following were in attendance: Vice President C. J. Blackburn, Blackburn; J. M. DeLoe, representing the School of Engineering; Kenneth Sears, Law, Columbia; Frank Chambers, Arts, Columbia; Miss Sara Lockwood, Journalism, Columbia; Dr. A. W. Kampchmidt, Medicine, Columbia; Ralph Watkins, Graduate School, Columbia; Royal A. M. Bauer, Business and Public Administration, St. Louis; E. F. Nelson, St. Louis; and Bob Hill.

The treasurer's report and the Alumni report were accepted after having been audited by Dr. C. J. Blackburn and Miss Leta Fairbairn.

The Francis Memorial Fountain

President Rollins appointed a nominating committee to nominate officers for the coming two years, the committee composed of L. M. DeLoe, Kenneth Sears, and Dr. A. W. Kampchmidt, who recommended the following officers for the next two years:

- President Frank B. Rollins, LL. B. '11
G. E. Huggins, B. L. '98
New York City
- First Vice-President Mrs. Clara H. Hebbard,
B. S. in Ed. '14, A. M.

- Second Vice-President R. L. (Bob) Hill, B. S. in

- Secretary S. F. Cooley, A. B. '90,

- Treasurer

Members of Athletic Committee:
E. S. Stephens, A. B. '03, Columbia
T. Keet Castro, LL. B. '05, Columbia

The board recommended that steps be taken by the Alumni Association to perfect the organization of a placement or employment bureau with a committee of three local members and an advisory committee, the number of left to the judgment of the three local members; the details of the organization of this bureau to be worked out through the office of the Alumni Recorder to the extent that the alumni of the University of Missouri will be kept in touch at least three or four months before the end of each semester with the men and women who are to be graduated from the University with the hope that Missouri alumni will enjoy University men and women. It is understood that this work will conflict with the work done by the special division heads but that every effort will be made to cooperate with them and make this part of the alumni work something worthwhile.

It was recommended that the president of the Alumni Association appoint a committee of the association on alumni gifts and scholarships. The following is an outline of the idea of the organization of the committee:

"It is the belief of the officers of the General Alumni Association and the members of the Board of Directors that the alumni of the University of Missouri must record some concrete achievement, directly traceable to the good of the educational institution they represent.

"Few alumni of the University of Missouri have ever given as much to the University as they have received from her. A conscientious alumnus will recognize his obligation to the University of Missouri. To know how to discharge the obligation is the difficulty. It is true that emphasis must be placed on financial contributions, the material gift.

"The Gift and Scholarship committee has been organized to develop alumni gifts and scholarships. The attention of the alumni will be called to a good purpose of this work. It is to be hoped that a good many alumni of the University of Missouri will be induced to make gifts to Alma Mater and their acknowledgment in part, at least, all that this University has done for them.

It was the opinion of the officers and members of the Board of Directors that it would be impractical to publish an alumni directory because all of our alumni and former students change residence and business addresses so rapidly that an alumni directory is so soon out of date, and it was suggested that alumni and former students be informed when they want alumni names and addresses that they will be furnished by the office of the Alumni Recorder without charge, and that the alumni and former students are earnestly requested to furnish changes of addresses to the office of the Alumni Recorder.

The following resolutions were adopted:
The officers and members of the Board of Directors of the General Alumni Association want to express their appreciation and gratification to Harry Tidd, C. E. '13, general contractor of Hutchinson, Kansas, for his generous contribution of $1000.00 to be known as "The Harry Tidd Award". We desire to commend him for his loyalty, generosity, and thoughtfulness.

We appreciate the work of Dr. J. C. Jones, Director of the Memorial Union and Stadium Campaign, and want to assure him and those associated with him in this campaign fund that the alumni and former students are willing to cooperate with him in this undertaking, and to make him feel free to command us for any assistance that he desires. This being the first attempt of the alumni to do something in a concrete way for the University of Missouri, we feel largely responsible to give him every possible assistance for the success of the campaign.

We wish this opportunity to express our pledge of wholehearted support to the President of the University, to the members of the Board of Curators, members of the faculty, and the administrative officers. Our co-operation at the command of President Stratton D. Brooks.

The reunion of Company I, Spanish-American War Veterans, was held on the afternoon of June 2, with the following members in attendance: E. D. (General) Smith, Dayton, Ohio; E. W. Robinson, Bloedell, W. Va.; C. L. Parkhurst, Houston, Mo.; H. E. Hall, Mexico, Mo.; H. D. Dow, Sedalia, Mo.; Sam O. Craig, Bowling Green, Mo.; Geo. H. English, Kansas City, Mo.; Hollis Edwards, Columbia, Mo.; William F. Powell, Columbia, Mo.; E. G. Berry, Columbia, Mo.

Geo. H. English was elected permanent commandant, and Hollis Edwards as adjutant. Telegrams were received from the following members of Co. I: J. H.

George H. English

A. B. '97, LL. B. and M. A. '99, Lawyer, Kansas City, Mo. Alumni Day Speaker of the 1924 Commencement

Norton, Sacramento, Cal; Dante N. Pierce, Des Moines, Iowa; G. G. Robertson, Pueblo, Colo; Dr. John W. Turner, Louisiana, Mo; Judge Claude O. Peary, St. Louis, Mo.

The alumni and former students who were in Columbia for Commencement, local alumni, members of the senior class and their friends and many townspeople attended the alumni meeting held on June 3. George Harrison English, A. B. '97, LL. B. and M. A. '99, attorney of Kansas City, was the alumni day speaker. The custom has been adopted to have one alumnus make the annual alumni day address at Commencement. Mr. English is a member of Phi Delta Theta, Phi Delta Phi, Q. E. B. H., leader of the Glee Club '97, and manager of the baseball team in '96. He was a captain in the Spanish-American War of the Fifth Missouri Volunteers, Company I, and he entered the World War as a captain of Infantry '17, and at the end of the war he was lieutenant-colonel of infantry of the 89th Division. He saw action in France, at Toul defensive St. Mihiel offensive, and at Meuse-Argonne offensive. He has three sons, two of whom are now enrolled in the University.

Mr. English's address was pronounced one of the best ever made at the University of Missouri. He and his eldest son, Edward G., have gone to Europe for the summer.

Following Mr. English's address, President Stratton D. Brooks appealed to the alumni for constructive help in the development of the program as outlined at the meeting of the officers and board of directors of the alumni association, and emphasized the service that they could be to the University and to education in general.

The following classes held reunions during the day and elected officers:

The reunion meetings were held in three groups. They were most interesting sessions for the alumni at each meeting were called upon to tell of their experiences since leaving school and telling what they hoped to accomplish in years to come, and especially did they emphasize the fact that they should give the best possible service to the University at all times.

The Phi Beta Kappa-Sigma XI luncheon was held at the Daniel Boone Tavern on June 3. Forrest Donnell, A. B. '04,

L.L. B. '07, attorney of St. Louis, made the principal speech on, "The Underlying and Moral Principles of Education". played on Rollins Field on the afternoon of June 3, with the following alumni playing:

Charlie Dewey used the same glove he wore when he played baseball on the Varsity twenty-eight years ago. He brought the belt he used on his old uniform but it was short about ten inches.

It was some game. Earl F. Nelson, attorney, St. Louis, A. B. '04 and L.L. B. '05, and E. D. (General) Smith, B. S. in E. E. '01, general maintenance engineer of the National Cash Register Company, Dayton, Ohio, were the umpires. The alumni agreed to play the varsity under the leadership of Eddie Klein of St. Louis, provided they were given a "fair advantage." This the umpires agreed to do. As Eddie Klein said, the alumni out-talked, out-played, and out-weighted the varsity, and when in the ninth inning with the alumni in the lead 4 to 2, General Smith called Kent Catron out for having struck at the ball three times, the alumni raised a mighty howl and General Smith, who was umpiring with a cane and a megaphone, declared the game won by the alumni, 9 to 0 after a general riot in which baseball bats and much conversation was displayed. The alumni-varsity baseball game furnished a lot of fun and frolic. Prominent Missouri athletes were introduced to the alumni by C. L. Brewer, Director of Athletics.

E. D. (General) Smith won the low hurdle race which was held following the Varsity-Alumni baseball game. The other men who ran were Charles Schultz, captain of the track team '07, and Forrest Donnell, A. B. '04, L.L. B. '07.

President Stratton D. Brooks presided at the dedication of the David Rowland Francis fountain, the gift of former Governor Francis to the University. The services were conducted at the fountain on Francis Quadrangle at the end of Lowry Street, facing 9th St. Dr. J. C. Jones made the presentation speech. The gift was accepted by H. J. Blanton, a member of the Board of Curators, and a short address was made by E. Sydney Stephens on behalf of the alumni of the University. The fountain was designed by Julien Zolnay, and is of gray granite, six feet square at the base and the ten-foot shaft bears on the east a bronze relief of former Governor Francis, below which is placed the drinking bowl. On the opposite side inscriptions state the principal points in the career of the donor. A tile-paved plaza is to be developed around the fountain. The following is the inscription on the fountain:

The Curators' Sunset Supper for visiting guests, alumni, graduates and their friends was held on the East Campus following the dedication of the fountain; 5:30 to 7:30. Eight hundred and forty-four tickets were given out for the supper and it was said to be one of the prettiest parties ever held in Columbia. The campus was beautifully decorated and a most entertaining program was presented by the girls of the Chancellor Lindley predicted the ultimate abolition of all manual labor, with substitution of machines to do the routine work of the world. Then will be realized fully the necessity of thinking and the development of the mind, he said, adding that in the future years only the thinking man will be able to survive and he who cannot think will perish. In the development of thought, the universities of the world must take the active leadership, the speaker told his audience.

Concluding his address, Chancellor Lindley said: "The conquest of the university will not be complete until every worker shall be a thinker; every worker shall enjoy constructive leisure; culture shall serve utility; art shall permeate industry. Ideals cannot be realized until 'the' are realized."

The academic procession, which opened the exercises, started shortly after 10 o'clock. The last candidate was seated in the auditorium at 10:55 A. M. The invocation was offered by Rev. Martin T. Haw.

By the time President Stratton D. Brooks rose to introduce the principal speaker, the auditorium was filled to capacity. Following Chancellor Lindley's address, President Brooks made the announcements of undergraduate and graduate prizes and honor awards. The conferring of degrees and certificates

For the first June Commencement in six years, for the small amount of money spent in circularizing the alumni and considering the 1924 Commencement the first organized effort in years to stage a "big" Commencement, favorable comment on the part of faculty members, townspeople and alumni indicates that the Eighty-Second Commencement was the "biggest" ever held at the University of Missouri. Make plans now to attend the 1925 Commencement. These classes will hold

The scholarship at present is held by Miss Marion Ragland.

Glee Club Makes Hit

The Glee Club Commencement Concert was indeed entertaining, and it was the opinion of the 300 or more alumni who attended the concert that it was one of the best that they had ever heard. They were very enthusiastic in their comment and pledged themselves to support the glee club and the efforts of its director, Dean James T. Quarles.

Dean Quarles plans to have several alumni take part in the glee club commencement concert in 1925 in order that there may be plenty of fun and frolic and additional entertainment for the alumni. The commencement concert this year, due to the support given it by the alumni who were back for commencement, was profitable and will help the glee club tremendously in a financial way.

The Tidd Fund

Harry Tidd, thoughtful, loyal and liberal in giving to the University a fund, the proceeds to be applied on a student award, has opened the way for other alumni and former students to follow. He has given to the University $1,000, the proceeds from which are to be given to the most outstanding student on the campus, with the hope that his gift will in a small way demonstrate his appreciation of the training received at the hands of the University of Missouri. Mr. Tidd's action is to be commended and words of praise have been heard from many, many sources.

Commenting on this contribution the Columbia Missourian of June 24, wrote:

Harry Tidd's Idea

"Now comes Harry Tidd, graduate from the University in 1913, to lead the way in which alumni, after accepting the best the university has to offer, may in some measure discharge obligations they have incurred.

"Mr. Tidd has presented a fund, the proceeds of which are to be awarded each year to the most outstanding student in the institution on the basis of scholarship, general campus activity and athletics.

"Such action may well be considered by other alumni, equally generous and appreciative, as a worthwhile means of voicing their gratitude in a material way. It is one mode of expression which all interested in higher education will welcome. We join with the board of Directors of the Missouri Alumni Association in hoping that Mr. Tidd's example will encourage other alumni to contribute a series of scholarships and awards incentive of greater efforts.

Dr. J. C. Jones, Director of the Memorial Union and Stadium Campaign, has made arrangements to send to all the alumni and former students a monthly news letter regarding the progress of the Memorial Campaign, a service that has been greatly needed and one which will be thoroughly appreciated.

Those in charge of the Memorial Union and Stadium campaign are enthusiastic over its progress. Whole-hearted support on the part of the alumni and former students everywhere gives promise of an early completion of the campaign. Scores of unsolicited subscriptions are coming in weekly from alumni and former students who are aware of the great need of the Union Building and the Stadium on the campus, and solicitors for life memberships are having no difficulty in getting subscriptions.

This session of the summer school is said to be the best one in the history of the University. Director J. D. Elliff, of the summer session is to be commended for his efforts in behalf of the successful summer school. A record has been established for the number in attendance.

New Faculty For Fine Arts

As is known to many of the alumni, the Board of Curators, at a meeting last December voted to establish a School of Fine Arts at the University in Columbia. A strong faculty has been secured, containing the following distinguished musicians: Professor James T. Quarles, who came to the University from Cornell last fall, has been appointed Dean of the new division.

Professor James T. Sleeper, has been appointed professor of public school music. Professor Sleeper is a graduate of Amherst College and holds the degree of Master of Education from Harvard University. He was taught at Amherst, at Beloit, Wisconsin, at Passaic, New Jersey, and at Albany New York. Professor Sleeper will organize the music courses in the University Elementary School and High School, in addition to his other work.

In voice, Professor Herbert Wall, and Miss Erna Cavelle have been appointed. Professor Wall served for several years under President Brooks at the University of Oklahoma. For the past year he has been in France, in a study with Oscar Seagle and Jean DeRaszke. Professor Wall has a baritone voice of much power and beauty, and sings with fine style and musicianship. Miss Cavelle, assistant professor of voice, has studied for a number of years in New York City with Yeatman Griffith, one of the most famous teachers of singing in America. She was selected as soloist for the demonstration of the Ampico in a tour of Wisconsin in association with Dr. Sigurd Spaeth, the distinguished critic and lecturer.

In piano, Professor Ellsworth MacLeod, and Mr. Harold Logan have been appointed. Professor MacLeod graduated from the New England Conservatory of Music with honors, after which he went to France and studied at the "Conservatoire de Fontainebleau," under Isidor Phillip, the most famous piano teacher in France, and graduated from this institution with a "premier prix," winning this distinction over a large class of other students. Mr. Logan, who has been appointed instructor in piano, is a very young man, but has accomplished much in a short time, due to his unusual gifts. He graduated from the high school at Fargo, North Dakota, when but sixteen years old; the following year he graduated from the Conservatory of North Dakota in that same city. He then entered the New England Conservatory in Boston, and graduated in two years with the highest honors. For the past three years he has been studying with Professor Egon Petri, of the State University (Staatliche Hochschule der Musik), being accepted as one of two successful candidates from a large group that applied.

An appointment will also be made as instructor in violin, but the incumbent for this position has not been determined thus far. Mr. George Venable, who is well known to the alumni as the successful leader of the University Band, will continue to lead that organization and will also lead the University orchestra which will be developed as a far more important factor in the musical life of the students.

The Department of Art has been transferred from the College of Arts and Science to the new School of Fine Arts.

Professor Ankeney, Professor Bill, Miss Dobbs, Mrs. Perky, Mr. Gentry, Miss Spencer, and Miss Bedford make up the faculty of the department, and will continue to give courses in their respective fields of activity as they have done in the past.

M. U. Courses for Cities.

What is said to be an unprecedented departure in state-wide educational facilities was announced last week in a bulletin published by the state university on a movement now under way to offer university courses in virtually every city and town in Missouri where there are possibilities of competent instruction.

The plan is for the benefit of high school teachers primarily, according to the bulletin, this novel policy being so arranged that the teachers can take university work in various sections of Missouri and receive credit equal to that for work done in residence here at Columbia. The work, in other words, will apply toward a degree from the state university and toward the requirements for teachers in public schools in this state.

The reason, the bulletin states, for this policy of greater educational service is a recent change by the state department of education in requirements for high school teachers. The standard has been raised in every class of high schools in the state, and it is felt by officials here that a greatly increased number of teachers will desire to secure university credit through extension courses in the immediate future.

The teachers under this plan will be chosen and paid by the university. They will be selected on a basis similar to that on which regular members of the faculty here are chosen.

The working scheme is that the classes in the various places to be chosen will be conducted exactly as classes are held in the university, and that they must meet as frequently as though they were being held here.

Teachers who need university work for their high school teaching requirement can take courses under this new state-wide plan and then get the credit by taking work up to an equal amount in residence here. If they have already been in the university, they can get credit in the extension courses up to the amount carried in residence in the university. For example, a student can get thirty hours credit in extension if he has had thirty hours work in the University. Or if a student takes thirty hours credit in extension, he must attend the university to get it, getting altogether sixty hours in this explanatory case.

It is hoped to start this new state-wide system in the fall.

A Kansas City Times editorial under the caption, "An Aid to Missouri Teachers" says:

"If the plan is executed as proposed, few if any high school teachers of Missouri will be left with an excuse for not meeting the higher requirements that have been established. The result ought to be better teachers and better schools throughout the state."

Ellwood's Book in Germany

Professor C. A. Ellwood of the Department of Sociology has recently received from Germany several copies of the German translation of his book "The Reconstruction of Religion." The book was published by the prominent publishing firm of W. Kohlhammer, Stuttgart and Berlin. The translation was made under the direction of Professor Eugene Schwiedland, Professor of Economics in the University of Vienna, Austria, and secretary of the Vienna Chamber of Commerce. So far as is known this is the first book by a member of the University of Missouri faculty to be translated into German. Professor Ellwood has been head of the Department of Sociology in the University of Missouri for twenty-four years.

Col. Persons Promoted

Lieut.-Col. W. E. Persons, former commandant of the R. O. T. C. at the University has been appointed to take charge of all R. O. T. C. infantry units with headquarters in Washington, D. C. This new assignment is one of considerable prestige and Missourians are proud of Col. Persons' achievements. He was one of the most popular officers that has ever been affiliated with University life and when the time came last year for his transfer from the University, the students, citizens of Columbia and alumni did everything possible to have him retained at the University. A delegation from here appeared personally to General Pershing at Washington but without success for the department has a policy of transferring officers after four years' duty at one station.

Electric locomotives draw long trains 650 miles over the Rocky Mountains on the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul. Eventually most of the railroads in America will be electrified—engineers estimate that this will save more than a hundred million tons of coal a year.

The General Electric Company is electrifying the Mexican Railway between Orizaba and Esperanza. On the first section—with many curves and heavy grades—10 electric locomotives will take the place of 25 steam locomotives.

Economies resulting from electrification will repay the cost of the improvement within five or six years.
