Dr. Brooks Formally Inaugurated

DR. STRATTON D. BROOKS
Tenth President of Missouri
University.

"There is, however, a still broader definition of education that the university must keep in mind; namely, that the purpose of education is to improve both the labor and the leisure of mankind. After a man has done all that he needs to do or desires to do for himself and for his fellow men, there is still time that he may call his own—the idle hours of life that may be devoted to the inalienable right of man—the pursuit of happiness. In these idle hours the university finds vast fields of influence. The result of a university education should be that through increased capacity to labor the leisure hours come sooner and more often and are more abundantly filled with the pleasures that mankind considers highest and best."

(Excerpt of Inaugural address.)

You old grads and former students owe a large measure of your success in life, the ability to be of service to your fellow men, and the opportunity to enjoy some leisure hours of life, to the training received at Old Mizzou.

Enlarge the Scope of Missouri's Influence

By creating a Fellowship or Research Endowment that will enable many young men and women to secure like advantages who, otherwise, could not receive the benefits of her training.

THE MISSOURI ALUMNUS

Vol. XII. No. 2

NOVEMBER, 1923

COLUMBIA, MO.

Dr. Brooks Inaugurated

Dr. Stratton Duluth Brooks was inaugurated November 16, as the thirteenth president of the University of Missouri. More than 115 universities and colleges of this country were represented by noted educators.

Immediately before the actual inauguration began, there was an academic procession around the Columns on Francis Quadrangle in which marched the visiting educators and representatives of the state.

After the invocation by the Right Rev. Foote Johnson, a welcome to the guests of the University on behalf of the state of Missouri was extended by Governor Arthur M. Hyde, sometimes called the "educational Governor." He said in part:

"The first duty of the State is to foster education. The only known method of creating a better people is to give them opportunities for better education. It is a moral and spiritual power that we must have to be great, and the dynamo to generate this power is the public school system, with the University as a cap-stone."

E. Lansing Ray, editor and publisher of the St. Louis Globe-Democrat and chairman of the executive board of the Board of Curators, formally inaugurated Dr. Brooks as president.

"In the selection of a president, the responsibility laid upon the Curators was twofold," said Mr. Ray. "First the responsibility of the State, the people of the State, and particularly the children of the State. In the development and maintenance of the University there are four great influences that need to be continuously co-ordinated and harmonized for common action to these ends. The faculty is the bone and sinew of the organization, the student body supplies the materials of construction, the institution looks to the alumni for that broad and maturely minded support which can only come from a body profoundly devoted to its welfare and solicitous as to its reputation and lastly, the representatives of the public that are directly concerned in the legislative and executive processes by which the institution is subordinated."

Turning to Dr. Brooks, Mr. Ray said:

"Dr. Brooks, you are the chosen one. You have a reputation for character and proficiency. One-third of your life has been spent in public school work, another third of it in the difficult work of administration. You have demonstrated the qualities of a great educator. By your ability and personality you are particularly fitted to guide the destinies of the University. I recommend to you the faculty, students and graduates of this great institution of learning."

President Brooks then gave his inaugural address. He enumerated the dividends of education, outlining the returns to the people who support institutions of learning as follows:

Physicians—Through such men the University will declare a dividend to the state of happiness, health and life not measurable in dollars.

Lawyers—Who elevate the standards of the profession, whose services shall be a potent influence in securing justice * * * and perpetuating our democracy.

E. Lansing Ray.

Teachers—Men and women sent into the schools of our State, each to become a germinating center of inspiration and influence.

Farmers—If there is a farmer in Missouri who has not benefited directly from the work of the College of Agriculture it is because he will not avail himself of the information and assistance.

Journalists—Men and women whose services shall be to the advantage of their communities in the formation of clear ideas on questions of public interest and in the upbuilding of all those moral and civic virtues that make a country worth living in.

Scientists—There is scarcely a thing we eat or wear or use that has not been improved or made or brought into being because some genius has made practical application of the results of research.

Leaders—It is highly important that every professional man shall be able to use his ability of scientific inquiry and clear thinking in helping to solve the problems of public service and mutual co-operation.

"There is, however, a still broader definition of education that the University must keep in mind; namely, that the purpose of education is to improve both the labor and the leisure of mankind. After a man has done all that he needs to do or desires to do for himself and for his fellowmen, there is still time that he may call his own—the idle hours of life that may be devoted to that inalienable right of man—the pursuit of happiness. In these idle hours the University finds vast fields of influence. The result of a university education should be that through increased capacity to labor the leisure hours come sooner and more often and are more abundantly filled with the pleasures that mankind considers highest and best. To give a man more leisure, but leave that leisure vacant would profit him but little. The University is obliged to improve man's pleasure; to give him a taste for and an appreciation of all that is best and noblest; to teach him to love music and art and literature and life in all their various manifestations; to enjoy contemplation, to appreciate activity, and ever in peace and contentment to take great pleasure in the pursuit of truth and beauty. Thus may a man, because of his university education, live more serviceably, enjoy more intensely, die more contentedly.

"And when all these things have been well done the University may feel that in some small degree it has fulfilled its mission."

President Marion LeRoy Burton of the University of Michigan, spoke briefly after the inaugural address of Dr. Brooks.

Following the exercises in the auditorium, the delegates and visiting guests were taken to the Columbia Country Club where luncheon was served. Forest Donnell, A. B., '04, LL. B., '07, was toastmaster. Talks were made by Charles A. Lee, B. S. Ed., '17, state superintendent of schools; Edward A. Birge, president of the University of Wisconsin; Dr. A. Ross Hill, former president of the University of Missouri; John C. Fruttall, president of the University of Arkansas; Walter Rautenstrauch, B. S. M. E., '02, of Columbia University; Samuel Avery, president of University of Nebraska; Ernest A. Lindley, president of University of Kansas; Mrs. Marvin H. Rosenberry, delegate from Radcliffe College; and R. B. Oliver, LL. B., '77, who spoke on "The Alumni;" and Dr. J. C. Jones, President-Emeritus of the University.

In the afternoon a review of the University R. O. T. C. and dress parade was held on Francis Quadrangle. The students held a torch-light parade in the evening welcoming Dr. Brooks. The reception to the delegates and guests, given by President and Mrs. Brooks and the Board of Curators, was held at Read Hall and in the Women's Gymnasium in the evening. Dr. Isidor Loeb acted as chairman of the committee in charge of the inauguration of Dr. Brooks.

Croy Offers $100 Prize.

Homer Croy, author of "West of the Water Tower," and an alumnus of the University, has contributed a prize of $100 "for the best bit of writing done during the present school year." In offering the prize he wrote as follows:

"I am inclosing you a check for $100 which I wish you would give as an award for the best bit of writing done during the present school year. This should not be looked upon as a prize competition, for there is no competition—it is merely a token of appreciation. My idea is to give it to any undergraduate student who does the best bit of writing, outside of verse. Interest in poetry is taken care of in other ways. The writing should be published—it makes no difference whether in local papers or elsewhere. The writing may be news, editorials, fiction—any broad interpretation. But for goodness' sake, don't lay down a lot of rules, don't wind it up in red tape. Give it to the person who writes the best thing during the year—that is the main idea. Come to think of it, I'd hate to undertake to define good writing. I'm not sure that I know. So do away with all definitions, throw rules out of the window. And above all don't give it to some person just because he is poor, nor to some person just because he or she is prominent. Art plays no favorites.

"All I wish to do is to encourage some student who has the writing germ buried in his soul and who thinks that no one cares. Then hand him the money to show him that all the world isn't interested in jazz.

"If the award is a success I'll make it an annual one.

"Yours till the Columns crumble to dust and blow away.

(signed) "Homer Croy."

The actual photographing of the pictures of Croy's "West of the Water Tower" have been finished but they will not be released until spring.

Debaters Have Tryouts.

A surprisingly large number of good debaters competed in the preliminary try-outs. Twelve members have been selected to care for the intercollegiate debates. These are: Shewmaker, Hughes, Snider, Buckley, Depping, Sappington, A. G. Crow, R. D. Crowe, Brenner, Johnson, Wolf and Ladinsky.

There are now three debating squads in the University: the men's Varsity, women's Varsity and freshmen. Every one is an excellent organization.

Arrangements are being completed for intercollegiate debates with Washington University, St. Louis; Kansas University at Kansas City, and Oklahoma at Columbia. It may be possible that the University will also hold a debate with Ames, Kansas Agricultural College or Michigan Agricultural College. There will probably be a debate between the freshmen and the freshmen of William Jewell. The women will probably debate with Stephens Junior College.

Gray Dean at Arkansas.

Daniel Thomas Gray, A. B. and B. S. in Ed., '04, who for two years has been dean of the College of Agriculture, Alabama Polytechnic Institute, Auburn, Alabama, was appointed on November 3 to the position of dean of the College of Agriculture at the University of Arkansas at Fayetteville. He will assume his new duties January 1.

From 1905 until 1913 Mr. Gray was connected with the Animal Industry Department of the Alabama Polytechnic Institute, leaving Auburn in 1913 to take charge of animal industry work for the University of North Carolina, and the State Agricultural Department. In 1921 he returned to Alabama Polytechnic Institute as dean of the Agricultural College.

Dean Gray has been one of the most active agricultural workers in the South among farmers and educators alike. He was elected secretary of the Association of Southern Agricultural Workers in 1913, and was retained in that office for seven years. He also served that organization as president in 1920-21.

During the World War, Dean Gray was appointed by the government to take charge of the animal industry work in the South, and his first visits to the University of Arkansas were made while he was traveling in the interests of that work.

Dr. Hudson Praised.

"If Mr. Hudson is not careful, he may awake some morning to find himself dubbed the Thackeray of the Middle West," so reads a review of J. W. Hudson's new book, "Nowhere Else in the World" in a recent issue of the New York Times. This is Dr. Hudson's second work. Dr. Hudson is professor of philosophy at the University of Missouri. "This new book more than makes good the exceptional promise of Mr. Hudson's first novel, 'Abbe Pierre.'" "Nowhere Else in the World" places Mr. Hudson definitely in the front ranks of the new novelists who have appeared in America since the war.

1852 Student Visits M. U.

Dr. William C. Boone of New York City, pioneer Missourian and student in the University of Missouri in 1852, visited for several days at the home of Mrs. S. B. Kirtley, Columbia, in October.

Doctor Boone came to Columbia from Fayette when only 16 years old and attended the University for a year. He boarded with Col. Francis H. Russell in the old Todd home at Third and Broadway, which is one of the landmarks of Columbia at this time.

Leaving Columbia in 1853, Doctor Boone attended Bethany, W. Va., at the suggestion of Alexander Campbell, founder of the Christian Church. He is now 87 years old, and has been in the banking and brokerage business in New York City for almost half a century.

Despite his age, he is active, and in the best of health. He asserts while in Columbia he was greatly pleased to find his boarding house still intact. The University, he said, had a few more than a hundred students at the time he attended.

Barnwarming a Success.

The eighteenth annual Barnwarming was held in Rothwell Gymnasium, October 26, and while it is hard to improve on Barnwarmings from year to year, it is true that the Barnwarming of 1923 is outstanding in the history of the stunt. Mary T. Gentry, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. N. T. Gentry, who received the degrees of B. A. '84, Sur. '96, LL. B. '88 and S. B., Pe. P. '89, respectively of Columbia, was crowned queen of the harvest by Dean Mumford. The Barnwarming is without a doubt one of the most unique of all student stunts in this country.

This year's officers were: Dave Mecker, manager; Norvell D. Allen, secretary and treasurer; Paul V. Slusher, assistant manager; and John A. Miller, assistant secretary and treasurer.

Fifteen gallons of cider and an immense cake were donated for use in the alumni booth by Mr. and Mrs. T. R. Douglass of McBaine. Mrs. Douglass was formerly Miss Marian Batters.

Shaw Has New Position.

H. B. Shaw, formerly dean of the School of Engineering of the University, has been placed in charge of the Engineering Experiment Station of North Carolina State College, Raleigh, N. C.

Start on to Mt. Oread

All roads will lead to Mt. Oread, that barren spot on the banks of the River Kaw where holds forth that unhappy bird, the Jayhawk, on November 29. The Missouri Tiger will lead his army of students, old grads and Missouri friends to Lawrence on Thanksgiving Day for the annual battle with the Jayhawk team. Thousands of Kansas supporters will be in the stadium to cheer their team on and Missouri is going to have thousands there too to give the fighting Tigers their full measure of devotion and loyalty.

University classes are to be dismissed for four days so that all the students who can may go to the game. It is estimated that close to 2,000 students will be in the stands when the teams line up for the kickoff. The Missouri Razzers, the pep organization, have an elaborate stunt outlined for the game and will go to Lawrence in a special coach, and in full uniform. They will parade in Kansas City the night before and in Lawrence the morning before the game.

The University band, one of the largest and finest in the country of its kind, under the direction of George Venable, will leave Columbia either Tuesday night or Wednesday morning and will play at the various Kansas City High Schools Wednesday afternoon.

The plans for the game this year are the most elaborate ever made. The governors of Kansas and Missouri have been invited and the Chancellor of Kansas University and our own President Brooks will occupy especially built field boxes for the game. The other administrative officers and many of the faculty will also be present at the game and arrangements are being made to take care of them in special boxes.

The team will leave Columbia Wednesday morning and spend the night in Kansas City at some quiet hotel. They will eat breakfast in Kansas City and will only leave Kansas City in time to reach Lawrence in time for the game. They will eat luncheon and dinner on the train returning that night.

Alumni Banquet in Kansas City

An alumni banquet is to be held in Kansas City Wednesday night, to which all alumni who are in Kansas City that night are invited. The notice of the banquet from Shannon Douglass, president of the Kansas City Alumni Association reads:

Place: The Kansas City Athletic Club.

Time: Seven O'clock.

Admission Tickets: Two Dollars and Fifty Cents ($2.50).

Toastmaster: William E. Kemp.

Speakers: Honorable Arthur M. Hyde, Governor, State of Missouri; President Stratton D. Brooks, President, University of Missouri; Honorable Kimbrough Stone, Judge of the United States Circuit Court. Honorable James E. Goodrich, President, Board of Curators; Bob Hill, Alumni Recorder; C. L. Brewer, Director of Athletics; Gwynn Henry, Football Coach; Clyde Smith, Captain of the Football Team. Entertainment: Gridiron sketch, covering celebrities connected with the University—both past and present. String orchestra; University band.

The entire coaching staff will accompany the team and for the first time this year will all be sitting on the bench with the team for the game. The coaching staff consists of Athletic Director Brewer, Coach Henry, and assistant coaches Dunckel, Lincoln and Lansing. Coach Bunker and his yearling team will also be at the game.

This is the only way in which the athletic department shows their appreciation of the work of the Freshmen in running the enemy plays against the Varsity all year.

Three special trains will leave Columbia for Kansas City the day before the game and special trains will be run over the Santa Fe every hour from Kansas City to Lawrence starting at 8 a. m. Thanksgiving Day.

Alfred G. Hill, secretary of the K. U. Alumni Association, writes:

Thirty-five hundred tickets for the best places in the west portion of the K. U. Memorial stadium have gone to Columbia, Missouri, for distribution. We know that those seats will be occupied by Missouri loyalists, whose affection and support for their Alma Mater cannot be excelled by any school.

It is the 3,500 alumni, former students, present students and friends—that I wish to offer on behalf of the University of Kansas our most cordial welcome to Lawrence on Thanksgiving Day. Our Homecoming committee is preparing a program for your entertainment, which includes on Thanksgiving morning our freshman-sophomore "Olympic" games and the House-warming for our new Administration building.

Our organization houses, our University Commons, our stores, and our homes will be open to you.

Here at Kansas we feel that both the Tiger and Jayhawker football teams are sportsmanlike, hard-fighting aggregations. We know that your coach, Gwynn Henry, believes in the best standards of sport, and that he knows the game. We respect Henry and his team.

Naturally, we have a high like opinion of the Kansas team, and its standards.

Both Kansas and Missouri supporters logically expect a fine contest with the best team winning. You will pardon the hope that the best team is Kansas.

ALFRED G. HILL, Sec'y.
K. U. Alumni Ass'n.

Get Behind the Memorial

The Memorial Union Building Headquarters have been moved to Room 217 on the second floor of Jesse Hall, formerly occupied by the Y. W. C. A. and the Dean of Women. Dr. J. C. Jones, director in charge of the Memorial Campaign is rapidly perfecting the organization to complete the work at the earliest possible date. Hundreds and hundreds of letters have been received by him from alumni and former students in every state in the union pledging support and making pledges toward the campaign and helping him in securing subscriptions in their respective communities. The officers of the alumni associations in the cities outside of the state of Missouri have invited Dr. Jones to call on them for support when it suits his convenience. The completion of the campaign in these cities is simply a matter of getting around to them.

Dr. Jones is preparing a booklet to be sent to the alumni and former students giving a complete account of the Memorial Union Building Campaign, what a Memorial Union Building will mean to the active students and to the alumni and former students and to the University as a whole and hundreds of other interesting details in connection with the Building and the campaign. The copy for this booklet will soon be in the hands of Jack Williams, University Publisher.

Many alumni and former students have sent in voluntarily their subscription to the Memorial Campaign within the past few weeks which demonstrates a fine spirit of loyalty to the school and to the cause. The Alumni realize that the cause is a worthy one and that they cannot afford to let the campaign fail. They are anxious to do everything within their power to complete the campaign as soon as possible. Certainly this is a fine spirit and with all of the alumni giving to Dr. Jones the assistance he so richly deserves, the campaign is going to go through without delay.

School Survey Planned.

A co-operative school survey of the public schools of Missouri will be made by the Missouri State Teachers' Association, the University of Missouri, the five state teachers' colleges, the state department of education and other co-operative organizations, it is announced by Charles A. Lee, B. S. in Ed. '17, state superintendent of schools, following a conference with sixteen educators of the state.

The object of the survey will be to determine the facts about the schools of Missouri so the department of education can better meet the needs of the schools, Mr. Lee said. The three phases of school work to be covered are school support, supervision and instruction and certification of teachers.

A committee of five was appointed at the conference to work out plans for the survey and the financing of it. The committee: Charles A. Lee, state superintendent, chairman; President Uel W. Lampkin, former student of the State Teachers' College at Maryville, Dean M. C. Neal, B. S. in Ed. '11, of the University of Missouri, George Melcher of the Kansas City schools and W. M. Okerson, former student, of the Jefferson City schools. The committee will report at Springfield October 4.

Dr. H. P. Muir.

Dr. H. P. Muir has been appointed resident physician in the Hospital. Dr. Muir had his A. B. degree in 1919 and his A. M. degree in 1920 from the University of Missouri. He graduated from the Medical School of Harvard University in 1922 and spent the school year of 1922-23 as instructor in Pathology at St. Louis University Medical School.

Sooners Upset Homecoming

The Oklahoma Sooners have come—and gone, taking with them a 13-0 victory, upsetting the dope pot, and showing the Tiger team and rooters the fallacy of over confidence. But the regret at losing the game is tempered by the fact that it was a great Homecoming in every other way, and that the Tigers lost to a team of fighters that battle just as clean as they do hard. Winning or losing Missouri is always honored to be their host.

The parade, under the supervision of John Riley, was said to be the best in years. From the tank that lead the procession, designed by the Engineers, to the sixteen floats of the College of Agriculture which brought up the rear of the parade, there was a laugh or an exclamation of wonder and approval at every float. The Peerade Xtra was distributed to the crowds that thronged the line of march, and afforded amusement long after the parade had passed. The band and the R. O. T. C. was in the parade in full uniform, as was the Oklahoma Band and the Oklahoma Jazz Hounds, the pep organization. The Ag Club won the prize for the best take-off with their float depicting President Brooks' ruling on allowances, cars and dogs on the campus. The Ag Girls won the prize for the best memorial float and the Engineers won the prize for the best burlesque take-off, which was the "Soonerville Trolley." The Nurses won the prize for the best decorated float in the parade. The prize for the best decorated car in the parade was a tie between the Missouri and Oklahoma clubs of Stephens College. Dr. C. S. Blackburn, Blackburn, Mo., '61, was given the prize for the oldest alumnus registered, and D. V. Northland, '07, Yakima, Wash., for the alumnus traveling the farthest for Homecoming.

The game—but why open old wounds? It was not the same team that held Nebraska to a 7-7 tie and then defeated the Wildcats 4-2. The pep and dash seemed to be gone, and outside of the first two thrusts at the Sooner goal line that ended in incomplete tries for goal from the field, the Missouri team was outplayed. Whiteman, flashy little Tiger back, went out with what was thought to be a broken leg, and with him went the Tiger spirit. They fought, as Tiger teams always fight, but to no avail. Oklahoma passed their way to two touchdowns, and when Sammy Whiteman went back in and Missouri opened up with their forward pass, it was too late—the game was lost. The Tigers lost to a better team on that day—all honor to Oklahoma.

But to come back to the other activities of Homecoming. A mass meeting crowd that was estimated at 8,000 gathered on Rollins Field Friday night to hear President Brooks and President Buchanan of Oklahoma, Merrill Otis, Louis V. Stigall, "Hot Air" Nelson, George H. Coombs, Jr., and Chester L. Brewer, director of athletics, speak. The electric cheer leader, constructed by the Engineers, flashed the songs and yells for the crowd. The bleachers were lighted and red and white flares were lighted on the field.

After the mass meeting Doctor and Mrs. Brooks entertained at a reception in the new Woman's Gymnasium for alumni and guests. There were also several fraternity parties and other Homecoming activities to round out the evening's program.

Saturday morning "hand shakes" were held in the various schools, and the Law Alumni held a rousing organization meeting. The following officers were elected at this meeting: president, James E. Reiger of Kirksville; vice-president, Senator Walter Goodson, Macon; Ross E. Fiester, Windsor; Earl F. Nelson, St. Louis; Ray B. Lucas, Benton; and A. M. Mansur, Richmond. Ben Ely, Hannibal, was elected secretary-treasurer.

A constitution was adopted and the association voted to use all influence possible to get Governor Hyde to release the appropriation for the new law building. A vote of thanks was given to Mr. and Mrs. John R. Tate of St. Louis for their gift of $75,000 for a new building. Mr. Tate was made an honorary member of the association. George Willson, Jr., Merrill Otis, Wallace Try, J. H. Denny and Ralph U. Martin were elected as the Council of Administration.

The Association of Former Student Presidents was organized at a dinner at the Phi Delta Phi House on the evening of November 10. Those present were: Louis V. Stigall, E. Kemper Carter, George C. Willson, Jr., Luc C. Lozier, Baxter B. Bond, J. Max McCann, and L. M. DeMuth, present student president. The organization endorsed the plan for a blanket tax for University students and will bring the plan before the Board of Curators, the faculty and the State Legislature, if necessary.

The officers elected were: president, Louis V. Stigall; vice-president, E. Kemper Carter; secretary-treasurer, L. M. DeMuth.

The M Men's Alumni Association held their annual dinner in the Y. M. C. A. Building on the evening of November 9 before the mass meeting. The following officers were elected: president, Oak Hunter, Moberly; vice-president, Robert I. Simpson, Columbia; secretary-treasurer, Sam B. Shirky, Columbia.

The annual conference of the Association of Teachers of Vocational Agriculture was held in Columbia, November 8, 9 and 10. A great number of those in attendance were alumni and former students: M. G. Drumm, B. S. Agr., '15, Cape Girardeau, Mo., had charge of the annual dinner. The following officers were elected: president, G. J. Dippold of Bethany; secretary, W. L. Barret of Boonville; and vice-president, G. K. Arney of Maryville.

Phi Lamda Theta Award.

A $1,000 scholarship voted for research purposes by the national organization of Pi Lamda Theta, honorary educational sorority, was announced October 4.

An advisory committee has been appointed to assist in finding the best trained women in the United States for this educational research work. Miss Ella Victoria Dobbs, professor of industrial art in the University and national president of Pi Lamda Theta is chairman of the committee. Among the members of the committee are Miss Louise Nardin, B. S. Ed., '07, A. M., '13, Ph. D., '14, dean of women of the University of Wisconsin, and Dr. W. W. Charters, formerly dean of the School of Education of the University of Missouri.

Forest Shepard Lyman, B. S. in E. E. '03, 195 Broadway, Room 810, New York City, was thoughtful as usual, and wired the team on October 13 his best wishes for victory over Ames. Forest is a most loyal Tiger, and never forgets to do the right thing at the right time.

T. C. Cash, A. B. '21, has changed his address to Box 866 Breckenridge, Texas.

Echoes From the Tiger Camp

Past, Present and Future Dope

Pikers Defeat Tigers.

Washington defeated Missouri 13-7, at St. Louis on November 17. The defeat of the Tigers at the hands of the Pikers is said to be the greatest upset and surprise in the history of the Missouri Valley football.

Tigers Surprise Nebraska 7-7.

Missouri tied with Nebraska, 7-7, on October 27. It was one of the greatest football battles ever staged on Rollins Field. All the scoring was done in the first quarter. Missouri scored first after blocking a kick, completing a 23-yard pass and plunging six yards for a touchdown. The Tigers crossed the Huskers' goal line for the first time since 1899. The crowd went wild. Then, Nebraska intercepted a pass and tied the score. It was one of the most thrilling games in the history of Missouri football and had a most stimulating effect. Too much praise cannot be heaped upon the coaches and the players. There was an immense crowd at the game and everyone was jubilant over the outcome.

The enthusiasm at the mass meeting the night before indicated that the Tigers would do their part. The team, accompanied by the coaches, attended the mass meeting. George C. Willson, Jr., president of the St. Louis Alumni Association; Eddie Klein, a former Tiger football star and baseball captain, of St. Louis; W. B. (Fat) Whitlow, prosecuting attorney of Callaway County, of Fulton; Clyde Smith, Tiger captain; the president of the student body, Lawrence DeMuth; and H. F. (Indian) Schulte, former Tiger football and track coach and now Nebraska track and football line coach; made speeches. Schulte finished his talk with this statement:

"So far as I know there is no school in the Middle West with so many football heroes lying in Flanders Field as Missouri. I understand you are building a Memorial to Missouri's sons who gave their lives in the World War. As a native Missourian, I want to tell you that you will not be true Missourians if you do not build the biggest Memorial possible."

St. Louis Tie Tigers, 0 to 0.

Missouri and St. Louis University played a tie game, 0 to 0, on October 20 in St. Louis. Missouri outplayed St. Louis University consistently through the game and had none but inexperienced players in the backfield.

The night before the game, the St. Louis Alumni Association held their annual football rally and dinner. The dinner was presided over by George C. Willson, Jr., president of the St. Louis Alumni Association who, as usual, demonstrated that he is the dean of toastmasters. Speeches were made by Athletic Director Brewer, Coaches Henry and Dunkel and Dr. Clough, the trainer, and Lawrence DeMuth, president of the student body. The St. Louis Alumni Association is not losing an opportunity to do something worth while for the University and has its interest at heart on every occasion.

We Won Cross-Country.

Missouri's cross-country team coached by Bob Simpson, overwhelmingly defeated the Nebraska harriers on October 27, when all five Missouri runners finished ahead of the leading Nebraska man. The Missouri men finished in the following order: Lemar, Pittinger, Poage, Vallet, Edde.

The time was 26 minutes and 50.4 seconds. The first Nebraska man to finish was in sixth place. Never before in the history of the school has such a feat been performed by Missouri harriers and it is not likely it will happen again for such performances are seldom accomplished.

Lester B. (Bottles) Wikoff, A. B. and B. S., Ed. '15, has recently been appointed athletic director and quartermaster of the Wentworth Military Academy at Lexington, Mo. He has been engaged in coaching in that school for several years. Wikoff played end and halfback on the '13 and '14 football teams and was catcher on the baseball teams of '12 and '13. He was married on June 14, 1923 to Miss Margaret Boatsman of Tecumseh, Neb.

Tigers Take Aggies, 4-2.

Missouri defeated the Kansas Aggies at Manhattan on November 3, 4-2. The Tigers tackled the Aggie's punter back of the goal once in the third and again in the fourth quarter. After punts by Faurot, the Aggies were so near the goal line that the safeties were made possible. In the fourth quarter, Missouri permitted the Aggies to score two points, making an intentional safety in order to avoid a possible fumble and touchdown, thus bringing the ball out to the thirty-yard line, with only two or three minutes to play.

This is the first time in many years that the Tigers have broken the Aggie jinx. It was also the Kansas Aggie homecoming and the time for the dedication of the new stadium.

The Missouri cross-country team defeated the Aggies on November 3 in the first dual cross country meet ever held between the two schools, 22-33. Although Wells of the Kansas Aggies came first, four Missouri runners finished immediately behind him. Lamar, Pittenger, Poage and Vallett, and Edde was eighth. The time was 22:27.

Ames Beats Us, 2-0.

Ames won from Missouri on October 13, 2-0. Shadows of the 1915 Kansas game! Rain started to fall the night of October 12 and rained all day on the 13th. It didn't rain as hard as it did in 1915, but the water was just as wet. The difference between the two aquatic football games was that everybody went out on the thirteenth prepared for the worst. The bleachers were just one mass of rain coats, mostly yellow slickers. Columbia merchants did a wholesale business in rain coats and overshoes. Oak Hunter of Moberly spent the morning trying to find a rain coat large enough for him. Oak made a speech from his box on the football field just before the game started, so did George C. Willson, president of the St. Louis Alumni Association, and Colonel Walter Robertson of Marshall. Ed. Shook of Marshall; Stockton Fountain, Centralia; W. M. Regan, Davis, California;

A. C. (Red) Remley, Appleton, Wisconsin; Stratton Shartell, Jefferson City; Warren Orr, his wife, father-in-law and two sons, Carthage, Illinois; Scott Timmons, Carrollton; Jack Mills, Kirksville; Bill Sylvester, Carrollton; Bill Collins, coach of Central Wesleyan College football team, Cameron, Missouri; and M. R. Dunn, Kirksville, were among those present in the bleachers.

Rollins Field was one big puddle of mud and water. It rained during the entire game, and the game was full of fumbles. Ames gained considerable more ground than did the Tigers. The score of two points was just luck. The score was made in the third quarter. Fowler was taken out on account of an injury and Don Faurot, captain of the basket ball team, was sent out to take Fowler's place and to do the kicking. Faurot did not have time to warm up. It was his first Varsity football game. The ball was on the one-yard line, and the situation was a critical one. The ball was fumbled and Ames downed Faurot back of the goal line, scoring two points for them. It was just a case of hard luck and nobody was critical. Faurot played a wonderful game while he was in.

President and Mrs. Brooks stayed through the whole game. The thundering 1000 rooters lauded the president and his wife for their loyalty. On account of the rain the band was unable to function, but the gang in the bleachers made plenty of noise.

The mass meeting the night before the Ames game was a hummer. Student President Lawrence DeMuth presided. The women's pep organization, the Junglejanes, made the hit of the season with their stunt. A. C. (Red) Remley, Appleton, Wisconsin, B. S. in C. E. '12, and W. M. (Billy) Regan, M. S. '14, Davis, California, were the principal speakers.

Bill Collins' football team of Missouri Wesleyan College, Cameron, defeated Jim Pixley's Westminster Blue Jays on October 12. Bill brought his team over to Columbia to see the Ames game on the 13th.

William Gerig, B. S. '85 and C. E. '86, has completed the construction of the Alaska Railroad, and is now with the chief engineers, U. S. Army, as consulting engineer on river and harbor works, Room 2838, Munitions Building, Washington, D. C.

Claude C. Fogle, A. B. '03, is an attorney at law at Memphis, Mo. He was married in 1913 to Miss Ruth M. Crist, Lancaster, Mo. They have one son and one daughter.

News From Alumni Centers— New York Has Meeting

New York Alumni Meeting.

The New York Alumni Association held its first meeting of the year at the Cafe Boulevard, near Times Square, on the evening of October 24. About forty-five persons were present, including a number of alumni who have not heretofore regularly attended these meetings.

The principal speaker of the evening was B. M. ("Mac") Anderson, Jr., economist for the Chase National Bank of New York City. He took as his topic the need for intelligent leadership of public opinion by college trained men and women. He pointed out that the economic, social and political problems of the present day are too complex to be solved by simple principles and theories which were formerly regarded as sufficient, yet they cannot be solved by abandoning all theory and principle as guides to human thought. A higher order of intelligence is demanded for constructive progress, and the citizens who are trained in the solution of complex problems must not shirk their responsibilities as leaders, if democracy is to continue as a successful form of political organization. In Europe, he said, democracy is breaking under the strain and is giving way to the more primitive form, a dictatorship.

The feature of the evening was the music furnished by Misses Jane and Virginia Rogers, '21 and '23 respectively) and Frank Houston, '21. The Misses Rogers sang a number of songs from the recent musical comedies presented at the university, and were repeatedly encored. They were "the life of the party."

R. H. ("Scoop") Turner (journalism '16), who has recently come to New York as manager of the night service of the United Press, gave a brief talk. Each person present was asked to rise and state his name, school, and the year in which he graduated or left school.

Edwin Patterson, '09, '11, presided, and reviewed briefly the important events in the university since the last meeting. He took occasion to congratulate the Board of Curators upon the selection of Dr. Stratton D. Brooks as President of the University, and bespoke for him the support and cooperation of the alumni. He also voiced the gratification of those present at the return of Chester L. Brewer as Director of Athletics. The action of Dr. Brooks in requesting that university students be not allowed to use automobiles elicited favorable comment. The meeting adjourned with the singing of "Old Missouri."

Among those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Russell Bandy, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Kinyon, Mr. and Mrs. Burton Thompson, Mr. and Mrs. Homer Croy, Mr. and Mrs. Sifton, Mr. and Mrs. Sims, Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Marley, Misses Collins, Cowperthwaite and Fitzgerald, Miss Arretta Watts, Oscar E. Riley, Major-General Edgar Russell, Jackson V. Scholz, Volney McFadden, Morris Dry, Frank Birch, J. D. Bowles, L. C. Johnson, Samuel A. Megeath, Messrs. Varner and Duran. The oldest present was Major-General Russell, '82, and the youngest Miss Virginia Rogers, '23.

Education Grads to Dine.

James L. MacKay, 3640 Shaw avenue, St. Louis, chairman of the committee on arrangements for the dinner for the alumni and former students of the University of Missouri and those who are engaged in teaching who have been graduated from the School of Education attending the State Teachers Association meeting in St. Louis in December, announces that the dinner will be held Friday evening, December 7 at the Claridge Hotel. The meeting will start at 5:30. The organization of the alumni and former students of the School of Education will be perfected. The dinner will start at six sharp. Dean Neale and Dean Priddy will be guests of the evening. President Brooks will address the meeting. The meeting will close in time for the teachers to attend the concert at the Coliseum (walking distance from the hotel). The cost will be one dollar. Reservations are to be made at the University headquarters, Hotel Statler, during the week of the convention, or by addressing Ernest Staude, 501 Equitable Building, St. Louis.

The St. Louis Alumnae Association will give a tea Friday afternoon, December 7, from four to five at the College Club, 5428 Delmar boulevard, in honor of Dean Priddy, Mrs. S. D. Brooks and Mrs. M. G. Neale, visitors and delegates to the Missouri State Teachers Convention.

Cleveland Grads Meet.

The Cleveland Alumni Association met on November 3 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. Luke Russell, 2239 Grandview avenue, Cleveland Heights. Russell is the oldest member of the organization. After playing progressive whist, refreshments were served, and then a formal meeting was called. Mr. Russell read letters from Dr. Jones, Dean Loeb, and Professors Almstedt and Hoffman, all of which were thoroughly enjoyed. The December meeting will be held on the evening of December 4 at the Woman's Club at the invitation of Mrs. Russell. The following were present: Dr. and Mrs. J. B. Hanson, Mr. and Mrs. Grover C. Hosford, Mr. and Mrs. Earl W. Netherton, Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Penter, Mr. and Mrs. J. Luke Russell, Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Wiley, Mr. and Mrs. Vest C. Wright, H. A. Fountain, Chauncey M. Saville, Miss Gretchen Jennings, Miss J. Ottville Kahn, Miss Ella Wheeler Smith, and Miss Belle Hope Robinson.

St. Louis Alumnae Meet.

The members of the St. Louis Alumnae Association met at the home of Mrs. W. T. Nardin. Plans for assisting Dr. J. C. Jones in the campaign for the Memorial Union Building were discussed, and it was decided to give Dr. Jones support at his command. The Association plans to have a bridge benefit after the Christmas holidays to raise money for educational purposes.

A committee is making plans for a buffet supper so that the business women who are unable to attend the afternoon meetings will have an opportunity to meet old "Mizzou" friends.

The St. Louis alumnae are doing a creditable work.

Dallas Alumni Dine.

A few Dallas, Tex., alumni held a meeting and dinner, October 15, in honor of L. A. Weaver of the Missouri College of Agriculture, who judged live stock at the Texas State Fair. E. B. Cauthorn, B. S. C. E., '94, B. S. Ed., '15, district superintendent of schools, acted as toastmaster. The alumni report a delightful evening. Mr. Weaver made an interesting talk on conditions at the University, new buildings, enrollment, athletics and everything else of interest to alumni. The following were present: P. C. Bennett, county agent, Tullia, Texas, B. S. in Agri., '16; W. R. Herring, attorney, Dallas, L.L. B., '16; J. M. Jones, College Station, Texas, ass't.

director experiment station, A. M., '12; E. B. Cauthorn, Dallas, supervisor high schools, E. E., 1894; Grace M. Hendon, teacher domestic science, Dallas, B. S., '22; Gladys Davis Hays, former student, 1913-15; M. E. Hays, Dallas, secretary, Texas Farm Bureau Federation, B. S., '15.

Mr. Cauthorn is chairman of the committee to make arrangements for a Missouri dinner to be held on Wednesday night before the Thanksgiving game between Missouri and Kansas when all of the alumni in Texas will be asked to attend.

Journalists Stage Party.

"Dr. Stratton D. Brooks has the Old Missouri Spirit," said an alumnus in St. Louis after the Journalism Alumni banquet held Friday, October 12, in the American Hotel. Doctor Brooks had just taught the old alumni a new yell, and he led the yell, too, like this:

Can we Can Kansas—We Can
Can we Can Kansas—We Can

President Brooks must have been a yell leader in his undergraduate days, for he went about it with the ease and spirit of a professional.

The Journalism Alumni banquet was one of the extra attractions of the fall season of the Missouri Press Association and the Missouri boys and girls who are now Missouri editors, joined the Journalism folk of St. Louis in a dinner; the eats were great, the talks were full of pep, wit and information and everyone had an enjoyable time. Frank Belden and Miss Ruth Sanders were in charge of arrangements for the dinner.

George Willson of student-president fame, enjoyed the privilege of sitting with the School of Journalism folk, and as usual he made a good speech; George is president of the St. Louis Alumni Association. Ernest M. Staude, George's right hand man in the St. Louis alumni work, was also there to welcome the visiting alumni from all over Missouri. Willson and Staude are the old reliables in St. Louis, and can be depended on to get the alumni together.

Dean Walter Williams, in his usual happy mood, expressed pleasure in seeing so many of his former students and to find them doing such good work in St. Louis and in Missouri. He reminded them of the journalist's creed and asked them to read it often that they might make better journalists, and be an honor to the state that educated them. Dean Williams told in some detail of the changes and increases in the journalism faculty and of the enlarged and improved work now being done.

President Brooks said that every graduate of a state university should be a leader and that he was contemplating sending a questionnaire asking each graduate what he was leading. He expressed the hope that when the drive started anew for the Memorial Building that each graduate would lead the list with a large subscription and that he would lead all others in helping to complete the fund.

Doctor Brooks spoke of the valuable work an alumni association can do in the cities, and cited an instance where such an organization got in touch with every person coming from its university; helped him get located, helped him get a better position and took a friendly interest in his welfare. The president asked that the alumni associations of Missouri University do something constructive for the new graduates. "Do you give a Missouri man preference if he is qualified to do your work?" asked Doctor Brooks. "You should. If every alumnus who has a vacant position would consider another Missouri man, he would be helping himself and at the same time helping a fellow graduate and helping his Alma Mater."

Morris Harris Back.

Morris J. Harris, B. J., '20, recently in charge of the Yokohama office of the Japan Advertiser of Tokio, visited his mother, Mrs. S. H. Harris in November. He was in Yokohama during the recent earthquake and was the first one to return to Columbia after that disaster.

Duke N. Parry, B. J., '21, Reinhart Egger, B. J., '18, and Robert F. Moss, B. S. in C. E., '04, Alvin Accola, A. B., '15, C. E., '17, Mrs. Alvin Accola, A. B., '15, B. S. in Ed. '17, and Clive R. Lane, B. J., '23, were seen by Harris after the quake and while they suffered heavy loss, they were not injured.

Dr. Waddell on China.

Dr. J. A. L. Waddell, LL. D. '04, consulting engineer, 35 Nassau St., New York City, recently delivered two addresses entitled:

"Some Observations on the Regeneration of China and the Engineering Work Involved Therein" and "The Functions of Both Pure and Applied Science in the Future Development of China" to the Chinese Students Alliance in the U. S. A. at its nineteenth annual conference held in Providence, Rhode Island.

With the Class of '23

Fellow members of class of '23:

"Them days is gone forever." You didn't realize while you were in school just how easy it was; now that you are out in the "cold cruel"—well it's different that's all.

We can't bring back those happy college days, but we hope to keep alive their memory, and the association of those "regular fellers", the class of '23. As you look back, wasn't that a fine bunch? Too good to drop as soon as you leave school, so the officers of the class, with the help of that old warhorse, Bob Hill, whom we all admire, are going to put out a periodical letter to every member of the class, and in that way try to keep in personal touch with every member of our class.

In order to do this, we must have your assistance. We want to build up such a spirit for the class of '23 that we shall be proud to be one of them. That spirit has not prevailed for several years, and it is up to us to revive it. Now this won't require a lot of effort on your part, so "tear loose" and lend a helping hand. Whenever you are asked to respond ACT immediately.

Here are a few things we should like to know:

1. Will you support a periodical letter by sending in news and suggestions?
2. Our first reunion is at Commencement, June, 1924. Do you favor wearing something distinctive at that time?
3. Do you favor old rose and gray for class colors?
4. Do you favor having a class name?
5. If so, do you approve naming our class the J. C. Jones class?

Our personal section will be found in the ALUMNUS each month, and in order to make this complete we must hear directly from each member of the class. This should be interesting to everyone, so in order for us to have the best section let modesty fall by the wayside and send in some information about yourself. "Now is the time for all good members to come to the aid of their class."

Send your replies to John E. Miller, 924 McGee, Kansas City, Mo. He will keep in touch with the other officers, also Bob Hill, and in that way try to keep the class of '23 organized and living. Please be prompt with your replies.

John E. Miller,
Vice-President, '23.

John Quincy Adams is back in school this winter working for his master's degree in geography.

Nelle Ambrose is teaching at the Northeast High School, Kansas City, this winter.

Orville Ament is taking a few hours in school which he needs to complete his course.

Jeanette Asbury spent the summer, traveling with her mother.

Ellis Atteberry got the wanderlust this summer and floated down the Missouri River to New Orleans where he caught a boat to London. He was last heard of in Scotland.

Omer Avery attended summer school at Cornell University during the summer.

George Bates is now at Harvard.

Carl Bolte has ended a very successful courtship and was married in September to Muriel Eastman of Kansas City.

Edith Brown was married to Frank White and they are now living in Kansas City.

"Bun" Browning is located with Lowe Campbell Sporting Goods Company in Kansas City. "Bun" will be one of the main cogs in the K. C. A. C. basketball team this year. Everyone who has seen him play knows he will be a big asset to the K. C. A. C. team.

Herbert Bunker couldn't leave the old school, so has accepted the position as freshman coach. We expect big things from Bunk.

Lindsey Bush is one of the few agricultural students who isn't selling bonds or insurance. He is helping his uncle run a ranch at Cook, Colo. Fight 'em cowboy!

Maxine Christopher spent the greater part of the summer traveling in Europe. She is home now and will be in Kansas City this winter.

Richard Conklin has found there is no use trying to live 2,000 miles from "the sweetest girl in the world", so he married Harriett Blanton from Paris, Mo., of the class of '22, a Kappa Kappa Gamma. They are now living at Los Angeles where Dick has a fine position.

Leland Davidson has taken the bar examination and is now a full fledged lawyer.

Ralph Detert is with the Standard Oil Company working in Kansas City, Kan.

Larry Dike is selling insurance for the Missouri State Life Insurance Co. in Kansas City. Larry is a good worker and is doing some mighty fine work for his company. Larry was president of the Commerce School last year.

Conrad Eckert has been placed in charge of the wholesalers and jobbers section of the Kansas City Star. Watch that section grow for Connie's advancement.

Fred Eldean is with the West Publishing Co., St. Paul, Minnesota. They are publishers of law books and digests.

George Fleming is in the insurance game at Springfield, Mo.

"Bugs" Fuller is making his mark in the world, as he has been in Berlin for some time and later went to Paris. Now is the time for a young man to travel.

Herbert Gall is located with the law firm of Langworthy, Spencer and Terrell of Kansas City. We wish these young lawyers success for everyone knows the first year or two in law is WAR.

Wayne Grimes is in the bond department of the City Bank of Kansas City and is doing fine.

Elmer Hall is another enterprising young lawyer with Hall Brothers of Kansas City. Elmer likes the profession and will make good.

Glen Hall is cashier of the Windsor (Mo.)

Bank and besides making money for others his own books show a favorable balance.

"Dutch" Hanser, our president, is in Wyoming punching cattle. He says he is out of the tenderfoot stage now and we look for Dutch to be running the ranch some of these days. Dutch has been doing some good work for our class since graduation and will continue to do good work. We are fortunate to have him as our president.

Helen Haydon was married to Tany Beaumont of St. Joseph, Mo.

Laura Frances Haedon is teaching school at Independence, Mo., after spending the summer with a chautauqua.

Vernon Helmers is working in Kansas City. Roscoe Hill will be greatly missed this year when that yell goes up, "Hold that line", but he is holding the line at Wichita, Kansas, with the American Legion.

L. R. Johnson is connected with Rosenberger & Reed, a law firm of Kansas City, and is getting results from hard consistent labor. Let L. R. settle your legal troubles.

"Dutch" Kassebaum is working for General Motors Acceptance Corporation in the Federal Reserve Bldg., at Kansas City. General Motors should take a jump for Dutch will be a valuable asset.

Elmer Kershaw is helping the widows and orphans of St. Louis by selling life insurance for the Massachusetts Mutual.

William Kitchen has located with the law firm of Abbott, Fauntleroy, Cullen and Edwards of St. Louis.

"Pete" Lauf has opened a law office for himself in Jefferson City. Pete worked hard while in school and deserves success.

Al Lincoln will be ineligible to play this year, so is helping coach. We hope someone will get Al's old driving power which will be greatly missed in the backfield this year.

Leon Logan is with the Larabee Flour Mills at their home office in Kansas City and due to his hard work has earned some deserved promotions.

"Monk" Mann is working for the Southwest Telephone Co. in St. Louis.

John Miller helped escort a shipload of mules to Spain this summer, then went to Paris and London before returning home. He is now in Kansas City selling insurance for the National Life Insurance Co.

Paul Miller is with Gordon & Koppel Clothing Company of Kansas City. He is always glad to sell to anyone from Missouri.

DEATH NOTES

ROBERT R. BURNS.

By Kenneth Sears.

The death of Robert R. Burns, LL. B. '15, on Friday morning September 14, 1923, at Tulsa Oklahoma, was the cause of great surprise and most poignant regret to his many friends.

On Thursday the 13th he was not well and consulted with his doctor. He then went to bed in his home. At 1 o'clock Friday morning he told his nurse that he was all right. At 6:30 she gave him a glass of water and again he assured her that he was feeling well. At 7:30 his physician called and found him dead. He had died of an acute dilation of the heart.

Only 33 years of age Robert Burns had made an unusual success in the practice of the law. Upon his graduation in 1915 he returned to Macon County, Missouri, where he practiced for a short time. Then he went to Kansas City, Missouri, and was in the office of Henry Solomon for about a year. Then he went to Tulsa, Oklahoma, and very quickly became one of the prominent attorneys of that busy and wealthy city.

November 2, 1922, Robert Burns and Miss Vivian Cahagan were married. On Sunday before his death a son was born. His wife was in a hospital at the time of his death and was unable to accompany the body to LaPlata, Missouri, where the last services were held.

Robert Burns was born at Ethel, Missouri, a short distance west of La Plata. In Macon County he was known as Roy. At the University of Missouri he was affectionately known as "Bobbie." He had a charming personality that attracted to him many friends who were genuinely fond of him. He was as generous and entertaining as the Scottish poet of the same name. His most intimate friends are agreed that some of the most pleasant experiences of their lives are now forever bound up with the memory of Robert R. (Bobbie) Burns.

His career at the University of Missouri was exceptional. He came here under the handicap of a part-time high school. He stayed here to overcome his handicap, to become president of his law class, a member of Phi Delta Phi, professional fraternity, Q. E. B. H., The Order of the Coif, and a student editor of the University of Missouri Law Series. He left here to become one of the most loyal of our alumni. He returned here for the last time for the Homecoming game with Kansas in 1920 and was largely responsible for the large delegation from Tulsa which came in a chartered pullman. While here he gave a dinner in honor of his particular friends on the faculty.

Those members of the faculty who gave him instruction regarded him as one of their brightest stars and they exceedingly regret that the light has gone out.

His mother and father of Ethel, Missouri, and his sister, Mrs. T. Paul Smith of La-Plata, Missouri, survive him.

E. C. Mead, LL. B. '16, of Tulsa, Oklahoma, and W. E. Kemp, A. B. '14, president of the Kansas City Alumni Association, both personal friends of Burns, attended the funeral.

DR. SAMUEL A. JEFFERS

Dr. Samuel A. Jeffers, formerly assistant librarian at the University, died on October 15 at his home in Columbia. He had been ill nearly a year. He was graduated from Central Wesleyan College, received the degrees of A. M. and Ph. D. from the University of Michigan. He came to Columbia in 1919. He is survived by his wife and three children. Mr. Jeffers was born at New Florence, Mo., January 3, 1870.

LAURA VIRGINIA LONG.

Miss Laura Virginia Long, Pe. P. '88, died in a sanitarium in Castile, New York, recently. For eight years Miss Long had been a bible teacher and missionary in Queen's Hill Girls High School, Darjeeling, India. About eighteen months ago her health became impaired in India and she returned to the United States. Her home address when a student was Pattonville, Mo. She was a member of Kappa Kappa Gamma, and is well known nationally in the deliberations of the organization. Her father attended the University.

THOMAS B. PERRY

Thomas B. Perry, B. S. '98, B. S., C. E., and M. A., '03, 46 years old, civil engineer with Mississippi River Commission, 4208 Shenandoah Ave., St. Louis, died of heart trouble at his home, October 16. Perry was born in Pontiac, Ill., and later moved to Carthage, Mo., with his parents. After graduation he was for three years an instructor of mathematics at Wentworth Military Academy. He joined the Mississippi River Commission in 1903. He played end and half back on the football team of '01-'02 and was a member of Kappa Sigma and Tau Beta Pi. Perry was in the Spanish American War and volunteered in the World War as soon as the United States entered the conflict. He held the rank of captain and saw service at the front. He belonged to the Missouri Athletic Association and the Engineers' Club at St. Louis. Funeral services were held from his former residence in Carthage.

Oliver T. Johnson, A. B. '02, 5244 Landsdowne avenue, St. Louis, writes as follows about the death of Captain Perry: "Every University man and woman who knew Captain Thomas Benton Perry will learn with sorrow of his sudden death on Tuesday, October 16, 1923. His silent exterior housed all that is loyal, honorable, unflinching and sincere, and his life fulfilled the hopes of his family, justified the efforts of his Alma Mater and was ready in his country's need. His University can be proud of him."

JACK V. CHILTON.

Jack Vaughn Chilton, born February 7, 1897, died at his home in Hannibal, October 19, 1923. His trouble was diagnosed as a malignant tumor. Chilton was graduated from the School of Medicine, University of Missouri in '19 and from Rush Medical School in '21. He was a member of Sigma Nu and Phi Beta Pi. His parents were Dr. and Mrs. J. C. Chilton of Hannibal, Mo.

JOHN W. HARRISON.

John W. Harrison, A. B. '57, A. M. '58, of St. Louis, died at his home, 5371 Waterman Ave., St. Louis on October 30. Mr. Harrison was born in Howard County in 1840. Mr. Harrison was a pioneer Missouri manufacturer of iron products. During his business career he was superintendent of the Irondale Iron Furnace Co., vice-president of the Scheckle-Harrison and Howard Iron Co., and president of the Hillman Land and Iron Co.

Mr. Harrison is survived by his wife, three daughters, Mrs. George Hohltz of St. Louis, Mrs. Harry S. Bill of Columbia and Miss Pamela Harrison, and a son, Stuart F. Harrison of St. Louis.

Clarence Mitchell Tucker, B. S., Agr. '20, plant pathologist, United States Experiment Station, Mayaguez, P. R., and Mrs. Tucker announce the birth of a daughter, Jacqueline Lee, on August 27, 1923. Mr. Tucker's father, Joseph D. Tucker, attended the University in 1880-82.

Charles Roster, B. J. '17, managing editor and advertising manager, The Caller, 404 Chaparral St., Corpus Christi, Tex., and Mrs. Roster, who was formerly Miss Carrie Marie Biggs, of Hume, Mo., former student of the University, announce the birth of a son, Charles, Jr., on October 8. Mr. Roster is a member of Dana Press Club, Kappa Tau Alpha, Sigma Delta Chi, was director of the Missourian three years and editor of the ALUMNUS from 1917 to 1918. He is secretary of the Rotary Club of Corpus Christi.

Mr. Charles Omega Wright, A. B., A. M. '21, professor of history in the Atchison (Kansas) High School, and Mrs. Wright, announce the birth of a son, Robert Wm. Wright, on October 2.

Word has been received by friends in Columbia, of the birth of a son to Mr. and Mrs. Milton Bitter at the home of Mrs. Bitter's parents at La Grange, Mo. The baby weighed eight pounds. He has been christened Robert Wayne. Both Mr. and Mrs. Bitter are graduates of the University.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Garth, 402 A College Ave., Columbia, Mo., announce the birth of a daughter, Maude, on October 3. Mrs. Garth was formerly Edna Barck, A. B. '16. She is a member of Kappa Alpha Theta.

Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Phelan, of Purdue University, Lafayette, Ind., announce the birth of a daughter, Kathleen, on October 6, 1923. Mrs. Phelan was formerly Miss Lucille Evans, A. B. '23, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Evans of Columbia. She is a member of the Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority. Mr. Phelan was football coach here two years ago and is now coaching the Purdue eleven.

George Simmons, B. J. '21, and Mrs. Simmons, formerly Miss Mabel Clark, B. J. '23, announce the birth of a son, George Clark, on September 9 at their home, 511 Garfield Ave., Kansas City, Mo.

Myers D. Campbell and Mrs. Campbell, formerly Wilma Morris, both former students, announce the birth of a son. They live in Kirksville, Missouri, 402 S. Osteopathy Ave.

David R. Cannon, B. S. in Eng. '23, 409 South Pasfield Ave., Springfield, Illinois, junior highway engineer for the State of Illinois writes as follows:

"Enclosed please find $3 for the dear old ALUMNUS. I do not want to miss an issue. I would like to be back to dear old Missouri for a few football games, mass meetings, parades, and to imbibe more, if possible of that wonderful Missouri Spirit. Here's to our football team this year! May it be the strongest in the Missouri Valley Conference and knock Kansas for a row of goals on Turkey Day."

Truman E. Witt, B. S., E. E. '21 spent September 8 and 9 at the Dana Press Club. Witt is now with the Century Electric Company of St. Louis. When in school he was a member of the Dana Press Club and Eta Kappa Nu and was president of the Band one year.

James M. (Jim) Tatum, A. B. '16, lawyer, Anderson, Mo., was a guest of the Kappa Sigma fraternity, of which he is a member, during October. He was visiting his sister, Miss Louise Tatum, who is a student in the University. Jim was a member of the 52nd General Assembly, and was a candidate for Congress from the 15th District in 1922.

Harper Moulton, B. S. Agr. '16 has been appointed general agent for Chicago for the Minnesota Mutual Life Insurance Co., at St. Paul with offices at 444 W. Grand Ave. In making announcement of Moulton's appointment his company made the following statement relative to his work.

"This company has been in need of a strong man to develop a large life agency in Chicago and has chosen one of the most prominent field men of the city for this work.

"Harper Moulton entered the life insurance business in 1916 and has been one of the leading producers for the Provident Mutual Life Insurance Company of Philadelphia. He has been a large producer, and among his cases was the million dollar case on the life of Marshall Field III.

"Mr. Moulton has served for three years on the executive committee of the Life Underwriters' Association of Chicago, and for the past year has held the office of secretary-treasurer. He has generously devoted a large part of his time to this work, especially in connection with the tremendous task of preparing for the national convention. With his large acquaintance in the city of Chicago, Mr. Moulton should meet with unusual success in his new work."

Frederic Thomas Kennedy, B. S., M. E. '11, of the Central Malleable Casting Co., Franklin Park, Ill., and his wife, formerly Miss Elizabeth Phillips, A. B. '12, of St. Louis, and their son, visited in Columbia on September 17 and 18. They had a big time visiting with members of the faculty and alumni while in Columbia.

H. D. Fox, formerly of the department of Animal Husbandry, has accepted a similar position at the University of Nebraska. He writes as follows:

"I am especially anxious to receive the ALUMNUS so that I may be kept as closely in touch as possible with what is going on at 'Old Mizzou.'

"I find several Missouri graduates connected with the College of Agriculture here. R. F. Howard, chairman of the Horticultural Department; H. P. Davis, chairman of the Dairy Department; W. J. Loeffel, associate professor of Animal Husbandry; C. C. Wiggins, associate professor of Horticulture and L. V. Skidmore, instructor in Animal Pathology and Hygiene."

Frank M. Nash, B. S., E. E. '06, hydro-electric engineer, Cornith, North Carolina, visited in Columbia in the early fall. He was on his way home after a six thousand mile automobile trip. Nash was in Columbia for the first time since he was graduated and was surprised at the great change in the University and community. He was accompanied by his wife who was formerly Miss Juliet G. Gilmer of Clinton, Mo., and their son and daughter. Nash operates and maintains a water power plant in Cornith. While in Columbia he subscribed toward the fund for the Memorial Tower and Building. He visited with alumni in practically every city in which he visited on his motor trip.

CLINT BATEMAN, Mgr.

Des Moines Daily Capital, is now city editor of the Ames, Iowa Daily Tribune:

"I want a copy of the new Song Book," he writes. "I played Old Missouri in the lobby of the Y at Des Moines, and got a hearty response from three men, who ended up by singing the darned thing right there and then. I sure put power into the old piano, and she was badly decrepit to start on. So the world isn't so large after all."

John has organized a Veterans' Council at Des Moines as he did in Columbia. He was elected commander of the Sgt. John Burke Chapter, D. A. V. Des Moines last June and elected an Argonne post (Legion) delegate to the state convention last month.

William Henry Miller, M. D. '85, is living in Macon, Missouri.

Mary Hackney, B. S. in Ed. '19, of Grand Valley, Colo., writes as follows: "Enclosed find a check for $3 for the ALUMNUS. When one is far from home that is almost the only way to get news from 'Old Mizzou'. This is my first year of teaching outside the state. I am in a consolidated high school in the western part of this state.

Here's hoping that the Tigers win on Thanksgiving."

Clifford B. Savage, B. S. in Ag. '13, now with the Niagara Sprayer Company, and Mrs. Savage, formerly Miss Marguerite McGowan, B. J. '15, A. B. '17, are living in the Parkmont Apartments, Lynchburg, Va. They recently sold their New Rochelle home.

Mr. Frank Hedges, B. J. Since Mr. Hedges' return to the United States a year ago, he has been writing magazine articles in Washington, D. C.

Herbert I. Sears, druggist, La Plata, Mo., writes as follows:

"I am enclosing draft for $3.00 for the ALUMNUS. October 27 we listened to the broadcasting of the Missouri-Nebraska game by Jefferson City and think it one of the finest efforts put out by the University for the old students.

"I believe this to be a medium whereby the interest of the old students may be increased to the fullest extent. Why not broadcast the basketball games this winter as is being done by the U. of Wisconsin and others? With best wishes for 'OLD MIZZOU'."

Hugh James MacKay, B. J. '13, Sigma Delta Chi, Kappa Tau Alpha, Dana Press Club, and former University Publisher, and Mrs. MacKay, formerly Miss Myrtle McDougal, B. J. and ordered a copy of the Missouri Song Book. She writes as follows:

"Last spring I noted with favor the new plan of alumni reunions. It is very much like the one in vogue here at Cornell and is a big success here. The alumni days at Commencement time are the big gala days of the year and the characteristic gayly colored costumes of the different classes lend themselves admirably to the gay carnival like character of the big gettogether in the Drill Hall an annual affair, and the climax of alumni festivities."

Aubrey George (Alex) Alexander, LL. B. '11, is a member of the law firm of Ross, Ross and Alexander, 203 Burke Burnett Building, Fort Worth, Texas. Alex was married September 15, 1920 to Miss Dorothy McBee. Alex's home was in Lancaster, Mo. His name is a household word among alumni and former students of the University of Missouri, for he was one of the outstanding athletes and a member of the famous team of 1909.

Alex is one of the first to send his check for $2.50 for the University of Missouri song book, with the following statement:

"Contrary to the insinuations contained in your letter, let me inform you that my voice is as melodious as ever, if anything, more so. As for the yells, I'll make it my duty to assemble Huck and Hack regularly and get in trim for a trip we all expect to take to see the Tigers pick the Jayhawk."

James Chester Harmon, B. S., Ed. '16, president of Cottey College, Nevada, Mo., is making arrangements to organize an alumni association in his county within a very short time.

Bert A. Williamson, B. S. in E. E. '07, with the Los Angeles Gas and Electric Company, and Mrs. Williamson, who was formerly Miss Minnie Kenyon, former student in the University, writes as follows:

"Through the medium of the columns of the ALUMNUS, Mrs. Williamson and myself are enabled to tread the pleasant walks of the campus, breathe anew the Missouri spirit, relive pleasant memories and friendships, feel the pulse of the student life, follow the Tigers and sometimes swell up over their successes and to keep tab of the Homer Croys, whether their field of endeavor is literature or what not. Take it all in all it really helps one to keep young.

"The three dollars that is enclosed in for renewal—I hope you will enjoy it as much as we do the ALUMNUS."

Miss Ruth Rusk, A. B. '21, is in charge of the Biology Department of Central Wesleyan College, Warrenton, Missouri.

Archie Burns Bedford, A. B. '17, has charge of the educational work and mid-week activities at the Central Church of Christ, E. Ferry at Lonsdale Road, Buffalo, New York. Archie was married December 24, 1919 to Miss Violet Josephine Mitchell of Hamilton, Mo., who was graduated from Stephens College. They have one son, Archie Goff.

Beatrice Winn, A. B. and B. S., Ed. '06, formerly head of the department of English in the State Teachers College at Maryville, Mo., is attending the University of London as a post graduate student in English.

"My best wishes are with the Tigers. I shall be dependent upon the ALUMNUS and Miss Kaucher for news of their victories," she writes.

Service to the Alumni

It is one of the ambitions of the Co-Op just as it is fulfilling an ambition of service to the students of the University. You no doubt remember the Co-Op from your student days—all students do—so that there is no need of our enumerating the stock of the store. If there is something in our line that you need that you cannot obtain where you are now located, write us, we'll mail it to you.

A seven days wonder in 1903, but already outgrown in 1909—so rapid is the march of electrical development.

A monument to courage

The total capacity of the steam turbine generators produced by the General Electric Company is equal to the working power of 170 million men. More and more the hard tasks of life are being transferred from human shoulders to the iron shoulders of machines.

This machine is a Curtis Steam Turbine Generator. Many called it a "piece of folly" in 1903. It was the largest turbine generator ever built up to that time.

Today General Electric Company builds steam turbine generators ten times as big as this pioneer; and the "piece of folly" is preserved as a monument to courage.
