IF the class of 1867

Had known about the Northwestern Mutual Idea and had put it to work for the University, Mr. Stephens and the other members of the Class of '67 would have seen their endowment working for Old Missouri for the last twenty-five years.

The cost to those twelve would have been small and the impetus given to the need they recognized would have been great—just as is the case today with any group of alumni and the idea they would endow.

The Northwestern Mutual Man in your town will gladly explain—or you can write direct to the shadow of the Columns for full information:

APRIL, 1922

COLUMBIA, MO.

The Class of Eighteen Sixty-Seven

WHEN the members of the class which graduated in 1867 entered the University in 1863 there were not fifty students in the institution. During that year but forty entered the collegiate and the same number were in the preparatory department. The latter had a course of study about that of the higher grade of the present graded school, and the collegiate course was not materially different from that of the high school of this day. During the previous year, 1862, the University was closed on account of the Civil War, the building being occupied by soldiers.

Of the eight members of the class of 1867, two, possibly three, are now dead. They were Doctor Thomas A. Arnold of Columbia, who died a victim to diphtheria, contracted from a child patient, and William C. Grainger, who I think, died in California. John T. Aldridge, I think, is dead. I have not heard from him since we graduated.

Of those now living, Gardiner Lathrop is the General Solicitor of the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe Railroad and his office is in Chicago. He was the son of Dr. John H. Lathrop, President of the University who died in 1866. Lewis C. Nelson, another member of the class, is a capitalist residing in St. Louis. Allen M. Elston, now of Berkeley, California, has been a minister of the Christian Church, and the president of a college in Woodlawn, California. A son of Mr. Elston died recently a tragic death in Washington, D. C., while representing the district in Congress in which Oakland, California, is located. Mr. A. M. Elston's wife was formerly Miss Elliott of Moberly, Missouri.

Luke and J. R. Evans are residents of St. Louis, as is W. Lepoir Church.

In addition to the foregoing, Baker W. Badger, now of San Fernando, California, was a member of the class. He married soon after graduation Miss Fannie, daughter of the late Warren Woodson of Columbia, who with a number of sons and daughters, is now living. He was at one time Probate Judge at White Sulphur Springs, Montana. Samuel H. Baker, another member of the class, and who was its prize mathematician, left the institution at the end of the Junior year. He entered the grocery business in Columbia, in which he continued until his death last year.

It is with pride that I can recall the fact that the members of my class have led honorable and useful lives and left no stain upon their characters either in or out of college.

Less than ten professors and tutors taught us during the four years I was in the University. These were Dr. John H. Lathrop, President from 1863 to 1866, Dr. Daniel Read, President in 1866-67, and Dr. J. G. Norwood, and George H. Matthews, Oren Root, J. V. C. Karnes, Joseph Ficklin, Henry N. Ess and Lawson M. Drury, Professors from 1863 to 1867.

Dr. John H. Lathrop was a great educator and scholar and possessed a personality of rare charm and dignity. He has had no superior, if an equal, in personal attractiveness in any president or professor in the University's history.

Dr. Daniel Read, who succeeded him in the Presidency, was of gigantic mould physically and intellectually. Under his administration and guidance the University's scope of work was broadened by the addition of numerous departments, the admission of girls as students, and otherwise widening its career of usefulness.

George H. Matthews, Professor of Ancient Languages, was a fine teacher and scholar and much beloved by all who were his students. The same can be said of Dr. J. G. Norwood, Professor of Science, Joseph Ficklin, Professor of Mathematics, and Professors Ess and Drury, who were tutors.

J. V. C. Karnes, Professor of English Literature, was one of the greatest graduates as well as professors the University has had. Professor Oren Root, brother of Senator Elihu Root of New York, and who succeeded Professor Karnes, possessed a genius and versatility unequalled so far as I can recall by any other man I have known. He had marked personal magnetism and was a wonderful inspiration to students.

University life was in most respects different from that of the present day. Every morning all the students gathered in the old "forum" as it was called, to listen to prayers and the reading of the scriptures. Few of the classes had a membership of over eight and many had less. There was no escape from quizzes and recitations many times during the hour. Unless a fellow could stand the ordeal he soon dropped out.

The personality of the professor was a more potent and active factor in a student's life than I imagine it can be when it is spread over a class of fifty or a hundred students, however able the professor. I can never forget the impressions left by the very able men who taught us during those years. They were of exceptional powers and learning.

Athletics and fraternities were unknown, and of course, there were no sororities as it was before the time when girls were admitted to the University. The literary societies, Athenaeum and Union Literary, were active elements in the array of talent we have for next year: Oscar E. Riley, president, Mrs. Glenn Frank (our Mary), vice-president; F. C. Freeman, secretary.

And here are some of the people who turned out:

This is what Bide Dudley wrote in his column:

Walter Williams, Dean of the Missouri University School of Journalism, was the guest of honor at a dinner given at the Advertising Club the other evening by the Missouri University alumni of New York. Mr. Williams, after he had been properly fed, made a pretty fair speech in which he said a lot of nice things about people fortunate enough to come from his home State. Homer Croy, humorist, was toastmaster, and he fairly shone in the job, especially on top. Editor Frank of the Century Magazine delivered a good talk written by his wife, and another impromptu speech was made by Louis Springer of the New York Herald. Mr. Springer used notes which proved indeed interesting. Walter Bryan of the Hearst forces, spoke fluently also. He first denied the report that he is the uncle of W. J. Bryan, and then dwelt feelingly on his boyhood days in Hop-Scotch, Mo. Another speech, made by a thin, hopeless looking newspaper man, was extremely good, we thought. Mr. Williams, however, radiant as a big ripe paw-paw in a new suit made by the Home Tailors of Columbia, carried off the honors of the evening. And when it was all over everybody went home to his mortgage, happy.

Yours till the columns are dust,

HOMER E. CROY.

The Commencement Address.

Glenn Frank, editor of the Century Magazine, will deliver the commencement address to the graduating class of 1922 Wednesday, April 26.

Mr. Frank is a graduate of Northwestern University and was an assistant to the president of the University for four years. He is the author of "The Politics of Industry" and co-author of "The Stakes of War". He became associate editor of the Century Magazine in 1919 and editor-in-chief in May, 1921.

He is a profound thinker, and an impressive speaker, according to President Jones who has heard him.

Farmers' Fair Rained Out.

The Seventeenth Annual Farmers' Fair was "rained out". The date was set for April 7. J. Pluvius said "rain", weatherman Reeder said "rain". It did rain. A whole inch of it. All day it rained. The farmers sent out a big truck over town advertising as follows:

WEATHER FORECAST:

To-day—April 7—Rain

To-morrow—April 8—Farmers' Fair

On April 8, J. Pluvius said "rain". Weatherman Reeder said "rain". It did rain. A whole inch of it.

The farmers held the parade on the 8th in a downpour of rain. But they had the famous Missouri spirit, the Ag spirit, the pluck and grit. The townspeople and students absorbed the spirit and admired the pluck of the farmers and they stood in the rain and cheered the parade.

By noon of the 8th all the preparations were torn down on the Farmers' Fair grounds. The "Follies" gave two performances in the Auditorium of Jesse Hall that night to packed houses.

The farmers made back $670 of the $1700 loss. They wiped out their obligations after showing to packed houses Wednesday, April 12, afternoon and night at the Columbia Theater.

This is the first time in seventeen years that the Fair has been "rained out" on two successive days.

The Farmers were in hard luck but the students and townspeople grasped the situation and did everything to help offset the loss.

They had the stage set for the outstanding fair of the school's history.

Class Day To Be Revived.

April 25 will be Class Day. The Seniors will listen to several addresses, plant the senior tree, hold an informal luncheon and end the day by attending a dance given by President and Mrs. J. C. Jones in the gymnasium. Class Day has not been observed for the last five years. The class of 1922 plans to establish it again as a tradition to be followed by succeeding classes. George Bond, basketball captain, is senior president.

Glee Club Trip a Success.

The Glee Club trip was a financial and artistic success in spite of the bad weather that prevailed in most places. At Moola temple in St. Louis over 2,000 attended. The itinerary included in order, Sedalia, Kansas City, Parkville, Joplin, Carthage, Washington, St. Louis, Hannibal and Boonville. Dr. Hermann Almstedt, director of the Glee Club is making an earnest plea for more enthusiastic backing. There are two things that the Club needs—a Glee Club fund, and permanent quarters for practice.

The trip was made this year in a Pullman which left Columbia March 9 and returned March 19. Dr. Almstedt is enthusiastic about the way the Alumni turned out to meet the Glee Club and feels that it is one of the best ties to bind the University and Alumni together.

Edwin Williams Makes Record.

One of the fleetest runners on the varsity track team of Culver Military Academy this spring is Edwin M. Williams of Columbia, Mo., who is a member of the 1922 graduating class at the Indiana academy. Williams is a consistent performer and is running in the relay events this year. He will be one of the Culver entries in the Stagg interscholastic track and field meet at Chicago University in May. He is the son of Walter Williams, dean of the School of Journalism of the University.

Railway Gives Scholarships.

Forty-one scholarships, valued at $100 each, in the short course in agriculture have been announced by Benjamin F. Bush of St. Louis, president of the Missouri Pacific Railway. The scholarships will be awarded to one man in each of the counties served by the Missouri Pacific.

A committee consisting of the executive of the County Farm Bureau, the county agent and County Superintendent of Schools will choose the man, and his eligibility will be decided upon by the College of Agriculture.

John Stinson (father of Ben Stinson, president of the Pan-Hellenic Council) director of Agricultural Development and J. W. Kearney, publicity manager of the Missouri Pacific, made the detailed arrangements of the scholarships.

Echoes From the Tiger Camp

Past, Present and Future Dope

The California Meet.

The Tiger track team, under the direction of Robert I. Simpson, coach, left for Berkeley, Cal., last Sunday, where the Missouri athletes clash with the strong team of the University of California. Virgil Spurling, assistant to Z. G. Clevenger, athletic director, accompanied the team. The May Alumnus will carry a story about the meet and the men who participated.

The Track Meets So Far This Year.

The Tigers placed third in the first annual Valley indoor track meet held at Kansas City March 25. The well balanced Kansas team took first honors with a total of 38½ points. Nebraska finished second with 34 points, Missouri had 23 points, the Kansas Aggies 15½, Ames 5, Grinnell 3 and Washington 1.

Kansas defeated the Tigers March 17 in the annual dual indoor meet at Kansas City, 53 to 32, Kansas' second victory in an indoor dual meet against Missouri since 1904. Kansas won its first victory in 1913 when its team nosed out Missouri, 43-42.

Brutus Hamilton and R. D. Waddell starred for Missouri in both meets, Waddell having been high point man for the Tigers in the Kansas dual meet with first in the 120-yard high hurdles and running high jump and a second in the 220 low sticks. Hamilton was high point man for Missouri in the Valley indoor meet, by winning first in the pole vault, second in the high jump and third in the shot put.

"Ham" performed with his regular consistency in the field events, annexing a goodly number of points in both meets. He vaulted 12 feet in the Kansas dual meet.

J. Pluvius 4—Tigers 0.

Rain and inclement weather has played havoc with all outdoor sports at the University this spring. There has not been a week of weather since February, to tell the truth, that has really permitted of outdoor work. Baseball has suffered along with the rest.

There have been any number of men out for Varsity baseball this year, but Jerry Jones, coach, has had his hands full trying to select a team with so little opportunity of watching his men at work outdoors. Most of the practice has had to be confined to Rothwell Gymnasium, which has been hard on both the men and Coach Jones.

The first games were to have been played April 5 and 6 with Nebraska on the Rollins Field diamond. The games were rained out and the Cornhuskers returned home. Just what date these games will be played off has not been decided as yet.

The next games on the schedule with the Kansas Aggies, April 14 and 15, were rained out. Aside from the postponed games, another game will possibly be played with a Kansas school on the trip to Lawrence, where Missouri plays the Jayhawkers.

Dope on the Tiger Nine.

Leo Murphy, "Murph" is the catcher on this year's nine. Murph was considered the best catcher in the Valley last year, and will probably hold the same position this year. He is a student in the College of Agriculture. This marks Murph's second year on the team. He is from Ayer, Mo.

"Dick" O'Reilly is this year's captain. He plays left field on the Varsity. Dick is a letter man, this making his second year on the team. He is a student in the College of Agriculture. His home is in St. Louis.

H. D. Ficklin, known to the baseball fans as "Fick" is a letter man who will be pitcher on this year's Varsity. Fick is from College Mound, Mo.

"Charlie Lowrance is a third year man on the team. Last year he was captain of the team. Charlie is a good hitter and a good center field man. He is a letter man. He is a student in the College of Agriculture. Memphis, Tenn., is Charlie's home.

Walter Williams, better known as "Buzz", comes from Butler, Mo. He is a letter man. Buzz is a reliable infielder. He is a student in the School of Business and Public Administration.

Paul Quick comes from Quick City, Mo. He is a third baseman. This is Quick's first year on the team. He played with the freshmen last year and made a remarkable record.

Ted Packwood who hasn't played baseball since one year ago last spring is back on the diamond this year. Ted is not only a good baseball man but is a three letter man in football. Ted will pitch this year. He is from St. Joseph, Mo., and is a student in the College of Business and Public Administration.

"Doc" Harrison, Garland, Mo., who was pitcher on the squad last year, will probably play on this year's Varsity. Doc is in the School of Medicine.

Lacey Roberts is a Columbia man. Lacey was a letter man in 1920. He has been ineligible to play last year, but will probably be out on the field again at the end of this semester of school. Lacey will play outfield.

Fred Taylor of Osceola, Ark., a student in the College of Arts and Science, is a first year man on the squad this year. He is playing the position of shortstop.

The Tigers have a splendid offensive team, their hitting being excellent. The weakness seems to lie around second base and in the pitching department.

Because of the bad weather, the Tigers have not been able to have much practice, and it is likely that many of the games will have to be called off. If this is true, attempts will be made to schedule extra games for the Tigers.

High School Track Meet.

Invitations have been sent to approximately four hundred high schools in Missouri announcing the program for the nineteenth annual interscholastic track and field meet to be held on Rollins Field, May 6, under the auspices of the University. Responses to the invitations have already begun to pour in at the office of the Athletic Department, indicating that there will be a large entry list this year.

Last year the Bosworth and Kansas City Central High School track teams won out in divisions one and two, respectively, while the Kemper Military Academy team finished ahead in division three. All of these schools will have teams at this year's meet.

The Tigers meet the Centre College track team at 10 o'clock Saturday morning in a dual meet. "Bo" McMillin, famous Centre athlete, is coaching the team that will be here to do battle against the Varsity, and will be here with the team.

Friday, preceding High School Day, will be devoted to an exposition of the buildings and activities of the University for the visitors.

Following is the program for May 6:

9:15-9:30—Conference, High School Debating League, University Auditorium

10 a. m.—Track meet, Centre College against Missouri. "Bo" McMillin, the football star, will be with the Centre team as coach.

2 p. m.—Nineteenth Annual Interscholastic Track and Field Meet, Rollins Field.

7:30 p. m.—Finals, State Debating League. The high schools of the state are classified in three divisions, as formerly:

Division I—public high schools of the state with an enrollment under 350.

Division II—public high schools of the state with an enrollment of 350 or over.

Division III—military academies, private schools, junior colleges, preparatory schools and other secondary schools.

The events for each division will be: 100-yard dash, 220-yard dash, 440-yard dash, half-mile run, running broad jump, pole-vault, 120-yard high hurdles, half-mile relay, 220-yard low hurdles, 12-pound shot-put, discus throw, javelin.

Medals for four places will be awarded in these events.

"Lefty" Pruitt With Browns.

"Lefty" Pruitt, University of Missouri star twirler and the pride of Dexter, is now in the south with the St. Louis Browns and is looked upon as the most likely youngster in the camp.

Pruett made a reputation while in school by winning ten straight games and went from there to Tulsa, Okla., where he won a home with a no-hit game. Recent reports state that "Lefty" will be retained by the Browns, as he has made good.

Clevenger to New York.

Z. G. Clevenger, athletic director, left for New York City the middle of the week to attend a meeting of the joint basketball rules committee April 15. This meeting kept Mr. Clevenger from making the trip to the Pacific Coast with the track team. The committee makes and revises the rules of the sport each year and hears ideas or complaints concerning what should be done for the betterment of the game. It is composed of twelve members, four from the colleges and universities, four from the A. A. U and four from the Y. M. C. A.

Kansas City Alumni.

Crosby Kemper, president of the Kansas City Alumni Association, advises that on April 24 the boys' club of the Westport High School are going to have what is known as an M. U. night, a general get together of the Westport High School boys together with the alumni of the University of Missouri. The moving picture "The Tale of the Tiger" will be shown.

Ag Journalism Is Offered.

Completion of plans for the addition of a new curriculum to the University whereby special training for a professional degree in agricultural journalism will be given through cooperation of the College of Agriculture and the School of Journalism was announced by Dean F. B. Mumford of the College of Agriculture and Dean Walter Williams of the School of Journalism, Feb. 9, 1922.

The courses which will be offered will lead to either of two degrees, Bachelor of Science in Agriculture (In Agricultural Journalism) or Bachelor of Journalism (In Agricultural Journalism). The work is expected to start in the spring term, although all regular courses will not be offered until fall.

The courses, according to deans of the two schools, are designed for the increasing number of students who desire to take up agricultural newspaper work, who plan to write for agricultural journals, or for metropolitan newspapers which carry farm news sections, for rural papers in strictly farm communities, for farmers who wish to write articles about their farm projects for farm journals, and for county agents.

adding to the faculties of the two. Four year's work will be offered. The new work will be given without schools.

CLASS OF 1867

Harvey Fouts and I, disguised as railroad roustabouts, fell upon them—fired our pistols and howled "Your money or your life!" Reattie dropped roaring, "Gosh-All-Hemlock, I'm shot."

Graves was on his galloping way to Elston's yelling "MURDER!"

The Town Marshall was a friend so we were not arrested. Grave's girl gave him the mit. He fled the town, because every boy he met pointed a threatening finger at him, and yelled, "Money or Life!"

It was the morning the 1868 school session was about to open. Very early I met the bunch at Conely & Strawn's corner, greeting old students and new. The first bell rang. In half a minute I was alone, gazing and longing after the jolly groups hastening Universityward.

I never was so lonesome in my life. I could not stand it. I sprinted till I caught up with the gang—on my way to take a suddenly resolved post-graduate course.

MISSOURI GEOLOGIST

We are sorry that the usual picture of one of our geologists is omitted from this number. The picture that was to have been used was misplaced until too late to have the cut made. We have enough notes for two pages in the Alumnus but must leave the other page for the May number. During the month of April we have had letters from about twenty of our family of geologists.

H. M. Scott, A. M. '14, assistant in Geology, University of Missouri, 1912-14, is a partner in the Riverland Company, consulting and development work, Tulsa, Oklahoma. After leaving the University of Missouri he spent two years as assistant and graduate student in the University of Chicago and eighteen months in the signal service of the army. Before he entered the army in October, 1917, he was geologist for the Gulf Oil Corporation. He is a member of the American Association of Petroleum Geologists. His address is 305 Cosden Building, Tulsa, Oklahoma.

Carlyle Johnson, A. B. '16, assistant and graduate student fall of '17, has recently joined the Dorsey Hagar firm of consulting geologists at Shreveport, Louisiana. For more than a year he has had a consulting office in Kansas City and has been developing some oil lease north of Kansas City. Last summer he was seriously ill and underwent several operations. Carlyle has two children, Martha Kemp, three years old, and Carlyle DeJarnett, Jr., one year old. His wife, nee Loys Rollins, was a student in the University in '15.

Courtney Werner, A. B. '17, graduate student fall of '17, and summer and fall of '19, is instructor in geology in the University of Minnesota. He left his graduate work in '17 to enter the army, in '19 to go to Honduras in geological work for the Gypsy Oil Company. Courtney has been taking graduate courses in the University of Minnesota and has nearly finished the residence work for the Ph. D. degree. Last summer he was engaged in geological work for the road material division of the Minnesota Geological Survey. His investigations were mainly concerned with gravel pits and limestone quarries for crushed rock.

James L. Gartner, A. B. '15, graduate student 1915-16, visited the department, March 30 and 31. Jimmie is a member of the Riverland Company of consulting geologists located at Tulsa, Oklahoma. James L. Gartner, Jr., age one year and six months, is a highly important member of his family. Mrs. Gartner (Miss Clyde Beedle) took Geology I in the winter term of 1918-19 and went to Colorado with the 1919 summer field party.

J. P. Connolly, A. M. '15, assistant in Geology 1914-15, instructor in the winter term of 1918-19, is professor of geology in the School of Mines at Rapid City, South Dakota. He is investigating a problem on the geology of South Dakota as the subject for the Ph. D. thesis at Harvard. He spent two years in graduate study at Harvard and the Massachusetts Institute of Technology after he took his A. M. at Missouri and before he returned as instructor.

Edgar W. Owen, A. M. '16, has been located at Lawton, Oklahoma, for the last three years. He is geologist and superintendent in oil development work there. He expects soon to be able to devote himself exclusively to geological work.

Mary Jane Melton was born March 26, 1922. Her father, F. A. Melton, was a student in the Department in the fall of '17, and in the winter and spring terms of '19. Mr. Melton is now a graduate student in geology in the University of Chicago.

On April 3, Mr. Vilhjalmur Stefansson lectured in Jesse Hall on "My five years in the Arctic". The audience was large and appreciative. Following the lecture the Chamberlain Geology Club held an informal reception for Mr. Stefansson in the ladies' parlors of Jesse Hall.

Miss Jeanette Schoen, who took the elementary course in geology in the spring of '17, recently sent to the Department a large collection of photographs which she made in the Hawaiian Islands, Australia and New Zealand. A part of the letter which accompanied the pictures will be of interest to our family. "May I repeat again that a great part of my enjoyment in traveling is due to the knowledge of geology that the elementary 5-hour course gave me. That knowledge has made it possible for me to ask intelligent questions about my own country and those foreign ones in which I have been fortunate enough to travel. The Thermal District in New Zealand, for instance, proved twice as fascinating and instructive as it would have been, had I not had some background of geology. Traveling by proxy, too, I find much easier, because of it. My understanding and keen enjoyment of Stefansson's "The Friendly Arctic" were certainly partly due to geology." Late in March Miss Schoen paid the Department a pleasant visit. Her home is in Minneapolis, Minnesota.

Miss Lillie Franklin, A. B. '19, graduate student 1919-20, who has been doing graduate work in geography in the University of Chicago for two quarters has returned to the University of Missouri to finish her thesis for the master's degree in geography.

The graduate students in the Department of Geology and Geography in residence in the University are: Richard B. Rutledge, third year of graduate study; Roy H. Hall, third year of graduate study; Lester Bailey, second year of graduate study; Lillie Franklin, second year of graduate study; James S. Williams, second year of graduate study; Ruth Ferris, first year of graduate study; Mason

King, first year of graduate study; Virgil Cole, first year of graduate study; George Wilda, first year of graduate study.

Roy Hall is finishing his third year of graduate study in the department. He spent the fall quarter in the University of Chicago, where he worked with Salisbury, Weller, and Johannsen. At present he is investigating the western margin of the middle Ordovician in Missouri. This summer he will work for the Missouri Bureau of Geology and Mines on a problem which will form the basis for his thesis for the Ph. D. degree.

AN INTERESTING CROCODILE.

The Columbia-to-Pacific-Coast field party of last summer collected an unusually valuable skull of a Triassic Phytosaur (Crocodile-like animal) near Fort Wingate, New Mexico. Dr. Mehl has been preparing the skull, and it will be placed on exhibition some time this year. The skull has many primitive characters and will be of some help in showing the direction of evolution of the early reptiles. Dr. Mehl will prepare a paper describing the specimen. "I am certainly glad to receive copy of the photograph of the University while it was burning. You advise that this was taken by Joe Douglas. I remember Joe quite well. He was then the best photographer in the State of Missouri and I doubt if later days have produced many any where who are any better. I appreciate your courtesy in sending this to me.

"If, from time to time, I can furnish you any interesting material for the Alumnus, I will be glad to do so."

The following letter is from Sara B. F. Rabourn, A. B. '02, A. M. '04. Her address is 1525 J. street, Fresno, California.

"My dear Mr. Hill: It is with the greatest pleasure that I received the Alumnus with the write-up of "Daddy Defoc". Truly he was and still is a "campus idol". His has been a wonderful life. Perhaps no other one professor at Missouri has influenced so many lives. I owe him much for the inspiration that he gave me in college and for the influence that he has been in my life since I left. I have never had a better friend.

"Dr. Jones we have admired much. He has always shown the greatest interest in our activities. He, too, has proved himself to be a very loyal friend to my sister and to me. And it has made us very happy to have him President.

"We are always proud of Dr. Hedrick and Terence Vincent, B. J. '16, was a member of the party which made the first try of the air liner from Chicago to Detroit on March 17. Seven men made the trip including Eddie Stinson, the pilot and Terence Vincent. The Stinson Air Liner made the trip to Detroit in four hours. "This flight was a peach!" said Vincent. "As a Missourian, I was glad to be shown how beautiful a non-stop trip to Detroit was. I'll recommend the air route every time for comfort, safety, reliability and speed. I talked with Lee C. Mr. Vincent is now real estate Editor of the Journal of Commerce, postmaster of the Chicago representatives on the Air Board of Chicago and Chairman of the Information Department of this Club.

Miss Mabel Phelps is an enthusiastic alumna of the University of Missouri. She received a degree from the University in the class of 1900 and she says that there has not been a year intervening that she has permitted the University of Missouri to be out of her thoughts. While in school she made her home with Mrs. Kate Conley, with whom she has been visiting the past few days. Her home address is now 354 West Ave., 53, Los Angeles, Calif., where she has been living since finishing her school work. She is a member of the Kappa Gamma sorority.

While in the University she was an ardent Y. W. C. A. worker, was a member of the first women's basketball team at the University of Missouri, was second lieutenant in the women's military organization and a member of the University choir at Chapel. Attendance at Chapel was compulsory during the years that Miss Phelps attended school. Miss Phelps is very much interested in the trip that the Missouri track team will make to the west coast in April. She said that the alumni and former students of the University of Missouri who are in California are looking forward to the coming of the track team. They feel that the track team's showing in California will have much to do with reviving the University of Missouri spirit in the West and giving the school a great lot of publicity. The Los Angeles alumni and former students want the track team to schedule a meet at Los Angeles in addition to the meet which will be held at Berkeley.

Miss Phelps wants the four reel motion picture, "The Tale of the Tiger", to show to the alumni in Los Angeles and insists that motion pictures of the University and town and school activities be sent out every year to the alumni groups. Miss Phelps went from Columbia to New Orleans for a brief visit from there she will go to Texas to inspect her 6,500 acre ranch. From there she will return to her home in Los Angeles.

H. B. Hill, A. B. '10, LL. B. '12, Attorney at Law, Shamrock, Texas, is representative in the Texas State Legislature from the 124th district, Wheeler County. Mr. Hill intends to make the race for speaker of the House of Representatives and will open his campaign as soon as the primaries are held on July 22. He has no opposition in his district and from all indications he will have none. Mr. Hill is advocating a special tax for the higher education institutions of Texas. He also favors the creation of boards to run the various colleges, normals and University, these boards to have authority to fix salaries on a merit basis. According to those who have seen the Texas House of Representatives in action, Mr. Hill is the outstanding figure in that organization and the Texans firmly believe that the future holds much in stock for him in a political way.

E. G. Woodward, B. S. Ag. '11, A. M. '13, who has been head of the Dairy Department at Washington State College, left there the first of April to take charge of a farm in

He is the son of Dr. J. B. Cole of Columbia. Mrs. Cole was formerly May T. Cross, B. S. Ed. '08. Following is a quotation from the editorial: "All honor to Judge Cole. Such a statement after a victory for the people in their own court would be out of place were it not a matter of regrettable record that too often our courts have lent themselves to that side of public case which represented graft and not the people's interest. Judge Cole is a judge for the people. He is a judge of the people. He has the fine integrity that does its duty."

Floyd Calvin Shoemaker, A. B. '09, A. M. '11, is now Secretary of the State Historical Society of Missouri, headquarters in the Library Building, Columbia. It is a splendid alumni publication and we old grads appreciate it. I was pleased the other day to have my husband ask for the December number to send to the Alumni Publication Committee of his Alma Mater. They have had an altogether dignified but rather heavy periodical published three or four times a year, and they are planning to change to a more frequent and newsy paper. Mr. Hunter wanted the Committee to see the Alumnus as he considered it the sort of paper the graduates want. If you knew Mr. Hunter you would appreciate better the compliment, as he knows what is what on that sort of thing, and indeed has been asked to serve on the Publication's Committee another year." She advises that Mr. Arnold Leonard has just notified her that the Boston Alumni of the University of Missouri are to hold another dinner early in May.

George Roshlovsky Staikoff, B. S. EE. '07, is now at Philippopolis, Bulgaria. He resided

The Great Memorial Tower and Homecoming Day

On next Thanksgiving Day the Jayhawkers and the Tigers will again meet on the gridiron in Columbia. It will be the great Homecoming Day for Missouri. On that day it is planned to lay the cornerstone of the magnificent Memorial Tower which is to be the central feature of the Missouri Memorial Union.

In spite of hard times the Memorial Fund is growing steadily. All honor to the thousands of students, alumni, former students and friends of the University who are contributing to this great cause. This magnificent Tower will be the most splendid structure which has been built or will be built on the campus of the University of Missouri. It will memorialize the splendid service of the men of Missouri who went across the water to fight in the World War. It will do honor not alone to those who had at some time been students of the University, but also to that glorious spirit of patriotism which induced thousands of Missourians from all over the state and nation to offer their service and their lives if need be in defense of those ideals which Americans hold most dear.

In order that the funds may be on hand to pay for the building of the great Tower as it grows into being, the Memorial Committee not only urge all former students and friends of the University who have not yet contributed to make their contributions and help swell the grand total, but also urge and request all those who have already sent in their pledges to pay them now in full if possible. If this full payment can not be made, then the urgent request of the committee is that present payments be as large as possible.

This is an opportunity which comes but once in a life time, and every man and every woman who makes a contribution to this Memorial will have the proud satisfaction in the years to come as they look upon these splendid buildings of feeling that they did their part in honoring our heroic dead.

In a letter just received from L. W. Wing, B. S. in Ag. '15; M. A. '17, Watsonville, California, under date of Feb. 27, 1922, he writes as follows: "Dear Bob: The data sheet for the Alumni Directory was forwarded to me a few days ago by my folks. Please find the same filled out also a check for my subscription to the Alumnus. When I last saw you the time you visited at the Oregon Agricultural College I was teaching in the dairy department there with P. M. (Pinkie) Brandt. Was at Oregon from fall of '17 to the fall of '20 except for the time I was in the service. Came down in California when I left O. A. C. to take the management of this farm. We have 480 acres and are breeding registered Ayrshire cattle. The herd numbers 128 head of pure bred stock and we have plans for a herd of 200 head. It is the best known Ayrshire Farm in California and the equipment is modern throughout. Last fall we had a show herd out for two months making six fairs. At the State Fair we won all of the championships together with 14 blues and 9 reds. We cleaned up wherever we showed. At the last minute at the State Fair one of their judges was unable to be there so they called on me to judge the Jerseys and Guernseys for them. I also judged the Holsteins at the Ventura County Fair. I was up to the Pacific International Livestock Show in Portland, Oregon last November and at that time saw Prof. Brandt of Oregon A. C., E. G. Woodward of W. S. C., H. Hackedorn, Hickman, F. W. Atkeson, and E. H. Hughes. Recently was up to the University Farm at Davis, California. In the Animal Husbandry Division there are E. H. Hughes (hogs), C. E. Howell, '15 (horses), and J. F. Wilson, who did graduate work at Missouri about 1917 is in charge of sheep so it is a regular Missouri department. I see Doctor Whitten at the University of California ever now and then, also Prof. E. A. Overholser, about '12 or '13, who is associated with him. Would be pleased to hear from you. With the best regards, I am, Sincerely yours, (signed), L. W. Wing, Jr."

Joseph P. Connolly, A. M. '15, who is now teaching at the South Dakota State School of Mines, writes as follows: "I am already a subscriber to the Alumnus. I am glad to note that you intend to print special news of the alumni of the geology department of the University, as that will be particularly interesting to one who was both student and teacher in that department. I have not received my copy of the February Alumnus and if by chance it has gone astray, I wish that you would see that I get another one. I do not meet many alumni of the University in this part of the country, but recently Jacob Speelman, coach of the teams at the Aberdeen Normal College at Aberdeen, South Dakota, brought his basket-ball team out here to play with our School of Mines team. He had a well coached and smooth working team, and beat us after a well played and interesting struggle. Speelman won instant respect and admiration from the basket-ball fans of this town for his thoroughly good sportsmanship. Very sincerely yours, (signed) Joseph P. Connolly."

In a letter received recently in the office of the Alumni Recorder, Mrs. O. C. Smith, formerly Blanche Whitaker, a former student of the University in 1910, writes as follows: "In every Alumnus we read the name of some old friend who has located in Tulsa (seven miles from here), but O. C. is just too busy to look them up. He has been with Cosden & Co. for several years, Superintendent of the Gas Compression & Acid Plants. There are some names I never read—the girls and boys who boarded where I did in 1910, at 722 Missouri Ave. Most of them are married now, but their names were: Laura Roeder, Elton Senger, Margaret Bingham and Bonner James of Joplin, also Lucile Linton, who I think is teaching in Tulsa, Elsa Dierkes and a number of others. Let's hear from them. They will remember me as Blanch Whitaker. I attended the University only a short time, but it was long enough to make me love Old Mizzou forever. We have three bright kiddies, a boy and two girls, who are looking forward to, and saving their pennies to attend Missouri University. Our boy, ten years old, is already in the 6th grade, and we hope our only boy will be spared. As you may remember our precious baby boy, 3½ years old, died in October of diphtheria. We thought we had an ideal family, the best and brightest children, and well provided for, and—the Lord's ways will always be impossible to understand, and we can only try to think it all for the best." Mrs. Smith's address now is: Box 127, Sand Springs, Oklahoma.

At the annual Founder's Day banquet of Omicron of Alpha Phi, Columbia, March 4, 1922, the following alumnae of the University of Missouri attended the banquet: Elizabeth Atterberry '20, Kansas City; Alfreda Halligan, '21, St. Louis; Charlotte Vickers Goode, Columbia; Elizabeth Lyon, B.S. in Ed. '18, Fulton; Gertrude Lyon Hill, A.B. '11, Columbia; and Margaret Carter Dinwiddie, '12, Columbia.

Miss Hazel McIntyre of Kappa Alpha Theta sorority, Columbia, writes the Alumnus office under date of March 9 that a son, Walter, Jr., recently made his appearance at the home of Mrs. Walter Stoessel, formerly Katherine Haston, Carrollton, Mo.; that a girl, Betty Ann, recently arrived at the home of Mrs. Carl Melcer, formerly Bernice Batta, Creston, Iowa; that Miss Hedwig Aulepp, 635 W. Lockwood, Webster Groves, Mo., has announced her engagement to Roland Leichman and Miss Aurilla Brigham, Tulsa, Oklahoma has announced her engagement to Malcolm Harley Tuttle of New York. In January, Mrs. Fred C. Kennedy formerly Bess Phillips visited at the Kappa Alpha Theta house and in February, Betty Campbell, Eugenia Haydon, Josephine Bruce, Helen Ludlow, Lois McCormick, of Kansas City and Betty Johnson of St. Louis made visits in Columbia.

Reminiscences as indulged in by alumni and former students of the University of Missouri, of many years ago, are always of interest. He is also a member of Union Literary Society and of the Male Quartette. He remained in the University of Missouri as an instructor and librarian from 1873-80. He was in the mines of Colorado from 1880-04 and says he is now in Eugene, Oregon, for the education of his son, who plans to top off his education in his father's Alma Mater, the University of Missouri.

Mr. Hayes says he recalls a beatitude which Dr. J. G. Norwood gave to the class of '73 while lecturing on applied electricity and revealing to the members of the class the name and character of the man who conceived of its application to communication of language by wire and the man who got the credit for it. Here it is: "Blessed is the man who can blow his own horn." Mr. Hayes says he would like to add another beatitude for the benefit of the publication of the Alumnus and the boys of "Old Mizzou". It is this: "Blessed is the man who does the thing he ought to do, at the time and in the way it should be done whether he likes it or not. Here's to the health of all who take heed. May it give you ample returns and a big booster."

Mr. Hayes married Stella L. Wellington in 1897. He wishes to be remembered to townspeople and faculty members with whom he was associated.

Rainy Days Don't Come to the Thrifty Saver; Here Is Our Prescription for Financial Sunshine

The recent financial crisis was chiefly due to a lack of foresight on the part of the people of America. This fact is substantiated by the free spending period preceding. The man who saves in anticipation of a money crisis, or it may be for an emergency calling for ready cash, is the man who puts the rim on the silver cloud. The rent payer will never be free from worry and inconvenience until he owns his own home. Only saving will buy that home.

Do you ever stop to figure the amount of money that is paid out in rent by one single renter, and the amount that is paid back to him? Let us contrast the landlord and the Boone National Savings & Loan Association in regard to their treatment of the rent paying citizen. Of the money paid to the landlord, not one cent is ever handed back. Of every dollar and a quarter you pay on a loan from this Association, sixty cents is handed back to you as payment on principal.

Here is the table which shows the result of monthly deposits:

Deposited Monthly	In About 10 Years Yields
6.00	$ 1,000.00
12.00	2,000.00
30.00	5,000.00
60.00	10,000.00

The landlord keeps the whole dollar and a quarter; we keep but sixty-five cents. In final settlement (in about ten years), you receive a further credit of $28 in accrued interest for each $100 borrowed. Quit paying for homes for other people. You have the privilege of paying off the loan any month in the year, or selling the property and letting the purchaser assume your obligations to the Association.

The ONE HUNDRED DOLLARS

offered by the John Hancock Mutual Life Insurance Company of Boston for the best answer to Mr. Edison's question, "Who Was John Hancock?" has been awarded to Leon V. Quigley, a student at the Worcester (Mass.) Polytechnic Institute. This answer, giving a correct, concise and comprehensive statement of the position occupied by John Hancock in American history, is printed below in full.

"Who Was John Hancock?"

JOHN HANCOCK was an American statesman and patriot. His signature is found on the oldest and most important documents of Massachusetts, and of the United States. He was the first signer of the Declaration of Independence and was the first Governor of Massachusetts.

John Hancock was born at Quincy, Massachusetts, in 1737. He graduated from Harvard College, and entering upon his uncle's business became a successful merchant in Boston. He gained much in social power and in wealth, being meanwhile justly popular for his integrity and ability.

He was in 1765-1770 a selectman of Boston and a member of the general court. With Samuel Adams he led the Massachusetts Whigs, and only escaped capture at Lexington and Concord by virtue of the valiant fight by the Minute Men on the "Nineteenth of April '75."

John Hancock was subsequently known in various positions: as President of the Continental Congress, as Major-

General of the Massachusetts military forces, as President of the Constitutional Convention. He died at Quincy, Massachusetts, October 8, 1793.

The historical position of John Hancock is unique in State and Nation. He wielded great political influence but was always liberal and public-spirited. His name is most prominent as a Whig leader during the American Revolution in such events as the Boston Massacre, the Boston Tea Party and the battles of Lexington and Concord.

John Hancock signed his name first to the Declaration of Independence. He thus risked his own "life, liberty, and pursuit of happiness" that these privileges might be obtained for others to enjoy. To this end he "pledged his life, his fortune, and his sacred honor."

That he was popular and efficient may be judged from the fact that he was for ten years Governor of Massachusetts, being elected annually to this office by popular vote.
