OLD MISSOURI

Old Missouri; Fair Missouri,
Dear Old Varsity!
Ours are hearts that fondly love thee!
Here's a health to thee!

Proud art thou in classic beauty
Of thy noble past,
With thy watch-words, Honor, Duty,
Thy high fame shall last.

Every student, man and maiden,
Swell the glad refrain,
Till the breezes, music laden,
Waft it back again.

What an added inspiration in that old song if it were played at every mass meeting on a Pipe Organ in the proposed University of Missouri Auditorium!

With the aid of the NORTHWESTERN MUTUAL Idea it can be accomplished.

Consult the NORTHWESTERN MUTUAL man in your town or write direct to the shadow of the Columns for the facts.

A Pipe Organ for the University

THE article by E. W. Stephens on The Need of a New Auditorium in the September issue of the ALUMNUS presents an excellent appeal of a need that has existed for at least sixteen years. I say sixteen years, because Phi Mu Alpha is sixteen years old this season, and one of the trials and tribulations during these sixteen years has been the inadequacy of the auditorium.

Fine as the appeal of Mr. Stephens is, and pressing as is the need of an auditorium, one may question the wisdom of asking the Legislature of Missouri for another building at this time, if the granting of this request means that the maintenance fund of the University will suffer. The heart of any institution of learning is the teaching staff and its work; if this heart does not get its proper blood supply it will stop beating. What we need at this present moment above everything else is an ample and generous maintenance fund. We must be able to keep our good men. Let us all pull together to induce the next legislature to settle upon an adequate maintenance fund first, and then to allow the grant of an auditorium.

This is merely introductory. The main purpose of these lines is to call the attention of my fellow alumni to an opportunity which presents itself in connection with the proposed new auditorium. Our dream would come true if a beautiful and magnificent pipe-organ were presented by a loyal alumnus or alumna, or a group of alumni. Such a memorial gift would be a blessing indeed.

This giving for memorial purposes to your Alma Mater is not a new idea here. The Neff Hall for Journalism is a splendid example of how a son bears a loving memory of his father and makes the institution where he has received his training and inspiration the beneficiary. There are scholarships and spends here which concretely memorialize a beautiful spirit of love and devotion. When your Alma Mater thus enters into the very affection of your soul and urges a concrete token of your grateful remembrance of values received it is then that we may hope for greater and better things for the University of Missouri.

But why a pipe organ?

There are many reasons why a memorial gift of a pipe organ would be a blessing to our student and University community. Foremost among these reasons is the one that has to do with inspiration and ideals; in a word, with the liberalizing of the human mind. Would it surprise you to learn that in our very midst the purely vocational idea in educational values is becoming more and more firmly entrenched? Now, there is no quarrel with the vocational idea as such. We need to have a vocation, a job, and we need to be well trained and prepared for such a job. But, when the job idea usurps in the student's mind the whole of what educational values should mean to him, then it is time that we apply a counter-irritant. Life is more than a job, and the human individual is infinitely more than a mere cog in the machine. To give the student who casts his lot with us for four successive years a glimpse of the infinite possibilities of life, to broaden his sympathies, to quicken his imagination and instill in him the love for the beautiful—is this program worthy?

Good music is one agent to open the intangible world of the imperishable, the inspirational, and the beautiful to a young mind, and the true musical appeal has not yet come into its own in our student family life. It is time that it did. Think of what immeasurable values are given out if week after week the student body has an invitation to hear the great masterpiece, to commune in quiet vespers services with the great hearts and souls of those who had vital, human truths to tell. That is why generation after generation of Cornell students rise to call their Alma Mater blessed, because during their years of forming they had the privilege of hearing master organists interpret human values to them, which gave them hope and faith and inspiration in the din and dust of their daily routine and quickened their spirit for the vocation that they engaged in.

If you dream the dream of greatness for your Alma Mater, give it at least a chance! The neighboring universities around us have what your Alma has not. Bethink yourself in your heart and set aside from the material wealth that has come to you because you were here and got your start in life here a sum as a memorial offering for the help and inspiration of those who come after you. A greater service you cannot perform than to help in liberalizing the mind of your fellowman, your fellow Missourian.

A memorial gift of a pipe organ, the king of instruments, placed in the proposed new auditorium, will prove a benediction and a blessing to both the donor and the recipient.

Help your Alma Mater!

The University of Missouri in 1883.

By W. H. TRUITT
San Gabriel, California

When I entered the University September 10, 1883, thirty-nine years ago there were enrolled about six hundred and fifty students. It was a small school indeed compared with the University of today, but for that time it was a large institution. I remember the boasts of the very large enrollment, and as I recall, Dr. J. C. Jones is the only remaining member of the faculty of that day. Dr. S. S. Laws was president. There were professors McNally, Black, Switzer, Fisher, Allen, Thomas, and others to the total number of about twenty-five. Yes, we had a large University.

And from that small number of students were turned out some of our country's most prominent men. The law class of 1887, of which I was a member, has furnished some of the leading men of the day. Will Mack, New York, editor-in-chief of Cyc., H. M. Stephens, Spoke, a leading lawyer of the Northwest, John M. Evans, Montana, in Congress from that state for several terms, Judge Harris of the Boone County Circuit Court, J. Allen Smith, professor in University of Washington at Seattle.

There were no athletic games of those days and the interests of student life were centered about the literary societies. There were two, the Athenaeum and the Union Literary, and the rivalry between them kept up a lively interest. There were periodical contests, and the names of a few of the men engaged in those contests come to my mind at this time. There was Spillman, Harry Williams, W. W. Love, Lawrence Maupin, Jason McElvain, George Belcher, Payne Boulton, Tom Ruby, Ev. Downing, Jim Whitecotton, George Cheney, Isidor Loeb, Burton Thompson, Bert Elston, Pat Cullen, Todd Gentry, R. Gurdon Thompson, the prince of gentleman, and others.

My first experience with college students was on Hallowe'en, 1883, when some five hundred students gathered at midnight to lay the corner stone for the new wings to the old Academic Hall then in course of construction. Jack Rummons was there (the University police force), and I remember the shaking up he got while standing by one of the old cannon when a risky student pulled the firing plug.

During the four years of my student life and the sixteen years as resident of Columbia after my graduation there was one outstanding feature in the student life of the University. I refer to the Agricultural Parade pulled off, I think, in the spring of 1887. Dr. Laws had a pet in the Agricultural College, and when the annual report came out the cover was inscribed "The Agricultural College and the University of the State of Missouri." The protest that went up resulted in the reprinting and placing of a new cover on these reports before they were circulated. The State Legislature, then in session, sent a committee to Columbia to make an investigation, and it was on the occasion of this visit the students staged the farce agricultural parade. I leave that feature to the memories of those who witnessed the parade, as no pen can describe the event. If we could reproduce that stunt today in Hollywood we would immortalize those participating by taking a moving picture.

Of the faculty not mentioned above I want to mention Dr. Wood Moss, Dr. McAlister, Dr. Spencer, Prof. Cauthorn and Prof. Lowrey.

Then there were students I want to mention: C. B. Farris, Ed. Walls, Tom Hughes, Henry Clark, Hiram Phillips, T. J. J. See, R. L. Knox, Hanau Loeb, R. W. Barrow, Will Gentry, Tom Ridge, Frank Dexter—all good students. E. W. Crowder was then Commandant of Cadets, and was taking the law course. We all know the honor he has brought upon the University.

As I think back over those years spent in the University, I wish that I were a boy again and privileged to again attend for another four years this old school with its superior advantages of today.

The Freshman-Sophomore class rush was revived this year by Irl W. Brown, president of the student body. The event was held on Rollins Field October 14. There was a mounted tug of war, won by the freshmen. The freshmen also won the standing tug of war. The spar boxing contest between freshmen and sophomores on a greased pole, when opponents tried to knock each other off, was won by the sophomores. The bag rush proved to be the big event. About one thousand persons attended the rush. Mr. Brown had installed an electric football score board for the class rush which showed the plays of the Missouri-Ames game in detail. The student body has purchased this score board to show the football games when Missouri is away from Columbia.

Daniel L. Brenner, a sophomore in the College of Arts and Science, has been awarded $25 as the second prize in an essay contest conducted by the American synagogue and school extension department, of the national organization of Jewish congregations among the larger universities. The contest was conducted by districts. Mr. Brenner won the prize in District 32, supervised by Dr. Leon Harrison of St. Louis. The essay was entitled "What Has the Jew Accomplished in Philanthropy?"

The "Farthest Away" Alumni

By DUKE N. PARRY

B. J. '20

Superintendent, Far East International News Service, Tokyo.

THOUSANDS of miles, from Rollins Field, at the Imperial Hotel in Tokyo, Japan, there will be held on December 2 a dinner, unique in the history of Tiger Alumni gatherings. "The most distinctive of all Missouri University alumni groups"—this is the claim made for the Tokyo chapter of Missourians by its members. Founded in 1920 by eighteen of Missouri's sons and daughters living in the Orient it has extended its influence to Peking and Shanghai where other Missouri graduates live and hold prominent places in the foreign communities. And so, on this approaching third anniversary of the founding of the "farthest away" alumni group, special interest is held by them in what will transpire at Columbia on Thanksgiving Day.

Japan claims for itself the privilege of welcoming the tourist who enters the Orient for a trip to Japan, Korea and China. In a similar way the Tokyo Missourians claim for themselves the privilege of welcoming and farewelling the wandering Missourians who happen to pass that way. In this way there have been entertained by the Missourians in Tokyo in the last year Dean Walter Williams of the School of Journalism of the University of Missouri, Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Gordon of Columbia, J. B. Powell of Shanghai, Don D. Patterson of the School of Journalism faculty, Misses Margaret and Opal Powell of Shanghai, both graduates of the University of Missouri, and Mrs. D. D. Moss of Columbia. All of these Missourians traveling to and from the Far East have expressed themselves as well pleased with the achievements of the "Faraway Group" of Missouri alumni members.

Just as soon as a score of the Missouri-Kansas contest reaches New York, the office of the Japan Advertiser in that city will send a cable to Tokyo, similar in every way to cables which have been sent for the past two years, giving the name of the winning team and two more words the highest score first, the losing score second. From New York the message will be wired to San Francisco, and shortly after that, in a day's time it is estimated, Mr. Glenn Babb, managing editor of the Japan Advertiser will have in his hands the score of the 1922 Homecoming Game. Once in Tokyo the score will be carefully put away in a sealed envelope and none but Mr. Babb will know the result of the contest until the speeches begin at the Tokyo Tiger Banquet December 2.

This, in brief, is the way that the Missourians in Tokyo will be told of the work of the 1922 Tigers, although advance dope in plenty will filter into the office of the Japan Advertiser, and from there to the other Missourians, from the time the score of the first game, as printed in the Evening Missourian, reaches Tokyo. If Columbia was disappointed in the score of the Ames contest, Columbians may be assured that Tokyo Missourians were also disappointed, or that they will be just as soon as the Missourian story reaches Japan. For Tokyo's Missourians, despite the distance they are from Columbia, do not lose their desire to "figure the advance dope," and they get many of the thrills of the fall season by talking it over before the big day comes.

The first meeting of Tokyo alumni was held in 1920, with eighteen Missourians and Missourian's wives present. At that time Mr. H. H. Kinyon, managing editor of the Trans-Pacific Magazine, was elected president. Among the visitors at that time were Miss Myrtle Parker of Columbia, then on a visit with her sister, Miss Edith Parker of Tokyo, and Mr. and Mrs. Smith of Pittsburgh, Pa., the later two both alumni of the University.

Of the original membership of the Tokyo organization Mr. and Mrs. Vaughn Bryant and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Kinyon and their families have returned to the United States. But to take their places there have come to the Orient since then Mr. John Casey, Mr. Morris Harris, Mr. James McClain, Mr. John R. Morris, Mr. Rinehart Egger, Mr. Edward B. Smith, all graduates of the University. Mr. Frank Hedges has gone to Peking where he keeps in touch with Missourians passing that way.

At the meeting last year of the organization two honorary members of the Tokyo alumni association were elected, these two being Dean Walter Williams and Mr. B. W. Fleisher, editor and publisher of the Japan Advertiser of Tokyo. More honorary members may be taken in later. At the meeting this year it will be necessary to choose a new president and to fill other vacancies in office. Mr. Robert F. Moss of Tokyo, a graduate of the School of Engineering, will doubtless hold his position as President Emeritus, an honor conferred upon him because of the fact that Mr. Moss has held the presidency of practically every other American organization in Tokyo at one time or another.

Thus Missouri adds to its claims for special note among the colleges of the United States the distinction of having the most wide-awake alumni group in Tokyo, if not in the entire Far East. While eastern colleges have their graduates in Tokyo it is quite true to say that the University of Missouri graduates there are better known and are making the University of Missouri better and more favorably known than are those of any other institution. Recently a Washington newspaperman reached Tokyo, having come from the United States on the United States Coast Guard cutter, Mojave, with the party brought over to the Orient by Assistant Secretary of Commerce Huston. He dropped into the Advertiser office for a chat with some of the newspapermen there, newspapermen, who, by the way, are two-thirds of them Missourians. Mr. Ben Kline, news editor, in the course of the conversation, asked if there might be any chance of some other newspaperman making the trip back to the United States with the Huston party. He thought he was talking to a strange newspaperman who knew nothing of who the men were on the Japan Advertiser. He was surprised when the newspaperman, in answer to his inquiry about the trip on the Mojave, said, "What's the matter, some of you Missouri newspaper men want to get back to the old state?"

The newspaperman who made the remark proved to be an old Washington friend of Mr. Charles "Doodles" Ross, former Professor in the School of Journalism and now Washington correspondent for the St. Louis Post-Dispatch. He had heard of the activities of Missourians in the newspaper field in the Orient, and he took it for granted that any man on the Japan Advertiser must be a Missourian.

The Missourians in Tokyo, through the ALUMNUS, take this opportunity to say that not only are visiting Missourians to the Far East invited to call at the Japan Advertiser, or to look up some of the other members of the Tokyo Tiger group, but they are commanded to do so. And if there is anything in the capital city of Japan which Missourians there have not found, they will be glad to make investigations along any lines that the visiting friend from Columbia may suggest. The Tiger group's latchkey, in Tokyo, is always hanging out.

Work Is Started on New University Buildings.

The contract for the erection of a new hospital building on Francis Quadrangle of the University was let to the Simon Construction Co. October 16. Nine bids were opened. The building contract amounts to $112,964.

The new hospital will be located between the Parker Memorial Hospital and Lathrop Hall. It will be three stories high and constructed of red brick and Carthage stone. It will have a capacity of fifty beds and will be completed by August 1, 1923.

With the completion of this building and the new laboratory now under construction the School of Medicine will have a complete medical rating and will give a full medical course and doctor's degree to graduates.

With the awarding of this contract to-day, the University completes the expenditure for buildings allotted by the Legislature last year and also completes one of the largest building programs ever appropriated by the state for University improvements. Over $700,000 worth of improvements are now under construction.

A new medical laboratory and clinical hospital with a capacity of one hundred beds, which was planned last year to be built on the West Campus on Elm street, was given up because of a shortage of funds. It was to have cost $350,000. The two new buildings now under construction and contracted for will cost $285,000.

The committee recently appointed by the Board of Curators of the University who received the bids and awarded the contracts, consists of President J. C. Jones; H. J. Blanton, member of the board; Dean E. J. McCaustland; E. E. Brown, business manager of the University, and Leslie Cowan, secretary of the University.

The Ags Hold Annual Frolic at Rothwell Gym.

The 1922 Barnwarming was held the night of October 20. Rothwell Gymnasium was decorated in traditional barnwarming style with distinctive variations. The farmer couples entered at the southeast corner through a barn lot littered with machinery, went through a barn door, left their wraps at the hitch racks provided for that purpose, and clambered up through tons of straw and corn stalks to the dancing floor.

A canopy of foliage hid the roof of the Gym, and at the north end there was a reproduction of a scene on the farm. Near a farmhouse a mill stream trickled over the wheel to a duck pond. Ducks, geese, and chickens made it seem realistic. Apple barrels and cider kegs were much in evidence—their contents were the gift of Mr. and Mrs. T. R. Douglas, both alumni, who live at McBaine.

One booth was devoted to the alumni, and the following were present: Herschel G. Crawford, '22, Atlanta, Mo.; Oscar G. Stutz, '22, manager of the White Eagle Dairy at Fulton; Ira D. Mullinax, A. B. '03, of the Twice-a-Week St. Louis Globe-Democrat; C. A. Moor, '22, Muskogee; C. E. Brown, '21, county agent at Carrollton; Mrs. Henrietta Stewart Brown, '21, Carrollton, Queen of the 1920 arn-- p000B Barnwarming; Clarence W. Davis, '22, county agent of Andrew County; M. R. Hoberecht, '22, Sedalia; Mr. and Mrs. N. T. Gentry and Mr. and Mrs. Glenn G. Davis of Columbia.

The Queen of the Barnwarming was Miss Elizabeth Estes of Columbia. She is a sister of Mrs. Everett Manning (Zanna Mae Estes) and of Joe, Betty, and Anne Estes. She appeared from the blossom of a mammoth pumpkin vine and was crowned by Dean F. B. Mumford.

Students were made aware of the imminent Barnwarming by the appearance of a Jersey cow just south of Jesse Hall the morning before. She was striped in true tiger fashion and had the words "Beat Nebraska" painted on her sides. Students hurrying to their 8 o'clock classes found the janitors trying to catch about a hundred white chickens which had been put in the building during the night. There was a great deal of confusion, and chickens were fluttering about the campus the rest of the day.

The managers of the affair had dozens of letters and telegrams congratulating them on their success. John Olson was manager; Dake Mecker, assistant manager; Ben Steiner, secretary-treasurer; Norville Allen, assistant secretary-treasurer.

"Daddy" Defoe Celebrates Thirtieth Anniversary.

Professor and Mrs. L. M. Defoe celebrated the thirtieth anniversary of their wedding September 30. On that date, 1892, Luther Martin Defoe and Miss Cora Alice Eitzen were married at the home of the bride's parents in Washington, Mo. It was the culmination of a college romance as both were students of the University when they first met.

Professor and Mrs. Defoe were presented with a silver flower basket the night of September 19 by the members of the Round Table Club, which met at the Defoe home.

On the afternoon of the twentieth engineering students of the University, led by the University band, marched to "Daddy's" home and presented him with a silver platter.

Professor Defoe was born on a farm in Moniteau County, September 6, 1860. His father was Thomas Melville Defoe of Manchester, St. Louis County, and his mother was Miss Mary Frances Dunlap of Knoxville, Tenn. Both were of pioneer families.

For more than fourteen years, Professor Defoe has been a member of the discipline committee, and for several years, the chairman of that body. In this capacity, as well as in his classes, he has made a host of student friends, for he has shown himself to have a deep sympathy with, and a close understanding of the students' problems, and to be always ready and willing to help them out of their difficulties. It is for this reason that alumni, in writing back to friends in the University, ask about "Daddy" Defoe. A few years ago, a Savitar was dedicated to him, with the following words which express the feelings of his many friends:

"There is in the University of Missouri a scholar, a gentleman, and a patriot; one whose modesty in his works, whose disregard for the rewards of service, may tend to take from him the credit he deserves.

"To this teacher, friend of men, to Professor L. M. 'Daddy' Defoe, whose student friends are numbered by the hundreds and whose name is respected by Columbians and Missourians everywhere; to the 'grand old man' of the faculty, the 1918 Savitar is dedicated."

News From Alumni Centers— Reunion at the Arkansas Fair

How It Turned Out.

More than one hundred and fifty persons attended the Missouri University Association banquet at Little Rock, Ark. October 11, which was held as part of Missouri University Day at the Arkansas State Fair. President J. C. Jones was the principal speaker. H. K. Thatcher, B. S. in Ag. '15 presided as toastmaster. Dean Knapp of the College of Agriculture of the University of Arkansas at Fayetteville and Bob Hill also spoke.

An election of officers for the state association of Arkansas was held. H. K. Thatcher was elected president and G. Hartsell Banks, B. S. in Ag. '14, director of the Arkansas Cotton Growers' Association, was elected secretary-treasurer.

The Arkansas Association plans to hold district meetings in different sections of the state. Fayetteville, with twenty-six alumni, Texarkana with thirty, Pine Bluff with twenty, and Little Rock, which has a group of over fifty Missouri students and graduates, will be the centers for the meetings. Lunches will be held at stated times for get-together meetings of the members. Little Rock is planning to send a large contingent to the University for Homecoming.

Among the guests at the University Day banquet were Mrs. E. G. Bylander, wife of the secretary of the Arkansas Fair and for many years secretary of the Missouri State Fair, and J. F. Case, president of the Missouri State Board of Agriculture, and chairman of the University of Missouri junketing committee, appointed by Governor Hyde.

President Thatcher had every one present at the banquet get up and make a personal introduction to the crowd giving the name, years of attendance at the University, business and present address. This novel way of breaking down formal barriers proved to be very amusing. A telegram was read, congratulating the Arkansas alumni on their big banquet from the President of the Arkansas Club made up of students from Arkansas enrolled in the University of Missouri. The Arkansas alumni plan to make this an annual affair during the State Fair at Little Rock.

Headquarters for the attendants at the University of Missouri Day festivities were maintained at a tent on the fair grounds. In the morning, auto drives, a parade with a band and Missouri badges, and other celebrations occupied the time. President Jones and Mr. Hill returned to Columbia October 13, President Jones stopping at Poplar Bluff to address the Chamber of Commerce there.

A Letter from Dunklin County.

Kennett, Mo.

We met last night and organized a Dunklin County Missouri Alumni Association. We showed the "Tiger Town" film and had some peppy speeches by some of the old Tigers.

We elected for president, Senator T. R. Ely, a graduate of the class of 1881; for vice-president, Mrs. Paul Baldwin of the class of 1908; for secretary and treasurer, C. R. Talbert of the class of 1922.

A goodly sized crowd of alumni was present and much interest was manifested. We will meet again November 6 at which time we will take up such matters as the MISSOURI ALUMNUS and appointment of committees to direct the work of the association.

C. R. TALBERT.

Kansas City Alumni Banquet.

Write R. Crosby Kemper, City Bank of Kansas City, President of the Kansas City Alumni Association about the Kansas City alumni banquet to be given the night of November 17 at the Hotel Baltimore during the Missouri State Teachers' Association Convention.

Girls' Rooter Organization.

Hush! They have arrived!

The Mizzou Razettes! Twenty-five of the loyal daughters of the University of Missouri have formed into a rooters organization in conjunction with the Mizzou Razzers which has been in existence for the last three years. Little has been given out about the new organization, more than the fact that they are here. Little beyond staring will be accomplished this year. The Razettes will appear at the games on Rollins Field in costume, and will take active part in pepping up the girl rooters in the stands.

Debating Squad Chosen.

Members for the University debating team were selected October 12. The following were successful in the Varsity try-outs: D. L. Brenner, H. R. Bunenberg, Richard Crouch, Fred Eldean, J. J. Frye, E. E. Hall, Nathan Ladinsky, D. Lagas, A. Larson, Benton Lee, C. P. McKinney, Joe Reed, C. H. Snider and B. B. Wade.

C. Paddock, R. D. Shewmaker, O. Sutin and F. E. Wetherill were chosen for the freshman squad. The students on the team that will debate Lindenwood College are: Marian Alley, Carol Hubbard and Jean Ringier.

The Missouri Nurses Meet.

The annual convention of the Missouri State Nurse's Convention was held in Columbia, Oct. 24, 25, and 26. It is a splendid body of women and Columbia was fortunate in having the annual convention here in order that nurses could learn about the University and its needs. The officers are: President, Mance Taylor, Columbia; 1st Vice-President, Margaret Rogers, St. Louis; 2nd Vice-President, Emma Bechtel, Springfield; Secretary, Bertha Love, Columbia; Treasurer, Jannette Flanagan, St. Louis.

A Monument to Eugene Field.

A monument to Eugene Field, Missouri's 'children's poet,' was unveiled this week in Lincoln Park, Chicago, by the children of that city. The children, through newspaper funds, raised nearly $10,000 for the monument and the remainder was given by the Ferguson Foundation.

The children of Missouri also have established a memorial to the honor of Eugene Field. Instead of erecting a marble statue, a Eugene Field scholarship open to students in the School of Journalism of the University, was decided upon as being more in keeping with the spirit of the poet and journalist. The scholarship is open to students who have been at least two terms in the School of Journalism and is given to that student who has shown himself best equipped in professional ideals and in general newspaper-making ability.

It is especially fitting that the memorial given by the children of Missouri through J. West Goodwin, of Sedalia, chairman of the committee, should be a scholarship in the School of Journalism of this University, for Eugene Field was himself a student in the University and a journalist. In this way, the influence of the Missouri poet-journalist is incarnated in the lives of many. Not only is his name honored but his work as a journalist is being projected through the years. Better journalists are being given to the profession because of him.—Columbia Evening Missourian.

THE GLEE CLUB

Dr. Hermann B. Almstedt has been secured as director of the University Men's Glee Club and Mandolin Club. Doctor Almstedt was director of the Glee Club last year, and took the Glee and Mandolin Clubs for a concert tour of the State. Last year's Glee and Mandolin Clubs were exceptionally fine. The comment upon their performances was such that the University gained considerable prominence and publicity. County and City alumni associations should correspond at once with Mr. Almstedt in regard to the Glee and Mandolin Club trip this year and lend every support to make our Glee and Mandolin Club trip worth while in order that it will be possible to reach a large number of the high school students and alumni.

George Venable, director of the band of sixty pieces, also deserves the support of the alumni. It has been suggested here year after year that the band make a trip similar to that of the Glee and Mandolin Clubs. Certainly the band makes a splendid representation for the University.

The Phi Mu Alpha Program.

Phi Mu Alpha is celebrating its sixteenth anniversary by putting on the biggest program in its history. Seven concerts, four by the St. Louis Symphony Orchestra, and a long list of soloists, tell the story in brief. The complete program is as follows:

Oct. 23, Francis McMillen, violinist.
Nov. 15, Ukrainian National Chorus, forty voices, with Mme. Nina Koshetz, soprano, of the Moscow Opera, and Mlle. Oda Slobodskaja, soprano, of the Petrograd Opera, as soloists.
Nov. 28, St. Louis Symphony Orchestra, with soloists: M. Gustoff, violinist, (matinee), and Max Steindel, cellist, (evening).
Feb. 12, Nelson Illingworth, Baritone.
March 21, St. Louis Symphony Orchestra, matinee and evening, with Director Rudolph Ganz, pianist.

True to its traditions, Phi Mu Alpha makes no profit on these concerts; the members do not claim even so much as a complimentary ticket. The adherence to this policy has made it possible to offer season tickets to this unusual series at $6.50. The prospects of a highly successful season are very bright.

Pyle's Story Wins Prize.

Maxwell E. H. Pyle's short story, "Unshackled," which won the prize in the 1922 contest of Sigma Upsilon, national literary fraternity, has appeared in the October number of the Sigma Upsilon News Letter. This is the second time that this story has been published, its first appearance being in the Sunday Magazine of the St. Louis Globe-Democrat. Pyle is a member of Gamma Phi Psi, local chapter of Sigma Upsilon.

School of Education Needs A Service Bureau.

By DR. A. G. CAPPS
School of Education

The school people of Missouri feel very strongly the need for an educational service Bureau in the School of Education of the University of Missouri. Last year one hundred and fifty superintendents of city and county school systems in Missouri, in reply to a letter of inquiry, indicated clearly that they needed services that could be rendered only by such a bureau. Further, within the last twelve months the Missouri State Teachers' Association, the Superintendents' Convention, the five district meetings of the Missouri State Teachers' Association and other groups of educators and students of education have passed resolutions request-

This Family Grew Up With the University.

By CHAS. R. L. HALLEY, JR., M.D., A.B.

The following story tells of a family that has indeed been well-represented in the University of Missouri.

My mother's grandfather and grandmother, Lazarus Wilcox (1790-1835) and Lucy Helen Wilcox (1794-1870), came from Kentucky to what is now Boone County, Missouri in 1816 or 1817. He was one of the first judges of Boone County and a charter member of the Bonne Femme Baptist Church. Lucy Wilcox gave $300 and three of her sons, Edwin R., George B., and Joseph, each $100, a total of $600 from the family to the fund which was raised in order to locate the University at Columbia, this in 1839; her name may be found on page 24 of the original list of subscribers.

At least two sons of Lucy Wilcox attended and graduated from the University, James Meredith Wilcox in 1840, and Francis Wilcox in 1855. James Meredith Wilcox lived in Texas subsequently and had a large family, two of his sons, George and James, and possibly others, being at the University. A Joseph Wilcox, apparently the one mentioned above, attended the University, but his record is uncertain.

A grandson of Lucy Wilcox, Frank B. Craddock, was a student at the University in 1876-77. Subsequently, he graduated from the Barnes Medical School and is now in Sheridan, Wyo. Judge Frank Wilcox of McKinney, Texas, another grandson, was a student at the University for two or more years.

Echoes From the Tiger Camp

Past, Present and Future Dope

The Tiger Eleven.

Missouri has a line, a backfield and a spirit—a combination that's hard to beat. The line looks like a world beater. Grinnell was able to penetrate it only once for a first down on straight football, and the freshmen in the scrimmages before the Ames game have found it a stone wall. Captain Bunker, moved from center to tackle, is proving himself a giant of strength in his new position, and Van Dyne and Keller, alternating at the other tackle job, are making both sides of the Missouri forward wall look just alike to opponents.

At center Clyde Smith is playing a game his first year that bids fair to put him in football's hall of fame before his gridiron career ends. As a defensive player he is at his best, and he takes every inch of the big opportunity offered the defensive center.

The guards and ends, which were the subject of much speculation early in the season, are coming through in great shape. Lewis is a flash, one of the fastest starting linemen Missouri has had in years, and Palermo, Wertz, and a couple of other likely men are fighting hard for a chance to stand between center and tackle when the Tigers line up. Rosecoe Hill, who starred at end two years ago, has gone back to his old position this fall and that makes one wing accounted for. "Tin" Adams, Harry Schwimmer, Bob Hays and Johnny Walsh are in a stiff battle for the other end position, which means that it will be well taken care of.

In the backfield there is a new drive which completely overwhelmed the Grinnell aggregation when the Tigers took them into camp here in the opening game. Al Lincoln, giant of strength and flash of speed, after two years of injury handicaps, is really going. And little short of a trench mortar can stop Al Lincoln when he gets going. "Red" Kershaw, flashing halfback of two years' experience, has been shifted to quarter, where he is proving himself a real find at calling the signals, and is taking his turn at carrying the ball with the same ability he showed in the half-back position.

Fowler and Knight, both of whom have shown a good drive at carrying the ball, with Lincoln solved the kicking question. Lincoln is handling the point kicking in great shape, and Fowler and Knight have uncorked their punts into easy yardage making attacks.

Bond, another regular in the backfield, is a scrapping, hard hitting ball lugger, who has made his place safe in his first week on the squad and Tony Bundschu, veteran of two seasons, has been out with a dislocated shoulder.

Truly, everything is right in the Tiger camp this year. With a coaching staff that has ability and experience, and that is popular with the men and the school, with good material, and with a revival of school spirit which has surpassed any seen at Missouri in recent years, the Tigers are off on a big year.

The Games That Are Over With.

Missouri's first conference game was played with Grinnell on Rollins Field, October 7. Though Grinnell is supposed to have a better team than it has had for years it was an easy victory for Missouri, 23 to 0. Lincoln was the outstanding figure in the game.

Missouri won from Ames, 6 to 3, on October 14. The score was 0 to 0 until the third quarter when Lincoln made a place-kick from the 20-yard line. In the fourth quarter Ames tied the score with a place-kick. Lincoln made a second place-kick from the 40-yard line.

At Lincoln, October 21, Nebraska won easily from Missouri with a score of 48 to 0. Nebraska's heavy team is one of the best in the country. On the same day our cross-country track team defeated Nebraska at Lincoln. We won first, second, third, fifth, sixth, and seventh places.

Missouri defeated St. Louis University at St. Louis with a 9 to 0 score on October 28. St. Louis plays a strong defensive game. Our offensive was rather weak and the score was a complete surprise to Tiger followers. A much larger score was expected.

Bond Is Basketball Coach.

Meet Coach George Bond!

Star of the Tiger Varsity basketball squad for three years, all-Valley player, one of the most accurate basket shots the Valley has ever seen, and versatile enough to star at guard or forward as the needs might be, Bond has come back to Missouri as assistant to Athletic Director Z. G. Clevenger for the coming basketball season.

Bond, who is already working with the Tiger squad in preliminary practice, will have charge of the Tiger floorwork, Clevenger announced in making his appointment, and will assist Clevenger in the management of the team.

The short pass game, which the Tigers have used so successfully in recent years, will be continued.

Clevenger and Bond will be considerably handicapped in their pre-season work because of the large number of Varsity cage men who are on the football squad, including Bunker, Hays, Walsh, Lester, Lewis and W. Smith.

On the Cinder Track.

Coach Bob Simpson's track squad is out every day, rain or shine, getting into condition and doing preliminary work for next spring's track program. The cross country team will take part in two more dual meets—Kansas and Washington—and the Conference Meet. They defeated Nebraska Oct. 21, the first three men across the finish line wearing Missouri colors.

Recruits from last year's freshman team strengthen Simpson's squad for the coming season, and he has a mighty likely looking bunch of freshmen this year to boost Tiger stock when they become eligible.

Basketball Schedule Arranged.

The athletic directors of the nine schools in the Missouri Valley Conference, met at Kansas City September 30 and drew up the basket ball schedules for the 1922-23 season.

The round-robin system was again followed in drawing up this year's schedule, each school playing from fifteen to eighteen games, beginning the first week in January.

The Tigers will play sixteen games, opening the season January 5 at Grinnell, followed by a game the next day against Drake at Des Moines.

At the same meeting it was decided to hold the Missouri Valley cross country run at Washington University on November 11.

Missouri's basketball schedule is as follows:

January 5—Grinnell at Grinnell.
January 6—Drake at Des Moines.
January 12—Kansas Aggies at Columbia.
January 13—Oklahoma at Columbia.
January 16—Kansas at Columbia.
January 20—Ames at Ames.
January 22—Nebraska at Lincoln.
January 30—Washington at St. Louis.
February 3—Oklahoma at Norman.
February 9—Ames at Columbia.
February 10—Grinnell at Columbia.
February 13—Kansas Aggies at Manhattan.
February 23—Drake at Columbia.
February 24—Nebraska at Columbia.
February 28—Kansas at Lawrence.
March 3—Washington at Columbia.

Wearing Tiger Colors.

The Jayhawk eleven is getting used to the Tiger colors early this season. The K. U. freshman squad has blossomed out in gold colored jerseys of the shade worn by the Tigers. The varsity takes nightly workouts against the first-year men and should be thoroughly accustomed to the old gold color by the time the historic clash between Missouri and Kansas comes due on Thanksgiving day. The game is at Columbia this year.

Pruett Is Back in School.

Pruett created a sensation when he struck out Babe Ruth about ten times in four games. He allowed the Big Bambino but two hits in all of his games, one being a home run. Hubert (Lefty) Pruett, called (Shucks) in the American League is back in school and is enrolled as a pre-medic. Pruett made a reputation in the major league this year as a pitcher for the St. Louis Browns. He was the only pitcher to turn in a winning score against New York in the last series with the Browns.

NOTICE—PLEASE!

In addition to the program already outlined to you for "Home-Coming," Herbert Blumer, A. B. '22, ex-captain of the Missouri Tigers who is coaching the Columbia High School football team has asked that we announce the Columbia-University High School football game at two-thirty, November 29 on Rollins Field, the event to come off just before the big "Home-Coming" mass meeting that afternoon.

School of Education Needs

ing greater facilities for graduate work in Education in the University of Missouri. The Bureau is not only for the immediate services of the schools, but is essential today to graduate work in Education. Hence, if the University of Missouri is to grant these requests for graduate training, an Educational Service Bureau must be organized at the earliest possible date.

This need for an Educational Service Bureau in providing graduate training in Education has been recognized recently by the other leading teacher training institutions in the United States. Among these institutions that have found it necessary to establish such bureaus, we find the Universities of Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Michigan, Minnesota, Nebraska, Ohio, and Oklahoma.

The main purposes of an Educational Service Bureau are:

To assist local school systems in the solution of their current educational problems which they would not be able to solve most efficiently unless aided by educators outside their school systems. This may be done through correspondence, lectures, conferences, and school surveys.

To assist in the solution of educational problems involving a number of school systems or the state as a whole. Our educators are attacking these larger problems and are making noticeable progress, but they need assistance in continuing these investigations on a larger scale and in co-ordinating their work so that it will be done most effectively and the results given wider publicity. This can be done by an Educational Service Bureau by securing the co-operation of the investigators in making extensive surveys and carrying out projects continuing several years and by doing much of the clerical work involved.

To assist in providing greater facilities for graduate work in Education in the University of Missouri. At the same time that the Bureau is assisting the local school systems and the state at large in the solution of pressing problems, our graduate students in Education would be immeasurably aided by assigning to them these live problems for thesis work. At present our graduate students in Education find it difficult to meet the financial outlay involved in gathering the necessary original data for their theses. This reason has caused many students not to undertake graduate work and has caused others to select thesis problems that have proved worthless so far as contributing to the solution of vital educational problems in the State of Missouri is concerned.

Two great-grandsons of Lucy Wilcox have degrees from the University. Kenneth C. Sears, A. B. '13, was graduated '15 from the University of Chicago Law School, and is now a professor of Law at Missouri. Charles R. L. Halley, Jr., A. B. '18, was graduated in '22 from the Medical Department of the Johns Hopkins University.

Only those whose names are mentioned are known definitely to have been at the University, though other members of the family are supposed to have been in attendance at one time or another. I think that several Kings from Texas have been at Missouri University during recent years.

My father, Charles Robert Lee Halley, was a student at Missouri University from 1882 to '84, at the Missouri Medical College (now Washington University) in '84 and '85, and graduated in '88 from the Bellevue Hospital Medical College. He is now a physician in Sheridan, Wyoming.

Two of his brothers were students at the University: John Halley was there for one year about '78, graduated in '81 from the Missouri Medical College, and is now living in Glendale, California. H. C. D. Halley attended the University for one year in '76; his address is Auxvasse, Mo.

Three sons of H. C. D. Halley have attended the University. Earle Halley died in '12 while in his Senior year in the Engineering School. H. C. D. Halley, Jr., graduated in Engineering in '18, and is at present a District Highway Engineer. Tom Halley graduated in engineering in '21, his address being Auxvasse, Missouri.

Halley, Jr., graduated in Engineering in '18, and is at present a District Highway Engineer. Tom Halley graduated in Engineering in '21, his address being Auxvasse, Missouri.

If I am not mistaken, Edwin Boone Craighead was given an LL.D. by Missouri some years ago, he being a cousin of Charles R. L. Halley, Sr. He was a graduate of Central College, the President of the University of Montana and of Tulane University, and died a year or so ago.

A number of cousins of Charles R. L. Halley, Sr., have been students at the University. D. P. Lovelace, a student there in '76 and '77, was killed in an accident in St. Louis. T. J. Brooks, now living in New Mexico, was at Missouri in '83 and '84. A. R. Brooks, a student at Missouri from '83 to '85, graduated from the Louisville Medical College, and died shortly afterwards. George Craighead, now living in Fulton, Missouri, was a student at the University in '81 and '82, and several other members of the Craighead family having been at the University at various times.

University Women Meet.

The Missouri Division of the Alumni Association of University Women held its annual meeting in Columbia, October 19 and 20. Mrs. J. C. Parrish, A. B. '09, B. S. in Ed. '11, of Vandalia, is president. The seven clubs in Missouri are at Kansas City, St. Louis, Springfield, Maryville, Warrensburg, Vandalia, and Columbia.

Mrs. W. R. Cockefair of Warrensburg reported that sixty-four applicants for scholarship were taken care of by the committee on scholarship awards. There were discussions on the $500 girl of the rural district and the obtaining of more scholarships for women desiring an education. Mrs. J. C. Parrish of Vandalia, is the president of the organization. Dean Eva Johnston spoke on the recognition of colleges.

MISSOURI GEOLOGIST

LEO MURRAY NEWMANN.

Among the men who were students in the Department of Geology 1910 and 1915, Leo Murray Newmann is one whom the members of the department often recall. If they happen not to have him in mind for a few months, his call for young geologists to work on his staff is a pleasant reminder. Since 1918, when he was 32 years old, he has been chief geologist for the Carter Oil Company, a branch of Standard Oil, and he has employed, at various times, ten or more geologists trained in the University of Missouri.

Leo graduated in engineering from Oklahoma A. and M. College in 1910 and after spending one year in civil engineering work for the Santa Fe Railroad entered the University of Missouri in 1911 to specialize in geology. He spent three years in the University. The summers of 1912 and 1913 he was employed by the United States Geological Survey and the summer of 1914 by the Wisconsin State Geological Survey. He passed the U. S. Geological Survey examination the spring of 1914 but before receiving an appointment accepted a position as geologist for the Texas Oil Company. He was with the Texas Oil Company until January, 1916, when he became geologist for the Carter Oil Company. From 1917 to 1918 he was in charge of the subsurface work for that company and in July, 1918, was appointed their chief geologist. He has charge of the geological work of the Mid-continent and Rocky Mountain regions and his geological staff is one of the largest maintained by any oil company. He believes in paying good salaries, and getting and keeping the best men available. His modesty and depreciation of his own importance endear him to his men, while his judgment of men and his keen appreciation of the geological problems encountered win him their respect and admiration. His faithfulness to his duties has been as large a factor in his success as his geological competence, and his personality has won him friends everywhere.

He married Faith Goss, of Grand Rapids, Michigan, December 18, 1920. Their home is in Tulsa, Oklahoma.

Eight men are in graduate work in geology

this fall. Richard B. Rutledge, Roy H. Hall, and James S. Williams are completing the requirements for the Ph. D. degree, and I. A. Keyte, Henry S. McQueen, Virgil Cole, George Wieda, and H. M. King are taking work towards the Master's degree. Rutledge is working on a county report of Lawrence investigating the mineralogical composition of loess.

King, who is taking his master's degree in geography, will have as a thesis subject, The Geography of the Pacific Northwest. He did a part of the field work for this problem during the past summer.

Seven hundred and thirty-two students are registered in courses in Geology and Geography this term. The laboratory and class room space has not increased since the registration was 300 per term. The teaching force consists of E. B. Branson, W. A. Tarr, Sam T. Bratton, M. G. Mehl, Helen M. Strong, R. B. Rutledge, James S. Williams (on half time), and Virgil Cole (half time graduate assistant).

Geography has recently added to its equipment a maximum and minimum thermometer set, a hygrometer, a standard mercurial barometer, and projection lantern and screen.

Room 104 has a new map canopy which contains twenty up-to-date maps, so arranged that a physical map and a political map of each of the continents can be shown at the same time. A large number of wall maps are hung so as to be immediately available when wanted.

Courtney Werner, A. B. '17, and William W. Rubey, A. B. '20, who have been assistant geologists for the U. S. G. S., will be instructors in Geology at Yale University this year.

Missouri has three men on the faculty of the Department of Geology at Yale. Chester Longwell, who is rapidly gaining recognition in geological circles was the first to bring the attention of Yale to Missouri graduates. He is assistant Professor of geology there.

Lester Bailey, A. B. '19, A. M. '21, holds a scholarship in geology in Yale. A letter from Bailey states that he has registered in courses given by Lull, Longwell, and Schuchert.

Lee Murray Newmann

County for his thesis problem. Hall's thesis problem is the flint and diaspore clays of Missouri. Williams is working on the lower Mississippian of Missouri. Keyte is not in residence but writes from Colorado College that he will finish his thesis within two months.

McQueen is investigating the migration of oil through different types of sand. Cole did the field work for his Master's thesis, during the summer field trip, on a problem in the stratigraphy of New Mexico. Wieda is in-

is now teaching vocational agricultural in the Galt school. They will live on the Neff farm near Bethany in Harrison County, Missouri.

MAHER-BEATTY.

Mr. and Mrs. William Edward Maher, Shreveport, La., announce the marriage of their daughter, Anna, Alpha Phi, B. S. in Ed. '20, to Henry Lafferty Beatty, Kappa Sigma, Ohio State University, on October 11. They are at home at 1716 Buckner street, Shreveport.

BRUCE-BUSCHMAN.

Miss Josephine Bruce of Kansas City, a student in the University for two years and a member of Kappa Alpha Theta sorority, and Louis Buschman, former student and a member of Delta Tau Delta fraternity, were married in Kansas City, October 14. The bride's brother, John Bruce, is a student in the University this year and a member of Delta Tau Delta. Mr. Buschman is with a wholesale lumber company in Kansas City.

MOORE-SACHROWITZ.

Announcements have been received of the marriage of Miss Susie Lee Moore of East St. Louis, Illinois, to Dr. Alvan Sachrowitz of Kansas City, on October 14. Dr. Sachrowitz is a former student in the School of Medicine in the University, and is a member

PROCTOR-NEFF.

Miss Olive Proctor, B. S. in Ed. '15, Doniphan, Missouri, Dean of the home economics department of William Woods College and home demonstrator of the Callaway Farm Bureau and C. E. Neff, B. S. in Agr. '14, A. M. '15, of Galt, Missouri, will be married soon. Mr. Neff was at one time a county agent and of the Alpha Tau Omega fraternity. Miss Moore is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Rutherford Moore of East St. Louis. The couple will be at home in Kansas City after November 10.

WILLIAMS-HOLCOMB.

Miss Frances Elizabeth Williams, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sanford Williams of Bowling Green, Missouri, and Felix Bernard Holcomb were married October 18, at Bowling Green. Miss Williams received her education at Christian College. Mr. Holcomb, who is the son of Mrs. D'Arline Holcomb of Bowling Green, attended the University for two years, and was pledged to the Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity.

BARTH-LOEB.

Miss Sora Leona Barth of Boonville, A. B. and B. S. in Ed. '14, cousin of Isadore Barth of Columbia and Mr. Clarence D. Loeb, A. B. '13, cousin of Dean Isidor Loeb, were married in Boonville, October 10.

ANDERSON-WHITE.

How's this for a wedding announcement from Chas. H. White, A. B. '14, vice-president of the Bank of Seymour, Missouri.

October 19, 1922.

"I believe we are asked to send in items that are of interest, and as the following item is of more interest to me than anything that has ever been published in the ALUMNUS, I feel it my duty to comply with your request.

"I'll give you the facts as suppose you can form it better than I can.

"It starts:

"Parties: Olevan Anderson and Charles H. White, both of Seymour, Mo.

"Place: Springfield, Missouri.

"Date: September 28.

"Daughter of Mrs. Nelle Anderson, Seymour.

"Son of Mrs. R. J. White, Seymour.

"I received A. B. degree from University, 1914.

"She was student in Drury College, Springfield.

"Will make our home in Seymour.

"Suppose that is nuf-sed.

"Will have two or three more articles of interest for you before time of publication."

GLAUSE-EVERSOLE.

Announcement has just been received in Columbia of the marriage of Henry N. Eversole of Fulton to Miss Ann Glausé of St. Louis. Mr. Eversole was graduated from the University of Missouri, having received his A. B. degree in '10 and LL. B. in '12. He was one of the charter members of the local chapter of Pi Kappa Alpha. He served as captain in the World War and is now a member of the law firm of Cave & Eversole, at Fulton. Miss Glausé is a former student of Washington University.

SILK-HEENAN.

Word has been received of the marriage of David Heenan, Jr., and Mrs. Genevieve Silk, September 20, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John T. Warren in Honolulu, Hawaii. All the members of the wedding party were members of the Honolulu Press Club.

Mrs. Teenan is a graduate of Wellesley College, and was on the editorial staff of the Red Cross publication until she went to Honolulu last year to teach in the Phillips Commercial School of that city.

Mr. Heenan was graduated from the School of Journalism in '20. He went to Honolulu immediately, and was financial editor of the Star-Bulletin, until he became publicity manager of the States Theater last year. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. David Heenan of Kansas City. The couple will make their home in Honolulu.

HUGO-WIGBELS.

Formal announcement has been made of the marriage on September 25 of Miss Thelma Hugo of Chicago, Ill., and B. H. Wigbels, Jr., of New York City. Mr. Wigbels formerly attended the University and was graduated from the School of Engineering in '19. He is a brother of Miss Annie Belle Wigbels of the Alpha Gamma Delta sorority.

HOLCOMBE-REID.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Holcombe of Muskogee, Oklahoma, announce the approaching marriage of their daughter, Miss Leah Fay Holcombe, to Mr. Kenneth Myron Reid on October 21.

Miss Holcombe is a former student of the University and is a member of the Alpha Delta Pi sorority. While here Miss Holcombe was prominent in dramatics and music.

HARWOOD-CHAMBERS.

Mr. and Mrs. Boyd Winchester Harwood have sent out invitations to the wedding of their daughter, Miss Elizabeth Stone Harwood, former student of the University of Missouri and Kappa Kappa Gamma pledge and Roscoe Conkling Chambers which is to take place November 4, at the Linwood Boulevard Christian Church, Kansas City.

COSBY-KEARNEY.

Miss Amy Lee Kearney of Topeka, Kansas, and Harold Judson Cosby of Kansas City, Missouri, were married October 15. At home with the bride's parents in Topeka. As the bridal party entered the room, "Old Missouri" was played. Mr. Cosby is a graduate of the School of Engineering, and is now with the Illinois State Highway Commission at Paris. Mrs. Cosby attended the University last year and is a member of the Mallett Press Club.

Mr. and Mrs. Omer I. Oshel announce the birth of twin boys, Warren Wesley and Loren Lesley, June 1, '22. They are husky chaps, weighing fourteen and fifteen and two-tenths pounds, respectively. Mr. Oshel received a degree of A. M. in '15. He is a farmer near Gardner, Kansas. He was married in '17 to Miss Edna Dana.

Wilbur L. (Pat) Jarvis, former student, School of Arts and Science and wife of Eldorado, Kansas, announce the birth of a son.

Announcements have been received of the birth of a son, James Alfred, Jr., to Mr. and Mrs. James A. Quinn in Cincinnati, October 11. Mr. Quinn was instructor in sociology at the University of Missouri last year. He is now teaching in the University of Cincinnati. Mrs. Quinn was Miss Russell Clements of La Plata, Missouri, before her marriage and was a student in the University.

Mr. and Mrs. John A. Harris of Edington, Illinois, announce the birth of a son on October 13. They were both former students of the University. Mrs. Harris was formerly Miss Ella Chambers of Columbia.

Announcement has been received of the birth of Herbert Perry Davis, Jr., on October 13, to Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Perry Davis at Lincoln, Nebraska. Mr. Davis, Sr., received a degree of B. S. in Agr. '11. He is chairman of the Department of Dairy Husbandry, College of Agriculture, University of Nebraska. He married Miss Esther Gertrude Greiner. They have one daughter, Davis had the unusual nickname of "Horse Power" while in school. He attended the National Dairy Show, recently, and a meeting of the Eckles Club, an organization of the University of Missouri men who had work under Professor C. H. Eckles, while he was at the University of Missouri. Among those present he mentioned C. M. Long, Secretary Illinois Holstein Breeders, Ollie E. Reed, Chairman, Department of Dairying, Michigan Agricultural College, M. O. Maughan, Secretary National Dairy Council, C. L. Burlingham, Secretary, Ayrshire Breeders Association, W. M. (Billie) Regan, now head of the Department of Dairy Production, University of California, and about two dozen others whose names he did not remember.

Announcement has been received of the birth of a daughter, Muriel Noe, to Mr. and Mrs. J. Herschel Porter of Santa Rosa, California. Mrs. Porter was Miss Minnie Lee Noe, a former student in the University.

"There is two things in this world for which we are never prepared and they are twins," Elizabeth and Jean, weighing 5.5 and 5.6 pounds, respectively, arrived at the home of Professor and Mrs. A. C. Ragsdale, September 21. Mr. Ragsdale is head of the Department of Dairy Husbandry at the University of Missouri, B. S. Ag. '12.

A son, Joseph Ross Thornton, was born on October 4 to Mr. and Mrs. Edward W. Thornton, Tulsa, Oklahoma. Mrs. Thornton was formerly Miss Jeanette Ross of Tulsa. Mrs. Capps was formerly Miss Ruby Belle Barnes, '15. They have two boys and two girls. Capps is a member of Ad Club and Phi Delta Kappa.

teaching, continuing his studies at the same time. He continued teaching uninterrupted for twenty-four years, filling the office of county and city superintendent of a number of schools in Illinois and Missouri.

In 1884 he was tendered the Democratic nomination for Superintendent of Public Instruction of Illinois, but declined to become Superintendent of City Schools, Columbia, Missouri.

At this time there was no appropriation for a chair in Elocution and Oratory in the Missouri University, but at the invitation of Dr. S. S. Laws, then President of the University, Mr. Brown was tendered the use of class rooms and gave individual and class instruction to the students.

Some of Mr. Brown's books are: Common School Elocution (New York, 1880); Examiner and Review (Chicago, 1882); Manual of Oratory (New York, 1884); Test Problems in Arithmetic (Chicago, 1885); Test Problems in Algebra (Chicago, 1889); Rational Elocution (Chicago, 1896); Published after his death; Arithmetical Drill Book (Chicago, 1898).

Three of his poems are: An American Exile; Nathan Hale, the Martyr Spy; Which One? and many others are widely known.

WHAT THE OLD GRAD IS DOING

Warren W. Browne, B. S. '12-'15, and William T. Simrall, are in the investment bond business, Browne, Simrall & Co., 411 Olive street, St. Louis. They want alumni visiting in St. Louis to call at their office. They write as follows:

Change my address to read, 411 Olive street, St. Louis, Missouri, and stick the dollar I am enclosing into the Camera Fund. I never spent a dollar more willingly or for a better purpose.

I don't know how you could have missed it, but possibly you may not have heard that Bill Simrall and I have gone into the bond business together under the firm name shown on this stationery.

We will have Tom Smith in the poorhouse if he doesn't look to his laurels.

I am interested in the prospective banquet for the "M" men the night before Thanksgiving. You had better put my name down twice right now, for "She" and I will both be in Columbia to help beat Kansas this year, barring unforeseen contingencies. Incidentally, I expect to make back some of the expense attending the cost of dedication of a certain field last year in Kansas. I also expect to make interest on that bad investment.

Now that fall is beginning "to come", all the gang around here are beginning to smile and show some real interest in life. Red blood simply can't keep from being stirred when we begin to read football write-ups in the ALUMNUS and especially those concerning the Tiger practices at Columbia. Personally, I am looking forward to the first mass meeting either here or there and I am especially eager to listen to you get on your feet, wind up your windjammer, and let it go.

If by any chance you happen down here be sure to come in and see us. In the meantime let us shape our thoughts and deeds to the end that Kansas gets her just dues this next Thanksgiving afternoon. Very cordially yours, WARREN W. BROWNE, B. S. '12-'15.

Albert D. Whealdon, A. B. '02, director College Department, State Normal, Superior, Wis., 817 North 16th street, writes as follows: As I was just one of the great mass of average students I doubt if I left an impression upon the mind of any professor that has remained throughout the twenty years since my graduation. However, I remember very vividly the excellent instruction and kind assistance of President Jones and Professors Defoe, Loeb, Calvert, Stewart and others, who were active on the faculty at that time but have since accepted positions in other institutions or passed on to that eternal reward that awaits the faithful. In the above list I should not fail to include Dean Walter Williams, whose Sunday School Class at the Presbyterian Church is one of the brightest spots in memories panorama of those good old days at the University. For twenty years now, I have been trying to pass on to boys struggling for an education, such as I was then, some of the kindnesses and helpful words I received from those worthy men and women who made up the faculty in those days.

To emulate this example, I have found to be a big pleasant service. The present faculty is much larger in number, no doubt more famous so far as knowledge is concerned, but it will have to go some to surpass or even equal as a real teaching body the faculty of 1902.

With very best wishes for the work you are all doing and the unbounded success of every department of the grand old "M. S. U." as it was in our day, I am yours very truly, A. D. WHEALDON, A. B. '02.

Mr. Whealdon was married on August 26, '08, to Miss Mary Lawton. They have one boy and one girl. He was a member of the Glee Club while in school.

Caryle Poe, '16, assistant cashier, First National Bank, Mountain Grove, Missouri, writes under date of October 3, as follows: In response to your circular letter of the 25th ult. I think the County Association plan a good one for furthering the interests of "Old Mizzou" and I shall be glad to make an effort to get the Wright County alumni and former students together. Kindly furnish me with a list from this county together with a skeleton Constitution and By-Laws.

This is only a start. Will have more to write when I hear from the boys of '03. ED ZORN."

Ed Zorn is very enthusiastic about the organization of the alumni and can be depended upon to do his share for the benefit of the institution. He was married in '19 to Miss E. Bess Ebbert. He was a member of Tau Beta Pi and his home when a student was West Plains, Missouri. He informs us that Dr. J. P. Bennett, faculty club, Berkeley, California, is secretary of the alumni association.

Edward Zorn, B. S. in C. E. '03, Chief Draftsman, Northwestern Pacific Railroad, 64 Pine street, San Francisco, California, is interested in the union of members of the class of '03 and on October 13, wrote W. D. Rollins, 521 Highway Exchange Bldg., Kansas

DEATH NOTES

Isaac Hinton Brown, author and educator, born near Washington Court House, Ohio, August 17, 1842; died in Columbia, Mo., March 28, 1889, (Buried in Columbia Masonic Ground).

After receiving a common school education in Pittsburg, New Orleans and St. Paul, he began teaching school at sixteen years of age. At twenty he entered McKendree College. Passing the examination for the Naval Academy in the spring of 1863, he was at once appointed master's mate on the Little Rebel of the Mississippi Squadron, and at the age of twenty-three he was promoted to Acting Master and Ensign.

In 1865 he again took up the profession of

City, Missouri, in regard to the union as follows:

I have before me your letter of September 30, 1923, informing me that at a meeting held in your office, I was unanimously elected as Secretary of the Class of Engineers '03, University of Missouri, having been nominated by Brandenburger in Salt Lake City and seconded by Kleinschmidt at the same place and voted upon by Harris and you at Kansas City.

Some politics! You fellows should never have studied engineering, or maybe your associations in getting city contracts have given you these political ideas.

However, I accept the office and do hereby on this 13th day of October, 1922, without witness, appoint you, Ben Rollins, as my official assistant to write such letters and transact such business as I may direct.

I am heartily in favor of a class reunion to be held in Columbia at a date to be selected and believe such date should be in 1923—20 years after.

I would request that you please send me the names and addresses of any of the members of our class, the whereabouts of whom you may know and I will start the ball rolling. Yours '03ly, ED ZORN.

Just a little line regarding Billy Regan, B. S. in Ag. '12. He left us Monday, on his way to California. His loss will be very keenly felt by the dairy industry of this state. I am enclosing herewith, a copy of the "New Jersey Agriculture", with a story concerning Regan, which will show you how he is liked back here.

Last Wednesday night we had a banquet at the Hotel Kline in New Brunswick, which was attended by the members of the faculty of the New Jersey Agricultural College and Experiment Station, together with a few close friends like myself. This was a very enjoyable affair and there were almost one hundred men in attendance.

The New Jersey State Fair was held last week at Trenton. George White, B. S. '10, A. M. '12, now Professor of Dairy Husbandry at Storrs, Connecticut, judged Jerseys. F. L. Bentley, B. S. '13, now with the Pennsylvania State College, judged Durocs. R. R. Graves, A. M. '12, now with the United States Department of Agriculture, was also a visitor. This made quite a little Missouri reunion.

Recently I saw J. R. Dawson, who took a short course at Missouri, and probably either a long course or a post-graduate course some four or five years ago. He is now with the Pennsylvania State College. He judged Jerseys and Guernseys at the Morris County Fair, where I was judging Ayrshires and Holsteins. This is about all the news I have at the present time. With kindest regards and best wishes. Sincerely, W. R. HALE, B. S. in Agr. '12, Woodbrook Farms, Metuchen, N. J.

On my recent trip to Springfield, Mass., I saw several alumni of the institution.

F. L. Bentley, Assistant Professor of Animal husbandry, Penn State College, was Assistant Superintendent of the live stock at the Eastern States Exposition. A live stock judging team which he had trained won the live stock judging contest at that Exposition. Bentley has recently made a place for himself as a teacher of Animal Husbandry in the East.

George C. White, B. S. '10, is now Professor of Dairy Husbandry at Storrs, Conn. He is getting along very nicely and his investigational work in Dairy Husbandry has been of great value to dairymen. He is one of the strong men in Dairy Husbandry in the East.

I heard many compliments for our friend, Billy Regan, who leaves New Jersey this fall to accept a position in Dairy Husbandry at the University of California. Regan is counted as one of the best men that Missouri has ever graduated, and it is an inspiration to see what he has been able to do by hard work and conscientious effort.

E. G. Woodward, formerly Professor of Dairy Husbandry at Washington State College, is now in charge of one of the good herds of Guernsey cattle in the East. He was an exhibitor at the Show and attracted a good deal of attention by having quietly slipped out two or three months ago and bought a bull that turned up with the championship at this Show. Woodward is making good.

Mark Keeney, who got his Master's in Dairying in 1917, is now doing Extension work in Dairy Husbandry at New Jersey. A large number of New Jersey exhibitors were present at this Show and Keeney was apparently very much in demand among them. All reports indicate that he is making himself very serviceable in his chosen line of work. Very truly yours, E. A. TROWBRIDGE, Chairman Department Animal Husbandry.

Roswell G. Armstrong, B. J. '21, is with the Armstrong Advertising Service, 706 Crocker Bldg., Des Moines, Iowa. Armstrong is a member of Dana Press Club, Sigma Delta Chi and Kappa Tau Alpha. He writes as follows: "Any one with as consistent a follow-up system as you have is a deserving advertiser, so I will enclose $3 for my subscription to the ALUMNUS and help swell the returns. Let it always be said that it pays to advertise."

"If the ALUMNUS is as good as the free Missouri News Letter which you have been publishing, it will be well worth the price."

"There is no news in a two-year-old event, but perhaps it is a co-incident that two former journalism students from Missouri should be competitors in the advertising business."

"The Shepard Advertising Agency is doing its share in increasing our competition, and in the clean, fair way which has always characterized the business in Des Moines. Both Mr. and Mrs. Shepard are former Missourians. I believe he was a Beta and she a Delta Gamma."

"John Morris and Edward Smith, both B. J. in '21 or '22, of Japan Advertiser report: Duke Parry, B. J., enroute home; Maurice Votaw stopped in Tokyo enroute to Shanghai to replace Don Patterson in St. John's University; Morris and Smith planning to Kyoto to see Maple Leaf Dances, an annual fall festival similar to the Cherry Blossom Dances in the Spring by the Geisha girls. Madame Pavlova with company of 30 dancers now at Imperial Theater—interviewed by Smith."

Leroy S. Palmer, Ph. D., former University student, has just completed a book on "Carotinoids and Related Pigments". Professor Palmer, being a recognized authority on this subject, was selected by the American Chemical Society to prepare this book.

Professor Palmer was first associated with

Prof. C. H. Eckles of the dairy husbandry department. The year following he became assistant to Professor Eckles, continued his graduate work at the University, majored in agricultural chemistry, and later received the degree of Ph. D. in 1913.

It was during this time that Professor Palmer became interested in the pigment contained in butter fats. He succeeded in identifying the coloring matter and published the results. This created nation-wide interest in the chemical world. Later Professor Palmer, in conjunction with Professor Eckles, conducted a series of feeding experiments to find what feeds supplied this coloring matter. These two men later succeeded in identifying the coloring matter in the yolk of eggs. Professor Palmer and Professor H. L. Kempster of the poultry husbandry department later experimented on Leghorn chickens which produced eggs having white yolks.

Professor Palmer is now professor of agricultural biochemistry at the University of Minnesota. While a student at Missouri he received the degree of B. S. in Chemical Engineering in '09; A. M. in '11; and Ph. D. in '13. J. W. Wilcox, editor of the Ashland Bugle, is the grandfather of Professor Palmer.

Harvey W. Anderson, A. B. '07, is Y. M. C. A. Secretary, 318 W. 57th St., New York City. "Easy" was married in 1912 to Miss Seraphina Ozerskaria. They have three girls and one boy. "Easy" was a Y worker one year in a Russian Hospital during the war, one year prisoner of war camps and one year with Russian Soldier's fund. He played football in 1904-05-06, and was captain in 1905. He was a member of track team in 1903-04-05-06, and was track captain in 1905. He writes as follows:

"Got the best looking and the wisest bunch of kids that ever happened. Ruth, age 10, future professor in education; Richard, 8, artist, judge and musician to be; Elizabeth, 3, a second Anna Pavlova to be; Jeanne, 1 years, some vamp now. What she is to be—not yet determined. Say, Bob, I would like to see one number of the ALUMNUS devoted entirely to the "Hope of Tomorrow" or something of that sort, featuring the new generation of Missouri. We old sticks are no longer of special interest but there are plenty of young 'comers'."

"Pardon the flight. Greetings. When I get the kids all shod for the winter, I will send in my three dollars for the ALUMNUS. If you get out that special number, I will buy four copies at fifty cents per."

George H. Moore, LL. B. '01, LL. M. '02, formerly U. S. Internal Revenue collector in St. Louis, is now a lawyer in that city. He visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Moore in Columbia on October 16.

Eva C. Chang is Missouri University's first Chinese woman student. She entered the School of Journalism, September 15. Her home is in Shanghai. She is the first Chinese woman to study Journalism outside of China.

John Henry Norton, B. S. in Agr. '07, B. S. '09, M. S. '07, is teaching in the Sacramento Junior College, Sacramento, California, and lives at 4748 Elliott avenue. He was married in '06 to Miss Susan F. Reid. They have two boys. Mr. Norton is a member of the Agriculture Club and won an "M" in football in '06, although the letter was not given then as it is now. He was a Sergeant, Co. I, 5th, Mo. Vol. Inf. Spanish American War. U. M. Company. This is the Company "I" which Mr. P. Lloyd Lewis of Kansas City and George H. English are interested in getting a reunion. Mr. Norton writes as follows: "Am growing two boys to order for the football teams to beat Kansas. I will have one son in each of the following teams, '27, '28, '29 and '30."

Mrs. William T. Merriman, B. S. in Ed. '13, formerly Miss Fannie O'Day, is living at 713 Pickwick avenue, Springfield, Mo. She is a Phi Beta Phi. She was married in '13. Her husband is a former student from '10-'12. They have two children, one boy and one girl.

Wilmot D. Boone, A. B. '10, and Nelle Burgess Boone, A. B. '11, and three children are at Hartsville, Ind., on a furlough from China, where they have been missionaries for ten years. They will return to their station at Tsinan, China, in January.

Constance Latshaw Emig, A. B. '12, Y. M. C. A. Sec. and teacher of Bible, Box 977, Columbus, Miss. She is a member of Alpha Phi, Alpha Theta Sigma and Friars. She was married Aug. 29, 1917, to Arthur S. Emig, A. B. '16.

Rev. Wesley H. Maurer, A. B. '21, B. J. '22, is minister of the Laddonia Christian Church and Rush Hill Community Church, Laddonia, Missouri. He was married Aug. 31, 1917, to Miss Flossie Wilson, a former student in '21. Reverend Maurer is a member of the debating squad, Glee Club and Athenaeum Society. He writes that: Harold Marley, A. B. '21, married to Miss Faye Johannes, B. S. '21, were married in Brooklyn, New York, Aug. 15, 1922. Ceremony read by the Rev. McPherson of Brooklyn. Honey-moon spent going up the Hudson and a hike into the Catskills. Mr. Marley is pastor of the Borough Park Christian Church, 45th street, and 12th avenue, Brooklyn, and is at the same time pursuing studies in Union Seminary and Columbia University. His address is 1329 49th street, Brooklyn.

Dr. T. G. Orr, M. D., A. B. '07, Suite 823 Rialto Bldg., Kansas City, Missouri, is now practicing surgery in Kansas City. He has invaded the territory of the enemy and has become associate professor of surgery in the University of Kansas, which office he has held for the last five years. Dr. Orr writes as follows: "Please give my love to Daddy Defoe. Tell him that I hope he lives forever to be the father of future Missouri sons, as he has been their father in the past."

Samuel A. Dew, A. B. '06, was elected Circuit Judge in Kansas City last year.

Erie G. Schroder, B. J. '19, A. B. '20, is a journalist, Box 474, Denton, Tex. He is a member of Phi Delta Theta, Alpha Delta Sigma, Q. E. B. H., and "M" man. He was a basketball guard, '18-'19-'20, and played end on football team '17-'19.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy H. Pinkley motored to Columbia, October 21, from their home in Milwaukee, Wis. Mr. Pinkley received the degrees of B. S. E. E. '92, and C. E. '02. Mrs. Pinkley, who was formerly Mabel Helen Duncan of Columbia, received the degree of A. B. '07. Mr. Pinkley is Engineer of Way and Structures of The Milwaukee Elect. Ry. & Light Co. They have two children. One boy is now enrolled in the University of Missouri.

Raymond P. Brandt, B. J. '19, is now with the American Relief Administration at Vitebsk, Russia, according to a letter just received by Professor L. M. Defoe. Brandt is District Supervisor in this city of 80,000 people and while not in the famine region, the American Relief Administration is distributing in this city food and medicine relief costing $50,000 per month. There are four and one-half million people in this district. Brandt has passed the examination for degree at Oxford in history and expects to be back in Oxford for the next term. He hopes to be in the United States about September 1, 1923. His present address is: Care of American Relief Administration, 67 Eaton Square, London, S. W.

W. T. (Bill) Angle, County Agent and Secretary of the Pettis County Alumni Association, came to Columbia September 19 from Sedalia.

Mr. Angle is very enthusiastic over the alumni banquet and meeting which will be held in Rothwell Gymnasium the night before the "Homecoming" game. He says that there will be two Pullman car loads of alumni and former students from Pettis County who will come to Columbia the day before the game and attend all the exercises. They will live in the cars while they are here.

Fred R. Suddarth, A. B. '19, has spent the last two years in Buenos Aires in the employ of the American Express Co. He visited in Columbia September 22. He married Miss Dorothy Baker, B. J. '19, shortly after his graduation. They will make their home in Kansas City.

R. F. (Bake) Lofland, B. S. in Eng. '22, is living at 607 Houston street, Manhattan, Kansas. "Am out among the Aggies but still have the Missouri spirit" writes Mr. Lofland. "Don't let the Kansas Aggies bring back any Tiger scalp for I would probably have to move. I am planning on being in Columbia to watch the Jayhawk defeat this fall."

Lyle C. Wilson, former student, School of Journalism, is now in Germany with headquarters at the Atlas Hotel, Friedrichstrasse 105, Berlin. "I must shamefully report that the good State of Missouri has been brought to my attention but once since I have been over here and that was in fifty feet of an International News picture reel showing the wonders of a Missouri ash, which in cross section, gave a fair to middling silhouette of a forest instead of the commonplace concentric circles that suffice for most trees, even in Missouri. They haven't even heard of the Constitutional Convention over here, so you can readily understand that the stories in the magazine section of the Globe are not the least overdone and that Europe is in a bad way."

"I have not followed the tourist tide. Two months in London and then Berlin for a bit and probably France next. If I could settle down at one place I'd enroll for some correspondence work, get in touch with Dean Williams and go after my degree but so far I have had no time for much more than I am doing."

Verne A. Hardin, who graduated from the University last spring, is in the employ of the Carter Oil Company near Holdenville, Oklahoma.

Eddie Markham is in the Montana Division of the Carter Oil Company. His work is mainly in Montana and Southern Canada.

V. W. Vandiver was in Columbia on a short visit about September 1. Vincent is with the New York office of the Standard Oil Company.

Dr. W. A. Tarr underwent a second major operation within six months in June. He has fully recovered and took charge of his classes at the beginning of school.

R. B. Rutledge spent the summer in geological work in Lawrence County, Missouri.

Dr. Helen Strong spent the early part of summer in traveling in California and the Pacific Northwest. After her return she taught geography in Northwestern University.

Miss Lillie M. Franklin, who finished her work for the Master's degree last summer, is teaching in the Normal College at Jacksonville, Florida.

Miss Ruth Ferris, who completed the requirements for the Master's degree at the close of the summer school, is supervisor of all geography classes in Community School, St. Louis.

Miss Anna Graham, who entered in September to do graduate work in Geography, accepted an offer from Jacksonville, Alabama, to take charge of geography work in the Normal Training School. Miss Graham will return to Missouri later to complete the requirements for the Master's degree.

Forest Shepard Lyman, B. S. in E. E. '04, is special engineer, Western Union Telegraph Co., 1955 Bdw., New York City. He is one of the most faithful Tiger supporters that the University has ever turned out. Under date of September 18 he writes as follows: "Am enclosing check for subscription to the ALUMNUS, and one for the Motion Picture Fund. I've been in New York a year this month and can truthfully say that I'll be good and ready for a sight of Missouri, and Columbia by November. Had a grand thrill last night when I bought a late paper and read of Pruett's great game at St. Louis. Wired him congratulations this morning from New York alumni and hopes that we may see him in action here against the Giants later. With best wishes for the success of everything which bears the label "Made in Mo." Mr. Lyman is a member of Kappa Sigma, Q. E. B. H., Tau Beta Pi.

Miss Helen Harwood Southern of Monroe City, Missouri, who was graduated from the University in '21, is teaching French and Dramatics in the Independence High School.

Gilbert P. Moore, A. B. '18, A. M. '20, who visited in Columbia last summer, arrived in Rio September 14. His address is: Care of A. A. Kberly, Avenida de Mayo, 560, Buenos Aires, Argentine. He is doing geological work for the Standard Oil Co. Moore writes as follows: "I missed seeing Vandiver in New York by just one day. He had left on vacation and perhaps you've seen him by now. I saw Larry Whitehead in St. Louis. He had just returned from a trip through Maine and Canada with Phil Strop."

John S. (Jack) Cannon, LL. B. '12, was sworn in, October 3, as assistant county prosecutor in Kansas City. Mr. Cannon is well known as a tennis player, at one time having held the Missouri Valley Championship. Before the war, Mr. Cannon was associated in law with Judge Thad B. Landon. In April, '17, he entered an officers' training camp, and in August of the same year, won a captain's commission. He served a year overseas.

Helen M. Richards, A. B. '17, is a student in the New England Conservatory of Music, 102 Gainsboro street, Suite 3, Boston, Mass. She has affiliated with the Boston Alumni Association.

Sarah Van Meter Steenbergen, former student, is teacher in Virginia College, Roanoke, Va. She is a member of Theta Alpha Phi and Dramatic Club.

Florence E. Whittier, B. J. '22, now city editor of the Mexico Intelligencer writes: "I'll be rooting for the Tigers, though I can't get to Columbia on Saturdays until the games are over. That's the fault of the Wabash for not running trains convenient to Associated Press calls, which I have to take in spite of football ardor."

Miss Lulu Franklin, B. J. '22, is city editor of the Ledger, Mexico, Mo.

How is the old scout stacking up these fine large days? Will see you Turkey day. Keep on smiling. Donny KROBEL, B. S. Ag. '13, Buffalo, North Dakota.

I expect to drive over to the Missouri-Nebraska game. Perhaps I shall see you there. If the boys are going to stop over in Omaha, I wish you would let me know. Perhaps you will do that yourself.

Vic Keen, B. J. '22, is up in the collar and coming fine. Life is most jolly. BASIL G. RUDD, A. B. '17, B. J. '20, Editorial Writer, World Herald, Omaha, Nebraska.

I am sure you will be interested to know that Mr. C. L. Brewer, so well and favorably known to the alumni of the University of Missouri, is now Professor of Physical Education and Director of Athletics at the Branch of the College of Agriculture of the University of California at Davis. With his characteristic enthusiasm he is getting this phase of our work at the University Farm well developed. C. B. HUTCHINSON, B. S. '08, Director, University Farm, Davis, Calif.

You will find enclosed the check for the Camera Fund as requested in the last News Letter. I am glad to see the Columns on the cover of the ALUMNUS and hope that will be the permanent cover. Nothing else means quite so much to us I think. Did you know that Mr. A. L. Phillips, who used to be with the English department at M. S. U., is now head of the English department here at the Nebraska State Teachers' College? I spent my summer vacation in Europe, mostly in Germany and Italy, but had some time in Paris and London too. In Oberammergau I saw the Passion Play. When do we get the Alumni Directory? EDITH RUNDLE, A. B., B. S. in Ed. '12, A. M. '14, Kearney, Nebraska.

I shall be very glad to help organize the alumni and former students in Gentry County. The letters sent out from your office to old students are a great inspiration. It is wonderful how they hold the interest and loyalty of all. SUSIE E. CROCKETT, Box 216, Stanberry, Missouri.

I am glad to help out with Camera Fund and I certainly enjoy the Alumni News Service which reaches me so regularly. HELEN SNEDAKER, F. S., B. & P. A., Y. W. C. A., 1020 McGee street, Kansas City, Missouri.

I have just returned from my vacation to find your letter about the alumni camera.

Accept my enclosed check and let me hear when there is anything else I can do. G. ALEX HOPE, A. B. '20, Federal Reserve Bank, St. Louis, Missouri.

I shall take my first year of medicine in Johns Hopkins this year. I am subscribing for the MISSOURI ALUMNUS at my earliest convenience. Also, I heartily endorse the Motion Picture Camera movement. These are evidenced by the two enclosed checks for $3.00 and $1.00, respectively.

My former address was at Southwest City, Mo., but is now 520 N. Bdw. Baltimore, Md. LA MONT WEST, A. B. '22.

Enclosed please find my check for $4.00.

One dollar is to be used for the Motion Picture Camera and the remaining $3.00 for the ALUMNUS. H. P. DAVIS, B. S. Ag. '11, College of Agriculture, Lincoln, Nebraska.

The News Letter, sent out by the Alumni Association of the University of Missouri, gives me the information that a motion picture machine has been purchased. I also noticed that a dollar was asked of each student and graduate. I am not in either class, but shall be glad to give the dollar I like the town of Gainesville, it's people and the University as a whole. ETHEL L. COWAN, Registrar, University of Florida, Gainesville, formerly Assistant Registrar, University of Missouri.

It is my intention to be in Columbia for THE game at which time I hope to be able to meet you again. With best personal regards, I am Sincerely, RAY V. DENSLOW, A. B. '07, Natl. Supervisor, Grand Council, Order of De Molay for Boys, N. W. Cor. 15th street and Troost avenue, Kansas City, Missouri.

Please find enclosed a check for $3.00 in payment of my subscription to the ALUMNUS. I want to say to the Missouri men who are outside of the home State that the ALUMNUS probably means a good deal more than it does to those in the State. We should be very sorry indeed not to receive it every month. Yours very truly, WAYNE N. LAIDLAW, B. S. Ed. '10, 130 E. 25th street, New York City.

This summer I spent in the Reserve Camp for Officers of the 162nd Division at Jefferson Barracks. There were a large number of old Missouri men in attendance. Among them Capt. Groves, Poindexter, Ladhenson, Major Jackson, and many lieutenants. I regret that I did not get the group together and have a picture taken. But the idea did not occur to me until it was too late. I am here at the head of the Agriculture department that is being started in Drury College, Springfield, Missouri. D. S. LIBBEY.

Fred M. Williams, B. J. '17, 1508-10 Grand avenue, Kansas City, Mo., writes as follows: Here's my dollar for the Camera Fund. Keep up the good work.

Enclosed please find check for four dollars, one dollar for the Motion Picture Camera Fund and the balance for the ALUMNUS. Keep the good work going. Best wishes, GEORGE L. BURELL, B. S. Ag. '15, R. F. D. No 1, Pevely, Missouri.

How is the following for a demonstration of how a wife makes a Tiger supporter out of a husband who never attended the University? Mrs. Haynes being out of town at present, I am taking the liberty of signing and enclosing check for Motion Picture Fund—although not an M. U. alumnus, nor in fact a graduate of any college, I am interested in all University of Missouri affairs. Wishing the old school all the best success in its various athletic and other meets. I remain, EDWIN W. HAYNES, Needles, California.

Please send me my News Letter to the above address, 724 West Symmes street, Norman, Oklahoma. I like to get the letter, as it is news from home. I finished the work for my Ph. D. degree at Columbia University, New York, this past year and have been elected full Professor of Education in the University of Oklahoma. I began my work here this September, and am enjoying things fine in this part. I shall be glad to receive your News Letter regularly. With best wishes for

M. U. in every respect, I remain, yours very truly, PRYOR ELLSWORTH COLLINGS, '18.

John Vance Hewitt, A. B. '05, is a member of the firm of Booth and Hewitt, councilors at law, 165 Bdw., New York.

Enclosed please find my check for $1.00 for Motion Picture Camera Fund. Very truly yours, JOHN VANCE HEWITT, A. B. '04, 165 Bdw., New York City.

I am today in receipt of your letter of the 14th inst. notifying me of the expiration of my subscription to the ALUMNUS. Enclosed find check for $3.00 to cover year's subscription.

I am at present engaged in Public Utility work in Oklahoma, with headquarters at Duncan, Oklahoma. Unfortunately, I have not been able to get away to pay a visit to Old Mizzou for several years, though I hope to be able to get up for one of the games this fall. At any event I will be at Norman on November 11th to see the Tigers trim Oklahoma.

With all good wishes for the current year and for the success of the Tigers, I am, Sincerely, R. N. McCLURE, B. S. in Agr. '15, Duncan, Oklahoma.

Enclosed find check for one dollar as my contribution to the Motion Picture Camera Fund. I can see no reason why any alumnus could not make such a small payment toward so worthy a fund. FRANK STONNER.

Just a line to tell you I think your camera purchase a good one. Here's my dollar to defray a small part of the expense and lets hope you can get a picture like Twisting the Tigers' Tale or Tiger Town. And here's three dollars more for my ALUMNUS. Notes of interest—I don't have—I'm still teaching Vocational Agriculture at Braymer and doing nicely. No wife to scold me yet. Here's to 'Old Mizzou' for 1922-23. E. M. "SMOKEY" WOODS.

Have just received the News Service Bulletin, and read it with a great deal of interest. You will find enclosed check for $3.00 to apply on Camera Fund. Am glad that such arrangement has been made. Looks like a good year for M. U. I hope to drop in and see you before long. Have not been back since my graduation in '14, so you can imagine how anxious I am to come. Yours very truly, C. H. WHITE, '14, President, Seymour Commercial Club; President, Webster County Alumni Association.

On the alumni records please change my name and address from Helen M. Finley, 211 W. Bdw., Columbia, Missouri, to Mrs. J. H. Vinyard, 504 W. Main, Marion, Illinois. Enclosed you will also find a check for $1.00 from J. H. Vinyard, B. S. in Eng. '22. Please send us blanks for making reservations for the banquet to be held in Rothwell Gymnasium, the night before the Thanksgiving game, as we are planning on being there for the big game. Thanking you for the University of Missouri News Service, I am, Very respectfully yours, MRS. J. H. VINYARD, A. B. '18.

Glad to be able to help you buy the Motion Picture Camera. LAURETTA B. FERGUSON, A. B. '13, 914 W. Ash street, Blytheville, Arkansas.

Good work for the alumni in buying the Motion Picture Camera. Should have been done many months ago. HERLEY S. DAILEY, 438 Lathrop Bldg., Kansas City, Mo.

Roy Godsey, '04, Phi Gamma Delta, erstwhile traveler special writer for the St. Louis Star, comedian, splendid conversationalist, writes that has been visiting with Harry E.

Reed, B. S. in Agr. '14, now with the Department of Animal Husbandry, Fayetteville, Ark. Roy will be in Columbia for most of the football games.

Fine idea this check. Also, think idea is good of asking occasionally for small amounts for definite purpose. Sort of gets us in the habit. Best regards, HARRY E. RIDINGS, B. J. '12, 6119 Brookside, Kansas City, Missouri.

I cannot get along without the ALUMNUS this year. I enclose a check for $3.00. Please send my magazine to 1115 West Oklahoma, Enid, Oklahoma. Very truly yours, HELEN L. CARTER, A. B. '16, B. S. Ed. '22.

Find enclosed check for the Motion Picture Camera Fund. Listen now! When you take a lot of these pictures be sure and start them up Hannibal way, as we have plenty of good prospects. Yours, BOBBY HOGG, '17.

Herewith find my check for the Motion Picture Camera Fund. I hope you will be successful in raising the full amount needed. With kindest regards and best wishes. I am, Yours very sincerely, F. M. McDAVID.

Please find enclosed $1.00 in currency for the Motion Picture Camera Fund. Am glad of the opportunity. Very truly yours, HOWARD A. HAMACHER, '11, Richmond, Missouri.

Here is check for Motion Picture Camera—enjoyed the News Service Bulletin of September 9, immensely—Keep up good work. Yours, EDDIE KLEIN, F. S. '07-'11.

I am enclosing a dollar (not so questionable as a check) for the Motion Picture. I think the idea is very creditable because it is a real means of actually tying up more of the alumni to the instant life on the campus. Let's go on a championship team this year. I'm already finding myself abstractly muttering "Eat 'em up Tigers". (Eds brother, Paul, is a student in the University). Sincerely, ED. SHOOK, L.L. B. '22, City Attorney, Marshall, Missouri.

Thank you for sending me copies of your News Service. It has done more to stimulate interest in the University than most anything you could have done. Sincerely, JOS. W. MCKEE, M. D., F. S. Suite 1235 Rialto Bldg., Kansas City, Missouri.

I just want to send you the cash you request for a purpose I am heartily in favor of. Nothing would please me better than to witness the student activities in the form of moving pictures. As a choice bit of information. I might say that I am now the proud father of a very fine baby girl, Frances Anne, who was born July 27, 1922. Tell the Curators to continue right on with their plans for the school year. Mother and child are both the finest ever. Wishing you success with the cinema project. I am, Very truly yours, DR. RADFORD F. PITTMAN, '18, 744 Lathrop Bldg., Kansas City, Missouri.

Enclosed you will find a check for the Motion Picture Camera Fund, also one for a year's subscription to the ALUMNUS.

I have thoroughly enjoyed the M. U. News Service. I see by it that you want the names of alumni. My sister, Mrs. William L. McCaustland (nee Ruth B. Miller) who graduated in '13, lives at 217 W. 11th street, Amarillo, Texas. Her husband attended the University '10-'12. I believe. I don't believe you have this information. Respectfully, VIVIAN M. NICHOLS, B. S. Ed. '12, 12 Cherry street, Salem, Massachusetts.

Enclosed please find check for 1.00 for Motion Picture Camera Fund. I wish you the best of luck and every success. Respectfully, EUGENE K. LUTES, L.L. B. '15, 914 Tacoma Bldg., Chicago, Ill.

A few days ago I received the University News Letter for the week of September 9 and wish to state that it seemed like bringing back old times when I was a student in the University. I hope that they will continue to keep my name on the mailing list for I think that, and the ALUMNUS, is one of the best mediums for keeping former students and graduates in touch with the University. While the active students can do much to make the University, yet, in the last analysis, a school is no stronger than its alumni, for upon them rests the carrying forth of the ideals and inspirations which they received while they were students.

Many times it has been asked me, among the fellow members of the bar, from what school I was graduated and it is a great pleasure to tell them that I received my legal training at the University of Missouri. In this work I find need for an alumni directory. The last which I have is that of 1917 and does not give the recent graduates. I would like, if possible, for you to send me the latest alumni directory off the press.

Hoping to be in Columbia for the football game Thanksgiving and meeting you personally. I am, Very truly yours, F. RICHARD WEBER, L.L. B. '22.

I might as well confess that I have not been a very good Alumnus. Your last letter caused me to turn over a new leaf and henceforth I intend to do for my Alma Mater what every loyal son of Old Missouri should do. Even though I may live in the "enemy's" territory I am and always will be for the Tigers. During the past three years I have witnessed all their contests with the Aggies at Manhattan.

Enclosed you'll find my check. If the Memorial Campaign Committee is still seeking funds I am pleased to state that I am ready to do my part in that drive. As one of the boys who was "over there" I would not feel that I had finished the fight for which my best pal, Clarence Peoples, paid the supreme sacrifice. "15 for the Tigers"; Very sincerely, J. W. ZENTMYER.

(The above was written by J. W. Zentmyer, A. B. '14; H. S. Principal, coaching a football team which he called the "Tigers", undefeated last season. B. S. Warrensburg Normal Summer '19. Taught in high schools at Lexington, Missouri, Lyons, Kansas, Lawrence, Randolph and Leonardville, Kansas. 89th Div. A. E. F. Married Ruth Ferguson of Odessa, Missouri, '17. One child, Joy Franceline. Summer school K. S. A. C. '22. Shriner.)

Enclosed find checks for the Motion Picture Fund and for the ALUMNUS for the current year. Am sorry not to attend the Arkansas State Fair on Alumni Day, but I wish to be in Columbia on Thanksgiving and know that I cannot do both. Wish the pictures could be sent here to the University from the Fair. We have a good many alumni here that will be unable to attend the Fair. My husband and I were in Columbia at registration time, as we had a nephew, Seymour Ellis of Drexel, Missouri, entering. He is my ward and Missouri spirit made us want him to enter there rather than here. The changes were many and wonderful since 1906, and certainly one could not realize the changes without seeing them. Wish best wishes to the University and its sons and daughters, I am, Yours sincerely, ELBA SEYMOUR BAENDER, A. B. '06, Fayetteville, Arkansas.

I enclose check for a renewal of my ALUMNUS subscription. The last year's issues have been the best ever! Please note change in business and residential addresses. Crafton Studios, 646 North Michigan avenue, and 939 Margate Terrace respectively. Yours for a prosperous year. W. H. WHEELER, B. J. '17.

Here's your old dollar. I knew you'd get it somehow, so I've been saving it for you. I think this is the only dollar bill west of the Rocky Mountains, so I am merely sending it back home. From this state I suppose I should send nothing but gold but I didn't have a gold dollar. Don't get the idea though, that I haven't any gold at all for at this very minute I have a five-piece, the smallest change in the gold language. And just think, you might have had that too, if you'd only asked for it,—that is providing you had put up as good a talk as you did for the dollar. I declare you are simply irresistible and also incorrigible, when it comes to putting things over.

May your shadow grow thicker and thicker and your smile broader and broader and may you continue to carry forward the good work of arousing the alumni—especially those in Missouri—to the needs of our Alma Mater!

It may interest you to know that we now have seventy-two graduate students in Agriculture and that four or five of the number are from Missouri. Sincerely yours, W. L. HOWARD, '01 '03, University Farm, University of California, Davis, California.

Over five years now since I've been in Columbia, and the ALUMNUS is the only means I have of keeping my ear open to the activities of past, present and future Missourians. It wasn't so bad in New York and Chicago, but we've lived here over a year and have never run across a familiar face or name. Doesn't this fair city harbor a few wanderers other than myself? I'll undertake to form some sort of an organization if you'll furnish the names. We ought to get together once in a while, if only to cheer on Bob Simpson's proteges at the annual Penn Relays. Sincerely, J. GENTRY DAGGY, B. J. '17, Berdell Bros. & Co. Public Utility Securities, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania.

P. S. Enclosed is the check for the Movie Camera.

Please note my change in address from Minneapolis to Box 1858, Yale Station, New Haven, Connecticut. I spent the past summer doing geological work in the New World Mining district at Cooke City, Montana. This year I am instructor in Geology and Mineralogy on the Sheffield Science School Faculty of Yale University. Lester Bailey, A. B., A. M. '21, is here doing graduate work and Wm. E. Rubey is coming as instructor in geology for this fall term. Yours truly, W. COURTNEY WERNER, A. B. '17.

Don't forget to fill out the check for $1. etc. Let me make it for $4.00 and save bank work. Take a dollar for the Camera and three for the ALUMNUS. Both will do good work in your hands, so here's a silent booster. Yours for success, SCOTT HAYES, '73, 1369, Beech street, Eugene, Oregon.

Here is a check for two dollars for your Movie Fund—one each from Mrs. Riggs and

More About the New Buildings.

The beginning of the fall term finds the University's building program well under way. At the present time there are eight buildings which are under construction or are being planned. Of the eight structures planned, seven of them are now being built and one of them may be occupied within sixty days. The total cost of the eight will be in the neighborhood of $700,000.

The new power plant being built west of the Industrial Arts building on Stewart Road is the farthest along of any of them. It was supposed to have been completed on August 31, but now it is thought two more months must elapse before it will be ready to receive the machinery. Just now nothing but the skeleton is erected. The roof and walls are to be added as soon as possible. A tunnel, which runs from the new plant, under Sixth street, to connect on to the old one back of the Mechanic Arts building is partly completed and will hold the steam and water pipes. Collins Brothers, Kansas City contractors, have the contract for the work. The building will have cost $150,000 when finished.

The new Agriculture Building, now being erected on the East Campus, at the corner of Hitt street and University avenue, is just well started. The first story is under way. The building is of native stone and is of the same general architecture as the other buildings on this campus. Collins Brothers have the contract for this building also. The cost will be $200,000 and the building is to be finished by December 31.

Another structure on the East Campus that is beginning to assume the outlines of a building is the new Chemistry Building, being erected just south of Schweitzer Hall. This one also will follow the general architectural type on the East Campus and is expected to be finished by December 31.

The Women's Building, situated south of Read Hall on Hitt street, is nicely started. The first story on the north and west sides is almost completed. This building is of native stone and will be two stories high. Murch Brothers of St. Louis have the contract at a price of $150,000. Its date of completion also is fixed at December 31.

The foundation for the extension to the Medical Building has been laid and work is expected to begin soon. This section will provide class rooms and laboratories for the medical students. It will cost $35,000 and is to be finished by December 1.

The new Industrial Arts Building, west of the present Industrial Arts Building, is progressing rapidly. The foundation and a part of the walls are already erected. This structure is to be used as a laboratory for the School of Engineering. It will cost $50,000.

On the University Farm there has been erected a beef cattle barn to accommodate the live stock of the animal husbandry department of the College of Agriculture. Simon Construction Co. of Columbia had the contract.

The contract for one more building remains to be let, that for the State Hospital Building planned as part of the expansion of the School of Medicine. This structure will be built on the north part of the West Campus, not far from Parker Memorial Hospital and will cost $250,000.

Work on the new Medical Extension Building was suspended for about three weeks. The delay was due to the failure of the railroads to transport the building material. The plumbing and electrical work is now in progress. The building was contracted for in May, 1922, and although the work on it has been slow it is estimated that it will be completed by December.

MISSOURI WOMAN'S CLUB OF NEW YORK CITY

MRS. WILLIAM B. SMITH, 2nd President, 55 Tiemann Place, N. Y.; MRS. LEONTINE C. GINTER, Corresponding Secretary, 224 West 20th street, N. Y.; MRS. W. F. MEYER, Treasurer, 676 Riverside Drive.

April 24, 1922.

My Dear President Jones: At the Board meeting of the Missouri Woman's Club of New York City, held April 17th, the following motion was made: Moved, that the scholarship offered by the Missouri Woman's Club to the University of Missouri be known as the I. H. Brown Scholarship.

This motion passed the Board of Directors, but at the suggestion of our President, Mrs. William Baldwin Smith II, daughter of the late I. H. Brown, it was voted to put the question of final decision in naming the Scholarship before the entire body of the Club at the forthcoming annual meeting to be held May 3, 1922.

The offering of this Scholarship was the original idea of Mrs. Smith, and she has worked hard for its consummation. The Board therefore felt that due credit should be given her. Mrs. Smith is retiring from the Presidency because of ill health and it was felt that recognition of her efforts toward the Scholarship would be a gracious act.

The honoring her father's name would mean more to our President than any other complement the Club could pay her.

Owing to Mrs. Smith's desire for the Club's unanimous approval, we fear the decision may come too late for the announcement to appear in the forthcoming Catalog of the University, this being based upon recent correspondence between Mrs. Wright Johnson, Chairman of Education, and Mr. Leslie Cowan, Secretary of the University.

May I ask would an eleventh hour notice, sent to Mr. Cowan on May 3, stating the action of the Club, be in time for Spring Catalog?

The enclosed—taken from Prof. Brown's biography, sets forth the claim held by the Missouri Woman's Club of New York City, for recognition of his work as an Educator.

Asking for an early reply, I am, Most truly yours, LEONTINE C. GINTER, Corresponding Secretary.

myself. I hope that we shall see some time the interesting pictures that this will help to make. Sincerely yours, N. C. Riggs, B. S., M. S. '95, Carnegie Institute of Technology, New York City.

I want to find out how I can subscribe for the weekly News Service—I have received several copies and it gives me a taste for more.

I am teaching gymnasium and swimming here in West High School. I was here last year too. Other Missouri people here are Frances G. Pickrell, B. S. in Ed. '11, played forward on the Varsity basketball team when the girls played other colleges—she teaches biological science.

Stanley Morgenthaler ex '13—is teaching Mechanical Drawing and Manual Training here. He played football—didn't get his letter. This is his first year here—was in Great Falls, Montana, for several years before he came here.

I was married this summer to Robert Calvin French—graduate of Amherst; graduate work at Wisconsin in Chemistry. He's a Phi Psi. He is now head chemist at the Armand Company here—this is their head factor. Please tell me how I can get the papers. Sincerely, MARY PERCIVAL FRENCH, B. S. Ed. '17, West High School, Des Moines, Iowa.

Noting your enclosed "clipping" to hand today, with the "?"—Have you heard from any of them? I beg to say in reply, I have not. I don't know how long I should wait before having final judgment passed upon the challenge or suggestion. However, I am in no hurry to get settings consigning me to the "scrap heap" of the old, decrepit, imbecile, or otherwise out of the running graduates of Old M. S. U.

Is Daugherty still living? He was two or three years ago. I recall him as a student when I was a boy. My class, '59, are all gone. Wash. Hyde of Lexington and Bob Bokine of Paris, were the latest so far as I know to go. I have had no news of John M. Rucker for several years. He was way out west in Oklahoma when I heard last. Ed and Tom (T. B.) King were freshmen along with me but they were good students and smart boys and left me behind and beat me to the "string" (the A. B.) by a year.

You may hear of some of the boys yet. If so, let me know. Give my love to Ed Stephens, who is very much on top as I see by the last ALUMNUS. I agree with him as a matter of state pride and decency. The University should have an auditorium worthy of the institution and its record. The alumni, as a body, should storm the next legislature on that behalf and not take no for an answer. Very sincerely, WAR W. STONE, A. B. '59, Gulf Port, Mississippi.

Rachel Edwards A. B. '08, A. M. '10, is a social worker at 218 3rd St., N. W. Washington, D. C. Her home address is Centralia, Mo.

Roy W. Emmert B. S. '06, is Secretary-Treasurer of Underground Construction Co., 106 N. LaSalle St., Chicago. In 1913 he was married to Miss Jennie Fitzpatrick.

Edwin Elgin Evans M. D. '98, is a physician East Louisiana State Hospital, Jackson, La. He married Rella Bright June 2, 1898. Mr. Evans is a member of Kappa Alpha. His home address when a student was Meadville, Mo.

Joseph Coley Fagan A. M. '17, is Business Analyst, Dexter Folder Co., Pearl River, N. Y. His home address is Box 619 Westwood, N. J. During the war Mr. Fagan was a captain in the Coast Artillery Corps.

Floyd E. Fawver A. B. '16 is a merchant in Seligman, Mo. He married Miss Alice Vaughn Oct. 18, 1921.

Cassius Jackson Keyser, '92, is Professor of Mathematics, Columbia University, New York City.

Ray V. Denslow, A. B. '07, National Supervisor, Order of DeMolay, 306 Gladstone, Kansas City, Mo., visited Columbia September 1, in the interest of a building at the University of Missouri for the order of DeMolay. Denslow was married to '07 to Miss Clara A. Merrifield. They have one boy. While in school he was a member of the Acacia fraternity, Athenaeum Literary, and Quo Vadis. Since graduation he was for two years Editor of the Trenton Daily News. Later he was assistant Postmaster of Trenton, Mo. He was active in Masonic circles '19-'20 being Grand High Priest, Royal Arch Masons of Missouri and is now an officer in Grand Lodge, A. F. & A. M. of Missouri. Since May 21, he has devoted all his time to the DeMolay organization.

He writes that they had no athletics while he was in school except "Hop-Scotch" and "Run and Jump." Mr. Stone has been out of college sixty-four years. He served in the Confederate army from Boonville, January '61 to final surrender under Kirby Smith at Shreveport, La., May '65 and was captain of a company in 9th Missouri Infantry. His wife, who was Miss Ella Holt, died March 15, 1922. He has one son and three daughters married and one single daughter. His father, Colonel Caleb S. Stone, was for many years a member of the Board of Curators of the University of Missouri and was secretary of it when Walter Wilson graduated in 1859. Mr. Stone was born July 20, 1840. He wants to know if there is an older living alumnus than he.

Redmond S. Cole, A. B. '05, A. M. '06, Judge of the 1921 Judicial District of Oklahoma, Pawnee, Oklahoma and Mrs. Cole, B. S. in Ed. '08, who was formerly Miss Mary Thompson Cross of Columbia, visited Judge Cole's father and mother, Dr. and Mrs. J. B. Cole of Columbia in September. Judge Cole was county attorney of Pawnee County, Okla., from 1910 to 1915, county registrar of Pawnee County 1916 to 1917, Mayor of Pawnee 1917, Assistant District Attorney, Western District of Oklahoma 1917 to 1918 and since then has been judge of the 21st District. Judge Cole is a member of the Delta Tau Delta, Phi Alpha Delta, Delta Sigma Rho, Athenaeon society, was editor of the Independent, a student publication from 1905 to 1907 and a Fellow in Economics 1905. Judge Cole's father, Dr. J. B. Cole was a student in the University in '77, '78. Mrs. Cole's father, John Newton Cross and her brother and sister were also students of the University. Judge Cole, his wife and two baby girls motored to Columbia from their home in Pawnee.

John Francis (Jack) Williams, former student of School of Journalism, is doing unusually good work as Publisher at the U. of Mo. Jack was State Commander of the Missouri Department of American Legion in 1921. He was a 1st Lieutenant and is now Lt. Colonel 203rd Artillery (anti aircraft) Mo. N. G. While in school he was editor of the 1911 Savitar, on the Missourian Board, Oven Board, editor Independent, Quo Vadis, Mounds, Ad Club and President all juniors.

MANY TRAINS RUN AT A LOSS

PASSENGERS seldom know how much it costs to operate a passenger train, and few passengers know how many trains are operated solely for the accommodation of the public and at a loss to the railroads. The average cost per mile of operating the American passenger train is estimated at approximately $1.60. On this basis, the Missouri, Kansas & Texas Lines in June operated more than fifty trains each day, exclusive of those on short branch lines, the earnings of which did not equal the average cost.

Many trains were operated, the earnings of which did not equal the cost of fuel, supplies, wages of train and engine men, locomotive and equipment repairs. In June, these costs on the M. K. & T. Lines were approximately a dollar a mile. Each day in June, not counting trains on short branch lines, the M., K. & T. Lines operated thirty trains that did not earn a dollar a mile.

In Missouri, trains 9 and 10, between St. Louis and Sedalia, earned in June an average of 57c a mile. Trains 7 and 8, between Sedalia and Parsons, earned 71c a mile. Trains 18 and 19, between New Franklin and Hannibal, earned 78c a mile, and trains 14 and 17, between the same points, earned 96c.

In the face of these figures, it must be conceded that the railroad suffers actual loss on a large proportion of its local passenger train service, and that it is maintained solely for the convenience of the public.

Some Things You May Not Know

There are 9,255 building and loan associations in the United States, which is greater than the number of national banks.

They have 5,809,888 stockholders.

They have $2,890,764,621 in assets, practically all invested and secured by first mortgages on homes, as the laws require. Increased 846,969.

These 9,255 building and loan associations increased their assets last year $370,849,650 and their stockholders in-

The money paid in on the stock in building and loan associations is twice as great as the combined paid-up capital stock of the national banks.

The actual assets of the 9,255 building and loan associations equal the paid-up capital of all the banks and trust companies and also equal forty per cent of all the money in circulation in the United States.
