The first alumni meeting will be held in Los Angeles, the evening of December

23. The following officers of the Los Angeles alumni association are in charge of this meeting, and reservations should be made direct to Mr. Albright:

President: Porter Albright, 1444 Valencia; Vice President: J. L. Philips, 2159 West 25th. St.; Sec'y-Treas.: Miss Mable Phelps, 354 West Avenue 53.

It is expected that the Los Angeles meeting will be the greatest gathering of the alumni of the University and friends of the institution that has ever been held in the West.

The San Francisco alumni will hold a rally meeting there December 27, and Joseph M. Gwinn, 1307 Bay Street, is in charge, assisted by Albert Brandt, 812 Howard Street.

The Colorado Springs Alumni Association will hold a luncheon meeting January 2. The Missouri party will arrive in Colorado Springs at 7:00 A. M. and leave at 1:10 P. M. The following are the officers of the Colorado Springs alumni association and reservations should be addressed to them:

President; Judge J. P. Foard, 400 Exchange Nat'l Bk. Bldg.; Vice-President: Prof. L. E. Votaw, 415 N. Nevada Avenue; Sec'y-Treas.: G. M. Lecrone, Jr., in care of El Paso County Democrat.

Already many reservations have been made for the luncheon by alumni from all sections of Colorado.

The Denver alumni association will hold a meeting on the evening of January 2, and this will be one of the biggest gatherings of the trip. A. L. Threlkeld, 1153 S. Gaylord, is in charge of this meeting and is leaving nothing undone to have a great crowd of alumni and former students attend.

Already alumni have been writing and wiring about the wonderful opportunity offered by this trip to bring alumni and former students in the west into closer touch with the University affairs, and to give them an opportunity to take part in the Memorial Union and Stadium Campaign. It is understood that the receipts of the game will be placed in the Memorial Stadium fund, and with the hearty support of alumni and former students in the West in securing subscriptions to the Memorial Union and Stadium campaign, the trip would prove decidedly beneficial to the campaign and to the University.

Lists of alumni in the west have been sent to the persons in charge of the meetings mentioned above, and they have been requested to get in touch with everybody in their territory, urging them to attend the meetings.

The party making the trip from Columbia include the members of the football squad, under the leadership of Captain Arthur Bond. This team won the Missouri Valley Championship, defeated Chicago 3-0, (and Chicago won the Big Ten Championship), and defeated Kansas 14-0 on Thanksgiving Day. Other members of the party will be C. L. Brewer, Director of Athletics, and Mrs. Brewer; Coaches Gwinn, Henry and Harry G. Kipke, and Mrs. Kipke; Virgil Spurling, assistant to the Director; J. C. Jones, Director of the Union and Stadium Campaign, and Mrs. Jones; Bob Hill, Assistant Director, and Mrs. Hill; Albert H. Heckel, Dean of Men; and Judge H. A. Collier, probate Judge of Boone County and a foot ball enthusiast.

Every alumnus and former student of the University of Missouri now living in the west should make arrangements to attend one of the meetings, and make this trip one of the outstanding features of University history.

"Old Missouri" Is Sung In Tokyo.

The Tokyo, Japan Alumni Association held a dinner meeting in Tokyo, November 9, in honor of Jack Scholz, famous Missouri Track Star. Alvin Accola was toastmaster. Glenn Babb arranged the details for the dinner. The members of the meeting say that they had a "large meeting," after listening to roasts and toasts and a lot of enthusiastic Missouri talk and joined in singing Missouri songs, giving yells and ended up with "Old Missouri."

Frank Hedges, Glenn Babb, George Masters, Clemons McNamara, Erwin McEwen, Norman Ulbright, H. Francis Misselwitz and others were present at the meeting. "Missi" said that it made him mighty homesick when they wound up with "Old Missouri." Victor Keen made a three hundred mile trip from Kobe to attend the meeting. There were several Missourians who were not former University students in attendance. Duke Parry who started the idea of a dinner for Jack Scholz left Tokyo for America before Jack arrived in Japan.

Scholz is now on his way to the United States and will stop off in Columbia on his way to New York. He has made a trip around the world making exhibitions.

M. U.-K. U. Game Is Main Topic In Pittsburgh Alumni Meeting.

The Pittsburgh Alumni Association held its annual meeting and election of officers Thanksgiving Day. Following is a detailed report of the meeting:

'Twas quite an assemblage for one to wonder what it could be, unless he overheard the subject of conversation, and even then, unless he knew that "Jayhawk" meant Kansas University, and that Tigers stood for the M'zoo Varsity eleven, he wouldn't have known that 'twas the Pittsburgh Association of the University of Missouri Alumni. The roster read all the way from little old (but fine old) grizzled Swift, B. S. C. E. '90 to the just past editor of the Shamrock of 1924, and ages accordingly.

Ah, but did you hear that deep-throated blast, and see that piercing gleam playing about the shoreline for a landing place? Do you see that blaze of light and color passing under the Point Bridge on its way down the Ohio? 'Tis the grand old East St. Louis on her way to the city of her birth. And how far is that to the lair of the Tiger, whose trail this group has been anxiously, nay, eagerly following. Not so far, not so far! Wish we were there now with the Campus Lunch and the Palms just around the corner, or the Greasy Spoon with its "Off side" "Fast meat" and "Spo't 'n Town" (only a sport eats soup, you know).

The conversation turns for the moment on the Tech—Notre Dame game of the afternoon. Everybody admits that Notre Dame has a world beater, but how would she fare at Missouri's hands? Anyway they'd know they were in a football game. Especially when Tech crossed their goal for three touchdowns. Say, that must have been some team we had this year!

"Yes", opines H. K., "I think we would put a crimp in the Four Horsemen, all-right. Mr. President!" he shouts from the foot of the table, "I want some butter."

The presiding officer (Medley, '18), very divans and easy chairs of the roof garden of the Hotel Chatham, overlooking the downtown district of Pittsburgh but far removed from its noise, conversation was principally of the Thanksgiving classic. The newcomers were besieged with, "Do you know so and so on the team? He's a sophomore, isn't he? Good! we'll have him next year! Or, "Van Dyne must be a senior by this time. And so is Clyde Smith—yes, Clyde was Captain last year. How about Palermo and Jerry Lewis, Walsh and Bond?" Old familiar names, and pride in the performance of men (and boys) whom most of the assemblage had never seen! But small matter that—'twas all Missouri, dear old Alma Mater!

Hundreds of feet below, the lights of the city twinkled and crept about thru the darkness. To the right, the darker line of the Allegheny, sedately moving onward beneath the Manchester bridge. To the left, partly hidden by the bulk of the business district, the Monongahela flowed, as

"So do I," chimes in Dittbrenner.

Ross Bickley smiled, but he finished school when cigarettes were a step ladder to the nether regions, and he's been too busy climbing to the Assistant Chief Engineer's job to get a start on the way down (anyway, the war yanked the ladder out and covered up the hole). No, not that kind of a Chief Engineer—he's a square shooter and a credit to his Alma Mater.

Tigers Defeat Jayhawks and Win Missouri Valley Championship

Missouri Has Only Team That Defeated Chicago, Victors of the Big Ten—Bond, Smith, Faurot, Walsh, VanDyne, Lewis and Palermo Play Their Last Game for Old Mizzou.

The Missouri Tigers won the championship of the Missouri Valley Conference and decisively defeated Kansas Thanksgiving Day 14-0 at the thirty-third annual Missouri-Kansas football game. And be it remembered that in the first game on the Missouri schedule the Tigers defeated Chicago at Chicago 3-0, and be it further remembered that Chicago won the championship of the Big Ten and Missouri was the only team that defeated Chicago this season. Doubtless the Jayhawkers feel considerable pride in being defeated by the Missouri Valley champions and by the team that defeated the champions of the Big Ten.

Seven of the members of the champion team were playing their last game for Old Mizzou, including Captain Arthur Bond, Clyde Smith, center, who was captain last year and both this year and last was unanimously selected as center and captain of the All-Valley Team; Don Faurot, Johnny Walsh at end, Chase Van Dyne, a great tackle, Jerry Lewis who made the All-Valley as guard, and Jimmy Palermo, one of the hardest fighters who ever played football.

It was a smashing third quarter that gave the Tiger victory—drive through center by Sam Whiteman of 20 yards for the first touchdown, a forward pass from this same Whiteman to the veteran John Walsh, which paved the way for the second Bengal touchdown, when Jackson took the leather across and a pair of tries for point successfully once more by Whiteman.

The Kansans failed to prove dangerous in the pinches, despite consistent gains in midfield, until the final period, when a spread formation and a desperate series of passes carried the ball well down into Missouri territory. But again the famed Missouri defense cropped up for Capt. Arthur Bond, on the last play of his last game for Missouri, to intercept a long pass by Zuber on the Bengal 6-yard line. The time keeper's gun ended the fray as the Tigers lined up over the ball.

Both teams tried desperately to get into the lead from the start, with each resorting to a forward passing game, even when deep in its own territory. It was those tactics that paved the way for the second Missouri counter, for Zuber's pass went into Faurot's hands. A 60-yard run in the same period by Pete Jackson also featured, but he was pulled down from behind by Starr on the Jayhawker 6-yard line and the Jayhawker line held for three downs and a forward pass was unsuccessful on the fourth.

The Kansans started strong. Winning

Whiteman Is 1925 Captain

"Sammy" Whiteman was unanimously elected Captain of the 1925 football team at a meeting of the letter men December 3. Whiteman came to the University from Richmond, Mo., where he was a star in both football and basketball. He played his second year with the varsity this season. He was one of the best backs in the valley. He was the Missouri forward-passing thread and was always good for gains either through the line or around the ends. His spectacular twenty-yard run to a touchdown in the Kansas game on Thanksgiving Day was one of the outstanding features of Missouri football.

the toss and with the advantage of a stiff wind, they took Walsh's kickoff at the goal line and Zuber ran the ball back to his 26-yard line. Passing in his own territory and on the first down of the game, Zuber shot a pass to Testerman, who was playing wide on a spread formation and who took the ball to midfield.

But the Jayhawkers could not make first down again and they punted. Booting exchanges followed until the Bengals were given a first down in midfield on a Kansas 5-yard penalty, when Whiteman passed to Jackson for a first down on the Jayhawker 32-yard line. Scrimmage gains took the ball to the Kansas 25-yard line, and the Tigers, anxious to get in front, tried Whiteman's toe for a 35-yard place kick, which was short. A series of punting exchanges followed.

An 11-yard dive through the line by Whiteman, followed by a pass by Whiteman, which the officials called complete because of Kansas interference, again put the Bengals in deep in Kansas territory, but they were forced to punt and the wind, catching Faurot's effort, the Jayhawkers were able to boot far down the field and over the Tiger goal out of danger. The Missourians were starting another advance when the period ended.

A 5-yard penalty at the start of the second frame again halted the Tigers and Faurot punted to the Kansas 35 yard line. Down the field came Kansas with a series of first downs that took the ball to the Tiger 35-yard line. Zuber fumbled and recovered for a 10-yard gain and it was first down on the Missouri 22-yard line. Then the Jayhawkers tried to pass and Missouri broke up the aerial attack and took the ball on downs.

Faurot punted over the goal line after a forward passing attack was checked and the Jayhawkers again began to advance. Halted, they punted and recovered in a mad scramble after Van Dyne had blocked Burt's punt and worked the ball to the Tiger 32-yard line before they were halted. The half ended with Missouri again taking the offense.

Then came the winning third quarter. Taking the Kansas kickoff, the Tigers hammered down the field to the Jayhawker's 31-yard line, climaxing the advance with a 20-yard dash by Whiteman, in which he zigzagged the field and was cheated out of a try for the goal line when he stumbled and fell in the midst of his own interference. A penalty set the Tigers back 15 yards, and then Zuber intercepted Whiteman's pass deep in his own territory.

Desperate, the Jayhawker's opened an aerial attack, Zuber flipping to Hodges, who caught the ball and then fumbled, Stafford, Missouri, recovering. Whiteman dashed through center, shook off the Jayhawker safety man at the goal line and plunged across for the counter that put Missouri in the lead. His toe almost immediately added a goal for the try for point.

The touchdown seemed to come as a surprising blow to the Jayhawkers. They kicked off and almost before they realized they were playing again, Bond had reeled off a first down in scrimmage and Jackson took the ball and tore down the side lines for 60 yards before Starr wrapped his arms around his neck and dragged him down on the Kansas 6-yard line. Bond hit the line, then Jackson took the ball across for the second 6 point counter. Whiteman's toe again counted one.

Twice in the final period the Jayhawkers started to advance. Once, by the aerial route, they carried the ball to the Tiger 19-yard line, only to lose the ball on an attempt to pass across the goal. The Bengals took the ball on the 20-yard line, fumbled and lost it, but four Jayhawker passes were incomplete and this time Faurot punted out of danger.

But Kansas wasn't through. The same spread formation which left an end loafing far out on the line again carried the ball down the field, despite the close defense which the Missouri team played against the overhead efforts. Then, with the ball on the 23-yard line, Zuber sent off a pass that, successful, would have saved Kansas from the whitewashbrush. But Capt. Arthur Bond was there. He was playing his final game, and it proved to be the final play of that final game. Up he went after the ball and down he came with it in his arms on his own 6-yard line as the game ended.

The stands were cheering, "we want a holiday" and Dr. Stratton D. Brooks announced it was granted. Faurot lost a yard. Whiteman failed to gain. R. Smith went in for N. Snyder. Faurot got a beautiful punt against the wind to the Kansas' 32-yard line. Faurot blocked Zuber's pass. H. Smith for Wellman. Coglizer replaced Bacchus. Coglizer threw Burt for a yard loss on a wide-end run. H. Smith got 3

Dr. O. L. Clough Resigns

Dr. O. L. Clough, instructor in Physical Education and trainer of the Missouri athletic teams, has resigned his position and will go to Northwest State Teachers' College at Maryville, January 1, as Professor of Physical Education and head of the department.

Dr. Clough has been at the University since September, 1923. He came here from the University of Nevada, where he was Professor of Physical Education. He met and worked with C. L. Brewer, director of athletics, during the war. His successor has not been named.

Parade Is Big Attraction.

The Homecoming parade was, as usual, the big attraction on Thanksgiving morning for the Homecomers. The Homecoming Committee seriously considered discontinuing the parade but finally decided that it was such a popular part of the program and held such a strong place in the hearts of the alumni that it could not be dispensed with.

A real, live, fighting, untamed Tiger, brought down from Lancaster, Missouri, for the occasion, headed the parade. The Razzers, the student pep organization, raised the money to bring the Tiger to Columbia. It was in town all during the day and was on the field just a few moments before the whistle blew that started the game. One hundred and four pretty Missouri girls who took part in the Silver Dollar Campaign for the Memorial Union and Stadium followed the Razzers in the parade. The R. O. T. C. unit, headed by Major O. S. Wood, made up the first part of the parade, and it was a most impressive sight to see these hundreds of University boys in their blue uniforms making such a splendid showing, and comprising a military unit that has brought credit to the University for years.

There were floats of every size and description, with take-offs on alumni, students, faculty members, and townspeople. All in all, it was a most interesting and entertaining parade, due to the fine management of Norville Allen, member of the Homecoming Committee in charge. For the first time in the history of Homecoming, the parade started on time and finished in time for the crowd to get a quick lunch and hurry to the field. It was estimated that twenty-five thousand persons saw the Homecoming parade.

Geology Grads Entertained.

Dr. E. B. Branson was host at a luncheon at the Columbia Country Club in honor of Homecoming graduates of the department of geology. The guests were Henry McQueen and Dr. R. B. Rutledge of Rolla, both of whom are assistant geologists of the state of Missouri; Parke K. Bryan and Powell Williams, Kansas City; I. A. Keyto Colorado Springs; T. C. Cash, geologist of the Texas Oil Co., Cisco, Tex.; Virgil T. Cole, geologist of the Gypsy Oil Co., Denver; and Leslie Case, La Verne Decker, J. Q. Adams, Tom Nelson, A. S. Wilkerson, E. H. Mathias, Gerald Maddox, Nason Duncan, James S. Williams, M. G. Mehl and Sam T. Bratton.

Doctor Branson plans to make this gathering of geologists an annual Homecoming affair.

M. U. Board of Visitors Meet.

The University Board of Visitors held its annual meeting on the morning of November 27. Charles I. Baird of Kansas City, chairman of the committee, presided at the meeting. The following members were present: John F. Case, Wright City; W. P. Brinkley, Linneus; Alex E. Douglas, Kansas City; and Charles E. Prettyman, Jr., Neosho.

Miss Dobbs Is President Of Missouri Teachers' Association.

Miss Ella Victoria Dobbs, A. M. '13, of the University, was elected president of the Missouri State Teachers' Association at its annual meeting in Kansas City November 13. Miss Dobbs is the second woman to receive this honor. She is Associate Professor of Industrial Arts in the University.

Other officers elected were: Mrs. Lucy Hensley, Montgomery City, first vice-president; F. E. Engleman, Nevada, second vice-president; Miss Lenora Murphy, Desloge, third vice president, and C. H. McClure, Warrensburg, and Miss L. R. Ernst, St. Louis, members of the executive committee.

The assembly adopted a resolution indorsing F. B. Mumford, dean of the

Miss Ella V. Dobbs, A. M. '13

Missouri college of agriculture for the post of Secretary of Agriculture in the President's cabinet.

There was a greater number in attendance at this meeting of the State Teachers' Association than at any other convention in the history of the organization. E. M. Carter, secretary, is responsible for the unusual success of the meeting and the prominent part the organization is taking in promoting general educational projects in this state. He is ably assisted by Tom Walker, editor of "School and Community".

The meeting of the teachers of the state was an impressive one for it called attention very strongly to the magnitude and scope of the state's educational forces. The work of the school teachers of Missouri is second to none in the upbuilding of the State of Missouri and too much commendation cannot be given their efforts.

Governor and Mrs. Hyde Sees Game.

Governor Arthur M. Hyde and Mrs. Hyde were guests of President and Mrs. Stratton D. Brooks for the Homecoming game.

All Sections of U. S. Hear Game Through Station WOS.

The University of Missouri and the Homecoming program including the mass meeting, the alumni frolic, and the great Tiger victory over the Jayhawks were given wide-spread publicity through the courtesy of the broadcasting station WOS at Jefferson City. J. M. Witten, former student of the University and the announcer of Station WOS, had charge of the broadcasting. He was assisted by George Edgscorn, member of the Homecoming Committee. Station KFKX of Hastings, Neb., picked up the program from WOS and Station WDAF also broadcast the game.

It was said by radio authorities that this was the first successful relay broadcasting during the day time anywhere. Hundreds of telegrams, long distance calls and letters were received from every section of the United States, stating that the program and the game were received splendidly. Messages were received from as far north as Minnesota, as far west as California, as far south as Old Mexico, and as far east as the coast. The Homecoming Committee expressed appreciation to Arthur T. Nelson, Commissioner, Missouri State Marketing Bureau, and to Governor Arthur M. Hyde for their courtesy in permitting the Homecoming Committee to broadcast the program and the game.

It would be hard to estimate in dollars and cents the value of the publicity received.

Silver Dollar Campaign Gets $1540.

The Memorial Union and Stadium fund was enriched to the amount of $1540 as a result of the Silver Dollar Campaign conducted by the girls of the University under the leadership of Miss Phoebe Louise Wright between halves at the Missouri-Kansas game. R. B. Price, Jr., had charge of making the silver dollar change. The amount contributed would have been several times larger had it been possible for the girls who did the soliciting to make their way through the humanity-packed aisles and passageways.

The Silver Dollar Campaign met with hearty approval from ever one and thousands of dollars would have been collected had it been possible for the girls to get through the crowd. Hundreds rushed the gates when they found nothing but standing room was left and, as a consequence, every available passageway was filled with spectators. Undoubtedly those who attended a Homecoming game would always be willing to make a small contribution to the stadium fund. At one of the Western Homecoming games this season an extra fee of $2 was added to each ticket. Ninety thousand attended the Homecoming game.

Three Make Mythical Eleven

Three Tigers, Captain Arthur Bond, Harry R. Jackson and Arthur Coglizer, opened the 1922 mythical eleven season, when they won honorable mention in the All-American selection picked by the All-Sports Magazine of Chicago. The teams selected, the editors state, were picked by a vote of 312 prominent football coaches, officials and sport writers.

Next K. U.-M. U. Game to Be Saturday Before Thanksgiving

The Missouri-Kansas football game will be played on the Saturday before Thanksgiving in Lawrence next year instead of on Thanksgiving Day. The Committee on Intercollegiate Athletics of the University reached this decision following an urgent request from Chancellor E. H. Lindley of the University of Kansas. This decision, however, has no bearing on the game to be played in Columbia two years hence.

The committee awarded 23 Varsity football letters to the following men:

Captain Bond, Captain-elect White-man, Smith, Lewis, Palermo, Richerson, Van Dyne, Stafford, Lindenmeyer, Walker Walsh, Bacchus, Coglizer, Jackson, Faurot, Tuttle, Thomas, O'Sullivan, Stuber, Ferguson, Simpson, Moulder and Swofford.

In the case of Ferguson and Simpson, although they did not fulfill all of the requirements for a letter, they were given the M because they are both seniors, they have played three years with the teams and stayed with the game until the season was over, and because they have been of high value to the squad.

Moulder and Swofford were given their Sapulpa Alumnae Hear Game.

Miss Alberta Parrett, B. S. in Ed. '23, now teaching in Sapulpa, Okla., 111 South Elm, writes as follows regarding the Homecoming radio party held in Sapulpa:

"And did we enjoy that mass meeting, glee club and frolic Wednesday 'nite', and the game Thursday? Being loyal Missourians there's but one answer! We could even get the live spirit. There was but one regret and that was, that we didn't get to drive up as we had planned. It was a fitting 'finale' for old Rollins Field and a prophecy of things yet to be seen on the new Memorial Stadium field.

"There are three of us recent 'M. U.' girls teaching here, and I often see other 'grads' in Tulsa. Saw Mary Houk last week.

"The game came through real well; however the first half was full of groaning static. Jefferson City wasn't plain, but by the second half K. C. Star had cleared up, until it was like a telephone. Had the moaning and wailing static lasted through the last half I might easily have taken it for the sorrowful departing spirit of good old Jayhawk, no longer king of birds, but prey of the mighty Tiger—owner of the valley of valleys—Missouri Valley!

"Had E. A. Guest been a student at M. U. I feel sure that he would have written his friendship poem not dissimilarly from this:

"Some reckon their five days by sunshiny weather,

And grumble, and whine and complain,
And count it a bad, a gloomy, a sad day
When it happens to rain.

But the best of my Thanksgiving days,
Whether grey skies or blue

Are days when WE meet with, and
BEAT a friendly foe like you K. U.
(and then I wouldn't have to say 'with apologies'.")

letters because they both suffered broken legs just when they were on the verge of winning the M. Had they finished the game they were playing they would have won a letter.

A. M. A., an award next in importance to the Varsity M, was given to Etter, Hicks, Gibson, and Casteel. This is an award given to men who did not play enough cofererene games to win a letter but who are deserving of recognition.

The committee also awarded thirty freshman football sweaters and fifteen freshman numerals.

Walter C. Goodson, Macon, Missouri, LL. B., 1899, Elected president of Law Alumni Organization, November 26, 1924.

Columbia Gave Homecomers Royal Welcome and Entertainment.

Mayor Emmett McDonnell of Columbia and his corps of city officials entered into the spirit of Homecoming in splendid fashion by absolutely turning over the city to the Homecomers. He appointed thirty-five extra officers to look after traffic and see that nothing was done to mar the spirit of Homecoming. Broadway was cleared of all automobiles in order to give the parade full sway over Columbia's big thoroughfare.

Mayor McDonnell invited the mayor of Lawrence to be his guest during Homecoming. The town was beautifully decorated with Missouri and Kansas colors, and every business house, fraternity and sorority house was appropriately decorated. The Wabash and M. K. & T. railroads had many special trains in and out of Columbia during the day. The crowd was handled without confusion or delay, and it was said by all that it was a most enjoyable Homecoming.

Without question there were more alumni back for the Homecoming of 1924 than were ever in Columbia before. They represented a wide period of time and practically every section of the country. Jack Crawford of Sedalia, A. B. '22, made a hurried trip from around the world to get back for Homecoming. He wired for his tickets from Naples. There was hardly a state in the Union that was not represented. It was the common remark that the Columbians and alumni had never seen as many of the old timers in Columbia as were here on Thanksgiving Day.

The visitors were interested in the welfare of the University. They were, of course, in a great hurry and rush, due to the enthusiasm of the occasion, but at the same time they wished to know of the progress of the school and its needs. They called to see their deans and former teachers and friends in town. Columbians opened their homes to the visitors and it was a Homecoming in every sense of the word.

"M" Men Elect Goodson President.

The annual meeting of the "M" Men's Association was held as usual in the Y. M. C. A. building on the evening before the Missouri-Kansas game. Walter Goodson of Macon, LL. B. '99, who played football in 1899, was elected president. Sam Anderson of Sturgeon, '91-94, who played football in 1895, was elected vice-president, and Herbert Blumer of Columbia, A. B. '21, A. M. '22, who played football during his attendance at the University, and was captain in 1921 was elected secretary-treasurer.

Oak Hunter of Moberly, '97-99, who has been president for the last two years, was toastmaster. Talks were made by C. L. Brewer, director of athletics, Mr. Goodson, and many others of the older "M" men present. There were thirty-three in attendance. Harry Tidd of Hutchinson, Kansas, C. E. '13, who had charge of the Memorial Union and Stadium subscriptions at the meeting, reported that everyone present at the meeting had subscribed at least a life membership of $100 in the Memorial Union and Stadium. The "M" men's dinner adjourned in time for the men to attend the night mass meeting on Rollins Field.

Journalists Address Students.

James Wright Brown of New York City, publisher of Editor and Publisher, and George W. Marble, editor of the Tribune-Monitor, Fort Scott, Kan., were in Columbia November 13, to confer with Dean Walter Williams on matters concerning the World Press Congress.

Mr. Brown and Mr. Marble spoke to the students of the School of Journalism in the auditorium of Jay H. Neff Hall.

Dean McBaine Is Made Member.

Dean J. P. McBaine of the School of Law was one of the five members elected to membership on the executive committee of the Missouri Association for Criminal Justice at the first meeting of the board of directors held in St. Louis, November 21.

Washington U. Defeated 35-0; Pikers Attend Mass Meeting

The Washington University Pikers were defeated by the Tigers on Rollins Field, November 15, 35-0. The Tigers of last year who were on this year's team felt that they had, in part at least, over shadowed the defeat that the Pikers gave them at St. Louis last year.

The Pikers seldom had possession of the ball and were never dangerous. The Tigers gained at will, using line plays and passes with regularity and success. From the initial kick-off received on their 5-yard line the Tigers started an offense which Washington was unable to stop until 71 yards and a touchdown had been negotiated. Four of Missouri's touchdowns were made in the first half.

Coach Henry sent in the second string men early in the game and as a result brought out a star player, Stuber, a substitute quarter back. He gained 120 yards in three spectacular runs. One was 80 yards for a touchdown near the end of the second quarter. Captain Bond, Smith, Farout, Thomas and all the Missouri players were at their best.

Washington had 1200 rooters at the game, including the band and "pep" organization. They came to Columbia the night before the game on a special train and many of them attended the mass meeting in the auditorium. Some of those who attended the mass meeting started to heckle the mass meeting speakers. Sid Maestre and Elmer Kershaw, both of St. Louis, were introduced by "Bill" Shumate, the student president, and some of the Washington visitors began to take part in the mass meeting at the expense of the speakers. Then Shumate introduced Frank Kentnor of St. Louis and the Washington bunch started to heckle Kentnor but it wasn't long until Kentnor had full control of the situation and the Washington bunch "ceased firing". Maestre and Kentnor in addition to making good mass meeting speeches completed their talks by increasing their respective Memorial Union and Stadium subscriptions to five hundred dollars each.

Warren W. Browne, president of the St. Louis Alumni Association, headed the St. Louis delegation at the Washington game. It included Dr. H. H. Shackelford, Mr. and Mrs. Earle F. Nelson, Ernest M. Staude, Bob Rutledge and many others. Herley S. Daily brought a bunch down from Kansas City.

Night Mass Meeting Was Prominent Factor of Homecoming Program

The mass meeting on Rollins Field the night before the Missouri-Kansas game was again one of the most prominent factors of the Homecoming program. It was estimated that between seven and nine thousand were in the south bleachers and on the field to hear the mass meeting speakers, in spite of the cold wind from the northwest which brought the temperature down to the lowest that Columbia has had this winter.

The night mass meeting is a most spectacular sight. The south bleachers and the field were adequately lighted as a result of the work of the students of the School of Engineering, and amplifiers furnished through the courtesy of Milton E. Barnett, advertising manager of the Southwestern Bell Telephone Company of St. Louis, which made it possible for everyone on the field to hear the speakers plainly. The speakers' stand was in the middle of Rollins Field and William Shumate, president of the student body, presided.

Frank B. Rollins of Columbia, LL. B. '11, president of the alumni association, was the first speaker and welcomed the Homecomers to the University on behalf of the alumni and on behalf of President Stratton D. Brooks, whose illness prevented his speaking at the mass meeting. Mr. Rollins complimented the work of the alumni of the University during the recent years and urged their intelligent study of the University needs during the coming years and the giving of their staunch support to the strong policies which are being advocated by President Brooks and the members of the Board.

Following the custom, the president elect of the "M" Men's Association, Walter C. Goodson of Macon, was next called upon to speak, and he pledged the support of the "M" men to all University enterprises, especially the Memorial Union and Stadium campaign. He told of his days on the football team which were most interesting.

Oak Hunter of Moberly, past president of the "M" Men's Association, and member of the Missouri legislature, spoke briefly, emphasizing the great need of a new stadium and expressing regret that over $20,000 in applications had to be returned this year for lack of accommodation for those who wanted to attend the game and for whom seats could not be provided. He brought out clearly the necessity for completion of the stadium by the time the primary roads in Missouri are completed, and urged that every alumnus and former student of the University subscribe at least a life membership of $100 to complete the Memorial Union and Stadium.

The last speaker was John C. Hall of St. Louis, LL. B. '01, noted for his humor and wit, and he entertained and amused the crowd in spite of the fact that they were nearly frozen. John brought his son to visit the University and said that the boy would enter the University next fall.

The Engineers had a great sign over one hundred feet long on which was flashed Missouri yells, Missouri songs, and catchy phrases for the entertainment of those in the bleachers. The Freshmen held their cap burning just back of the south bleachers before the game. "Doc" Miller, the yell leader, was on hand and the Missouri band was at its best all during the program.

The mass meeting program was broadcast through station W O S, Jefferson City. J. M. Witten, the W O S station announcer, was in charge assisted by George Edgescorn, a member of the Homecoming Committee, and the hundreds of letters and telegrams that were received furnished evidence that the mass meeting program was heard in every section of the United States.

First Alumni Homecoming Frolic Is Huge Success.

The Homecoming Alumni Frolic in Rothwell Gymnasium the night before the Thanksgiving game was said to be the finest and most enjoyable alumni party that has ever been held at the University. For years the alumni have been asking for a party at Homecoming time which they could call their own and this year the Homecoming Committee left nothing undone to make this frolic "the alumni's own".

Just as the Homecoming mass meeting adjourned, the yell leaders and the band, with the alumni speakers, headed the procession from Rollins Field to Rothwell Gymnasium, to the tune of "Hail, Hail, the Gang's All Here". Everyone joined in the grand march around the gymnasium, starting the first alumni Homecoming frolic.

Dean James T. Quarles of the School of Fine Arts presented the University of Kansas Glee Club and the Glee Club of the University of Missouri. These alternated for several numbers on the frolic program, much to the pleasure and entertainment of the Homecomers. Dancing and vaudeville stunts lasted until midnight, with a program composed of choruses and dancing numbers by students of Stephens and Christian Colleges, University girls and boys. Everyone pronounced it a wonderful party. Miss Dorothy Belle Flannagan had charge of the entertainment. Arthur Ocker was in charge of the Frolic.

There was dancing between the vaudeville numbers and all the equipment, in the shape of noise-makers, serpentine and paper hats, was there to make the carnival spirit supreme. Booths around the room sold everything imaginable to create fun. The room was packed with alumni and friends of the University. There was so much fun that it was hard to tell the frolickers at one o'clock that the party must close. Doubtless the frolic will be a part of every Homecoming program in the coming years. This one was attended by approximately two thousand Homecomers.

K. U. Chancellor Visits Columbia.

Chancellor E. H. Lindley of University of Kansas attended the Missouri Kansas football game and was the guest of President Brooks.

Kansas brought along their band and their pep organization of fifty boys and a group of mighty pretty girls who, just before the whistle blew, marched to the center of Rollins Field and there separated into two groups, one going to President Brooks and the other to Chancellor Lindley, presenting each of them with a huge basket of chrysanthemums. It was a pretty sight indeed and was roundly applauded by the crowd in the bleachers.

35 Alumni Attend Hoof And Horn Club Banquet In K. C.

The meeting of alumni and former students of the College of Agriculture held at the Hoof and Horn Club in the Live Stock Exchange Building, Kansas City, on the night of November 17, was a great success. Approximately 35 former students and alumni of the College of Agriculture were present.

M. W. A. Cochel, president of the association, was toastmaster. Speeches were made by Dr. H. J. Waters, former Dean of the Missouri College of Agriculture and the first man to receive the degree B. S. in Agriculture at the University; Dean F. B. Mumford, T. A. Ewing, and R. A. Jones. President Cochel also made a few remarks befitting the occasion.

This was the first annual banquet held in connection with the American Royal. A similar banquet is to be held next year.

Sam B. Shirky, secretary of the Organization, was responsible for the success of the meeting and for the active association of the alumni and former students of the College of Agriculture.

When Dr. Henry J. Waters was introduced as the first speaker the fact was brought out that he was the first student enrolled at the Missouri College of Agriculture, the institution of which he later became dean. Dr. Waters originally enrolled in the school of liberal arts and later petitioned the faculty to permit him to change to an agricultural course, doing this without knowing that there had not been up to that time any student enrolled in the agricultural division and that the entire faculty was eagerly awaiting the arrival of the first candidate for an agricultural degree. His petition was unanimously granted and for the remainder of his university course this Missouri pioneer in agricultural education was the only student in several of the classes that he daily attended.

In the course of his remarks before the alumni association, Dr. Waters called attention to the different attitude now generally shown toward agricultural teaching and stated his belief that the agricultural college is now held in such high respect by persons in all occupations that it will be permanently and liberally maintained as an instrument for universal benefit. He then went on to say that the Missouri College of Agriculture is the most sorely pressed for land of any of the colleges of the Southwest. He urged that the college be provided just as quickly as possible with a thousand acres of good land and additional livestock equipment. He expressed admiration for the high quality of service that the institution is rendering and pledged his support to the advancement of the interests which the College of Agriculture was created to serve.

Dean Mumford of the College of Agriculture also responded to a toast and referred to the time when he came as professor of agriculture on the teaching staff of which Dr. Waters was the dean. That was in 1895 and he has been identified with the college continuously since that date. Referring to the need of more land and other equipment the dean stated that he offered no apology to any college for the quality of research work and the character of the teaching that is being done by Missouri; though he admitted that there are many problems and lines of work that the college has not been able to include in its list of projects which should be included if larger expenditures were authorized. He reiterated, however, that the college would continue to maintain its high quality of research work and the excellent character of its teaching even if it should remain impossible for it to spread out over a wider field of investigation.

With the fourth high man in the contest for individual honors and seventh rank among twelve teams, students of the Missouri College of Agriculture made a very creditable showing in the inter-collegiate judging contest at the American Royal Live Stock Show. The members of Missouri's team were J. S. Williamson, Columbia; John W. Riley, Mayview; R. L. Laughlin, Rich Hill; Cleo Statton, Powersville; and G. B. Thorne, Linneus. Williamson was fourth high man in the individual honors with a score of 908 out of a possible 1000. He tied for second place in the cattle judging contest and tied with John W. Riley of Missouri and two others for first place in the sheep judging contest.

The Kansas Aggies won first place with 4,495 points, followed closely by the agricultural schools of Nebraska, Colorado, Indiana, Wisconsin, Oklahoma, Missouri, Texas, Wyoming, Iowa, North Dakota and Arkansas. Missouri was only six points behind Oklahoma.

Twelve colleges were represented in the contest, and the grades made were the highest on record. Missouri finished seventh with 4,326 points so close on the heels of others that there was a margin of less than 50 points between it and fourth place.

Missouri's team will compete with even a greater number of colleges at the International at Chicago, Nov. 29 to Dec. 6. The members of the team accompanied by their coach, Professor L. A. Weaver, have recently visited several of the leading livestock herds in the country and will reach Chicago intensively trained for their final contest.

Los Angeles Alumni Elect Officers.

The Los Angeles Alumni Association, under the leadership of its president, Dr. M. F. Weymann, 418-420 Westlake Professional Bldg., held its regular meeting November 21. The following officers were elected for the coming year: Porter Albright, 1130 Central Bldg., President; J. L. Phillips, 2159 West 25th Street, T. C. '80, C. E. '90, vice-president; and Miss Mabel Phelps, B. L. 1900, 354 West Avenue 53, secretary-treasurer.

Dr. E. R. Hedrick, formerly of the University and now of the University of California, was the guest of honor at the meeting and told the Los Angeles alumni of recent happenings at the University of Missouri.

This organization has been one of the most loyal, faithful and liberal in the whole world and has been most liberal in our Memorial Union and Stadium Campaign. They have established a precedent for other alumni associations that are great distances from the University.

African Trophies Are Given M. U.

Dr. Richard L. Sutton of Kansas City, who conducted an African expedition in 1923-24 as special representative of the department of natural history of the University of Missouri, has given his collection of trophies gathered during the expedition to the University. The gift was formally accepted by the Executive Board of the University, November 27.

The trophies include a wide range of weapons, implements, clothing and domestic articles used by savage inhabitants of the Dark Continent.

Among the weapons are twenty-one swords and daggers, thirty-one spears, various large and small shields, war clubs and a bow and arrow.

There is a head dress used to distinguish a savage potentate; a grass dress typical of those worn by the belles in Interior Africa; and a pair of shoes of the sandal variety.

There are wooden implements, a gourd bottle, a rattle, a drum, heads of rhinoceros and bear, antelope and buffalo horns and miscellaneous articles.

Dr. W. C. Curtis, professor of zoology in the University, characterized the collection as valuable from a biological and zoological standpoint, for several of the specimens are the nearest approach to the survival of the great mammalian fauna of the tertiary period. The specimens are destined to be of increasing value as the big game of Africa becomes gradually exterminated, in the opinion of Doctor Curtis.

Doctor Sutton was a student in the University in 1898-99. He was graduated in medicine from George Washington University in 1904, and continued his studies in London, Paris, Berlin and Vienna. The University of Missouri conferred upon him the degree of Doctor of Laws in 1922.

The collection is to be placed in the University Museum of Natural History.

First Interstate Debate Dec. 11.

The debating team of the University of Missouri practiced Monday night in preparation for the triangular contest which will be held on Thursday, December 11, and in which the universities of Missouri, Kansas and Iowa will take part.

The members of the team are Henry Depping, George H. Rose, Woodburn O. Ross and Harold Streeter. The question to be debated is: "Resolve, that capital punishment is a good public policy."

The debate will be carried on according to the Oxford system. Missouri will send two men to Kansas, one taking the negative and the other the affirmative, and two men will remain here to meet the Iowa team. In the same way, Kansas will send two men to Iowa, and Iowa will have two men meet them in a debate there.

There will be no judges and the audiences will render the decisions.

Engineering Dean Attends Meeting

E. J. McCaustland, dean of the College of Engineering, attended the annual meeting of the National Highway Research Board, at Washington, D. C. He will also meet with the National Lime Association at Toledo, Ohio.

Alumni and The University.

The atmosphere on the campus has never been charged with as much enthusiasm and optimism as it has today. The University of Missouri has entered its eighty-fifth year of college work with unusually encouraging prospects. The alumni organization, by counties in the state of Missouri, and by cities outside of Missouri, is just beginning to realize the great importance of our Alma Mater and that the growth and development of the alumni work along constructive lines must be based on the growth and development of the University. We must give serious consideration to the scope of alumni work. We must make an intelligent study of the needs of the University to the extent that we may be able to love our school less blindly and serve it more intelligently. It may be that in years gone by, alumni interest has lagged but there is so much for alumni and former students to do that it is really worth while that we must now assume the responsibility and perfect the leadership.

Alumni loyalty and liberality is making possible the Memorial Union and Memorial Stadium although we have several thousand dollars yet to be subscribed by the alumni and former students, but the thousands of dollars that will be subscribed is not the important phase of the Memorial Campaign. The real profit from the Memorial effort will be the closer interest that the alumni will feel in their Alma Mater as a result of subscribing and the attention they will pay in all time to come to the needs of the University and the importance of their support to the strong policies adopted by the University.

In the very near future individual alumni classes and organizations will doubtless appreciate the need for endowed chairs, scholarships and buildings on the campus, in gifts that the University needs.

A Benefactor Of Missouri

Robert Beverly Price, Sr., who died November 30, at his home in Columbia, deserves the lasting gratitude of all who have at heart the interests of our State University or the general interests of education in Missouri. He became connected with the university in 1849, as a student, and since he has rendered it a long and valuable service. For fifty years he was the treasurer of the university. Not until about a year ago, at the age of 91, did he relinquish that office.

In his capacity as treasurer and in other ways Mr. Price was at all times a faithful and useful friend of the university, and on two occasions gave it much-needed financial assistance, by a personal loan, until an appropriation could be made by the State Legislature. He founded the Boone County National Bank, the first national bank in Missouri, and until three years ago served as its president. That he lived to a very old age and remained active almost to the end is made especially noteworthy by the fact that his life was closely associated with the life and development of the University of Missouri, an association which was a great aid to this development and one which gives him an important place in the ranks of those who have encouraged and supported education in this state. His service will be remembered, and the benefits derived from it will continue to be enjoyed by students of the present and future.

Homecoming In The Future

Certainly there is a great need for a new Stadium at the University of Missouri that will take care of the students, alumni and friends of the University who want to attend the football games throughout the season. Thousands of applications had to be refused and thousands of dollars had to be returned to persons who applied for seats at the game here on Thanksgiving Day for whom there was no room.

It was estimated that between twenty and thirty thousand dollars had to be returned, but the financial loss is of minor importance compared to the loss of good will which would accrue from the attendance at the University of Missouri at the football games by persons from all sections of the state who have never attended the University but who are actively interested in its welfare and purposes.

When the next Missouri-Kansas Homecoming game is played in Columbia two years from now the first section of the Memorial Stadium will be completed and there will be plenty of room for all who wish to attend the game, thanks to the loyalty and liberality of those who subscribed to the Memorial Union and Stadium fund.

Homecoming Publicity

The newspapers, both city and others in Missouri, were most liberal in regard to the space devoted to the Homecoming exercises at the Missouri-Kansas game. For weeks in advance, the Missouri newspapers devoted considerable space to news regarding Homecoming and, on Thanksgiving Day, practically every metropolitan paper in the state had feature story writers, sport writers, and photographers in Columbia to cover the entire Homecoming program. All of this fine newspaper publicity for the University of Missouri will have a splendid effect by calling the attention of the people of Missouri to the great work that the University is doing. Homecoming publicity was never better handled, due to the untiring efforts and thoughtfulness of the Homecoming publicity manager, Miss Mary Virginia Doerschuk.

DEATH NOTES

R. B. Price, Senior

R. B. Price Senior, Dean of Missouri Bankers and President of the Boone County National Bank, Columbia, died November 30 at the home of his daughter Mrs. W. H. Willis, Columbia. Mr. Price was 92 years old October 17, of this year.

Mr. Price served as treasurer of the University of Missouri for fifty years. At one time he lent the school one quarter of a million dollars out of his own pocket. His bank was the first Missouri bank admitted to the federal reserve system in Missouri. Mr. Price received a salary of $150.00 annually as treasurer of the University and did not keep the school's funds in his own bank but advertised for bids and kept the money in the bank making the best offer.

In 1892, after the burning of the University, the legislature demanded that adequate fire protection be given the University. Mr. Price, with William T. Anderson, former president of the Merchants Exchange of St. Louis and David R. Francis of St. Louis, built the first water and light system in Columbia.

In 1915 the University exhausted its biennial appropriation. Mr. Price paid the warrants to the amount of $220,000.

Mr. Price was born in Charlotte County, Virginia, and at the age of 7 years came to Missouri with his father, Dr. Edwin Price. The family passed through Columbia enroute to Brunswick, Mo., where they located. Dr. Price let the contract for a brick house at Brunswick and during the year it was being built lived at Fayette. The family came West in a covered wagon over the Blue Ridge trail and through the Cumberland Gap.

Mr. Price lived on a farm until he was 18 years old and then came to Columbia to attend the University. His father said to him: "That is our state-school, I want you to go there and get a good education." Columbia was then a town of 1,200 population and there were 120 students enrolled at the University. Mr. Price entered the School of Engineering and Geology. After he finished school he became a draughtsman for the state geological department under Prof. George C. Swallow.

After four years in the state department of geology Mr. Price married a daughter of the late Moss Prewitt, a leading merchant of Columbia and became associated with him in business. Here he saw the necessity for a bank in Columbia and in 1857, established the banking firm of Prewitt and Price out of which grew the Boone County National Bank, the oldest national bank west of the Mississippi river.

During the war Mr. Price buried the bank's money in a field near Columbia to keep it from being stolen by bushwhackers and guerillas. After the war Mr. Price dug up the money and placed it back in the vaults of the bank.

He was twice married. His first wife was Miss Emma Prewitt, by whom he had two children, Edwin M. Price and Mrs. W. H. Willis, both of Columbia. His first wife died March 8, 1859. He was married May 1, 1860, to Miss Evelyn Hockaday of Fulton, and by her he had one child, Mrs. Florence P. Blair of New York.

Funeral services were conducted by the Rev. Walter M. Haushalter, pastor of the First Christian Church.

Mr. Price is survived by two daughters, Mrs. W. H. Willis of Columbia and Mrs. Frank P. Blair of Chicago, and two grandsons, R. B. Price, Jr., and Lakenan M. Price of Columbia.

Marguerite Oliver Dearmont

Mrs. Marguerite Oliver Dearmont, wife of Russell L. Dearmont, LL. B. '14, attorney at Cape Girardeau and chairman of the state Democratic executive committee, died suddenly at her home on November twenty-eighth. She had been ill ten days and was considered to be improving when stricken with a sudden heart attack. Mrs. Dearmont, who was thirty-four years of age, was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Oliver of Cape Girardeau. She leaves her husband, three small daughters, her parents and four brothers, all of Cape Girardeau. Mr. Oliver served on the Board of Curators of the University of Missouri from 1893 until 1903.

Napoleon Bonapart Laughlin

Napoleon Bonapart Laughlin, Ph. B. '75, former chief justice of the territory of New Mexico and one of the pioneers of that state, died in Santa Fe, New Mexico November 11. Judge Laughlin was born in Illinois, later moved to Arkansas, and then came to Missouri. He was in the Confederate army during the Civil War. He was married in 1883 to Miss Katie Kimbrough, they had two daughters. He worked his way through the University and was a member of the Union Literary Society. His home was in Wittenburg, Perry County, Mo. while he was a student.

Chancellor Lindley Sends $3

Lindley was not solicited for a silver dollar for the Memorial Stadium between halves on Homecoming day because the great crowd prevented the girls making a thorough solicitation, but he mailed the Memorial office three silver dollars as a contribution of his part. Chancellor Lindley is a subscriber to the Memorial Union and Stadium of the University of Missouri.

mustache he had had in school. Maxwell was busy, trying to keep the peas from rolling off his knife. The "admirable Crichton", our honorable secretary, was distributing statistics for the Missouri Valley football season, with a chart of the Turkey day game. George Luke was quite interested in Maxwell's skill in gastronomic technique. Austry was telling about getting the Tech-Notre Dame game over the radio, and wondering if anybody here got Jeff City's broadcasting on Thanksgiving. Querbach, Wilkerson (from Beaver Falls) and Swift compared notes and found that the Alumnus came later than usual ever since the Republican administration. R. L. Brown (our new president) was telling Wilcox (who used to tell us about where he was in Montana, they dressed up by tying a red handkerchief around their neck and put chaps over the overalls) that we had another alumnus in town, a Francis M. Walters, about '13, now Director of Metallurgical Research at Carnegie Tech, coming here from the Bureau of Standards, Washington, D. C. Wilcox was listening—he's a good listener. George Walker and E. J. Mason were too far away to hear what they were saying,—they're usually too busy to talk much, anyway. Epstein was regaling Bickley and Dittbrenner with observations made on his tour of the battlefields of Europe last summer. Dittbrenner had been there before that, so he was telling Calvert that he'd already raised three as good mustaches as Calvert had, and had cut them off before he came out of the woods last spring. Also a full beard, which was cut off much earlier. Nope, Findley wasn't married yet, so he didn't owe Dittbrenner that five dollars. Too bad Rusty could'nt come. But Dittbrenner was still single, and he had come back to Pittsburgh after a nine month's sojourn in the wilderness. How about it? Just the wrong direction, that's all. Medley was presiding, in the absence of President Thornton, also gracefully smoking a cigarette. Few men can do both thusly.

But all things must come to an end, and so did this. At the instigation of Ross Bickley, Dr. Ralph M. Brown was elected president for the next year. H. K. wished the vice-presidency on Dr. Oliver, Professor of History at the University of Pittsburgh, also the secretaryship on the shoulders of Dittbrenner, one of the newcomers. (Someone must have told him I had a typewriter). Maxwell got the job of collecting the dues for the next year (in advance, same as subscriptions to the Alumnus). Also the price of the dinner.

The memorial campaign committee, consisting of H. K. Smith, who reported that the Pittsburgh outfit had, in his opinion, done well, but could stand a little more work on it. Ross M. Bickley, and the admirable Crichton (the name fits him) who was to canvass all the unmarried alumnae (the ladies), was thanked and discharged, pending the appointment of new members to the committee. The outgoing treasurer reported a balance of sixty-five cents, but the secretary reported an unpaid bill of ninety cents! Being the first year in memory that we hadn't wound up in the hole, the treasurer stated that "the books are closed!" We all smoked Epstein's cigarettes and turned up our noses at H. K.'s stogies, and a good time was had by all.

Homecoming Pictures To Be Ready Soon For First Showing.

The Homecoming pictures will soon be ready for showing. The Homecoming Committee each year appropriates money enough to take motion pictures of all the football games and important student events and these are incorporated into the Homecoming motion pictures which include pictures of all the Homecoming events and the Missouri-Kansas game in detail.

It will take some time to assemble the pictures and write the titles, and the first showing will be given in Columbia to help defray the cost. The pictures then will be available for alumni parties, high schools and commercial clubs. There will be no charge for these pictures other than the charge of transportation, and alumni and friends of the University may secure the Homecoming pictures by writing direct to Mrs. Lynne Cooper Barnett, 21 New Chemistry Building, University of Missouri. Already there are dozens of requests on file for the Homecoming motion pictures to be shown before joint meetings of the alumni and high school students throughout Missouri and the adjoining states.

John Riley, student chairman of the Homecoming Committee, and J. S. Barham, University photographer, have had charge of assembling the motion pictures.

Little Rock Alumni Hear Game.

Mrs. Lila Dalton Thatcher of Little Rock, A. B. '12, B. S. in Ed. '14, and secretary of the Arkansas Alumni Association, organized a radio party for the alumni of Missouri University and Kansas University to hear the reports of the Homecoming Thanksgiving game.

The group met in one of the demonstration rooms of the Tire and Service Company in Little Rock with the following Missourians present: R. G. Clinkscales of Columbia, Missouri; Charles E. Moyer, '94-98, county judge of Pulaski County and candidate for mayor of Little Rock; P. L. Neville, '95, McGhee, Arkansas; E. E. Gay, '20-'22, now in Arkansas Medical School; George Craig, A. B. '13, and Mrs. Craig; Mary Craig, A. B. and B. S. in Ed. '10; L. A. Allen, '09; H. K. Thatcher, '14; Mrs. H. K. Thatcher, A. B. '12, B. S. in Ed. '14; and F. D. Crooks, '14.

"There is no use talking about the game," wrote Mrs. Thatcher. "It was glorious and we could hardly believe we were not in the bleachers ourselves. When we heard the band play Old Missouri and Dixie and the bunch in the bleachers singing it was almost too much. We invited the Kansas alumni and seven came but I think they must have had a hunch because they didn't stay. They said they would return, but they never did. There is one thing sure—next thing to being at the game is hearing it over the radio."

Thousands of Dollars Were Subscribed by Visiting Alumni.

Thousands of dollars were subscribed by the visiting alumni at Homecoming to the Memorial Union and Stadium fund. The need of the new stadium could not have been more strikingly demonstrated than it was by the crowd which attempted on Thanksgiving Day to see the game in the limited capacity of Rollins Field. There was a great cry for the need of a new stadium, not alone because of the cash that had to be returned to those who could not secure seats, but also because of the good will that the University is losing by not being able to take care of the many friends of the institution who wanted seats at the Homecoming game.

There was a sadness about this Homecoming on Rollins Field, for it will doubtless be the last Kansas Homecoming on the old site. Surely two years from now the first section of the new stadium will have been completed on the new site, and even now the prediction is that with the first unit of the stadium completed the primary roads in Missouri will have been practically completed and the great crowds that will drive to Columbia for the Homecoming Kansas game in 1926 will tax the capacity of this first unit of the stadium.

The location of the new stadium presents a knotty problem. Considerable thought must be given to the future development of the University, and parking facilities must be provided. It was the general comment that the authorities were acting wisely in not rushing headlong into the location of the stadium and that everything must be done to avoid mistakes.

There was much interest manifested in the progress of construction on the Memorial Tower although there was an expression of regret that more rapid progress was not being made. It was the hope of the Memorial Committee to have the alumni room in the tower completed in time for Homecoming in order that the vast throng of Homecomers could see where the permanent headquarters of the alumni would be in the Memorial Union. Thousands visited the site of the Memorial Union Building.

Curators Met November 26-27.

The Board of Curators held a meeting in Columbia on the night of November 26 and the morning of November 27. Andrew E. Murneek was appointed assistant professor of horticulture. Mr. Murneek's appointment will date from February 1, 1925. Miss Mildred Woodward Brown was appointed instructor in the department of pathology, with special assignment in clinical pathology at the University hospitals. Robert B. Baker was appointed student assistant in soils. The resignation of T. D. Stanford, assistant business manager of the University, was accepted to date from December 31, 1924.

The members of the Board were invited to participate in the Homecoming mass meeting, were hosts at the Homecoming alumni frolic, were invited to ride in special floats in the Homecoming parade, and attend the Homecoming game on Thanksgiving Day.

Law Alumni Told Building Plans.

Walter C. Goodson of Macon, Missouri, L.L.B. '99, former state senator from 1912 to 1920, during which time he was president pro tem of the Senate, was elected president of the alumni association of the School of Law at its second annual meeting on Thanksgiving morning. James E. Rieger, L.L.B. '97, of Kirksville, Missouri, the association's first president, presided over the meeting. The officers elected for the coming year were: Walter Goodson of Macon, L.L. B. '99, president; Ross E. Feaster of Windsor, L.L. B. '02, first vice-president; Earl F. Nelson of St. Louis, A.B. '04, L.L. B. '05, second vice-president; Raymond B. Lucas of Benton, A. B. '13, third vice-president; Alfred Moody Mansur of Richmond, '19-23, fourth vice-president; Harry S. Conrad of Kansas City, L. B. 1900, fifth vice-president; and Ben Ely, Hannibal, A. B. '20, L.L. B. Keep Budgets—Why Not You?

VICE-PRESIDENT-ELECT CHARLES G. DAWES earned national acclaim by working out a budget for the United States Government. This was adopted as the only practical plan of reducing unnecessary Federal expenditures and of knowing the financial status of the nation.

President Calvin Coolidge says that he keeps a personal budget and runs his home on that basis. He believes in it for himself and for others.

Business men and practical women (of large as well as of small income) have put their homes on the budget basis or believe it a good thing to do so.

If you have found the budget system easy to operate at home, we believe a copy of the JOHN HANCOCK BUDGET SHEETS would interest you particularly. If, like some others, you believe a budget is too much trouble then we want you to see how simple is the John Hancock Budget.

This would help you to start 1925 along the right lines. Without charge or obligation a copy will be sent on request.

Dean Mumford Is Recommended
For Secretary of Agriculture.

Dean F. B. Mumford of the College of Agriculture was recommended by the Missouri Farm Bureau Federation to President Coolidge for the secretaryship of the United States Department of Agriculture, left vacant by the death of Henry C. Wallace.

To this indorsement of the prominent Missouri agriculturist and educator were added the recommendations of the Missouri State Teachers' Association, in session in Kansas City, and of many individuals, calling the attention of the President to the fitness of Dean Mumford for the high position.

The telegram dispatched to President Coolidge by the federation follows: "The Missouri Farm Bureau Federation wishes to call your attention to, and ask your careful consideration of, F. B. Mumford of Columbia, Mo., Dean of the Missouri College of Agriculture, and director of the State Experiment Station, as a member of your cabinet representing the great industry of American agriculture. We heartily indorse Dean Mumford for this important office."

College of Agriculture and acting director of the State Experiment Station. In 1909 he became dean and director.

He rendered distinguished service to the Nation during the World War, in serving as chairman of the Missouri Council of Defense, and federal food administrator for the state. In the latter position he won the warm commendation of Herbert F. Hoover.

Dean Mumford is the author of a textbook on animal breeding and of numerous bulletins and pamphlets.

Vocational Agricultural Teachers
Hold Banquet At Tavern Nov. 24.

The Vocational Agricultural Teachers held their annual banquet at the Daniel Boone Tavern on November 24. Paul Barnes of Trenton was toastmaster. The Christian College singers, including the sextette from that school furnished the musical program, which was most interesting and entertaining.

Floyd Barnhart of Caruthersville led the singing of Missouri songs with D. C. Pharis of Harrisonville at the piano. C. L. Angerer of Salisbury led in giving Missouri yells. The principal speakers were Charles A. Lee, state superintendent of schools; F. B. Mumford, Dean of the College of Agriculture; J. A. Linke, Regional director from the department of Agriculture; George A. Reavis, state director of vocational education; Sherman Dickinson, associate professor of Agricultural education at the University; A. A. Sather, state director of vocational agriculture; G. J. Dippold, Bethany, Mo.; W. W. Welch of Chicago and Dr. J. C. Jones, director of the Memorial Union and Stadium Campaign.

Many of the vocational agricultural teachers who had not already subscribed Life Memberships in the Memorial Union and Stadium did so at the close of Dr. Jones' address. The arrangements for the banquet were made by M. R. Dunn of Kirksville, whose enthusiasm and energy always guarantees success. The organization of vocational teachers meets annually in Columbia during Homecoming week.

School of Engineering to Change Name.

The name of the division of engineering of the University has been changed from the School of Engineering to the College of Engineering, and will appear thus in future publications of the University.

The reason for the change, according to Dean E. J. McCaustland, is that the division of engineering is really a college and not a school in that two years of college work is required for entrance to a school, and students just out of high school may register in engineering. Two years of arts work are still required before the student may take courses in engineering, but the administration is under Dean McCaustland.

Engineering was changed from a school to a college in 1915, but the name was not changed. It had been a school for some time, but previous to that, it was on a professional basis as it is now.

K. C. Alumni Elect New Officers.

The Kansas City Alumni Association held its annual meeting there on the night of November 22 on the roof of the Kansas City Club, and it was one of the most enthusiastic and lively alumni meetings ever held in Kansas City.

President Walton H. Holmes presided over the dinner, attended by approximately 150 members of the association. There was much friendly rivalry over the election of officers which resulted in the election of the names as presented by Robert B. Caldwell, A. B. '03, LL. B. '07, chairman of the nominating committee. The new officers are: President, William Norris Rider, Jr., B. S. in Agriculture '18; first vice-president, Harry B. Walker, '89-93; second vice-president, Alexander Maitland III, '16-20; secretary-treasurer, J. E. Wild, '15-23. Sam Strother, LL. B. '93, presided over the meeting during the election of a member of the committee on intercollegiate athletics. Spencer Harris LL. B. '99, was elected as a member of the committee to succeed W. E. Kemp, A. B. '14, whose term expires January first.

Dr. J. C. Jones, chairman of the Memorial Union and Stadium campaign was the principal speaker. He praised the work of the Kansas City alumni and the staunch support of the Memorial Union and Stadium campaign, and told the alumni of the great work they still have before them in financially aiding the University at all times by gifts to endow chairs, to give buildings and such other constructive work that makes for the welfare of the University.

Charles Baird, chairman of the University visiting committee, was at the speakers' table and entered whole-heartedly into the spirit of the meeting and voiced his approval of the great work that has been done regarding the Memorial Union and Stadium campaign.

Harry G. Kipke, Tiger backfield coach, made a most interesting talk regarding the accomplishments of the Tiger football team this season. He was followed by Chester L. Brewer, Director of Athletics, who told the alumni about the tremendous task of taking care of Memorial subscribers, students and friends of the University who were clamoring for seats for the Thanksgiving game this year and of the thousands who had to be turned away because of lack of room.

Don. C. McVay, LL. B. '12, president of the Grundy County Alumni Association, L. W. Helmreich, M. E. in E. E. '11, president of the Cole County Alumni Association, James Sidney Rollins, LL. B. '10, and C. B. Rollins, Jr., A. B. '12 and LL. B. '14, of Columbia, were visitors at the meeting.

George Charno, '11-16, past secretary of the association, Hurley S. Daily, LL. B. '10, and Harry McCray, '18-22, assisted Walton Holmes in the management of the meeting. Sandy Sanderson furnished the entertainment with take-off songs on the officers and speakers.

Governor-elect Sam A. Baker was invited by Mr. Holmes to attend the meeting but sent a letter of regret. A telegram was read from President Brooks who was unable to attend the meeting on account of illness. Jack Cannon, '11-12, made a patriotic speech which was roundly applauded.

Everyone at the Kansas City Alumni Association meeting was predicting a Tiger victory—just read the following story from the Kansas City Star regarding the alumni meeting of the University of Kansas in Kansas City the night after the game:

It was to have been a dance of joyous celebration, after a feast of "very delicious Tiger meat."

But alas, it was one of consolation. As each guest arrived, figuratively, it was to walk to a small table and deposit a few bedraggled feathers or a wish bone, plucked clean, or some other part of the anatomy of that "grand old Kansas bird, the Jayhawk."

It was the annual dance of the Kansas City members of the University of Kansas Alumni Association, given last night at the Jack-o-Lantern, Westport avenue and Main street.

Nearly four hundred guests were present and after Dr. F. C. "Phog" Allen, athletic mentor at Kansas University, had told them: "It will be different next year," they succeeded in having a good time despite that ghost of defeat.

The proceeds taken in at the dance each year are used for a scholarship fund. The Kansas City alumni supports two students each year at the school.

Law Building Plans Are Drawn.

Bids for the construction of the new Law Building which is to be erected at the corner of Ninth and Conley streets will be received on December 19. Plans already have been drawn by Jamieson and Spearl of St. Louis.

The total cost of the building, excluding furnishings, is expected to be at least $150,000. It is hoped that construction will be started January 1.

The contracts for the Home Economics Building, which were let recently, call for completion by August 1, 1925.

If father did the washing just once!

If every father did the family washing next Monday there would be an electric washing machine in every home before next Saturday night.

For fathers are used to figuring costs. They'd say: "The electricity for a week's washing costs less than a cake of soap. Human time and strength are too precious for work which a machine can do so cheaply and well."

You will find this monogram of the General Electric Company on many devices that take the drudgery out of housework. Look at it closely and remember the letters G-E. They are a symbol of service—the initials of a friend.
