In spite of its size and the enormous power developed by this reversing blooming mill motor it reverses many times a minute. Its maximum rating is 22,000 h.p., equivalent to the muscle power of 176,000 men.

“The 100,000 Man”

Look closely at the picture of this great motor installed in the plant of a large steel company, and you will see the monogram of the General Electric Company, an organization of men and women who produce equipment by which electricity does more and better work.

Of Napoleon it was said that his presence on the battlefield was equivalent to 100,000 additional men. “The 100,000 man,” his enemies called him.

Napoleon dealt in death. Big General Electric motors, like the one in the picture, lift heavy loads off human shoulders, and contribute to the enrichment of life.

Homecoming at Missouri Nov. 27 "Round the Athens of Old Missouri"

The Big Mass Meeting on Rollins Field November 26 Will Seethe
With "Missouri Spirit"—Homecoming Frolic Will Be Held Immediately Afterward.

There's one word in the vocabulary of every loyal Tiger that is synonymous for "FIGHT", and that word is—Jayhawk! Always it's been that way. Since the days when the Mount Cread machine made a regular practice of twisting the Tiger's tail on Turkey Day. Since the turning point in 1909 when "Bill" Roper sat on the sidelines and watched a snarling, desperate Tiger team sweep clean the way for Ted Hackney's end runs, Eddie Klein's line smashes and finally tear a great hole in the Kansas defense through which Alexander smashed the final chalk mark for the first win against the Jayhawker in years. It was that way through the days of "Chuck Wilson, and Jimmie Shuck. It was that way too, when Billy Blees stood between a 200 pound Kansas fullback and victory.—Missouri won! "Peaches" Graham knew what it meant to fight when he crawled from play to play on all but useless knees. "Chuck" Lewis' brilliant kicking and running lead the team of 1920 to a win over the Crimson and Blue and the big upset handed the Jayhawk in '22 was the result of Lincoln's fifty yard place kick.

And then, last Turkey Day when his team was losing a snow battle by the margin of a field goal, Johnny Walsh stood on the twenty-five yard line with the snow beating in his face and brought life back to Missouri hearts when he booted the ball between the posts. It tells you again that Missouri fights!

This season every Missourian feels the elation of the victory over Stagg's Maroon team at Chicago on October 4. The Tiger outfought Ames, Kansas Aggies and Oklahoma and the only defeat came at Nebraska when a hard fight was lost to the Cornhuskers by a touchdown.

Now to get down to what we've been trying to tell you all along: When the Jayhawk comes to Columbia this Thanksgiving it means a fight! Made desperate by hardluck losses this year the Kansas team summons all her strength and points toward the invasion of Tigerland to redeem her prestige. And Tigerland makes ready to give her a warm reception.

With the shades of past heroes hovering over Rollins Field and the promise of a new stadium in the near future to urge them on the Tigers will uphold their standards. You want to see them too.

The plans for Homecoming this year are every state in the Union, and from most being worked out by the Homecoming Committees and they are bigger and better than ever. They would have to be in order to take care of the throngs of old grads and former students who are going to be arriving in Columbia on November 26 to see that Thanksgiving football game with Kansas, and stand to sing Old Missouri to a victorious team as they have never sung it before. Coach C. L. Brewer says, "I am sure that there has never been more wide-spread interest in a Homecoming game at Missouri than has been shown this year. Applications have come from every country. This will be the greatest gathering of the clan that Columbia has ever witnessed."

One thing every alumnus must do immediately after reaching Columbia is to register in Jesse Hall. After this we hope that the plans which we have made for you will make you have the best time that you have ever had in Columbia, but don't fail to register. The committee has worked out a new plan of registration. We know that you all want to know just who is back of your friends and classmates so when you register you will fill out a card giving your name, temporary address and telephone number, permanent address, division of the University, and year in school. This card will be filed on a large board in Jesse Hall, the corridor of the first floor, in alphabetical order in separate places, so that by a glance at the board you can see just who is back, and where you can reach "Dutch", "Liz", or "Joe" as the case might be. Registration starts at 1 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, and will last all during Homecoming.

The "M" Men will have their annual banquet and election of officers at the "Y" at 5:30 o'clock Wednesday night. The men who have fought the gridiron battles of "Old Missouri" in former years will congregate to fight these battles over again, and to give our 1924 Tigers new courage with which to go against the Jayhawks the next day, and make the Black and Gold of Missouri outshine the Crimson and Blue of Kansas.

The big Mass Meeting will be held again on the scene of the next day's battle, Rollins Field. It will start promptly at 7 o'clock Wednesday night, November 26. The electric sign made by the Engineers will flash the yells, both the old ones and some brand new ones. Come and get in practice for the next days vocal demonstration. The speakers have not all been secured, but Pres. Stratton D. Brooks will be there to welcome you back to your Alma Mater. The speakers stand in the center of Rollins Field will be equipped with loud speakers. William L. Shumate, the student president, will introduce the speakers. The crowd will be seething with "Missouri Spirit" which is so vast and undefinable, but nevertheless so all inclusive. You don't want to miss a thing, you know.

Immediately after the mass meeting there will be a "Homecoming Frolic" staged in Rothwell Gymnasium. The committee is working hard to complete the plans for this frolicking affair. You won't miss a soul, and you will be quite adequately entertained. There will be a choruses, minstrels, music by the campus Quadrangle Orchestra, and also there will be some very delightful singing by the Missouri and Kansas Glee Clubs. There will be food, so much as you want and can "stuff". We dare you to try to get away hungry. The Mens' Gymnasium will be a mass of color, it too will revel in Holiday and Missouri Spirit. There will be pecks of fun in store for you, and we are hoping that you will all be there for we are planning for you. The frolic will last until midnight, so if you have other plans for the first part of the evening come later.

Thanksgiving day will be started appropriately with joint religious services at the Baptist Church.

The parade will start at 10 o'clock Thursday morning, November 27. There will be rafts of attractive floats, the band will lead the procession, the military review will be "snappy" and then ther:

will be scores of pretty girls participating. The Razzers and Coo Coo Clan of Kansas will be there. You will then realize that the Jayhawks will be just as good a mouthful for the old Bengal Tiger, as he could wish for in his hungriest moments.

Then the Homecoming program will reach its peak at 2 o'clock Thursday, November 27, for that is the time of the Missouri-Kansas football game. The event in the year for every man or maiden of Tiger descent. The gates will be open at noon, so come early! You will want to be in your seat and too you don't want to miss the pep organizations of the two schools' staging of the "Ruffling of the Tigers Feathers," perhaps, and the Tiger being utterly devoured by the Jayhawk even as their Thanksgiving turkey might be. You will smile though and know deep in your heart just who is going to be able to smack his lips after the Thanksgiving feast. When you get the first glimpse of the team little shivers will be in the regions of your backbone. Perhaps you didn't realize before that you had the powers of clairvoyance, but when you see that team lead by Capt. Art Bond coming from the door of Rothwell Gymnasium, nearer to the field, still nearer, then actually reach Rollins Field and you see their fitness with your own eyes the outcome of the game will be as clear to you as it will be when the final whistle blows and victory over the 1924 Jayhawks is a reality.

"Old Missouri, fair Missouri" will fill the air, and you don't want to fail to be among every student man and maiden to swell the glad refrain, for a victorious game makes this great demonstration of "Missouri Spirit" even a little more impressive than it always is, if possible, and your hearts will swell with pride.

It has been said that to all good things there must come an end and so the Homecoming program will be brought to an end Thursday night with a dance at the Women's Gymnasium to be given under the auspices of the Razzers and the Student Council. It will start at 9 o'clock. The Homecoming festivities will only be over for a year though. So cheer up!

The Law Alumni will hold their annual meeting and election of officers at 9 o'clock Thursday morning at the Law Barn. Dean McBaine has said that plans for the new law building will be discussed if the architect doesn't fail to supply him with the blue-prints. There are many budding lawyers waiting to meet you, and a word from those who have succeeded always helps. Don't fail them. And you can't miss the good old timer's round-up.

The W. S. G. A. and A. A. U. W. will entertain all the visiting alumnae and their friends with a tea at Read Hall, at 4 o'clock Friday afternoon.

Rooms: J. D. James, secretary of the Commercial Club, has been handling the applications for rooms for Homecoming, and he has said that there have been more applications in advance for rooms this year than ever before. He is still able to supply you, but you had better write today and state your plea, for they are going fast. Address applications to Mr. James, Columbia Commercial Club, Columbia, Mo.

There will be an exhibition of paintings of Missouri artists at the time of Homecoming in Room 231 of the (new) West Agricultural Building, at the corner of Hitt street and University. These pictures are oil paintings and are mostly Missouri subjects. They include portraits, landscapes and figure compositions as well as some scenes from the industrial life of Missouri. The exhibition will be open to all. The artists are of St. Louis.

The faculty and student committees have been working together again this year. The faculty committee is; chairman, Bob Hill; Daddy Defoe; Frank L. Martin; C. L. Brewer; A. G. Capps; and W. C. Etheridge. The student committee is as follows; director, John Riley; mass meeting, George Edscomb; program, Arthur Ocker; parade, Norville Allen; and publicity, Mary Virginia Doerschuk.

Missouri And Kansas Alumni May Form Joint Employer's Bureau.

Walton H. Holmes, Jr., president of the Kansas City Alumni Association, has announced that the annual meeting of that organization will be held Saturday evening, November 22, before the Kansas game at the Kansas City Club.

Dr. J. C. Jones, Director of the Memorial Union and Stadium Campaign. C. L. Brewer, Athletic Director, Harry G. Kipke and others have been invited to attend the meeting. The Kansas City Alumni Association was represented at the Chicago game October 4, by 125 of their number, demonstrating loyalty and enthusiasm in a most concrete fashion.

The Kansas City Alumni Association is considering a joint employers bureau working with Kansas University Alumni Association of Kansas City to take care of Missouri and Kansas graduates who are seeking employment when they finish the University. This is undoubtedly a most important phase of alumni work and is meeting with wide spread approval. Mr. Holmes has given unstintingly and wholeheartedly of his time during his administration.

Alumni Visits In October.

The following alumni and former students have been visitors at the University of Missouri during the past month: Tom Parry, Jr., wife and baby of Centralia; Herley S. Daily, Kansas City; Judge and Mrs. Hugh A. Dabbs of Joplin; E. C. Howell, LL. B. '09, Attorney at Law, Board of Trade Building, Portland, Oregon and Mrs. Howell; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Collins, St. Louis; George Ridgeway, Webster Groves; Tad Simons, Trenton; Ed A. Mayes, B. S. in Ag. '21, Kansas City; Joseph McIntyre, St. Louis; James Edward Jr. (Brick) Travis, St. Charles; Mont. T. Prewitt, LL. B. '12 Kansas City.

Columbia, Mo.

Dear Alumnus,

We are hoping that you are planning on coming back for the 1924 Missouri Homecoming. The Homecoming Committee is planning a party to be held for you at 9 o'clock Wednesday night, November 26, at the Rothwell Gymnasium. —the "Homecoming Frolic". This party is the outcome of the requests made by the alumni year in and year out for a party exclusively for you so that you might see your friends and have a good old get-together.

In order for us to approximate the attendance we are asking you to fill out the blank below and mail it today. The price of admission will be $1.50. Fifty cents will be for general admission, and $1 worth of tickets will be given you to be used for food, confetti, ice cream and the many other things which will be there for you.

We wish to extend to you a personal invitation to be there.

Yours truly,

The Homecoming Committee.

$256,000 Is Subscribed to Memorial Fund In the Columbia Campaign

Painted Barometers and Roaring Cannons Indicated Progress of the Drive—Consideration of All Other Business Was Suspended.

The students, business men, faculty members and University employees subscribed $256,000 to the Memorial Union and Stadium during an intensive campaign in Columbia, October 28, 29 and 30.

Consideration of all other business was suspended during these three days and the entire University entered into the spirit of making the Memorial campaign successful. Joseph S. Simpich was chairman of the student campaign and was assisted by virtually every member of the student body. Too much cannot be said in commendation of the work of the students.

Their campaign was opened by what was said to be the most important mass meeting ever held in Jesse Hall. The auditorium was appropriately decorated. Geo. C. Willson, Jr. of St. Louis and Frank J. McCaslin of Kansas City were the principal speakers and stressed the importance of the two Memorial projects to the University, to the students and to the alumni. President Stratton D. Brooks and Dr. J. C. Jones were the principal local speakers and President Brooks closed the mass meeting by announcing that if at any time during the campaign $250,000 was subscribed he would declare a holiday. This sent the student workers out to make the campaign successful.

Down by the old flag pole where the class rushes were formerly held, the engineers erected a great big sign upon which was painted barometers to indicate the progress made in the campaign by the divisions in the University. The sign was electrically lighted with the caption over head reading, "Watch Your School!" This sign was working all during the day and all through the night and as subscriptions were reported the barometers indicated the amounts from hour to hour. The progress of the campaign was also denoted by the firing of cannons and all through the day and night the thunder was kept up.

The student general headquarters booth was built on the first floor of Jesse Hall and headquarters for the divisions in the University put up in every building on the campus where the solicitors reported to the Memorial chairmen of their divisions and they in turn reported to general headquarters and the progress noted on the sign and sent to the gunners.

Daily luncheons were held in the Women's Gymnasium for the student solicitors and talks were made by the local alumni and business men and members of the faculty. Carl Crocker of Bolivar, who directed the first student campaign, was in Columbia for the campaign and made several talks to the students.

Credit must be given to the following

HOME AGAIN? Certainly you are coming to the Thanksgiving Reunion. We are expecting more alumni than ever before.

students who made up the committees of the student campaign:

Executive Committee: Joseph S. Simpich, Chairman; Russell R. Casteel, Vice-Chairman; Phoebe Louise Wright, Secretary.

Divisional Chairmen: Harry Ferguson, Publicity; G. N. Elliott, Advertising; W. J. Hodge, Construction; W. G. McAfee, Educational.

Advisory Committee of School Presidents: Erwin Elting, Graduate; A. W. Klemme, Agriculture; Charles T. Wiggins, Arts & Science; Arthur Ocker, B. and P. A.; Jane Peyton, Education; Robert Johnson, Engineering; A. Tillman Merritt, Fine Arts; Mary Virginia Doerschuck, Journalism; Henry Depping, Law; James R. Barnes, Medicine.

Credit must also be given to every student on the campus who participated in the campaign.

The city campaign was under the leadership of S. Frank Conley; the faculty campaign was directed by Professor L. M. (Daddy) Defoe. These two campaigns started with a meeting at the Tavern for the sixty city and faculty solicitors, on the night of October 27 and daily luncheons were held at the Tavern for this group. Approximately $30,000 was pledged by the business men and faculty members in this campaign. This is in addition to $52,000 they pledged in the campaign a few years ago, which is a most remarkable showing. The city and faculty solicitors worked faithfully as is shown by the splendid returns.

The moment that the campaigns were over in Columbia, the Memorial Office, under the direction of Dr. Jones, finished sending out all the material bearing on the world-wide campaign among the alumni, November 8 to 15. Results from this campaign cannot be announced until the December issue of the Alumnus. This much must be said, however, relative to the plans for the world-wide campaign among the alumni. Those in charge have left nothing undone to make this world-wide campaign an outstanding success, bearing in mind, of course, that it is a mail campaign and that it is difficult to create enthusiasm by mail. However, it must be remembered that every alumnus and former student of the University has received literature of all descriptions relative to the two Memorial projects and the importance of the Memorial Union and Stadium has been brought to their attention time and time again. The plans for the world-wide campaign were submitted to persons who have been instrumental in raising money by similar campaigns and they have said that the plans as outlined in the Memorial office are as good as the best. Therefore, it is apparent it is now up to the alumni to subscribe the $300,000 that is expected from them to finish up the whole Memorial Union and Stadium Campaign. Dr. Jones has written the chairmen that has been appointed in every town in the world where there is one or more alumni, telling them that the importance of the Memorial projects are in the hands of the alumni.

The New York alumni Association under the leadership of its president, R. M. Bandy, Jr., is arranging for an alumni meeting in New York City December 15 to launch and complete without delay the Memorial Union and Stadium Campaign.

Warren W. Browne, president of the St. Louis Alumni Association, is perfecting a organization for an intensive campaign, November 8 to 15 to secure subscriptions

Tigers Defeat Sooners Before Oklahoma Homecoming Crowd

Missouri 10—Oklahoma 0! This score was the outcome of one of the prettiest fought football battles that the Tigers have played for many years. The game was played in Oklahoma November 8 before the Oklahoma Homecoming crowd. The Tigers were hungry for the victory for Oklahoma had defeated them in Columbia last year and at Oklahoma the year before.

The crowd was estimated at fifteen thousand. About 600 Missouri alumni and students attended the game. A special train carried the Tigers Razzers and supporters—the band did not make the trip.

Missouri was first to score when Coglizer was substituted for Whiteman and the former made a pretty goal from the twenty-nine yard line. This was in the second quarter.

In the third quarter Missouri scored a touchdown after twice driving down the field. The touchdown was the result of straight football and passes. Whiteman passed twenty-three yards to Jackson who raced ten yards within just a few yards of the Oklahoma goal. Bond made a good gain and then Jackson went through for a touchdown. Whiteman kicked the goal for the extra point.

In the first quarter after Missouri received the ball and after three plays the Tigers on the fourth down tried to make two or three yards for first downs but failed. The ball was on Oklahoma's thirty-four yard line and the Tigers failure to gain gave the Sooners encouragement there for a greater part of the first quarter the ball was in Missouri territory.

When the second half started the Tigers placed a most ferocious attack and twice carried the ball almost the length of the field. Thomas, Bond and Whiteman were making good gains right along, in fact, the whole Missouri team looked mighty good.

Just at the end of the game when Missouri had broken up Oklahoma's passing attack and with just a few minutes to play Coglizer was again sent in to kick but failed by just a few feet.

The starting lineup:

Bond, rhb, (capt.)	lhb, Lamb

Officials: Referee: John C. Grover, Washington University, Umpire; C. E. McBride, Missouri Valley, Head Linesman J. A. Riley, Georgetown.

Bristow and Hendricks were the outstanding Oklahoma stars.

During the latter part of the game Coaches Henry and Kipke sent in a practically new team.

Oklahoma started their Memorial Union and Stadium Campaign between halves. They are going after one million dollars.

Last Barnwarming Is the Best.
The Barnwarming, the annual fall stunt of the students of the College of Agriculture, was held in Rothwell Gymnasium Friday night, October 24. Like all Barnwarmings, the last one is always the biggest and the best.

Entrance to the gymnasium was through a window and a slide down the chutes to a haystack in the basement. The gymnasium was completely transformed for the occasion with decorations of cornstalks, autumn leaves, pumpkins, farm equipment, lanterns and a big,

College Education Is Worth $72,000.

Cash value of a college education to its possessor is $72,000, according to a report made public recently by Dean Everett W. Lord of the Boston University College of Business Administration. The report is based on a long study of the earning capacity of college graduates. The cash value of a high school education is placed by the report as $33,000.

The report gives the average maximum income of the untrained man as $1200, that of a high school graduate as $2200, and of the college graduate as $6000. The total earnings of each of the three types up to the age of 60 are placed at $45,000, $78,000 and $150,000, respectively. Dean Lord, in his computation, estimated also that, while the untrained man at the age of 50 begins to drop toward dependence, the college man reaches his maximum earning capacity at 60.

properly equipped booth for the alumni, with plenty of cider and apples. The orchestra was seated on a swinging platform in the center of the gymnasium.

Miss Mildred Morgan of Kansas City, a member of the Alpha Phi sorority, was crowned Harvest Queen. There were special dancing stunts, jigs and everything that goes with a good old-time barnwarming. Outside the gymnasium was a typical barnyard scene where those who did not care to dance could spend a realistic evening on the farm.

Invitations to the Barnwarming were delivered in Columbia by the officers of the stunt and were made up of small ears of corn to which were attached the old-time farm invitations. The officers of the 1924 Barnwarming were as follows: Manager, P. V. Slusher; secretary-treasurer, John A. Miller; assistant manager, Tom Trimble; assistant secretary-treasurer, Homer Young.

Huskers Make Highest Score; Tigers Most Downs and Passes

The Missouri Tigers lost to the Nebraska "Corn Huskers" in their annual football game at Lincoln, November 1. Score: Nebraska 14—Missouri 6. Missouri's touchdown came in the first quarter when the Tigers played the Corn Huskers off their feet. The Tigers displayed great strength. The attempt at goal failed.

Missouri's touchdown was made on a forward pass, Whiteman to Jackson, for 20 yards. The Corn Huskers scored in the second quarter and kicked goal for the extra point. At the start of the fourth quarter, Nebraska again pushed the ball over the line and kicked goal.

The outstanding feature of the game was a 41 yard run by Bloodgood, of Nebraska. It was a great broken field run.

The Tigers played exceptionally good football. They gained 56 yards on scrimmage to Nebraska's 2 in the first quarter and made two first downs to none for the Huskers. Capt. Bond played a stellar game, as did Smith, Jackson, VanDyne, and all the rest of the Tigers. Adams played for the first time this season and played a good game; Faurot made his initial appearance in the final quarter, caught one pass for a good gain and made several good runs.

Out of a total of 17 passes, the Tigers completed 7 for a total of 112 yards; Nebraska did not complete a single pass. Missouri made 10 first downs to the Huskers 8.

More than 20,000 people attended the game in Nebraska's new Stadium. The Tigers finished the game without serious injury.

Approximately 500 alumni of the University of Missouri attended the game.

State Y. M. C. A. Meets in Columbia.

The state convention of the Y. M. C. A. was held in Columbia October 18. Fifty-seven delegates were present from every section of the state. G. W. Hovey, secretary of the University Y. M. C. A. had charge of all arrangements. H. M. Beardsey of Kansas City was one of the principal speakers. James S. Summers of Kansas City was elected chairman of the nominating committee. The following members of the State Board were re-elected: Chairman, G. A. Radford, St. Louis; Vice-chairman, J. P. Hinton, Hannibal, Louis Boeger, St. Louis, and F. C. Childs, Kansas City.

Tigers Lose Cross Country Run.

The Tiger Harriers went down to defeat 26-29 in the first cross country run of the year on the afternoon of October 25, when the Kansas Aggies captured first and second places. Poage and Vallet, were the Tigers who won third and fourth places. The cross country run was finished during one of the most exciting moments of the football game.

from the alumni and former students there who have not already subscribed.

Dr. Jones called a conference of County Alumni Officers in Columbia October 25 and invited the presidents of the one hundred and fourteen County Alumni Associations to attend this meeting and get information and suggestions regarding the world-wide Memorial Union and Stadium Campaign, more particularly as it related to the campaign in Missouri. Fifty-seven counties were represented at the conference by County Alumni Association officers. They were in session from eight-thirty until twelve o'clock on the morning of October 25. They heard talks by President Stratton D. Brooks, Dr. J. C. Jones and C. L. Brewer. After these instructive talks were given bearing on every phase of the Memorial projects, the meeting was turned over to those in attendance in order that questions could be asked covering every phase of the campaign. County representatives pledged themselves to put on their Memorial campaigns, November 8 to 15, and to give of their time and energy and effort to get the balance of the $300,000 still needed from the alumni to complete the campaign. Alumni lists have been sent to all the city and county chairmen, supplies of literature on all phases of the campaign, photographs of the Union and Stadium and subscription blanks have been supplied and a copy of the new University of Missouri song book has been given to the officers of each of the county alumni associations.

President Brooks declared a holiday Friday, November 7, as a result of the success of the Memorial Campaign. The holiday was granted at this time in order to permit the students to attend the Missouri-Oklahoma football game at Norman.

Rhodes Scholar To Be Selected.

The Rhodes Scholarship Committee has decided that Arthur Doerr Bond, Richmond C. Coburn and Fred V. Peter may appear before the committee of selection in St. Louis. The candidates were selected by the local nominating committee and approved by President Stratton D. Brooks. The committee on selection for Missouri will meet December 13 to choose the Missouri Rhodes scholar from the candidates representing the colleges of the state.

Farmers' Week Begins January 19.

The Missouri State Board of Agriculture announces that the 1925 session of Missouri Farmers' Week will begin on Monday night, January 19, concluding on Friday night, January 23, 1925, under the co-operation of the State Board and the College of Agriculture of the University. Day, afternoon and night programs are being arranged, and excursion rates from all Missouri railroad stations are being negotiated.

Proposition Number 5.

The tremendous majority for proposition number five in the Missouri election is indeed deserving of high praise and commendation and is a tribute to the great road project which Missouri has started under the guidance of Theodore Gary and other members of the High Way Commission, including B. H. Piepmeier, B. S. in C. E. '08, Chief Engineer, Carl W. Brown, his assistant, and all the others connected with the Missouri Highway.

What Is The Last Verse?

Since you have been out of school the memories of the old songs sung at Missouri have simply haunted you, have they not? You can remember some, but what is that last verse? The Missouri Song Book has been written for that very purpose. It can be bought at the registration booths in the corridor of Jesse Hall during Homecoming for $2.50. It contains the favorite song of each sorority and fraternity as well as the old school songs.

Phillips Gives Extension Courses.

C. A. Phillips is conducting two extension courses week ends under the direction of the Extension Department of the University. He gives one of the courses at Sedalia and the other in Joplin. In Sedalia, there are forty members of the class, and in Joplin there are 103. Practically all of the members of the classes are teachers in these cities though there are a few from near by schools.

The course is one of the regular cataloged courses in the School of Education: "The Administration of Educational Tests and Measurements." The purpose of the course is to enable the superintendents to get an accurate check on the elementary schools in each of the cities, in order that a more scientific classification of the school children may be made. The theoretical and technical aspect of the course is given in a regular class session of the students. The more important part of the work, however, consists in the administration of well selected educational tests for the various elementary school subjects such as reading, writing, spelling, arithmetic, etc.

After the tests have been given to the children, they are scored carefully by the teacher. This furnished a basis for more accurate classification of the children, as well as the measure of efficiency of instruction. As a matter of fact, this is a method of making a survey of the classification and instruction of a school system.

Section Is Reserved For Girls.

For the first time in football history of the University a special section of the bleachers has been reserved for girls at all football games this season. This was brought about by an agreement among the students that there will be no dating at football games.

DeMolays Meet In Columbia.

Approximately one thousand members of the Missouri organization of DeMolay were in Columbia October 23, 24 and 25, for their annual convention. The meeting opened with a banquet at Rothwell Gymnasium when the DeMolays were guests of the Columbia Business men and the University. President Stratton D. Brooks presided at the dinner and toasts were given by L. C. Brewer, Director of Athletics, Albert K. Heckel, Dean of Men; and Arthur Bond, captain of the football team. Frank S. (Dad) Land of Kansas City, founder of the DeMolay organization, attended the convention.

Bert S. Lee, Springfield, former grand officer of the order, reported that approximately $160,000 of the $200,000 for a dormitory for DeMolay students had been raised and that a committee is considering a suitable location for the building. The DeMolays were special guests at the student mass meeting the night before the Kansas Aggie game and were guests of the Athletic Department at the game. They sat on the south bleachers with the Thundering Thousand. They were also guests of the Agriculture Club to see the 1924 Barnwarming. They joined in with the Thundering Thousand parade to the football field when motion pictures were taken.

Dean Walter Williams of the School of Journalism addressed the DeMolays on the subject "The Measure of a Man", Joe McIntyre, B. S. in B. P. '97 and L. B. '99, of St. Louis was a guest during the convention and helped make it a success. Dr. John Pickard was chairman of the committee in charge of local arrangements for entertaining the DeMolays. Nothing was left undone to make the visit of these thousand DeMolays a pleasant and a profitable one and, as everyone remarked that the young men made a fine representation of Missouri youth.

Curators Discuss Budgets.

Budgets for both the University departments at Columbia and for the School of Mines at Rolla were discussed by the Curators of the University at an all day meeting held November 7 at Rolla. The budget for the University for the next biennial period was the principal matter under discussion. In addition to the regular meeting of the board, the executive board met and made a number of appointments. The calendar for the next school year was agreed upon. It provides for the first semester of the 1925-26 between September 15, 1925, and January 30, 1926, and for the second semester of the same year between February 1 and June 9, 1926. Commencement will be June 9. The summer session of 1926 will be between June 8 and August 4.

The members of the board who were present at the meeting were: H. J. Blanton of Paris, P. E. Burton of St. Louis, J. P. Hinton of Hannibal, F. M. McDavid of Springfield, E. Lansing Ray of St. Louis and Milton Tootle of St. Joseph. Stratton D. Brooks, president of the University, and Leslie M. Cowan, secretary, were also present.

The Oklahoma alumni held an enthusiastic rally dinner at the Oklahoma City Club, Friday evening, November 7, the night before the Missouri-Oklahoma game. There were over one hundred alumni and former students present, and the dinner was also attended by the members of the Missouri football squad.

W. E. Price, secretary of the Oklahoma Alumni Association, had charge of all arrangements and the success of the meeting was due to his untiring efforts. Judge Hal C. Thurman presided at the dinner, "Doc" Miller, University yell leader, led the crowd in Missouri yells. Herbert Wall of the School of Fine Arts led the singing and was accompanied by Prof. MacLeod. Arthur Bond, football captain, made a short talk and introduced the members of the football squad. A short talk was also made by Mont Highley, member of the Board of Regents of the University of Oklahoma.

Talks were made by C. L. Brewer, director of athletics; Coaches Henry and Kipke; Bill Shumate, student president; Major Craycraft of Joplin who was visiting in Oklahoma City and who entered the University in 1868; Judge Frank A. Rittenhouse, and Fred Owens made talks in favor of the Memorial Union and Stadium. These projects were presented to the alumni by Dr. J. C. Jones, director of the Memorial campaign. $1250 was subscribed to the Memorial Union and Stadium by the alumni present at the dinner.

The following officers were elected for the next two years: President, Harry A. Snodgrass; vice-president, Dr. Horace Reed; and secretary-treasurer, Miss Elizabeth Coulson.

M. U. Team Praised by Alumni.

The Nebraska Alumni Association held its annual meeting in Lincoln Friday evening, October 31, at the Grand Hotel. This was an alumni rally dinner held the night before the Missouri-Nebraska game and was given in honor of the visiting members of the faculty of the University of Missouri. The guests were Dean and Mrs. Albert K. Heckel, C. L. Brewer, Director of Athletics, Coaches Henry and Kipke, Arthur Bond, Captain, (Doc) Miller, yell leader and Professor C. A. Helm. Jiles W. Haney was toastmaster.

Talks were given by the guests from the University of Missouri and by Coach Henry F. Scholte, formerly of the University of Missouri, now Coach at the University of Nebraska. "Singing the Missouri songs and joining in the Missouri yells carried us back to the very shadows of the old columns," said Mr. Haney, the president of the Nebraska Alumni Association. "The Tigers put up the best display of football that we have seen at Nebraska for some time and the only reason that the Tigers came out with the short end of the score was because the huskers got the best of the breaks. The Tiger coaches and the team should be congratulated on the clean sportsmanship display of football that they brought to Lincoln."

Mrs. C. C. Wiggins is secretary of the Nebraska Alumni Association and J. W. Haney, President.

MISSOURI DEFEATS KANSAS AGGIES IN EXPENSIVE GAME

Missouri defeated the Kansas Aggies, Rollins Field, October 25, score of 14-7, in a most thrilling and exciting game. Old alumni who witnessed the game said it was one of the most spectacular that has ever been played on Rollins Field. It was also one of the most expensive football games in so far as injuries are concerned, for Maurice Moulder, quarterback, and "Shorty" Swofford sustained broken legs and will be out of play for the rest of the season. The Kansas Aggie team sent flowers to Moulder and Swofford after the game. Telegrams of remembrance from alumni over the country were received by the two boys. Coglizer was injured but is all right now.

Two touchdowns, each gained by a spectacular run, gave Missouri the victory. The first was the result of a pass from Whiteman to Swofford when the latter raced to the shadow of the Aggie goal and went across on another pass of the same combination. It was one of the prettiest running passes that was ever completed by the Tigers. The first touchdown was made after the Aggies had scored in a spectacular drive down the field to Missouri goal.

The second Tiger touchdown came in the latter part of the last quarter. With a short time to play, Clyde Smith intercepted an Aggie pass in midfield and raced to the Wildcat's two yard line. Just at this time one of the most exciting incidents of the game took place. The field fence broke down with its weight of excited humanity and rooters swarmed on the track and raced to the line where Smith had finished his remarkable run. Referee Cochrane threatened a penalty, and it was one of the wildest scenes in Missouri football history as the enthusiastic rooters were driven back across the fence. There was no penalty and on the second down Captain Bond took the ball across for the second touchdown amid the greatest excitement.

Walsh kicked both of Missouri's tries for points with place kicks. The Aggies scored in the early part of the second quarter. Missouri's first score was made in the latter part of the second quarter. Every Tiger in the game made an excellent showing.

The crowd was a record breaker for an early season game. The thousand DeMolay visitors and hundreds of Boy Scouts with bands and drill teams and drum corps, all in brilliant uniform, performed before the game and between halves.

The lineup was as follows:

MISSOURI	Position	AGGIES
Coglizer	l. e.	Collen
Swofford	l. t.	Ballard

The mass meeting the night before the Kansas Aggie game was held on the north steps of Jesse Hall. The campus was appropriately lighted and decorated. "Bill" Shumate, president of the student body, presided and talks were made by Colonel Walter Robertson of Marshall, Roy Godsey '04, Jefferson City and Albert K. Heckel, Dean of Men. The band was quartered on the second floor of the portico of Jesse Hall and the mass meeting was indeed a success and full of predictions for Tiger victory that was expected to be one of the hardest games of the season. The boys held a shirt tail parade after the game.

Income Willed To Student Fund.

Miss Mary E. Perry, sister-in-law of former Governor David R. Francis, left the bulk of her estate in trust for the assistance of needy students at the University of Missouri under the terms of a will file in probate court of St. Louis.

She directs that $150,000 worth of her estate be left in the hands of trustees who shall pay the net income "to the Board of Curators of the University of Missouri, to be used and applied in such manner as the board shall direct for the financial assistance of such students, in attendance at the University from time to time, as shall appear to need and deserve such assistance while pursuing their studies."

She directs that the trust created shall be known as the "John D. Perry Fund," in memory of her father. The will expressly states that in references to that fund in the treasurer's records, or in the catalog of the University, it shall be designated by that name, or the trust shall terminate and the principal and any undistributed income shall be conveyed to her heirs at law under the statutes of Missouri. The trustees are empowered as the sole judges to determine whether the provisions have been complied with and their decision shall be binding.

The trustees named are the Mississippi Valley Trust Co., J. D. Perry Francis and Charles Gibson Perry. The same trio are also named executor of the estate, to serve without bond.

Miss Perry was one of the founders of the State Board of Charities and Correction and its vice-president for thirty-five years.

Governor Hyde Subscribes $100.

Governor Arthur M. Hyde joined with the alumni during the world-wide Memorial Union and Stadium campaign and subscribed a life membership of $100, which he sent to Frank B. Rollins, chairman of the Memorial Committee of Nine, with the following letter:

"I am, of course, greatly interested in the construction of a suitable memorial at the University of Missouri and desire to do all I can to forward this very desirable project. I am inclosing my check for $100, not so much as a matter of material assistance but merely to attest my interest.

Sincerely yours,
A. M. HYDE."

Otis Is Assistant Solicitor General.

Writing to friends in his old home town, Merrill E. Otis, A. B. '06, A. M. '10, LL. B. '10, in a letter last week in the Hopkins Journal, explained the workings of the supreme court of the United States. The well known Missourian now holds the position of assistant solicitor general. He admits that he is inspired with awe at the high body, which he terms "earth's greatest tribunal."

His letter will be of interest to Alumnus readers in learning a little, from first hand, of the functioning of the highest court in our country. Mr. Otis writes, in part:

Those of you who have seen the capitol building in Washington will remember that there is a central part, the corner stone of which was laid by the father of his country, and a wing on either end, the wings constructed about seventy years ago. After the construction of the wings the senate was removed to one and the house of representatives to the other. The old chambers were thereby vacated and what had been the senate chamber became the supreme court's hearing room. It is a small room which will accommodate not many more than a hundred people. There the supreme court meets and hears the argument of cases. The room is a half circle. The bench is along the diameter of the circle.

Can you guess at what hour the court convenes? Exactly at high noon.

A few minutes before that hour we enter the court room and take our seats. If members of the bar, we may sit within the railing, if not, in seats reserved for visitors just outside. The long bench is on a dais in front of and a little above us. Behind it are nine black chairs, over the central chair a great golden eagle. The chairs are empty. There is to be heard only the sound of a most subdued conversation. Hardly anyone speaks above a whisper.

Exactly at the stroke of 12 the bailiff who is dressed as are all the court officials in black frock coats (you ought to see me in mine), strikes his table with his gavel one sharp blow and everyone rises to his feet. A door opens. The bailiff cries: "The chief justice and the associate justices of the supreme court of the United States." In solemn procession then the black robed judges enter, moving in slow step, Chief Justice William Howard Taft at the head of the procession, to their places on the bench. While the court and all the spectators are still standing once more the bailiff proclaims: "The honorable, the supreme court of the United States is now in session. God save the United States and this honorable court." Then judges, lawyers, and spectators take their seats and the business of the day proceeds. For nearly a hundred and fifty years exactly the same ceremony has taken place in exactly the same way. Doubtless it will take place still in the same way during centuries hereafter.

There is a recess at 2 o'clock for lunch. The court resumes at 2:30 and adjourns at 5 o'clock.

As you know the judges serve for life. That means there are always some very old men on the bench of supreme court, just now the oldest is Justice Holmes, 84 years of age but still alert and keen of mind and thought. He is a son of Oliver Wendell Holmes, the poet. Perhaps you remember in the Autocrat of the Breakfast Table the story of "My Search for the Captain." Well, that was the poet's story of his search after the battle of Antietam for his son, the wounded captain. At last he found him, shot through the neck, shot through the heel. That was sixty years ago. It is that same captain Holmes who is now an associate justice of the United States supreme court.

They are great men, all of those who sit in this most powerful of earth's tribunals, worthy successors of those whose marble busts look down upon them from the walls—John Jay, and John Marshall, and Roger Taney and the others who have served here. And nothing can be more thrilling than to observe them in the midst of their official duties.

I look forward to a year of wonderfully delightful although most arduous work. I shall have the opportunity to argue many cases. I was presented yesterday by the attorney general of the United States to the supreme court as the new assistant solicitor general and was formally welcomed in open court by the chief justice and immediately thereafter argued my first case in my present office. As assistant attorney general of Missouri I had previously argued cases here, so that this experience was not new to me.

I must say that I have heard some debates down at Old Xenia in my younger days that were as good as some of the arguments in the supreme court of the United States. On the other hand, of course, the very greatest arguments made anywhere are those made here. Sincerely yours,

MERRILL E. OTIS,

Mr. C. S. A. Williams, whose experience proves to you what a college man can do with the guidance of the Alexander Hamilton Institute. Read his story on this page.

The story of a man who started at scratch

THIS IS A STORY for any college man who hopes ever to be in business for himself.

In December, 1916, C. S. A. Williams had been in business four years.

Graduating from Williams College, he had started in a humble capacity with the Thomas A. Edison industries, and worked himself up thru the grades of assistant foreman, department head, and production manager. Finally he was appointed Chief Storekeeper for the Phonograph Division.

It was good progress. It proved that Mr. Williams would eventually attain to large success.

But Mr. Williams was not satisfied to attain to large success eventually. He wanted to find the shortest possible path to the top. And looking about him for a means of hastening his progress, he found the Alexander Hamilton Institute.

In his letter asking to be enrolled for the Modern Business Course and Service, he said: "I want to get a thoro knowledge of manufacturing along all lines, with the idea of some time going into business on my own account."

Then he moved faster

Soon there were more promotions; before long he became assistant to the Chairman of the Board of the Associated Edison Companies. And then, naturally but inevitably, came the climax.

Mr. Williams was made a President in his own right. He became owner and executive head of the Bates Manufacturing Company, manufacturers of the Bates Numbering Machine.

From Storekeeper to President in six years! It is a fine record; and yet it is what any earnest man can accomplish who knows how to push hard, and how to take advantage of every outside agency that can hasten his advancement.

Mr. Williams would have succeeded without the Alexander Hamilton Institute. The Institute cannot make failures into successes overnight, nor turn weak men into strong.

The Institute exists to aid men who are already on their way to success, to bring them the joy of succeeding while they are still young. Eighty thousand of its subscribers are college men. By means of reading, problems and personal advice, it gives them that working knowledge of all departments of business which otherwise would be theirs only after years of practical experience. With its help, thousands of men have made in two years the progress which otherwise they have made in ten.

The difference between early and late success in every ambitious man's life lies most of all in one thing: has he, or has he not, a definite plan for his business progress?

Have you a definite plan?

You believe, as all men do, that you will be successful. Have you ever paused to consider how and when you will succeed?

A little book has been published which will help you to answer that question. It is called "A Definite Plan for Your Business Progress," and it contains an interesting chart whereby you can definitely forecast your progress six months, twelve months, two years from now. This book tells all about the Modern Business Course and Service and its remarkable work in hastening the success of more than 250,000 men.

It will come to you, without cost or obligation, in return for the coupon below. Fill in the coupon now, and set up for yourself a definite goal.
