Ticket and Game Information

Application blanks for tickets have been forwarded all alumni. The ticket sale opens for all games on September twenty-six. Alumni are urged to file applications early as with the limited capacity of Rollins Field late requests cannot be satisfactorily filled.

There will be three important games on Rollins Field: Nebraska, Oct. 10 will be Civic Club Day; Iowa State (Ames), Oct. 31, will be Missouri and Dad's Day; and Oklahoma, Nov. 14, will be Homecoming. It is expected all three of these games will tax the capacity of the field. Missouri will have a substantial section of seats for the Kansas game at Lawrence but the experience of the past two years indicates the entire capacity of the field will be sold out well in advance. We urge alumni to read carefully the instructions in regard to tickets and to mail applications early, both for games in Columbia and the Kansas game at Lawrence. We warn Memorial Stadium subscribers who are entitled to first choice of seats to have applications in on time. Those who do not cannot expect priority in seat assignment. Applications for games in Columbia should be in by Sept. 26. Applications for the Kansas game must be in by October 31. Those received after these dates cannot be placed on the preferential list.

THE MISSOURI ALUMNUS

Vol. XIV. No. 1

SEPTEMBER, 1925

COLUMBIA, MO.

Topics of Special Interest on the Campus

The New Orleans Alumni Association has laid plans for an extraordinary alumni celebration to be held there on the evening of October 2, preliminary to the Tulane-Missouri football game, October 3. Announcement of their plans will be sent to all alumni in the South.

Preliminary arrangements are being made by Frank A. Muth, B. S. in C. E. '10, 7705 Willow St., New Orleans, Chairman general arrangements committee, superintendent of light houses, and H. Giles Martin, B. S. in E. E. '08, Osage Del Gada School of Mechanical Trade, New Orleans. They expect every alumnus in New Orleans and the South to attend the alumni rally dinner there on October 2, to participate in the big Missouri parade, also to attend the big Missouri dance, and to have seats in the Missouri section at the Tulane game on the following day. Applications for tickets for the alumni rally dinner should be sent to Frank Muth. For football tickets to C. L. Brewer, Director of Athletics, Columbia, Mo. The Roosevelt Hotel has been designated as Missouri headquarters in New Orleans. Room reservations should be made at once.

The football coaches and the University party will probably leave Columbia for New Orleans Thursday, October 1, at 9 a. m., arriving at New Orleans Friday noon and will leave New Orleans about midnight Saturday, arriving in Columbia Monday morning, October 5. This schedule is subject to slight changes. A round-trip railroad rate of $32.62 is offered, including special sleepers and diners to handle the party.

Alumni in Kansas City and St. Louis are planning to join the party. Rex Magee, president of the Journalism Alumni Association, care of the New Capital, Jackson, Miss., is assembling the Mississippi alumni for the trip. The Little Rock alumni under the leadership of Hartsill Banks, president, are going to send a good delegation.

President A. B. Dinwiddie, of Tulane University sent the following telegram extending the courtesies of Tulane University to Missouri alumni who will attend the Missouri-Tulane game:

"I learn with great pleasure that a large number of University of Missouri Alumni expect to attend the Missouri-Tulane Football Game at New Orleans, October 3, 1925.

"Please assure all Missouri Alumni that they will receive a most friendly and cordial welcome from this University and that our alumni will do everything in their power to make their stay in New Orleans a pleasant and memorable one."

William Pfaff, President of New Orleans Association of Commerce, has also extended an invitation to alumni to attend the rally meeting and football game in New Orleans, as follows:

"The New Orleans Association of Commerce, representing all civic organizations, extends a most hearty and sincere invitation to the Alumni of the University of Missouri to attend the Tulane-Missouri Football Game in New Orleans, October 3.

"New Orleans is America's most interesting city.

"The entire Mississippi Valley is interested in the development of the Mississippi River and the Port of the Valley, and this will be a great opportunity for your people to see this Port.

"We hope that we shall have the privilege of showing you the hospitality of the South's greatest city."

The St. Louis Alumni Association under the leadership of President Arnot M. Finley will hold a big alumni rally meeting there on the evening of November 6. The following day Missouri will meet Washington at St. Louis in their annual football game. This big alumni rally meeting, held each year in St. Louis, certainly is worth while attending.

The Missouri State Teachers Association will hold its annual meeting in St. Louis November 11 to 14. During this week, on Thursday, November 12, the Alumni Association of the School of Education will hold its annual meeting and banquet under the leadership of President W. N. Sellman, 1547 S. Theresa Ave., St. Louis, and Miss Esther Kenhaus, Cape Girardeau, Secretary. This meeting is one of the finest of the alumni calendar.

President William Norris Rider and Secretary James E. Wild of the Kansas City Alumni Association are already making plans for the big alumni meeting to be held in Kansas City the evening of November 20, preparatory to the Missouri-Kansas game in Lawrence the following day.

Dr. John Pickard, who has been seriously ill during the early summer, recently returned to his home from the Hospital and is able to walk around a bit now. He received hundreds of letters from alumni all over the country during his illness.

Professor and Mrs. Jonas Viles have established the Viles Scholarship in the Department of Zoology of the University at the request of their son, Jonas Viles, Jr., who died July 30, 1924. The young man was a student in the University at the time of his death and had chosen the field of zoological science as his life work. How like Jonas Viles, Jr., that he made the request for this Scholarship!

Work on the Medical Building and on the Home Economics Building was stopped by the contractors early in the summer when the announcement was made that Governor Baker had vetoed the appropriation made to complete these two buildings. Temporary roofing protection was provided by the contractors.

The Board of Directors and officers of the Alumni Association are delighted with the splendid response given to their action when they suggested that all degree holders be placed on the Alumnus subscription list. Their action was unanimously endorsed by the hundreds of alumni at the annual business meeting at Commencement. A letter signed by the alumni officers was sent out announcing that every degree holder had been placed on the Alumnus subscription list and would be expected to pay the annual subscription fee of $3 for the magazine. The letter also said that if any degree holder did not want to be governed by this action, automatically placing his or her name on the subscription list, he could, by writing to the alumni office have his name scratched from the list of subscribers. A few alumni wrote the alumni office asking that their names not be placed on the subscription list, but they were mighty few. In most cases they had good excuses and stated that they endorsed the action. The movement has, of course, broadened the scope of work in the alumni office. The Alumnus now has a circulation of just a few less than ten thousand and is one of the largest publications in this section of the country. It is expected that every degree holder who was placed on the subscription list and who was not already a subscriber before the action at Commencement will send in a subscription fee of three dollars sometime within the year. The liberality and loyalty of the alumni as expressed in the recent Memorial Campaign is evidence enough that they will substantially support this movement to enlarge the alumni work and improve as they should the alumni magazine.

Since the seniors this year voted each member of their class a subscriber to the Alumnus it is expected that each senior class hereafter will do the same and from now on every alumnus will receive the monthly publication and keep in touch with classmates, campus activities and University affairs.

There will be little need for circular letters regarding class reunions and other alumni activities of all sorts, for now that every degree holder subscribed to the Alumnus all such circular material will naturally be carried in the columns of the Alumnus, and thereby saving a lot of money and labor.

PAY NOW FOR ALUMNUS.

If you are one of the degree holders whose name was automatically added to the Alumnus subscription list it will help tremendously in successfully financing the Alumnus to pay your yearly subscription of three dollars at your earliest convenience. A life subscription costs but $45.00.

The alumni officers desire to express their appreciation of your loyalty in backing them up in their plans to have every degree holder receive the Alumnus. If your name is not spelled correctly on your Alumnus envelope, or if your address is not made out properly, please notify Bob Hill, 217 Jesse Hall, Columbia, Mo.

The Alumni Endowment Fund which was recommended and endorsed at the annual meeting of the alumni at Commencement has met with approval by alumni everywhere and the campaign is well under way. Dr. J. C. Jones, Director of the Memorial Union and Stadium Campaign, consented to act as chairman of the Alumni Endowment Fund Campaign and is writing personally to the alumni for fifty dollar subscriptions, payable over a five year period. The alumni have responded handsomely to his requests and he has the following subscriptions of $50.00 each in addition to $4618.57 previously reported: Glenn Babb, Frank H. Birch, Jacobina Brandenburger, J. Harrison Brown, Ralph L. Brown, Robert A. Brown, R. B. Caldwell, Dr. A. J. Campbell, Eulalie Church, L. N. Conrad, Fletcher Cowherd, George M. Craig, Forrest C. Donnell, William H. Dulaney, J. D. Elliff, Roy W. Emmert, Mrs. R. J. Foster, H. A. Fountain, Mary J. Guthrie, William P. Jesse, J. Ottilie Kahn, Earl F. Nelson, John Stahl, Judge Kimbrough Stone, Dr. Albert J. McCulloch, Col. E. M. Stayton, L. W. Helmreich, Miss F. Louise Nardin, Mrs. Helen M. Farlan, Norman C. Riggs, Morton M. Prentiss, S. C. Hunt.

Margaret Chamberlain, H. H. Crittenden, R. P. Garrett, Dr. C. M. Jackson, Adeline Jesse, Dean Kirk, John Lowe, E. D. Smith, E. E. Wall, Frank C. Wilks, V. W. Surber, R. D. Rodgers, William M. Regan, G. E. Huggins, Gardiner Lathrop, Wm. T. Nardin, W. E. Price, Major A. M. Hitch, E. J. Thomas, Judge Franklin Miller.

Construction of the new Missouri Methodist Church on Ninth Street, on what was formerly the Captain Smoke property, is well under way.

E. E. Brown, Business Manager of the University has been seriously ill in the University Hospital.

University Luncheon at State Fair Attended by 200

University Day on big Thursday at the Missouri State Fair, Sedalia, August 20, proved an asset to the University calendar of affairs this year as it has done since this program was started a few years ago. Approximately two hundred alumni and former students from practically every section of the state attended the noonday luncheon on the Fair grounds. A comfortable and attractive alumni booth was provided in the University Building where hundreds of men and women who had attended the University registered during the week. The Short Course men were there in goodly numbers.

The attendance at the Luncheon was not so large as usual on account of the heavy rain storms that morning. In past years it has been impossible to find a dining place on the Fair grounds large enough to accommodate the hundreds who wanted to attend the University Day Luncheon.

Dr. A. J. Campbell, President of the Pettis County Alumni Association, and his co-workers had charge of the arrangements for University Day and they were praised for the wonderful manner for which they have always handled University Day. Dr. Campbell opened the meeting and introduced Frank B. Rollins, President of the Alumni Association, who acted as Toastmaster. The speakers were: Miss Katherine Spangler, Clinton; John N. Crocker, Superintendent of Schools, Sedalia; C. L. Brewer, Director of Athletics, and Bob Hill, Alumni Recorder. Tillman Merritt lead the singing. Miss Sarah Drumm was a soloist and the Gypsy Orchestra of Sedalia helped the program tremendously.

L. E. Slate, publicity chairman of the State Fair, handled the publicity and advertising for University Day and his corps of press bureau workers gave wide publicity to it.

St. Louis Alumni to Lunch Wednesday.

Arnot M. Finley, president of the St. Louis Alumni Association has announced that the weekly noonday luncheons of that organization will be held every Wednesday at the St. Louis Lunch Room and on every day except Wednesday a round table will be reserved at the Busy-Bee for daily alumni luncheon meetings. The St. Louis alumni have established a custom that is a worthy one for it is mighty fine to meet at least once a week in regular luncheon with the alumni there and it's mighty nice to know where to eat lunch on the other days of the week where you will always find a group of University folks. The alumni visiting in St. Louis should take advantage of the opportunity to eat with the St. Louis members.

EDWIN B. MILLER VISITS HERE

Daughters, Betsy and Jane to Enroll in University This Fall.

Edwin B. Miller, A. B. '06, A. M. '07, joint owner and advertising manager of the Plainview (Tex.) Evening Herald, visited the University early in July with his two daughters, Betsy, who plans to study Home Economics in the University and will enroll here year after next, and Jane, who plans to enter the School of Journalism.

Mr. Miller visited his parents in Boonville during the summer.

He was one of the nine men who were instrumental in securing interest in the establishment of the School of Journalism at the University of Missouri. Mr. Miller; Homer Croy, author; Robert W. Jones, acting director of the journalism department of the University of Washington; Carey Griffith of the Kansas City Star; Redman Cole formerly of Columbia, and four others were chosen to spend a week in St. Louis as guests of the Post-Dispatch.

"One day we saw on the bulletin board a notice for all those interested in journalism to sign there," said Mr. Miller. "We did not know what it was for but we got all the engineers and the lawyers and persons from all other schools to sign, so as to make the University realize the need for a journalism department. However, there were twelve or fifteen who were really interested and nine were chosen to spend this week with the Post-Dispatch, the purpose of which was to create interest for such a department at the University. The following fall, that of 1907, classes relating to journalism were introduced into the English department."

Sends Check and Approval.

G. E. Miller, B. S. in E. '95, Sales Manager, The Cleveland Electric Illuminating Company, Cleveland (O.) writes "Enclosed herewith please find my check for three dollars covering the year's subscription to the Alumnus. I read the last number last night with a great deal of interest. This came during my absence on vacation."

"I am in hearty accord with the action of the Board of Directors in placing the names of our alumni on the subscription list to the Alumnus. Many of us have been far away for a considerable number of years, and unless a matter of this kind is sort of pushed on to us, it is frequently forgotten."

Dean Walter Williams Visits Guatemala.

Dean Walter Williams of the School of Journalism and William Southern, Jr., publisher, Independence (Mo.) Examiner visited in New Orleans on their trip to Guatemala in July and were entertained by Journalism alumni there who are members of the Item-Tribune staff, including: Forrest M. Fee, '23-'24, Harry Ferguson, B. J. '25, Ernest Fischer, '22-'24, Clarke Salmon, '08-'09 and Foster B. Hailey, B. J. '24. Dean Williams and Mr. Southern were also entertained in the home of James M. Thomson, who married Miss Genevieve Clark, daughter of the late Champ Clark and sister of Bennett Clark, A. B. '13, St. Louis, Mo.

SEAT APPLICATION BLANKS SENT OUT FOR FOOTBALL GAMES

Alumni Advised to Anticipate Wants and Make Applications by Sept. 26.

C. L. Brewer, director of athletics, has just completed sending out to alumni application blanks for the football games on Rollins Field and the Kansas game at Lawrence. Over 25,000 were sent out and the list included all the graduates of the University and all Memorial Stadium subscribers. The allotment dates for seats are Sept. 26, for the home games and Oct. 31 for the Kansas game. The home games are particularly attractive and it is expected the capacity of the field will be taxed for all the games.

The Nebraska game, Oct. 10 has been designated Civic Club Day. The Kiwanis District Convention which includes three states and numbers nearly one hundred clubs, will be held in Columbia that week end. It is expected that more than a thousand delegates will be present. The Rotary and Lions Clubs will also invite their members of the clubs of the state to come to Columbia for the game.

The Rolla game, Oct. 17 will be Boy Scout and Public School day and all the scouts of Central Missouri and the school children of Boone County will be invited.

Missouri and Dads day will be Oct. 31 when Ames comes to Rollins Field. The students of the University will be urged to invite their parents and friends and the press and business interests of the state will also be invited. Homecoming will be in connection with the Oklahoma game Nov. 14. Homecoming has filled the field the last few years and with the improved roads and increasing football interest a great crowd of alumni and friends are expected. A rate of 1 and 1/2 fare round-trip has been granted by the railroads for the week-end.

Tulane University in New Orleans, Oct. 3, will be a rallying day for Alumni in the South and a reunion and dinner is planned for the night before the game. Attractive railroad rates have been secured from Columbia, Kansas City and St. Louis and a full train of Missourians will make the trip to Dixie Land. The train will carry special pullman and dining cars and Alumni who wish to make the trip can make reservations and join the party in Columbia, St. Louis or other points enroute. A section of the stands will be reserved for Missourians.

The usual excursion will be run to St. Louis for the Washington game Nov. 7. A section of stands will be reserved for the Missouri following.

Kansas has materially increased the seating capacity of McCook Field for the game there November 21, and Missouri will have a larger allotment of seats than ever before but we still will probably face the condition of two years ago, when great numbers of Alumni were unable to secure seats.

The Athletic authorities will do everything possible to care for alumni and friends of the University with good seats but alumni are urged to anticipate their wants and make application by the distribution dates which are Sept. 26 for games in Columbia and October 31 for the Kansas game.

Subscribers to a life membership in the Memorial Union and Stadium are entitled to the first assignment of seats and this will be carefully followed, but applications from this group, of course, must be in on time or they cannot be cared for in this preferential list.

The games to be played at Columbia will all be broadcast by the Homecoming Committee through station W. O. S. at Jefferson City. The game with the Kansas Aggies at Manhattan and the game with Kansas at Lawrence will be broadcast. Doubtless the game with Washington at St. Louis and the Tulane game at New Orleans will be broadcast. Listen in!

Gwinn Henry, Missouri's Football Coach

FOURTEEN "M" MEN EXPECTED TO REPORT FOR FOOTBALL

Six of Last Year's Team Ended Their Third Year for M. U. Against California Last Christmas Day.

Capt. Sam Whiteman who scored the first touch-down against Kansas last Thanksgiving Day when the Jayhawkers was so soundly licked, 14 to 0, will lead a likely bunch of tigers and would-be tigers on the field Sept. 15 to start work for the coming football season.

Fourteen letter men are expected to report. These are evenly divided between line and backfield which is fortunate. The veteran backs to report besides Capt. Whiteman will be Thomas, Swofford, Moulder, O'Sullivan, Stuber and Jackson. The line will have the following letter men as nucleus: Doss Richerson and his 215 pounds at guard; Ferguson, center; three 190 pound tackles in Stafford, Lindenmeyer and Walker; and for ends Carl Bacchus who played so consistently last year and Cogizer who kicked the goal that defeated Chicago, 3 to 0.

These fourteen veterans will have to fight it out with about forty others from the freshmen, substitutes and ineligible of last year. From these there will be Casteel who looked good in several games last year; Clark, the freshman quarterback; Howze, a fine kicker; Flamanek a big six foot basketball player; Bill Windle last years scrappy tiger first baseman; Grantello, with a reputation while in the Kansas City schools; Tarr, a stocky; and Studebaker a 200 pound guard or tackle; Smith a brother of Clyde last year's great center, and a host of others all anxious for the battle that will decide who will be tigers.

The fans, as well as our opponents, will miss many of the men who made history last year. Six of them, Art Bond, Clyde Smith, Jerry Lewis, Chase VanDyne, John Walsh and Jimmie Palermo ended their third year for Missouri against California last Christmas Day. It was these men, playing together their third year who were greatly responsible for the cool and smooth team play of last year. The coaches face a real problem to replace these veterans and to mould together a smooth working machine. The material available is good though and the men are determined again to have a Conference winner.

The schedule is a tough one. Six Conference teams will be met. Nebraska Ames and Oklahoma at Columbia and Washington, Kansas Aggies and Kansas away. These six with Tulane University in an intersectional game at New Orleans and Rolla Miners at Columbia complete the schedule.

It is expected that this year will be an exciting one in the Conference. Almost every school reports splendid prospects. Ames, Nebraska and Kansas Aggies have veteran teams. Kansas and Oklahoma are always tough while Washington with good material and a new coach from the East with a successful record, expects to be counted in the running. Coach Henry will be assisted by Walter F. Crangle and Harry Lansing. Crangle all western star from University of Illinois, comes to take the place of Harry Kipke who resigned to return to Michigan. Lansing, an old Missouri center and captain, has assisted with the coaching for several years. Billy Fallon will be another new man on the Staff. He comes as trainer of all tiger teams after ten years with the University of Michigan. Don Faurot, last year's tiger full-back and a three-sport man will handle all-Freshman football, basketball and baseball.

M. U. Offered Monticello Seminary Bell.

The University has been offered the bell which used to call the women students to class at the old Monticello Seminary, the first College for Women in Missouri, which flourished about 1820 to 1850. W. G. Caples of Washington, D. C., has offered to give the bell to President Stratton D. Brooks under certain circumstances. Mr. Caples is a close friend of J. H. Denny, LL. B. '91, Glasgow, Mo.

Missouri Stores Issue Catalog.

The Missouri Store Company, Columbia, of which Boyd W. Lucas and Rube E. Lucas are proprietors, have just issued their 1925 fall catalog of new and second books which should be in the hands of every alumnus interested in educational work. The Missouri Store Company issues book catalogs on all subjects and they will be glad to furnish any alumnus with copies desired.

WILL BEAR WINNERS' NAMES

Holders of Harry Tidd Scholarship to Be Named on Parchment.

A piece of framed parchment with one hundred years written in, from 1925 to and including 2024, with a blank line after each year was received at the memorial campaign office recently from Harry Tidd, Hutchinson, Kans., C. E. '13. A brass plate on the frame bears the inscription "Harry Tidd Scholarship."

This scholarship was awarded for the first time to Arthur Bond and his name will be written on the first line. The parchment is to hang in the memorial rooms of the tower.

Bond was Captain of last year's football team which won the Missouri Valley Championship and defeated Chicago, the winners of the Big Ten Championship. Bond is the son of Samuel Bond, L.L. B. '93. He has won three letters in football and three in track. He has practically worked his way through the University and has been a most active student on the campus in all student affairs and during the summer of 1924 he gave up a trip to Europe in order to devote the summer to helping out the Memorial Union and Stadium Campaign. With all his interest in activities he never once neglected his studies and as a result of the scholastic effort he was awarded by membership in Phi Beta Kappa. He was recently awarded the Rhodes Scholarship from the largest group of applicants for this honor in the history of this section of the country.

"Art" Bond, football captain '24.

It was no little attainment to be acclaimed the most outstanding student on the campus of the University of Missouri. Undoubtedly, Mr. Tidd will watch with considerable interest and pleasure the record that Bond will establish as a Rhodes Scholar. Mr. Tidd's Scholarship has been commended highly from every University source. His foresight in establishing this particular kind of a scholarship has been the subject of favorable discussion and undoubtedly there will be a goodly number of University students striving for this Scholarship each year.

Harry Tidd, C. E. '13, founder of Harry Tidd Scholarship.

Phi Beta Kappa Offers Cup Trophy to High Schools.

The Missouri Chapter of Phi Beta Kappa has placed in competition a cup trophy, to be awarded annually to that high school whose graduates in the freshman class of the university have the highest scholastic average during the preceding year, with the restriction that only schools having three or more representatives in the freshman class shall be considered.

According to the records in the registrar's office, the five schools that make the best showing in this regard for the year 1924-5 are as follows:

School	Average
Montgomery City.....	254.60
Chillicothe.....	251.36
Kirkwood.....	248.74
McKinley.....	246.35
Odessa.....	245.83

The manner of determining the average grade is the same as that used for individual juniors and seniors for determining membership in Phi Beta Kappa.

In accordance with the above statistics, the Phi Beta Kappa cup will be held during the year 1925-6 by the high school at Montgomery City.

Dr. Curtis Testifies at Dayton, Tenn.

Dr. W. C. Curtis testified on behalf of science in the Scopes case at Dayton, Tennessee in July.

MOSQUITOES ATTEND TWIN CITY ALUMNI LAWN DINNER PARTY

The Twin City (Minneapolis and St. Paul) Alumni Association held its annual meeting at the University Club in Minneapolis on the evening of July 9. Dr. Walter A. Fansler, A. B. '11, A. M. '12, President of the Association assisted by H. F. Williams, B. S. in Ag. '12, Farm Mortgage Banker, provided a most interesting and entertaining party.

Dinner was served on the University Club lawn. Dr. Fansler provided a luscious meal, much to the satisfaction of the entire group, which included several University students enrolled in the R. O. T. C. work at Ft. Snellings during the summer under the leadership of Colonel M. C. Kerth and Captains Coghlan, Tindall and Connett.

The lawn dinner party was a lively one, especially since the Minnesota mosquitoes were there in goodly number and prepared for a lawn dinner party too. The mosquitoes were so infernally familiar that the meeting had to adjourn to the auditorium of the University Club, where Dr. C. M. Jackson, B. S. '98, M. S. '99, M. D. '00, LL. D. '23, of the University of Minnesota presided at the speaking program and introduced Dr. J. C. Jones, President Emeritus, who as Director, presented the Memorial Union and Stadium Campaign. Bob Hill, alumni secretary, discussed alumni activities and University matters of interest to the alumni.

Nineteen hundred dollars was subscribed by the Twin City Alumni Association to the Memorial Union and Stadium. The motion pictures of the Kansas and California-Missouri football games were shown.

Stadium Committee Completes Plans for Construction

The Stadium Committee, consisting of F. B. Rollins, E. Sydney Stephens, S. F. Conley, Prof. W. G. Manly, Dr. Isidor Loeb, and C. L. Brewer, chairman, has had several meetings during the summer, and report progress in completing plans for the financing and construction of the Memorial Stadium. A topographical survey of the site has been made, test holes for the foundations sunk, and the architects have practically completed the final detailed plans. A number of complications have been encountered in the financing, but it is believed now a plan submitted by certain banking interests will be accepted, which will permit the letting of the contract in the early fall.

Fred M. Hunter Addresses Men's Dinner.

Fred M. Hunter, superintendent of schools, Oakland, Cal., was the principle speaker at the second annual men's dinner of the summer session which is held to bring faculty and students in touch with the greatest educational leaders of the land. His subject was "The Job of Being a School Executive." R. V. Cramer, A. M. '25, superintendent of schools, Lebanon, Mo., was toastmaster. President Stratton D. Brooks was a guest of honor and delivered an address.

Degrees Are Conferred Upon 158 at Summer Commencement

Professor J. D. Elliff, A. B. '14, B. S. in Ed. '15, Director of the Summer Session, served as acting President in conferring degrees upon 158 students and granting certificates to 69 students at Commencement exercises of the University Summer Session in the auditorium, August 1. This was the largest number of graduates of any summer session in the institution.

"This is the largest, and in some respects the best, summer session of the University," Prof. Elliff said. "There were 556 students enrolled in the session of 1917. This year there were 1650 enrolled. This percentage of gain is greater than that made by any other American university," he declared.

Prof. Elliff pointed out the high percentage of graduate students among those enrolled this summer, 420 being enrolled in the Graduate School. This school and the School of Education have made the greatest gains in summer enrollment, he said.

Awards Follow Prof. Elliff's Talk.

Awarding the certificates and conferring the degrees followed in the commencement exercises, the first number of which was the academic procession, during which Tillman Merritt at the piano played "Marche Militaire." Then followed the invocation by Prof. Milton C. Townner of the Bible College. Ben Symon sang "Sound an Alarm," a tenor solo by Handel. The commencement address, on the subject "Complete Living," was delivered by David J. Evans, LL. D., pastor of the First Baptist Church, Kansas City. The University Quartet, composed of Miss Bess Shower, Miss Sarah Drumm, Ben Symon and Morris Coleman, sang "Love Strings," by Hastings.

Two students received the degree of Doctor of Philosophy: Miss Ouida Davis Abbott, B. S. in Agr. and A. M., University of Missouri; and Emmett Lee Schott, B. S. in Ed. and A. M., University of Missouri.

James N. Baskett Died June 14.

James Newton Baskett, Ph. B. '72, A. M. '93, Missouri author and naturalist, died on June 14 in St. Louis at the age of seventy-six. His funeral was held in Mexico, Mo., where he lived for more than forty years.

He was a close friend of Ross and Eugene Field and was associated with them on the "University Missourian" from which our present "Evening Missourian" has evolved.

The St. Louis Times editor on the death of Mr. Baskett gives a clear insight into his fruitful career. "In the death of James Newton Baskett, this week, Missouri loses an outstanding scientist but because of ill health he had retired from public notice and activity for a number of years. He was widely known and quoted a quarter of a century ago and was a contemporary of Eugene Fields.

When the University Missourian was first issued in 1871 H. W. Ewing was its editor, James Newton Baskett was assistant editor and Eugene Field was its literary editor. Mr. Baskett was personally acquainted with Mark Twain and enjoyed a trip with the great humorist when he returned to his home state 22 years ago.

Mr. Baskett's best known books were "At You All's House" and "As the Light Led." A few years ago he wrote an interesting series for The Times on "The Whisperings of Nature." Missourians will do well to stop and consider in his passing that a very able and useful citizen has gone. His works will live after him.

Miss Kirtley B. Baskett, 6195 Kingsbury Boulevard, St. Louis, a student in the School of Journalism now, is a granddaughter of Mr. Baskett.

Christian Church Starts Campaign

M. U. Alumnus Elected Head of $100,000,000 Utility Concern

Charles Shumway Ruffner, B. S. in E. E. '00, who has been Vice-President and General Manager of the Adirondack Power & Light Corporation, Schenectady, N. Y., since 1921, was elected president of the Mohawk-Hudson Power Corporation, on June 20, the $100,000,000 utilities holding concern now in process of formation in E. Central New York State.

Mr. Ruffner is recognized as one of the foremost public utility executives in the country.

The Mohawk-Hudson unification considered a major step in the super-power program of northeastern United States, involves the Adirondack Power and Light Corporation, the Municipal Gas Company, Albany; Troy Gas Company, Troy; Cohoes Light and Power Company, the Fulton County Gas and Electric Company, Utica Gas and Electric Company and other securities included in the Northern New York Utilities Company, which, combined in the plan will develop a capitalization in excess of $100,000,000.

No Other Officers Elected.

Other officers of the Mohawk-Hudson Corporation have not yet been selected, it was stated today, although the nominal headquarters of the corporation was given here at Albany. The majority of the common stock of the firms involved will be controlled by the new corporation under the gigantic unification program.

Sale of the stock of the Mohawk-Hudson Corporation already has been announced through brokers here.

Mr. Ruffner's election as head of the big corporation, it was stated, while of a temporary nature in that actual consummation of the unification cannot take place until the permission of the public service commission has been obtained, is nevertheless an indication, that he will remain president when and if the merger is sanctioned by the state body, as it is thought likely here that it will be.

Hees Resigns A. P. and L.

Another announcement pertinent to the Mohawk-Hudson Corporation and the Adirondack Corporation, as the two figure in the unification, was made here today to the effect that J. Ledlie Hees of Gloversville has resigned as president of the Adirondack Power and Light Corporation, which post he has held since the formation of the corporation in 1920.

So far as could be ascertained here, Mr. Ruffner will resign from the vice-presidency and managerial post of the same corporation, subject to the carrying out of the Mohawk-Hudson unification program as now in process of development.

It was stated definitely that no successor to Mr. Hees has yet been chosen, and it was intimated that his former duties will be taken over by Mr. Ruffner, as vice-president and general manager of the Adirondack Corporation, pending consummation of the Mohawk-Hudson unification.

In previous announcements on the Mohawk-Hudson project it was stated officially that the program does not in any way effect the identities of the individual utilities involved, but will be a means principally of permitting closer cooperation in the several companies. It is expected also to result in affecting economies which will be of vast benefit to the public.

Tremendous Responsibilities.

The managing direction and supervision of the various utilities linked in the Mohawk-Hudson merger will be less complicated and exacting under the unification as all policies regarding financing, expansion and other matters will be handled through the directorate of the Mohawk-Hudson Corporation.

This indicates that the post assumed by President Ruffner will entail responsibilities of an unusual and far-reaching nature, and that the supervision of the individual utilities in the program will be less exacting than was the case prior to the unification.

Merger Report Confirmed.

Charles S. Ruffner, at the office of the Adirondack Power and Light Corporation here today, confirmed the report of his election to the presidency of the Mohawk-Hudson Corporation, and in regard to Mr. Hees' resignation, said that to date no successor to the latter has been named.

On the question of a contemplated change in location, in connection with the Mohawk-Hudson plan now in progress, he said he had nothing to say at present.

It is believed, however, that with the consummation of the merger and the official setting up of the new Mohawk-Hudson Corporation. Mr. Ruffner will still make Schenectady his home, directing activities from this city.

Mr. Ruffner's career as an expert engineer, utility director and executive covers a wide range of activities. He was born in Chicago, Illinois, June 22, 1880, and received his education at Centenary Academy, Palmyra, Missouri, and the University of Missouri. After graduating in 1900, he began his engineering work with the Telluride Power Company of Telluride, Colorado. During the four years spent in that mountainous district he designed and built transmission lines across the continental divide, and built a reservoir above the timber line in the crater of an extinct volcano. As engineer of the Colorado department of the company, he had direct charge of the operation of the power plants and lines. In 1904 he was transferred to the Utah department of the same company as assistant general superintendent, where he built up an effective organization.

Denver-Problems.

He next spent two years in Denver with the Central Colorado Power Company, during the period when that company was completing the construction of its 100,000-volt transmission system through the mountains. This undertaking presented difficult problems and required special operating methods to be devised.

About this time there was being proposed the construction of the Keokuk plant on the Mississippi river to transmit power about 145 miles to St. Louis, and Mr. Ruffner was employed by the St. Louis companies to arrange for the receipt of that power and to adjust the St. Louis properties for reliable operation. He became the vice-president and general manager, and later the president, of the Mississippi River Power Distributing Company. That company built, near St. Louis a substation larger than any then in operation on similar service, and which was considered by American engineers and foreign visitors as a model of its kind. Upon completion and rearrangement, the property was taken over by the Electric Company of Missouri, of which Mr. Ruffner was vice-president and general manager, and which, under his direction, constructed transmission lines and bought and built distribution systems to cover several of the counties surrounding St. Louis. This company later was sold to the Union Electric Light and Power Company of St. Louis, after Mr. Ruffner had become vice-president of the latter company.

In Many Activities.

He was a charter member of the Utah Society of Engineers, and was president of the Associated Engineering Societies and of the Engineers' Club of St. Louis. He is a Fellow of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers, having served on the board of directors and as vice-president. In 1921 a number of his friends endeavored to nominate him for the presidency of the A. I. E. E., but he declined to be a candidate because he expected to be fully occupied with the problems of the Adirondack corporation. He is at present a member of the Edison Medal Committee of the A. I. E. E., and is one of the delegates from that institution to the Federated American Engineering Societies. During the war he was designated by the institute as Associate member for Missouri on the naval consulting board. Mr. Ruffner married Miss Hazel R. Wesson in 1911.

GOVERNOR PLANS TAX ON AMENDMENTS AND LUXURIES

Complete support of the Missouri public school system and the higher educational system of the state from revenue derived solely from a state tax on amusements and luxuries is being considered by Gov. Baker in connection with his plan to submit a constitutional amendment to the voters at next general election in November, 1926, providing for an exclusive fund for education in the state.

Baker conceived the idea of operating the state schools and higher educational institutions, such as the University of Missouri, the five State Teachers' colleges, Lincoln University, Missouri School for the Deaf at Fulton and the State Blind School, by a separate tax levy, shortly after the adjournment of the Legislature last April.

Planned Two-Mill Tax.

His original plan contemplated a 2-mill separate state tax levy on property for this purpose. The plan was taken under consideration by the Governor after he had to make heavy reductions in appropriations made by the last Legislature for the various educational institutions.

Baker said he had been making preliminary surveys and had found that a small percentage on amusements and luxuries would yield enormous returns to the state for the educational system support plan.

A probable 5 or 10 per cent state tax on baseball, motion picture shows and other theatrical amusements, together with a probable state tax on cigars, cigars and various luxuries is being considered by the Governor.

He said he had made a survey of receipts from baseball games in Missouri staged by the three major teams, the St. Louis Browns, St. Louis Cardinals and the Kansas City Blues, and had found a 10 per cent amusement tax on the gate receipts of Missouri games of these teams would produce about $5,000,000 revenue for the state each year. The figures were based on the last year's receipts, he said.

A cigar and cigar tax was proposed in the last Legislature as a means of producing more revenue, but failed of adoption. Other states have such a tax and derive several millions of dollars annually from it. It was estimated during the last Missouri Legislature that a tax of 3 cents on a package of twenty cigars would produce several million dollars additional revenue for Missouri each year.

"There are a great many substantial persons who do not pay any other taxes to the state, who under an amusement and luxury tax plan, would aid in supporting the State Government," Gov. Baker said. He added that he did not believe the people would object to such a tax.

Schools Get One-third

One third of all state revenue collected goes to the public schools in the annual apportionment. Under the Baker plan this would be abolished and the entire educational system would be supported solely by the school tax. After the school system is cared for the cost of operating the state government is "not large" the Governor pointed out. For the last twenty years Missouri schools and higher educational institutions of the state have been receiving more than 50 per cent of the state revenue, he said.

Endorses Alumni Association Plan.

George Condit Haydon, B. S. in T. E. '84, is U. S. Assistant Engineer, River Improvement U. S. Engineer Office, Chattanooga, Tenn. He writes: "I fully indorse the action of the Alumni Association and the belief of Dr. Brooks, and agree with you in saying it is right that every alumnus should subscribe for the Alumnus."

I have always tried, in a small way, to answer every call made by those who have to do with the furtherance of University affairs and needs, and mean to continue. In going back over memory events, I believe, yes know, I can lay claim to being the graduate to receive the last diploma on the old rostrum in the old chapel of the old University building; it was handed me by Dr. S. S. Laws in June 1884.

A new chapel, or auditorium was built on the east end of the old building and used for the graduating exercises of June 1885, and this was the last of these memorable events at which I had the pleasure of being present. I hope that all the alumni may see their way clear to live up to the idea of having each alumnus a subscriber to the Alumnus.

Lions Club Honors Dr. J. C. Jones.

The Lions Club of Columbia, Boyle G. Clark, LL. B. '06, president, honored Dr. J. C. Jones, President Emeritus of the University and Director of the Memorial Union and Stadium Campaign, at their annual banquet, and presented Dr. Jones with a plaque bearing this inscription: "To Dr. J. C. Jones, The Citizen who has done the most for the City of Columbia in the year 1923."

The Memorial Union and Stadium Campaign

by J. C. Jones, Director

Collection on Memorial pledges have been better during August than during any of the summer months. There is a great need for cash now in order to keep work going along rapidly on the Memorial Tower and every effort is being made in the Memorial Office to collect as much as possible to apply to the Stadium Fund. If you are lagging behind in your payments on your Memorial Union and Stadium pledge, let me suggest that you send us a check for as much as you can spare at this time and change the dates for future payments on your pledge so that we will not be sending you annoying notices from time to time. It is not our intention at all to make it a hardship for any subscriber to meet the payments on his pledge. We feel confident that everyone will pay according to his financial convenience. We want to avoid, however, letting subscribers get far behind in their payments, for there is no necessity for this if subscribers will pay a little every month, or keep up with their pledge payments.

We are receiving checks and letters from a goodly number of those who are in arrears suggesting a new plan for future payments. We are only too glad to change the plan of payment to suit the convenience of the subscriber.

Rapid progress on Memorial Tower construction has been made during the summer months. The work on the first unit has been completed and during the last few weeks the contractors have been busy hoisting the derrick. Work on the second unit was started on Sept. 3. Two carloads of stone were on the ground then with prospects most encouraging for a carload coming every ten days.

Unfortunately the space in which the workers have to work on the Tower is limited. The fact that only one derrick can be used, and that this one derrick must lift every piece of cut stone makes progress on construction necessarily slow. We sometimes grow anxious because of the delay, but we are always well repaid for our hard earned patience by the beauty of the Tower as it rises. I know that every subscriber is going to get the keenest enjoyment and feel the greatest pride in helping to erect this beautiful Memorial Union on the Campus. The students and the towns people marvel at the beauty of the Memorial Tower and every visitor to Columbia feels that he has not seen the University until he has paid the Memorial Tower a visit.

Summer Students Subscribe Liberally.

The summer session students who had not already subscribed to the Memorial Union and Stadium projects were solicited during the summer session and several thousand dollars in subscriptions were added to the fund. The summer students were notably liberal in their contributions.

Several solicitors were in the field this summer soliciting Memorial Union and Stadium subscriptions from the alumni and former students and as a result several thousand dollars in pledges were received during the vacation period. In order to take care of the cost of the campaign and the increased cost of material and labor and miscellaneous construction expense not provided for in the original goal of $800,000 it is going to be necessary to secure a Life Membership subscription of one hundred dollars from practically every alumnus and former student to carry out the original plans of the alumni. Everything possible is being done to keep down the expense of the campaign and I do not know how the campaign could be carried on in a more economical manner. We are also making every attempt to get a subscription from every alumnus and former student at the least possible expense. Nearly every mail brings us a voluntary subscription for which we are very grateful.

Many Are Paying in Full.

Many subscribers are paying their subscriptions in full and not taking advantage of the five year period. We furnish to every paid-up Memorial subscriber a beautiful certificate of Life Membership, which is beautiful enough to be framed for the home of office. I have observed with considerable pleasure in calling upon alumni all over the country that they have framed these certificates and have them hanging in their offices and homes.

YOU CAN CATCH UP WITH THE PAYMENTS ON YOUR MEMORIAL UNION AND STADIUM PLEDGE

If you are too far behind with your Memorial payments to square up all at once, write to Dr. J. C. Jones and let him make a plan by which you can pay without strain. He will go the limit in helping you out of the rut. You can help by suggesting to him a plan of payment and payment dates which will suit your financial convenience. Don't have any hesitancy in doing this right away. Dr. Jones is counting on your loyalty. You will help yourself and help the Memorial Campaign by writing Dr. Jones today.

Is Elected Plant Board President.

Dean F. B. Mumford of the College of Agriculture, has been elected president of the State Plant Board, an organization created by the last Legislature for inspection of plants, plant products and seeds shipped into the state.

The board appointed Leonard Haseman, state entomologist, secretary and executive officer in charge of all plant inspection work. Prof. K. C. Sullivan, assistant entomologist, was named deputy inspector.

PAPERS REVEAL STORY OF SITTING BULL

Papers of Captain Lewis B. Dougherty, A. B. '47, A. M. '50, who died on August 15 at his home in Liberty, Mo., revealed that Sitting Bull, Sioux Chief, terror of the Northwest for years after the Civil war, and commander of the Indian warriors who massacred General Custer and his command at the Little Big Horn river, back in the '40s, was a student at the University of Missouri, and later at West Point. Captain Dougherty was a University of Missouri student at the time the narrative tells of Sitting Bull's college days in Columbia.

The story taken from Captain Lewis' papers, is that the Sioux warrior, expelled from both the university and West Point because of his ungovernable temper, became embittered toward the whites. This resulted in the barbaric warfare which made him the most feared of the Indian leaders. The news dispatch from Liberty, published in the Kansas City Post, says the story fills the gap left by all historians of the Sioux chieftain, and is told for the first time by the family and intimate friends of Captain Dougherty, the only white man Sitting Bull ever called friend.

First White Boy of Kansas

Captain Dougherty, 97 years old, was the first white boy born in Kansas. His father, Major John Dougherty, was United States commissioner of Indians in the Platte country when his son was born in Fort Leavenworth, Kans., December 7, 1827.

In 1845 Lewis Dougherty entered the University of Missouri in Columbia. The year following there appeared on the campus a young man, dark skinned, with coarse black hair and high cheek bones. He was a brilliant student, but proud to the point of hauteur and kept himself aloof from the students. He made a friend of the young Lewis B. Dougherty.

The young man's name was Edwards. He was admired by the faculty, and forgiven several flaming bursts of temper over trivial personal matters. After one of these outbursts he was expelled and immediately disappeared.

Temper Brought Expulsion

Next year he returned and was reinstated. With a few months, his temper flaring against a member of the faculty, brought his expulsion.

From Columbia he traveled on foot to Washington. He kept in touch, meanwhile, with his white friend, Dougherty.

In Washington, Edwards gained an audience with President Polk and asked for an appointment to West Point. Polk, explaining there were no vacancies, refused the request.

At a second audience with the president some time later, Edwards made his request again and again was refused. The president, however, acceded to his request to appoint him to fill the first vacancy in the academy.

The young man reached into his coat and drew out the resignation of a cadet. As good as his word, the president appointed him to fill the vacancy and Edwards eventually became his cadet.

Temper at Work Again

The discipline of the military academy

on the proud son of the prairies and his temper is believed to have again gained him expulsion. He dropped from sight and his friend, the young man who was graduating from the University of Missouri, was unable to locate him.

Five years later Lieutenant Lewis B. Dougherty, U. S. A., guarding the farthest outposts of the country, was one of a number of officers called to a council with Sioux chiefs in Fort Laramie, Wyo.

As he entered the tent in which the powwow was to be held, Lieutenant Dougherty saw his friend, Edwards, in Indian garb. The two recognized each other and moved forward with hands outstretched. Officers and Indians watched them in surprise.

Before the white man reached him the Indian stiffened, turned and strode from the tent. During the days that the council lasted he never gave the soldier an opportunity to talk to him.

Indian Was Sitting Bull

The Indian was Sitting Bull. At that time, 1852, he was just being recognized by the leaders of the Sioux tribes as the greatest of their young chieftains.

Captain Dougherty, who was one of the best known men in Clay County, had never been induced to relate any of his experiences in the frontier days to others than those of his family and most intimate friends.

Tonight, when it was certain he never would regain consciousness, Fred Z. Courtney, Liberty attorney, one of the privileged circle of Captain Dougherty's intimates, brought out his notes on the story told him by the old Indian fighter.

This story was corroborated by C. C. Courtney son-in-law of Captain Dougherty in a letter to the Editor of the Alumnus. The University Registrar, S. Woodson Canada, states "that there was no student named Edwards enrolled in the University in 1846. For years our enrollment figures for 1846 have been given as 108. We now can account for 107 and Edwards is not among the 107. It is possible of course that his was number 108. In 1849 our enrollment was 87. Among those appears the name of Green C. Edwards. The Encyclopedia Britannica states that Sitting Bull was born about 1837 making him ten years of age in 1847. As to discipline by the Faculty no Faculty minutes are available prior to 1863."

Law Alumni Planning Meeting

Walter C. Goodson, Macon, and Ben Ely, Jr., Hannibal, president and secretary respectively of the Law Alumni Association, are planning a law alumni luncheon to be held in St. Louis at noon, Saturday, October 3, Statler Hotel, during the annual meeting of the State Bar Association, October 2-3. They are cooperating with Dean J. P. McBaine, of the School of Law, and George C. Willson, Jr., president of the St. Louis Bar Association and hope to make this law alumni luncheon an outstanding event each year for the law alumni. Secretary Ely is going to circularize all the law alumni regarding the luncheon. He is counting on all the law alumni in St. Louis to attend the luncheon and expects a goodly number from every section of the State.

SAYS THAT CLASSES SHOULD BE NOTIFIED OF REUNION DATES

Fletcher Cowherd, LL. B. '79, The Fletcher Cowherd Co., Kansas City, writes: "I enjoyed my visit to the University on the occasion of the reunion of my class at Commencement.

"After many years, I wanted once more to visit the old haunts of university days, and so my friend, Mr. Huston Crittenden of the class of '81 and I decided we would go back together. Our trip was a most delightful one. We were most hospitably received and entertained by the local alumni and old friends. We enjoyed every minute of our stay and were delighted with the wonderful proportions to which our old University had grown, now indeed a great institution.

"It was a pleasure to see the large graduating class with caps and gowns, an various hoods contrasting with the mere handful which graduated in our days.

"But, we were very much disappointed that there were not others of our classes there. This was so noticeable as to amount to a shame. On inquiry, we were told that the whole truth could be laid to a lack of funds on the part of the Alumni Association, no money being on hand to circularize adequately the alumni notifying them of the scheduled class reunions, and the various attractions of Commencement Day.

"Of course, there are many other ways that relatively small sums of money could be used to stimulate the interest of the alumni and bind them to the old University both for their own good, and for the good of the institution.

"It is to be hoped that the proposed movement for an Alumni Endowment will be pressed, and that it will meet with a hearty response from the alumni of the University."

Huston H. Crittenden, vice-president of the Crittenden Investment Co., Continental Bldg., Kansas City, Mo., attended the Commencement exercises last June and as a result of his visit he is devoting considerable time and effort to the alumni work. He was greatly disappointed that there were not more of the members of his class in attendance at Commencement, and he was astounded to know of the lack of funds with which to carry on Commencement Week publicity among the alumni.

"Fletcher Cowherd, LL. B. '79 was with me when we attended the reunions of our classes at Commencement time. I think it is most important that the alumni go back to the University for their class reunions at Commencement in order that they may familiarize themselves with the needs and affairs of the University and renew old acquaintanceships.

"There is no finer trip in the world for an alumnus of the University of Missouri than a trip to the old Columns. Where there are hundreds of alumni attending Commencement now, there should be thousands the next few years.

"To create enthusiasm among alumni for class reunions at Commencement is an important work in the alumni office. The importance of the return of alumni at Homecoming and at other University occasions cannot be stressed too heavily. There are dozens of projects in the alumni office which need financial assistance. When these matters were presented at the Alumni Board of Directors Meeting, Cleveland A. Newton, LL. B. '02, a member of Congress from St. Louis, suggested and emphasized the need of the adoption of a campaign among the alumni for an Endowment Fund, and as a result of this the plan was endorsed at the meeting of the General Alumni Association the following day. Dr. Jones has undertaken to raise an Alumni Endowment Fund by asking every alumnus to contribute fifty dollars over a five year period.

"I am informed that the campaign has progressed splendidly, that the alumni have contributed loyally and liberally as they did in the Memorial Campaign, and it is most gratifying to me and to my friends among the alumni to know that Dr. Jones is meeting with such unusual success in raising this Alumni Endowment Fund. The earnings of this endowment Fund will be spent for various alumni purposes, but more particularly to create new interest in Commencement Week and to strengthen interest in the University among the alumni through the country.

"Mr. Cowherd and I were treated royally by the residents of Columbia, by those in charge of alumni affairs, and by the official family of the University. We noted wonderful changes since our college days and took pride in the fact that the University had progressed so greatly. It is a great institution and we stand ready to help it in any enterprise.

"The only thing we missed at Commencement was the warm handclasp and cordial greeting of our class mates.

"By all means, raise the Alumni Endowment Fund."

WORK IS STOPPED ON LEE HARRY TATE HALL

Work on the Lee Harry Tate Hall, new home of the School of Law, has virtually stopped and it will not be ready for occupancy at the opening of the fall term as originally intended, according to Joseph Wuellner, superintendent of the firm of J. J. Wuellner & Son, which has the general contract for the building. Failure to obtain the release of all the state's half of the $150,000 needed, is given as the cause of stopping building operations.

"We have no idea when the building will be completed," Dean J. P. McBaine of the School of Law said today. "It was to have been ready for our use in September."

"All of the $75,000 given by Mr. and Mrs. Frank R. Tate of St. Louis in memory of their son, has been used and a little of the state's money which was obtained before the appropriation was held up by Gov. Sam A. Baker this spring," E. E. Brown, business manager of the University said.

Practically all the general contract work on the building has been finished. The roof is completed and some metal lathing done in the interior. Building operations ceased about the middle of August.

Alumnus Needs Your Help

The Alumnus, your magazine, is now one of the largest publications in this section of the country, as a result of the alumni in annual session here at Commencement voting all degree holders as subscribers. The circulation is now just a few less than ten thousand. The Alumnus is almost an institution in itself now and its management is no little task. The handling of the circulation alone is a big problem. During the month after the June Alumnus was put in the mail we paid the postoffice in Columbia many, many dollars for postage on copies of the Alumnus which were returned to us. The reason they were returned was because the addresses were incorrect. The addresses were exactly in keeping with the information sent us by these alumni months gone by but they failed to send their changes of addresses. Please help us save this needless expenditure by seeing to it that your address is listed correctly in our files.

We are trying to hold down the expense of distribution to the minimum and you can help materially by notifying us promptly if the address on the Alumnus envelope is not correct and by all means see to it that every time you change your address you notify the alumni office. This is important. If we fail to change your address on our records after you have notified us of a change please give us thunder.

Another call to your attention! This office should be notified of all alumni marriages, births, deaths, changes of addresses, changes of business and promotions, honors conferred and any other items of alumni news in order that these items of news may be published in the Alumnus and our records in the alumni office changed accordingly.

Every alumnus has been furnished with a blank to fill out giving his detailed record from birth to now for use in the alumni office. Those of you who have not filled out these blanks should do so at once and mail them promptly to the alumni office. You will be interested to know that not a day passes that some newspaper or some press association does not visit, write, wire or call the alumni office for information about some Alumnus.

Cooperate with the alumni office.

Subscriber and Advertiser.

Your attention is called to the importance of every alumnus giving full appreciation to those who advertise in the alumni magazine. Just a few years ago the Alumnus was almost on the rocks and heavily in debt and with less than 200 subscribers. Today the Alumnus has a circulation of almost 10,000 and is on a good sound basis due to the loyalty and support of the alumni and especially to the cooperation and financial aid given to the Alumnus by the advertising. Their faith in the magazine has been strong faith and have helped tremendously in making the Alumnus what it is today and the alumni in return should see to it that the Alumnus advertisers are shown the proper consideration.

M. U. Traditions.

This is the 84th year of the University of Missouri and many traditions have been established. Age and traditions are having a fine effect upon the school. The alumni themselves appreciate this. They have expressed their liberality and loyalty and interest in more ways than one during the last few years not only by word of mouth and physical action but in a substantial way, and this habit of always helping the University is growing among the alumni.

It is interesting to note this year there are hundreds of boys and girls entering the University who are children and in many cases grandchildren of alumni. Doesn't this sound well for the 84th year of the University? Age and tradition and quality of work and appreciation by the alumni makes for a fine atmosphere on the campus.

He was the first president of the law alumni association, and made the principal address at the laying of the corner stone for the Memorial Tower now under construction.

Hundreds of alumni and their families visited the University during the summer. The register in the Alumni Recorder's Office shows that not a single day passed this summer that at least one alumnus visited the campus.

Most of these visitors motored to Columbia. Missouri's good road program means many visitors to the University and increased interest in the school and its activities.

The interest and enthusiasm of the alumni is aroused as never before and will result in much good for the institution. The University is in need of many things that the alumni can give. The increased number of scholarships given by alumni is a good sign. More gifts are needed.

Alumni support of the Memorial Union and Stadium and of the Alumni Endowment Fund and The Alumnus shows their desire to make something worth while of their alumni organization.

We take great interest in the success of the alumni and we pride ourselves that we are numbered in their ranks.

We want you to visit with us and call at our stores on Broadway and on Lowry Street across from the Library when you are in Columbia.

Harris Merton Lyon, A. B. '05, who died in 1916, was referred to by O. O. McIntyre in his writings, "Day by Day in New York" recently. McIntyre was discussing friendless fame. He wrote, "I recall one day when I ran across Harris Merton Lyon, now gone but whose literary fame swept the world after he left it. He was battering away hope and talent fashioning catchy epigrams for laundry soap in an advertising agency. He was gloomy and alone in a shabby restaurant. My companion, an ardent admirer of Lyon, remarked: 'Some day people will remember you along with O. Henry.'" Lyon smiled in that cynical way of his and said: "That will be comforting news to the worms." And a few months later he sickened and died."

1. One of the really important organizations on the Campus is the R. O. T. C. band under the leadership of George Venable. You alumni just watch that band on Rollin's Field this fall, at the Washington game in St. Louis on Nov. 7, and at the Kansas game in Lawrence on Nov. 21. You'll be proud of that band. You can't help but be proud of it.
 2. And don't forget the Glee Club. A wonderful organization. Every alumni association should schedule a Glee Club Concert this winter.
 3. Every true Alumnus is proud of the University of Missouri. Every true and honest Alumnus is grateful to the University of Missouri. Every Alumnus who loves to dream of the good old school days and reminisce should have one of our very dignified and appropriate Missouri souvenirs for his office or his den.

THE CO-OP is still your store.
Write us for what you want.
Call on us when in town.

Missouri had a wonderfully successful football season last fall, winning the Valley Championship and defeating Chicago, winner of the Big Ten championship.

Merely winning games doesn't make a successful season however. Conduct of players on the field, and their standing in class-work has much to do with a successful season.

The work of the coaches plays no little part in a football season which brings proper prominence and publicity to a school.

Gwinn Henry

Gwinn Henry, head football coach, has a difficult task this fall. He has lost a goodly number of veteran players and he faces an extraordinary hard schedule. But he is equal to the task and with the able assistance of Jack Craudle we look for excellent results and we pledge our support.

New Scholarships Created.

Ten loan scholarships, of the annual value of $300.00 each, have been created out of the Rollins Aid Fund by Judge David H. Harris, Pe. P. '86, LL. B. '87, six of them for the University and two each to Stephens and Christian Colleges.

The Rollins Aid Fund originated in a trust fund of $10,000 devised in 1845 by Dr. Anthony W. Rollins. The fund has grown to $75,678.03, according to the last report made by S. F. Conley, A. B. '90, secretary of the trusteeship. These loan scholarships are repaid to the school making the award and will be invested by that school and the income arising from this investment will be used as a Rollins Aid Fund available for other scholarships. Mr. Conley states that if all the money is lent at four per cent it will double itself in twenty years.

The scholarships must be awarded to residents of Boone County and, if the holders' records are satisfactory, may be held for a period of four years.

The statement made by Mr. Conley showing the probable increase over a period of years has caused some alumni to consider similar funds, and after many years devoting the total to endowment of some kind or for the construction of a building.

Stone From St. Paul's To Support Meridian Plate

A stone from St. Paul's Cathedral, London, will be placed on the campus of the School of Journalism of the University of Missouri. The stone is presented by British journalists through the courtesy of Lord Burnham, proprietor of the London Daily Telegraph and chairman of the British Empire Press Union, with the consent of William Ralph Inge of St. Paul's.

The British ambassador to the United States, Sir Esme Howard, will come from Washington to Columbia to deliver the address at the unveiling of the stone. Upon the stone will be placed a meridian plate showing the distances and directions to the principal cities of the world from Jay H. Neff Hall, the home of the School of Journalism. The meridian plate, a gift from the Journalism graduating class of 1925, was prepared by the United States Coast and Geodetic Survey. It bears the motto: "I have set thee a watchman." The plate and the stone from St. Paul's are to be placed upon a base of Missouri stone.

Friends of the University are manifesting deep concern regarding its support and progress.

Students are taking their work and play seriously.

We congratulate

Henry Depping, Student President, on his plans for a great Homecoming Nov. 14th, for Freshman Friday, for a successful Memorial Campaign and many other good things.

The alumni and students have made our store their headquarters for years. We have sold clothes to thousands of alumni and now we are furnishing wearing apparel to their sons and daughters.

We want the alumni to come in and see us when visiting in Columbia. We want the students with us daily.

SHORT COURSES BEGIN NOV. 2

The short winter courses in agriculture at the Missouri College of Agriculture are especially designed for young farmers whose practical interests on the farm make it necessary that they get their college training in the winter months after the rush of farm work is past. The short courses, therefore, are not to be confused with the regular four-year collegiate course which begins September 16.

The short winter courses are given in two terms of eight weeks each; November 2 to December 19, and January 4 to February 27. They offer practical training in general farming, livestock raising, dairying, orcharding, poultry production, grain growing, and related subjects.

In order to qualify for admission to the short courses, students must be over 16 years of age and have a common-school education. Complete information concerning these courses may be obtained by writing to S. B. Shirky, Superintendent of Short Courses, College of Agriculture, Columbia, Missouri.

B. B. Wade, B. S. in Ag. '23, M. A. '23, teacher of Vocational Agriculture, Center, Mo., writes: "I think it is a fine thing to have all the alumni subscribe to the Alumnus. The Board of Directors of the Alumni Association have made a good move by placing all alumni on the Alumnus subscription list."

Richard Reid Norton, son of John Henry (Indian) Norton, B. S. in Ag. '07, B. S. '09, M. S. '07, teacher of Chemistry, Sacramento, (Calif.) Junior College. Mr. Norton was substitute left half-back on the '96 football team, right tackle on the team of '98 and a substitute on the teams of '93 and '95, and Sergeant of Company "I", 5th Mo. Vol. Infantry, Spanish-American War. He is anxious for his son, Richard, to take his place as right tackle two years from now on the University football team, as the son of C. M. Barnes took his place in Military.

Entering Season With Craving Laurels.

"Sammy" Whiteman, Richmond, Mo., is the 1925 football captain. He has had a varied experience in athletics and is anxious to crown his efforts this year with a championship football team for Missouri. He has the unstinted cooperation of his teammates.

"Sammy" does not look lightly on the great records of great football captains of the last few years. Their records on the field and especially in the class-room. He will leave nothing undone to uphold Missouri traditions established for a high type of sportsmanship and scholarship by athletes.

Alumni Recorder Recommends Picnics to All Alumni Associations

The Montgomery County Alumni Association held its annual picnic at Graham's Rock on Aug. 14, on the farm of Ben Graham, member of Missouri's first football team. About seventy-five alumni and former students from every section of Montgomery County established a record for bringing quantities of fried-chicken and every kind of food that goes with it.

Dr. J. C. Jones, director of the Memorial Union and Stadium Campaign; Frank Rollins, president of the Alumni Association; J. P. McBaine, Dean of the School of Law; Prof. L. M. Fefoe and Bob Hill represented the University at the picnic. They were so loud in their praises of the food and inability to consume as much as they would like in the time that they were at the picnic that those who brought baskets gave each of the University representatives a bountiful supply of fried chicken and angel-good cake to take to their homes.

The following officers were elected for the coming year: Carl Pittinger, president; Miss Katherine Spangler, vice-president; Miss Stella Gartman, secretary-treasurer.

After the picnic the University representatives called on Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Graham, parents of R. M. (Peaches) Graham.

The Montgomery County Alumni Picnic was one of the outstanding features of alumni affairs in Missouri during the summer months and every County Alumni Association could well afford to copy their plans and hold annual picnics. The Montgomery County alumni at their picnic planned to invite the high school seniors and their parents next year.

Are You Satisfied With Your School Annual and Catalog?

THE production of the best year books and school catalogs calls for experience and equipment that few printing plants have.

Our situation in a college town has given us a wide experience with school printing. We have been printers to the University of Missouri for many years. Student publications of all kinds have gone through our plant. Among these are the Missouri Alumnus and the College Farmer, which we have printed continuously for years.

We have one of the few Monotype-equipped plants in this section outside the large cities. Ours is not a large plant, but it is one of the most completely equipped for the range of work we handle that you will find. Our effort is toward an excellence of product. We believe that we make our work worth all that we charge for it.

We can help you improve your annual and your catalog. Write us before you contract for their publication, and let us show you what we can do.
