COMMENCEMENT

NINETEEN HUNDRED AND TWENTY SIX, THE EIGHTY FOURTH UNIVERSITY OF MISSOURI COMMENCEMENT WAS A MIGHTY BUSY WEEK.

Dr. William F. McMurry, President of Central and Howard-Payne Colleges, opened the 84th annual Commencement of the University on Sunday, June 6, with the baccalaureate address, "What think Ye of Christ." President Stratton D. Brooks introduced Bishop McMurray. The University choir, conducted by Dean Quarles, participated in the program.

Issac N. Skelton, President of the senior class, was elected permanent President of the class of 1926 at the Senior Day exercises, on Monday, June 7. The other officers are: Oscar Meier, Vice-President; Marjorie Newton, Secretary; and Laura Cottingham, Treasurer. The senior class voted unanimously that all the members be automatically placed on the Alumnus subscription list, following the precedent established last year, by the class of 1925. and the action of the Alumni Association, in placing all degree holders on the Alumnus subscription list.

President Stratton D. Brooks made the annual senior class address, stressing the value of hard work, alumni spirit, and good fellowship. Following President Brooks' address the class adjourned to the columns, where the class picture was taken. Frances Brewer, daughter of Athletic Director C. L. Brewer, read the class poem. Helen Meredith, Poplar Bluff, read the class history, and Henry Depping, student president delivered the class oration. Corinne Connor, delivered the oration at the planting of the ivy at the northwest corner of Gwynn Hall.

The Presidents of the divisional student bodies accompanied their deans to the senior exercises, which were also attended by President Stratton D. Brooks, Dr. J. C. Jones, President Emeritus, and heads of the Departments. After the planting of the ivy the group assembled at the Memorial Tower and adopted unanimously an agreement that every student and every alumnus and former student and friend of the University, in fact, everyone who passes through the Memorial Tower, erected to the memory of over one hundred University men who lost their lives in the world war, remove their hats in recognition. The 1926 class hopes to make this custom traditional.

The Alumni Association presented the class with a marker to designate the class Ivy. A few years ago the Alumni Association bought markers for all the class trees on the campus.

The officers and members of the Board of Directors of the General Alumni Association, held their annual business meeting in the office of the Alumni Recorder, on the afternoon of June 7. The business transacted was submitted the following morning to the open meeting of the alumni on Alumni Day in the auditorium of Jesse Hall. Frank B. Rollins was re-elected President of the Alumni Association, after considerable pressure was brought by the other officers. Mr. Rollins has been chairman of the Memorial Committee of Nine; Chairman of the Stadium corporation and the other alumni officers insisted that Mr. Rollins remain as President until the two Memorial projects are completed. The other officers elected were: First Vice-President, George C. Willson, St. Louis; Second Vice-President, Miss Elsa Bradley, Kansas City; S. F. Conley, Treasurer. The following attended the meeting: Frank B. Rollins, Dr. A. W. Kampschmidt, Prof. L. M. Defoe, Miss Hertha Eitzen, Prof. R. S. Mann, Prof. T. J. Talbert, J. Sidney Rollins, Ralph K. Watkins, Guy V. Head and R. L. Hill. The alumni Board of Directors are planning to hold several meetings during the coming year.

Tuesday, June 8, was Alumni Day

President Brooks, in his annual Alumni Day address, praised the work of Dr. J. C. Jones in connection with the Memorial Tower and Stadium. "It typifies the service which he has given the University and the love and affection which students feel for him after these forty years of service. The work of Dr. Jones has been a reviving spirit for the alumni of the old university. The stadium in the ravine is the lowest structure—reaching down to make a field on which men are trained in obedience and efficiency. The Memorial Tower reaches to the heights, points to the farthest star and together, they typify the University as reaching life worth while."

George C. Willson, A.B. '11, LL.B. '14, Attorney of St. Louis, former President of the St. Louis Alumni Association and former President of the St. Louis Bar Association, was the Alumni Day speaker. He stressed the importance of the alumni staunchly supporting the University, pointing out the practical benefits to be derived as a result of alumni support. His address was an excellent one and commended by all. At the conclusion of Mr. Willson's address, the following resolution was adopted:

Resolved, that the president of the Alumni Association and the Board of Directors be authorized to enlarge upon the plans for an Alumni Endowment Fund, and

That in keeping with the action of the Board of Directors relative to a well organized plan for University gifts, the Directors be asked to outline their plans in detail and submit them to President Brooks for official endorsement.

The annual joint luncheon of Phi Beta Kappa and Sigma Xi was held at noon on Alumni Day. Dr. Hugh A. Smith, A.B. '97, A.M. '98, head of the Romance Language Department, University of Wisconsin, was the speaker.

Honorary Degree Holders

The recipients of the Honorary Degree conferred at the 84th Annual Commencement, Wednesday, June 9. Left to right: President Stratton D. Brooks, Admiral Robert E. Coontz, commander of the United States fleet; Joseph Marr Gwinn, superintendent of Schools of San Francisco, Calif.; Dwight Filley Davis, Secretary of War; Robert Franklin Walker, Judge of the Missouri Supreme Court, Hugh Lincoln Cooper, chief engineer of the Mississippi River Power Company, with offices in New York; and Jeremiah Wilson Sanborn, former dean of the Missouri College of Agriculture.

Judge Walker, J. M. Gwinn, Secretary Davis and Admiral Coontz were born in Missouri.

Judge Walker, born at Florence, Morgan County, Mo., November 29, 1850, was graduated from the University of Missouri here receiving his bachelor of arts degree in 1875 and his degree from the law school in 1875. He was admitted to the bar in 1876 and practiced in Morgan County until 1885, when he became Prosecuting Attorney of that county. Later he became Assistant Attorney of the state and served as its Attorney General from 1893 to 1897. Following his term as Attorney General, Judge Walker went to St. Louis, where he practiced law until 1903, when he was elected to the supreme bench. He is a Democrat.

Secretary Davis, born at St. Louis July 5, 1879, and graduated from Harvard in 1900 and Washington University, St. Louis, in 1913, has been prominent in military, political and sports circles continuously since completion of his college career. Prior to the world war he was particularly active in efforts to provide public recreation facilities for St. Louis. He became a Captain in the Fifth Missouri Infantry in 1917, and during the war rose to the rank of Lieutenant Colonel. He now holds a Colonelcy in the Officers Reserve Corps.

From 1921 to 1923 Secretary Davis was a director of the War Finance Corporation. He was then made Assistant Secretary of War, later succeeding Secretary Weeks to the Cabinet portfolio in that department.

Gwinn, who heads the school system of San Francisco, was born near Warrensburg, Mo., April 23, 1870. He is a graduate of the State Teachers' College at Warrensburg, the University of Missouri here and Columbia University, New York. He began his work in his profession as a teacher in a rural school near Warrensburg, later teaching at Ashland, Joplin Nevada, and the Warrensburg Teachers' College. He became professor of education at Tulane University, New Orleans, in 1907, and was subsequently superintendent of schools in that city before going to San Francisco. He is a member of a number of professional organizations and honorary societies and is regarded as one of the leading public school educators of the country.

Sanborn, who is known to Missourians through his service as dean of the College of Agriculture at the University here from 1882 to 1889, is a native of Gilmanton, N. H., and is a graduate of New Hampshire College. At the time of his connection with the Missouri school he was also secretary of the Missouri Board of Agriculture. He inaugurated the soil experiment plan at Missouri, which has been in continuous operation for thirty-five years, and conducted research in soil fertility and animal nutrition. He was a pioneer in agricultural research and his methods have become standard for much of the research work carried on throughout the United States at the present time. From Missouri Sanborn went to Utah, where he became president of the Utah Agricultural College.

Cooper, who was born at Sheldon, Minn., April 28, 1865, is best known in the Middle West because of his work in connection with the hydro-electric power plant at Keokuk, Ia., which he designed. He has directed the construction of hydro-electric plants in many parts of the world, and is now designing a 600,000 horsepower project at Muscle Shoals. He is a member of many honorary engineering organizations.

Admiral Coontz is a native of Hannibal, Mo., having been born at that city, June 11, 1864. He was graduated from the United States Naval Academy in 1885 and rose rapidly in the naval service. He was commissioned a rear admiral December 24, 1917. In addition to service at sea, Admiral Coontz saw service in Alaskan water and was commandant at Annapolis for two years. He is now commanding officer of the United States fleet. In 1911-12 he was Governor of Guam, and at one time was commandant of the Puget Sound Navy Yard.

Mexican Professor Arrives at M. U.

Dr. Julio Jimenez Rueda, of the National University of Mexico, distinguished professor and attorney, arrived at the University on July 7 as an exchange professor returning the visit made by Dean Walter Williams, of the School of Journalism, to the National University of Mexico last January. Prof. Jimenez will deliver twelve lectures.

New Technical Book

By M. P. WEINBACH, A. B. '05, B. S., E. E., A. M. '07

Prof. of Electrical Engineering

In 1893 Oliver Heaviside was able with justice to complain that there were no treatises on vector analysis suitable for mathematical physics. Today there is a library of such treatises, and every year brings valuable additions. Nevertheless, the demand continues to increase with the supply, and there is no evidence of cessation of the process. The reason is obvious. Here is a branch of mathematics that precisely meets the requirements of the telephone engineer in his task of selecting suitable lines, cables, and equipment. By applying these principles he has extended the limits of intelligible speech a thousand-fold, and his work fertilizes as it flows. Moreover, it is recognized that the same laws of transmission apply to electrical power-lines, and that in a wider sense they constitute the foundation of exact knowledge concerning innumerable forms of wave-propagation.

It would be easy to trace analogies between the problems discussed by Professor Weinbach in this volume and those solved by Lagrange, De Moivre, or Fourier, in entirely different applications, and the result would be illuminating. The pure mathematics of yesterday would be seen to be the transition mathematics of today and the applied mathematics of tomorrow. This, however, is not the whole of the process. To complete the cycle it must be realized that the electricians who were called by Heaviside the "practitioners" are now in many instances so well equipped with the weapons of analysis that they are reaching the stage when they will take the lead of many of the "academics," and this is nowhere more apparent than among the telephone engineers throughout the world.

The present accession to telephonic transmission literature is far more than a treatise on vector analysis. In some respects it follows the general procedure of such writers as Drysdale, Fleming, Kennelly, Malcolm, and Hill—that is to say, it establishes first the mathematical foundation and then builds the electrical structure, strengthened by numerical examples. The author, who is Professor of other known process of education. The arrangement of Professor Weinbach's book is admirable, and the care with which he has eliminated everything likely to deflect attention from the direct line of argument is apparent on every page. He begins, naturally, with the harmonic functions, and he proceeds to consider hyperbolic functions, the general equations of electric-wave propagation in the usual cases for telephone and power lines, energy transfer and reflection, power relations, equivalent circuits and networks, distortion, loading, amplifiers, repeaters, methods of measurement of impedance, and other factors, standards, and units.

Chapter XVII on Transmission Equivalents, deals with a section of the matter that is likely to attract attention. How is the transmission-efficiency of a telephonic circuit to be prescribed or determined? The author discusses whether it should be expressed in terms of "miles of standard cable," current-ratio, or power-ratio. Incidentally it is to be observed that the so-called "standard cable" is given, on p. 257, an attenuation of 0.109 at 800 cycles, and on p. 258 and elsewhere a value of 0.107. From a footnote on p. 259 this variation appears to be due to differences between an artificial and an actual cable, but the explanation is somewhat vague. As both of these figures differ from the "standard cable" values of the British Post Office, there is obviously need for a convention which shall establish a definite basis of transmission in some form or other. The question of deciding upon a universal standard of transmission is not so simple as it looks; but there is progress towards agreement, and the authors provides in the final chapter an account of the various proposals now under discussion.

M. P. Weinbach

Electrical Engineering in the University of Missouri, lays no claim to revealing any original theorems; but his work is nevertheless of a high order, for he has succeeded in making a distinct advance in the method of presentation and elucidation of a transcendental subject. There is only one way in which a student can obtain a grasp of the transmission problem. He must learn the vocabulary, and with pen in hand he must work at the examples. The task is laborious and complex, but the reward is a bigger knowledge of the universe and an insight into engineering principles that cannot be acquired by any

PITTSBURGH

The annual banquet of the Pittsburgh Alumni chapter was held in honor of Dr. Stratton D. Brooks on June 15th at the Morrowfield. On that morning President Brooks delivered the Commencement Day address at the University of West Virginia in Morgantown. He drove to Pittsburgh that afternoon with members of this chapter. At the Pittsburgh meeting Dr. Brooks told of the progress of the Missouri Union, of the New Stadium, and described the advances being made by the Graduate School and the new School of Fine Arts.

Mention was made of the football game October 30, at Morgantown, between the University of Missouri and the University of West Virginia. It is the hope of the Pittsburgh Alumni Association that the Tigers will come through Pittsburgh and that an old time mass meeting can be held here for all Missourians who can be in this city the night before the game. Plans are being made for a rally here, and as large an attendance as possible at the game on the following day in Morgantown.

It was suggested by Dr. R. L. Brown, at the fall meeting of this chapter, that an annual all Missouri Valley meeting should be inaugurated here next year, with the ultimate possibility of a closer union or organization with the other Missouri Valley Schools represented in this district. A similar arrangement has been working successfully for several years among the graduate organizations of the "Big Ten" conference institutions. This plan presents many desirable possibilities in this district, and it is the purpose of certain of the Missouri Valley Alumni chapters here to make this plan a success. It is very probable that something similar might prove advantageous in other cities, especially where the individual groups are small, but the sum of all would be sufficiently large to guarantee success in any cooperative scheme.

ST. JOSEPH ALUMNI OFFICERS

Kenyon Ballard, '22-'24, was elected President of the St. Joseph Alumni Association at their meeting on the 8th and Miss Calla Varner, A.B. '04, general chairman in charge. Louise Lacy, A.B. '21, A.M. '22, the newly elected Secretary, writes, "Mayor Louis V. Stigall, LL.B. '10, introduced Dr. Jones at our meeting. Dr. Jones' talk was, as always, delightful and inspiring. He spoke first on University spirit, why it seems to be weak in St. Joseph, and how the alumni here can make it stronger. The last part of his talk, of intense interest to all of us, was a report on the progress made on the Memorial Tower and Stadium, illustrated with views taken at various stages of construction. We are hoping that Dr. Jones' visit and the re-organization of the Alumni Club in St. Joseph will bring us into closer touch with the University throughout the next year. There are about one hundred active alumni here, nearly all of whom we hope to interest in the plans of the club. We feel that the fresh impetus which our club has received has come largely from the visit of the University Glee Club early in the spring. No alumnus nor former student could have heard that splendid concert without feeling a deeper thrill of pride and love for "Old Missouri." We are looking forward to hearing the Glee Club again next spring, and we are hoping that this annual visit may become a tradition in St. Joseph. Certainly nothing could give the Old Grads more pleasure or inspiration, and nothing could be a finer advertisement of the University for the young people of our city."

Watkins, Sophia Amery, Blanch Sawyer, Fern Brooks, E. M. Woods, Braymer, Mo.; Mrs. Wm. Rutherford (Lela Howatt) and Mr. Wm. Rutherford.

Taken from the Chillicothe Tribune. Vernon Fay had charge of arranging the meeting.

The Livingston County Alumni of the University of Missouri arranged a dinner which was given May 21 at the New Leeper Hotel in honor of Dr. Stratton D. Brooks, president of the University of Missouri, who delivered the commencement address to the class of 1926.

Fifty-one alumni and friends of the university were present at the dinner which afforded the local alumni their first opportunity to welcome President Brooks to Chillicothe. Don Chapman acted as master of ceremonies. The song dearest to the hearts of all former students at U. of M. is "Old Missouri," and this was sung at the beginning and close of the dinner. Vernon Fay, who was a member of the famous University Glee Club that made its debut in New York one year ago, led the singing.

At the conclusion of the dinner and just prior to the speech made by Dr. Brooks, a permanent local alumni organization was formed. Miss Faye Louise Stewart was elected president, and Don Chapman secretary and treasurer.

Dr. Brooks said in his short talk that he wished to emphasize a new university—a University of Missouri, which is now one of the twenty-five graduate schools composing the Association of Graduate Schools of America. Next in importance is the growth of the School of Education which has trebled its attendance in the past three years.

"The School of Fine Arts, which is the most recent addition to the University, is awakening great interest and having a considerable effect upon the community," Dr. Brooks said. "This school offers a complete collegiate course as well as technical musical training at much less cost to a student than he can obtain a course in music alone at most special musical schools."

The alumni attended the graduating exercises at the high school auditorium in a body.

Lieut. Russell J. Nelson, of Camp Gailard, Canal Zone, since Aug. 15, 1923, will report for duty as an instructor of military at the University, R.O.T.C., on Aug. 15, succeeding Capt. R. G. Tindall, who has been transferred to Fort Benning, Ga.

Jones, Director of the Memorial Union and Stadium Campaign, and Bob Hill, Assistant Director, relative to the two Memorial projects. An organization of ten team Captains and five assistants for each team was perfected to help in the present status of the campaign.

We had our usual successful "Spring Party" June 12 at the home of Mrs. J. T. Garrett, who is an honorary member of the Missouri Alumnae Association of St. Louis. From the large attendance I can safely say the Missouri University women in St. Louis are more than interested to hear about anything pertaining to "Old Missouri."

The installation of officers took place at the same time and from the results (with the exception of the President) we can look forward to a most successful year. The officers are: Miss Winnie Timmons, 5328 Enright, Vice-Pres.; Mrs. Chalser Collins (Madeline Branham) 3103 Eads, Treasurer, Miss Alice Hall, Ferguson, Mo., Secretary; Mrs. C. Corinth Wagner (Katherine Prehn) 6146 Waterman, Chairman of the scholarship committee.

We built up a rather substantial scholarship fund last year with our Chain Luncheon System which has been previously explained, and we shall add to the fund next year.

We are always ready to take active interest in University affairs, and we like to feel that we are "Still on the Campus."

Irvin Fane, Zeta Beta Tau, of Fane's Quality Shop, Texarkana, Texas, is arranging for a big alumni rally meeting there this summer. Dr. H. H. Smiley is assisting him.

The alumni are requested not to contribute to any campaign unless it has the approval of the Executive Committee.

The Jesse Hall auditorium was crowded to overflowing, discomfort, and stuffiness for the Commencement exercises. Members of the senior class occupied practically all of the seats on the first floor. Very few seats were available for the parents of the members of the senior class. Many parents were unable to even get in the auditorium to witness the graduation of their children. President Brooks remarked that he hoped and prayed that some friend of the University or that the state would provide an adequate auditorium on the campus before Commencement next year. His statement was loudly applauded. There is great need for an auditorium on the campus and let us all hope and pray that the hopes and prayers of Dr. Brooks bring results.

FRANCES ALEXANDER
President-elect of W.S.G.A.

Every day someone asks us whether or not provision has been made in the construction of the Memorial Tower to permit persons to ascend to the roof line. There will be a circular staircase leading upward from the Memorial Room in the southwest corner buttress of the Tower. This staircase leads to the bell chamber and also up to the roof, there being a door at the roof. There is a 1½" pipe railing at the roof to keep people from leaning over the edge of the parapet.

The three new student members of the Committee of Nine who will assume the committee at the beginning of school in September are: Jean Paulson, Mo., Student President-elect, and Depping; Miss Frances Alexander, Student-elect of W.S.G.A., to succeed N and the Student Council will select a to succeed Clyde Snider. The third and last contract unit of the Memorial Tower will be completed within the next sixty days. By the time the June Alumnus is in the mail the last car load of stone for the pinnacles will have arrived and the contractors will have the super-structure completed shortly thereafter. Visiting alumni are loud in their praise of the beauty of the Tower. It is undoubtedly the outstanding thing of beauty on the campus and will be the attraction that will draw hundreds of tourists to the University. The Memorial Committee of Nine is getting detailed information relative to adequate chimes for the Tower.

The Memorial Committee of Nine has appointed a sub-committee to arrange the details of the dedication of the Tower and Stadium. Frank B. Rollins is chairman. The other members are: E. Sydney Stephens, Dr. John Pickard, C. L. Brewer, and Bob Hill, Secretary. The Memorial Committee of Nine has voted to dedicate both the Memorial Tower and the Memorial Stadium on Homecoming Day, November 20th. Every effort will be made to get everyone who has subscribed to the Memorial Union and Stadium to attend the formal dedication of these two Memorials, in order to give proper emphasis to the greatness of these two alumni gifts to the University.

Construction on the Memorial Stadium is making such rapid progress that it is hard to describe. Concrete for all the seats on the west bleachers has been poured and the east bleachers are under construction. Attention is called to the half page advertisement of H. H. Carrothers, Inc., the Stadium contractors, showing the concrete allpoured for the west bleachers and on this page you will see the photograph showing the forms ready to pour concrete for the east bleachers. These photographs were taken on June 28 and great progress has been made since then. The contractors give assurance that the Memorial Stadium will be ready for the first game of the season with Tulane on October 2.

Mr. Brewer states that this game promises to attract a crowd which will tax the capacity of the Memorial Stadium. It will be the official opening and will be attended with the usual opening ceremonies. State and city officials and newspaper men of the state will be invited. Professor Frank L. Martin is chairman of the committee on publicity and program.

Word from Secretary Foote of the Tulane Alumni Association indicates that a host of the Tulane Alumni will attend this game, and that several special cars of Missouri alumni throughout the south will be in attendance.

View showing pouring of concrete for east bleachers now well under way. The west bleachers have been completed. (See the advertising of H. H. Carrothers, Stadium contractor.)

THE MISSOURI ENGINEERS OF CHICAGO SCHOLARSHIP

By M. P. Weinbach, A.B. '05, B.S., E.E., A.M. '07, Prof. of Electrical Engineering

Alumni spirit and strong devotion to Alma Mater by the Chicago Chapter of the Missouri Engineering Alumni Association, has taken recently a very substantial form in the establishment of the Missouri Engineers of Chicago Scholarship.

The purpose of this scholarship is to reward the student who ranks highest in the College of Engineering, based on two and a half years of work in the University, and who has creditably participated in one or more student activities.

The members of the above mentioned alumni group live in a world of activity, of great undertakings, and are actually engaged in the solution of some of the intricate problems of our complex and diversified industries. It is, therefore, no wonder that they are not concerned chiefly in the athletic prestige of the University and that their interest is not wholly centered in the success of the Tiger and the defeat of the Jayhawk, desirable as these may be. They are evidently and primarily interested in the fostering among the students in the College of Engineering scholastic attainments and such active participation in college activities which would give one the necessary qualifications to successfully compete for his place in this prodigious age of activity and service.

The scholarship had its inception just about a year ago at the annual dinner of the Society at which the writer was present as a guest. It was a very enjoyable and profitable evening. The overflowing alumni spirit with which every one present seemed to be imbued acquired texture, became substantiated into a most desirable and rather conspicuous manifestation—the scholarship.

In so far as the writer is aware this is the first scholarship to be established by an alumni group of the University of Missouri, and it is the first scholarship in the College of Engineering. To the Missouri Engineers of Chicago goes then the credit for making such a successful start.

The scholarship is supported by subscriptions from the members of the Society.
The subscriptions consist of about fifty pledges of $10.00 each, payable annually until the sum available for investment will reach a total of $6000.00. Beginning with

JAMES M. WOOD, President

TO THE MEMORIAL UNION AND STADIUM SUBSCRIBERS:

The Memorial Tower and the first unit of the Memorial Stadium will be completed before I shall have the opportunity of sending you another message. You will see from the cuts printed in this issue of the Alumnus how the work on them is progressing. No picture, however, can give you any adequate idea of the exquisite beauty of the Tower or the fine setting and impressive construction of the Stadium.

The Tower is unquestionably the finest Gothic Tower in America and one of the finest in the world. When you see it you will understand the enthusiasm of an alumnus who, though fresh from the sight of the beautiful towers of the Old World, was so thrilled by his first view of the Tower that he exclaimed "That is the most beautiful thing that I have ever seen!" You will see, too, that it is not a Memorial to glorify war, but a Memorial to glorify "Missouri Spirit" as exhibited in war, for which war furnished the occasion. This is the same spirit as shown by every alumnus and former student in the various communities where they reside. Every suggestion of war has been pushed into the background. You will find no images of guns, or other implements of war on the Tower. In choosing an inscription to go around the clock the committee did not choose one embodying the thought that "it is sweet to die for one's country" but they chose instead the noble words of St. Paul, "Walk in wisdom, redeeming your generation." What a fine message for the one hundred and ten heroes whose memory this Tower will perpetuate to the thousands of youths who in the coming years will pass through this fine arch.

The Stadium, in its fine setting and in its massive architecture will furnish a suitable place for the Tigers and one worthy of the fine group that year by year will uphold the honor of "Old Mizzou." As a stadium it is just as beautiful and just as impressive as the Tower and just as suitable a memorial to our heroic dead, many of whom in hard-won athletic contests have shown the same "Tiger Spirit" as that which animated them at the end.

"For though there is no grave to tell
Nor stone to mark their fall
Thank God, we know that they tackled well
In the last great game of all."

On Homecoming Day, November 20th, 1926, your Memorials will be dedicated and with simple ceremonies will be presented to alma mater as your first gift to her. The occasion will be one of great interest to everyone who has helped to build the Tower and the Stadium, and it would be fine if all contributors could be present at the presentation ceremonies. You are invited and urged to attend. Come and have your pride awakened and your heart warmed as never before!

J. C. JONES

$100.00 awarded this year to Mr. David Hicks Cunningham, the award will increase every year by $25.00 until the objective of a $300.00 scholarship is attained.

The award of the scholarship is administered by a University Committee of five faculty members appointed by the President, and a Committee of the Society known as the Missouri Engineers of Chicago Scholarship Governing Board. Through the actual participation of the group in the selection of the recipient of the award, a most desirable and permanent contact is thus brought about between this alumni group and the College of Engineering.

The writer wishes to take this opportunity to express his deep appreciation to the members of the Chicago Chapter of the Engineering Alumni Association for their splendid response to his appeal for encouragement of scholarship in the College of Engineering. They have started something of real and lasting benefit to the College, something worthy of emulation by other alumni groups—constructive interest in Alma Mater.

The Scholarship is a very attractive one and is awarded on the basis of fifty per cent for scholastic ability, twenty per cent student activities and twenty-five per cent physical training. The Scholarship was given by Harry Tidd, C. E. '13, Contractor of Hutchinson, Kans., a former Columbia boy and member of the Sigma Chi fraternity.

O'Sullivan is a member of the Phi Gamma Delta fraternity and Mystical Seven. He played quarter and half-back on the football teams of '24 and '25, played guard on the basketball teams of '25 and '26 and is Captain of the '27 basketball team. He was graduated from Manual Training High School in Kansas City.

O'Sullivan is the second student to receive the Harry Tidd Scholarship. The award last year was made to Arthur Bond, now a Rhodes Scholar.

We have chosen to report the Tidd award in our advertising this month. We know Harry Tidd and we want to praise him for his liberality and loyalty and for this needed scholarship. We hope that more alumni and former students will make similar worthwhile gifts to the University.

Two Private Library Gifts to University

The gift of two valuable private libraries to the University has been announced by Librarian H. O. Severance. One was the library of the late Dr. Thomas Channing of Hannibal, comprising 165 volumes and donated by his widow. The second was the library of Dr. William Benjamin Smith, containing over 3000 volumes, 2000 volumes of which are bound and 1000 unbound. This library includes many rare collections.

The library given by Dr. Smith includes 325 volumes dealing with mathematics and physics, 300 works of philosophy, 900 of theological and religious subjects and 525 of history and literature.

Dr. Smith lives in Columbia. He was professor of physics in the University from 1888 to 1893. He was called to Tulane University at New Orleans in 1893, and there he was professor of physics until 1906, when he was named professor of philosophy. He continued in this capacity until 1915, when he became professor emeritus and has since pursued research work in religious and philosophical subjects.

Engineers Directory Just Issued

The first directory of the alumni and former students of the College of Engineering, covering the period of 1878-1925, as University Bulletin, Volume 27, Number 11, Engineering Experiment Station, Series 26, is ready for distribution. It contains a list of the names and addresses of the alumni and former students of the College of Engineering, alphabetically, geographically and by class. The material was compiled by Professor J. Roy Wharton, Secretary-Treasurer of the Engineering Alumni Association. It is proposed to issue the directory annually. Dean E. J. McCaustland and the engineering alumni are to be congratulated and commended for this needed publication. The alumni and former students of the College of Engineering will be mighty well pleased to know that this directory has been completed.

Harry Eugene Wilcox, B.S. in C.E. '10, formerly of Hannibal, Mo., now an engineer with Koppers Construction Co., 834 Union Trust Bldg., Pittsburgh, Pa., visited the University on July 9, and his sister, Miss Frances Minor Wilcox, '23, of Hannibal, who is enrolled in the summer session.

The University is spending $20,000 on improvements of buildings and $5,000 on campus improvement, according to the Business Manager, E. E. Brown. The pouring of concrete on the Boone County section of the roads for the east and west Highway Number 2 is going along rapidly on More's Boulevard and under the Wabash track at More's Switch. E. M. Tipton, LL. B. '11, Attorney, Kansas City, has been appointed special commissioner for the supreme court to take testimony in the anti-trust proceedings against the Standard Oil Company of Indiana, the Standard of Kentucky, the Texas Company and the White Eagle Refining Company. He was appointed by Chief Justice Blair. The May Horse Show on Rollins Field, May 22, sponsored by the R.O.T.C., under the leadership of Thomas Putnam, was a great success. Let us hope that the Commencement Horse Show will be revived. It was one of the prettiest and most attractive features of Commencement in years gone by and should be re-established. Hubert Moffett, Eldora, Ia., junior Ag., will be chairman of the 1927 Commencement Horse Show. Here are the names of the six Savitar Queens to which we send congratulations: Mary McIntyre, Tulsa, Okla., Delta Gamma; Winifred Krampf, California, Mo., Gamma Phi Beta; Mary Woodhouse, Kansas City, Alpha Phi; Blanche Whitlow, Fulton, Tri-Delt; Miriam Willits, Kansas City, Theta; Margaret Enloe, Jefferson City, Pi Phi.

The Kappa Sigma house which was badly damaged by fire several weeks ago has been repaired and the boys have moved back.

The Savitar was dedicated to Dean Walter Williams, the second time he has been thus honored, the first time twenty-five years ago, and the only man who has this distinctive record. The 1901 Savitar, dedicated to Dean Williams, was edited by Mercer Arnold, now attorney at Joplin, and a member of the University Board of Curators, and E. D. (General) Smith, maintenance engineer, National Cash Register Co., Dayton, was business manager.

Mr. Fredendall left Columbia on June 29 for his new home in Boulder, Colo.

Dean and Mrs. Walter Miller and Miss Emma Cauthorn, who have been in Athens, Greece, for the past year, will return to Columbia during the latter part of July.

Mrs. E. J. Durand, '09, formerly Sue G. Stone, Dean of Women, North Carolina College for Women, Greensboro, is spending the summer with her mother, Mrs. W. H. Stone, of Columbia.

M. H. Brinkley Changes Profession
Milo H. Brinkley, B.S. in C.E. '03, C.E. '06, QEBH, Tau Beta Pi, has recently received the degree of LL.B. from George Washington University, according to word from his old friend, A. U. Brandt, of San Francisco. It is rather unusual for an engineer to take up law after so many years of practice as an engineer but Brinkley found that law was very desirable in his work as valuation examiner for the Interstate Commerce Commission at Washington, D.C. He completed the law study after three years of the evening law course, has passed the examination for admission to the bar and has kept up his daily work of hearing valuation cases. Brinkley married Emma Conger, '03, of Columbia in 1905. They have one daughter, Mary Hamilton, 16 years old.

A. Tillman Merritt, A.B. '24, B.S. in Ed. '25, B.F.A. '26, the first alumnus of the School of Fine Arts. Mr. Merritt's home is Calhoun, Mo. He is a member of Phi Mu Alpha, Phi Delta Kappa and Alpha Zeta Pi. He was awarded the Juilliard Scholarship in 1924-25.

Experiment Field Named Sanborn Field

The Agricultural Experiment Field, located between Bass and Hudson Avenues, has been named Sanborn Field, in honor of Jeremiah W. It is the third oldest of its kind in the United States and is of great value because of its age.

SUMMER SESSION 1926

The summer session opened June 8 with a faculty of 126 members. The enrollment is now 1574. This year special provision has been made for graduate work, and we have the largest and best trained graduate faculty, and the largest offering of graduate courses in our history. As a result the enrollment in the Graduate School is 550. This is the largest number of graduate students ever enrolled in the University of Missouri at any one time, and is the largest graduate school in the Mississippi Valley. The graduate faculty has recently authorized certain important changes in the regulations governing the Master's degree. It has permitted certain departments to make the thesis optional, and has increased the number of hours required from 24 to 32 so as to permit students to elect a minor in any other subject if they so desire. This arrangement is in harmony with the practice of the oldest and strongest universities in America.

Two years ago President Brooks initiated the practice of Commencement exercises at the close of the summer session. At the close of the last summer session we conferred the following degrees and certificates: Bachelor of Arts, 44; Bachelor of Science in Agriculture, 11; Bachelor of Science in Home Economics, 2; Bachelor of Science in Education, 53; Bachelor of Science in Engineering, 5; Bachelor of Journalism, 8; Bachelor of Science in Business Administration, 6; Bachelor of Science in Public Administration, 1; Master of Arts, 26; Doctor of Philosophy, 2; Two year certificate, 19; and Life Certificate, 50. This year we shall have even a larger group and shall probably confer the Master's degree on 50 candidates.

A very attractive and varied program of social and recreational activities has been provided, and the summer session students seem to be delighted with it.

It is the consensus of opinion of the Faculty, the Director, and the students that this is the best summer session in our history.

In 1922, Professor J. D. Elliff was appointed Director of the Summer Session. Under his efficient management steady and gratifying progress has been made. We extend congratulations to him, to his faculty and to the summer session students.

We are making an earnest effort to bring back large numbers of alumni for Commencement Week. Greater numbers of alumni will come back every year as a result of this continuous effort. Kansas Game Saturday, Nov. 20!

By C. L. BREWER, Director of Athletics

The details of the football game with Kansas at Columbia on November 20th, and for the corresponding Saturday, in Lawrence, 1927 were finally completed and contracts drawn at a meeting in Kansas City June 25th. The meeting was attended by the Kansas officials, and by C. L. Brewer, director of athletics, E. Sydney Stephens, Frank B. Rollins, and Spencer F. Harris of Missouri, all of whom are members of the committee on inter-collegiate athletics.

The date of playing the game was agreed upon for Saturday after the matter had been presented by Kansas as an order from their administrative board to the athletic board, which placed the matter out of the hands of the athletic officials. Missouri regretted the inability to schedule the game for Thanksgiving Day as that seemed to be the best date from the Missouri standpoint.

In the other points at issue, however, Kansas was glad to accede to the desires of Missouri, and it was agreed that the stadium tax of 50c on conference games which Missouri had agreed to impose in connection with the financing of her stadium should all be retained by the Home institutions. It was also agreed that the minimum admission price, both at Columbia and at Lawrence, should be $2.50 all of which should be divided between the two institutions. These agreements insure the continuance of this traditional game which is one of the outstanding games of the country in point of interest and continuity of play.

The game this fall on Rollins field will be in the new stadium. Approximately 33,000 seats will be ready which will accommodate probably the largest crowd under the most satisfactory conditions that the game has ever been played under. It will be Homecoming Day for Missourians. There will be the added interest in addition to the game with the Jayhawkers, the visit to the new stadium. The structure is so unique in design, and so attractive that it is believed it will be one of the outstanding structures of its kind in the country.

Are you going to visit Columbia and the University this summer? Hundreds of alumni visit the University every month. We're always glad to see the alumni. They are a fine lot of men and women, interested in their school from an intellectual and financial standpoint. I visit with a goodly number of them. I've heard a number of them say that they want to give something to the school to be used for intellectual purposes.

I hear them express pride in the Memorial Tower and the Memorial Stadium. I predict that the gift of these two buildings by the alumni are but forerunners of gifts of other buildings, scholarships and professorships. I have heard that statement made by many alumni.

George Willson's emphasis on consistent, constructive and regular giving by alumni was received with enthusiasm at Commencement.

I just wanted to take this opportunity to commend the alumni for the intellectual and financial and legislative help they give to Alma Mater.

county of the state and in every prominent city outside of the state and the alumni are urged to affiliate with them.

The Chicago engineering alumni organization originated on March 15, 1921, when eighteen men were gotten together by G. D. Mitchell, '12, and J. F. Rooker, '11, at an informal dinner. This is believed to be the first strictly engineering alumni organization of the University. Regular meetings have been held. One of the objects of the organization is to be of service to the College of Engineering and its students. With this in mind a scholarship has been established.

Professor M. P. Weinbach went to Chicago in May, 1925, and addressed a meeting of the Missouri Engineers. He advised that no strictly engineering scholarship existed at the University and explained the need of one. A committee, with F. M. Darr as Chairman, was appointed to work out some plan for a scholarship during the summer of 1925. The final plan was approved by the organization in November, 1925. Mr. David H. Cunningham, of Columbia, has been elected to receive the award for the school year 1925-'26.

The purpose of the scholarship is to reward the man who has succeeded in making of himself an exceptional student. The scholarship is supported by subscriptions from the members of the Missouri Engineers of Chicago. The amount of the first scholarship awarded is $100.00. This will increase each year by $25.00, until a final sum of $300.00 is reached. The student receiving the award is selected from a list of several candidates, proposed by a committee of five faculty members, who are appointed by the President of the University. The administration of the scholarship is vested in a governing board of five members of the Missouri Engineers of Chicago.

Qualifications of candidates for the scholarship are:

(a) Two and one-half years previous work in the College of Engineering of the University of Missouri.

(b) Ranking among first ten of his class in scholastic standing.

Relating to Athletics

Missouri placed second with 35 1-10 points in the Missouri Valley Track Meet at Lincoln on May 22. Nebraska was first, 50, and Oklahoma third, 33 3-5. Five valley records were broken, at what was said to be the greatest meet in the history of the Conference. Locke, Nebraska, broke the world's record in the 220 and equalled it in the 100. The Tiger Captain, Doss Richerson, broke the Valley record in the discus and won the shot-put. Wirsig, Nebraska, broke the Valley pole-vault record with a vault of 12 ft. 9 7-8 in., and Cox, Oklahoma, bettered his own record in the javelin, throwing it 191 ft. 10 1-2 inches. Lancaster, Missouri, won the broad jump and tied for second in the pole-vault. Ferguson took third in the high hurdles, Steele, third, in the two-mile run, and McAnnelly, third in the discus. Farley placed third in the 100 and 220, Potts tied for second in the high jump and Grantello took third in quarter.

Bob Simpson's Tigers made a wonderful showing at Lincoln, a fitting climax to a big year for Bob and for Doss Richerson, two of Missouri's greatest track stars.

Coach Gwinn Henry will assist in the Coaching School to be conducted by his alma mater, Howard Payne College of Brownwood, Tex., in August. Henry will be (in addition to head football coach) head track coach at Missouri, beginning in September.

The Missouri and Kansas freshmen will play a football game in Columbia during the coming season for the benefit of the Walter Camp Memorial.

No athletic equipment will be issued the football players in the Missouri Valley Conference this fall until after September 15 and football players will be prohibited of giving any form of practice before that date. This was decided at a meeting of the Athletic Directors and the faculty representatives at a meeting in Lincoln on May 22, attended by C. L. Brewer and Dr. W. G. Manly.

Coach George Bond, director of intramural athletics, has announced a most complete and detailed program of activities for the coming year, which includes all sports, and calls for participation by all students in the University. This is greatly needed. Good work, George.

According to a tentative schedule, September and October will be devoted to baseball, tennis and golf. Volley ball and speed ball will be added in November. January will be a busy month, with basketball, handball, wrestling and boxing on the schedule, and these sports will be continued through February. Basketball will be continued into March, with "free throw," a game wherein five-men teams try for shooting baskets, and horseshoes will be added. The horseshoe tournament will carry over into April, with tennis, golf and playground ball added. The year's program will conclude in May, with an annual intramural track and field meet added to the April list of sports.

The officers of the organization of the Missouri Engineers of Chicago are: W. C. Wheeler, B.S. in Eng. '21, President; John W. Rowley, B.S. in Eng. '21, Secretary.

Undoubtedly, the associations of Engineering alumni in various other cities will follow the example established by the Chicago Club, confer with Dean E. J. McCaustland of the College of Engineering relative to other needs of that division of the University and take steps immediately to be of service.

The action of the Chicago engineers is constructive and worthwhile.

The alumni employed more members of the senior class this year than ever before, according to records in the Alumni office. During the year the alumni have been reminded that they might secure the best possible talent from any field from the members of the senior class. This is true every year. Alumni needing assistants have corresponded with the alumni office and with the deans of the respective divisions and more seniors have been given employment than ever before in the history of the University. Doubtless this number will increase from year to year. It is important, however, that the alumni who want to employ members of the senior class get in touch with the Alumni Recorder's office or the Deans as early as possible in the school year, and come to Columbia to interview the students.

The Foundation

IN many an American city today tall structures stand on foundations that were planned by their architects to support the weight of extra stories if the future's need should call for such additions. Their very existence is proof of the vision of men who provided for that which they could not definitely foresee.

Similarly capable of meeting the future's needs was the foundation upon which the Bell System has been reared. At a time when a few miles was the greatest distance over which man's wire-borne voice might travel, the telephone pioneers could not, of course, foresee in detail the problems of invention, manufacture, construction and operation which future expansion might involve.

They could, however, and did catch the vision of a national growth which would necessitate a service continent-wide in scope. They could and did provide the foundation for a structure capable of growing with the nation.

The proof of their vision lies in the fact that America today has a nation-wide, universal telephone service.

To the Summer Session Students:

Good food, appropriate food, makes a good summer. We want you students of the summer session to eat at Harris' student eating headquarters.

We have met a host of the summer school students, many of them eat here regularly, and a goodly number of the summer session organizations hold their luncheon and dinner meetings here. See us for special arrangements for your eating party.

When you motor to Columbia this summer for a week-end, to visit the University, go first, of course to Bob Hill's office and let him record you and then come to Harris' for your meals. Tell us you're a former student and we'll break our necks to give you excellent food and the best of service. There are always other alumni eating at Harris.

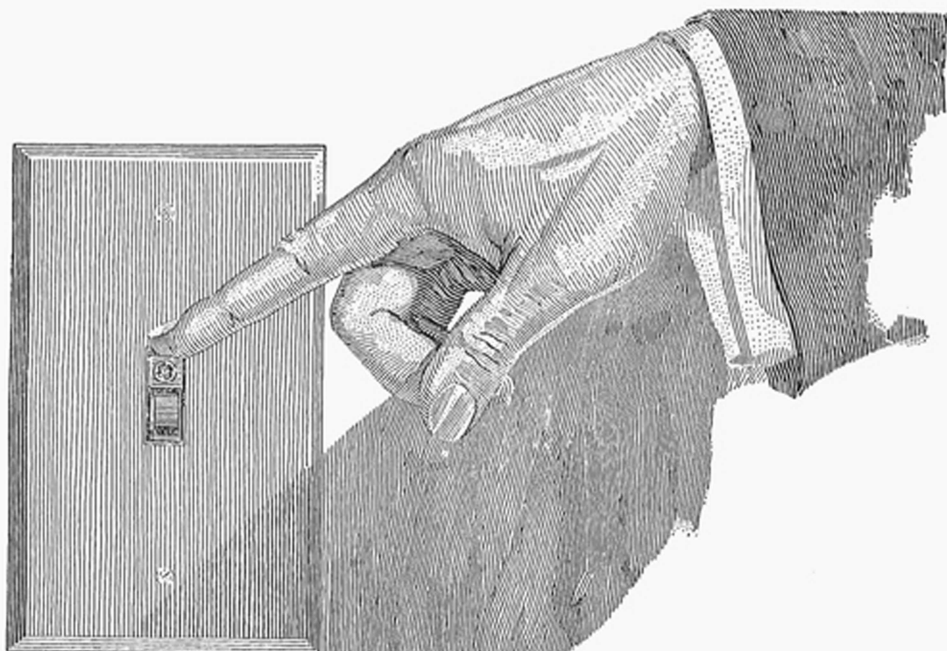

You know we have good food. The Round Table Club lunches here every Tuesday and Isadore Barth is their Master of Menu.

The Round Table Club members were dinner guests of Governor and Mrs. W. R. Painter at their home in Carrollton on June 29. They were met at Waverly by a group of Carrollton business men and escorted to Governor Painter's home. Hudson Cooper, B. S. in Ag. '11, who married Sara Painter, '10 and Curtis A. Betts, were also guests. The Round Table members are: Dean Walter Williams, Dictator; E. Sydney Stephens, I. A. Barth, C. C. Bowling, C. L. Brewer, President Stratton D. Brooks, Dr. Dudley S. Conley, S. F. Conley, Professor L. M. Defoe, Dr. C. W. Digges, Marshall Gordon, J. P. Hetzler, Dean J. P. McBaine, Frank L. Martin, W. B. Nowell, Jr., Dr. Guy L. Noyes, R. B. Price, Jr., Dr. Dan G. 5¢ worth of ELECTRICITY

5¢ spent for electricity will run a washing machine for two hours.

5¢ spent for electricity will keep the refrigerator cold for eight hours.

5¢ spent for electricity will make a hot kitchen comfortable with an electric fan for ten hours.

5¢ spent for electricity will run a vacuum cleaner for three hours.

5¢ spent for electricity will run a sewing machine for seven hours.

5¢ spent for electricity will light your reading lamp for two long evenings.

The electric switch is only one of the many contributions which the General Electric Company has made to the electrical industry. G-E has built giant generators for Central Stations; it has made the motors which do hard and tiresome tasks; and in G-E research laboratories it has developed better MAZDA lamps to light our factories, highways and homes.

The cost figures in this advertisement are based upon electricity at 10 cts. per kilowatt hour.

MOST of the good things of life cost much more than they did in 1914; electricity, the shining exception, actually costs no more. This is a record of which the electrical industry is justly proud.

It means that you can use electricity very freely and still be very economical. It means that no American husband ought to allow his wife to waste time and energy in doing one single household task that electricity can do for a few cents an hour.
