Any industrial worker who moves things by hand is doing work that Electricity can do for about 2 cents an hour.

More than 60 per cent of the mechanical power used by American industry is applied through electric motors. But the electrification of the tasks performed by man power has hardly begun. Electric power not only saves dollars; it conserves human energy for better purposes and raises standards of living. We could all use more electricity to advantage—in our factories and stores, on our farms, and in our homes.
Employees Well Trained in Safety and First Aid

Company Automobiles
Average 25,000 Miles Per Accident

First aid treatment and safety first principles are important features of the regular training of employees in the construction, maintenance, and installation forces of the telephone company. These employees are taught not only to follow the safety rules themselves, but to be constantly on the alert to prevent accidents to others and to render first aid treatment when necessary.

Safety Meetings

The foremen in charge get their men together at frequent intervals to give them safety instructions and to discuss any accident which may have occurred during the interval between meetings, so as to prevent recurrence of similar accidents.

One result of this safety first practice is that last year the employees using automobiles in their work drove them a total of 8,700,000 miles, with but one accident for each 25,000 miles, approximately the distance around the world.

Local Calls

Approximately 8,500,000 local telephone calls are handled daily in the Southwestern territory. Fifteen thousand five hundred operators are required to handle these calls, which average 5,900 for each minute of the day.

Curators Authorize President Brooks to Call Revenue Conference

The Board of Curators met in Columbia on May 7, and on May 14. President Stratton D. Brooks, acting upon the authority of the Board, definitely announced that he would call a Conference of all the boards of control and the administrative officers of the university, of the state eleeomynary institutions and of the state teachers' colleges, with state officials, for the purpose of devising some remedy for the serious condition confronting all Missouri state institutions, due to lack of appropriations from the state legislature.

In making the announcements of his plans, Dr. Brooks does not suggest any definite formula for meeting the condition, but he does believe a conference of responsible and interested persons might reach an acceptable remedy.

Three Courses Are Open.

Three possible courses must be undertaken unless a substantial appropriation is received from the next General Assembly, Dr. Brooks pointed out:

1. To discontinue some of the work that is now being done.
2. To limit drastically the attendance.
3. To reduce the quality of the work, with the result that the university will be less worth while attending.

"Undoubtedly similar conditions exist in the state teachers' colleges and the eleeomynary institutions," he told the board at their meeting here May 7. "Clearly the citizens of Missouri desire these institutions to be administered with the highest possible degree of efficiency and economy, and I believe that when they are assured these conditions exist they will be willing to provide adequate revenue."

The Appropriations Are Less.

"The total appropriation for the university for the biennial period 1925-26 was over $600,000 less than for the preceding biennium, while the amount released for the biennial period 1927-28 was over $100,000 less than for the biennial period 1925-26."

"In the meantime," Dr. Brooks continued, "the resident enrollment for the year ending June, 1926, is 964 greater than for the year ending June, 1924, while the number of extension students for the same period has increased 1,618."

"Since January, 1925, only one building, the new law school, has been completed. Two others then under construction are standing uncompleted, and must remain so for the remainder of this 4-year period."

"It is clear that a growing institution cannot be maintained with a rapidly decreasing appropriation and no provision for housing."

"Owing to the increase in junior colleges and to the improved conditions in the other colleges of the state, the increase in university attendance has been largely in upper classes and graduate students. These students come for higher specialized work requiring an expert teaching staff, with libraries and laboratories adequate to care for this advanced type of instruction," Dr. Brooks added.

Through a conference of all the educators of the state, Dr. Brooks hopes to remedy the situation, at least arouse the citizens of the state so that pressure can be brought to bear upon the members of the state legislature before they convene again.

The announcement of this action by the Board of Curators and President Brooks resulted in most favorable comment from the press of the State and from organizations and individuals interested in education in Missouri. Senator F. M. McDavid, Springfield, was elected chairman of the Executive Board at their meeting on the 7th and the other members are: H. A. Blanton, Paris, and Mercer Arnold, Joplin. The full Board meeting was held on that afternoon and in addition to the members of the Executive Board other Curators present were: George C. Wilson, St. Louis; A. A. Speer, Jefferson City; Chas. F. Ward, Plattsburg; Dr. C. H. Fulton, Director of the School of Mines, Rolla; Leslie Cowan, Secretary, and President Brooks, all of whom were guests of the Round Table Club at a luncheon at Harris'. The Board made the following appointments:

Graduate assistants effective Sept. 1, 1927—Herbert Bowman and John Overturf and Lewis Froman, economics; Neale Firth and Cleo Thorton Wymann, physics; Willis C. Beasles, psychology; Elo P. Monachesi, sociology; Clarence Turner, Lorrimer Schmidt, Katherine R. Jefferson, Raymond Ritter, Kenneth Coldwater, and Nat S. Matthews, zoology.

Neil Van Ostendburg was appointed teaching fellow in mathematics. William L. Bradshaw was appointed instructor in political science and public law, effective Sept. 1, 1927. Ernest M. Funk was appointed instructor in poultry husbandry, and Preston Richards was appointed assistant in agricultural economics. Beth Palmer, Adella Eppel and Edna F. Amidon were appointed professors of home economics.

Jake Lee Walker was appointed physician in the University health service effective Sept. 1. Raymond Peck and John M. Ware were appointed student assistants in geology for the remainder of the semester. Conny Pitney was appointed reader in the military department for the remainder of the semester.

The following instructors were appointed for next year: Dan D. Baker, anatomy; John B. Emperor, English; Vernon V. Purry, history; Will H. Lathrop, photo illustration.

Henry W. Hamilton was appointed district extension agent of Reynolds and Carter counties effective May 1. Tine Rhoades was appointed county home economics agent in Callaway county, effective June 1. B. B. Branstetter was appointed extension specialist of field crops, effective June 1. Floyd E. Rogers was appointed district extension agent in Wright and Douglas counties, effective May 1.

dend the four weeks summer session in the "Centro de Estudios Historicos," an official institution. She will stay at the Residencia, Calle del Pinar, 17. The courses are given by Professors from the University of Madrid and other institutions on Spanish language, literature and art and supplemented by excursions to points of interest. After the summer session she will travel in the southern part of Spain, then to France and return to New York in September.

Dr. J. C. Jones Will Preside
Over the World Cruise

The S. S. Ryndam sails from New York Sept. 20, with a new undergraduate body of 357 young men and a faculty of 35 to encircle the globe.

In accepting the presidency Dr. Jones said, "I believe that the 'Floating University' idea has a far greater future than many educators in this country realize. I have satisfied myself that the University Travel Association has begun to build a permanent institution which deserves the cooperation of the educational world. I believe that it is destined to make a number of significant contributions to the American educational system—notably an extension of the laboratory method of teaching to new fields.

"I should like to state also that I plan in entire sympathy with the University's Travel Association's decision to limit the registration to young men. There is a division of opinion among educators as to the value of coeducation on land. I think there can be little argument in its favor on the Seven Seas. A mixed group in far more and on the high seas undoubtedly presents difficulties under cruise conditions and hampers the classroom work. The first cruise proved that." Dr. Jones studied at Johns Hopkins University and the universities of Leipzig and of Munich. He is a member of the American Society of Classical Studies in America, the American Philological Association, the Archeological Institute of America, the Classical Association of the Middle West and South, and of Phi Beta Kappa.

Dr. John Carlton Jones, Ph.D., L.L.D., president emeritus of the University, will be president of the sec-cord college cruise of the S. S. Ry-dam, the world's first 'Floating University.' He succeeds Dr. Charles F.

Thwing. Mrs. Jones will accompany Dr. Jones on the trip.

N. T. Gentry Recalls How “Tigers” Got Their Name

North Todd Gentry, B.A. '34, Sur. '36, L.L.B. '38, Attorney-General of Missouri, writes that the following interesting article published in the Kansas City Star is a true one, except that he never heard of the burning of the books to keep the soldiers warm.

Columbia, Mo., April 29.—Why is a Tiger a tiger?

This question has reference not to the animal but to that species of felis tigris which inhabits a small region in and around the University of Missouri whence it goes forth to hunt in packs of five, eleven and nine or more or less. Perhaps the best known specimen at the present is Gwinn Henry and his football and track teams.

But why isn't he a mule, taking his name from the product for which this state is famous, or a bear, after the arms of the state seal?

Missouri's First Color Blue.
The name given Missouri athletes existed before the colors of gold and black. When the name was applied first Missouri's color was blue.

One of the best authorities concerning the creation of the name for Missouri athletes is North Todd Gentry, attorney-general of Missouri, whose home is in Columbia.

The setting of this story is in Civil War days. It appears back in the fall of 1864 Bill Anderson, the guerilla chief, was making himself and his little band hatred in the vicinity of Boone County. Columbians, in common with the citizens all through the section, went to bed with weapons under their pillows and valuables sewed in their nightclothes. Those were dark days for the university. Federal soldiers stabled their horses in some of the buildings and burned books to keep themselves warm.

Columbia Avoided by Guerillas.

Small towns had been molested. Columbia had escaped actual raiding by virtue of its known preparedness against small attacks. Columbia had a strong corps of home guards and an effective vigilance committee.

In the fall of the last year before the close of the war these organizations had died down through inactivity. Then word reached here Bill An-

Four members of the Journalism class of ’15 had luncheon at the Waldorf Astoria in New York City on April 30 as guests of Houston Harte, owner and publisher of the San Angelo (Tex.) Standard. The guests were Ralph H. (Scoop) Turner, assistant news manager for the United Press, a Journalism Week speaker, O. J. (Griff) Carpenter, executive in the Lyndon & Hanford Agency, 110 E. 42nd Street, New York City and R. M. (Duke) Bandy, Jr., of the Merchants Trade Journal, Inc., 181 Madison Avenue, New York City. This was a meeting of four mighty successful alumni of the School of Journalism.

The senior Journalism class presented a mahogany book case for the council room in Neff Hall as this year’s class gift. Russell P. Heitman, President of the senior Journalism class made the presentation. Dean Walter Williams accepted the gift.

New Annual Prize Offered in School of Journalism

A. C. (Tex) Bayless, Journalism ’17, who has made such an enviable record as general agent for the Southland Life Insurance Company of Houston, Tex., is the donor of an annual prize of $100.00, which will be awarded this year for the first time to the student who during the year develops the best qualifications for writing, selling and planning advertising. The announcement of Mr. Bayless’s gift was made by Dean Williams at the annual banquet of the Journalism alumni during Journalism Week.

New Vice-President of Journalism Alumni Association

CLEVELAND

The Cleveland Alumni Association gave a dinner at Hotel Allerton on Sunday evening, May 1, in honor of Dean Van Damme, the Graduate School President. J. Luke Russell, president. Arrangements for the meeting were in charge of Vice-President Litlian E. Miller and Secretary E. K. Knapp. Others present: Mrs. J. Luke Russell, Miss Russell, Mr. Hochkadav, Dr. and Mrs. B. B. Hand, Mrs. L. R. P. Sturbr, Miss Surber, Mr. and Mrs. N. H. Finnland, Mrs. and Mr. Webb Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Keltner, Miss Hobson, Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Warren, Mr. and Mrs. T. Kennedy, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wiley, Mr. and Mrs. V. C. Wright, Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Ford, and Miss Saville, Miss Ella Wheeler Smith, Miss Minta Jacobs, Miss Ottila Kahn.

DENVER

The Denver Alumni Association held their annual birthday party on May 2 in the Albany Hotel. Art M. Hailey, President, and Larry DeMuth, Secretary, were in charge of the event. F. H. (Pete) Holmes was elected President, Larry DeMuth, and A. L. Threlkeld, Vice-Presidents, and Art Hailey, Secretary. There were present: Mrs. Frances Ross Leake, Mr. Bryan Clark, John Morris, Seth B. Bradley, Myron Henderson, Paul P. Howa, Edgar R. Meyer, J. W. Vaughn. "We have been offered KOA, General Electric broadcasting station, to broadcast a University of Denver basketball program some time," writes Art Hailey, "and we shall take advantage of it soon. We shall have regular monthly meetings in the evening and also continue the noon luncheons as usual. Our first evening meeting will be held the first Monday night in June at the home of Mrs. L. L. Leake, 1544 Monroe Street. Mrs. Leake was formerly Frances Ross, A.B. '21, Phi Beta Kappa, Kappa Kappa Gamma, who recently moved to Denver from Akron, O. Her husband is Sunday editor of the Rocky Mountain News. They have two sons, James Ross, four, and Charles Evin, fifteen months. We are all mightily proud of A. L. Threlkeld, who on May 4, was appointed superintendent of the Denver Schools for five years at a salary of $8,000."

CHICAGO

D. M. (Patty) Nelson, C.E. '11, with Sears, Roebuck & Co., one of the speakers on the annual Engineers Week program, was elected President of the Chicago Alumni Association at their annual Founders' Day banquet. Three Vice-Presidents were elected, representing North, South and West Chicago, respectively, in order that each may give the assistance necessary in getting out all of the alumni for meetings during the year: Eugene C. Hall, B.S. in '12, football player on the famous Roper team of 1909; M. N. Witt, B.S. in '18, Swift & Company, Hide Department, 1st Club fame, and G. D. Mitchell, B.S. in M.E. '12; secretary-treasurer, Mrs. R. H. McPherson, A.B. '20, formerly with Larkin and Safford, B.J. Publicity Director, Lee Walker, a former President of the Chicago Alumni Association, told of his recent trip to Columbia, as did Mr. Nelson. There was much discussion relative to plans for Chicago alumni to hold a big meeting for themselves and for visiting alumni when the Missouri Tigers play Northwestern early next fall. The plan is to have all Missourians seated together and to hold a big alumni rally dinner the night before the game. Each person at the meeting was required to make a brief talk and the party was a real live one. George Palfreyman, retiring President, presided at the meeting. Mrs. Ruth H. Roemer, Secretary, had charge of arrangements.

FAYETTEVILLE

The Fayetteville, Ark., Alumni Association gave a luncheon recently in honor of Clarence F. Schubert, student in the University from Russellville, who represented the University in the debate with Arkansas. Other guests were Mr. Schubert's father and the Arkansas debate coach, Mr. McHale, C. B. Wiggans, B.S. in Ag. 22, Assistant Professor of Law at University of Arkansas, President of the Fayetteville Alumni Association, and Mrs. Henry Pepper, Secretary, were in charge of the luncheon.

Former Kansas City Man Writes Harvard Law Text.

Edwin Wilhite Patterson, formerly of Kansas City, Missouri, professor of law at Columbia University, is the author of the latest volume in the Harvard Studies in Administrative Law, published by Harvard University Press. Its title is "The Insurance Commissioner in the United States." Professor Patterson is the son of Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Patterson, of 38 Bellemont avenue. After attending the old Central high school here he went to the University of Missouri and was graduated from the school of law here in 1911. Having practiced law for about four years, he was appointed associate professor of law at the University of Texas.

After teaching in Texas three years he was appointed professor of law at the University of Colorado. Some three years later he studied in the school of law at Harvard university one year and obtained the degree of S.J.D. He then was appointed professor of law at the University of Iowa. From Iowa he went to the school of law at Columbia university. Professor Patterson has a new book, which has an introduction by Felix Frankfurter of the school of law of Harvard university, will be used as a text in Harvard.

The city of Columbia has purchased the Post Office on Broadway and Sixth, at a cost of $35,000, upon which they plan to build a city Hall.

With the Alumni Associations

Dean Walter Williams was entertained by the graduates of the School of Journalism living in Dallas at a banquet in the University Club. G. B. Dealey, president of the A. H. Belo Corporation, publishers of the Dallas News and the Dallas Journal, was an honored guest. Mr. Dealey has an LL.D. degree from the University of Missouri. MISSOURIS RIFLE TEAM WINS NATIONAL TITLE

Captain J. J. Coghan of the R. O. T. C. coach of Missouri famous rifle team, is to be congratulated, along with his men for winning the National Rifle Meet at Los Angeles last week, with a score of 2970 out of a possible 3000. The competition was with 26 teams. Leland Stanford was second.

Capt Farley Wins 100-yard Dash. Captain Kurt Farley of the Tiger Track team won the 100-yard dash in ten seconds in the Dales Relays at Des Moines on April 30. Edgington, Farley's running mate, made a clean sweep, Missouri won third in the 440 relay and tied with Indiana for fourth in the 880 relay.

A New Committee Appointed.

An executive committee, composed of W. G. Manly, W. A. Tarr and E. Sydney Stephens, has been appointed by the Athletic Committee, to transact any business which may arise between the monthly meetings of the whole committee.

Isadore A. Barth and his brother, Joseph, recently purchased the interest of the Barth estate in the Victor Barth Clothing Co., 9th & Broadway. The name of the Company will remain the same. The Victor Barth Clothing Co. was organized 83 years ago by Joe and Victor Barth, who were known by thousands of alumni and former students. As a result of the new ownership the Company held a sale the first that they have held in ten years. Journalism students will remember well the advertising slogan used by this Company, "We hold no clearance sales."

John H. Rease, M.D. '01, LL.B. '02, 2035 Fish Building, New York City, is the subject under discussion in the following incident. While clipped in the weekly publication of the Advertising Club of St. Louis, and sent to the Alumnus by Jimmie W. Schaefer, 94 E. 42nd St.

"In about the finest talk the Advertising Club of St. Louis has had in a long time (it was the previous one by the same speaker), William B. Burruss, "Inspirational Sales Counselor," spoke on "The Salesman," the "Salesman," at last Tuesday's meeting.

Sound 1927 business logic and the classic term of the sales profession, "What will it do for me?" are his main points. He then went into the way a typical Shakespearean scene, too, Mr. Burruss put to good use his dramatic activities as a student at the University of Missouri."

"Shakespeare, 'in a sleepy little village by a sleepy little river in sleepy old England,' was the greatest of all salesmen, according to Mr. Burruss, and he proceeded to prove this point in convincing fashion. Through characters which he created, he sold his ideas so well, he said, that they still live. True originality in sales work, the speaker added, recommending the policy of Josli Billings. Steady and sincere, the listener must have confidence both in himself and in his product. To the salesman apprehensive at the approaching interview he advised: "The speaker recommended a sort of catechism: Q. Where am I now? A. 'Outside of your comfort zone.' Q. Where will be if I am thrown out? A. 'Outside of your comfort zone.' Q. Where will I be if I go inside and don't get thrown out?" A. 'Inside of your comfort zone.' 'Again, in this connection, Mr. Burruss barked back to Shakespeare with the quota- tion, 'I beg all my fellow countrymen, other Shakespearean sayings applicable to modern business are quoted included the following: 'Apparel often tells the truth,' said Shakespeare, 'and The friends thou hast, grasp them to you with hoops of steel.' "A formula essential in selling, Mr. Burruss said, is get attention, hold the interest, and close the sale."

"George Leavenworth, A.B. '02, formerly of Geneva, Mo., A.M. '03 Columbia University, is a commission merchant, Timberville, Mo. Chas. G. Ross, A.B. '05, formerly Professor of Journalism in the University, now in charge of the Washington Bureau of the St. Louis Post-Dispatch, '20-'23, Wyatt Building, Washington, D. C., has sent for the May Alumnus the very interesting editorial published in the Washington Post of May 3 about Lieut. Guy Kirksey, LL.B. '14.

"Lieut. Guy Kirksey, army air corps, has just completed in cooperation with the coast and geodetic survey, a photographic map of the Florida Everglades. The flights were made during the dry season, and Lieut. Kirksey said that he saw numerous spots of high ground in the famous swamp which he thought had never before been seen by a white man. Many of these areas could be cultivated, and the air officer predicts that as soon as access is provided much of the country can be converted into productive farm land.

"The fact that the popular conception of the Everglades as being waste land is fallacious should occasion little surprise. Dark, dank, impenetrable swamp lands have barred white men from the interior. Indians live therein, however, and their tribes have flourished for hundreds of years. If red men could have wrenched a living from this uncertain area, it seems reasonable to suppose that the white man, with the aid of science and engineering, could do as much.

"The project of draining the Everglades has been agitated for years. Ultimately it will be accomplished. A fecund garden spot will be created in which will be produced fruits and vegetables of every sort. The Everglades are destined to become a valuable resource of Florida."

Commencement visitors, both alumni and parents of graduates should make reservations for commencement week at once.

The Daniel Boone Tavern

a distinctive Hotel

The ball-room of the Tavern has recently been converted into rooms—every room with a bath. Our dining room facilities in the main dining room and in the Coffee Shop are second to none.

We have an adequate Banquet Room in the basement.

We employ in every department many students who are working their way through the University. They are instructed to cater to the Alumni and former students.

Write, wire, or phone me when you want accommodations at the Tavern.

This will be the busiest season in the history of the University.

What is SERENITY Worth?

BUDDHA, who was born a prince, gave up his name, succession, and his heritage to attain serenity.

But we are no Buddhas; for us the serenity of mind is the happiness of human beings who are secure in the enjoyment of what they possess, whether it is much or little.

We do not have to give up the world; we have only to see a life insurance agent, who can sell us security for the future, the most direct step to serenity of mind.

The next John Hancock agent who calls on you may be able to put you on the road to serenity.

Isn't it worth while to see him?
These Hotels Offer You Unusual Service—
Use Them!

Alumni from the institutions listed below are urged to use Intercollegiate Alumni Hotels when travelling, and when arranging for luncheons, banquets and get-togethers of various sorts.

You will find at each Intercollegiate Alumni Hotel an index of the resident Alumni of the participating colleges. Think what this means when you are in a strange city and wish to look up a classmate or friend.

You will find at these hotels a current copy of your Alumni publication.

You will also find a spirit of co-operation and a keen desire to see you comfortably housed and adequately provided for. Reservations may be made from one Intercollegiate Alumni Hotel to another as a convenience to you.

Intercollegiate Alumni Hotels are a new and vital force in assisting your Alumni Secretary. He urges you to support them whenever and wherever possible. He will be glad to supply you with an introduction card to the managers of all Intercollegiate Alumni Hotels, if you so request.

Hotel Mayfair

Where Service is a Reality

Charles Heiss is the amiable, genial, and courteous manager. He is particularly anxious to give personal attention to University folk, their requests for reservations, and their personal comfort while stopping at his hotel.

Hotel Mayfair is the home of “The Voice of St. Louis, Inc.” Radio Station KMOX, one of the largest in the United States. Mayfair guests are especially welcome to the visitor’s auditorium, where you can see and hear the artists.

Located right in the center of the business, theater and shopping district and convenient to the St. Louis railroad Union Station, street car and bus lines.

Every one of its 400 rooms has a bath and all beds have Simmons Box Springs and Marshall Inner-Spring Mattresses.

All rooms have outside exposure, circulating ice water, electric fans, large closets, bed lamps and other unusual features.

The last word in modern hotel construction and unsurpassed service. Rates from $3.00.

Guests of the MAYFAIR will long remember with pleasure its wonderful cuisine.

In comfortable and luxurious appointments the MAYFAIR is matchless.

Welcomes Commencement Visitors

Columbia Welcomes You to the 85th Commencement

We look forward with pleasure to the coming of the parents of the members of the graduating class, to visiting alumni for class reunions, and we have a feeling of sadness that so many fine seniors are to leave Columbia.

We want Commencement visitors to make eating headquarters with us June 5-8, the Commencement Week dates.

We want visiting alumni to enjoy again the best of Boone County food.

We want the seniors to come here for eats during their last week in school. We shall be glad to make reservations for Commencement Week breakfasts, luncheons and dinners.

Remember Your First Picture of The Columns

Keep your life on the campus fresh in your memory by having a new framed picture of THE COLUMNS on your wall. You may want to forget when you cut class too often but that was just a part of those grand old college days that are symbolized by the stately Columns. If you do not have such a picture and have been wanting one, let us fill that need in each Grad's life—a LASTING PICTURE OF THE COLUMNS.
