Lights
that lead to Homes

ORNAMENTAL street lights in residential districts attract home-builders—substantial citizens who demand distinction in their surroundings—whose appreciation of beauty finds gratification in artistic design—to whom the decorative aspect of modern lighting is as desirable as its more practical advantages.

Where people still live on dimly lighted streets, modern illumination will endow the whole area with a new and better atmosphere, give residents just cause for pride, and increase the value of their homes.

Wherever houses are to be built, light is always the leader—and at the day's end it makes safe and cheery the ways that lead to the city's homes.

Street-lighting specialists of General Electric are always ready to cooperate with your power company in improving and extending your lighting system so that it may substantially contribute to the beauty, progress, and prestige of your city.

You will find the G-E monogram on huge turbines in power stations, on the improved lamps that light your streets, and on a score of appliances that save time and drudgery in the completely electrified home. The G-E monogram is your assurance of electrical correctness and reliability.

President Brooks Requests Over Seven Million for the University

An appropriation of more than seven million dollars will be asked of the Missouri legislature, meeting next month, for the University of Missouri's 1929-30 biennium, according to Dr. Stratton D. Brooks. The appropriation last biennium was $2,826,908.56.

This sum will include the $4,311,388.35 appropriation which will go to the state tax commission for recommendation to the legislature. The remainder, or $2,706,000, would be used to erect needed buildings on the campus and to purchase land for the college of agriculture.

Since the tax commission has notified Dr. Brooks that it will not look with favor on appropriations for new buildings, the university president will make an appeal directly on the floor of the legislature for the new buildings.

The needed buildings include an auditorium which can accommodate the entire student body. The present, one, located in Jesse Hall, seats less than one-half of those enrolled. Dr. Brooks would locate the new auditorium on the block between the east and west campuses. This would provide a connecting link between the agricultural campus and the "red" campus. For this purpose, $1,000,000 would be needed.

Other requests will be for a building to house the extension division of the university, an addition to the university library, agricultural engineering building and equipment, an engineering building and equipment, a geology building, a greenhouse and equipment, a nurses' home, with site and equipment, and a service storage and warehouse building and equipment. He will also particularly urge the purchase of 400 acres of land for the use of the college of agriculture.

The need for a new wing for the university library is pressing, Dr. Brooks indicated, pointing out that the library is frequently so crowded that students who are required to use its books in research work must be turned away, and it has been necessary to establish three branch libraries for the use of underclassmen in other buildings on the campus. The new wing for the library would cost $301,000, according to estimates prepared by Jamieson and Spearl of St. Louis, university architects.

Next in line in the university's need for new buildings is a home for the extension division, in which more than 4,000 students have been enrolled during the past year. This division of the university is housed in the old law building and in parts of other university buildings, but its cramped quarters and separation of its departments is costly and does not make for efficiency. The proposed building for this division of the university would cost $125,000.

The need for additional experiment fields for the Missouri college of agriculture has frequently been pointed out, not only by university officials, but by agricultural organizations of the state as well, and was stressed by Jewell Mayes, secretary of the state board of agriculture in an address which he recently delivered at Maryville, Mo. Dr. Brooks will ask the legislature for an appropriation of $105,000 for the purchase of 400 acres of land, and said that he had been authorized by Dean F. B. Mumford of the agricultural college to say that land anywhere in Boone county would be suitable for the purposes of the college. Owners of land adjoining tracts now owned by the college are holding their acreage at high prices in the belief that the college will eventually be forced to buy them, Dr. Brooks said, but land elsewhere will be purchased if the funds are available. The Missouri college of agriculture has less land for experimental purposes than any other large college of agriculture in the country, he said.

The agricultural engineering building would cost $100,000, dairy building $275,000, education building $300,000, engineering $250,000, geology building $150,000, and nurses' home $100,000, according to Dr. Brooks' estimates.

Completion of the home economics building at a cost of $54,000, and completion of the medical building and payment of obligations already incurred upon it at a cost of $55,000 are the only building projects which will be submitted in the budget to the state tax commission. These items are involved in projects agreed upon at previous legislative sessions. There are some small items for alterations of buildings, however, and the usual provisions for repairs and upkeep of the campus.

As usual, the item for support and maintenance, from which salaries and other general expenses are met is largest, with a request for $2,426,762, and it, like most of the other items of the budget, represents an increase over the amount recommended by the tax commission two years ago and over the amount actually appropriated. The commission recommended $1,700,000, while the legislature appropriated and the university received $2,100,000.

Large increases are also sought for the extension work of the university, with $125,000 requested for the extension division as compared with $45,000 received last year, and $426,238.35 requested for the agricultural extension service as compared with $200,000 appropriated last year.

Other items of the budget follow: Another substantial increase in the budget is for the crippled children's service which was inaugurated at the university hospitals by the legislature at its last session with an appropriation of $35,000. The amount proved totally inadequate, and much of the work that has been done has been made possible by the donation of private funds and through the efforts of the Eugene Field Foundation. The university is asking $200,000 for this work for the next biennium.

The Education Habit and the Extension Division

By the time the son—or daughter—of old Mizzou is a part of the alumni, he has formed the education habit. But in most students, economic necessity and the inclination to have a fling at the business or professional world subdues the desire to continue schooling, at least temporarily. At first it is pleasant not to have assignments menacing one's evenings, but after the new job is a little less formidable, the education habit is apt to show itself again.

Because this habit is such a good and useful one, the Extension Division exists, to fulfill vocational needs and avocational inclinations.

To graduates who have the Master's degree for their aim, the Extension Division offers correspondence courses fitting in with their major, eight hours the maximum amount to be taken, only four hours of which may be secured before graduate work in residence. If extension center classes, taught by University faculty members at various points in the state, are within reach, he may secure twelve hours' credit in this type of work before he establishes residence. Teachers are especially considered and courses in the field of education are exceptionally complete.

There are, however, many alumni not interested in courses for credit who may enroll as special students for subjects they want simply for personal enjoyment; their selection is limited only by the prerequisites in the courses they elect.

Unlike a number of satisfying practices, the education habit is inexpensive. Extension work costs only $4 per credit hour, plus texts and postage.

The main value of a college education, we have all been told, is not so much in knowing things as in knowing where to find them. The Missouri alumnus who knows his Alma Mater's Extension Division is indeed well educated, then. Its varied services are the source of educational films and slides, plays, recitations, debate material (through its Department of Public Information), even new positions for school men and women (through its Committee on Recommendations); loan of recent books, club outlines, and material for programs for women's organizations; advice on civic affairs for city officials (through its Municipal Reference Library, —all these of course not exclusively for alumni but included in the uses to which they may put their University.

Any alumni interested in any field of service offered by the Extension Division can obtain full information by dropping a postcard to Director Charles H. Williams. The Division is as close as the corner mailbox, waiting to help you make the education habit a lifelong habit.

DEAN MUMFORD RECEIVES NATIONAL HONOR

F. B. Mumford of the College of Agriculture was nationally honored by the American Society of Animal Production in Chicago on December 2, during the week of the International Livestock Show, as was his brother, H. W. Mumford, Dean of the Illinois College of Agriculture. The dinner was given in honor of the Mumford brothers at the Saddle and Siroin Club. Dr. Eugene Davenport, former teacher of the Mumfords, delivered the address of recognition. In the history of the annual meetings of the American Society of Animal Production only eight have received similar honors. The honor is awarded to those who have rendered outstanding service to agriculture as teachers, investigators, authors and administrators, whose work in Animal Husbandry has been especially noteworthy.

LOOK OUT!!!

A. G. Axline, L.L.B. '10, Attorney, Security Bank Bldg., North Hollywood, Cal., warns all Missouri alumni to watch out for one R. L. Denny, who says he is an alumnus of the University of Missouri and has a line of talk that would lead you to believe that he is—but Mr. Axline says he isn't—and Mr. Axline knows, because Mr. Axline recently donated, after hearing the said R. L. Denny's hard luck story. Watch out for Mr. Denny.

INTERNATIONAL LIVESTOCK SHOW

By Asbury Roberts, B.S. in Agr. '18, Manager of the Protective Service Department, Missouri Ruralist, 2206-8 Pine Street, St. Louis.

Perhaps one of the greatest pleasures in attending a meeting similar to the International Livestock Exposition, lies in the reunion of old friends and acquaintances. Missourians have gone out from their home state and accomplished successes in many fields of employment. Obviously it becomes more or less impossible in such crowds as visit these shows for one person to see every one of his friends who may be present.

A group of alumni of the Missouri College of Agriculture gathered at a luncheon at the Saddle and Sirolo Club during the early part of the show. In addition to Dean Mumford, many other representatives of the Missouri College of Agriculture were present; O. T. Coleman, Ide P. Trotter, J. M. Burch, C. A. Helm, D. W. Chittenden and Dr. J. D. Connoway.

A. J. (Pete) Renner, Scott County Agent, Benton, Missouri, as president of his state group of agents, was attending a national conference of extension agents.

There was Ray E. Miller, formerly agent in Cass County but later transferring his duties to Adams County, Illinois. However, Ray is now livestock marketing director of the Illinois Agricultural Association with headquarters in Chicago, and it was thru his efforts that this group of Missourians got together.

M. N. Witt (Skinny) has outlived his nickname since his connection with Swift & Company with offices at Chicago. "Skinny" was one of the promoters of the Missouri gathering. Swift & Company was well represented at the session. Or perhaps we might say that Missouri is well represented on the staff of Swift & Co. J. M. Bewick, F. E. Lacey, H. B. Huntington and Garland Russell found it convenient to join the boys in a toast to Old Missouri.

E. W. Rusk, the original "Farmer Rusk" as one of the first farm advisers in Missouri, but who likewise changed his field to Illinois, has found the opportunity to be on the air over WENR with his daily farm program. Even though "Farmer" has been working in Illinois for many years, it is reported that he recently changed the air with crediting the use of lime as a means of swine sanitation as having originated in Missouri. It was Dr. Connoway who verified the rumor. Officially, however, Farmer Rusk is agricultural agent for the Chicago and Illinois Midland railroad with headquarters at Springfield.

P. H. Rusk occupies the position as head of the animal husbandry department of the Illinois College of Agriculture at Urbana and is recognized as one of the outstanding livestock men of the country.

Arthur E. Indermark received a few weeks seasonings in the composing room of the Missouri Ruralist before becoming associated with the Mississippi Glass Company in Chicago.

Frank Richards (Polly) is a field man for the Chicago Daily Drovers' Journal and with reputation which Polly gained a few years ago no doubt, he is showing "his stuff" in real Missouri style.

E. A. Livesay was very much in evidence in the livestock showings with entries from the West Virginia "Cow college" where he is connected with the department of animal husbandry at Morgantown.

L. W. Potter makes his home near Laclede, Missouri, and reminds us that another great man once called that home.

Arthur C. Page, whom Dr. Connoway described as an artist when he was in College, is commercial editor for Prairie Farmer at Chicago. It appears that Page artistically portrayed the possibilities of using lime as a preparation for alfalfa although that was in the days before Missouri had such fields for demonstration purposes.

M. R. Dunn divorced vocational agriculture teaching at Kirksville for a position in the dairy cow department of Purina Mills at St. Louis.

Harry Reed still finds the sheep business so interesting that he could only be located in the wool barns at the International. Harry degenerated into a Kansan by adoption and is located at Manhattan.

E. M. Harmon, former dairy extension specialist of the Missouri College of Agriculture but now editor of the Dairy Farmer at Des Moines, was late getting to Chicago. However, his excuse was that the dairy sessions were scheduled for the latter part of the week.

F. L. Bently (Bull) as chief of the animal husbandry department of Pennsylvania State College, exhibited a number of cattle, hogs and sheep, winning a fair share of the premiums. His wife advised us in advance that although he would be registered at a hotel, that was only his address and that he would doubtless be found in the stock pens.

Warren W. Fuqua, Monroe City, Missouri, was one of the interested spectators of the livestock show. As a leader among the boys and girls of his community, Warren was doubtless trying to learn how a 12-year-old boy from Iowa could have the world's champion steer at this big event.

J. C. Hackleman is an old timer at the International Hay and Grain Show, having acted as judge in that department for many years. He and C. A. Helm of Missouri tied a good many ribbons on Missouri corn entries, but the champion had to go to Illinois. Hack is with the crops department at Illinois College of Agriculture.

R. W. Waddell, whom many will remember as sheep specialist on the extension service a few years ago, is in the stockman supply business at Helena, Mont. Waddell says he still has a flock of sheep.

E. H. McReynolds was a jovial visitor, reminding us that the Missouri Pacific is a service without a synonym.

OKLAHOMA CITY

Mont F. Highley, '95-99, was toastmaster at a most successful meeting of the Oklahoma alumni at the Skirvin Hotel, Oklahoma City, on the night before the Oklahoma-Missouri Thanksgiving game at Norman. Seventy-five attended. Coaches Henry, Crangle and Lansing were there with Captain Miller Brown and his teammates, and all were presented. Speakers at the banquet were Coach Henry, Director C. L. Brewer, Student President Frank Knight, and Bob Hill. Larry Brill was there to lead the cheering and singing. J. Willard Ridings, B.J. '26, Texas Christian University, Ft. Worth, and Marry E. Ridings, B.J. '12, President, Ridings-Baldwin Cadillac Co., Wichita, Kans., and their families, and Harry Tidd and Mrs. Tidd of Hutchinson, Kansas, attended the dinner. The Tidds were accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Chalmers Fair of Hutchinson.

Meredith N. Williams, '19-21, Secretary of the Oklahoma alumni, was elected President. Walter A. O'Bannon, B.S. in C.E. '08, Manufacturer, Oil Well Supplies, Tulsa, was elected Vice-President and Morris L. Head, '21-24, H. L. Doherty & Co., 916 Colcord Bldg., Oklahoma City, was elected Secretary-Treasurer.

R. W. McClure, B.S. in Ag. '15, 510 Braniff Bldg., Oklahoma City, immediate past President of the organization, and W. E. Price, B.S. in C.E. '07, Building Contractor, 605½ W. Main Street, Oklahoma City, had charge of the banquet arrangements. Mr. Price built one of the sides of the Memorial Stadium at the University of Oklahoma. On Thanksgiving morning, Mr. McClure had Missouri's fine band parade the business district of Oklahoma City.

NEW YORK

President Stratton D. Brooks and Dr. J. C. Jones were guests of honor at the annual dinner of the New York Alumni Ass'n., held at the Park Central Hotel on the evening of November 16, the night before the N. Y. U.-Missouri football game. G. Ellsworth Huggins, President, presided at the dinner, which was attended by more than 300 alumni and former students from New York and many other of the eastern states. Other speakers at the meeting were John S. Hornback, President of the Washington, D. C., Alumni Association, who was accompanied by a group of Washington alumni; James C. Lawrence, President of the Philadelphia Alumni Association, who was there with Mrs. Lawrence, and a group of Philadelphia alumni; C. L. Brewer, Director of Athletics, Coach Gwinn Henry, Bob Hill, Alumni Recorder, Frank Knight, student president, Larry Brill, student cheer leader, who with the assistance of Frank H. Birch, led the cheering and singing. The Rogers sisters, Jane and Ginger, of Mexico, Mo., who are appearing now on Broadway in New York City, Leonard Stoke and John Seagle, former prominent members of Missouri's championship Glee Club, furnished much of the entertainment.

The Missouri party from Columbia went to New York in a special train and were met at Detroit by E. C. Robinson, District Manager of the Century Electric Co., President of the Detroit Alumni Association; William A. Bles, Ag. '14, Manager of the Purchase Certificate Division, Chevrolet Motor Co.; Louis John Schrenk, B.S. in M.E. '06, assistant superintendent, Public Lighting Commission; Paul T. Graves, Territorial Manager of General Motors Acceptance Corporation; and Dr. M. D. Silver, physician, M.D. '01. These men accompanied the party from Detroit to Windsor.

Jackson Scholz, H. W. (Easy) Anderson, and Mr. Huggins met the Missouri party on their arrival in New York City and accompanied them to their hotels. Morris E. Dry, H. H. Kinyon, Hamilton Dawes, and Oscar E. Riley, Secretary of the New York Alumni Ass'n., had charge of the dinner arrangements.

One of the important points at the dinner was the toast to the men whose names are on the Honor Roll, carved in the Memorial Tower, which was proposed by Mr. Huggins. Mr. B. de H. McCloskey, Chairman of the Membership Committee of the Western Universities Club, Hotel Roosevelt, New York, told the group of the plans for that organization.

Burton Thompson, who has been living in Santa Fe, N. M., one of the organizers and a member of the first football team and Mrs. Thompson, attended the dinner—they have moved back to New York. W. B. (Bottles) Burruss, John B. Gordon and Floyd Hanley, all of Washington, D. C., were there, also Bill Preston, Akron, O., Sam English, Altoona, Pa., Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Prentiss, Jr., Lancaster, Pa., Wm. M. Nicolson and Mrs. Nicolson, Chidiana, Pa.

Dr. and Mrs. Jones came up from their winter home at Daytona Beach, Fla., by boat to attend the meeting and returned to Daytona Beach after attending the alumni meeting in Washington.

Dr. Bert Munday and Mrs. Munday entertained a group of Columbians at their home at dinner immediately after the game on the 17th. Dr. and Mrs. Munday have a son, Perry, enrolled in the University.

President Huggins writes that the New York alumni are already making plans for a "bigger and better" party when the Missouri party comes to New York next fall.

CHICAGO

By Roberta K. Darr, Arts and Educ. '17, Secretary, 1530-120 S. LaSalle St.

A very successful meeting of the Missouri Alumni Association was held on the night of November 20 at the Allerton House. There were 72 present including Professors S. I. Langmaid and A. F. Kuhlman and their wives, and Prof. Frank L. Martin of the School of Journalism and two students from the same school, I. B. Cowan and R. L. Schmidt, the latter being President of Sigma Delta Chi, and Lester Sack, San Antonio. We also had the pleasure of having Mr.

O. F. Field, former baseball coach, and his wife.

A delightful dinner was served during which time we were entertained by two radio entertainers and some M. U. songs which we all joined in singing. The business of the meeting consisted mainly in voting to have meetings in January, March and May. We hope that any alumni who are counting on being in the city at that time will come to the meetings. The speakers were Professors S. I. Langmaid and Frank Martin and R. L. Schmidt, I. B. Cowan and Lester Sack. We were greatly disappointed in not having "Bob" Hill with us but he was nursing a severe cold and confined to bed. We are considering passing the hat so that he can get carfare to come to one of our future meetings (all we are interested in is getting him here—someone else will then have to see that he gets back again). Then there was dancing and cards.

Mr. John Doughty, president, was a very clever and entertaining toastmaster. He is known by our alumni as "The Washwoman" being president of the Woodlawn Laundry. His Chicago address is 1221 S. 63rd Street. Mr. Doughty said in part: "It is seldom we hear of the office seeking the Man. Yet there are two men in the United States today who have this unique distinction. One of them is Herbert Hoover (president-elect) and the other one is Me. Somewhere from the archives of my memory I recall an old familiar quotation 'Some men are born great, some men achieve greatness and some men have greatness THRUST upon them.' My campaign managers (whoever they were) seem to have conducted a 'whispering campaign.' They went about their nefarious work with a tread as soft as a kitten's step. While their potential candidate, completely exhausted after a hard day's washing, slumbered peacefully on his Ostemoor. One Monday morning as I was laboriously and painfully bending over the wash tub a letter was handed to me. I wiped my hand first on my pants and then on my shirt, tremblingly opened this suspicious epistle, glanced at the signature and decided to was from a Swede, for it was signed by a man named "Patty" Nelson. This letter proved to be my notification that I had been elected President of the Chicago-Missouri Alumni Association. My first impulse was to resign, but have been too busy ever since, so tonight I have made up my mind to stick on the job, join hands with my fellow alumni with the hope that thru this association our love and respect for 'Old Mizzou' will grow and grow as the days go by."

EDUCATING THE EDUCATED

Adult education, extension courses for alumni, the alumni university—all amount to the same thing; Commencement means just what it says, the real beginning of education rather than the end.

Many alumni waste enough momentum wandering through newspapers to carry them a good distance toward more complete mastery of some subject. The world is full of a number of things. Benjamin Franklin made himself master of many of them, and he was not a tramp reader. The average college graduate, with mental endowment and determination far below Franklin's can much less afford to be a tramp reader.

So let's have more education after graduation; more definite hookups between the universities and their graduates. What better agency to continue a man's development than the college where he made his start?

John Quarles, formerly with Sykes & Broadhead here, has formed a partnership, Knight & Quarles, and opened a store in the Missouri Theater Bldg., Columbia.

University Closes on Account of Flu

President Stratton D. Brooks, upon recommendation of the University Health Committee, suspended all University activities at four o'clock Monday afternoon, December 10, until Thursday, January 3, at eight o'clock, in an effort to stop the influenza epidemic, which was spreading rapidly and all the Hospital facilities had been pressed into service. No serious illness developed but it was the unanimous opinion that the University had exercised wisdom in their action. The well students welcomed the announcement with cheers, such as one hears after a victory over Kansas. All telephone, telegraph and transportation facilities were stressed to the limit, due to the rush by students to get home following the announcement.

R. P. Garrett Injured in Auto Accident

Robert P. Garrett, B.S. in C.E. '06, Vice-President of the Missouri Bridge & Iron Co., St. Louis, was seriously injured on Highway No. 40 on November 22, when the automobile which he was driving from Columbia to St. Louis, was struck by a truck. He was in the Callaway County Hospital at Fulton for several days, later moved to St. Luke's Hospital and then to his home at 6234 Washington Boulevard. His host of friends among the alumni are hoping for his speedy and complete recovery.

ALUMNI TURN BACK TIME WITH M. U. FILMS

Would a real touch of "those dear old college days" be acceptable for your local Alumni Association meetings? Here is a suggestion on how to get it: Write to Mrs. Lynde C. Barnett, assistant in charge of the Visual Education Service, Extension Division, Room 1 B. and P. A. Building, Columbia, Mo., for films in the M. U. series, dealing with activities on the campus. These films are loaned to Alumni Associations, schools, and other educational agencies without cost except the payment of postage on them.

REQUESTS TO UNIVERSITY

At the request of several alumni we are publishing a suggested form for alumni and former students and friends of the University to use in making bequests to the University of Missouri. In this connection you will be interested to know that not only alumni and former students but friends of education and the state University are greatly interested in making bequests to the University and these are becoming more numerous all the time. May it be said that the bequests are all welcome regardless of the amount. The suggested form follows: "I hereby give, devise and bequeath to the Curators of the University of Missouri, as trustees, the sum of $..... to be used by the Curators according to their best judgment for some necessary or desirable purpose in connection with the conduct of the University of Missouri at Columbia, Missouri." (Should it be desired to name some specific purpose for which the Curators are directed to use the bequest such purpose may be indicated in proper terms.)

ST. LOUIS ALUMNAE

The St. Louis alumnae gave a bridge for the benefit of their Scholarship Fund at the Town Club on November 17.

B. & P. A.

The Fourth Annual meeting of the Business and Public Administration Alumni Association was held on Homecoming Day. The following were present: R. D. M. Bauer '23, President; C. E. Riutzel '24, Vice-President; Paul A. McCreery '24, Secretary-Treasurer; Eugene D. Ashbrook '25, Dan R. Becker '26, Karl R. Bopp '28, Harry E. Brown '27, T. N. Everett '27, John C. Faris '21, Earl R. Gordon '20, Herman C. Kruse '28, J. A. Laws, Jr. '28, H. R. Mason '28, G. H. Murray '27, J. M. Reinhardt '27, T. S. Vickroy '21, O. L. Weber '21, A. L. Withers '28.

The session was presided over by R. D. M. Bauer of Conner, Ash & Co., Public Accountants, president of the Association since it was founded in 1925.

The following officers were elected for 1928-29: President, T. S. Vickroy; Secy.-Treas., Paul A. McCreery; Vice-Presidents, John C. Faris and Eugene D. Ashbrook.

The constitution of the Association provides that the Dean of the School shall each year appoint a member of the Association to serve as the School's representative on the Board of the General Alumni Association. President Vickroy has been appointed to serve in this capacity for the ensuing year.

The program opened with a brief talk by Dean F. A. Middlebush on the progress of the School during the past year. The Alumni were informed that there had been a slight increase in the enrollment of the School. The faculty has been strengthened by the addition of Professor R. E. Curtis to give the courses covering the relation of business and industry to government. Notable advances have been made in student activities particularly the Commerce Club which this year is sponsoring a series of meetings addressed by business men prominent in their particular field. The earnest cooperation and interest of the alumni in all the activities of the School is greatly appreciated.

Professor DR Scott spoke for the faculty on the general subject of the place of professional training in business in the University organization. He pointed out that making business a profession is a new venture in higher education but that substantial progress is being made.

J. C. Faris, Jr., '21, Assistant General Auditor of the Union Electric Light & Power Co., St. Louis, spoke for the alumni on the general subject: "Is our University training paying dividends?" and handled his subject admirably. Emphasis was not placed on the payment of dividends in the form of increased earning power, although statistics were quoted which indicated this to be the case. Emphasis was placed on the effect of professional training on the development of initiative, qualities of leadership and skill in administrative and executive work. Mr. Faris laid particular stress on the value of professional training in developing one's ability to think oneself through difficult situations and adapt oneself to new situations. The meeting was one of the most successful in the history of the organization.

FOOTBALL

Kansas Aggies 6—Missouri 19.
The Tigers staged a comeback by defeating the Kansas Aggies at Manhattan on November 10, 1926. Coach Henry's work with the Tigers developed what they really needed, a strong offense, and with Captain Brown, Rosenheim, and R. Smith in the game—with Waldorf going good at fullback the tigers scored in the first six minutes of play. They marched 65 yards to the Aggie goal for this touchdown going through center and off tackle for one touchdown after another. Rosenheim went over for this touchdown and Captain Brown kicked goal.

Waldorf intercepted an Aggie pass shortly thereafter and carried the ball to the Aggie 31 yard line. Mehrle and Waldorf started another march, and Mehrle received a pass from Waldorf and ran twenty-six yards for a touchdown. Brown failed at the try for the goal. At this point Coach Henry began to send in substitutes. Substitutes seemed to be what the Aggies wanted for they settled down to ground gaining and in a few moments had scored six points but Kennedy blocked their try for goal. Oldham and Brown did the kicking in the first half. Oldham starred the second half in the back field instead of Byers. Hursley scored the third Tiger touchdown on a pass from Waldorf. Gilbert failed at his try for goal. Missouri made thirteen downs, Kansas six. Missouri gained 235 yards at scrimmage, the Aggies 157. The Tigers completed three out of eleven passes.

Missouri 6-N. Y. U. 27

New York University was just a little too much for the Tigers in the Yankee Stadium on November 17. That boy Ken Strong who led the New York team, and their Captain Lassman are all-American caliber. New York outweighed us—then, too, injuries to Willner and Rosenheim, Byers and Hawkins handicapped us tremendously. Willner and Rosenheim were both injured to the extent that they didn't participate in the Kansas game.

It was a great inter-sectional contest for Missouri. Missourians at the game numbered in thousands and the Tigers brought home approximately $30,000, the second largest income from a single game in Missouri football history.

While it seemed that the game was all in New York's favor, it must not be overlooked that the Tigers scored first with a touchdown early in the first quarter and the fourth quarter was fairly even with the exception of the 77-yard run by Strong for the last touchdown.

The Tigers completed fourteen successful passes out of 27 for a gain of 153 yards, while New York completed two out of twelve for 64 yards. New York gained 254 yards in scrimmage—the Tigers 98. New York lost 29 yards in scrimmage and Missouri 34. New York was penalized 85 yards and the Tigers 35. New York made 12 first downs and Missouri eleven, while in punting and returning kicks the teams were practically even.

45,000 persons enjoyed seeing a well-coached, fighting Missouri team.

Missouri 25-Kansas 6.

The Tigers defeated the Jayhawks here on Homecoming, November 24, to the tune of 25-6, winning this 37th annual game by the greatest margin in the history of football between the two schools. It was pretty much Missouri all the way with the Tigers in complete control. Early in the fourth quarter Kansas scored a touchdown by flashing a passing and line plunging attack that was worthwhile. That touchdown gave the Kansas a kick. There were more of them at this game than ever attended a Kansas game in Columbia. Remember there was a crowd of 20,138 in the Memorial Stadium—alumni and friends of the University from all over the United States. 21,629 attended the Kansas game here in 1926. This touchdown seemed to encourage the Jayhaws but not so with the Tigers. The Kansans immediately kicked off to the Tigers and Dills, the 140 lb. sophomore substitute halfback, received this kick-off while standing on his own goal line and by following Coach Henry's well planned kick-off interference, Dills went clear through the Kansas players and down the whole length of the 100 yard field for a touchdown!! Dills hails from Albany, Mo., and he is one of the 100 yard men on the Tiger Track team. It was one of the most spectacular performances ever seen in Columbia in Missouri football history. That boy Dills certainly made a place for himself. It was some thrill.

Here are the summaries:

Yards gained in scrimmage—Missouri 257, Kansas 89.
Punts—Missouri 6, averaging 33 yards; Kansas 7, averaging 34.5 yards.
Punts and kickoffs returned—Missouri 445 yards, Kansas 77 yards.
Yards gained on kickoff—Missouri 240 (five), Kansas 95 (two).
Forward passes—Missouri completed three out of 12 for 44 yards (two intercepted); Kansas completed 19 out of 33 for 201 yards (two intercepted).
Penalties—Missouri 60 yards, Kansas 40 yards.
First downs—Missouri 19, Kansas 19.
Yards lost in scrimmage—Missouri 16, Kansas 33.

Kansas won the Big Six Cross Country Meet here on Homecoming Day. Their Captain, "Poco" Frazier, set a new record, time 25 minutes, 44.3. The old record was 27 minutes and eight seconds. Other schools finished in the order named: Iowa State, Nebraska, Oklahoma, Kansas Aggies, and Missouri sixth.

Oklahoma 14-Missouri 0

The Tigers lost to Oklahoma, 14-0, in the Memorial Stadium at Norman on Thanksgiving Day. The attendance was light. There are no particular or specific alibis to offer for the Tigers defeat. They just weren't going good and probably it was a result of the let-down after having been pointed for the Jayhaws here at Homecoming. There has been much comment to the effect that the Tigers should not play a game after we play Kansas, the belief being that the Kansas game is the peak of the season for Missouri and that no game should be played thereafter.

A fumble in the Missouri territory in the first period recovered by the Oklahomans enabled the Sooners to put on a march for their first touchdown and the recovery of another Missouri fumble in the last quarter enabled the Oklahomans to score again. They were successful in their kicks for the extra points. The Sooners were never dangerous except in these two instances when they recovered fumbles but they were certainly were successful in taking advantage of the Tiger breaks.

The NATION'S BUILDING STONE

Angell Hall, University of Michigan, Ann Arbor, Mich. Built entirely of Indiana Limestone

Used for Great Buildings Everywhere

THE fine-grained, light-colored natural stone known as Indiana Limestone now constitutes more than 65% of the building stone of all kinds used in this country.

Our leading college buildings, churches, skyscrapers, and other fine structures are built of it. The new Riverside Church in New York City, the great Washington Cathedral, the magnificent buildings of the University of Chicago, all are Indiana Limestone from the quarries of the Indiana Limestone Company.

Modern production methods used by this company have reduced costs. There is really no need to consider any material of less beauty or permanence. Indiana Limestone quite often can even compete in price with rough local building stone.

Let us send you our illustrated booklet giving full information about the use of this fine natural building stone for college buildings. Address Box 827 Service Bureau, Indiana Limestone Company, Bedford Indiana.

NEWS ABOUT YOUR FRIENDS AND OURS Praise for Dean Miller

Dean Walter Miller's photograph appeared on the "Who's Who in the Alumni University" page of a recent issue of The Michigan Alumnus. The introductory sentence to the article about Dean Miller is a quotation by President Little of Michigan, as follows: "We must cherish that phase of education which is a living force." The article follows: "Walter Miller, '84, Dean of the Graduate School of the University of Missouri, is now serving in his forty-third year of university teaching. But despite this he has managed to cram his life full of unusual episodes, even to serving as a Captain in the Greek army. This latter experience his friends point to as the prize story. When a student in Greece (1885-86) he was, during one of his excursions in the north country, knocked in the head by a couple of Albanian brigands, robbed, and left for dead. Recovering consciousness, he returned to Athens, reported the crime to Prime Minister Trikoupes, received from him a commission as captain and a company of cavalry, returned north, captured his brigands, and recovered his property. His career as a teacher has led him from the Far West to the Far South and Middle West, as well as to the Near East. In scope, too, his work has been varied. He has served as teacher and administrator, covering a wide range in classical studies in his teaching. In the World War he was in many fields of the Y. M. C. A. service, serving in France, Italy, and Austria. He was in the prison camps, hospitals, and at the front. Dean Miller has many publications to his credit in the various fields of classical study. The first volume of his magnum opus, "Daedalus and Theseus," has recently appeared from the press of the Macmillan Company." Dean Miller has a remarkable record at Missouri as shown in the progress of the Graduate School. He deserves much praise.

The Farm House fraternity, 414 Hill Street, have announced that they will build a new home next spring on Burnam Avenue, on the north side of the street, just east of Providence Road. Their house will accommodate 28 and will cost $30,000. H. H. Krusekopf, B.S. in Ag. '08, A.M. '16, Professor of Soils, College of Agriculture, University of Missouri, is President of the Farm House fraternity. O. S. Conrades, B.S. in Ag. '17, 314 N. 4th Street, St. Louis, was President last year. R. R. Thomasson, B.S. in Ag. '17, State Extension Agent in the University, and O. T. Coleman, B.S. in Ag. '20, Soil Extension Specialist, are on the building committee. D. H. Doane, B.S. in Ag. '08, M.S. '09, St. Louis, Mr. Conrades, and R. D. Jones, B.S. in Ag. "Judge Bickley boasts that he has the strongest claim of being a native New Mexican not to have been born in the state, than any other person.

While You Wait and you don't wait long

LONG-DISTANCE telephone service is now about twice as fast as it was a year ago.

Now, when you place your call, in most cases the operator asks you to "Hold the line, please." Three times out of four she will complete the connection while you wait.

The average interval between the time when you place your call and the time the connection is completed or a report given is a little more than two minutes. A year ago it was about five minutes.

Your service will be even faster if you give the number of the distant telephone. Try it!

A ONE-WAY STREET PRODUCTION POLICY

IN TELEPHONE making, production schedules move in one direction—forward. The machinery seldom needs to be thrown into reverse.

Cancellations in this industry are rare.

There is consequently little lost effort involving men, material and machines.

There is a minimum of waste in scrapping or storing partially fabricated parts.

How is this possible?

Because of the close relation between Western Electric as purchasers, manufacturers and distributors and the operating telephone companies of the Bell System served by it.

Here is another striking economy which contributes to the low cost of your telephone service.
