THE map in the January Alumnus showing University enrollment by counties aroused the interest of the officers of our county alumni associations, many of whom have offered to cooperate in an effort to increase enrollment from their respective counties. Alumni are ready and willing to interest themselves in sending boys and girls to the University—in fact, hardly a day passes but that the Alumni Office receives requests from alumni regarding prospective students. We wish that we might be of service to more alumni who are interested in sending their friends to the University and to more alumni who are planning to send their sons and daughters here. This office always welcomes letters of inquiry. Through cooperation of the office of the Registrar and of the respective deans, catalogues and detailed information are furnished promptly. Oftentimes prospective students are sent to the office with letters of introduction. We enjoy showing them the campus and helping them find their way.

UNIVERSITY Founder's Day, April 19, the occasion for alumni meetings everywhere, will be observed this year on the evening of April 18, with a radio party broadcast through the courtesy of KFRU. It will be a varied program in which the different University organizations will participate—the band, the glee clubs and similar organizations. Wilford I. Corlett, student from Kansas City, is writing the continuity and Donovan Rhynsbarger, Assistant Professor of English and director of Workshop, student dramatic organization, will direct it. Announcements giving more detailed information will be sent later to alumni officers everywhere.

THE Memorial Committee has asked the University architects, Messrs. Jamieson and Spearl, to consider provisions for a Star of Bethlehem on top of the Memorial Tower, to be placed there annually at Christmas time . . . One of our greatest pleasures in the Alumni Office is to render service to alumni whose children are enrolled in the University—we welcome these opportunities . . . Ernest T. Itschner, Ag. '21, goes by the nickname "Scratch," acquired during his days in the University . . . Miss Nellie Lee Holt, Professor of Religious Education and Teacher of the Burrall Bible Class, Stephens College, has planned a "Daddy" Defoe Memorial Service for March 11 and the Engineers are going to attend in a body . . . L. R. Bagby, editor of the Holt County Democrat, who writes the column "Squirrel Food," and Erwin H. Conger, publisher of the Bethany Republican-Clipper are planning to send their sons to the University next fall . . . Louis N. Bowman, editor of the King City News, has just been appointed postmaster there.

An A. R. R. L. Radiogram

The Alumni Director received his first American Radio Relay League Radiogram from Vernon Nash, B.J. '14, A.M. '28, which came by mail from George S. Bennett, Walnut Creek Calif., who had picked up the following message which originated in Peiping, China: "Thanks your typically fine letter Dec. 21 Stop Things looking up here."

Unveils Portrait

A portrait of the late Judge Berry G. Thurman, LL.B. '73, former circuit judge, was unveiled at the opening session of the February term of Circuit Court at Nevada. Dewey A. Routh, LL.B. '29, Prosecuting Attorney of Vernon County, took part in the services. Harold Thurman, A.B. '03 LL.B. '04, is a son of the late Judge Thurman.

Studying For First Journalism Doctorate

When Robert L. Hausman, B.J. '23, A.M. '25, gets his doctor's degree in Journalism he will be the first in this country to receive this degree. He has been professor of Journalism at the University of Montana, and is now teaching a course in newspaper administration at Missouri while continuing his education.

For Research Work

Dean F. B. Mumford of the Missouri College of Agriculture received official notice of the release of the federal appropriations for agricultural research and extension teaching formerly withheld by an executive order which will send an additional $85,000 to the Missouri College of Agriculture.

The funds released constitute a 25 per cent cut of the regular annual appropriations for the fiscal year, and the additional money will enable the experiment station to finish several projects which had been greatly limited or entirely stopped.

Dr. A. R. Hill Candidate For Kansas City Mayor

Dr. A. Ross Hill, former president of the University, is candidate for mayor of Kansas City on a ticket sponsoring four democrats and four republicans for councilmen.

Edmund DeLong, former Kansas Citian, former student, is publicity and assistant campaign director of this movement which hopes to do in Kansas City "What La Guardia did to Tammany in New York." DeLong, who was present on the front lines during the Tammany upset, has been granted a leave of absence from the New York Sun to participate in this Kansas City political movement.

Donated Books

The list of the friends of the University of Missouri Library the roll of those for 1933 who have donated books to the University Library, has been announced by H. O. Severance, University Librarian. This roll is of an appreciable and gratifying length. As is customary each book presented is marked with the donor's name.

St. Joseph Lawyers Honor State Jurists

The St. Joseph Bar Association held a banquet on February 16, which was practically an all University of Missouri Affair, according to Orestes Mitchell, Jr.

The banquet was given in honor of the four Northwest Missouri jurists, who have attained distinction, being Gov. Guy B. Park, Supreme Judge G. R. Ellison, Federal Judge Merrill E. Otis, and Supreme Judge C. A. Leedy. City Counsellor John S. Boyer acted as toastmaster. Charles F. Stropp, Jr., is president of the Association and among the other former students and alumni active in the meet were: O. W. Watkins, Roscoe P. Conkling, William H. Utz, Jr., Nile Vermillion.

The Dome Is Spared

When it was announced in the newspapers that the dome on Jesse Hall was to be removed letters and telegrams of protestations were received at the Alumni Office. Only the razing of the Columns could have brought to light as much sentiment.

But all fears are quieted for it has been decreed the dome shall remain. Plans for "decapitating Jesse Hall" arose from the consideration of this superfluous structure as being a fire trap, and not in keeping with the architecture of the building.

Of course it is only superfluous in one sense of the word for as one alumnus wrote, "How would I know I was arriving in Columbia if I couldn't sight the Tower and the Dome from the Highway?"

Makes Possible Aurora City Park

Aurora now has a twenty-acre city park which was the gift of Edward J. White, LL.B. '91, LL.D. '29, of St. Louis, vice-president of the Missouri Pacific Railroad. The work was done as a CWA project. The buildings are of cobblerock native stone, and include a large wading and swimming pool, and a sand beach. The gateway columns, tennis courts, baseball diamond, and winding driveways are bordered by native shrubs and trees.

Awarded Travel Grant

William J. Maple, B.J. '25, head of the School of Journalism of Washington and Lee University, Phi Gamma Delta, was elected president of the American Association of Teachers of Journalism at their recent convention in Chicago. He has been given a grant from the Oberlander Trust to visit Germany next summer. This is the same Trust of which President Walter Williams is now recipient.

Represents St. Louis

Wesley McAfee, LL.B. '26, a member of Mayor Bernard Dickman's cabinet, is spending the month of March as a representative for the City of St. Louis in the nation's capitol, in order to be in the front line when there is any additional public works funds to be allocated.

Sidney S. Smith of the Sparta News-Plainleader Sparta, Illinois, visited the office recently.

Pres. and Mrs. Williams Visit In India

President and Mrs. Walter Williams are now in Auckland, New Zealand where they will be until March 5. Their itinerary has taken them by way of Singapore, Melbourne, and Wellington.

The above picture was taken in the garden of the Vaugh home in Allahabad, India on December 29th. Shown in the picture with President and Mrs. Williams are Mrs. Mason Vaugh, formerly Clara Pennington, A.B. '17, B.S. in Ed. '18, and the two Vaugh daughters, Betty and Mary.

Mason Vaugh, B.S. in Ag. '19, B.S. in Eng. '21, is teaching in the Agricultural Institute of Allahabad, a missionary college. He has invented a plow which is being widely used in the community.

Mrs. Williams writes, "They have been in Allahabad twelve years. Mrs. Vaugh teaches native women handicraft work (not as connected with the college—just her own work). Both deal directly with the village and the farm people and their work and their lives seemed an inspiration to us."

While in Allahabad President and Mrs. Williams called upon the mother of Darabshaw Gandhi who is a student in the School of Journalism at the University of Missouri.

N. E. A. To Honor Pres. Walter Williams

The National Editorial Association will hold its 1934 tour and convention in the state of Missouri in honor of Walter Williams, president of the University, and founder of the world's first school of journalism, who on his 30th birthday in 1894 was elected president of the N. E. A. Friday, May 11 will be National Editorial Association day of Journalism Week featuring nationally prominent newspaper men.

Dr. Warshaw Writes Spanish Treatise

Dr. Jacob Warshaw, Ph.D. '13, professor of Romance languages in the University, is the author of the recently published treatise, "Spanish Science and Invention." Prof. Miller is on leave of absence studying in the University of Munich in Germany.

Infant Brain Surgery

Newspapers all over the country watched with close concern the outcome of the delicate brain operation performed by Dr. Walter Dandy, A.B. '07, LL.D. '28, upon Sue Trammell, 5-month-old baby. The infant, whose life Dr. Dandy saved by his skilled surgery was flown through a blizzard from Dallas, Texas to Baltimore, Maryland by James R. Wedell, racing aviator.

Not Under Act

Attorney General Roy McKittrick ruled that The State Purchasing Act is inapplicable to the University of Missouri. In expressing his opinion to Orville M. Barrett, University Attorney, he held, "the State purchasing agent act does not modify or affect the expenditures of University funds by the Board of Curators."

Makes Appointment

Upon the recommendation of Dr. A. J. Campbell, president of the Pettis County Alumni Association, President W. A. Cochel, of the General Alumni Association has appointed Mrs. Dimmitt H. Hoffman (Maurine Hieronymus) B.S. in Ed. '22, Secretary of the Pettis County Alumni Association to succeed the late Miss Lydia Montgomery.

MOTOR TROUBLE

The lady in 856 had tossed and turned for hours. Finally, she called the room clerk: "There's a motor under my bed! I can't sleep!"

The motor wasn't under the bed. It was several floors away. Vibration, inaudible at the source, was transmitted and amplified by the building structure. Instead of a hotel, this might have been an office building, a school, a library, or a hospital. Instead of a sleepless guest, it might have been a patient.

For some time General Electric has built quiet motors, which do not sing, throb, hum, whir, or mutter. But, even so, good intentions are nullified unless motors are so installed as to check transmission of vibration. (Every rotating machine vibrates.) Now General Electric has made another contribution—sound-isolating bases, to isolate vibrations within the motor. E. H. Hull, Yale, '24, and W. C. Stewart, Washington U., '26, working with A. L. Kimball, Harvard, '14, did most of the laboratory work on this development.

CIRCUIT SURGERY

That well-known situation of the tail wagging the dog has a parallel in the distribution of electrical power. And General Electric engineers recommend that the tail be cut off.

To be specific, electric distribution circuits which supply current to large groups of customers should not have their reliability put in danger by less important circuits. This is fundamental. In many cases, circuits supplying outlying districts, where they are exposed to damage by lightning and the elements, cause most of the interruptions that raise Cain with the more important service. The tail-cutting-off device to remedy this situation is a new General Electric oil circuit breaker for automatically chopping off the less important circuit when damage occurs, and restoring service when the damage is repaired. General Electric engineers designed the circuit breaker especially for this service, and it can be mounted easily on a lighting pole.

"I'LL SEND MY BOY TO NELA"

Amid the popping of static in a nation-wide broadcast, the new G-E Institute at Nela Park, in Cleveland, was dedicated just before Christmas. It cannot boast of a football team; it has no stadium or band. But it does have laboratories and classes under the direction of a distinguished faculty.

Two former G-E "colleges,"—the Kitchen Institute and the Lighting Institute—have been combined to form this new school at Nela Park. It is a clearing house for down-to-date information on the electric home, and a training school for home appliance sales representatives and home-service directors of power companies and appliance dealers. It is also a laboratory where new ideas in kitchen management, meal preparation, home lighting, and the like may be developed and tested.

Besides the laboratory kitchen and classroom kitchens, there are model kitchens of every type, from the de luxe kitchen for a large home to the tiny apartment-house kitchen. There is also a model laundry, and an architectural planning department which not only assists home owners, builders, and architects in modernizing and planning kitchens, but also trains specialists to go out into the field. The Institute has 22,000 square feet of floor space for exhibits and demonstrations.

This new school is under the co-direction of L. C. Kent, University of Illinois, '13, and Paul H. Dow, Kenyon, '26.

Taps Sounded For Col. T. A. Johnston

Kemper Military School President in His Eighty-Sixth Year Recalled
Civil War Times And His University Days
Of Over Half Century Ago

By J. H. WALLY

FEW persons comprise the handful which might be termed the "oldest" of the "old grads." The last chapter in the life of an illustrious member of that group has just been completed.

He received his degree from the Missouri State University the same year Governor Park was born. His record since that date, the associations he knew, and the amazing memory which preserved the story, made him an unusually interesting figure. The man was Col. Thomas A. Johnston, benefactor, educator, and most important of all, a friend of young manhood. To this interest he devoted his long life.

In his eighty-sixth year Col. Johnston reviewed his experiences, first as a poor farmer boy, next as a conscientious student, and for the last sixty years of his lifetime as an integral cog in the activities of Kemper Military School, Boonville's nationally respected institution.

The first battle of Boonville was fought June 17, 1861. At that time Col. Johnston, a boy of thirteen years, was plowing in a corn field not many miles away.

"At 10 a. m. there was a terrific roar of artillery firing, which in my inexperience seemed to indicate the end of the world. It seemed impossible that anyone should live through it. Actually, however, the casualties were insignificant but the consequences were important. Jackson evacuated this part of Missouri for Springfield and General Lyons following him there, was defeated and killed at Wilson's Creek."

When he was sixteen years old Thomas Johnston, a native of Cooper county, joined the Confederate forces under Gen. Sterling S. Price, and served in the cavalry the last six months of the Civil War.

Johnston first attended the Prairie Home Institute, but at the age of nineteen and at the instigation of a neighborhood boy who had been to school in Boonville he enrolled at the Kemper Family School in 1867, eager to learn Greek!

Goes To Kemper

Johnston, under the tutelage of Frederick T. Kemper, founder of the school, spoke of his first year away: "My first year was devoted to unlearning the things I had learned before. The secret of success lies in getting ashamed."

"I had the most common mispronunciations which persisted," he once related, speaking of Kemper's influence, "but he taught me the value of repetition . . . of saying the thing as often correctly as I had said it incorrectly. On my walks I would say the same word over hundreds of times."

Col. Thomas Alexander Johnston, A. B. 1872, LL.D. 1924, died in Boonville February 5, 1934 at the age of eighty-five years.

Samples of penmanship found in the books which Thomas gathered through the years indicate the conscientiousness with which he must have practised.

The farmer boy from Prairie Home was naturally proficient in mathematics, spelling, and memorizing. However, his language plainly showed a rural influence, and he was untrained in penmanship. Knowing these were impediments in his study he spent many laborious hours correcting his writing and speech.

The most popular course of history was the use of Lyman's chart which was in the form of a stream variously colored for the different nations. Young Thomas learned it so thoroughly that he could recite "every phase from the beginning of the world to the Christian Era."

Will Rogers, at one time enrolled in Kemper, recently requested a copy of Lyman's Historical Chart from Col. Johnston. He, also, by request sent a picture of himself autographed as follows:

"To a great benefactor and a man I greatly admire, Col. T. A. Johnston from his worst pupil—Will Rogers."

In the spring of 1871 Johnston enrolled in the University and to quote his own words: "Eugene Field stands out in my memory of the first day I spent at the University in April. I walked up to the old administration building, which later burned. Field was walking down the steps. I don't remember how we became acquainted. He talked about everything . . . told me a great deal about himself."

Thomas, then at a low financial ebb, recalls the shock of hearing Field saying he had spent $1500 at the University the year before.

Shortly before entering the University, Johnston was helping build a frame candy shop at the Kemper post. A scaffolding broke under his weight and the fall caused a dislocation of his ankle. This misfortune limited him to reading and study for over a period of two months. Consequently he easily passed the entrance examinations covering three years work, which gave him Senior classification.

He maintained his scholastic record and finished with valedictory honors at the following graduation.

These were the days before fraternities, when the Athenaeum and Union Literary Societies were the solar centers of the student social and literary life. Johnston lived at the home of Robert L. Todd, one of the two members of the first graduating class, and was a member of the Union Literary Society. Among their records is an account of an annual exhibit with the last number on the program an oration entitled, The Progress of Knowledge by Thomas Alexander Johnston.

His mathematics instructor, wrote a book which the Boonville nemesis proved erroneous. The teacher was not enthused over the discoveries, but Johnston's classmates thought the undergraduate a student of the first order.

Among his Columbia acquaintances were the Rollins boys and James S. Rollins, "The Father of the University." He remembered the latter as a leader who was fond of outstanding boys. Bingham Rollins, a classmate of Johnston's, is now dead, and of the other brother the Colonel recently said, "There is no one there I know now except Curtis. It was over sixty years ago."

This article was written following an interview granted by the late Col. Thomas Johnston early in December to J. H. Wally, Jr., a graduate of Kemper, now a student in the School of Journalism, the son of J. H. Wally, Sr., former student, who is now president of the Western Blue Print Company in Kansas City.

St. Pat is on His Way as Engineers Make Elaborate Plans for His Visit

THE parade which will greet St. Pat when he makes his annual visit in Columbia will be colossal but it will only be the beginning—only the beginning!

A brace of motorcycle policemen will offer protection for the old Saint. The two cadet colonels of the R. O. T. C. mounted on horseback will lead the Tiger Battery and the Pershing Rifles. The University band will lend musical cheer. The parade will terminate at the Columns where the guest-Saint will be given the pi gun salute—three fully charged shells and the fourth partly loaded to account for the 3.1416.

The Exhibition

Probably meeting with the greatest favor in the calculating eye of the revered St. Pat will be the exhibition at Brewer Field House, which will be open the three nights of March 15, 16 and 17. Every single space in the field house has been sold, and several requests have been made for display which of a necessity have been turned down.

The Barbecue

It wouldn't be Engineer's Week without the barbecue and without there's plenty to eat on the outing. This event will be Thursday evening at 10:30 o'clock. The location to be announced later.

At midnight following the barbecue the Engineers will go en masse to serenade "the Ladies fair."

The Luncheon

Rush your reservation in immediately for the Engineers Luncheon to be given Friday noon, March 16, at the Rothwell Gymnasium. Some of the most prominent men in the state will be present at this noon-day gathering.

The Banquet

Governor Guy B. Park, a graduate of the University, will speak at the Planning Conference Banquet Friday night at Rothwell Gymnasium. Other speakers at the affair will be C. W. Eliot, II, executive officer of the Federal Planning Board, Judge Harry S. Truman of Kansas City, Scott Wilson, chairman of the State Highway Commission, and Harland Bartholomew of St. Louis. Make your reservations through St. Pat's Board.

On Saturday noon at The Tiger Hotel there will be an informal get-together luncheon for architects and engineers.

All School Dance

On Friday night the Engineers will present Jimmie Joy and his nationally known band at an all school dance. This is a new addition to St. Pat's Week and is intended to give the entire student body something to look forward to.

St. Pat's Ball

On Saturday night at the appointed hour the old patron saint will appear at the ball given in his honor and with appropriate coronation ceremony present the Engineer's Queen of 1934. She will be chosen from the following candidates: Mary Eichenburger, Loretta Gillespie, Eleanor Phipps, Edith Simon, and Jane Tully. The identity of the Queen will be known only to St. Pat, and who St. Pat is will be known only to those who recognize his Irish accent, as the Chairman of St. Pat's Board will not assume the customary role.

The Alumni Meeting of the School of Engineering will be held in the Engineering Lecture Room (206) immediately following the luncheon on Friday, March 16, at approximately 1:30 p. m., according to the announcement by the president, Carl W. Brown, and the secretary-treasurer, L. W. Helmreich.

The Engineering Foundation will meet shortly after the adjournment of the Alumni meeting in room 206. W. B. Rollins is president of the Foundation and L. A. Nickell is secretary.

Do You Remember Way Back When?

YEARS ago, when the state was erecting a new building for the University, the workman left a wagon load of brick near Jesse Hall. Some students with a surplus of energy unloaded the brick during the night, took the wagon apart, carried the parts to the dome and there reassembled them. The same tireless students carried the bricks to the dome and refilled the wagon. The next morning the workmen were at a loss to determine where they had left the wagon and the load of bricks. The mystery became more and more puzzling even when the wagon and the load of bricks were found all in tact up in the University dome.

This episode was related by H. H. Crittenden, A.B. 1881, vice-president of Crittenden Investment Co., of Kansas City.

Positions In Hawaii

Earl M. Welty, former student, is now editor of the Hilo Herald-Tribune, an American newspaper in Hawaii. Welty was formerly promotion manager of the Honolulu Star-Bulletin, largest paper in the Islands.

M. Wayland Fullington, exchange student to the University of Hawaii, recently joined the advertising staff of the Honolulu Star-Bulletin.

Blees In New Position

Within a month after William A. Blees, former student, left General Motors Corporation he accepted a position in the firm of J. Sterling Getchell, Inc. In a short time following this Blees was made vice-president, Kinyon Goes With Stephens Publishing Co.

Henry H. Kinyon, A.B., B.J. '12, Kappa Alpha, formerly with the Redfield-Coupe advertising agency in New York City was recently elected vice-president and sales manager of the E. W. Stephens Publishing Company of Columbia according to the announcement of E. Sidney Stephens, president of the Company. Frank W. Dearing has resigned as vice-president of the publishing company to accept the position of comptroller of Stephens College.

Kinyon left the Kansas City Star in 1915 to serve three years as Alumni Secretary and University publisher. The next four years he spent in the Orient writing for newspapers and traveling. Since that time Kinyon has been the author of numerous travel articles in leading magazines and publications.

Mrs. Kinyon is a former student of Stephens College. Their older daughter, Ruth, will enter the University next fall. The younger daughter, Mabel, is now in University High School.

M. U. Professors Make Geologic Discovery

Dr. W. A. Tarr, professor of Geology and Mineralogy and Dr. W. D. Keller, assistant professor of Geology made an outstanding geologic discovery in the past year as revealed in an article appearing in a recent number of the "Journal of Geology."

The article deals with the geological history of the state, and establishes the fact that intrusions of lavas into the rocks of Missouri came much later in the geologic time scale than heretofore believed.

A newly discovered dike of lava was found in the highway between Farmington and Cape Girardeau. "In fact the igneous rock was exposed in a road cut made during the construction of the highway," according to Dr. Tarr.

For Carthage Attorney

Donald Cox, A.B. '31, has announced his candidacy for the Democratic nomination for city attorney of Carthage. John Flannigan, former student, and Herbert Van Fleet, A.B. '30, are seeking the Republican nomination.

Boosting Missouri

Mrs. C. F. Dawson, A.B. '17, Easton, Pennsylvania, is president of the Easton Branch of the A. A. U. W. and Miss Mildred Northrop A.B. '22, A.M. '23, is a speaker at the coming college guidance tea. They have prepared an attractive poster to represent Missouri in the collegiate displays.

Library Given Music

The University Library now contains the original sheet music of all the tunes written by Stephen C. Foster, as a gift from Josiah Lilly of Indianapolis. These three bound volumes contain the complete works of the composer.

Carl W. Brown assistant chief engineer of the state highway department was recently reelected head of the Highway Engineers' Association.

INTERESTING PEOPLE Among Missouri Alumni

FRED MELVIN HARRISON, B.J. '12, is the first School of Journalism graduate to be president of the Missouri Press Association. He is the son of Col. C. M. Harrison, past president of the association, and is the publisher of the Gallatin North Missourian. Directs the destiny of both a Democrat and a Republican newspaper. Had fourteen months World War service. Sigma Chi.

With The Missouri Press Associations

JAMES B. DENTON, B.S. in Education '16, is President of the Ozark Press Association. He was in the teaching profession for several years until in 1923 when he bought half interest in the Mountain Grove Journal. In 1914 he married Miss Mary Alice Rodgers, Baptist. Mason. Kiwanis. Democrat.

JAMES M. CURRY, B.J. '27, of the Holt County Sentinel, is President of the Northwest Missouri Press Association. Delegate to the 1932 Republican National Convention. Nephew of Thomas Curry, Northwest Missouri Educator. Married Miss Lennie LaRue, '26, in 1928 and they have two children.

CHARLES WALTER KELLER, JR., is Field Representative and Manager of the Central Office of the Missouri Press Association in Columbia. A graduate of the School of Journalism and an advertising instructor on the faculty from 1930 to 1933. Married Miss Rowena R. Bidwell in 1923. They have two sons. Mr. Keller is a member of Acacia, Alpha Delta Sigma and Kappa Tau Alpha.

JOHN PAUL JONES, B.J. '23, is President of the Southeast Missouri Press Association, Director of the Missouri Press Association, Mayor of Kennett, and publisher of the Dunklin Democrat. He is the son and the grandson of two former presidents of the Southeast Missouri Press Association. One time on Louisiana State University Faculty. Married Miss Ethel Rockholt. Pi Kappa Alpha, Alpha Delta Sigma, and Kappa Tau Alpha.

ALUMNI MEETINGS

A Letter About the N. Y. Celebrities Party

These young folks, Volney McFadden, who is the President now, and Judd Corbin, Secretary and Treasurer, certainly know how to beat us old fellows when it comes to putting on a party. There wasn't any of the usual long-winded speeches, but a mixture of the right kind of snappy speeches and a whole lot of good cheer and entertainment.

It started off with good food, finely cooked, and rightly served. By the way, you will remember Sue Stone Durant, who lived in Columbia, W. Va., she now manages the Panhellenic Hotel and also a large apartment house, and no small part of the success of the fine evening is due to her.

After the dinner Vol McFadden introduced Mrs. J. C. Jones, who came all the way from Washington, D. C., where she is living with her son, to be the guest of honor. You know how we all love Mrs. Jones, and it was so good to see her in her usual fine spirits and health. After she gave us a few words Vol introduced the other celebrities, as nearly as I can remember, as follows, but not necessarily in this order.

Among Those Present

Ann White, who is from Kansas City, and is doing feature writing for the Kansas City Star; Walter W. Stewart, who is, I believe, Chairman of the Board of Directors of Case, Pomeroy & Co., one of our most prominent investment counsel concerns; "Easy" Anderson in Y. M. C. A. work here in New York; Sherlock Hibbs, with the Guaranty Company; Merle Seligman, of the American Bankers Association; Robert Landsman, in the Financial Department of the American Tel. & Tel. Co.; Dr. E. A. Burkhardt, Chief Medical Examiner of the New England Mutual Life Insurance Company; Dr. Henry A. Reisman, who practices here in New York; Dr. Sarah Kelman, one of our best New York Neurologists; R. C. Talbot, General Counsel for the Zurich Insurance Co.; Morris Dry, Counsel for the U. S. Rubber Co.

Then there was Jim Jackson, Vice-President of the National City Bank; Gurry Huggins, who is in the textile business; and Burton Thompson, brother of Mrs. Jones, who is in the real estate business over in Jersey.

The entertainment of the evening was furnished by Barry J. Holloway, who is in the Press Department of the National Broadcasting Company. First, Charles Maehl of St. Louis, who attended the University, and who is one of the best pianists I have ever heard, played for us. Maehl is with the Missouri Campus Singers, who are featured on the Radio. I believe as the Ipana Troubadours.

N. B. C. Stars

Following him, Martha Mears, from Moberly, Mo., sang for us and she certainly can put over her songs in the presence as well as over the radio.

Another one of the N. B. C. stars that Holloway produced for us is Robert Simmons who hails from Sarcoxie, Mo. Robert has been the famous star in the Lucky Strike hour.

There was a good orchestra for dancing. Right in the midst of the dancing Volney McFadden, stopped things and introduced Frank Carstarphen, who, I understand, was raised in Hannibal, Mo. He is first Assistant District Attorney of New York County and has traveled all over the world. He made one of the finest short extemporaneous talks I have ever heard. He spoke of his mother, who is eighty-five years old, and who was brought up with Becky Thatcher, Tom Sawyer, and the other characters that our Mark Twain has made immortal in his writings.

With the youngsters in charge here, these dinners and parties are getting more interesting every time.

Cordially yours,

FRANK H. BIRCH

Californians Await Missouri's Ambassador

The alumni on the west coast are eagerly awaiting the arrival of President and Mrs. Walter Williams who are due to arrive on the S. S. Monterey at Los Angeles on March 24 on their return trip around the world.

T. P. Howard, 310 Klinker, is president of the Los Angeles Alumni, and Lona Gilbert, 1805 N. Wilcox, Hollywood, is secretary of the association.

The president of the San Francisco Alumni is Dr. Joseph M. Gwinn, and the secretary Mrs. Carrie L. Bennett, 2608 Benvenue, Berkeley.

Chicago Valentine Party

The Chicago alumni valentine party on Feb. 12 went off in style at the Medinah Club, and to quote from a letter received from Mrs. Roberta K. Clasper, president of the association:

"John Doughty made a clever and entertaining ten-minute talk. He is a comedian in speech who cannot be beaten and everyone enjoyed his frivolity. Following this another of our past presidents, Reinhart Egger, showed us a fascinating moving picture depicting the progress of transportation since the ox-cart period. The meeting was concluded with a tour through the luxurious rooms and corners of the Medinah Club.

Out In Idaho

Maurice Doerr who is with Cline Advertising Agency in Boise Idaho, is planning to stage the first round-up of Missourians in Boise and form an alumni association, which will probably meet for luncheon monthly. Among those on his original list are Charles F. Dienst, Dr. J. M. Taylor, and G. T. Hudson. Doerr is anxious to get in touch with all former students and alumni, and make it a worthwhile movement.

For the first time in the history of the University Russian is being taught.

Early Reunion News Of the Class of 1884

Word has been received from several of the members of the Class of 1884 although individual announcements concerning their reunion at Commencement have just been issued.

G. C. Haydon, who is with the United States Engineer office in Kansas City, will attend the reunion and still has in his possession "the Engineer Class Cravat worn only on occasions as it rivals Joseph's famous coat." He mentioned the following Columbians who will be invited at his suggestion to the banquet: Ben M. Anderson, William B. Cauthorn, Hartly Banks, C. B. Bowling, W. B. Nowell Sr., A. Gibbs Spencer Emmett Clinkscals.

Another Engineer who is looking forward to the Golden Reunion is T. C. Hughes, 1626 S. Baltimore, Tulsa, Oklahoma.

Edward E. Wall, director of Public Utilities for the City of St. Louis, has been corresponding with some of his classmates and will be present.

Dr. Beverly T. Galloway, largely responsible for the Bureau of Plant Industry, has retired under the economy act age clause, but is continuing active research work, dividing his time between Washington and his winter home in Florida.

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Sturtevant are planning to drive down to the exercises. He is in the United States Engineer Office in Kansas City.

On Washington, D. C. Luncheon Program

Charles A. Lee, State Superintendent of the Public Schools in Missouri, addressed the Washington, D. C. Alumni at their luncheon February 7. He gave a favorable report of Missouri's public education, saying that with the Federal aid rendered all the schools would run to full terms this spring.

At this luncheon George G. Clark spoke on life in the Philippines, and the problems raised by the question of Philippine independence. He was for a number of years in the Government land offices in the Islands.

The Washington, D. C. group has prepared a directory of alumni and former students in the District which reveals a number of interesting personalities whom they hope to have address the association.

St. Louis Alumna Gives Travelog

Saturday afternoon, February 3 the St. Louis Alumnae met at the home of Mrs. Philip Drabelle on Cabanne Avenue and were entertained with a motion picture travelog of a Mediterranean cruise presented by Miss Caroline Morell.

After the business meeting refreshments were served by the three hostesses: Miss Meta Eitzen, Miss Cornelia Brossard and Mrs. Philip Drabelle.

BUT IT'S FAIR AND WARM BY TELEPHONE!

Outside, hurrying feet plod on against the winds and swirling snow of winter. On such a day, it is good to be indoors where all is snug and warm.

ALL outdoors may be frowning, the thermometer close to zero, street travel an exhausting task. Yet to your telephone it is as clear and fair as a day in June.

Without moving from your chair at home or in your office, you can send your voice across the snow-swept miles. Wind and weather need not delay the necessary tasks of business or break the ties between friends and relatives. Through all the days of the year, the telephone is your contact with the world beyond your door. It knows no season—no letting up when the going gets hard. Through storm and flood, an army of trained employees works ceaselessly along the highways of speech.

This very day, as you talk so easily from the warmth and comfort of your home, a lineman may be scaling a pole far out on a frozen mountainside—so that the service may go on. So that you may talk to almost anyone, anywhere, at any time.

Make someone happy these winter days through a voice visit by telephone. A boy or girl at school, a mother or father in another city, or a good friend away on a visit. To most places 175 miles away, for example, the rate for a station-to-station call is 95c in the daytime, 85c after 7 P. M., and 55c after 8:30 P. M.

ATHLETICS

Winning Streak Helps M. U. Basketeers To Place

In an exhibition game at Norman on February 2 Missouri defeated Oklahoma 31 to 28 and caused the Sooners to lose their first home game in two years. The following night in the conference game Oklahoma won 35 to 21. The game was close till the last ten minutes of the game when Missouri gambled on long shots and lost.

Missouri lost to Nebraska 34 to 27 on February 9. The Cornhuskers on their home court outplayed the Tigers. Whitaker, a new guard for the opponents, attained individual high score with 11 points. This game seemed to hit the bottom of Missouri's losing streak.

The Tigers journeyed down to Manhattan for a game the next night and played one of their best games of the season with the final score Missouri 41 to Kansas State's 20. Jorgensen chalked up 17 points for individual honors. The team play and the floor work as a whole was the finest the squad has exhibited this year.

On February 12 at Omaha Missouri lost to Creighton 36 to 24 due largely to Missouri's inability to cope with Creighton's six foot, eight inch center.

Beats Washington

The Tigers returned to Columbia and met the Washington team on the following Friday night. The Tigers took a big lead in the first half and loafed through the second half with the score terminating Missouri 30, Washington 18.

On February 19 Missouri won over Iowa State 25 to 19, a game in which both teams showed fine defensive play keeping the score fairly close.

The first of a two game series with Oklahoma at Columbia lacked a dull moment. In this exhibition game Blume tossed two free throws with his team one point behind and one minute to play. The game ended Missouri 29 and Oklahoma 28. Blume was outstanding for Missouri, and Main, an accurate shooter, was prominent for the Sooner cause.

On the following night the Tigers reached a seasonal peak and upset conference done by defeating Oklahoma 32 to 22. This tied Missouri and Oklahoma for second place in the conference with Kansas in the lead. All attention is now focused on the Kansas-Missouri, and Kansas-Oklahoma games to be played soon. The present standings find the Tigers and the Sooners with six victories and three defeats each. Kansas has seven games to her credit and one defeat.

Henry To New Mexico

Gwinn Henry has been named director of athletics and football coach at the University of New Mexico. His first major coaching assignment was at the College of Emporia in Kansas, where he attained such a successful record that he was called to Missouri and served as coach from 1923 to 1930. This last season he coached the Gunners, an independent St. Louis team.

JOHN COOPER

is nationally known for his jump-turn-shot. When a sophomore he tied for individual high point in the conference. For his last two years he ranked among the first eight, having spent more time developing defensive and team play and becoming a more valuable player. He has a younger brother, Grant Cooper, a sophomore on the varsity. They got their early training on courts in Hopkinsville, Kentucky, before their family moved to Columbia.

Rescinds "Two-Sport-Rule"

At its regular meeting in February the University Faculty voted to rescind the so-called "two-sport rule" which had been in effect at the University of Missouri for the past few years.

When Missouri adopted the rule originally it was hoped that the other members of the Big Six Conference would be willing to incorporate it in the general eligibility regulations. The issue was brought to a formal vote in the December meeting of the Conference. The proposal was defeated. It then became a question whether Missouri alone should continue to be bound by the rule. Thereupon the above decision was taken.

Visits In Columbia

Dr. J. A. Gibson, professor of Chemistry from 1907 to 1919, visited in Columbia as the personal guest of Chester L. Brewer, the week-end of the 24th, renewing acquaintances and visiting with old friends. "Doc" Gibson, as he was known both in town and campus circles, is now secretary of the Chamber of Commerce at Coffeyville, Kansas. During his days on the faculty he was active in student affairs especially athletics.

The University fencing team defeated University of Nebraska by a 5 to 0 victory, but lost to Washington University, 9 to 8.

Polo Team Pointing To National Matches

The spring polo season at the University has opened with all attention to a vigorous training pointing toward the National Intercollegiate Championship Tournament at Rye, New York in June.

The polo field is in the best of condition, having been recently reseeded, and the new horses, which have been trained by veteran players, are showing up well according to Capt. W. A. Beiderlinden, who supervises the team.

An excellent schedule beginning April 12th includes games with the following teams: Illinois, Oklahoma Military Academy, Ohio State, Oklahoma, Iowa State, K. C. Country Club. An intersquad game on April 7 promises good polo as the veteran players are finding steady competition from the new ranks.

Of vital interest to the polo players and enthusiasts will be the financial outcome of the R. O. T. C. Horse Show on May 17, which it is hoped will make possible the squad's trip to the Eastern matches.

Talks On Football At Joplin Meeting

"The worthwhile school is not going to buy your services as a football player, but such a school will, in so far as it can, help you to get an education, and the ideals the University of Missouri has fostered will help you in after life to succeed, no matter what business, or profession you follow," said Mercer Arnold, A.B. '00, J.L.B. '02, member of the Board of Curators. On this occasion he was addressing approximately two hundred school men of Southwest Missouri at a dinner in Joplin sponsored by the alumni there.

Guests Speakers

Chester L. Brewer, director of athletics, and Frank Carideo, head football coach, have been guest speakers on several occasions during February. Among the different places they were invited were Carrollton, Odessa, Joplin, Neosho, Butler, and St. Louis County.

Opens M. U. Baseball Season On March 29

The M. U. baseball squad is getting into shape in order to take the sports spotlight on March 29 when they play their first game of the season with Illinois Wesleyan on the local diamond.

Capt. Johnny Guhman and other of the diamond veterans are encouraged with the increasingly large practice turn-outs. There have been from thirty-five to forty men reporting daily.

J. Craig Ruby, coach of basketball at the University of Illinois, is not going to leave his present position and assume athletic duties at another school, as has been announced in several newspapers, Ruby writes, "I am not and do not intend to leave Illinois."

Where Are The Heroes of Yesterday?

Oftentimes the Alumni Office receives an inquiry for the present address and occupation of some of the old timers among our prominent athletes. Just recently we had inquiries regarding the following:

Oak Hunter, former state senator from Moberly and Walter Goodson, Macon attorney and state political leader, were teammates in '97 and '98, while Col. George H. English, attorney for the Public Service Commission in Jefferson City played on the squad of '95 and '96.

John N. Eddy, of the team of 1904, is city manager of Dallas, and the highest paid executive of his type in the country. Two years after Eddy's time Dr. E. L. Miller, now prominent Kansas City physician, carried on Missouri gridiron history.

Of news interest lately have been the names of Dan M. Nee, Collector of Internal Revenue in Kansas City, and Carl Ristine, recently appointed as special assistant United States attorney general to investigate air mail contracts. Both are "M" men.

Frank Thatcher, captain of the 1910 team is now general manager of the Interlake Iron Corporation while William A. Brees, quarterback the following year, is vice-president of J. Sterling Getchell Incorporated in New York City. Brees recently left the position of vice-president of General Motors.

During these same years Judge Ernest Tipton, now on the Supreme Bench in Jefferson City and Crosby Kemper, president of the Fastest growing bank in the middle-west were also in there helping the Missouri Tigers in their annual battles with Kansas.

Then came Ted Hackney, now one of the leading insurance men in the Lone Star State at Fort Worth. M. E. "Snooks" Bernet, who could always open a gap in the line for the ball carrier in '13 is now general manager of the Rocky Mountain Division of the Bell Telephone Company in Denver.

Around 1915 came men like "Peaches" Graham and Carlisle R. Wilson, both of whom so gallantly gave up their lives in the World War.

Many of the Tigers have stayed with the game as coaches and are scattered over the country from the Pacific coast where D. V. Graves is head baseball and assistant football coach at the University of Washington to the Atlantic coast where James E. Pixlee is football mentor at George Washington University. However the most unusual sports position is that of Charles L. Lewis, who is athletic director for Douglas Fairbanks in Hollywood.

The above information will not only prove interesting to the friends of those whose names are mentioned but at once calls attention to the fact that our Missouri athletes are meeting with success after they have finished their University career, that they are taking a prominent part in the civic affairs of their respective communities and contributing much as substantial citizens of the state and nation. If there are others about whom you want information write to us here at the Alumni Office.

will become a Knight of St. Pat, Magna Cum Laude at the coming Engineering celebration. If it should again be necessary to drive the snakes out of Ireland he could play the Pied Piper with a clarinet or if someone will furnish a piano he'll play that.

But until that day he'll be identified with the following: QEBH, Blue Key, Pi Tau Sigma (Honorary Engineering), a member of the University band and orchestra. Jack is president of the Engineering Club, and was business manager last year.

His home address is Jefferson City, and when he finishes this June he wants to get a job in Rate Making and Valuation of Public Utilities, which is a worthy hope for a mechanical engineer.

Starting at the Top

Who was it who said if he ever received any airplane injuries we would know an airplane had fallen on him?

Which reminds us that there is a University Flying School established at the Columbia airport under the supervision of a government licensed instructor. There is a guaranteed solo course for $125—and it isn't supposed there'll be any going to sleep in class.

Mahan Contest Winners

Of the eighty-two essays submitted in the fourth annual Mahan University Contest Mary Frances Owsley's, "Front Page Notice" was awarded first place and given the $50 prize. Second place, a prize of $15, went to Bernice Allean Lemmon, and others placing in the contest were Mary Virginia Strickland, John De Wane Shelley, and George K'e Yi Kao.

Semester Enrollment

There are 2831 students enrolled in the University this semester, which is a decrease of 209 from the enrollment of the second semester of last year. The College of Agriculture, the School of Law, and the School of Medicine showed slight increases, while the School of Business and Public Administration stayed at the 150 mark of a year ago.

To Phi Delt

The Harvard Alumni trophy, annually awarded to the best chapter of Phi Delta Theta in the country, goes to the local chapter for the second consecutive year. After they win it next year, as they fully intend to, it will be theirs for keeps.

A Privately Owned, Tax-Paying Public Utility Is a Good Citizen

What is a good citizen? One who abides by the laws of his community, pays taxes and conducts his business in a fair and friendly way.

Tax-evasions, whether by an individual or a business firm, have no place in good citizenship. Taxes are necessary for the upkeep of our government, our schools, our state institutions.

One-third of all state revenue goes to the state school funds. The evasion of taxation cripples schools—yet there are in the State of Missouri $1,000,000,000.00 worth of Municipally-owned public utilities which are not “paying their fare” to better citizenship.

Placing municipally-owned public utilities under the jurisdiction of the Public Service Commission of Missouri, thus forcing them to observe fair and non-discriminatory rules and regulations and to pay the same taxes as privately-owned utilities (the only fair basis), would mean two million dollars a year more as their share to provide schools and, indeed, to pay teachers and thus keep the schools we have open. KNOW THE FACTS.

ROBERT A. WHITTIER, father of Florence E. Whittier Tisdell, B.J. '22, and father-in-law of William L. Tisdell, A.B., B.J. '23, died November 1.

JAMES WORRELL DANIEL was a University classmate of Eugene Field, and a member of the Athenaeum Society before his graduation in law in 1869. His funeral services in Mexico, Missouri, where he had practiced law, marked the passing of one of the University's oldest graduates.

MRS. ADA EVERETT WADDELL died February 25 in New York City. She is the wife of Dr. J. A. L. Waddell, LL.D. '04, and the mother of Leonard Waddell, LL.B. '09.

JUDITH RHOADES, five months old daughter of MR. and MRS. HAROLD RHOADES, died March 1 in Raleigh, N. C. Mrs. Rhoades was formerly Catherine Pratt, B.S. in Public Welfare 1930. Rhoades graduated in Agriculture in 1929 and took his master's in 1931.

Hope O' Tomorrow

This column is making a timely debut in The Alumnus for within a few years the University will celebrate its centennial. So in this informal manner is presented the students whose parents or grandparents "went to Missouri."

GEORGE C. GUNDLACH, JR., is enrolled in the College of Agriculture. Remember when his father a graduate of the class of 1910 played on the varsity, and when Jessie Sherman appeared one day wearing an "M" sweater? She's Mrs. Gundlach now and probably has that sweater tucked away in moth balls in the attic of their home in St. Louis.

It'll be a long time before R. E. Duffy forgets how proud he was when his daughter, MARY DUFFY was recently elected to Phi Beta Kappa. She is setting a fine example for her sister, VIRGINIA DUFFY, who is following with equally as enviable a scholastic record. Duffy, '10, lives in Columbia and is secretary of the Engineering Alumni Association.

MILDRED LOUISE COSBY is a student in the Graduate School. Remember her father, Byron Cosby, '04, who took three degrees at the University and is now Business Administrator and Professor of Mathematics at the State Teachers College in Kirksville.

DAN JOSLYN finished school mid-semester and is preparing for the state bar examinations, after which he may begin his practice in the offices of his father, Otis W. Joslyn, Sr., '98, in Charleston.

There must be a lot of Missouri talk in this home. Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Schenk and their daughter, Elaine have diplomas from the University, and now their other daughter, JOYCE SCHENK, has returned to complete the foursome. Schenk is a practicing attorney in Ardmore, Okla.

Snipe hunting might be an old Panama custom that CHARLES MALSBURY learned in his infancy or it might have been a trick he learned from his father who graduated in Engineering in 1905,—but to go on with the story, Charles is a Kappa Alpha pledge and some of his brothers returning from a formal and still dressed in their tuxs decided to take him on a snipe-hunt. So they took him miles out in the country and showed him just how to cage the snipe in the sack when it flew, ran or swam by—but when the brothers returned to the car it was gone and they were left holding the sack.

ROBERT E. RIDDLE, JR., is a third year student, a member of Acacia, and active in athletics. His father, R. E. Riddle, Sr., attended Homecoming and the 1908 Class Reunion last fall.

Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Durham of Kansas City recently visited their son, ROBERT JAY DURHAM, a member of Beta Theta Pi. Durham received B.L. and W.L.B. degrees in 1899.

Among those enrolling second semester was WILLIAM BATES, whose older brother, Leslie, Jr., finished last June and is now working in Wilkesburg, Penn. Their father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Bates, Sr.; two uncles, W. B. Cauthorn, City Engineer of Columbia, and E. B. Cauthorn of Dallas, Tex., and Miss Emma Cauthorn, an aunt, who will resume her duties on the faculty as soon as she recovers from an appendicitis operation, all graduated from the University of Missouri.

Frederick L. Schuster, '27, New York, offers the George C. Schuster scholarship key, this award being made in name of the donor's father, to a senior in the Gower High School upon the basis of scholarship and character. ROBERT GIBSON, whose father, J. W. Gibson played on Missouri's varsity in the nineties, won a key in 1930. He is enrolled in the Business and Public Administration School and is a classmate of his brother, Eugene Gibson.

SARA VIRGINIA RASH worked week in and week out as show pianist and is due her share of the success of "Fancy Lady." She also took a part in the play and sang a song as well as contributing fingerboard work. Her father, BEN C. RASH is a former student and lives in Henderson, Kentucky.
