GRAPHIC

In all the myriad fields of business, one characteristic you will always find in leaders—a combination of steadiness and alertness: at once sensitive to the changing needs and tastes of the public, and faithful to a strongly held standard.

We have such a concept of our business. In matters of that art which is one of our two principal services—the style and arrangement of illustrations and all that goes with them—we try (quite successfully we think!) not only to keep up with the times but to lead in freshness of design and originality of handling. In making of printing plates, we hold fast to the standard of doing every job, little or big, the best we know how, regardless of what others may do.

For example, the copper halftones which reproduce photographs for fine advertising and books. These can be made in various ways. We hold to smooth brilliance—middle—or half-tones which retain their subtle gradation and distinction one from the other, yet blend suavely as in the photograph itself. This is the difficult, and therefore the expensive, way to make halftones; but it is the best. In fact, isn't such a result the essential object of making a halftone?

In any piece of printing in which illustrations are used, the difference in the cost of ordinary engravings and of Burger-Baird engravings is trivial, and is often more than made up in other ways. We'd be glad to have an opportunity to talk it over with you.

Dollars Wasted on Upkeep ... Can't Buy New Roads

Inferior roads seem cheap and easy to build. They stretch a paving fund so that it covers a lot of territory. But after a year or two, the trouble begins! Maintenance costs go up and up. Soon all your paving money is spent on upkeep . . . and no more new roads are built.

That's why it's wise—and economical—to build concrete roads. Concrete lasts! It requires almost no upkeep. Each year, the paving fund builds more miles of concrete until the whole job is done—for keeps.

Concrete's smooth, non-skid surface is safe and satisfactory to drive on. It speeds up traffic . . . reduces accidents . . . saves gas, tires and repairs. Get concrete. Insist on it—for safety, comfort and economy.

To the Football Game of Tomorrow ... Without A Stop

This is the prediction of Norman Bell Geddes, famous authority on future trends.

In the "City of Tomorrow" the football stadium will be reached via elevated express highways free from intersecting local traffic.

Cars will move along at speeds over fifty miles an hour direct to their destination. There will be no stop and go driving . . . no traffic jams . . .

Parking space—on an immediate in-and-out basis will be provided in a huge parking plaza under the stadium.

BUT TODAY IT IS STOP STOP STOP
ALL THE WAY TO THE GAME

And driving to football games is only part of the stop and go driving you do. Just in trips around town you average over thirty costly stops a day.

While traffic authorities are planning how to help you reach your destination faster and more safely, Shell engineers have developed Super Shell, the gasoline for TODAY'S stop and go driving.

... SUPER-SHELL ...

THIS MONTH

We think Don McVay, toastmaster at the 1912 banquet this month, will call his shots a little more carefully the next time he goes fishing for compliments. Let us say in all justice to Mr. McVay that it was not personal pride or self-aggrandizement that motivated him in his pursuit.

Recognizing that it would be hardly cricket for members of the class to extol their collective virtues Mr. McVay fished valiantly among the assembled guests. There must be someone in the room who could find a nice word for the boys and girls of '12. The McVay eye spotted Judge Merrill E. Otis, Class of 1910, who had come with his wife and daughter.

We could almost see Don's mind clicking. A compliment from Missouri's eminent federal judge would be something for the records. So Judge Otis was called upon.

With all poise and dignity his honor rose and surveyed the members of the class. He took his time and we innocents came to know the meaning of the term, "prisoner at the bar." It was not exactly a withering glance but it carried dynamite. Having sized us up the judge dismissed our noble class with one terse sentence.

"The more I look at the Class of 1912, the more I think of the Class of 1910."

We are still wondering if that was a compliment or a double-barreled indictment.

* * * * *

The "editorial we" was singled out for deflation. For the edification of all let it be known our patient and loyal helpmeet graduated in 1911; we got our honorable discharge in 1912. Seizing upon this tidbit one of our detractors asked publicly if that meant Mrs. Hill was one year older.

"No!" came a voice from the gallery. "Just one year smarter."

Yes, sir. It takes a class reunion to knock the pins out from under a body.

And in closing let us toss a few bouquets.

To Marjorie Mann, daughter of Frank, for her work in organizing the Hope O' Tomorrow Club this fall, and for her fine speech at the banquet. The latter took some real study and preparation.

To Randy Rash, student in the College of Agriculture, and to Ags and Engineers for the success of the student card cheering section.

The 1912 Class Reunion

● Other Homecoming Activities

MEMBERS OF THE Class of 1912 celebrated the silver anniversary reunion of their class at an informal banquet Friday night, November 12, in the ball room of the Tiger Hotel with approximately 150 class members, friends and special guests in attendance.

Charles Baird of Kansas City, donor of the Baird Chime in Memorial Tower, was guest of honor at the dinner which followed an hour's informal reception at the hotel. The celebration included members of the class, their families, the members of the board of curators and of the board of visitors of twenty-five years ago, the present board of curators and board of visitors, the Hope O' Tomorrow Club and members of the 1911 football team.

Dr. Frederick A. Middlebush, president of the University, welcomed members of the class on behalf of the school. He solicited the support of alumni and asked for the active participation of all former students.

Striking the key note of the speakers' program, Paul Van Osdol, Jr., president of the Student Government Association and son of Judge Paul Van Osdol of the Class of 1912, asked for thorough co-operation of University authorities, alumni and students.

Later, Judge Van Osdol of Brookfield, carried out the theme of his son's speech by asking that alumni desirous of helping the University consult first with the authorities of the University.

D. Barton Robnett of Columbia, chairman of the reunion banquet, introduced Don C. McVay of Trenton who acted as toastmaster for the evening. Mr. McVay in turn introduced Miss Mary Jane Hill, official greeter for Homecoming activities this year and a member of the Hope O' Tomorrow Club. She presided at the special table of thirty students whose parents are members of the 1912 class.

Miss Hill introduced each member of the Hope O' Tomorrow Club, and at the same time introduced the parents of those present. She then presented Miss Marjorie Mann, president of the club and daughter of Frank Mann of Springfield, Mo., member of the Class of 1912.

Miss Mann presented a humorous comparison of the attitudes, ideas, modes of dress, types of entertainment, and sports, of the students of twenty-five years ago and of today.

Prof. Chester L. Brewer of the M. U. physical education department, who was coach of football twenty-five years ago, introduced members of the 1911 team who were present.

The 1911 footballers were: Bill Woodward, St. Louis; Judge John C. Mills, Jr., Kirksville; C. P. ("Cap") LeMire, Kansas City; George Barton, Kansas City, and Dave Dexter, Kansas City. Following the introduction Don Faurot, present head football coach of the University, gave a short informal talk.

Dr. A. Ross Hill of Kansas City, who was president of M. U. while members of the Class of 1912 were undergraduates, spoke briefly and informally, stressing the co-operation and help that the alumni body was giving and had given the University in the past.

Women of the Class of 1912 were represented by Mrs. Herley S. Daily of Kansas City, who was formerly Miss Nellie Carter. She spoke briefly. Leslie Cowan, a member of the class and now secretary of the University, represented the board of curators and board of visitors.

Four University cheer leaders, Bud Messing, Bill Gill, Pete White, and Dave Silverman led yells between courses of the banquet. Preceding the speakers' program, members of the University Men's Quartet, Dick Gorton, Paul Grant, David Kiah Smith and Ridge Harlan, sang three numbers.

Saturday morning the class members met for their final organized gathering in Room 225, Jesse Hall. Among other accomplishments the class decided unanimously to have another reunion at the University in 1962, which would be their golden anniversary meeting.

With this in view, the following officers were elected: President, Charles Byers, Kansas City; vice-president, Elmer Axon, Jefferson City; and secretary-treasurer, R. L. ("Bob") Hill of Columbia.

Additional vice-presidents were elected, each to represent his or her particular school or college of the University.

They were: Mrs. Merrill E. Otis, Kansas City, College of Arts and Science; Chauncey J. Wiegner, Memphis, Mo., College of Engineering; Elton Marshall, Kansas City, School of Law; Marion W. Lowry, Spartanburg, S. C., College of Agriculture; Mrs. Joseph McGuire, Dallas, Tex., School of Education; and H. H. Kinyon, Columbia, School of Journalism.

E. Kemper Carter of Kansas City, student president in 1912 and also a member of the class, presided at the meeting.

The meetings of the Class of 1912 were not, however, all that happened at M. U.'s twenty-seventh annual Homecoming.

Four thousand persons attended the Tiger mass meeting in the Brewer Field House Friday night. Speeches, part of a bonfire, the annual freshman-sophomore tug-of-war, and a torch-light parade were features of the program.

(Right) Adam C. Remley, Class of 1912, came all the way from Wisconsin for his reunion. In the other picture the man with the dark, sparkling eyes is Charles C. Byers of Kansas City who was elected president of the class. He will have charge of the 1962 reunion.

Welcoming speeches by Mary Jane Hill, official greeter, and Carl Blanchard, chairman of the general Homecoming committee, were followed by rousing pep talks from Billy Van Maitre and Paul Van Osdol, Jr., both senior students in the School of Law. Rusty Casteel and Allen Oliver handled the alumni end of the oratorical display.

As usual the freshmen won the tug-of-war with the sophomores, climaxing the tussle with a general drenching from a fire hose. The bonfire, highlight of the evening, was set off prematurely by persons reported to be Oklahoma University sympathizers. This is doubtful, however. Past experience seems to show conclusively that it is considered quite a stunt by some Tiger students to jump the gun on the official lighters. The sketchy bonfire was followed by a torch light parade through Columbia's downtown. It also called for stops at Stephens and Christian colleges, and ended at the Uptown Theater with a free show.

Prizes to alumni and trophies for house decorations were awarded between halves of the Missouri-Oklahoma game on Saturday by the prize committee headed by Student Bill Dannevik.

For the second consecutive year Phi Gamma Delta won first place in the fraternity house decoration contest. First place for the sorority houses went to Delta Delta Delta. Suzanne's was

One-Touchdown Hoodoo

• or How the Tigers Lost

ASK YOU, now ain't it a shame? Five ball games lost by a touchdown margin. A blocked punt, intercepted pass, or any break could have easily made a big difference in the outcome of the contests.

After that 2-0 "who pitched" defeat at the hands of Michigan State, it looked as though our Tigers were ready to roll. And when Nebraska got to town the greatest crowd since 1927 poured into Memorial Stadium to see the big game.

We all hate to talk about that "heart breaker." The 18,000 fans who witnessed the Husker-Tiger party saw one of the greatest battles of lines ever staged in any man's league. Nebraska made only five first downs, three from rushing and a couple from passes. One first marker was made through the Tiger line, and one only. A long looping pass, one of the kind that's caught about once every two years, put the ball down near the Tiger goal. Still that line wouldn't give a yard, but those tricky Huskers tossed another pass and it was good for the only score of the game.

Iowa State put up a stubborn show for their Homecoming fans, but the Tigers finally found the old scoring punch and put over a couple of touchdowns to win, 12-0. Heinie Mahley, who played only a short time against Nebraska, scored the first six-pointer in the third quarter after taking a pass from Don Johnson. In the final period Johnson went over from the one-yard line.

Huston Betty and B. D. Simon, injured in the Nebraska game, didn't play against the Cyclones. Heinie Mahley and Don Johnson each received a knee injury and were unable to play against St. Louis. The pass tossing of Don was one of the brightest spots of the Tiger victory at Ames.

A new star, little Jimmy Christenson who comes from Independence, Mo., blossomed in the Billiken clash. Jimmy showed promise of developing into a first rate punt returner, something the Tigers have been woefully lacking in all season. He takes his 155 pounds down the field in a hurry, and is as sure footed as they come.

That Oklahoma game—OK for fifty-nine minutes, but the last sixty seconds were real joy murderers. Again the Missouri line proved its greatness in goal line stands, but the strong Oklahoma aerial attack, coupled with the Tigers' weakness against the same offense, brought about the downfall.

Bob Faurot stood out against the Sooners. Bob played a whale of a defensive game, and his punting was nothing short of sensational. Christenson was OK at returning punts, and another sophomore, Bill Amelung, showed that he could connect with his "strike" passes against big league opponents.

Kind words must also be said of Charles Moser. When Huston Betty was injured in the Nebraska game, Coach Faurot called on 160-pound Charley and the midget center has more than made good. He has spotted from 20 to 60 pounds every game, but his scrap and speed have enabled him to look good against all of 'em.

—HERE'S WHY—

You are wondering why the Tigers haven't won more games this year. For your information—the Missouri schedule has been very tough, one of the toughest in many years. Colorado is still undefeated and untied and her "Whizzer" White looks like a sure shot for All-America honors. Nebraska was good enough to lick Minnesota and Indiana, and the Huskers almost got Pittsburg. Oklahoma whipped Rice and tied Texas and Nebraska. Kansas defeated Oklahoma and tied Nebraska, and then Kansas State romped on Kansas. Our Tigers were good enough to whip Kansas State.

Michigan State lost only to Manhattan, a 3-0 upset game. The Spartans have licked Temple, Carnegie Tech, Michigan, Wayne, Marquette, and Kansas. St. Louis University has lost only one game. So you see that the Tigers' schedule was more than a breeze.

—RAY FOR THE "B" BOYS—

Those "sure-shot" B Tigers completed their six game schedule without a defeat. Chillicothe Business College, Kirksville's Bulldogs, Pittsburg's (Kan.) Gorillas, the Springfield Teachers, and the Missouri Freshmen were all taken in order. The only close game of the season was against the Pittsburg team, the "B's" winning out by a 6-0 score. But even that one wasn't very close. Pittsburg didn't make a first down until late in the fourth quarter, and the Tigers were running all over the field.

It's a hard task to name the outstanding stars on the "B" team. When it came to scrap and determination, they were all All-Americans, and that goes for all of those who played on this outfit. Bill Bailey, "Dead Bird" Marshall Sneed, Bill Amelung, Bill Pettyjohn, Camfield, Buehner, A. C. Kolb, Blaine Currence, Bryant, Benizio, and all the others are worthy of the highest praise.

No More Caps for Class of '41

Solidarity of the Class of 1941 was hailed by members of this year's freshman class following the annual freshman victory over the sophomores in the class tug-of-war on Homecoming Eve. In record time the yearlings took possession of the entire rope.

The few members of the Class of '41 who have been wearing their black and gold caps this fall are now privileged to go without them. Tradition calls for a ceremony marking the birth of freshman freedom. This usually calls for a snake dance around the bonfire ending up with tossing the caps into the flames. Tradition went by the boards this year. Pranksters fired the bonfire two hours before mass meeting time.

Charles Cox, '13, to Board of Curators

Charles Cox, a graduate of the College of Agriculture in 1913, was named to the Board of Curators of the University by Gov. Lloyd C. Stark on Oct. 30. Mr. Cox, whose term will expire Jan. 1, 1939, succeeds Mr. Charles F. Ward who has resigned.

For the past ten years Mr. Cox has lived on a farm near Rock Port, Mo. While a student here and for several years after graduation he was associated with various musical groups. He is a bass singer and has done considerable traveling with musical groups. Mr. Cox was in Columbia this month to attend the Homecoming celebration.

Law Alumni Elect James E. Nugent

More than fifty members of the School of Law Alumni Association of the University met in Lee H. Tate Hall on Saturday morning, November 13, as a part of the annual Homecoming activities. Members present represented classes from 1901 to 1937. The Class of 1912 had the largest representation. James E. Nugent of Kansas City was elected president of the association for the coming year. Other officers elected were:

First vice-president, Taylor Sandison, St. Louis; second vice-president, L. L. Knipmeyer, Kansas City; third vice-president, R. B. Oliver III, Cape Girardeau; secretary, A. S. Penniston, Richmond; representative on the Board of Directors of the General Alumni Association, Judge Laurance M. Hyde, Jefferson City.

Judge Hyde spoke briefly, outlining the work of the Law Foundation during the past year. Judge Hyde later presided at the meeting of the foundation in the absence of Earl F. Nelson, president. W. Wallace Fry, Mexico, president of the alumni association, presided at that meeting.

Armistice Day Address

Allen Oliver of Cape Girardeau, chairman of the Alumni Association's public relations committee, was the speaker at the annual Armistice Day exercises held in the University auditorium on November 11.

M. U., K. U. Get New Football Trophy

A tom-tom, the handiwork of Osage Indians, and furnished by the Kansas City Alumni Association with the cooperation of the Kansas University letter men's association, will be presented each Thanksgiving to the winner of the Missouri-Kansas football game. This was decided at the annual Homecoming luncheon of the M Men's Club at Rothwell Gym on November 13.

William Buchholz, president of the Kansas City association, said his group had made arrangements to have the tom-tom built by the Osage Indians, as these Indians are more representative of the two states than any other tribe. On his motion the action was approved. The tom-tom will be displayed between halves of the annual game this year and after the game will be presented to the winning school to be held until next year. This year will mark the forty-fifth year of football rivalry between the two schools.

John Knight of Kansas City, three-sport letterman in '20, '21, '22, was elected president of the M Men's Association for the coming year. Joseph Parker, letterman in basketball in '10, '11, and '12, was elected vice-president, and A. J. Stankowski, letterman in football in '15, '16, and '17, was re-elected secretary.

More than fifty former M Men attended the meeting.

• TIGERS TO MEET N. Y. U. IN 1939

Don Faurot, chairman of the M. U. coaching staff, announced early this month that the University had completed arrangements for an intersectional game with New York University to be played on Nov. 11, 1939.

The game, which is to be played on Armistice Day and during the New York World's Fair, is expected to draw a large crowd. Faurot added in his announcement that the Violets might come to Columbia in 1940 although no contract has been signed or included in the 1939 agreement.

The last meeting between the two teams was in 1930 when the New York team defeated the Tigers, 38 to 0.

Sabbatical Leaves to Three Faculty Men

Sabbatical leaves have been granted three members of the University faculty for one semester during 1938. The Board of Curators at its November meeting approved leaves of Dr. Gilbert M. Fess, associate professor of French; Dr. Edward G. Ainsworth, assistant professor of English; and Horace W. Wood, Jr., associate professor of civil engineering.

Dr. Fess will leave next fall to study in the libraries of France and the United States, gathering data on the treatment of the American Revolutionary Period in French literature. Dr. Ainsworth, who intends to study the works of Collins and Smart in British libraries, will leave in February for England. Prof. Wood will begin study towards an A.M. degree in hydraulic engineering at the University of Michigan, beginning Feb. 1.

The board at its meeting accepted a grant of $2500 from the International Cancer Research Foundation in Philadelphia, to extend research here on mammary glands in animals. The agreement is that if the results lead to the development of marketable products they are to become property of the foundation, and dedicated to the public.

NEW YORK ALUMNI PARTY

Friday, December 3, has been set as the date for the annual December party of the New York Alumni Association. This year they are calling it the "Missouri Ball." For further information read "Missourians on Manhattan," appearing on Page 26 in this issue.

STUDENT "STRIKES IT RICH" WITH OLD GRAD

That alumni are capable of actions other than griping about the football team or grumbling about how things are not like they used to be was illustrated here during Homecoming. We knew it all the time but some students are a bit skeptical.

Recalling the days when he worked his way through college, an M. U. alumnus left a $10 tip for Abe Tepper, a St. Louis sophomore who waits tables for his meals.

"He was one of the hundreds here for Homecoming," Tepper said. "I don't know who he was. He just said he, too, worked his way through college, and that he knew how it was."

We hope you haven't been waiting for the name of this alumnus. We don't know either. But the story is straight.

California Alumni "Practice Up"

The Alumni Association of Southern California held a "get ready" rally on November 15, in preparation for the arrival of the Missouri party in Los Angeles on November 27. According to Don A. Wren, chairman of the entertainment committee, the alumni rehearsed some of the college yells in order to be in fine fettle for the game with U. C. L. A. An enthusiastic crowd of Missourians will be on hand at the depot to welcome the team and their companions.

Another meeting of the association will be held December 15 and the fifteenth of each month thereafter at 7 p. m. at Taix French Restaurant, located at 321 Commercial Street in Los Angeles. Visiting Missourians are invited to call at these meetings.

Lawrence Trip

✱ "Thanks, Boys," Say the Columns, "But Once Is Enough."

Somewhere this minute there are several people who didn't read the August issue of The Missouri Alumnus. This comes by way of a blow to our editorial dignity and while we are trying valiantly to swallow it like little men, our nerves are nonetheless on edge.

In the aforementioned August issue we stated definitely and emphatically that the Columns had been weather-proofed by skilled workers. We said that decayed portions had been removed, that an adequate coating of something or other had been applied to make those Columns safe for Demo—we mean, safe for another generation. That some party or parties didn't get in on this bit of information was proved conclusively the night of November 17.

On that date, somebody (darn 'em) sloshed the Columns generously with red and green paint, finished the job with a rousing "Beat Missouri!" (That Missouri played the Red-and-Green of Washington U. two days later is a pertinent point.) The vandalism was discovered at 2 a. m., Thursday, and at 3 a. m., a crew of janitors armed with firehose and eight gallons of paint remover went to work. When school opened in the morning there was no trace of paint on the Columns. It was all over the hardy janitorial crew.

Our point is this. Being firm believers in humans and in their nature, we must concede that the whole affair was prompted by a sincere desire to preserve the Columns for still another generation.

Interviewed at press time the Columns had little to say. The second pillar from the left, acting as spokesman, dismissed the matter with a blunt, "Once a year is enough, boys!"

St. Louis Alumnae Hear Mrs. Middlebush on Housing Problem

Pointing out the fact that no organized housing exists for at least 3000 of the students on the Missouri campus, Mrs. Frederick A. Middlebush, wife of the president of the University, asserted a low-cost dormitory project is the only solution to the problem. Mrs. Middlebush spoke at the fall luncheon meeting of the St. Louis Alumnae Association which was held at the Busy Bee Luncheon on November 6.

Mrs. Middlebush explained that at present but two dormitories exist on the campus, and both are for women. Of the 1339 women in attendance at the University, these two dormitories can care for but approximately 100. The remaining women not living in sorority houses, and men not living in fraternity homes, are forced to find quarters in boarding houses in Columbia.

"One young man had to sleep in the basement of the house where he was hired to fire the furnace, and when it rained and water seeped into the basement he had to walk on planks to avoid stepping in the water," she said.

Social life for the nonfraternity and nonsorority students is in need of improvement, Mrs. Middlebush asserted, and suggested the erection of a union building where they could congregate.

Between 18 and 20 per cent of the women students are working their way through school, and about 50 per cent of the men, she said.

Prof. Rogers Whitmore, chairman of the University's department of music, and a string ensemble composed of students of the department entertained the alumnae with six selections.

The luncheon meeting followed the "reunion" theme. The 1931-37 group of graduates and former students carried off honors for the largest attendance. The total number present was approximately 85. The Misses Steckman and McDaniel of McKendree College at Lebanon, Ill., attended the meeting. Among those present were Mrs. Earl F. Nelson and Mrs. George C. Willson, wives of the University curators; Mrs. Henry Gerling, wife of the superintendent of schools in St. Louis, and Mrs. Roscoe Anderson.

All credit for this splendid meeting goes to Mrs. I. O. Royse, president, and her co-workers. Other officers of the alumnae organization are: Vice-president, Miss Sara Dritt; treasurer, Mrs. O. J. Rotty, and secretary, Mrs. J. L. Mackay.

The next meeting of the organization will be held in the spring. A definite date will be announced later. St. Louis alumnae are urged to take active part in the work of this fine group.

Board of Directors Meets

Program for Arts and Science Week

Emphasizing fine arts, and covering nearly every phase of culture in education, Arts and Science Week this year at the University will include an intensive program starting Monday, Nov. 29, and ending Saturday, Dec. 4.

Painting exhibits will be open to the public throughout the week, Room 305 of the Library Building having modern American paintings, with Greek art on the third floor of Jesse Hall, and a display of Indian relics in Switzerland.

From Monday to Friday the program will be a general type, including the international debate between the University and the combined teams of Wales University and the University of Glasgow; the Workshop play, "Pride and Prejudice"; concerts by the University Chorus, orchestra, band, and glee club; and the concert at Brewer Field House, featuring Jascha Heifetz, violinist.

During Friday's assembly at 11 o'clock in the University Auditorium, Blake-More Godwin, director of the Toledo Museum of Art, will speak. Art will be featured at 2 o'clock in the afternoon when Prof. Kenneth Hudson conducts a reception for faculty and guests in Room 305 of the Library Building, and explains the paintings there.

The state high school debaters' assembly will take place over Friday and Saturday. A debate tournament on Friday afternoon from 2 to 5 o'clock will be the main event of the day. It will be followed by the first general session in the University Auditorium.

Business and speeches will occupy most of Saturday. The annual Missouri-Kansas debate at 8 o'clock in the University Auditorium will close the activities.

Junior colleges of the state will hold their annual conference on Saturday, the morning being devoted to a general program concerning problems of the junior college. The afternoon will consist of divisional conferences, in which separate phases of junior college work will be included.

★ Notes on Being Behind the Eight Ball

Let us state at this juncture that we have never, at no time, nor in any shape or form, posed as an infallible oracle. With every mail we are asked a lot of questions and we try to supply the answers. When they're extra tough we call in our consultants from the faculty. If they fail we just plead ignorance, nothing less.

Not long ago we were answering the morning mail with a liek-and-a-promise and told one correspondent that we were definitely "behind the eight ball" in regard to a certain matter.

"Whaddya mean, behind the eight ball?" was the snappy come-back. In other words our friend suggested that when it comes to eight balls we don't know what we are talking about. All set for a fast retort, we were considerably flabbergasted to discover that we actually didn't know where being behind the eight ball was. Our agents went scurrying about Columbia to get the answer. Pool halls, jelly joints, the library and local merchants were fine-tooth-combed. No luck.

Came then a terse note from our correspondent in charge of dispatches from the northeast corner of Francis Quadrangle. Dean Frank L. Martin plumbed the depths of his department of information and came up with this explanation.

"It is an expression used in 'race horse' pool. Player No. 1 attempts to pocket balls from one to eight. The opposition player attempts to pocket balls from nine to fifteen. Hence, to be behind the eight ball would stymie both of them."

Honest, now. How many of you knew that?

MISSOURIANS ON MANHATTAN

by C. G. Coburn, B.J. 32

New York City, November, 1937—Missourians are drawing rings around FRIDAY, Dec. 3, on their calendars since announcement was made that the N. Y. Alumni Association's Missouri Ball would be held that night in the Guard Room of the Park Lane Hotel. From all indications it's going to be a swank affair and several committees are committed to making it actually bigger and better than ever.

Festivities will begin at 9 o'clock in the evening with a get-together, described on the invitations as a "reception." From then on until very late, Jayhawk tailfeathers will fill the air, Cornhuskers will be soundly trounced and tall tales of campus life will mingle with the smoke-rings of retrospect, as young and old grads revive the Spirit of Mizzou.

Freddy Starr's crack dance band, a favorite with New York's night lifers, has been secured to provide tickle-toe for the party and Georges of the Park Lane promises a late supper that will be a knockout. And despite the high cost of New York living, the Committee has secured all this for the depression price of $2.50 per person.

President Bill Kahler and Secretary Bob Landman have to date appointed the following "Committee of Walking Delegates" for the affair from whom you may secure tickets and information: Lavern "Skip" Bloomer, Bill English, George Schuster, Glenn Degener, Jud Corbin, Merle Seleckman, Bill Shumate, Charles Parker, Sherlock Hibbs, Charlie Cornish, Marshall Houx, G. F. Shutze, Al Lowe, Vincil Harmon, Wilson Brown, Berry Holloway, Bill Maple and your correspondent. It is expected that this group will be added to. For information write Kahler or Landman at 195 Broadway, N. Y. C.

Walter W. Stewart, former M. U. man, has been elected president of Case, Pomeroy, Inc., big investment house in Wall Street . . . he's an outstanding economist among other things . . . Homer Croy, who writes some of the best movie scenarios and is a regular contributor to national mags, was back in Maryville recently for a visit . . . Carey Frances Weaver, of the faculty Weavers, is working on her M.A. at the N. Y. University School of Retailing . . . DeWitt Bishop, who attended M. U. for a while, is also enrolled in the same school . . . Laura "Trick" Allee, who recently returned to her home town of Eldon, Mo., writes

40 Years Ago

The preliminary University oratorical contest was held early this month. Following were the societies competing and their representatives: Union Literary Society, Price; Athenaeum Society, Houck and Kleinschmidt; Bliss Lyceum, Thompson and Harris.

Prof. W. C. Tindall was forced to give up his classes because of ill health. Dean H. J. Waters of the College of Agriculture took rooms for himself and Mrs. Waters at Dr. Watson's following the destruction by fire of his own residence, then known as the Hudson Mansion.

The Richmond Conservator had this to say about a former M. S. U. student: "Frank P. Divelbiss is mentioned as a probable candidate for Congress in the third district - - - Divelbiss is a brainy young Missourian, an orator, and a sterling gentleman and Democrat. If he runs he will be hard to catch."

While in Mexico, Mo., Dr. Richard Henry Jesse addressed the high school pupils and reminded them that their present building was just forty-eight hours older than the state university building - - - "almost causing them to be twins."

30 Years Ago

The Tigers defeated William Jewell 47 to 0 on Rollins Field. Coach Monilaw said the team "did as well as I could expect." Touchdowns were scored by Driver, Deatherage, Crain, Roberts, Rutherford and Axline. Miller kicked seven out of eight goals from touchdown. Only twelve minutes of the second half were played to allow William Jewell players to catch a train.

William S. Cowherd was guest of honor at a dinner given by Kansas City alumni. Speeches were made by Luthe T. Collier, Judge John F. Philips, Judge S. C. Douglas, George H. English and F. P. Sebree.

Ozment's orchestra led the dance at Barnwarmin' which was held in the University cattle barn. Miss Althea Holt was awarded first prize for the best costume of the evening.

Missouri 70, Tarkio 6.

Fifteen students entered Christian College during a shirt-tail parade and carried various items of women's apparel away with them. Only one was caught, but college authorities forgave him when he returned the pilfered articles.

An excellent musical program was given at a November assembly by Miss Myrtle Parker, soprano, and George Venable, violinist.

At St. Joseph Kansas beat the Tigers 4 to 0. It was the twelfth victory for the Jayhawks since the beginning of the rivalry in 1890.

Bernhard Loeb, a citizen of Columbia since 1872, died Nov. 16 in St. Louis. He was the father of the six Loeb brothers, Dr. H. W., Dr. Clarence, Dr. Virgil, Dr. Isidor, Leon and Alexander Loeb.

Dr. J. H. Coursault and Miss Edith L. Snyder chose Thanksgiving Day as the date for their wedding in Hannibal.

25 Years Ago

The first annual "M" men's banquet was held at the Virginia Grill. At the suggestion of Shannon Douglass an organization was perfected. Spencer Harris of Kansas City was named president; T. E. D. Hackney, vice-president; and Eddie Klein, secretary. The University did not officially give "M's" until 1900. To the men who played before this the "M" certificates that Prof. C. L. Brewer distributed were probably the most welcome thing of the evening. D. L. Shawhan, a member of the first Tiger team, was chief speaker at the banquet.

"H. E. Keim's University Orchestra of eight pieces has been employed by the University Missourian to play for the crowd in the University Auditorium on election night."

Clark J. Bright, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Bright of Columbia, and Miss Burton Starr were married in Annapolis, Md. Mr. Bright was an ensign in the navy.

Col. Green Clay of Mexico, Mo., who established the Rhodes Clay Scholarship, a sum of $5000, died at his home.

Woodrow Wilson won the presidential election by an overwhelming plurality. William Skalla, a freshman, who tried to beat his way home to St. Louis to vote, was shot in the thigh at St. Charles by the conductor of the train on which he was riding.

The average price paid for a meal at the University cafeteria in Lathrop Hall was 15 cents.

The engagement of Miss Marjorie MacArthur of St. Louis, a sophomore in the College of Arts and Science last year, and Robert Edward Ball, Jr., of Kansas City, a junior last year, has been announced.

C. E. Barkshire has been appointed to succeed J. S. Maddox as manager of the Co-op Store. He has been with the store for the last two years. (Mr. B. is still there)

William B. Hurt, 43 years old, a former student and member of Sigma Nu, died in St. Louis. He was the son of Prof. W. P. Hurt, for thirty years professor of mathematics at Christian College.

Practice for the Drake game was halted when only a handful of players appeared on Rollins Field. Investigation proved that most of the team had gone to their respective homes to vote.

Miss Lila Dalton, Miss Iva Thomas, Miss Louise Field, and Miss Eva Brendell, all members of the Class of 1912, were former Read Hall girls who came back to Columbia for the Nebraska game.

Bobby Lakenan, yell leader, was handing out tickets for the special 200-seat Tiger rooting section at Lawrence, Kan.

Walter Williams, Jr., died of typhoid fever in Parker Memorial Hospital. He had been ill three weeks. He was a junior in the School of Journalism and College of Arts and Science. A special obituary by Charles Ross appeared in the University Missourian.

The Tigers won the Missouri Valley cross country championship easily when runners Chapman, Wickham, Terry and Moss finished in 1-2-3-4 order. Ames, Kansas, Drake and Nebraska also competed.

Miss Mildred McBaine of Columbia and Henry N. Ess, Jr., of Kansas City were married Nov. 9 in Columbia. Mr. Ess, a graduate of the law class of 1911, was practicing in Kansas City.

The Tigers held "moonlight" practice for the Washington U. game. The ball was painted white to aid the players. People in the stands could see nothing but shadows on Rollins Field. The Tigers won 33 to 0.

Kansas, using a puzzling shift, the like of which had never been seen before in these parts, upset the Tigers 12 to 3. Mizou's only score came by way of a field goal drop-kicked by Shepard from the 50-yard line. The Kansas shift, however, far over-shadowed Shepard's great boot. The game was played on McCook Field in Lawrence.

10 Years Ago

Col. M. C. Kerth of the R. O. T. C. distributed mimeographed copies of "Old Missouri" among freshmen after hearing their version of the song which went, - - - "Proud art thou in classy beauty."

Kenneth Torrance, Marian Shockley, and Mona Carnahan had the leads in Workshop's production of "The Patsy." Others in the cast were Cy Coggins, Florence Doolittle, Mary Louise Hawthorne, Edmund Wolf, and Harold Kathman.

Brown and Rosenheim scored the touchdowns in Missouri's 13 to 0 victory over West Virginia. The University was host to 1400 parents at the game.

Prof. John Rufi was named to the faculty of the School of Education by the Board of Curators.

A chapter of Delta Sigma Phi fraternity was installed on the campus on Nov. 12. Officers of the new group were: President, David C. Leavell; vice-president, Roy Sunderwith; secretary, Glen Degner, and treasurer, Eugene Godfrey.

Collection of "cold" checks written by students will henceforward be speeded by Dean Albert K. Heckel.

Local newspapers noted that the slicker had almost completely done away with the umbrella. Painting designs on the backs of the raincoats was very popular among students. Tiger heads were numerous.

Missouri won the valley championship with its 20 to 7 Homecoming victory over Oklahoma. Lucas was elected captain for the 1928 season.

Missouri Valley Conference authorities were investigating charges that F. C. Cappon, head coach at K. U., had violated conference rules by scouting the M. U.-Iowa State game and by charting plays of the Tigers. Cappon resigned his position but firmly denied any culpability.
