The Master De Luxe Town Sedan

ITS OUTER BEAUTY REFLECTS ITS INNER QUALITY

Chevrolet has given as much care to the manufacture of hidden parts as to the fashioning of the bodies of this aristocrat of low-priced cars. Careful selection of materials—precision engineering—and rigid inspections—assure sterling quality all the way through. When you buy a Master De Luxe Chevrolet, you may expect performance that equals its beauty . . . comfort and safety fully as advanced as its streamline styling. The prices are an added inducement to choose Chevrolet for quality at low cost.

With the Editor

IT would be gratifying to many members of the University faculty if they knew how frequently we were asked about them on our present trip around-the-world.

Almost every alumnus with whom we had the pleasure of visiting asked to be remembered to one or more of their former professors. Though there never was any question on the point this further proves the important role members of the faculty play in keeping the alumnus loyal to his alma mater.

We regret that we do not have more space to allot to our column, Faculty Notes, but we promise to keep a closer tab on the faculty and mention them more often in the Alumnus.

THROUGHOUT the pages of the March issue of this magazine there were published according to our count approximately 750 names of alumni, former students, faculty members, students and other friends of the University. Naturally each individual reader will not know a majority of these 750 persons, but the average alumnus will recognize the names of many of his classmates and other friends. We are pleased that the magazine contained that lengthy a list of names and with your cooperation we hope to boost the number up to a 1000.

After all we contend that this publication is "A News Magazine of Personal Interest to You," and whenever we have the opportunity of printing a name we feel there is at least several among our readers who will relish a bit of news about that person.

BY the time this issue is on the press we will be on the deck of S. S. Rex with our eyes focused on the watery horizon for the first glimpse of our native land. It is hard for us to believe that six weeks have already passed—we've been coming and going so much, chatting with old friends and meeting new ones. "Six weeks—and only half way around the globe," we can hear the travelers of the next generation exclaim. It is not our worry or concern how traffic will be directed in the stratosphere and posterity may think what it likes about our tiny seagoing vessels of 50,000 tons and our trains which poke around on the earth's surface at an average speed of fifty-two miles an hour, but won't it be a wonderful thing when everyone can return for Homecoming and not even miss an hour's work at the office?

TO EUROPE THIS SUMMER

The vivid cities of Europe and its calm and lovely countryside . . . festivals, art exhibits, summer schools, carnivals, sport tournaments . . . cathedrals, castles, birth-places of genius in the mother countries of America . . . the romantic past mingling with the exhilarating present in a new Old World that makes a visit to it still the great vacation adventure!

First the dream, and then the plan to make the dream reality. To get the most out of a trip abroad, in time expended, in money spent, and in sheer pleasure, it is wisest to plan it carefully in advance. There are a number of ways to see Europe enjoyable and profitably.

1. By joining a congenial, escorted group on a tour such as AMEXTOURS offer. There are 65 AMEXTOURS of varying durations to practically every country on the European continent. Norway, Sweden, Denmark, Spain, Ireland, Finland and Russia, yearly becoming more popular with American travelers, have also been included. Prices are moderate; tourist class accommodations used on the Atlantic.
2. By selecting one of the independent, pre-arranged tours entitled—TRAVAMEX. There are 10 TRAVAMEX Tours of from 15 to 35 days' duration in Europe, exclusive of the ocean voyage both ways. They connect with any sailing on any ship you choose. The cost of European land portion of tour averages about $11 per day.
3. By telling your plans, where you wish to go, how much you wish to spend, etc., to an experienced travel organization and having them submit a suggested itinerary, and, upon your approval, make your bookings and reservations for you in advance. The American Express travel offices in the United States help you make your plans and preparations, and their world-wide chain of offices, interpreters and representatives serve you while you travel.

THREE new pieces of literature, well illustrated and showing maps, describing each of these methods of traveling in Europe, have just been printed. Send for the one which interests you. Their titles are: "AMEXTOURS OF EUROPE," "TRAVAMEX TOURS IN EUROPE," and "IT'S EASY TO PLAN YOUR OWN TOUR OF EUROPE."

Whichever method you choose, impartial information and assistance is yours before you leave home and while traveling, from the

ALUMNI MEETINGS

Big Attendance Expected For Law Day, April 27

Gov. Guy B. Park, the members of the Supreme Court of Missouri, and Edward J. White of St. Louis will be the honor guests at the thirty-fifth annual law alumni banquet, April 27, at the Tiger Hotel. Judge Frank E. Atwood, president of the Missouri Bar Association, will be the principal speaker.

The day's program will begin at 10 o'clock in the morning when Frank C. Mann, of Springfield, president of the law alumni, addresses the students and graduates in Tate Hall. At two o'clock in the afternoon, the Law School Foundation and the trustees of the foundation will hold their annual meetings in Tate Hall.

Foundation Officers

The officers of the foundation are president, Earl F. Nelson, St. Louis; vice-presidents, R. B. Caldwell, Dupuy G. Warwick, both of Kansas City; W. E. Masterson, dean of School of Law; secretary, A. M. Meyer, Columbia; treasurer, R. B. Price, Columbia.

At four o'clock that afternoon the Order of the Coif will hold its annual meeting at which honorary membership will be extended to Edward J. White, LL.B. '91, former president of the Law School Foundation, former president of the Missouri Bar Association, vice-president and general solicitor of the Missouri Pacific Lines in St. Louis who will be presented by Judge Atwood, last year's recipient of the honor. At this meeting which is open to the public the members of the 1935 senior class who have been elected to the Order will be initiated.

A cordial invitation is extended to all alumni and former students of the School of Law to join with the students and the faculty in the annual event. Those who expect to attend the dinner are requested to notify Mrs. Owen H. Price, Tate Hall, Columbia. The cost of the dinner will be $1.25.

THE COVER

"The Law Barn"

Featured on this month's cover is Lee H. Tate Hall, to which alumni and former students of the School of Law are cordially invited for their annual law day exercises. This building situated at the corner of Ninth Street and Conley Avenue was named in honor of Lee H. Tate, A.B. and LL.B. 1913, whose father, the late Mr. F. R. Tate of St. Louis and Mrs. Tate made possible by their generous donation.

D. C. Alumni Luncheons

Miss Madge Reese, Class of 1914, addressed the Washington, D. C. Alumni Association, March 13, concerning her trip last summer to Alaska. Her talk dealt principally with the climate crops grown and some of the home economic activities in Alaska.

On March 27, James E. Pixlee, former student, director of Athletics of George Washington University gave an interesting football talk speaking of plays and tactics for the individual games of the season and telling how coaches use the material obtained for them by scouts.

N. Y. Alumni Plan Gala Homecoming

For "Bob" and Mrs. Hill, April 25

As the magazine goes to press R. L. "Bob" Hill, director of alumni activities, and Mrs. Hill, are abroad the S. S. Rex en route to New York City where they will be greeted by Missourians, April 25, and with whom they will enjoy a dinner dance at the Hotel Piccadilly in Manhattan.

At this east coast gathering of alumni and former students Webster N. Jones of Carnegie Institute of Technology, Pittsburgh, will also be welcomed as a guest speaker. "Missouri Members of the American Society of Chemical Engineers will be with us, too . . . and there will be entertainment by radio and stage stars," writes Judd Corbin, secretary-treasurer of the University of Missouri Alumni Association of New York.

Volney McFadden, president of the association, promises that this will be one of the biggest and best Missouri parties, and a gala homecoming to "Bob" and Mrs. Hill, who have had the good fortune to visit with alumni and former students on their trip around the world which he is taking as president of Rotary international.

Yokohama

On their arrival in Yokohama Mr. and Mrs. Hill were happy to be greeted by R. F. Moss, '04, who was at the docks. They also enjoyed a visit with Toda Cho, A.B., B.S. in Ed. '09, who is now settled as a prominent business man of Tokyo. The S. S. President Coolidge was twenty-four hours late docking at Yokohama having encountered the heaviest seas in the thirty years' experience of her skipper, Captain Ahrens. At one time the storm was so terrific the President Coolidge simply dove to, to ride it out.

Missourians in Japan have been especially fortunate recently in having visits from fellow alumni able to bring the latest news straight from headquarters. Six weeks before "Bob" and Mrs. Hill passed through John B. Gordon, B.S. Ag. '09, spent a day in Tokyo on his way to Manila. Mr. Gordon, Washington, D. C., visited the Philippines in the interests of vegetable oil business. During his day in Tokyo he met Toda Cho, R. F. Moss, Glenn Eabb and John B. Powell.

J. B. Powell, B.J. 1910, a resident of Shanghai, was in Tokyo temporarily on a mission for the Chicago Tribune, of which he is the principal Far East correspondent. Just before his visit to Japan "J. B." spent three months in Moscow and Siberia, writing for the Tribune a notable series of articles on Soviet Russia.

E. K. Carter, C.E. '12, president of the Carter-Water Construction Co. of Kansas City and Dr. Ray T. Dufford, Ph.D. '31, professor of physics at the University, received the honorary degree summa cum laude, during the recent St. Pat Week celebrations.

Lt. Col. Raymond E. Lee of the U. S. Army has notified The Alumnus of his new address, which is, c/o The American Embassy, London, England. He was formerly stationed in Vermont.

Engineering Alumni Reelect C. W. Brown

C. W. Brown of Jefferson City was reelected president of the Engineering Alumni Association, and E. E. Dittbrenner, also of Jefferson City was named head of the Board of Trustees of the Engineering Foundation, at the meetings of the respective organizations during St. Pat's Week in Columbia.

R. E. Duffy, of Jefferson City, was chosen secretary-treasurer of the alumni association, and Prof. L. W. Helmreich of the Engineering School was elected representative on the General Alumni Board.

The other officers of the Engineering Foundation chosen were: 1st vice-president, F. V. Ragsdale, Memphis, Tenn.; second vice-president, Prof. J. Roy Wharton of the College of Engineering; secretary, L. A. Nickell, of Columbia; treasurer, B. D. Simon, Columbia. Trustees elected were E. E. Dittbrenner, C. W. Brown, W. B. Rollins (Kansas City) and Prof. J. Roy Wharton of Columbia.

Directory

Of special interest to all Engineering alumni is the announcement that there will be published a 1935 directory of alumni and former students of their college. Larry Smarr, editor of the Shamrock, is assembling the directory and may be addressed in care of the College of Engineering. There are still some alumni with whom the college has not been able to establish contact and it is hoped they will respond promptly.

Educational Articles

In the March issue of The Journal of Educational Sociology, published in New York City, appeared writings by four men whose names were familiar to the University of Missouri alumni. H. W. Prentiss, Jr., A.B. '03, (A.M. Cincinnati, LL.D. Hampden-Sydney College) president of Armstrong Cork Co., Lancaster, Pa., gave, "A Business Man's View of Public-School Education."

E. H. Sanguinet, B.S. in Ed. '23, A.M. '26, (Ph.D., Columbia) is the author of "Adaptation of the Schools to the Social Order in the Philippine Islands." Dr. Sanguinet has had a varied experience in industry and engineering and after entering his studies had several years in schoolwork in the Philippines.

E. L. Morgan, director of training for public welfare at the University of Missouri and professor of rural sociology contributed the article, "Surviving Schools."

A story on "School Costs and School Service" by J. L. Meriam, editor of the Journal, was also included. To quote "J. L. Meriam is supplementing his well-known experiment at the University of Missouri by directing two schools in the vicinity of Los Angeles with emphasis upon a curriculum in terms of home life and community affairs."

University Library Has Many "Friends"

The University of Missouri library is indebted every year to its "friends" for nearly half of its annual accessions.

Among the list of donors to the library during the past year is Honorable Fred Dearing, Ambassador to Peru, A.B. '01, whose donations included a valuable three volume set of Japanese art work, and several hundred officially printed documents of Peru.

Missouri Legislature Honors Pres. Williams

The House of Representatives recently adopted a resolution, which was concurred by the State Senate, honoring Dr. Walter Williams, president of the University of Missouri. The resolution reads:

"Whereas, Walter Williams has recently resigned as President of the University of Missouri because of ill health; and,

"Whereas, his entire life has been devoted to the public service of the State, and for many years he has unwaveringly and unstintingly supported the University of Missouri; and,

"Whereas, more credit for the success of the University of Missouri is due him than any other one living man;

"Be it resolved, by the House of Representatives of the State of Missouri, the Senate concurring therein, that we express to him our sincere and heartfelt appreciation for the inestimable service he has rendered to the State of Missouri and to its great University.

"Be it further resolved, that we felicitate him upon the improved condition of his health, and express to him the sincere and earnest hope for his early and complete recovery and assure him that although he may shortly sever his connection with the University as its President, he will always retain the sincere regard, love and affection of the people of the University of Missouri.

Dr. Williams will retire as President of the University of Missouri at the end of this academic term. He expects to continue as Dean of the School of Journalism, which he founded at the University in 1908.

Delta Gamma Reunion Guests

The following alumni were reunion guests of the local chapter of Delta Gamma during the week-end of March 15: Kathleen Kidd, Ann Arpe, Mary Jo Arpe, Evelyn Underwood, Virginia Forline, Kay Smith, of St. Louis; Marjorie Kollman, Janet Vandewater, Catherine Cornell New, of Kansas City; Mrs. Basil Gauntlett, Mrs. Norton Shepherd, Mrs. Clyde Shepherd, Caroline Hook, Mary Rhoda Monin, Mary Agnes St. Clair, Edna Wood, of Columbia; Billie Allebach, Mary Alice Lee, of Jefferson City; Jane Poole of Milan, Mo.

To Kansas State College

The April issue of Successful Farming carried a picture of F. W. Atkeson and an account of his becoming dairy department head at Kansas State College, April 1. "For the last 14 years Atkeson has held a similar position at the University of Idaho," continues the story. He was an assistant in the dairy husbandry department at Kansas State in 1918 and 1919.

Honors Judge Otis

The St. Joseph Bar Association held a banquet, April 20th, at the Hotel Roubidoux, in commemoration of the ten years of service of Judge Merrill E. Otis, A.B. '06, A.M., LL.B. '10, as a member of the federal judiciary. Judge Otis received his appointment in 1925 from President Coolidge. Many alumni and classmates of Judge Otis were in attendance at the banquet.

Reviews Book For St. Louis Alumnae

The regular meeting of the Missouri Alumnae Association of St. Louis met Friday afternoon, April 5, at the home of Mrs. C. C. Wagner, 7337 Pershing. After a short business meeting Mrs. M. E. Boisseau gave a review of "Wanderer's Circle," after which refreshments were served. Those present at this meeting were: Katherine Prehn Wagner, Doris Swink Herald, Martha Raines Orten, Louise Dickson Stark, Katherine Keiser, Clara Davis Fuller, Mabel Banks Forsman, Lucille Klein Draybelle, Louise McGee Rotty, Mamie Marshall Ocher, Adele Waugh Boisseau, Meta Eitzen and Sara Dritt.

Benefit Bridge

Mrs. Stark was chairman of the Scholarship Fund Bridge Benefit given March 15 at which there were over sixty-four persons in attendance. The following won attendance prizes: Esther Heinicke, Mrs. John Sartelle, Mrs. J. T. Garrett, Mrs. M. E. Boisseau, Mrs. Lucille E. Hickman, Mrs. C. Gossran, H. Reincke, Ethel Kelledy, Mrs. J. W. Crockett, Mrs. P. A. Sandell, Sarah Dritt, Logan Fuller.

Modernistic Textbook

Charles O. Wright, A.M. '21, has collaborated with three other authors in writing, "Our Dynamic Society," a new text for high school sociology courses. The text with its modernistic illustrations is unusual in its presentation of material. Mr. Wright was formerly of Mexico, Mo., and for several years was principal of the Atchison, Kan., high school.

Bryn Mawr Fellowship

Ruth McDaniel, of Nevada, Mo., A.B. '26, M.A. '28, B.S. in Ed. '33, who is now teaching at the Southwest Baptist College at Bolivar has been granted a resident fellowship in Romance languages at Bryn Mawr College in Pennsylvania.

Sig Ep National Head

Paul G. Koontz, A.B. '17, LL.B. '18, Kansas City, grand president of Sigma Phi Epsilon fraternity, was honored guest April 13, at the Daniel Boone Tavern, at a dinner and dance given by the local chapter to which eleven chapters of the fraternity were represented.

National Appointment

The Secretary of Agriculture, Henry Wallace, recently announced that Gerald B. Thorne has been appointed director of the A.A.A. livestock and feed grains divisions. Thorne has been executive assistant to Chester C. Davis, A.A.A. administrator.

Thorne, B.S. in Ag. '25, A.M. '28, a native Missourian, has been connected with the U. S. Department of Agriculture since March, 1929.

Correction

On the Interesting People page in the last issue of the Alumnus appeared the biography of William Gerig including a comment on his unusual "career whose range had extended from Panama to Alaska and covered public works approximately over (it should have read) two billion dollars."

Rutledge Appointed As 1885 Reunion Chairman

Robert S. Rutledge, LL.B. '85, has been appointed general chairman of the 1885 Class Reunion to preside over its activities during Commencement Week in Columbia. Mr. Rutledge is an attorney in Cape Girardeau, and may be addressed there in care of the F. & M. Bank Building.

The thirty-two members of the class are invited to come to Columbia in time to visit with their old faculty and town friends and enjoy a stroll about the campus which will be a revelation for some of them who have made only limited visits since their student days. Perhaps there is some one or several members of the class who have not seen the Columns as they are now pictured for in the days of '85 these same stone pillars were a part of the administration building.

Indeed there will be many happy hours spent in visiting and certainly the "Homecomers" will feel a renewed pride in their alma mater of today.

Commencement will be a busy time for these special guests and their families and friends whom they are privileged to bring. Tuesday, June 4, has been set aside as Alumni Day and will be the occasion of the fiftieth anniversary banquet at Harris' Cafe. Faculty and other Columbia friends of the class will be invited to join them at this celebration.

Earlier in the day the class will hold an informal meeting in Jesse Hall at which time they will transact business and elect permanent officers. After this they will adjourn to The Columns where a group picture will be taken of the Class of 1885, and a photograph of the class with their families.

During the Commencement exercises in Rothwell Gymnasium the 1885 class as guests of honor will be seated on the rostrum and introduced by the President of the University.

The reunion is going to be a get-together worth coming miles to attend. It has been suggested that the members look through their souvenirs for old photographs of their college days to bring along.

To date they are some who have not filled out their University data blanks, which are kept on file in the Alumni Office for reference. Those who have not done so are urged to return theirs or write for new ones in order that up-to-date news of the graduates may be on hand.

The local members of the class are looking forward to the return of their classmates and will welcome any word from them.

Prof. W. S. Williams of the faculty of the College of Engineering is local chairman. Prof. Williams' address is 202 Switzer Hall, or 815 Virginia Avenue. The other members of the local committee are Mrs. J. W. Connoway (Eleanor Ficklin), 603 South Fifth, and Richard Emberson, 209 Mumford Hall, or Gordon Apartments.

Watch the May issue of the Alumnus for the Reunion program and details.

Louis S. Bumgardner, A.B. '27, M.A. '28, Box 1223, Salt Lake City, Utah, also subscribed to the fund which made possible the "Former Students" gift of a microscope to Dr. E. B. Branson.

26th Annual Journalism Week Alumni Day to Be April 30

TUESDAY'S program of the twenty-sixth Annual Journalism Week, April 29 to May 4, is designated as Alumni Day, upon which occasion Stanley Andrews, president of the Journalism Alumni Association will be introduced by Frank L. Martin, associate dean of the School. Nine other graduates will be presented as guest-speakers on the day's program.

Thursday evening at 6:30 o'clock graduates and former students will reunite at the Tiger Hotel for the Annual Alumni Dinner, business meeting and election of officers. Later in the evening the association will serve as hosts at a reception for all Journalism Week Visitors at the Pi Beta Phi house, 522 Rollins.

The present officers serving under Mr. Andrews are vice-president, Charles Clayton, Globe-Democrat, St. Louis; secretary, Mrs. Ruth Prather Midyett, Columbia; treasurer, Roscoe B. Ellard, of the School of Journalism; representative to the General Alumni Board, Fred May, Laclede County Republican, Lebanon, Mo.

Wheeler McMillan, editor of the Country Home, New York City, as president and Walter H. Lloyd, editor of the Ohio Farmer, as secretary of the American Agricultural Editor's Association are cooperating with Dean Walter Williams and Associate Dean Frank L. Martin in emphasizing agricultural journalism aspect of the program. The Agricultural Editors will hold a meeting of their own on May 2 and 3.

At noon May 2 by means of a local hook-up with N. B. C. the National Farm and Home Hour will broadcast from Columbia a discussion engaged jointly by C. V. Gregory of The Prairie Farmer, Sam Guard of the Breeders' Gazette, and W. A. Cochel of the Kansas City Weekly Star, retired president of the General Alumni Association of the University.

Speakers

The increasing number of outstanding guest speakers not only lends prestige to the program but confirms its significance as a traditional activity sponsored by the oldest and most established school of journalism in the world. Among those persons who will speak on the program are M. Camille LeMercier, general manager of the Havas News Agency; Barry Paris, editor of the International News Service; R. J. Cruikshank, representative of the London Daily News Chronicle; all of New York City; Mrs. Walter Ferguson, columnist for Scripps-Howard newspapers, Tulsa; Tom Wallace, editor of the Louisville (Ky.) Times.

This year the traditional banquet which brings the week's activities to a conclusion, dignified and fitting, will be called the Farm-Journalism Banquet. Unusual souvenirs and unique decorations will be contributed by the Agricultural Editors Association. Preceding the banquet the University band will give a half-an-hour concert. Alumni are urged to get their tickets at their earliest convenience from the office of the Dean of the School of Journalism, as the banquet attendance will be limited to 600 guests.

Alumni On Program

Stanley Andrews: B.J. '21, President of the Journalism Alumni Association, publisher of the Arkansas Farmer, Little Rock; has served on the staffs of the Sedalia (Mo.) Capital, Kansas City Journal, El Dorado (Ark.) News, and Jonesboro (Ark.) Tribune. Owner and Manager of Radio Station KARK for two years.

He is a well known economist and has served on the faculties of the University of Missouri, Cornell, and New York. Will discuss "The Work of the Consumers Advisory Board."

Leo Wolfsohn, B.J. '22, is the managing editor of the Milwaukee (Wis.) Leader. Also been on the copy desk of the Chicago Daily News, and the Milwaukee Journal. Subject: "What a Managing Editor Does."

Spring Harbingers of Productive Autumn

Here's how James M. Gould of the St. Louis Post-Dispatch describes Missouri's progressive football spirit and new material. Read what he says—

A New Day Is Dawning at Mizzou 118 Men Out for Football Work

By James M. Gould
Of the Post-Dispatch Sport Staff

Don Faurot's Missouri University "football factory" has begun production. Designed to once more make popular the "Tiger Brand" of gridiron goods and assured of a ready market from thousands of loyal alumni, Head Coach Faurot as production manager has installed Assistants Simpson, Stan-kowski and Edwards in charge of the various departments and these department heads now can report considerable progress.

Much of the material being used in production is raw, most of it green, indeed, but there is a heaven of tried and true stuff which makes for hope for the finished product. "Materials" are big, many of them fast and all are in deadly earnest. It is of such that football teams are made.

Coach Faurot's spring call evoked instant response. There was a week of work indoors. In recent years, many candidates fell out or were thrown out after the first week. This spring, the first indoor roll call showed 118 names. With work outdoors begun, not once have there been fewer than 105 men in action. "In action" is the proper descriptive phrase. There are no sightseers in football togs at Missouri any more.

A New Spirit in the Air

What impresses the observer is the "change in the air" at Columbia. For three years, outsiders watching the Tigers prepare for their weekly slaughter were affected by the apparent hopelessness of the players. Oh, that doesn't mean they didn't fight during games. They did but, nevertheless, there was an air of "Well, let's get it over," which was instantly sensed by the interested onlookers. That's gone—definitely departed. Chances are the Tigers, with a tough schedule, will take some beatings again this year. But they won't take it, or them, lying down and, immediately after one game, they'll start getting ready for the next, and they won't be hopeless about it, either. Such is the effect of "Faurotism" as applied to the invalid sport at Missouri.

There's one determination of the young head coach which is worthy of more than passing comment. He was asked how many of the 118 would be left on the squad after spring practice.

"Why, 118," he answered, and seemed surprised at the question. "I'm not cutting anybody off this squad. I don't believe in that. It hurts the feelings and confidence of the youngster in the first place.

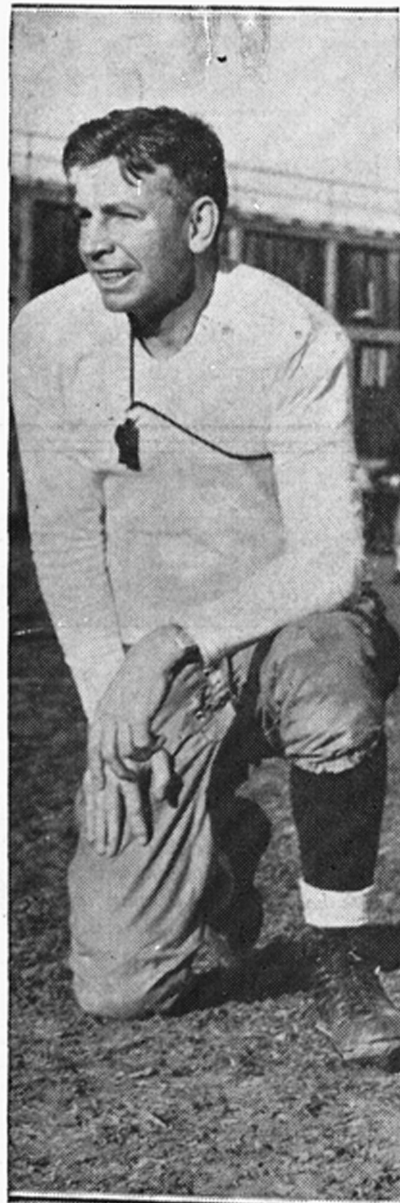

This article and these pictures are reprinted with the kind permission of the St. Louis Post-Dispatch and Mr. Gould.

"Then," he added, "how are you going to tell that a chap who doesn't look good in his first time out hasn't in him the making of a good football player? How many fine players have you known that have developed late? Gosh, come to think of it, I was a junior before I made the Missouri team myself! We coaches are not dealing with ready-made varsity teams here. We've got to develop them from men who voluntarily choose the university as their school. We believe this developing is in the true spirit of college athletics and that's the plan we are going to follow. If we attain success through the plan, that'll be fine. If we don't we'll continue to believe that we were following the right path. No, sir; there won't be a single man cut off the Missouri U. football squad as long as I am in charge."

Taking a look at Faurot's material for 1935, we find that he has 16 lettermen out, with two more veterans due out in the fall. These lettermen are Barney Finkel and Clark Miller, guards; Saldofsky, Hader, Dick Miller and Ferguson, tackles; Kourne,

INTERESTING PEOPLE...

... Among Missouri Alumni

JOHN N. EDY, B.S. in C.E. '05, C.E. '09, Sigma Chi, is city manager of Dallas, and is known as the man who brought "order out of chaos" for that Texas city.

Mr. Edy, born in Kimswick, Mo., 1883, was outstanding in his college days as an athlete having lettered 3 years in baseball. He has been characterized as a man with the will to succeed ever since he took over his first job. He worked in the city engineering department of St. Louis and later became Chief Engineer for the Montana Highway Department. His initial appointment as city manager was in Berkeley, Cal. During his residence there he took graduate work at the University of California receiving an M.A. degree in 1926 and lecturing for two years at Leland Stanford University on public management.

He was then called to Flint, Mich., as city manager and at the end of four months he had saved that city $104,000. Mr. Edy's ability was recognized throughout the country to the extent of his being first choice for the executive position when Dallas inaugurated the city manager plan in May, 1931. It has since been computed that he saves the tax payers of that city $2,000 a day.

Mrs. Edy was formerly Miss Mary Jane Brown of De Soto, Mo. They have one son, John N. ("Jack") Edy, Jr.

JOHN ASHTON, M.A. '24, Ph.D. '26, editor of The Texas Grower and Valley Farmer since 1927, is an internationally known writer on agricultural subjects and rural customs.

He spent three years on large haciendas in Mexico after he had graduated from the A. & M. College of Texas. Then he studied in Paris, France, and later became European correspondent of the Breeder's Gazette, until the outbreak of the World War when he volunteered for one year in the French Military service. For the next three years he saw service in the British ranks. He was decorated with the British Victory and General Service Medals and the French Commemorative War Medal.

In 1922 and 1927 Dr. Ashton was decorated by the French Government and the Belgium Government for his writings on French and Belgium agriculture respectively. Especially well known is his "The World's Food Supply" in Bellows-Durham Book of Rural Life.

After three years as associate editor of Breeder's Gazette, Chicago, Dr. Ashton, from 1922 to 1927, served as an officer on the Missouri State Board of Agriculture. During this time he wrote several monographs on Missouri's livestock and collaborated with Dean Walter Williams in writing, "Missouri: Mother of the West," Vol. 1, 1930. He returned to Europe in 1934 to continue his study of agriculture.

Dr. Ashton married Miss Maria Teresa Arneri of Lombardy, Italy. They have two daughters; Jacqueline, born in 1920, and Estelle, born in 1921.

RALPH H. TURNER, B.J. '16, one-time president of the Journalism Alumni Association, is serving as Southwest Manager of the United Press in Kansas City.

Mr. Turner was born May, 1895, in Kennard, Penn. Later when his family moved to Bartlesville, Okla., he heard frequent reports of an experimental School of Journalism at the University of Missouri, which he decided to try out for himself. In those undergraduate days, "Scoop", as he was known to his classmates, was an active member of Sigma Chi, Sigma Delta Chi, and Mystical Seven.

Immediately upon graduation Mr. Turner accepted the coveted offer of becoming a staff member of the Japan Advertiser in Tokyo. He later corresponded for the United Press in that city and then in 1918 returned to the United States to work for the Kansas City Star, and later the New York Evening Post.

In 1919 he resumed his affiliations with the United Press serving in New York City, Mexico City, Washington, D. C., London and in Kansas City where he is now stationed.

In 1921 he married Miss Lyle Hayes. They have one son, Theodore Hayes Turner.

SO LITTLE... SO LOVABLE

and so dependent on you

WHAT excitement there was when she got her first tooth. And her second! And now there are seven. Already she is making brave attempts to say a word or two.

Much of your life is given over to keeping her well and happy. For she is so little and lovable—and so dependent on you.

During the day and through the darkness of night you have a feeling of safety and security because of the telephone. It is an ever-watchful guardian of your home—ready to serve you in the ordinary affairs of life and in time of emergency.

In office and store and factory and on the farm the telephone is an equally important part of every activity.

The telephone would not be what it is today if it were not for the nation-wide Bell System. Its unified plan of operation has developed telephone service to its present high efficiency and brought it within reach of people everywhere.

An extension telephone in your bedroom, sun room, kitchen or nursery will save many steps each day. It insures greater safety and privacy yet the monthly charge is small.

Mason, Powell and Grenda, ends; Coombs, Londe, Houston, Beasley, Angello and Castle, backs. Two lettermen who have been excused from spring work because of extra studies are Biggs and Lochiner, regulars in 1934. Both are backs.

It is noticeable that Coach Faurot hasn't a "lettered" center, but he has many splendid candidates. Three of the leading ones are from the St. Louis district—Houston Betty of Kirkwood, who captained the Tiger freshman last fall; Bill Harsh, also of Kirkwood, and Julius Jouret, formerly a Central High linesman.

Other prominent "new men" are Frank Heidel, a 215-pound tackle from Cleveland High, and Victor Gray, a tackle from Montgomery City, who, weighing 247, is the biggest man on the squad. He's fast, too, and a mighty likely candidate. Londe, who shared the quarterback position with the departed Angelo Carideo last year, appears to have the inside call for the signal-calling job this year. Londe weighs only 155 but he's smart and fast.

One of the best backs on the squad is the experienced Jack Frye. Frye, from Houston, Tex., transferred two years ago from Rice Institute and played a year on that team. Being a "transfer" student, he was ineligible at Missouri last season.

118 Players

The squad, numbering, as it does, 118, is the largest in the history of the game at Columbia. It is probable that the 1935 varsity squad will outweigh the rather light 1934 group, but that won't be the main difference. That will be in morale. Somehow, in only a few short weeks, Coaches Faurot and Simpson, still together, have brought back the old Missouri tradition. You remember, the one that used to let the Tigers push the Nebraska Cornhuskers off the field on occasion.

One drawback this spring has been the necessity for the older men to "unlearn" the Notre Dame system which has been in vogue at the university for the past three years. Faurot uses a Warner-Faurot system which is entirely different from the one Carideo taught. The plays are different, as are the blocking and defense in general. The system is similar to, but not exactly like that Coach Faurot learned from his predecessor, Gwynn Henry. Of course, the new men have learned a variety of systems, but they, too, were taught the Notre Dame code last year as freshmen. So, they've some unlearning to do.

Faurot is a believer in spring scrimmage, though not an adherent of the "none at all in the fall" theory. He believes most of the "rough stuff" should come in the spring, because there is no game to take its place. Also, Coach Don isn't fooling himself a bit.

pie enough to think that we can accomplish miracles in a single year. We have a tough schedule after the opening two games, for we meet Colorado, Iowa State, Nebraska, Oklahoma, Washington, Kansas State and Kansas U., and that's a mouthful for any team in any class. But we know we're on the right track and we're going to follow it."

They are on the right track. Only a few weeks in charge, Coaches Faurot and Simpson have brought football consciousness back to the University of Missouri. It had been absent without leave for some time.

On only one or two days have there been less than 10 full teams in action on Freshman Field. The laws of percentage almost demand that two good elevens can be made out of that much raw material, no matter how raw.

The Varsity football team defeated the alumni eleven by a 38 to 7 score, April 13, at Rollins Field. A crowd of 2000 saw the game. Ed McMillan, '34 center, playing at fullback for the alumni, intercepted a pass and raced 82 yards for a touchdown. Mason, Fry, Mahley, D. Johnson, Beezley, and Londe made consistent gains for the Varsity.

Harold Starr was elected captain of the 1935-36 wrestling team at the annual banquet, March 22, celebrating the close of the season. He became interested in the sport when in high school. Coach Charles Fisher of the University noticed his natural ability and asked him to come to Missouri.

MEMORY'S LANE

25 Years Ago

The new coach for the 1910 football team will be William M. Hollenbach, former captain and fullback of the Pennsylvania eleven. He is twenty-four years old, and coached the undefeated Penn State Team of last season.

Missouri Valley baseball team defeated the Tigers in their first game of the season, 4 to 3.

Miss Constance Latshaw was elected president of the Y. W. C. A. Others chosen to office are: Alice Richardson, Eleanor Keith, Sue Hutchison.

H. H. Kinyon is elected president of the Cosmopolitan Club. Others named to office and to committee chairmanships are: Sophie Hersch, W. W. Greene, P. E. Swindle, E. R. Albin, Alexander Goodman, Paul Gomez, K. M. Louis, M. A. Lowenberg, and T. Yoshida.

Among the new rules passed by the University women are these: no girl shall have more than four evening engagements a week; any girl leaving her house during the evening shall inform the chaperon where she is going; there shall be no driving after dark; there shall be no strolling after 9:30 p. m. and then only in frequented places.

The class of 1910 numbers 407.

A. C. Remley, tackle of the Tiger football team, suffered a broken rib in spring practice.

President A. Ross Hill of the University is ill with the mumps.

Harry Wilcox has accepted a position with the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy Railroad.

Jessie Raithel was voted the most popular University girl in the Savitar contest. Efalie Brown and Laura Snodgrass ran second and third respectively. Irene Waugh and Laura Jo Schwabe also received over 175 votes.

The contract has been let for the erection of a three-story brick structure at 817 Broadway for C. B. Miller.

A popular discussion throughout the country is Why the High Cost of Living?

Miss Romaine Roach of the Kappa Alpha Theta house recently had as her guest, Helen Leggett of Carthage.

Miss Amalie Schmidt was elected May Queen.

Plans are underway for the M. U. cadet band to tour the state this summer.

Dr. E. P. Smith purchased the Gordon Hotel.

For while it was feared that James E. Pixlee, football player, would lose his eyesight as a result of an explosion in the chemistry laboratory. He suffered face burns.

Mark Twain died at his home in Redding, Conn. the afternoon of April 21.

There are fifteen honor fraternities at the University.

The new $100,000 hotel to be elected at 7th and Broadway will be built in the shape of a "U" around a large court.

Columbia with eighteen miles of paved streets and accessible sixty miles of macadamized road has only ten automobiles owned privately.

Real Estate Men estimate that between fifty and 100 residences are being built in Columbia.

Fine weather, unique sideshows, and a big supply of confetti got the Farmers' Fair off to such a fine start that everything was sold out by evening. Gertrude Lyon won the prize as the most beautiful girl at the Fair before six o'clock. W. A. Walkins won a watch for coming out first in the sack race. F. J. Wright won the wheelbarrow race, and E. J. Huber the potato race. D. C. Spangler was chosen best speller. Lillian Stevinson was presented a silver loving cup as the Best Lady Rider. Best Show on the Grounds prize went to N. W. Kaelke for his whirling table. "Puny" Bluck was the center of attraction when he attempted to ride the table.

50 Years Ago

E. T. Rollins and Rollins Hockaday are visiting in New Orleans.

Dr. A. W. McAlester is spending six months in London, Vienna, and Paris. He is making this (his second) visit in search of greater learning.

Sam Tipton and T. F. Millard visited at their homes in Rolla.

Miss Jessie Cudworth visited relatives and friends in Mexico recently.

During Commencement

As Commencement draws near great interest is manifest in the exercises of the occasion. The meeting of the Missouri Press Association will occupy part of the week. The Jefferson monument will be unveiled by Senator Vest. The alumni will be addressed by S. E. Elkins. A supper will be given in the new library with toasts from the most distinguished men of our country. The dedication of the new chapel will be held at that time.

The thirteenth annual law commencement of the Missouri State University took place in Haden's Opera House, March 26. After the opening prayer Judge P. Bliss, dean of the law department, addressed the gathering. Special commendation was paid to three theses which were written by C. H. Skinner, H. P. Wood, and J. M. Clary. Good music by Prof. Pannell's orchestra interspersed the program. Dr. S. S. Laws, president of the University, conferred degrees upon the following: A. D. Burnes, J. M. Clary, S. P. Dorman, J. C. Ewing, T. N. Haynes, G. L. Horine, A. W. Lyon, Joe McGregor, T. J. McMillan, J. T. Neville, S. A. Payne, R. C. Prewitt, T. C. Reed, William Robb, R. D. Rowden, R. S. Rutledge, S. S. Shull, C. H. Skinner, J. A. Snider, W. P. Taylor, J. M. Thomas, J. W. Ticher, H. P. Wood.

The cable street cars are now running in Kansas City.

Joseph Cook says that in A. D. 2400 the population of the U. S. will be 3,200,000,000.

The house was full to overflowing at the fourth annual Philaethean Society meeting in the University chapel. Nellie Dorsett gave an address as the retiring president. The inaugural speech was given by Mollie Ammermon. Lida Sexton, Jessie Cudworth, May Lonsdale, Kate Sterne, and Carrie Patchel appeared on the program. A recitation was also rendered by Lila Lear entitled, "Alonzo the brave and the Fair Imogene"

The cattle king of Texas, Capt. Richard King, whose wealth is estimated at seven million dollars, died in San Antonio, April 14.

Uncle Tom's Cabin drew a large audience of which there were as many colored as white people. Of the play we have nothing to say except: that the same company will never again have so large an audience in Columbia—that is putting it mildly.

After much discussion as to the date the Prize Declamation Contest was held April 18 at the Haden Opera House. E. W. Stephens as chairman of the judges was assisted by C. B. Rollins and L. R. Taft. First prize went to J. N. McElwain who read, "Jimmie Butler and the Owl." Second place was awarded to I. Loeb, and third to B. Bowen. The other contestants were J. W. Boulton, R. M. Dooley, W. C. Duncan, J. T. Harding, C. H. Kistler, W. F. Pigg, and J. T. White.

Campus Comment

APRIL is half-gone and it would not be realized if student elections weren't right around the corner. Those eight weeks grades came in and unfortunately some went out-to the family, but with over a month to go the Phi Beta Kappas needn't cut down their rush list, yet. But before going into that last scholastic stretch comes the welcome Easter holidays beginning April 18 . . . some new clothes . . . a little rest . . . and back to the books.

Farmers' Fair

known throughout the world as the "Biggest Student Stunt in America" will be staged May 3 with all the trimmings, side-shows and hurra. The Ags have been working on the plans for some time and promise that no one will be disappointed.

Judge Frank Atwood

president of the Missouri Bar Association and retired chief justice of the Missouri Supreme Court, was initiated as an honorary member of Phi Delta Phi, international legal fraternity, April 13. He was guest speaker at the annual banquet given in honor of the alumni.

Allan Miller

of Duluth, Minn., has been named to the editorship of the Missouri Student by the student council after a deadlock of several weeks. Jack Wilkie, Kansas City, has been appointed editor of the Savitar, and will be assisted by Robert Case, St. Louis, as associate editor, and Gene Fellows, Columbia, as business manager.

Polo Season

for the Tigers will open April 18 against Oklahoma at Columbia. Seven of the nine games scheduled are with teams in the central circuit and the playoffs will determine the representative team to the national collegiate tournament.

Another Queen

ascended her throne April 13 when Coach Don Furot crowned Alma Louise Dallas, Pi Phi president, as the "M" Men's Queen for 1935. Unless the guess is wrong this year's regal procession will come to a close when the Goddess of Agriculture and the Savitar Queens have taken their places in line.

Women's Swimming Team

of the University tied for third place with the Chicago Normal in the intercollegiate telegraphic meet in the central division. Washington U. team was first and Mundelein College second. Elizabeth Ann Dickerson took second place in the 100-yd crawl.

Marvin McQueen

was high scorer for the year on the M. U. pistol team. The team's record for the year was eleven victories, three defeats, and one tied score. Sweaters will be awarded James Meyers, Charles Kohner, Marvin D. McQueen, Charles Schwartz, Harold Thiemann, Max Hotchkiss, and Homer Parman.

We want you to meet a lot of friends of your parents, Capt. and Mrs. William A. Beiderlinden. Many Missourians will recall that before Capt. Beiderlinden was transferred to the Philippines he was a member of the M. U. staff of the

R. O. T. C. and most successful as supervisor of polo. They will also recall the day he passed around cigars, celebrating the arrival of a daughter, Janet Ann Beiderlinden. Mrs. Beiderlinden was formerly Miss Ann Symon, whose two brothers, Ben G. Symon and W. M. Symon, also attended the University. Last spring Mary Jeanette Symon, a sister of Mrs. Beiderlinden, received a B.J. degree.

Gifts to K. C. Zoo

The Kansas City newspapers of late have been printing a great deal concerning the trip of Dr. and Mrs. R. L. Sutton and their gift of two kangaroos to the Swope Park Zoo.

Dr. and Mrs. Sutton have been on a three months trip to Australia and several islands in the Pacific. In New Zealand they were guests at Zane Grey's fishing camp.

Dr. Sutton, is a former student of the University. He was awarded an L.L.D. degree in 1922.

H. K. Poindexter, Bethold Henschel, Allan Fisher, Fred Gabelman, and Hiram Kincaid, all of Kansas City and alumni of the University, visited the local chapter of Acacia fraternity several weeks ago.

Betty Brooks, who has completed her work and will receive her degree in Home Economics from the University in June, has assumed duties as student dietician at Watts Hospital, Durham, N. C.

FACULTY NOTES

"MORNING IN GASCONY,"

written by Dr. Jay W. Hudson is dedicated to his wife who caused him to see, know and love her Gascony. As one reads this new novel he realizes why the versatile author, Missouri University's own Lathrop Professor of Philosophy, so far as possible, spends his summers in this quiet, picturesque corner of France.

When you meet Dr. Jay William Hudson in his large living room, only his underslung pipe and the open fire suggest the strictly meditative life.

The story concerns Philip Cross, idealistic American, who disappears hoping to forget a tragic past. He hides himself in the remote hills of Gascony where he buys a farm. Although at first reserved, always secretive, he is finally accepted by those children of the soil in whose simple ways he finds a longed for peace of mind. There in view of the distant, majestic Pyrenees, and just across the road from the farm of Henri Lacaze whose sturdy daughter, Jeanne, dreams yet keeps her feet well on solid ground, "Phileep" created for himself a new existence.

This book, easily read and most probably long remembered, is not unrelated to Dr. Hudson's, "Abbe Pierre," and "Abbe Pierre's People", which was awarded the prize as the best novel of the year by the Catholic Press Association.

"Why Democracy", a study by Dr. Hudson of the philosophic basis of the democratic state was released concurrently by D. Appleton Century Company of New York City.

The above cartoon as well as the underline are reprinted with the permission of The Kansas City Star and are taken from a feature article which appeared March 24.

Dean Frank L. Martin of the School of Journalism spent a week in March in New York City and Washington, D. C., attending a conference of the agricultural editors, a meeting of the Missouri-Yenching Foundation of N. Y. C., and a meeting of the executive committee of the National Association of Schools and Departments of Journalism of which he is the national president. While in Washington Dean Martin lunched with the Chinese minister, Dr. Alfred Sze, at the Chinese legation.

Come to Nassau in the Bahamas... Come at Easter time when this unspoiled paradise is a dreamy isle of a hundred and one enchanted pleasures.

Bathing in buoyant, transparent seas, basking in the sun on coral sands, sailing at twilight, dancing under the stars, dreaming under tropical moons,—and sleep... deep, untroubled sleep.

Awake to new pleasures... to tennis, to hunting, fishing and riding on fascinating bridle paths, to golf on palm-flanked fairways... awake to the beauty that is Nassau... to the quaint charm of its tinted houses, its walled gardens, its winding, old-world streets.

Come to Nassau to "tan-up and tone-up" for Summer. See your tourist agent or write—

DEATHS

WILLIAM H. WHEELER, B.J. '17, died at the home of his parents in Fort Dodge, Iowa, March 21. He has been in ill health for the past two years. His condition became critical last fall and he came at that time to Fort Dodge from his home in Holyoke, Mass., accompanied by his wife and small son. After his graduation from the University Mr. Wheeler enlisted in the army and served overseas in the World War for eighteen months. Following his army service he became engaged in commercial art work and at the time of his resignation he was in charge of the greeting card department of a nationally known firm.

HENRY OTTO SCHWABE, A.B. '09, died March 20, at Phoenix, Ariz., following a long period of illness.

MISS JESSIE F. RAY of Lee's Summit, former student, died March 11 following an illness of several months. Miss Ray taught in the Kansas City School system for seventeen years.

RUSSELL BATSELL, former student, (graduate of Harvard), died recently of heart ailment at his place of business in New York City. Mr. Batsell, a native Missourian, had lived in Paris, France, for the past twelve years after he had married a French girl in 1923. He had been with one of the large American research foundations.

DR. JABEZ N. JACKSON, member of the University faculty in 1908-09, nationally known Kansas City surgeon, died March 18, following several months of illness. While associated with the University he was a member of the football coaching staff. Dr. Jackson, a native Missourian and a veteran of the Spanish-American War, was one-time president of the American Medical Association.

BERRY McALESTER, former student of the University and Beasley Academy, one of Columbia's best known citizens, died April 8 in St. Luke's Hospital, Denver, Colorado, following an operation for gall bladder ailment, Dec. 27. Mr. McAlester, a native Columbian, left the University in 1901 to take a trip to Europe before entering the lumber and building business. He is well known throughout the midwest as a builder of fraternity and sorority houses, having built and financed twenty-three houses in seventeen states. He was a deacon in the First Christian Church for several years, one-time president of the Columbia Country Club, and in 1921 was named to the Board of Trustees of the Bible College. In 1908 he married Miss Virginia Dyas. He is also survived by two daughters, Bernice and Virginia McAlester; two brothers, Dr. A. W. McAlester of Kansas City and James McAlester of New Orleans. The McAlester Hall, university Medical building, was named in honor of his father, Dr. A. W. McAlester.

DR. LELAND FRAZIER, A.B. '04, former student St. Louis University School of Medicine, and Missouri Valley College, died in Burley, Idaho, Feb. 15. Dr. Frazier, a native of Clifton Hill, Missouri, played guard on the 1901 Tiger football team.

MRS. MARGARET MAUPIN PETERS, former student, died March 29 in Los Angeles. She was the wife of Dr. E. N. Peters of the class of '85.

MRS. MARY ETTA SMALL, A.D.M. '83, A.D.B. '83, Pe.B. '83, died recently in Bowie, Tex., following a heart attack. Before her marriage to the late Mr. W. T. Small of Bowie she lived near Centralia.

MRS. ELLA DUKE TAYLOR, for the last eighteen years chaperon at the Sigma Chi house at the University died at the Boone County Hospital in Columbia, March 21.

Hope O' Tomorrow

WILLIAM SALISBURY recently received the Harry Tidd award of $100 and the Duke N. Parry trophy for making the highest grades among the freshman pledges of the Sigma Chi fraternity at the University. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Salisbury, Minden, La., who are both former students. Mrs. Salisbury was formerly Miss Amanda Painter. Mr. Salisbury is chief engineer for the Louisiana and Arkansas Railway.

Among the students enrolled in the College of Agriculture is HOMER L. THIEMAN of Concordia. This will sound quite natural to many alumni who remember his father, a graduate in Agriculture in 1904, and who in 1928 was named as one of Missouri's Master Farmers. Homer also has four uncles who attended the University, Melvin, Irvin, Ralph, and D. B. Thieman.

We Give Out-of-Town Orders Careful Attention

COOL, CLEAN AIR-CONDITIONED CARS TO MEXICO CITY

If you have any fears about going to Mexico in the summer—forget them. The summer climate of Mexico City, Guadalajara, Taxco, Cuernavaca, Uruapan, Morelia and most other Mexican cities is delightful because of the altitude. The daily afternoon shower of one or two hours is welcomed because it keeps everything fresh and bright.

There is hot weather enroute to Mexico City—yes. But you won't notice it in the cool, clean air-conditioned cars of El Costeno, the leading train on our West Coast of Mexico Route, via Tucson (by this summer the Pullmans, observation car and cafe-lounge car on this train will be air-conditioned). And as our trains connecting with this route (the Sunset Limited from New Orleans and Los Angeles and Golden State Limited from Chicago and Los Angeles) will be completely air-conditioned, you'll enjoy this luxury all the way to Mexico City. Return, if you wish, in air-conditioned cars on The National Railways of Mexico via El Paso, or reverse the order.

Plan your Mexico trip now. And plan to include the thrilling West Coast Route one way (very low roundtrip fares permit this). See lazy Mazatlan, in its perfect "South Sea Island" setting, ancient Tepic, the wild barancas and Guadalajara, where fine pottery and bubble glass are made.

$50 SIDETRIP

If you go to California this year on our Sunset Limited (New Orleans-El Paso-Los Angeles) or our Golden State Limited (Chicago - St. Louis - Kansas City - Los Angeles) you can make a sidetrip to Mexico City for only $50 extra rail fare using our West Coast Route one way and the National Railways of Mexico the other.

HOTEL CAR TOURS

We now operate an AIR-CONDITIONED "Hotel on Wheels" (with its own kitchen and cook, its own food, its own roomy Pullman berths and a spacious cafe-lounge) that serves as your private hotel and restaurant everywhere in Mexico except for the stay in Mexico City.

The "Hotel Car" leaves Tucson every Monday; cruises down Southern Pacific's West Coast Route; includes visits at such interesting places as Mazatlan, Guadalajara, Guanajuato, Mexico City, Uruapan, etc.; and returns over the National Railways of Mexico line to El Paso. Time in Mexico: about three weeks; time in Mexico City: eight days.

For information and details of this tour or any of the other services to Mexico mentioned above, write: O. P. Bartlett, Dept. MA-4, Passenger Traffic Manager, 310 South Michigan Boulevard, Chicago, Ill.
