NORFOLK WAS UNDER a state of siege. Before communication with the outside world was disrupted, the New York Life's Home Office was notified that two of its policyholders in the city had died. Prompt payments would relieve distress. But how could they be made under these conditions?

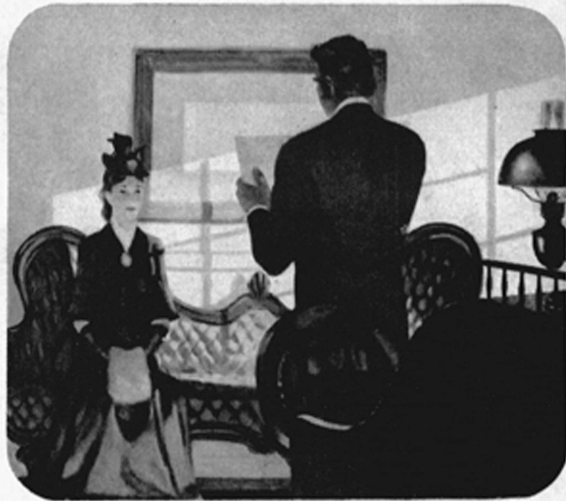

THE OPPOSING ARMIES recognized the humanity of life insurance... suspended hostilities... allowed a representative to pass through the lines under a flag of truce in order to establish a contact and make arrangements with the beneficiaries within the city of Norfolk for the payment of these claims.

UNDER A FLAG OF TRUCE

Norfolk, Virginia 1862

ONE OF THE BENEFICIARIES later came to New York to express her appreciation. She carried a letter from Mayor William W. Lamb of Norfolk. He wrote: "Your prompt payment has sustained the high reputation of your Company in this community which I hope it will continue to enjoy."

THE New York Life has a long record of fidelity in meeting its obligations to policyholders; and in investing it adheres to the principle that safety should always be the first consideration. These are among the reasons why the Company continues to merit the confidence of its policyholders . . . why a New York Life policy is one of the best investments you can make . . . why the agents, in offering the benefits of New York Life protection, render a valuable service to the public. This Company is now selecting qualified college alumni to augment its field organization in its various branch offices. If you think that you, or someone you know, might be interested, the Company will be glad to forward a copy of a 48-page book entitled "A Career as a Life Underwriter."

THIS MONTH

The faculty representatives of the member schools in the Big Six Conference made a very practical decision Oct. 1 when they approved the re-establishment of a limited training table for football players. Details of this arrangement can be found elsewhere in THE ALUMNUS. There is another angle, however, which makes the training table appeal to us.

The gridders practice every afternoon during the regular season until nearly 6 o'clock and by the time the boys have had their showers and have dressed it is nearly 7 o'clock. Most of them take their meals at fraternity and boarding houses and their late arrival dooms them to "second table" fare. The food in most cases is warmed over stuff and that is scarcely palatable for a growing boy—particularly if he has been engaging in the rather violent exercise of a football practice session.

The move is primarily a health measure and on that basis deserves the commendation of all.

All alumni and parents of M. U. students should be aware of the exceptional facilities of the Student Health Center here. Few major universities have anything to compare with the type of service provided for the welfare of the student body on our campus.

President Middlebush's luncheon for the district chairmen this month had that old Boone County air to it what with slabs of that sublime country ham, and apple pie with a lot of cheese. We have also noted that the president has been in these parts long enough to adopt the "You all" expression so familiar to Missourians. But the president remains academically correct. He uses it only when addressing more than one person.

Be sure to read our news story on M. U.'s projected building program which calls for dormitories for our boys and girls. The present request for dormitory funds permits only a modest beginning in that direction, yet it is a beginning. We hope the time will soon come when there will be such adequate facilities that the University may be in a position to require the residence of all freshman boys and girls in M. U.-maintained halls.

There are definite benefits to be gained along this line. The freshman class will become more closely knit and there will be a single standard of good living for all, regardless of the individual financial background. The University administration is to be commended for its dormitory stand.

It seems to us that the next logical step is the completion of the Memorial Union and here arises the opportunity for the alumni to match the administration's progressiveness in providing a wholesome atmosphere for all students.

We would like a little gratis instruction on a problem that has been causing us a great deal of mental turmoil lately. Why, we ask, are sorghum and sausage invariably referred to in the

More Goods for More People at Less Cost

HAD the 7½ million people who bought new radio sets in 1937 been obliged to pay 1929 prices for them, the total cost to the public would have been $700,000,000 greater than it actually was. In fact, the 7½ million sets of 1937 cost the public $188,000,000 less than the 4½ million sets of 1929. And because radios cost less, more people could buy them, and the purchasers had more money to buy additional comforts and conveniences.

This is but one of many cases where industry has found ways to make better products at less cost. For instance, the 1½ million electric washers bought in 1937 cost the purchasers 2 million dollars less than the million bought in 1929. The 1,200,000 electric fans bought in 1937 cost the purchasers $700,000 less than about half that number bought in 1929. And in this same period hundreds of other manufactured products, because of improved manufacturing methods, have been reduced in cost so that more people can have more of the good things of life.

This process of creating real wealth has brought to America the highest standard of living ever known, and it is this process which must continue if even higher standards are to be attained. General Electric scientists, engineers, and workmen are contributing to this progress. By developing new and better ways to use electricity for the benefit of the public, they are constantly providing More Goods for More People at Less Cost.

G-E research and engineering have saved the public from ten to one hundred dollars for every dollar they have earned for General Electric

"The enrollment in the University this year exceeds that for several years past and has passed the 500 mark. This speaks well for the popularity of the school."

The sophomore class met and, with Records acting as temporary chairman, elected the following officers: President, Jenkins; vice-president, Fred M. Dearing; secretary, Miss Wagner.

The Tigers opened the season against Wentworth Military Academy and played to a scoreless tie. Mizzou scored a touchdown but it was called back by Empire Crawford White because of a Tiger offense. The players were: Ends, McCaslin and Harris; tackles, Woodson and Jewett; guards, Hall and Parker; centers, Capt. Howard (who was injured) and Thurman; quarter, Houx; halfbacks, Troy and Dunn; fullback, Mossman.

Clay Clement, "gentleman and actor," with a full supporting company, presented "The New Dominion" at the Haden Opera House on Oct. 13.

Gurry E. Huggins announced he would leave the University to take a position at Idaho University with Dr. J. P. Blanton at a salary of $1000 per year.

The boys of Company I, who came back from the war to M. U., were ordered to Kansas City to be mustered out. They were to return to resume school duties.

The Kansas City Medics defeated the Tigers, 16 to 0, in Kansas City. The following Saturday at Rollins Field the Tigers beat the Medics 15 to 5.

Prof. Blanton, who had resigned to go to Idaho, leased his home to Kappa Sigma fraternity to be used as a chapter house.

The military department announced the following cadet appointments: Major, G. E. Huggins; captain of Company A, Raymond S. Edwards; captain of Company B, A. U. Brandt; captain of Company C, M. F. Highley; captain of artillery, A. B. Griggs.

"Dr. Wylie Woodruff, coach of the Kansas team, has been asked by the board of curators to resign but by nature of his contract he will have to finish out the year. The cause of the action was that Coach Woodruff had given the team publicly a sound berating and a thorough cussing."

The officers of the Athenaeum Society were: President, Bland, vice-president, Scudder; secretary, Burchardt; treasurer, Wright, and chaplain, Jones.

The artillery company signal corps was being drilled in the flag signalling code by the Morse alphabet. The fourth floor of Academic Hall was at their disposal for practice on rainy days.

30 Years Ago

(October, 1908)

At a meeting of the senior academic class held in Room 44 of Academic Hall, Preston Carter Alexander was elected president. "Tubby" Graves of football and baseball fame received an ovation when he was nominated by acclamation as Academic candidate for "all-senior" president. Other class officers were: Vice-president, F. L. Jackson; secretary, Miss Florence Helm; treasurer, R. E. Talbert; sergeant-at-arms, H. W. Crain.

Harry R. Nelson succeeded O. E. Reed as editor of the Missouri Agricultural Farmer. E. V. Ellington was named associate editor and T. R. Douglass circulation manager.

At a mass meeting of all students before the Warrensburg game, Raymond E. Lee was elected school chairman for mass assemblies. The students also chose Oscar D. Chrisman yell leader with H. A. Hensley and W. C. Mayfield as assistants.

W. C. Houser, in a director's gown combining all hues of the rainbow and wearing a huge Merry Widow hat, was the best-dressed neophyte put on display by Theta Nu Epsilon. Others who were initiated at that time were Bob Estill, Priest Allie, Paul Arnold, Chester Miller, Earl Tobéin, Edward Lasar, and J. W. McClure.

Playing before Attorney-General Herbert S. Hadley, the Tiger gridders swamped Warrensburg 57 to 6. "Puny" Bluck ran wild. Other stars were Graves, Nee, Easy Anderson and "Tark" Crain.

Philip Sheridan McBaime, a popular University student, died at his home in Columbia on Oct. 12. He had been an invalid since August.

Dr. John R. Scott read several pathetic passages from David Harum at a morning assembly. His delivery was particularly effective. Several co-eds rushed out of the auditorium with handkerchiefs pressed to their eyes.

A monster shirt tail parade tied up Broadway on Saturday night following M. U.'s sensational 10 to 5 victory over Iowa. "It was fighting spirit that did it," commented Coach Monilaw on the upset.

Warren Orr was elected president of the Oklahoma Club.

Ruskin Lhamon of Columbia was president of the junior medic class by virtue of his skill in pitching pennies. The class consisted of three members and they decided penny-pitching was the best way to pick their officers. Mr. Lhamon also pitched himself into the office of class historian. J. C. Hawkins became vice-president and representative on the Savitar board. Jesse Howland was secretary, treasurer, and sergeant-at-arms.

Two girls were injured when the first of four hay wagons conveying a crowd of Ags and their guests back to Columbia from the Barnwarming toppled into a ditch. One suffered a broken arm.

25 Years Ago

(October, 1913)

Dean J. C. Jones was named acting president for the period from Oct. 15 to Christmas during which time President A. Ross Hill was to travel in Europe.

Registrar Irvin Switzler noted that the 1913 student directory listed only three students whose names began with the letter "I." They were David E. Impey, Tulsa; Boone Ingels, Columbia, and Jan Lawrence Ingwersen, Bowling Green.

Coach Dan Nee of Drury College brought 18 men to Columbia to play the Tigers.

Announcement was made of the marriage of Miss Mabel Elsie Browne, of Clinton, to H. H. Kinyon, of Kansas City.

John Franklin Rhodes was elected president of the all-senior class. Others chosen were: Vice-president, W. C. Pollock; secretary, Miss Mabel Hurst; treasurer, Fred R. Deaton; sergeant-at-arms, James Joseph Gallagher. Members of the athletic committee were: C. B. Rollins, Jr., and H. K. Thatcher.

Tau Beta Pi, honorary engineering fraternity, announced the following pledges: C. E. McCormick, F. H. Frauens, C. W. Lewis, L. E. Knapp, L. S. Voigt, A. R. Hurst, G. S. Dring, C. C. Beals, I. H. Shultz, and M. C. Owings.

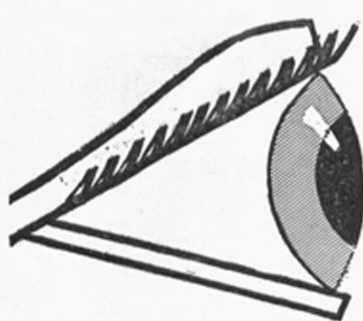

Missouri fraternity houses were valued at $250,000.

Student editors of the Law Bulletin, published by the University, moved into their new quarters in the law barn. They were Arnold Just, C. B. Rollins, Jr., Myron Witters, Wendell Berry, and G. C. Wilson. Prof. Charles K. Burdick was faculty adviser.

The engagement of Miss Marjorie Potts of East St. Louis and Frank C. Mann of Springfield was announced.

Rehearsals were started by the University Players for their three-act musical comedy, "The Girl and the Bomb." The book was written by Samuel Ayres and Robert Miller; lyrics by Miller, and music by Frank Pirkey. Principal parts were to be played by Helen Aylesbury, Lavinia Peters, Katherine Maize, Hildegarde Hanpeter and W. Lawrence Phillips, Russel Richards, Paul H. Conlon, Samuel Hurst, John Stapel, Duane Tice, Francis Poindexter, and Ayres and Miller. H. E. Turley and Knox Alexander were to stage it. Miss Frances Yeater and Charles Linn were preparing a specialty dance.

1939-40 Budget

CURATORS' REQUEST FROM LEGISLATURE INCLUDES FUNDS FOR LOW-COST HOUSING PROJECT FOR MEN AND WOMEN.

A building program amounting to upwards of $600,000, to be financed by state and federal funds, including low cost housing dormitory facilities for approximately 200 women students and from 300 to 400 men students and an addition to the Chemistry Building was revealed at the University last month.

The proposed building program was announced by President Frederick A. Middlebush in the 1939-40 University budget request which was presented to the state budget officer in Jefferson City, and which in turn will be presented to the legislature this winter.

The budget request totaling $4,046,443 exclusive of the buildings and crippled children service included $2,778,755 for personal service; $150,750 for additions to the laboratory, scientific, and other equipment; $315,815 for repairs and replacements; $726,123 for general operation; and $75,000 for student labor, an increase over the amount available for student labor at the University during the last two years.

Increased Enrollment Presents Problems

In preparing the budget, the members of the Board of Curators pointed out that "the University of Missouri is confronted with an acute problem of making provisions for additional instructional assistance to care for the increased and increasing enrollment in the University. The percentage increase in enrollment at the University during the school year 1937-38 over the 1936-37 year was the largest percentage increase in any university in the nation.

"In spite of the fact that the enrollment at the University for the school year 1937-38 exceeds by 1,013 individuals the enrollment during the school year 1931-32, the number of persons on the teaching staff of the University during last year was actually smaller by two members than the teaching staff during 1931-32."

Improved Conditions for Working Students

In presenting the request for dormitories, the board pointed out that

JACK CRAWFORD

Will travel in the interests of the Alumni Association's public relations program.

"There is a large number of worthy and intelligent young men and women in Missouri who are either not able to attend the University because of lack of funds or who are without sufficient funds to provide themselves with the necessary minimum sustenance while attending the University. In order for these young people to attend the University at all, they economize by living in attics, basements, and similar quarters ill suited for student occupancy. It is obvious that students living under these conditions are not able to do the quality of work of which they are capable."

The University's budget is divided into two sections, that for intramural services which includes the instructional and research of the institution proper at Columbia, and the extramural budget which supports its outside activities many of which are carried on partly with other agencies.

Exclusive of the building requests, the intermural budget accounts for $3,400,000 of the total as compared with $3,490,000 appropriated for the last biennial period. The requests for the various extramural activities were transmitted to the budget officer by the University without editing or revising.

Jack Crawford

JOINS PUBLIC RELATIONS STAFF OF ALUMNI ASSOCIATION THIS MONTH.

On Oct. 15, Jack Crawford, a graduate of the University in 1922, will assume his new duties as public relations man for the Alumni Association.

Mr. Crawford will travel, mostly outside the state, to keep in contact with the alumni of the University as a goodwill measure. He will solicit contributions to the Public Relations Fund which finances the public relations program of the Association. This program is carried on in behalf of the University itself. Mr. Crawford will contact present subscribers to the fund, as well as prospective contributors, and will explain the type of work which the association is sponsoring.

Until taking the new position Mr. Crawford served as secretary of the Chamber of Commerce at Sedalia, his home town.

Infantry Out

R. O. T. C. DIVISION ELIMINATED TO COUNTERBALANCE PREPONDERANCE OF RIFLEMEN IN NATIONAL ORGANIZATION.

"Right shoulder, ARMS!" as a military order has passed from the M. U. campus quietly but completely. R.O.T.C. infantrymen have put aside their .30 calibre Springfield rifles and have gone to bigger things—French 75 mm. guns—as a result of the change made in the military department this year.

The basic infantry course has been discontinued and all freshmen and sophomores will take field artillery work to counterbalance the preponderance of infantrymen in the national R.O.T.C. It is expected that motorized artillery units will be introduced to the campus shortly.

The two-year advanced course for infantry students will be continued for two years more, Col. Robert C. F. Goetz, professor of military science and tactics, has announced, but new enrollments will be confined to the artillery course only.

Enrollment

ALL-TIME RECORD OF 5152 SET LAST MONTH—MISS BETTY GILLEN HONORED AS 5000TH STUDENT.

Enrollment figures for the first semester set an all-time high late last month when the 5000th student, Miss Betty Gillen of Portland, Ore., presented her credentials for admittance. Last official figures gave the enrollment at 5152, with additional registrations expected to boost the total to approximately 5200.

Registrar S. W. Canada announced the registration by University divisions, showing that the biggest numerical gain was in the senior class, in which 1159 are now enrolled compared with 956 in 1937. The highest proportionate gain, however, is in the Graduate School, where an enrollment of 463 exceeds last year's number by 101, or about 28 per cent.

The junior class enrollment alone shows a marked decrease. This year's figure of 1207 lacks 109 of measuring up to 1937's 1316.

The enrollment figures by classes:

	Sept. '37	Sept. '38
Freshman	1269	1215
Sophomore	942	1055
Junior	1316	1207
Third Year Law	35	30
Senior	956	1159

Company "I"

COMMITTEE MOVES UP DATES FOR 40TH REUNION TO NOVEMBER 3 AND 4—R. O. T. C. TO HAVE SPECIAL PARADE.

The fortieth anniversary reunion of Company I of the 5th Missouri Volunteers, made up of University of Missouri students, for the Spanish-American War will be held Nov. 3 and 4 instead of at Homecoming time as announced last month.

Preliminary plans for the reunion were completed early this month at a conference in Columbia between Royall H. Switzler, St. Louis; Hollis Edwards, Columbia; President F. A. Middlebush; Col. Robert C. F. Goetz of the M. U. military department, and R. L. Hill, director of alumni activities.

The reunion will begin with a smoker at the Tiger Hotel on Thursday evening, Nov. 3. Friday morning, Nov. 4, there will be an informal reception at the office of President Middlebush, and in the afternoon the University R.O.T.C. will give a special parade in honor of the Spanish-American War veterans.

Many members of the group attending the reunion will remain in Columbia for the Missouri-Michigan State football game and will sit in a special section of reserved seats, Saturday, Nov. 5.

Members of the committee on arrangements are Col. George H. English, Washington, D. C. (former captain of Company I), chairman; Mr. Edwards, secretary; Mr. Switzler of St. Louis; T. P. ("X-ray") Howard, Los Angeles, Calif.; and E. D. ("General") Smith of Dayton, O.

Centennial Savitar

1939 YEARBOOK WILL FEATURE PAINTINGS OF GEORGE CALEB BINGHAM ALONG WITH BRIEF M. U. HISTORY.

Keeping pace with the University's plans for celebrating the centennial year, the staff of the 1939 Savitar is planning the largest yearbook in the history of the publication.

Paintings by George Caleb Bingham, Missouri's famous artist of the nineteenth century, and Hildreth Meiere, noted woman muralist, will be reproduced in sharp contrast with modern Kodachrome views of today's campus. In a special 24-page opening section the Savitar will picture the history of the school.

The historical theme will rule throughout the book. Each school section will be headed by pictures of the early school along with a short historical sketch. The feature section may reproduce pictures from early Savitars.

The historical sections, however, will not overshadow the present, but will lend a certain complementary grace to the modern layout and typography of the rest of the book. Editor Bob Pendergrass and Business Manager Bob Dale emphasize, however, that the usual content of the book will not be sacrificed to the special sections. The staff are convinced that they are going to have a beautiful book; and they intend to make it a genuine contribution to the traditions of a great university.

M. U. Appropriation Request

The following table shows the legislative budget request for 1939-1940 exclusive of buildings and the 1937-1938 biennial appropriation for intramural services:

ITEM	1937-38 app.	1939-40 request
Personal service	$2,075,000	$2,300,000
Additions	250,000	125,000
Buildings, power plant and land	440,000

General	450,000	600,000
Student labor	50,000	75,000
Totals	$3,490,000	$3,400,000

The intramural activities include teaching and some of the research work of the various divisions and departments of the University in Columbia. This includes all schools and colleges in the University, the buildings department, campus improvements, University hospitals, University library, department of military science, department of physical education and the administrative work of these activities.

The following table shows the legislative budget request for 1939-1940 exclusive of requests for crippled children:

Totals	$473,155	$646,443

The extramural activities are those the University carries on for and in behalf of the citizens of the state and are separate and distinct from resident instructional and research activities. The extramural activities consist of: Agricultural Extension Service; Agricultural Experiment Station, outlying experiment fields; seed testing laboratory; promotion of improved corn; promotion of horticulture; soil survey and land classification; codling-moth investigation and control; horticulture experiment fields; Hatch Experiment Farm; Agricultural Short Courses; floriculture-greenhouse and nursery management; archaeological research; wild life research; University Extension; Rolla summer session; crippled children; and engineering experiment station.

HOST (3), GUESTS, AND DISTRICT CHAIRMEN*
For dessert, there was a Colorado Buffalo

Chairmen Feted

PRESIDENT AND MRS. MIDDLEBUSH HONOR ASSOCIATION OFFICERS AT LUNCHEON IN COLUMBIA OCT. 1.

Dr. and Mrs. Frederick A. Middlebush were hosts to the district chairmen of the Alumni Association at a luncheon served in the garden of the president's home on Oct. 1. The chairmen were accompanied by their wives.

Following the luncheon the group adjourned to Memorial Stadium for dessert where a spirited Missouri Tiger served up some Colorado Buffalo to the tune of 14-to-7.

The meeting was purely a social event. Special invitations have now been sent out to all district chairmen and county association presidents and secretaries to attend the annual fall meeting which will be held at Homecoming time, on Thursday, Nov. 24, at the Hotel Tiger ball room.

At the November meeting the chairmen and county heads will discuss plans for the series of district meetings throughout the state which are scheduled to get underway shortly after the first of the year.

• NO MEETING THIS YEAR AT AMERICAN ROYAL

Because of duties which so completely fill their time while attending the American Royal Show in Kansas City, M. U. College of Agriculture alumni have decided not to hold a formal gathering at the annual event next month. In reaching the decision the alumni said that during the past few years the show itself had served as the best form of alumni meeting possible.

• CHICAGO AG ALUMNI TO MEET

The annual alumni breakfast held by College of Agriculture graduates and former students in connection with the International Livestock Exposition in Chicago will take place Nov. 28, the first Monday of International week. The meeting will take the form of a breakfast at 7:30 o'clock at the Stock Yards Inn, 41st and Halsted streets. Earl Maxwell will be in charge of the event. Mr. Maxwell is now connected with Hales & Hunter, 166 West Jackson.

Law Alumni

135 GRADUATES ATTEND ANNUAL MEETING AT ST. LOUIS IN CONJUNCTION WITH STATE BAR CONVENTION.

Approximately 135 graduates of the School of Law attended the annual alumni meeting which is held in conjunction with yearly sessions of the Missouri Bar Association. The meeting this year was at the Hotel Jefferson in St. Louis on Sept. 30. Taylor Sandison, of St. Louis, was in charge of arrangements. The attendance was the largest recorded since the beginning of these alumni gatherings.

James E. Nugent, Kansas City, president of the association, presided over a brief but enjoyable program. He introduced members of the School of Law faculty, all of whom were present with the exception of J. Coy Bour, acting dean, who was unable to attend because of the serious illness of his mother.

Dr. Frederick A. Middlebush, president of the University, was a special guest and talked briefly about progress of the University and the importance of the law school division to the University as a whole. He called attention to the fact that the enrollment at M. U. this year is the greatest in its history.

Following a custom of previous years a rotary roll-call was held to introduce all alumni present. Judge C. H. Skinker of Bolivar, Mo., Class of 1885, and James Booth of Pacific, Mo., Class of 1889, were the members of the earliest classes in attendance. Every one was highly pleased at the large attendance by more recent graduates of the School of Law.

Allen Oliver, Cape Girardeau, an alumnus of the school, was elected vice-president of the state bar association during the convention.

*Beginning in the lower left corner: 1—Leslie Cowan, Columbia; 2—Byron Spencer, Kansas City; 3—President Middlebush; 4—Allen Oliver, Cape Girardeau; 5—Leo E. Mize, Washington; 6—Bob Hill; 7—Dr. A. A. Wage-Hour Deputy

Paul Sifton, graduate of the School of Journalism in 1920, has been made deputy administrator under the new federal Wage-Hour Act which becomes effective Oct. 24. Sifton's appointment was announced Sept. 8 by Elmer F. Andrews, wage-hour administrator. Paul was a member of the editorial staff of the old New York World before he entered the New York State Labor Department in January, 1934, as labor publications editor. In 1935 he was appointed assistant industrial commissioner by Mr. Andrews and two years later became a deputy commissioner.

Lucas to State Court

Raymond B. Lucas, graduate of the University with an A.B. degree in 1913, was appointed by Gov. Lloyd C. Stark on Sept. 14 to fill the vacancy on the State Supreme Court created by the death of Judge William F. Frank. Immediately after his appointment he was sworn in as judge of division one. Chief Justice E. M. Tipton, also an alumnus, administered the oath. Judge Lucas' term will expire Dec. 31 of this year when a new judge, to be chosen in the Nov. 8 election, will take office. The number of M. U. alumni on the supreme bench reached five with this latest appointment. Others are Judges Ernest S. Gantt, Charles Thomas Hays, Ernest M. Tipton, and George Robb Ellison. Judge Lucas lives in Benton, Mo.

Dean Martin Returns

Looking rested and several pounds heavier, Dean Frank L. Martin returned to his duties at the School of Journalism last month after a six-month leave of absence during which he recuperated from a severe attack of pneumonia which he suffered last February. Students at the school held an open house reception in his honor and presented him with a set of Venetian blinds for his office.

Propaganda Charge Called Misleading

The campus enjoyed a brief but amusing interlude late last month when word came out of Washington, D. C., that "pro-Nazi propaganda" had been emanating from the University through two of its German exchange students.

John C. Metcalfe, investigator for the Dies Committee (House) on un-American activities, made the following revelations Sept. 29 while testifying before the committee:

"Another case which has attracted some attention is that of two German exchange students who were sent to the University of Missouri. One of them is a boy and the other a girl. It was reported that before leaving New York City, these students, among others, were given instructions by diplomatic officials of Germany.

"On arriving at Columbia, Mo., they took up residence in the finest houses on the campus. The girl was taken into Kappa Kappa Gamma house and the young man was accepted by Beta Theta Pi.

* * * *

"During the fall season a course of lectures were given on Nazi Germany by Prof. John B. Wolf and others. . . . Prof. Wolf came from Minnesota as a professor of history before taking up his post at Missouri. His special theme is: 'Modern Germany in Contemporary Europe.'

"Prof. Wolf visited Germany last year and it was reported that this trip was paid for by the German government. Prof. Wolf is an American citizen. Many educators have taken advantage of the generosity of the Nazis."

Prof. Wolf laughed at the statement that he had presented a series of lectures on Nazi Germany. "However," he said, "I did, as I do every other year, conduct a class in Modern Germany, but if my stand in that class was Nazi propaganda, I'll eat it."

Prof. Wolf did visit Germany a year ago but he was emphatic in stating that he made the trip at his own expense. He can show the record of a sale of government bonds which he cashed to finance his summer's study.

Metcalf's charge that the two German exchange students were "sent" to M. U. and "accepted" by "two of the finest houses on the campus" is misleading in as much as the exchange scholarships were arranged by fraternities whereby Missouri students were sent to Germany and German students brought to Columbia.

THE MISSOURI STUDENT, campus weekly, closed the incident with a cartoon this month showing a demon reporter, labeled "Campus Baiter," saying thoughtfully: "Let's see. I've made charges of Communism, Fascism, and Nazi-ism. Mmm—what else is there?"

● ENROLLMENT NOTES

Since the University of Missouri has the largest enrollment in its history, it is interesting to notice the steady increase in enrollment from 1838 to 1938.

The first annual catalog of the University, published in 1843, lists 54 regular students enrolled in the school. In 1845 there were 66 students enrolled, 31 of whom were graduates and sub-freshmen. Enrollment gradually increased and in 1850 there were 80 regular students in the University and 154 medical students. Ten years later, on the eve of the Civil War, enrollment dropped 25 per cent.

In March, 1862, the curators of the University called a meeting to "discontinue the institution because of lack of patronage." An agreement was made that senior class members could continue their studies privately and graduate with an A.B. degree.

When the University reopened in 1866, there were 50 regular students enrolled and 184 graduate students. Enrollment again increased until in 1891 there were 428 students enrolled.

From 1900 to 1920 there was a marked increase from 1038 to 4921 students. In 1930 enrollment reached a new high, but in 1933, the depression year, enrollment again dropped to 3070 students and in 1936 there were approximately 4261 students.

Training Table

IS RE-ESTABLISHED FOR M. U. GRID-
DERS ON LIMITED BASIS — $1000 PER SEASON MAXIMUM.

A limited training table for football players was approved by Big Six Conference faculty representatives at a meeting in Columbia on Oct. 1. The group sanctioned the expenditure by each member school of $1,000 a year to provide evening meals for Varsity gridgers during the regular fall season.

The action was taken at the recommendation of the directors of athletics of all schools who submitted the proposal at their meeting in Lincoln, Neb., last May.

The evening meal plan was authorized to become effective immediately and Missouri put it into effect the week of Oct. 3. A local boarding house was selected by vote of the football players.

Coach Don Faurot said he believed the plan was necessary in safeguarding the health of football players. He pointed to difficulties which gridgers have in obtaining proper food for their dinner after late practice sessions. The $1,000 limit does not include money spent for meals when the team is out of town, nor did the faculty representatives make any provision as to the number of men who can be fed.

The representatives also approved the appointment of a commissioner of football officials to name officials for conference grid games. No one has been named to the position as yet pending the discussion of further details.

Members of the faculty group meeting here included Dean T. J. Thompson of Nebraska, chairman; Dr. H. D. Bergman of Iowa State, secretary; Prof. Walter W. Kraft, Oklahoma; Dr. W. W. Davis, Kansas; Prof. Sam B. Shirky, Missouri, and Dr. H. H. King of Kansas State College.

Brown Ineligible

TIGER BASKETBALL CAPTAIN MAY REGAIN STANDING, HOWEVER, FOR SECOND SEMESTER COMPETITION.

Kenny Brown, captain of the 1937 Tiger basketball team and captain-elect for the coming season, has been declared ineligible for intercollegiate athletics this semester. Although Brown is not in school at present, there is a chance that he may return for the second semester. He is now taking University correspondence courses in an effort to regain eligibility.

Brown, a six-footer and mainstay of Coach George Edwards' Varsity team during the last two years, has been recognized as one of the best defensive players in the Big Six conference. If

• M. U. DROPS INDOOR MEET

By action of the faculty representatives of the member schools of the Big Six Conference the annual indoor track and field meet has been transferred from Columbia to Kansas City. The transfer is conditional upon the making of satisfactory arrangements between the Big Six and the management of the Kansas City municipal auditorium. Since the building of Brewer Field House at M. U., this annual event has been a highlight of the winter sports season. Missouri is the only school in the conference with adequate facilities for such a meet.

Question Mark?

BRILLIANT TIGER SOPHOMORES BRING
 CHEER TO FANS WITH HIGH-POWERED
 RAZZLE-DAZZLE OFFENSIVE PLAY.

BY BOB BROEG
Sports Editor
 THE MISSOURI STUDENT

A rich, red-blooded offense has replaced the Missouri Tigers' anemic football attack, and for proof you need go no further than the first three games of the present season in which a sprightly Bengal has scored 130 points.

True, one of those games was against the Freshmen, but even so the present team is a far cry from the defensive marvels of last year who tallied only 88 points all season, including 46 against the yearlings.

They totaled only 42 points in ten intercollegiate games and were blanked in five of them. In two games this fall, against Colorado and Kansas State, the Tigers have hung up four touchdowns and 27 points. That's a splendid start, and what is more pleasing, prospects for additional six-pointers are brighter than the Aurora Borealis.

The Tigers opened their season against the Freshmen this fall with sophomores dotting the lineup. That was no handicap. Rather, it worked the other way, for the Varsity handed the Freshmen a 103-to-6 trimming, the largest score in the history of the University. Varsity backs paraded to the goal line all afternoon. Most important, however, was the passing of Sophomore Paul Christman, heralded as a "find" ever since spring practice, who passed for six touchdowns.

Christman was not the only standout. Jimmy Starmer, a sophomore halfback, ran like a gazelle, and also was on the receiving end of the majority of his comrade's passes. Bill Amelung also had a large afternoon, picking up where he left off last December against U. C. L. A., when his running and passing exhausted the superlatives of West Coast sports writers.

Immediately the question was asked: Is the varsity unusually strong or the Freshmen unusually weak?

The Tigers answered that very quickly. The following weekend, the Colorado Buffaloes, Cotton Bowl team of last New Year's, stampeded into town and left 48 hours later with a 14-to-7 defeat shackling them. And the Herd was fortunate to get off that easily. The Tigers lost one touchdown on an offside penalty and another when an end got butterfingered and dropped a perfect pass in the end zone.

Again young Christman stole the individual spotlight. His strong right arm accounted for both touchdowns. Again, too, Starmer, scoring once and kicking two extra points, was outstanding. And so was Porter Robb, a junior fullback and "B" team letter winner a year ago, who moved into a starting berth when Bill Cunningham, slated for first string duty, broke the fibula bone in his left leg. Robb hit the line with the power of a 200-pounder—he weighs only 175—and also did a workmanlike job as line-backer-upper on defense.

Then came the Kansas State game at Manhattan on Oct. 8. The Tigers knew all was not peaches and cream in Denmark. They knew the Wildcats were strong. The Aggies had forced Northwestern to take to the air to defeat them the week previous. The Tigers likewise realized they would need all the breaks they could get to defeat Wes Fry's team. There were breaks in the game. Unfortunately, for Missouri, however, Kansas State got them.

The Wildcats scored two touchdowns without the aid of a first down, and as a result, won 21-to-13 although the Bengals pretty well clamped down on Elmer Hackney, K-State's famed fullback and "one-man gang." Yes, Missouri lost, but its display of power brought approval from Coach Don Faurot, who is somewhat of a pessimist.

The Tigers gained 439 yards, 310 through the air on the strength of sixteen pass completions in 35 tries. Christman did all the throwing. The cool sophomore unleashed one pass that traveled 53 yards through the air and another for 30 yards from behind his own goal line with a Wildcat encircling his waist.

From a Missouri standpoint, Starmer also played a fine game, as did Co-Capt. Ray Moss and the Orf twins at end, and Jerry Notowitz, another sophomore, at blocking back.

The defeat was nothing to cry about. The Tigers had played well and lost to a strong team. They do feel, however, that if they had another crack at Kansas State, they could win. That's the attitude of the team this year. Spirits are high, and with Christman hitting his targets with surprising accuracy, the Tigers are well aware that they're a threat at all times.

The sophomores have made mistakes. They're bound to. But they're improving steadily. You have Don Faurot's word for that. And general opinion exists in Tigertown that before the season ends Turkey Day, the Tigers will take the wind out of more than one team's sails.

Add This to The Archives

We have the following story from Bob Broeg, author of this month's football article, who tells us it's the absolute truth. We think it's one for the archives.

Last year as Bob Jett, cocky Missouri halfback, reported into the game in the heat of the Nebraska-Tiger battle, Elmer Dohrman, Cornhusker captain, growled, "What do you play, buddy?" Jett snapped back, "Pitch, pinochle, and poker. What the h..... do you play?"

At any rate, Missouri has brought "razzle-dazzle" football to the Midlands. And even if the Tigers don't win any more this season, which is extremely unlikely, you won't need rose-colored spectacles to wax enthusiastic over next year's prospects, for old Mizzou loses only four through graduation next June.

There is one thing to be noted about these 1938 Tigers, if we haven't already made it clear. They are playing a different brand of football down here. The like of which you've never seen before in Columbia's Memorial Stadium. Call it razzle-dazzle or anything else, but it's primarily a spectator's game that has you on the edge of your seat every minute while Missouri has the ball. The Tigers have the pitchers and they've got the catchers. You folks are the watchers, and if you miss these boys this year it's your own tough luck. They're hot!

M. U. CROSS COUNTRY SQUAD

Another Mark Set by Munski

Although the Kansas State cross country runners, by finishing second, third, and fourth, won the dual engagement with the Tigers at Manhattan on Oct. 8, laurels for the day went to Missouri's John Munski for his record-breaking performance in the two-mile event.

Munski was clocked in the official time of 9:30, or nine seconds faster than the former Big Six conference mark set in 1934 by Lochner, the University of Oklahoma flyer.

In addition to the conference mark to his credit, Munski now owns the distinction of having set a new Kansas State track record and of establishing a new all-time two-mile record by a Missouri runner. At Manhattan Munski led the field for seven laps and a final burst of speed in the stretch put him approximately 75 yards ahead of his nearest rival at the finish.

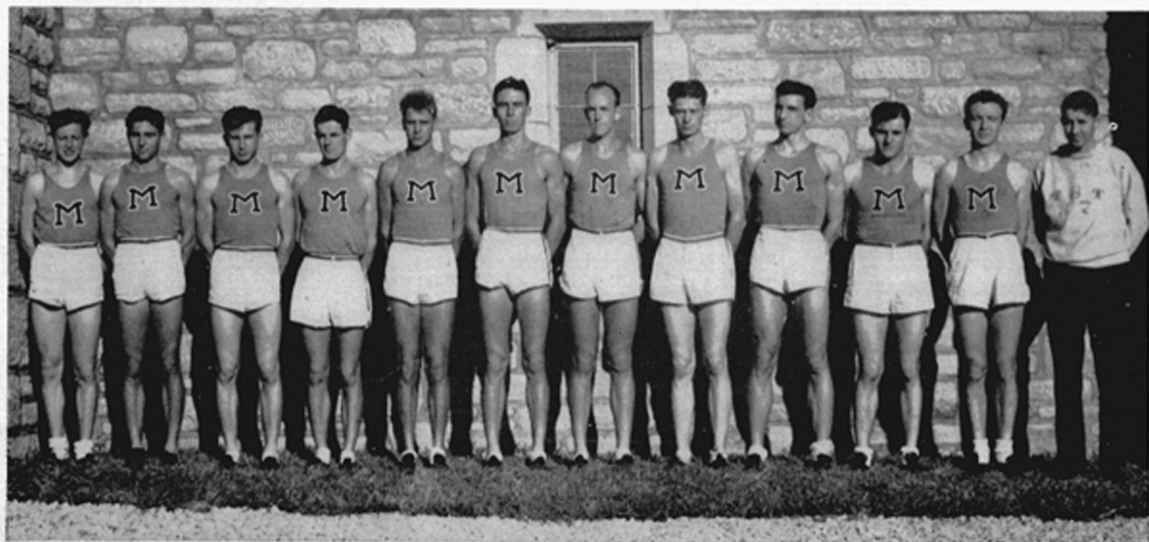

● GAINES CASE CONTINUES

Lloyd L. Gaines, St. Louis Negro, won a review from the United States Supreme Court on Oct. 10 in his effort to compel the University of Missouri to accept him as a law student.

Gaines appealed from a Missouri supreme court decision that he was legally barred from admission to the University. The registrar and curators justified their action, his petition asserted, on the ground that it is against the constitution of the state to admit a Negro to the University, and that the state has provided Negroes an opportunity to study law equivalent to that which the state offers white students.

Gaines said that the M. U. School of Law is the only public law school in Missouri.

This admission case started through the courts in the summer of 1936 when Gaines sought a mandamus order from the Boone County Circuit Court compelling University officials to admit him to the school. Judge W. M. Dinwiddie denied the application without comment, and the case was then taken to the state supreme court in Jefferson City. The latter ruled last year that the University officials were justified legally in denying admission to Gaines.

New Equipment

HAS BEEN INSTALLED IN ENGINEERING LABORATORY BUILDING — INCLUDES DIESEL ENGINE AND ACCESSORIES.

Two new units have been installed in the Mechanical Engineering Laboratory at the University. The new laboratory building erected in 1936 to house the chemical, civil, mechanical, and electrical laboratories is being equipped with new apparatus as rapidly as possible.

The first unit completed is an independently gas-fired steam superheater, complete with its own fire brick setting and chimney, which permits a wide range of steam conditions for experimental work.

The second of the new units is a modern diesel engine complete with a gasoline driven air-starting set, and other instruments which will provide outstanding instruction in Diesel engine practice.

Four units from the old building which was demolished have been installed in the new laboratory. There is a large natural gas engine; a simple steam engine mounted on a special one story steel and concrete platform; a unaflow steam engine of novel design; and a steam driven air compressor of conventional type.

Steam apparatus has been erected carefully and the foundations arranged for effective instruction. Modern steam piping circle the walls following modern technical practice. In the steam conditions of the Mechanical Laboratory each eighty feet of pipe expands an inch, and the curving lines are necessary to meet the expansion.

Special laboratory studies are being developed in the mezzanine rooms of the building but are not yet complete.

Dr. Ralph L. Scorch, assistant professor of mechanical engineering, said the department plans to install an electric dynamometer capable of testing modern automobiles and aircraft engines; a variable compression, internal combustion test engine; a modern wind-tunnel capable of permitting instruction in aerodynamic and streamlining work; and a variety of smaller units necessary in other branches of mechanical engineering.

Man in the Mask

News last month that Clarence L. Angerer, B.S. in Agr. '14, had been appointed head of the department of agricultural education at Oklahoma A. & M. at Stillwater recalls a famous story which originated twenty-five years ago when Mr. Angerer was enrolled in the University.

"Dutch" Angerer was the southpaw mainstay of Coach Brewer's Tiger baseball team. Although he had a tendency to be wild and erratic at times, "Dutch" could usually be depended on in the pinches. According to Mr. Brewer, this particular incident came during a hectic game with the Kansas Jayhawkers. Angerer had been breezing along in fine form until late in the game his catcher suffered a broken finger and had to leave the game.

"Bottles" Wykoff, the substitute, donned the catcher's paraphernalia and the game went on, but "Dutch" blew higher than a kite. The Tigers finally retired their opponents. Brewer met his pitcher coming in from the mound with a credulous "What on earth happened to you out there, Dutch?"

Angerer hesitated for a moment and then released his now-famous statement.

"Coach," he winced, "have you ever seen 'Bottles' Wykoff behind a mask?"

And they still kid Mr. Wykoff about it.

New Loan Fund

CREATED BY RURAL WOMEN'S CLUBS

A new student loan fund to be known as the Missouri Home Makers Association Loan Fund has been accepted by the University's Board of Curators.

The fund will be provided by contributions from the rural women's clubs of Missouri in amounts of $1 per club per year. At present there are 800 of these in the state.

The money will be loaned to rural freshman boys and girls entering or enrolling in any school or college in the University, who are unable to secure financial help from any other source. If at any time the fund shall exceed the needs of freshman students, loans may be made to upperclassmen.

The amounts loaned to each individual shall not exceed $50 per semester and will be loaned at a 2 per cent rate of interest. The fund will be administered by the Student Loan Fund Committee of the University.

COACH WHITMORE OPENS HEAVY
FALL SCHEDULE WITH TWO VETER-ANS — DISEASE THREATENS MOUNTS.

Twenty members of this year's polo team have been working out daily under the direction of Capt. Charles S. Whitmore, coach. There are only two lettermen, George I. Taylor and Hudson Scheiber.

Practice was hindered for several days last month while horses were being vaccinated against sleeping sickness which has taken a considerable toll of farm animals in this section of the country recently.

The Tiger team opened its season with the University of Illinois on Oct. 1 at Champaign. The first home game was played on Oct. 8 with an All Star team composed of alumni and army officers. On Oct. 15 the M. U. team will meet Iowa State in Columbia.

The complete schedule is as follows:

Oct. 15	Iowa State	Columbia
Oct. 22	Iowa State	Ames
Oct. 29	Alumni	Columbia
Nov. 5	Illinois	Columbia
Nov. 11, 12	Oklahoma	Norman

The games with Iowa State on Oct. 15, and with Illinois on Nov. 5, being scheduled on the same days as football games, will be played in the morning.

LOS ANGELES, October, 1938—Several Missouri alumni marched through Los Angeles streets and sampled all that the famed state had to offer during the American Legion convention. Legionnaires who came to the sunshine state were favored with "unusual" weather when the thermometer boiled at 93 degrees during the confab.

"Jim"

Of course the big news this month is the alumni chapter's dinner dance, which will take place Oct. 15. Tiger alumni will feast and rejoice at the deluxe Del Mar Club in Santa Monica situated right down by the rolling Pacific. For this event the committee on arrangements has spared nothing to make it one of the outstanding social events of the year. Alumni from hundreds of miles around have ordered reservations. Prexy Don Wren promises a full moon and clear weather for the most romantic setting possible.

Among those who made early reservations for the affair are Scoop Conlon, Willmer Hudson, Phil Gibson, Lona Gilbert, Tom Parker, Jim Martin, Jim Hudson and Heinie Mahley. Mahley went so far as to say he would be there 200 per cent—see next month's column for an interpretation of that remark.

Ominous words from Don Wren are: "It must be remembered that those under 21 will have to drink Coca-Cola in the refreshment room and those over 21 must have their driver's license or something to establish the fact that they are entitled to authentic refreshments."

Around three score Tiger alumni located in the sunshine state rallied for the Sept. 15 meeting at the Maison Gaston, late spot in Hollywood. Piece de resistance of the usual informal and chatty evening proved to be Scoop Conlon's talk, pregnant with wit and wisdom. Scoop now publicizes (Continued on Next Page) far and wide the movie queens. He was introduced by Wilson Heller, another Tiger publicity man at large in the movie colony. In fact, Conlon's talk reached magnificent proportions in that Willmer Hudson and Tom Parker each helped in introducing the speaker of the evening.

The advice of Scoop fell on the willing ears of nearly a score alumni youngsters who are working on Coast publications. Scoop said the best way to a Hollywood publicity job was via the newspaper route after leaving the formal halls of learning. Heinie Mahley assured the alumni chapter that this year's Missouri football team would stand a better than even chance of copping the Big Six title.

JOTTINGS: Lee Wilder, recently of the Los Angeles Times, is now scribbling for the Palo Verde Valley Times in Blythe, Calif. Blythe is a very hot place. Bill Bowers, Tiger making good in the film colony, took leave of Hollywood for a few months to supervise personally the Broadway opening Nov. 3 of his play, "Stray Greeks," based on fraternity life at Mizzou.

Jayne Heldman, former M. U. er, is broadcasting nightly at one of the Hollywood stations. . . . Jack O'Mara, Journalism assistant last year, is newscasting via another. . . . A note from Jack Leonard, 1937 Tiger griddler, now assisting his father with the Leonard Printing Company in Bartlesville, Okla. . . . John Teed, a Jay School graduate way back when, is covering fraternal lodges and club activities for the Long Beach Sun.

Walter Case, Long Beach Sun editor, tells me he gets about a dozen letters of application a year from Missouri Journalists—says he wishes he could give them all jobs. . . . Scott Ware, former M. U. With the aid of the University our office is now busy bringing the alumni records up to date. John Cargill, former Journalism student, is supervising the project and has fifteen workers under him. It's a task to locate nearly 25,000 degree-holders and we ask your co-operation in mailing back our information cards as rapidly as possible.

Scores of people have told us recently how wonderful they think the Baird Bells in Memorial Tower are. The bells probably find their most attentive audience in our alumni who return to the campus after a long absence. Now, after almost two years, you would think that we might have gotten accustomed to them but we constantly pause for a moment on the hour and wait for the beautiful tones.

Our biggest thrill in connection with the bells came late one afternoon when we were about two miles out of Columbia on the old Ashland Gravel. The air was clear and cool and we must have been in tune with nature. Suddenly, and unexpectedly, we caught the first peal of the Westminster chime. The effect was soul-stirring.

In closing let us call your attention to the budget story on page 7. We have printed excerpts from the official message which accompanied the request for funds and commend it to you for its powerful and levelheaded appeal. For this credit is due President Middlebush, Leslie Cowan, and the members of the Board of Curators.

POST SCRIPT: We've seen the colored print that the Missouri Store is offering to all ALUMNUS-readers in their ad on Page 26. It's a beauty and certainly worth the trouble of sending in your request.

One of the outstanding advantages of railroad travel over other forms of transportation is the smoothness with which the trains glide over the rails. The Wabash Railway, realizing that smoothness is an essential feature in the operation of its passenger service, is constantly making improvements in its track and roadbed.

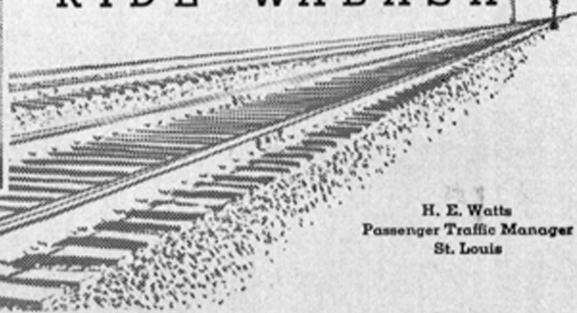

Actual scenes of Wabash track-men at work, are pictured at the left. These experts maintain the high degree of smoothness for which the Wabash is noted, that your trips may be more comfortable, more enjoyable, and more restful.

It will pay you in genuine comfort to plan your trip for Wabash thru service between St. Louis and
