In Life's Big Moments, you rely on your telephone

Skilled Western Electric workers made your telephone so well that you can rely on it

Good telephone service depends on capable, resourceful people and reliable equipment. Western Electric's part in it is the equipment.

This means not the telephone alone, but also thousands of items that you may never see, in the central office and along the way. Switchboards, relays, cable—virtually everything in the complex network—were made by Western Electric people with pride in their work.

It is this Company's responsibility as the Bell System's Service of Supply to furnish equipment of the highest quality at the lowest possible cost.

An unusual inspection, typical of Western Electric thoroughness. The operator has taken an X-ray picture of the telephone, to make sure its "innards" are all right.

At press time we received from St. Louis news of the passing of Eddie Klein following an illness of six weeks. He was one of Mizzou's famous athletes and a sportsman in every sense of the word. Thirty years ago he was a quarterback on Bill Roper's great team of 1909 and was also captain and catcher on the 1910 baseball team. In recent years he served as a member of the Alumni Advisory Committee on Intercollegiate Athletics. His many friends in the Alumni Association will be saddened by news of his death.

Signs of spring and June commencement came this month when the College of Engineering distributed placement data blanks among senior students. These blanks, containing information about the student's college interests, business and experience references, activities, major interests, and a photograph of the applicant, are printed and distributed among more than fifty companies which employ men trained in engineering. The plan, instituted several years ago, has been continued by Dean Harry A. Curtis with additional emphasis.

Former students of Dr. Mazyck P. Ravenel, professor emeritus of medical bacteriology and preventive medicine at the University, have had an oil painting made of Dr. Ravenel and have presented it to the School of Medicine Library. The painting, done in Kansas City by Albert Adams Sloan, will be formally presented later in the year, but it is now on display in the library in McAlester Hall.

Dr. Ravenel retired from active duty in 1932 after 18 years as a member of the Missouri faculty. In 1936 he was given the title of professor emeritus. He maintains an office at the medical school at present.

Each semester a number of students suddenly pack up and leave for home. In some cases it is scholastic difficulties, in others it's financial, but a great many leave because they have been unable to adjust themselves to their new environment.

With this last group in mind, student organizations on the campus recently began agitation for a course in freshman orientation to be included in the regular University curriculum. Discussions on study efficiency, vocational guidance, social development, personal problems, leadership, and mental and physical hygiene have been suggested as possible points to be included in the course.

The Home Economics Club, Mortar Board, the Student Government Association, and the campus newspaper have come out in support of such a program during the past month. Its members are consulting with the faculty to get the latter's support in presenting their request before the Board of Curators. If the faculty feels that such a step is necessary, it alone can take the necessary steps.

The course, to be included in the 1940 fall curriculum, would require action by the middle of April.

A copy of "Food and Life," the 1939 yearbook of the United States Department of Agriculture, has reached the alumni office with the compliments of O. E. Reed, chief of the Bureau of Dairy Industry in Washington. Mr. Reed is also chairman of the committee which issues the book. He received a B. S. in Agriculture from the University in 1908, and an M. S. degree in 1910.

Q. E. B. H., senior honorary society for men on the University campus, thought it had a good idea last month. Since installation of the Baird Chime in Memorial Tower, the old University bell in Switzer Hall has remained silent except on rare occasions. In November it was tolled for the academic celebration of M. U.'s centennial.

Members of the honor society proposed to use the Switzer bell as a Victory Bell, to be rung after each athletic event in which Missouri was a victor. Preparations were made accordingly. But following Missouri's opening basketball victory over St. Louis University the night of Dec. 16, all was silent in Switzer belfry. Silence reigned again Dec. 18 when Missouri defeated Denver.

Secretary Leslie Cowan of the University explained that the bell was too close to Noyes Hospital, and its lusty notes would disturb the rest of patients.

But the matter is still under consideration in regard to future games.

Stewart Bridge, a landmark familiar to many alumni, may be replaced shortly by a more modern and larger structure. The bridge which serves as a connecting link between the University district and Columbia's rapidly growing southwest section has constituted a serious driving hazard in the recent years of Columbia's growth. Local newspapers have agitated for a new bridge for several years and this month the city council ordered an investigation of the cost. An application for federal aid will probably be made.

Edward W. Cochrane, sports director of Hearst newspapers, welcomed the new year early this month with a bushel of predictions concerning the 1940 sports season. Of principal interest to Missouri fans is his guess that the football Tigers will again carry off top honors in the Big Six conference.

Mr. Herman B. Hill, attorney of Shamrock, Tex., and a graduate of our College of Arts and Science and the School of Law in 1910 and 1912, contributes the following opus praising the virtues of keeping one's circulation account in good shape. Needless to say, Mr. Hill is one of our most loyal readers. We print his effort not only for the salutary effect it may have, but also because he is the first man we've found who could find something to rime with "Alumnus." We doff our hats to his literary achievement.

A PSALM TO THE "ALUMNUS" (Apologies to the Editor)

Tell us not in worldly numbers
You are now an empty dream
But the check is dead that slumbers
And things are just what they seem.
Live long great Mizzou Alumnus!
You can make our lives sublime,
And your pages leave behind us
Footprints on the sands of time.
Let us then be up and doing,
With a check that's never late,
Still achieving, still pursuing
Learn to act and not to wait.

District Meetings Being Scheduled

Scheduling of district meetings of the Alumni Association throughout the state of Missouri has been started and within a few weeks the 1940 phase of the Association's Public Relations Program will get underway.

Enthusiasm for the program, which was instituted four years ago, has grown steadily and each year has seen further development of the plan which was outlined originally to carry the University, its achievements, and services to the people of the state. In the short period of its existence the number of state districts has been more than doubled, and the number of meetings held annually has grown three-fold. This year, several district chairmen plan to hold meetings in every town in their territories. Previously only one meeting for each district was sponsored.

The reception accorded the program in its early days is the principal reason for its rapid growth. The enthusiasm and willingness of alumni to cooperate in and serve the program has been rivalled by that of the local chambers of commerce and civic clubs all over the state. No small portion of the credit goes to President Middlebush and deans and administrative officers of the University whose contributions to the program's success have been huge.

The program has had the highly desirable effect of personalizing the University in every section of Missouri. The people like to have the personal acquaintanceships which the public relations program affords, and are appreciative of the opportunities it offers.

Newspaper editors and publishers, members of the clergy, and school and college faculty and administrative people have given officers of the Alumni Association the greatest degree of cooperation.

Allen L. Oliver of Cape Girardeau, chairman of the Public Relations Committee, said recently: "The program is producing beneficial results for the University in every possible way. In my opinion it is the finest thing that the alumni have ever done, and can ever do, for their school. They have given wholeheartedly of their thought and effort and money to make the program a success.

"One of its finest achievements," Mr. Oliver continued, "has been in bringing the University to the attention of thousands of Missourians who ordinarily would have no other means of association. We feel that recent increases in the enrollment at Columbia can be traced to a great degree to this program."

Chairmen of the thirty-one extension districts in the state are: Fred Wolfers, Maryville; Harold Niedorp, St. Joseph; Price Collier, Richmond; Wade W. Maupin, Carrollton; Don C. McVay, Trenton; Richard St. Clair, Kahoka; Richard Chamier, Moberly; E. T. Miller, Hannibal; Arthur D. Bond, Mexico; M. N. Schowengerdt, Warrenton; Kearney Wornall, Kansas City.

Vance Julian, Clinton; Carl Bolte, Slater; Paget Thornton, Jefferson City; Leo Edwin Mize, Washington; A. A. Buford, St. Louis; Donald Dawson, Butler; George S. Beimdick, Jr., Carthage; Claude M. Garner, Neosho; Robert L. Woodfill, Bolivar; Miles Elliff, Lebanon; Dr. A. A. Drake, Rolla; Melvin Englehart, Fredericktown; James A. Finch, Cape Girardeau; Flavius B. Freeman, Springfield; Paul Shepard, Mountain Grove; George R. Loughead, Poplar Bluff; Howard Long, Crane; Stanley Ginn, Aurora; and Judge Walter A. Higbee, Lancaster.

Chairman of the Public Relations Committee.

John F. Williams to Head National Guard

Colonel John F. Williams, former journalism student at the University from 1908 to 1911, was recently appointed chief of the National Guard Bureau of the War Department by President Roosevelt. The appointment becomes effective February 1.

Colonel Williams was connected with the University from 1922 to 1933, first as University publisher, then as assistant secretary, and later as director of publications. Since 1933 he has been in Washington in the detached service of the National Guard Bureau. He will have the important job now of co-ordinating the national guard units of the forty-eight states into the new defense program being supervised by the army chief of staff.

The appointment followed a White House conference in December between Harry Woodring, secretary of war, Gen. George Marshall, army chief of staff, and the president. Colonel Williams was recommended to this committee by Gov. Lloyd C. Stark, and the two Missouri senators, Bennett Champ Clark and Harry S. Truman, both of whom were war buddies of Williams.

Williams entered active army service in 1917 as a lieutenant and adjutant of the 128th machine gun battalion; was a member of the A. E. F. in 1918-19, and was then transferred to Paris for duty in connection with the inter-allied games and the Peace Conference. He was discharged in September, 1919, as captain of reserves, and was then named major of the inspector general's department of the Missouri State Staff. In 1921 he became lieutenant-colonel of the 203rd anti-aircraft artillery, and in April, 1923, he was made colonel of the 128th field artillery with headquarters in Columbia.

First M. U. Rhodes Scholar Dies

Ralph Eugene Blodgett, the first Rhodes Scholar to be selected from Missouri, died Jan. 6 of a bronchial ailment at his home in St. Louis. He was 56 years old.

As a junior in the University he was awarded the scholarship in August, 1904, and spent three years studying at Oxford and on the continent. He later returned to school in Columbia and was awarded a bachelor of arts degree in 1915. At the time of his death he was an attorney for the Public Service Company in St. Louis.

Surviving are his widow, Mrs. Marie Blodgett, and two sisters, Miss Gertrude Blodgett of St. Louis and Mrs. L. E. Fisher of Hannibal. Burial was held in Shelbina, Mo.

Who Says Students Aren't Realists?

A note of fatalism was struck by THE MISSOURI STUDENT, official campus weekly, when it published the schedule for final examinations this month. The exams began Saturday, Jan. 20, and were to end the following Saturday, Jan. 27. Under the heading of "Holiday Horror" the paper listed the day-by-day schedule, concluding thus:

Class Period	Examination Period
3 MWF	Sat., Jan. 27, 8-10
3 TTh	Sat., Jan. 27, 2-4
Dean's Office	Mon., Jan. 29, Summons 10 a. m.
Pack Bags	Tues., Jan. 30
Trains Leave	Wed., Jan. 31, Anytime

College Presidency To Roy M. Green

Roy M. Green, a native of Missouri and graduate of the M. U. College of Agriculture in 1914, has been elected president of the Colorado State College of Agriculture and Mechanic Arts at Ft. Collins.

Mr. Green was born in Carrollton and until taking the new position was deputy governor of the Farm Credit Administration in Washington, D. C. He holds graduate degrees from the University of Chicago and Kansas State College where he served on the faculty thirteen years.

Graduate Promoted by General Electric Company

John W. Logan was recently made general statistician for the General Electric Company. He graduated from the University of Missouri with a bachelor of science degree in electrical engineering in 1931. He has been with the company since his graduation.

For the last two years he has been a member of the traveling auditor's staff. After a three-week vacation trip to Honolulu, which ended Dec. 27, Logan went to Schenectady to assume his new duties.

Howard Long to M. U.

Howard R. Long, editor and publisher of the Crane (Mo.) Chronicle, has been appointed assistant instructor in the School of Journalism for the period Feb. 1 to May 31. He will do special research work while on the campus and some teaching. Mr. Long, who received B. J. and A. B. degrees from the University in 1930, is chairman of District No. 29 of the state alumni association and president of the Stone County group.

School Superintendents Elect M. U. Graduates

At the conclusion of the annual meeting of the Department of Superintendence of the Missouri State Teachers Association, held in Columbia this month, L. B. Hawthorne, B. S. in Ed. '10, A. M. '32, was elected president of the group for the coming year. Mr. Hawthorne is superintendent of schools in Mexico.

Other officers named were: Vice-president, Supt. R. A. Harper, A. M. '30, of Sikeston; secretary, M. C. Cunningham, M. Ed. '37, of the State Department of Education; and member of the planning committee, Supt. Hubert Wheeler, A. M. '39, of Butler.

Among the speakers on the department's program were W. A. Cochel, editor of the Weekly Kansas City Star and past-president of the alumni association, and Louis La Coss, editorial writer for the St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

Annual Jay Show Set for Feb. 12, 13

Tryouts and casting for the twenty-third edition of the Journalism Show were held during the third week of January. Richard Kunish, chairman of the Journalism Students Commission, announces that the script, entitled "The Ghost Walks," is complete. "It is a new and different mystery-musical," he said. In fact, it's so new and different from any past Jay show script that the Commission has declined to reveal details of plot and particulars. Originally scheduled for this month, the show was recently set back to Monday and Tuesday, Feb. 12 and 13, because rehearsals cannot be held during final exam week.

St. Joseph Alumni Honor Students

University students whose homes are in or near St. Joseph were guests of that city's alumni association on Dec. 28 at a luncheon. This is an annual event sponsored by the association during the Christmas holidays. Harold Niedorp, chairman of state alumni district No. 2 and president of the Buchanan County Alumni Association, was in charge of the luncheon.

"The Rivals" Next

"The Rivals," third major presentation of Workshop, student dramatic organization, went into production this month with Prof. Donovan Rhynsburger in charge. It will be staged in Jesse Auditorium on Feb. 21 and 22. The first two major productions this year were "You Can't Take It With You" and "Missouri Legend."

Court Dismisses Gaines Case

The precedent-setting Gaines Case which began four years ago when Lloyd Gaines, St. Louis Negro, sought to enter the University's School of Law, and which reached the United States Supreme Court a little more than a year ago, was brought to a close quietly on Dec. 30 when Judge W. M. Dinwiddie dismissed the case in Boone County Circuit Court.

Counsel for Gaines filed an affidavit with the court, stating that they had no knowledge of the Negro's whereabouts and were unable to affirm or deny allegations of the respondents, Registrar S. W. Canada and the Board of Curators, that their client is no longer a citizen of the state.

The affidavit stated that in October, 1939, Gaines' lawyers sent news notices to the Negro press, seeking aid in finding the missing graduate of Lincoln University, state school for Negroes in Jefferson City. The daily press was also advised of Gaines' disappearance, the affidavit added, but so far no trace of him could be found.

Gaines first received attention when he was refused admission to the School of Law in January, 1936.

SCHOOL BUILDING NAMED FOR ALUMNUS

Edwin D. Smith, B. S. in E. E. '01, who retired last month after 18 years of service on the board of education of the Oakwood (Dayton, O.) school system, has been honored by the naming of the Oakwood grade school the Edwin D. Smith School. Mr. Smith has been president of the board for the last 14 years. He is plant engineer for the National Cash Register Company in Dayton.

Faculty Notes

E. A. Trowbridge, chairman of the animal husbandry department, has been elected director of the American Horse Show Association. The association is an organization of various horse shows which lays down rules and regulations for the direction and management of such events.

Frederick M. Tisdell, dean emeritus of the College of Arts and Science, and Mrs. Tisdell left Columbia this month on a trip to various points in Florida where they plan to remain until the first of March.

William L. Bradshaw, associate professor of political science and public law, was granted a one-year sabbatical leave of absence this month by the Board of Curators, effective Sept. 1, 1940. Dr. Bradshaw will investigate American political parties, and will do research at libraries in Washington, D. C.

Dr. Lewis John Stadler, professor of field crops, was also granted a leave of absence for the period Feb. 1 to May 31, 1940. He will work at the California Institute of Technology, the leading genetics institution in the country.

The other leave of absence granted this month by the Board went to Clifford M. Wallis, member of the engineering faculty, who will complete his work for a Ph. D. degree in radio communications at Harvard University. His leave dates from Sept. 1, 1940 to Aug. 31, 1941.

Dr. W. A. Albrecht, professor of soils in the College of Agriculture, and Dr. W. J. Robbins, formerly dean of the M. U. graduate school, were elected committeemen last month by the American Association for the Advancement of Science at its meeting in Columbus, O.

Roscoe B. Ellard, professor of journalism, has been granted a leave to go to Columbia University and serve as visiting professor from Feb. 1 to May 31. Mr. Ellard is co-author, with Laura Vitray and John Mills, Jr., of a book entitled, "Pictorial Journalism," which was published recently by McGraw-Hill.

Alumni Office Has New Location

In a general re-arrangement of University offices in Jesse Hall that took place during and shortly after the Christmas holidays, the central office of the Alumni Association was moved from the second floor to the first floor quarters which it occupied many years ago. Henceforward, all communications to this office should be directed to the new address: 114 JESSE HALL. The new location will be more convenient for visiting alumni, and we want to state again that the old latch-string is still hanging out. Come see us soon!

—BOB HILL—

Houston Heads M Men

Clair ("Butch") Houston, graduate student in the University from Wellston, Mo., was elected president of the M Men's Club for the second semester at a meeting held Jan. 11 in the club room at Rothwell Gym. He succeeds Clyde Nelson.

New Student Union Building Is Opened

WHEN the achievements of the present University administration are listed, and they are many, at the top of the list will come the temporary student union building, formerly Read Hall, which was opened this month. At least that's what the students are saying, and they have a great deal of support from all sides.

Last year when University authorities announced their plan to remodel the old dormitory building on Hitt Street for use by students as a recreation center, they stated frankly that it was an experiment. For years students and alumni had worked for such a center, they stressed its importance as a means of affording young men and women proper social environment to complement what they learned in the class room. There was a need for co-ordination of the various extra-curricular activities. Now, the University wanted to know, will the students make full use of such facilities if they are provided?

The answer came overnight. Since the building opened shortly after the Christmas holidays the students have literally packed the place. Go out there some afternoon after 4 o'clock. The first floor lounges will be filled with boys and girls playing bridge or checkers (the Chinese variety as well as the old and honored game), reading, resting, or engaging in conversation. Playing cards, games, and game boards are furnished by the University and are checked out to students just as books are in the General Library.

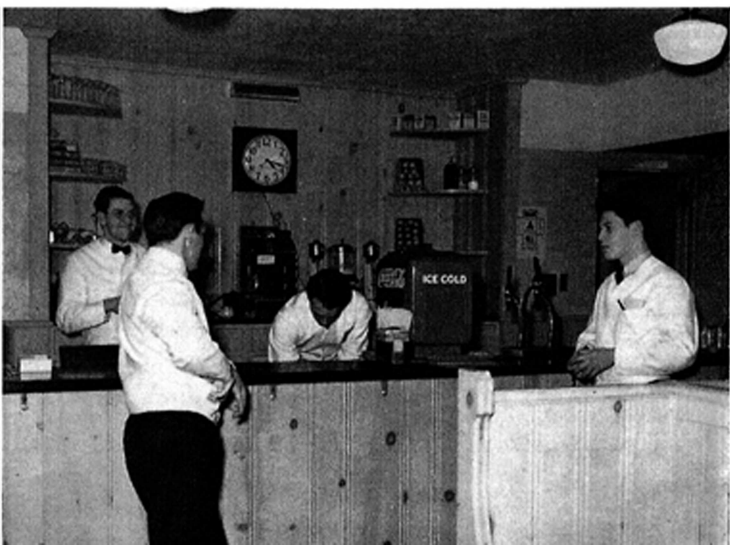

The University has done a splendid job of remodeling. Save for its original "T" shape, the hall retains only a bare resemblance to the dormitory that had been in use for more than thirty years. The entire first floor, with the exception of a small kitchenette, has been thrown together to make a huge student lounge. Entering the front door, the visitor first reaches a tiled hall. On his right is the information desk, equipped with everything that might be needed from playing cards to a telephone directory.

The large lounge rooms on either side of the hall have soft yellow walls and cream-colored ceilings, contrasted by off-gray woodwork and tinted rugs. The furniture, of light wood in modern styles, features an almost endless variety of chairs, sofas, and love seats, plus coffee and end tables, and small consoles to hold magazines and newspapers. The upholstery follows the modern trend toward variety, with rusts, browns, greens, wines, and almost every other color. There is also a deluxe radio and a baby grand piano for anyone who's interested.

In the basement, or ground floor, an attractive "jelly joint" in the best Missouri tradition has been established. Booths in knotty pine will accommodate 85 persons. At one end of the refreshment room is an adequate soda fountain, presided over by student workers. Only sandwiches, soft drinks, and a few short orders are sold. The place does a rushing business at breakfast time. At the other end of the basement is the dance floor, complete with the latest in "jook boxes" to furnish music at a nickel a throw. On either side of the dance floor are powder rooms.

(Below) Students dance in the basement "jelly joint" to music provided by a "nickel-a-tune" phonograph. The floor is highly polished concrete. A completely equipped soda fountain is manned by University students. The eating place does a rushing business at breakfast time as well as in the afternoon and evening. Note the electric clock to warn the boys and girls of approaching classes.

Student organizations occupy most of the space on the second and third floors. Two suites of rooms for Dean of Men Albert K. Heckel and Miss Thelma Mills, director of student affairs for women, are located at the southwest and northwest corners of the second floor. The Student Government Association has been allotted office space between the deans' suites, in the center of the building facing the street.

Other offices on the second floor are occupied by the Women's Student Government Association, the Y. M. C. A. and the Y. W. C. A. Space is also provided for one conference room.

On the third floor there are seven conference rooms to be used as meeting places for various student organizations. Offices of the Missouri Student, official campus weekly newspaper, and the Savitar, University yearbook, are also on this floor. Many of the offices and some of the conference rooms are provided with fireplaces and the University will furnish wood to keep them going. On the east end of the floor are living quarters for the resident hostess, Mrs. B. W. Dunn.

The various meeting and conference rooms are available for all student organizations. The building will be open until 10:15 o'clock during the week, except Wednesday and Sunday when it will be open until 11:30. Friday and Saturday nights closing time will be 12:15 o'clock.

The student newspaper has been preparing the student body for several months—"conditioning" might be the better word. The editors have stressed the importance of showing the University administrators that such a building is necessary and, in their opinion, the only way to achieve this is to take full advantage of its opportunities. They have pointed out that the building is temporary, that it may well lead to a student union of the dimensions originally planned by alumni.

At the top is shown a general view of the main lounge on the first floor. In its pleasant atmosphere students may play cards or checkers, listen to the radio, play the piano, or just talk. In additional lounges there are plenty of card tables for bridge games. Cards and games are furnished by the University and are checked out to students by attendants. Below, Mrs. B. W. Dunn, the resident hostess, chats before the fireplace with two students. Wood for this fireplace, as well as the half-a-dozen others throughout the building is also furnished by the management.

Many Law Alumni In State Bar Offices

The University of Missouri is well represented by alumni in the administration, council, and committees of the Missouri Bar Association during the current year. Roscoe Anderson, former student in 1901-06, of St. Louis, is serving as president; James A. Potter, A. B. '02, LL. B. '05, of Jefferson City, is secretary; and Allen L. Oliver, A. B. '08, LL. B. '09, Cape Girardeau, and Lon S. Haymes, former student in 1913, Springfield, are vice-presidents.

The general council of the bar association is made up of one representative from each of the thirty-eight judicial circuits in the state. Fourteen of these representatives are alumni. They are: Walter C. Goodson, LL. B. '99, Macon; Gerald Cross, former student in 1916-20, Lathrop; Latney Barnes, LL. B. '35, Mexico; John D. Taylor, honorary, Keytesville.

A. Lamkin James, A. B. '27, Marshall; Thomas H. Douglas, LL. B. '12, Bolivar; John M. Dalton, LL. B. '23, Kennett; Robert L. Ewing, LL. B. '31, Nevada; S. P. Dalton, LL. B. '18, Cape Girardeau; L. J. Bishop, LL. B. '31, Butler; John T. Martin, LL. B. '29, Sedalia; W. B. Whitlow, former student in 1914-16, Fulton; and Roy W. Harper, LL. B. '29, Caruthersville.

Delegates to the American Bar Association are Gen. John T. Barker, honorary, Kansas City; W. Wallace Fry, LL. B. '09, Mexico; and Kenneth Teasdale, LL. B. '18, St. Louis.

Following are the alumni who are serving as committee chairmen: Clif Langsdale, A. B. '04, Kansas City, administrative law; Basil L. Kaufman, former student in 1917, St. Joseph, amendments to constitution; John F. Rhodes, A. B. '14, Kansas City, defense of civil rights; Ray B. Lucas, A. B. '13, Jefferson City, expediting trials and appeals; James E. Nugent, LL. B. '05, Kansas City, grievances and legal ethics.

W. C. Lucas, A. B. '00, LL. B. '01, Kansas City, judicial candidates; Frank B. Edwards, LL. B. '35, Mexico, junior bar matters; Waldo Edwards, LL. B. '06, Macon, legal education and admission to the bar; Rodney M. Fairfield, A. B. '20, St. Louis, public relations; and Allen McReynolds, A. B. '01, Carthage, uniform state laws.

State Bankers Meet On M. U. Campus

Missouri's first bankers educational conference was held in Columbia Jan. 17, 18 and 19 under the sponsorship of the Missouri Bankers Association, the University, and the State Department of Finance. The conference was designed to provide an opportunity for intensive study and discussions of banking problems and topics of interest to bankers throughout the state.

Independent Men Form Organization

Non-fraternity men at the University formed an organization of their own this month to provide them with a social and activity program similar to that of fraternities.

The organization now boasts 250 members and it expects to extend its program to 1000 men students.

Tech Stops Tigers In Miami Bowl

Missouri	7	0	0	0—7
Georgia Tech	7	7	7	0—21

Missouri's first venture in a New Year's Day bowl ended on a sour note this month when the Rambling Wrecks of Georgia Tech overcame a brief 7-to-0 Tiger lead and proceeded to demonstrate to what artistic heights football may reach when practiced by a band of grid artists.

The final score was 21-7, but that was almost forgotten, so impressive was the speed and deception of the Missouri foe. The overflow crowd of 36,500 that filled Miami's Orange Bowl went away singing the praises of a fast little team that had run circles around a bigger and befuddled opponent.

The Tiger players themselves were generous in their praises of the Georgia Tech boys. Said Paul Christman to Johnny Bosch, spark plug of the Tech attack: "Son, you sure showed me up today." Said another Tiger: "Brother, you can't stop 'em if you can't see 'em!"

The pre-game dope indicated a brilliant, high scoring affair, but it didn't intimate that most of the scoring would be accomplished by one team. Missouri started off with a bang, counting a touchdown in the first seven minutes of play after Christman had electrified the stands with his precision passing to Blaine Currence. Christman carried the ball over and Bill Cunningham added the extra point.

Then Tech started rolling. Time after time Missouri forwards crashed through to nail one player only to find that another had the ball. At least two of Tech's touchdowns came under those circumstances. In the second period Bob Ison fooled the Tiger defense on an end-around play and dashed 59 yards for the marker. In the third period Earl Wheby, apparently coming from nowhere, raced 34 yards for another score.

After their first touchdown drive the Tigers were unable to get a sustained march started until late in the fourth period when they were halted two yards from the goal line.

In the matter of first downs Missouri made fourteen to twelve for Georgia Tech, but the Southeastern Conference co-champions out-rushed and out-passed the Tigers. Tech made 210 yards to 151 rushing and rolled up 91 yards to 76 on passes.

Christman summed it up after the game. "They were just a little too fast and had a good deal too much deception to suit us," he said.

The Tech team and coaches were unanimous in their praise of Christman. "He's an All-American if I ever saw one," Coach Bill Alexander said.

Tigers Begin Defense Of Big Six Title

Tiger basketball teams of the last decade have rarely distinguished themselves as being "hot" on the road, but when it came to playing in Brewer Field House visiting teams that could turn the trick were few and far between.

At this early stage in the 1940 season it is hazardous to venture a prediction of how the fates will treat George Edwards' boys seeking their second successive Big Six championship. In early games the Bengals have gone to both extremes, taking a 68 to 47 beating from New York University in Manhattan during the Christmas holidays and then, a few weeks later, walloping Nebraska 46 to 33. In the former game nothing seemed to go right, and in the latter the boys couldn't miss.

Oklahoma's famous Boy Scouts, Coach "Phog" Allen's ever formidable Jayhawks, the Nebraska Cornhuskers, and Missouri have all been mentioned as favorites in this year's campaign, and Kansas thus far has lived up to expectations, although they have shown "hot and cold" qualities which have characterized the play of the Bengals.

Missouri has been put on the spot more or less because the team is, with one or two exceptions, essentially the same outfit that shared top honors with Oklahoma last year. Whether general conference play has improved is the big question just now. If it has, as many signs indicate, then the Tigers are in for rough sledding.

Dec. 16—Missouri 54, St. Louis U. 45

Missouri won the opener at Brewer Field House by staging a determined second-half rally to pass the St. Louis Billikens and hold the lead. Most impressive was the showing of Tiger reserve strength with Arch Watson, junior letterman, and Herbert Gregg, sophomore, stealing the show from the veteran starters. Good work was also turned in by Guard Loren Mills, another newcomer to Tiger basketball. Both teams battled on even terms during the first half which ended in an 18-to-18 deadlock. But early in the second period Watson and Gregg sparked a scoring spurt that gave Missouri a 13-point lead. The Missouri defense, with Capt. John Lobsiger and Watson commanding the rebounds, stopped the visitors cold time after time and the victory was never in doubt.

Dec. 18—Missouri 40, Denver 36

The second game of the season was also played in Brewer Field House and again it was a last-period rampage that gave the Tigers victory. The game started fast and rough, the first few points scored coming as the results of fouls by both teams. It was five minutes before Clay Cooper, senior forward, could net the first field goal of the game and give Missouri a 4 to 1 lead. The lead changed several times during the initial period which saw some sloppy court work by both teams. Denver was leading 19 to 18 at the intermission. The visitors came back strong in the last half and at one time held a 31 to 24 advantage. The Denver defense was particularly stubborn and the Tigers began potting away at the net from out court. Play under the basket then loosened up and Missouri started its breath-taking offensive which produced six field goals in just four and a half minutes. Bill Harvey, Cooper, Haskell Tison, and Capt. Lobsiger shared in the scoring. Following the game with Denver the Tigers set out on a four-game tour which took them to New York and Philadelphia during the holidays.

The first stop of the tour was in St. Louis for a return engagement with the Billikens. Here the experience of the older Missouri players, led by Harvey and Tison, was too much for the home team. At half time the Tigers had a comfortable 28 to 19 margin which they were content to protect during the second half by resorting to defensive tactics. Even so they took scoring honors in the second period. Coach Edwards used twelve men in the game, and all combinations seemed to work satisfactorily.

Dec. 22—Missouri 29, Washington 34

The following night the Missourians swallowed their first bitter pill when they ran up against Washington's Bears in St. Louis. Again the Tigers looked bad during the first period and were trailing 8 to 18 at the intermission. During the second half the Tigers rallied and went into a man-to-man defense designed to stop the Bears' scoring. The move was only partly successful. The boys got over-enthusiastic and began fouling too many of the home team who turned the charity tosses into easy points. Again in the final minutes of the game Missouri cut loose and ran up seven points, but the Bears were not to be headed. Bill Harvey led the Tiger scoring with

In Life's Big Moments, you rely on your telephone

Skilled Western Electric workers made your telephone so well that you can rely on it

Good telephone service depends on capable, resourceful people and reliable equipment. Western Electric's part in it is the equipment.

This means not the telephone alone, but also thousands of items that you may never see, in the central office and along the way. Switchboards, relays, cable—virtually everything in the complex network—were made by Western Electric people with pride in their work.

six points, followed closely by Watson and Guard Martin Nash with five each.

Following the game the Missourians split up and went to their respective homes for the Christmas weekend. Center Blaine Currence and Cooper hopped a train for Miami to join their grid mates preparing for the Orange Bowl. The cage team reassembled shortly after Christmas and headed into the East.

Dec. 28—Missouri 47, New York U. 68

The N. Y. U. Violets evened the score in its athletic competition with the Tigers as it avenged its trouncing on the gridiron in November by shellacking the Missouri boys 68 to 47 before 14,282 spectators in Madison Square Garden. The home team lost no time in scoring. From the very first minute of the contest they launched a scoring spree which the Tigers countered successfully for a while. After the count had been tied five times during the first half, the Violets pulled out in front to lead 34-20 at the intermission. The second half was a shambles for the Bengals. Although they tightened their defense and kept hitting the basket for good shots, the New Yorkers sped away and commanded leads from 19 to 23 points throughout the period.

Floor play was fairly equal, but the Violets were masters under the basket, consistently taking the ball off the backboard. Arch Watson led the Tigers with six field goals and a free throw for 13 points. Capt. Lobsiger was next with four goals and two free throws. Cooper and Currence were missed by the Tigers, but their presence would not have altered the result of the game. The New York boys just had it and considering that they averaged 66 points per game in their first five engagements, you'll have to admit they're good.

Dec. 29—Missouri 38, St. Joseph's 39

The following night George Edwards and the boys were in Philadelphia to meet St. Joseph's College in Convention Hall. The game, close all the way, was a thriller from start to finish. Neither team ever held a lead of more than six points. At half-time Missouri was in front 19 to 14. But their lead was wiped out in the first few seconds of the second half and St. Joseph's went ahead in five minutes of play. The lead shifted four times more during the period. The game ended with the Tigers vainly trying to make a goal from under the basket. After a foul and the consequent charity toss had put the home team ahead by one point in the closing minutes, Missouri worked the ball under the net and batted it no less than five times in an attempt to pull the game out of the fire with a field goal. Bill Harvey again led the Tiger scoring with 13 points while Lobsiger and Tison tied with nine each. This game closed the tour, and the boys headed back to Columbia. Their visit in the East, however, had its bright moments with sight-seeing tours, an evening at "Hell-za-poppin'," and other amusements.

Jan. 5—Missouri 53, Greeley State 34

Back in Brewer Field house the boys returned to their winning ways by swamping the state teachers college team from Greeley, Colo. Currence, the lanky center, back from the Orange Bowl with a flock of bruises, was high point man of the evening with five field goals and a charity toss for eleven points. His grid mate, Clay Cooper, also did his share with eight points. Virtually the entire Missouri squad got in the game and ten of the twelve scored. It was a rough and tumble, free-scoring affair that saw two visitors and one Bengal banished for excessive fouling. Again the work of Missouri reserves was noteworthy.

Jan. 12—Missouri 46, Nebraska 33

Opening conference play against the Cornhuskers in Columbia, the Missourians astounded 4500 fans with a lop-sided victory over a visiting team that had previously gathered a formidable record with crushing defeats over intersectional foes. The game was even more one-sided than the score would indicate. At half-time the Tigers led 26 to 9, and after the first few minutes of play the victory was never in doubt. Bill Harvey, Cooper, and Watson again led the offensive, scoring 14, 11, and 8 points respectively. The ability of the Tigers to hit the basket was excelled only by the air tight defense with which they kept the Cornhuskers, known as a high-scoring outfit, under control. For the last seven minutes of the first period the visitors went scoreless. They were able to gain a little on the Tigers in the second half when Coach Edwards used substitutes freely, but when the veterans returned to the floor the threat was short-lived. At one point in the contest Capt. Lobsiger, Cooper, and Harvey dropped three fast break field goals into the net in less than 30 seconds to cut short what might have been a Husker rally.

By their showing against Nebraska the Tigers made the conference sit up and take notice. Among the spectators at this game was none other than "Phog" Allen himself, over from Kansas to size up the team his boys were to meet the next week. He, as well as the fans that jammed the field house, must have seen plenty to interest them.

Faurot Gets Salary Hike, 1-Year Contract

The University announced early this month that Don Faurot, head football coach, had accepted a new one-year contract offered by the Board of Curators calling for a $7500 salary. This represents a $1500 increase over last year's terms.

Other members of the coaching staff, Chauncey Simpson, Phil Bengtson, John Simmons, and Herb Bunker, also had their contracts renewed but the salary terms were not revealed.

Coach Faurot expressed satisfaction with his new contract.

"I am pleased about my increase in salary and I am very well satisfied with the one-year contract," he said. "I shall go ahead with my plans for the 1940 season and look toward keeping the players in condition until spring practice begins March 4 for the freshmen and March 11 for the Varsity.

Announcement of Faurot's acceptance brought to an end scores of rumors which had been circulating ever since the Tigers clinched the Big Six conference championship by defeating Kansas in November. He had been mentioned chiefly in connection with vacancies at Rice Institute and Stanford University, but had refused to comment.

The head coach is now in the midst of his speaking tour throughout the state at which time he shows motion pictures of the 1939 Tigers in action.

The 1939 season meant quite as much for Faurot as it did for the team, the University, and the state of Missouri. He was given fifth place in the annual polling for the "coach of the year" and received nation-wide mention for his work at Columbia. Said Harry Grayson, sports editor of the N. E. A. service: "Missouri will not be unprepared while it has Don Faurot at the helm."

The season just closed was Don's most successful since coming to Missouri in 1935, and one of the most successful in his colorful fourteen-year coaching career.

Following is his complete record:

1940 Grid Dates Are Announced

The 1940 Missouri grid Tigers will travel as far East as Pittsburgh and West as far as Boulder, Colo., according to the schedule which was released officially this month. Four of the nine games will be played at Memorial Stadium in Columbia.

The Tigers will meet two conference opponents, Iowa State and Kansas, and two non-conference foes, St. Louis University and New York University, in the home games.

The game with the St. Louis University Billikens is on a one-year contract, as is the intersectional match with the Pitt Panthers. The home game with the New York U. Violets is the second of a four-year contract. The Tigers will play in New York in 1941, and the Violets will return to Columbia in 1942. Next fall will mark the conclusion of a four-year contract with Colorado. No announcement has been made concerning future games between the Tigers and the Buffaloes.

Coach Faurot said spring football training will begin March 4 for the freshman players and March 11 for the Varsity. The annual Varsity-Alumni spring contest, climax of the training period, has been scheduled for April 13 on Rollins field.

Additional statistics on the 1939 season revealed that the championship Tigers had traveled 6360 miles through fifteen states during the campaign closed recently. The members of this year's squad who have played for the last three years have traveled from coast to coast, including Los Angeles, New York, Boulder, Colo., and Miami. During the extensive traveling schedule of the past season, players missed only three days of class work.

John Munski to Run In Milrose Games

John Munski, Missouri's well known distance runner, has accepted an invitation to run in the three-quarter mile race in the Milrose Games in Madison Square Garden, on Feb. 3. The University's Committee on Intercollegiate Athletics recently gave its approval to Munski's acceptance.

COACH DON FAUROT

Is pleased with his new contract and a $1500 salary hike.

More Seats in Brewer Field House

To accommodate increased attendance at basketball games this winter, University officials have purchased $7000 worth of new steel and wood bleachers to erect on the west side of the Brewer Field House cage court. They will increase the capacity of the field house to 6000 persons, according to Virgil Spurling, the athletic business manager.

The new stands are more comfortable than the old wooden bleachers, and they will permit reserved seating in the concrete balcony if it is necessary, especially at the Kansas and Oklahoma games next month. More tickets have been sold than the former seating arrangements could accommodate.

Dean Paul W. Chapman Named Georgia's "Man of the Year"

Each January THE PROGRESSIVE FARMER, a magazine published for readers in the Southeast section of the United States, seeks to locate and honor in each state of its territory, some man who has rendered distinguished service to agriculture during the preceding year. The 1939 award for the state of Georgia went to PAUL W. CHAPMAN, dean of the Georgia College of Agriculture at Athens, who holds bachelor's degrees in agriculture and education from the University of Missouri, awarded in 1914 and 1916 respectively. The citation in the farm magazine reads as follows:

"For more than twenty years Paul W. Chapman, dean of the Georgia College of Agriculture, has been fighting Georgia's problems with all the tenacity of his early Missouri training, 'You've got to show me it can't be done.' Essentially, Paul W. Chapman is an educator. His faith in the continued improvement of Georgia farming is built on a fully educated and trained farm citizenship keenly alive to and actively working toward the solution of its problems. One of his unforgettable stories is the report of a visit to a small Georgia community wholly dependent on farming. The bank was 'busted,' the merchants were closing up, the soils were washing away, and everybody was talking hard times—but in the high school the pupils were being taught not better agriculture and homemaking but French!

"Like all good teachers Paul W. Chapman has taken advantage of every resource to get his lessons across. For Future Farmers there has been his inspiring novel, 'The Green Hand,' soon to be released also in movie form. In 'Livestock Farming' he strives to lead more boys and young men into two-armed farming by telling them the how and the why of the lives of successful farmers. Numerous other books by him or edited by him have been pointed directly toward the solution of Georgia's big problems.

"When speaking was needed, Dean Chapman has been as effective a teacher there. His 15 years as state supervisor of agricultural education and state director of vocational education put the state's program of vocational agriculture and home economics on such a sound basis that Georgia stands right at the top today.

"When he became dean of the state agricultural college in 1934 enrollment had dropped to 143; last fall it was 708. About the first place a freshman goes is to the dean's office to get acquainted. Great numbers of the students he calls by their first names. And if a boy or girl is 'broke' but has ambition and ability, there's almost certain to be a way found to keep him or her in school."

WE CELEBRATE
 500 YEARS OF PRINTING

This printing company, established in 1870, has been in business a substantial part of printing's first half-millennium. We should be happy to share with you all that this long span of experience has brought us—on any of your printing needs. And, remember, we manufacture books and sets of books and do re-binding, as well as printing.

nephew, Vernon Hobart, and Mrs. Hobart in New Orleans. Mr. and Mrs. Hobart are graduates of the School of Journalism and the former is connected with the United Press. Mr. Branham is secretary-treasurer of the Daniel Boone Insurance and Security Company here in Columbia.

WARD A. NEFF, B.J. '13, of Chicago, visited the School of Journalism and the College of Agriculture early this month for the first time in a number of years. He is the donor of Jay H. Neff Hall. After inspecting the building together with the new addition, Walter Williams Hall, he said: "When I was in school we attended Journalism classes in Switzer Hall—what a change this well-equipped laboratory-instruction plant is from our early class rooms." Mr. Neff is president of the Devoers Journal Publishing Company, and is vice-president and general manager of the Corn Belt Farm Dailies.

JESSE T. CARGILL, former student in 1913, who is a cartoonist for the King Features newspaper syndicate, recently built a new home at Gates Mills, just outside Cleveland, O.

DR. A. J. DURANT, B.S. in Agr. '13, A.M. '15, professor of veterinary science in the University, was recently named chairman of the section on poultry of the American Veterinary Medical Association by Dr. Cassius Way of New York. Dr. Durant also has been appointed chairman of the association's special committee on poultry diseases.

MRS. ELMER LOVEGREEN, A.B., B.S. in Ed. '15 (Margaret Middlecote), sends us a kind note in which she says, "I wish to tell you how much I enjoyed reading the 'Hopes O' Tomorrow' section in the December Alumnus. Being an old grad of the 'teens', the personnel of these youngsters was especially interesting to me. A Happy New Year to all of the Alumnus staff." Many thanks! Mrs. Lovegreen's address is Box 616, Palmyra, Mo.

E. M. STAUDE, B.S. in Agr. '15, is now proprietor of the Clayton Hotel, at Forsythe and Meramec avenues in Clayton, Mo. A recent feature article about Mr. Staude told how he grew boysenberries on his farm on Olive Street Road and served them as jelly in his restaurant. He imported 2500 vines from Anaheim, Calif. For the uninitiated, we explain that boysenberries are a cross between the loganberry, the raspberry, and the blackberry.

DR. JAMES W. CHAPMAN, former student in 1911-16, is connected with the State Health Department in Jefferson City. Mrs. Chapman is the former MISS MADGE DICKERSON, B.S. in Ed. '18.

Announcement has been made of the engagement of Miss Frances Koch of Triplett, Mo., to F. X. OLNEY, B.S. in Agr. Eng. '38, of Kansas City. Miss Koch is a graduate of Stephens College. The wedding will take place this coming summer.

HERBERT HILL BAUGH, B.S. in M.E. '38, of Miller, Mo., has been appointed a graduate assistant in mechanical engineering at the University.

MISS FRANCES FULKERSON, B.S. in B.A. '38, is employed on the staff of the University Library in Columbia.

MR. and MRS. CHARLES E. CARL, B.S. in C.E. '38, have moved from Columbia to Brookings, S. D., where he has accepted a teaching position in the engineering school of the University of South Dakota. He will teach hydraulics and sanitary engineering. Mr. Carl has been enrolled in the Graduate School at M.U. during the past semester. Mrs. Carl is the former MISS GLADYS KRUSE, B.S. in Ed. '38, of St. Louis.

MISS ELEANOR HARDWICK HALEY, B.S. in Ed. '39, of Louisiana, Mo., and ROBERT WILLIAM PENDERGRASS, A.B. '39, of Kansas City, were married Jan. 6 at the home of the bride's parents. The bride was assistant editor last year of the Savitar, served on the Workshop board, and belonged to the Glee Club and German Club. Before entering the University she attended Sweet Briar College in Virginia. Mr. Pendergrass was editor of the 1939 Savitar and was elected to Phi Beta Kappa, QEBH, and Blue Key. He is listed in a recent volume of Who's Who Among Students in American Colleges and Universities.

MISS MARGARET SHANNON, B.J. '39, has sent us her new address which is 529 Poplar Avenue in Philadelphia, Miss. There she is a general news reporter on the staff of The Neshoba Democrat. She took the position last November.

By Howard S. Burnside

Resolved: To negate this entire year for a law preventing cats and goldfish from making disturbing noises on New Year's Day, that the feline mammal shall not be permitted to stomp around the house, that the golden carp shall not unnecessarily thump the sides of his aquarium.

Howard Burnside

Now that all uplifting resolutions are dusted and conveniently tucked away in moth balls for several days along with New Year's "heads," we can spare moments for productive occupation. New Year's Day always marks commencement of the annual short struggle of people versus their better selves, with the trouble-maker Resolutions prodding the contestants to battle. The "peep" always win; and much time is wasted excusing each article of the New Year Doctrine as occasion demands its dissolution.

Attention of Missourians in Chicago this month will center around the annual election meeting of the Missouri Engineers of Chicago: Place: usual: Harding's Candlelight Room, 206 West Washington Street. Time: January 18, dinner served at 6:15 p. m. Business: Election of officers, after which President Ed Kersting and Secretary Virgil Disney will relinquish their chairs to the successors. The speaker of the evening, Missourian Dr. John F. Calvert of the College of Engineering, Northwestern University, will tell of their own co-operative engineering plans and of new buildings and equipment made possible by the "Murphy Endowment." The "Murphy Endowment," as you have heard, is a little gift of just $7,000,000 from Walter P. Murphy, railroad magnate, to be used for the founding of a technological institute at Northwestern that will surpass all others.

The only new Missouri engineers in Chicago—John Baldwin, Wilbur White, and your correspondent—will attend and mingle with the sages of science. Incidentally, John Baldwin did not come to the Windy City immediately after graduation last June as was previously stated in this column. The unfortunate had had to spend the summer in Honolulu. John speaks of meeting Mr. Viet Hain, '06, and Virginia Couffer, '33er, now living in nearby Winnetka.

P. L. Warren should be nominated for the honorable position—question mark—of Chicago correspondent. Mr. Warren can pack more news, information, and humor into ten lines of copy than this informer can in twice the number. As evidence, we quote from his recent letter. "Achievements are a matter of opinion. I have spent the years since leaving Columbia in the manufacture and sale of high voltage electrical equipment. At present I am vice-president of the above company (Royal Electric Mfg. Co.) which most of the time means chief wet blanket. I have been married since 1924 to (the former Miss) Esther Ross who was a student at Christian College. We have two sons, Joe and Jim, who are doing their level best to keep us in a constant state of surprise and amazement."

Off the record: James Hatcher, now of Morton, Ill., is teaching in this town. Vic Gladney is still flitting about a Sunday evening club in Evanston, and Frank McKinney is often there of an evening. Need we say the club is "co-educational."

Washington News

Col. George H. English addressed the Missouri alumni of Washington, D. C., at their regular monthly luncheon at the Harrington Hotel on Dec. 6. He told of his recent visit in Columbia and the reunion there of thirty members of Company I of the Spanish-American War of which he was captain.

He exhibited snapshots of groups attending the reunion, a photograph of the company of 1898, and a photostat of the original muster roll. Incidents in the history of the company were related. Colonel English was manager of the football team in 1896 and took it to Mexico City. He had an outstanding part in University activities.

Besides Colonel English, the following were present at the luncheon: Craig L. Reddish, Harry G. Hunter, Milo H. Brinkley, F. B. Scheetz, Marie Gurley, Grace J. Lynn, F. H. Shellely, Mrs. David Meeker, Katherine M. Helm, Lloyd P. Hanly, and Preston Alexander. The latter presided.

With CHEVROLET Gearshifting is

80% AUTOMATIC..
only 20% Driver Effort!

Only Chevrolet has the New Exclusive Vacuum-Power Shift... the only steering column gearshift that does 80% of the work for you and requires only 20% driver effort!

Almost all cars have steering column gearshifts today—but only one car has a steering column gearshift that is 80% automatic in operation—and that car is Chevrolet.

You can operate Chevrolet's New Exclusive Vacuum-Power Shift with one finger... without taking your hand off the steering wheel... with much less effort and travel than are required to operate the ordinary steering column gearshift.

This New Vacuum-Power Shift is standard equipment on all Chevrolet models, at no extra cost. It's exclusive to Chevrolet for '40 among all cars regardless of price. It's another vitally important reason why "Chevrolet's FIRST Again!"

WHY SHIFT FOR YOURSELF?

Let This Power Cylinder Shift for You!

Why shift for yourself? Why do it the hard way? Chevrolet's Exclusive Vacuum-Power Shift is controlled from the steering column by an extra-short lever—its end right under the rim of the steering wheel, within easy finger reach. The only effort required of the driver is to move the lever; the vacuum cylinder supplies the effort required to move the shifter forks and gears within the transmission. Instead of supplying all the effort of shifting, the driver supplies only one-fifth; the compact, simple vacuum mechanism, positive and un-failing in operation, does the rest.

"Chevrolet's FIRST Again!"
