We'd like to remember the 49th renewal of the ancient and honorable grid rivalry between Missouri and Kansas as "The Game of Chivalry." That quality was in abundance on Thanksgiving Day this month. There was chivalry on the part of Coach Faurot toward his own former mentors, Gwinn Henry and Harry Lansing; there was the warm welcome that Missourians gave Gwinn and Harry, always favorites; there was Starmer's fine gesture in stepping out of bounds on the one-yard line so that the injured fullback, Myron Council, might score one touchdown before the curtain was rung down on his playing career; there was the rousing ovation which Kansans, as well as Missourians gave Paul Christman when he trotted off the field for the last time; and there was the genuine solicitousness which the Tiger players showed when the K. U. star, Jake Fry, was injured.

The spirit at the game was marvelous. We'd like to see the same demonstration at all college athletic contests.

Bob Woodfill, our energetic district chairman down in Bolivar, Mo., has a houn' dawg which he claims is absolutely the best in the world. All you have to do is show that pup how big your skin-board is, and he'll go out and fetch an animal just the right size to stretch on it. A skin-board, incidentally, is our name for a plank on which you stretch pelts. Recently Bob's dog left home and was gone for five days. After so long a time Bob got a little worried. But then he remembered that Mrs. Woodfill had left her ironing board where the dog could see it. Then he knew that hound was out looking for an animal big enough to accommodate the board.

Carroll E. Howell, superintendent of the University of California's W. K. Kellogg Arabian Horse Ranch in Pomona, came back for the 1915 class reunion this month and, naturally, had to travel quite some distance. But because he didn't register at one of the official booths his name didn't get in the pot for the prize to the alumnus coming the greatest distance for Homecoming. That award went to Dr. E. Bryant Woods of Tampa, Fla. Mr. Howell was pretty philosophic about it, however. "I don't mind losing the shirt so much," he said, "but when my fellow Californians find out I lost it to a man from Florida, I'll never hear the end of it." Mr. Howell has 90 head of purebred Arabian horses on the 750-acre Kellogg ranch near Pomona. From Columbia he went to Chicago for the International Livestock Show.

Dean Dudley Conley of the M. U. School of Medicine was recently elected vice-president of the Association of American Medical Colleges. . . . We'll just have to adopt Mr. John Mahr of Oklahoma City into the official alumni family. The University hasn't a greater booster or friend anywhere than Mr. Mahr, who never attended here. . . . Paul Christman's father had a seat of honor on the Tiger bench for the Kansas game. When Paul came off the field for the last time he went over to Mr. Christman and said briefly: "Dad, I've had enough!"

Judge Ray B. Lucas is a granddaddy! The judge has accomplished some fine achievements in the last few years as a justice on the Missouri Supreme bench and as head of the state insurance department, but the first time we've ever seen him strut the least bit was when his first grandson was born Nov. 11. The newcomer's name is Russell Lucas Kyle and his mother is the former Miss Frances Lucas who graduated from Stephens College in 1938.

C. E. Watkins, our good friend and publisher of the Chillicothe Constitution-Tribune, is the new president of the Missouri Press Association. "Watty" was in a Jefferson City hospital when his associates of the state press honored him this month at the St. Louis convention, but now he's home and mending in fine style. His son, C. E., Jr., graduated from the School of Journalism last June.

At the opening of the duck hunting season in Missouri recently, Syd Stephens who is chairman of the state's fine wildlife commission enumerated a lot of "do's" and "don'ts" by which our nimrods were to be guided. We confess we were moved considerably by Mr. Stephens' liberality in permitting the use of bows and arrows in this year's duck hunt. There is nothing like knocking down a duck in flight with a well-aimed arrow. Yessir, there's nothing like it—at least in our experience. And while this latest gesture by Mr. Stephens to make the hunt more zestful is warmly received, we trust that next year he will let the bars down a little further to permit the use of clods and slingshots. That way we'll get the limit every time.

Jiles Haney who is a member of the faculty at the University of Nebraska is keeping young these days by learning to fly. When his daughter, a graduate of Stephens College, decided to enroll for a course of instruction Jiles tagged along. And he's eating it up. . . . Joe Somerville is the new president of Columbia's Rotary Club. . . . Jim Taylor of Kansas City, our popular and energetic magazine committee chairman, has kept his proud record intact. This month's Tiger-Jayhawk grid classic was the 44th in succession that Jim has attended. . . . Miss Inez Potter who was selected Homecoming Queen by members of the Kansas football squad, is a member of our Hope O' Tomorrow Club. Her dad is Dr. Lee George Potter, A.B. '17, and her mother is the former Miss Inez Gaskill who received a degree in education in 1915. . . . Dr. M. Pinson Neal, professor of pathology and director of the laboratory at the University Hospitals, was made president-elect of the Southern Medical Association in Louisville, Ky., this month. He will take office a year from now.

Sheer laziness makes BRIGGS rich

Long years of loafing in oaken casks brings this Tobacco a wealth of flavor . . . a fortune in mellowness

"EVERYTHING comes to him who waits!" . . . should have been said about Briggs.

Month after month (longer than many higher priced blends) the choice tobacco leaves, ear-marked for Briggs, just lie in great oaken casks doing less than nothing at all—while time marches on. Just soaking up the fragrant southern summer air and pine-scented winter wind. And what comes to this luxurious southern aristocrat? . . . Just about everything that a tobacco (or you), could wish for!

Full, deep, rich flavor! Tongue-kind smoothness! And a gentle disposition, that makes it any pipe's best friend.

At 15 cents a tin, Briggs is one luxury that any smoker can afford . . . and can't afford to miss.

CONCRETE HIGHWAYS PAY FOR THEMSELVES

Three reasons why concrete is the most economical pavement:

- 1. Long life and low upkeep—funds which would otherwise be spent for repairs may be used to complete your highway system.
- 2. Scientific investigation has proved that it costs motorists less to drive on concrete than on inferior surfaces. The saving is in gas, tires and car repairs.
- 3. Concrete builds business, promotes travel. A town on concrete is moved closer to all markets.

And in addition to these money-reasons concrete pavements give motorists relaxation . . . comfort . . . and swift travel with SAFETY!

The Greatest Tiger of Them All

Missouri's Christman Ends Brilliant Three-Year Undergraduate Career to a Great Ovation—He Advanced the Ball Approximately Two and One-Third Miles.

IT WAS LATE in the fourth quarter of the Kansas game on Thanksgiving Day in Memorial Stadium. The Tigers had passed and run a hapless Jayhawk into submission and then, with the score standing at 45-to-20, Coach Faurot began sending in reserves and calling out his seniors who were completing their undergraduate football careers on the field that day.

Out they came—Capt. Jack Crocker, Bob Wakeman, Jimmy Starmer, Ray Schultz, George Ellis, Don Duchek, Dale Everly, Myron Council, Jerry Notowitz—and each received a warming farewell hand from the great crowd in the stadium. Then an expectant hush settled over the crowd as all eyes turned to Tiger No. 44, still standing deep in the secondary. They shifted their glance to the Missouri bench, waiting.

It was not long. A gold-clad player dashed onto the field and headed for the referee and before he could report the substitution, the voice of Anton Stankowski came over the public address system:

"Hemmel in for PAUL CHRISTMAN!"

Then it broke loose. Missourians, Kansans, alumni, students, and just plain fans joined in the most thunderous ovation a Tiger grid star has ever heard. Christman jogged in to the bench, photographers' flash bulbs flared in the dimming light, the players and coaches on the bench swarmed about the incoming figure, pumping his hand, slapping him on the back, and hugging him.

Thus ended the grid career of Missouri's first All-American and the greatest single performer ever to wear the Black-and-Gold. And his final performance was as scintillating, outstanding, and colorful as any in his three-year career as a Tiger quarterback.

Now he joins the ranks of former grid greats. And in this august company he will hold the same distinction which was his as a player.

A recapitulation of his playing days, appearing elsewhere in this issue, shows that in the course of three years he accounted for 234 points by passing and actual ball-carrying. He advanced the ball for a total of 4133 yards, or approximately two and one-third miles, or up and down a regulation

Paul Will Play in Annual East-West Game

Late in November Paul Christman accepted an invitation from Coach "Biff" Jones of the Nebraska Cornhuskers to play in the annual East-West charity game held in San Francisco on New Year's Day. Unless circumstances prevent it, it is also probable that the Missouri star will play in the annual All Star-Professional grid classic in Chicago next summer.

Christman has received "feelers" from various professional grid teams but he may pass them up in favor of baseball. He has played first base on the Tiger nine for the past two seasons and prefers that game to the one which made him famous. Rumors this month had him headed for the New York Yankee farm system at the end of the school year next June.

gridiron 41 times. That's a lot of traveling. His senior passing total of 1195 yards surpasses the previous mark he set as a sophomore of 1087. It is also one of the best passing marks ever made by a football player. Paul's average completed pass over the three-year period gained 15.67 yards. In all he completed slightly more than 45 per cent of his tosses.

More than half, or 39 to be exact, of the 71 Tiger touchdowns the past three seasons can be attributed directly to Christman's running or passing. Most of the touchdowns he didn't figure in were scored by second string players against minor opponents. Twenty-five tallies were made by the air route, while he crossed the goal line fourteen times.

Here are some highlights of Paul's spectacular career:

COLORADO—In his first college game he was directly responsible for both Tiger scores, as Missouri won 14-to-7. He reversed to Starmer for the first, and passed to an end for the second.

KANSAS STATE—Passed to Starmer for two touchdowns, and totaled 311 yards by passes, as Missouri lost a freakish game 21-to-13.

NEBRASKA—Gave Missouri its first victory over the Cornhuskers in eleven years, as he scored one touchdown and passed to Starmer for the other, the Tigers winning 13-to-10.

KANSAS—Running a punt back 75 yards for a touchdown, and passing to Starmer for another, Christman paced Missouri to a 13-to-7 win.

Paul was selected on all the Big Six teams and was given honorable mention on several All-American elevens.

COLORADO—Personally accounted for 18 of the Tigers' 30 points, and two of the other three scores were set up by his passes.

OHIO STATE—Christman starred in defeat, as the Buckeyes whipped Missouri 19-to-0. He contributed 111 of the 124 yards made by the Tigers, carrying the ball for 31 yards and completing eight passes for 80 yards.

NEBRASKA—The Cornhuskers lost their only game of the season, as Christman threw three touchdown passes to lead Missouri to a sensational 27-to-13 victory.

NEW YORK—Made his name nationally known as he scored two touchdowns and passed for a third in the Tigers' 20-to-7 rout of the Violets.

OKLAHOMA—Averaged 5.4 yards a try against the stout Sooner line, and led Missouri to her first Big Six championship.

He was picked for a backfield berth on the nation's No. 1 team by Grantland Rice for Colliers; NEA Syndicate; Hearst Newspapers; and the All-American Football Board.

ST. LOUIS—Accomplished the feat of throwing three straight touchdown passes, as Missouri won 40-to-26.

KANSAS STATE—Once again he had a hand in all the Tiger scoring. Passed for two touchdowns, lateraled for a third, and handed the ball to Bob Steuber on an end-around play for the final Tiger tally.

NEBRASKA—The Cornhuskers defeated Christman & Company for the first time, but failed to shut out the Tiger star who played the full sixty minutes. He passed for the Tigers' lone tally in the final minute of the game.

NEW YORK—Again showed the Easterners how it is done, as the Tigers trimmed their opponents 33-to-0.

Greatest Tiger

Passed for two touchdowns, one toss covering sixty-six yards.

KANSAS—Concluded his great career in a blaze of glory as he scored twice and passed to Starnier for another.

It may be many a year before the record of Paul Joseph Christman, the boy from Maplewood, will be equaled or excelled. Whether it is or not, his name will live with Tiger adherents down through the years. Illinois had her Red Grange, Michigan her Tommy Harmon, but in our opinion, of course, they don't hold a candle to "Pitchin' Paul."

New R.O.T.C. Head

Col. Augustine McIntyre arrived in Columbia this month from Washington to assume his duties as head of the R. O. T. C. of the University. He was retired from active service in the army last July but was called back on duty recently.

JAMES A. TAYLOR

This, Gentlemen, Is A Record

The familiar figure to the left is Mr. James A. Taylor, attorney of Kansas City and a Tiger fan of the most loyal order. On Thanksgiving Day when Mr. Taylor journeyed to Columbia for the annual Missouri-Kansas classic he was maintaining a record which we venture to say is unique and destined to stand for quite a long time—because this last trip was Mr. Taylor's 44th in succession to see the game. It's gotten to be a habit with him. In fact, he started it when he was twelve years old. Jim, we salute you!

Phil Gibson Is Chief Justice of California

Phil S. Gibson, who received his degree in law from the University in 1914, was elected chief justice of the California Supreme Court on Nov. 5. He had been serving as a member of the bench, and prior to that was state director of finance for California.

Mr. Gibson, who is 48 years old, is the youngest chief justice in the history of the state.

Defense Study Committee

President Middlebush recently appointed a faculty committee to make a study of the University in relation to national defense. Its purpose is to assemble information showing how M. U. serves the national defense program through its normal activities and how it may assist in the future without disrupting its present organization and program.

Members of the committee are: Chairman, Dean R. E. Curtis of the School of Business and Public Administration; Dean Henry E. Bent of the Graduate School; Dr. Albert G. Hogan, professor of animal nutrition; Dr. M. P. Neal, professor of pathology; Dr. L. B. Townsend, professor of education; and secretary, W. J. Young, director of publications.

Nebraskans Elect Duley

Frank Leslie Duley, B.S. in Agr. '14, A.M. '15, of Lincoln, was elected president of an all-state alumni association of M. U. graduates which was perfected Oct. 26 at a luncheon in the Nebraska Union Building prior to the Tiger-Cornhusker game. Mr. Duley is connected with the university there. Mrs. Henry R. Ponder (Alberta Briegel) was chosen secretary. Arrangements for the rally were made by H. P. Davis, Lewis Skidmore, C. C. Wiggans, W. J. Loeffel, and Jiles Haney and their wives. Graduates and former students from over all the state, as well as Missouri fans in town for the game attended the rally.

Ten Return For 1900 Class Reunion

Ten members of the Class of 1900 returned to the campus Nov. 2 for their fortieth anniversary reunion which was held in Crowder Hall. At the class luncheon thirty-one persons, including University faculty and administrative officers, special guests, and friends were served.

The ten who registered were William F. Switzler, New York, class chairman; James R. Blevans, St. Louis; Arthur G. Ficklin, King City; Charles A. Greene, Warrenton; John Kramer, Kansas City; Forrest Lyman of Hollywood, Calif., and Olathe, Kan.; Robert N. McMillan, Washington, D.C.; Mrs. Isbell Searcy McQuitty, St. Louis; Elmer Carl Peper, St. Louis; and S. C. Shipley, Minneapolis.

Mr. Switzler presided at the luncheon which followed an informal meeting in the morning. He called upon class members present to rise as he read their names from the roll. He also introduced the following faculty members: Dean W. C. Curtis of the College of Arts and Science; Dean H. A. Curtis of the College of Engineering; Dean Emeritus F. B. Mumford; Dean M. F. Miller of the College of Agriculture; and Miss Eva Johnston, retired professor of Latin. President and Mrs. F. A. Middlebush were special guests.

Messages of greeting from class members unable to attend were read by Mr. Switzler. They were from Miss Mable Phelps, Hermosa Beach, Calif.; Dr. C. M. Jackson, Minneapolis; Dr. G. A. Roberts of the Dominican Republic; Mrs. Rosalie Gerig Edwards, San Diego, Calif.; Rudolph A. Kleinschmidt, Tulsa, Okla.; Lee Utley, Los Angeles; Percy Napton, Woodlawn, Calif.; W. F. Wilson, Oklahoma City; Miss Meta Eitzen, Columbia; and Richmond L. Hawkins who recently retired from the Harvard faculty and is now traveling.

Prizes were awarded to the class member coming the greatest distance and to the one with the most children and grandchildren. Both were awarded to Mr. McMillan and he in turn handed the most-children prize to Mr. Shipley who was runner-up.

President Middlebush welcomed the class back to the campus on behalf of the University. He remarked upon the great changes that had taken place in the past forty years, but he assured his listeners that the ideals and traditions that characterized the University of their day have endured down through the decades until today they are as dominant as they were in 1900.

languages and archaeology at the University, will be published by the Macmillan Company in February. His study of Greek civilization in the fifth and fourth centuries B.C., has resulted in "Greece and the Greeks," a picture of what the country has achieved for itself in previous centuries and what it still may contribute to life. The 450-page work lays emphasis on Athens at the time of the city's glory. Dr. Miller is now serving as a visiting professor at Washington University in St. Louis.

M. U. to Teach Courses For Defense Program

The University's College of Engineering has been named as one of the schools qualified to establish a series of special short technical courses for the intensive training of students to meet the needs of industry and government in carrying out the national defense program.

Institutions qualified to offer such courses include the University, the Missouri School of Mines at Rolla, University of Arkansas, University of Kansas, Kansas State College, University of Oklahoma, Oklahoma A. & M., University of Tulsa, and Washington University in St. Louis. Approximately 140 other schools in the country are eligible under the $9,000,000 program set up under the direction of the U. S. commissioner of education.

Young men with one or more years of engineering college training or with a high school education and industrial experience are being sought to enter the training. Some of the courses will require three years of college training or equivalent industrial experience for admission. Men who wish to take this training should get in touch at once with the engineering school of their choice.

First courses to be established will be designed to meet present needs and to forestall potential shortages of inspectors of materials, chemicals, explosives, instruments, and power units; designers of machinery, equipment, tools and dies, and aircraft power plants, structures and instruments; production engineers and supervisors; physical metallurgists; marine engineers and naval architects. As needs become apparent, more courses will be added.

Curator Wolpers Elected

J. H. Wolpers, publisher of the Popular Bluff American Republic, and a member of the Board of Curators of the University, was named president of the Association of Governing Boards of Universities and Allied Institutions at the annual meeting this month in Bloomington, Ind.

THE "SMALLPOX GLEE CLUB" SINGS AGAIN

The famous Varsity glee club of the University which spent a good part of its 1914 tour of the Southwest in quarantine met in Columbia the week-end of Nov. 2 for a reunion and to attend the Missouri-N.Y.U. football game.

H. W. Prentis Cited In Liberty Magazine

Henning W. Prentis, Jr., A.B. '03, president of the Armstrong Cork Company, was the subject of a feature article in the Nov. 16 issue of Liberty Magazine. Written by the publisher, Bernarr Macfadden, the article was entitled "A Great American Citizen," with a sub-head reading, "Presenting a dynamic patriot—and wise words for us all." Publisher Macfadden writes in part:

"In the babble of tongues preaching foreign doctrines, in the confusion of ideas regarding the future of America, in the clamor for Communism, Socialism, Fascism, sabotage, and national planned economy, I have heard a clear voice speaking.

"In the crowd of soapbox orators, spellbinders, statesmen, politicians, incendiaries, fifth columnists, communists, commentators, agitators, and demagogues who strut the American stage today, I have found an American citizen broadcasting American ideals.

"The man is H. W. Prentis, Jr., of Lancaster, Pa. He is not a candidate for any office. He is not a politician of any sort. He has no selfish interests to defend. And his resounding voice is devoted only to his country and his God.

"... And he is one of the most brilliant speakers of the age. You might call him the Patrick Henry of the present crisis."

The article was illustrated with two pictures of Mr. Prentis, one a portrait and the other showing him on horseback.

Fraternity Discipline

A new system of self-discipline has been adopted by fraternities on the M. U. campus this month whereby infractions of an organized house or an individual member will be dealt with by a fraternity court appointed by the Pan-Hellenic Council. Each chapter president was required to sign over the power of fining an individual fraternity man to the court. Offenses punishable under the new system include any conduct by a fraternity man that is deemed detrimental to the fraternity system as a whole. Houses found guilty of major infractions can be denied all social privileges by action of the court. As yet no cases have been heard.

Dean Mumford Heads Land Grant Colleges

Dr. Frederick B. Mumford, dean emeritus of the M. U. College of Agriculture, was elected president of the Association of Land Grant Colleges at the election held this month in Chicago as a part of the annual meeting. Dean M. F. Miller of the College was selected chairman of the experiment station section of the association.

Dean Mumford has been a member of the executive committee of the association for twenty-two years and has recently written a book on "The Land Grant College Movement" which was published by the College of Agriculture in July.

Chemical Engineering Department Approved

The chemical engineering department of the University is now fully accredited along with the other departments of the College of Engineering, according to word received from George T. Seabury, secretary of the Engineering Council for Professional Development whose national headquarters are in New York.

After inspecting the college some time ago the council approved the civil, electrical, and mechanical departments. Its recent approval of the chemical division followed the installation of a considerable amount of new equipment.

More Stadium Bonds Will Be Retired Jan. 1

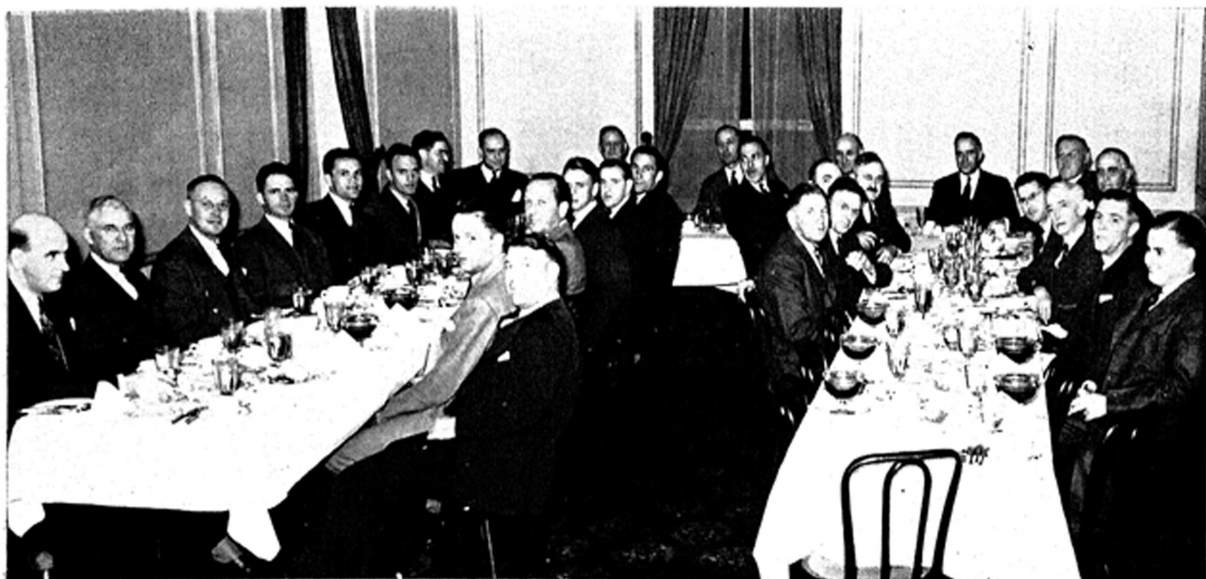

The University of Missouri's Memorial Stadium indebtedness will nearly be halved as the result of a successful season financially which will permit retirement of approximately $27,000 in bonds, it was revealed late this month.

A payment of $6000 on the bonds was made in June, while around $21,000 in bonds will be retired when the interest payment date of Jan. 1 rolls around. In addition, the athletic department will meet the semi-annual interest charges which also were met last June.

With the January payment, $28,000 in bonds will remain outstanding as a stadium indebtedness. But the athletic department also has $195,000 in bonds outstanding on Brewer Field House. The bonds are in one issue, but the stadium bonds have the lower serial numbers, making it mandatory that the entire stadium indebtedness be wiped out before any payments are made on the field house bonds.

The issue was refinanced last year at a lower interest rate. With the indebtedness of Jan. 1, interest charges will be reduced to $11,500 annually, with payment of $5575 made semi-annually.

Scholars and Friends Honor Harry Tidd

By his constant encouragement to young men to attain the greatest benefits from University life, Harry Tidd has set a pattern which every alumnus might well follow. Dr. Frederick A. Middlebush, president of the University, said at a banquet in Mr. Tidd's honor at the Tiger Hotel in Columbia, Nov. 2.

The Harry Tidd Scholarship, the income from gifts totaling $5000 made by Mr. Tidd, is awarded to an outstanding man student in the University each year on a basis of scholarship, participation in general campus activities, and athletics. Seven of the fifteen men who have received the scholarship in past years attended the banquet.

Allen Oliver, president of the General Alumni Association, presiding as toastmaster, introduced Prof. Sam Shirky who explained the basis of selection of the scholars and presented Mr. Tidd with a parchment scroll bearing the signatures of all scholars.

Chester L. Brewer, professor of physical education, presented an individual parchment to each scholar attending the banquet, recalling episodes in the University life of each man as he did so.

Following President Middlebush's speech, John F. Rhodes, Kansas City attorney, presented Mr. Tidd a traveling bag, the gift of the scholars and personal friends.

In his remarks Mr. Rhodes said:

AT THE DINNER HONORING HARRY TIDD

"Here tonight are some of those who have been rewarded and have benefited as a result of your scholarship fund. They are all here mentally. They are all here to do homage to you for the benefits to them made possible by you, and to represent in the flesh and by their actions the spiritual values possessed by them because of the learning they received here, which values here tonight flow to you because of your munificence."

SEVEN MAJOR DEPRESSIONS HAVE FAILED TO SHAKE THE STABILITY OF THIS COMPANY

		ASSETS
	1837 The Depression of 1837 was one of the worst America ever experienced. Careceny in circulation trebled. Wildcat banks reappeared. Widespread depression, lasting until 1845, delayed the organization of the infant New England Mutual Life Insurance Company until 1843, when it began business with assets of.....	$ 50,000
	1857 The Depression of 1857 — The discovery of gold in California had stimulated prices. Speculation ran riot. Railroad building was developing enormously. Agricultural lands were exploited. Financial panic came in 1857, followed by the Civil War. But this young Company weathered both upheavals and by 1865 its assets had increased to	$ 3,000,000
	1873 The Depression of 1873 — A boom in transcontinental railroads followed the Civil War. Western lands were opened. The factory system inaugurated our industrial revolution. Over-expansion and inflation caused tremendous failures. Despite depression, New England Mutual assets grew by 1880 to.....	$ 16,000,000
	1893 The Depression of 1893 — A great boom followed the resumption of specie payments in 1879. There was renewed enterprise with rising prices. An orgy of speculation came in 1892. The gold reserve was depleted. Five hundred banks suspended. Yet by 1898 the assets of this Company had increased to.....	$ 28,000,000
	1914 The Depression of 1914 — The close of the Spanish-American War had seen expansion of credit, new developments in business organization, a wave of prosperity. But the exploitation era passed. Business stagnated. When the United States entered the World War in 1917, this Company's assets had risen to.....	$ 79,000,000
	1919 The Depression of 1919 began with a break in the stock market in November. Ill-balanced expansion due to the War had resulted in increased agricultural acreage and huge manufacturing plants, reckless buying and inflation. But New England Mutual assets had been steadily climbing, and in 1921 they were.....	$116,000,000
	1929 The Depression of 1929 followed an over-investment in fixed assets, wild speculation and large purchases of foreign securities. Monetary systems collapsed. Paralysis gripped world trade. But New England Mutual's insurance-in-force showed a ten-year increase of 30%, and assets at the end of 1939 had amounted to.....	$468,000,000

Bad times take a heavy toll in speculative losses, but they also help to give a truer sense of values. One outstanding lesson of the depressions and wars which have involved this country is the proved solidity of life insurance for sure protection and safe investment. Chartered 105 years ago, New England Mutual Life Insurance Company has always typified sound management and responsible trusteeship. This pioneer Company is now serving its fifth generation of Americans.

St. Louis Alumnae Entertain Graduates

Members of the Class of 1940 were guests of honor at the fall meeting of the University Alumnae Association of St. Louis which was held Nov. 9 at Vandervoort's Tea Room. Miss Frances Grinstead of the faculty of the School of Journalism addressed the group on "Missouri Alumnae at Work." Miss Grace Chao, a Chinese student in the school, spoke on the present war situation. Miss Lucy Kohler of the M. U. sociology department also attended. Arrangements for the meeting were handled by the president, Mrs. R. S. Terry, and Mrs. Holman East.

Other officers of the alumnae association serving with Mrs. Terry are: Vice president, Miss Esther Lee Bride; treasurer, Miss Erma Bishop; and directors, Mrs. P. G. Drabelle and Mrs. R. Paul Yellen.

Dr. John Knight Heads Kansas City Alumni

At their annual rally preceding the Missouri-Kansas game on Tuesday night, Nov. 19, Kansas City alumni elected Dr. John S. Knight, former Tiger letterman, as president of the local association. He succeeds E. Kemper Carter. The meeting was held in the ball room of the Hotel Muehlebach.

Other officers named with Dr. Knight are as follows: First vice president, Joe Gregg; second vice president, Russell Bettis; secretary, W. R. (Bill) Hornbuckle; and treasurer, Robert S. Beachy, Jr.

The new board of directors is composed of Joe W. Kessinger, E. Kemper Carter, Prewitt Turner, Dr. Hugh Hamilton, Alex Sachs, Harry Welsh,

New Kansas City alumni president

Carson Cowherd, Bruce M. Forrester, Byron Spencer, Marion L. (River) Shannon, Kearney Wornall, Bill Theis, and Paul Barnett.

Mr. Cowherd presided at the banquet at which were present members of the Southwest High School band, football coaches from all the local high schools, and newspaper representatives. Among those present were former Gov. Guy B. Park, former University president Dr. Stratton D. Brooks, Charles Baird, donor of the Baird Chime in Memorial Tower, and Dan M. Nee, president of the "M" Men's Alumni Association. Joe Gregg was in charge of arrangements for the rally.

Later in the evening a group of the alumni staged a 15-minute rally over WDAF from the studios of the Kansas City Star's radio station.

Alumni in Colorado Have Football Rally

About a score of University graduates and former students met in Boulder, Colo., Nov. 9, the day of the Missouri-Colorado football game, for a few hearty handshakes and a general exchange of greetings. They were guests at an "open house" gathering planned for them by a committee of M. U. alumni in Boulder.

A snowstorm, which had been in the offing for two days prior to the game and which later became general over most of the nation, cut down attendance but had no effect whatever upon those who were present. Refreshments were served and a general good time was had by all.

Among those present were Howard W. ("Bill") Hailey and his brother, Arthur M. Hailey, both of whom were students in the School of Journalism about 25 years ago; Mrs. Harl Douglass, wife of the head of the College of Education at Colorado U., an A.B. graduate of 1913; Milton E. Bernet of Denver; Mrs. Josephine Latham Swayne of Boulder; Lucy Simmons, Kirksville; Prof. H. E. Mathias, Colorado College, Colorado Springs; Mansur Tinsley, a B.J. graduate of M. U., and now a law student at Colorado; Mrs. Eugenia Roach DeMuth, the wife of Larry DeMuth, professor of law at Colorado, and a number of others.

Mrs. Swayne, A.B. '80, A.M. '84, represented the oldest class there. She is the author of "The Story of Concord as Told by Concord Writers," which is now in its second edition. Because of the high regard in which this book is held, Mrs. Swayne has been made an honorary member of the Concord Historical Association.

Milton E. Bernet is a vice president of the Mountain States Telephone and Telegraph Company, in charge of publicity, with offices in Denver. Lucy Simmons is professor of history at Kirksville State Teachers College and this year is doing graduate work at Colorado. Bill Hailey is in Denver with the Scripps-Howard Rocky Mountain News. He and his brother brought their wives and several friends to Boulder for the game.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. C. C. Eckhardt, wife of the head of the history department of Colorado. She, Dr. Claude D. Bonham, and Zell F. Mabee, all of whom live in Boulder, were the committee in charge.

"Bachelor Beware"

Last month Missouri Workshop, campus dramatic organization, had as its first major production of the year a three-act comedy, "Bachelor Beware," written by Anne Ferring Weatherly, wife of Prof. Edward H. Weatherly of the M. U. English department. The world premiere was directed by Prof. Donovan Rhynsburger, with settings designed by Robert Wolber.

Homecoming Prizes Awarded to Alumni

Pi Kappa Alpha fraternity and Gamma Phi Beta sorority were presented with silver cups at half-time intermission of the Missouri-Kansas game this month for having the best decorated chapter houses in their respective classifications. Second place in the fraternity contest went to Phi Gamma Delta and second in the sorority contest went to Chi Omega.

Following are the awards made to returning alumni by the student prize committee:

Alumnus coming greatest distance—Dr. Bryant Woods, Tampa, Fla.

First alumna to register—Phyllis Davenport, Columbia.

First out-of-state alumna to register—Mrs. Louise Marbut Moomaw, Dickinson, N. D.

First alumnus to register—Harrison A. Boon, Portageville.

First out-of-state alumnus to register—Mayor Thomas J. Hall, Roswell, N. M.

First 1915 class alumna and alumnus to register—Mrs. Sam Rudder, Jefferson City, and Leroy Moomaw, Dickinson, N. D.

Alumnus with greatest number of children in attendance—Joe Powell, Kansas City.

Alumna with greatest number of children in attendance—Mrs. Earl Thomas, Columbia.

First alumna of earliest class—Mrs. George Hawkins, St. Louis.

First alumnus of earliest class—Lee Shawhan, Lee's Summit, Mo.

First alumna of earliest journalism class—Marjorie Peabody, Kansas City.

First alumna of earliest Arts and Science class—Mrs. Warren Roberts, Chillicothe.

First alumnus of earliest law class—Arthur N. Adams, Kansas City.

First 1914 football team member to register—J. A. ("Liz") Clay of Fort Worth, Tex.

Guy McDaniel Heads Agriculture Alumni

At the seventeenth annual meeting of the College of Agriculture Alumni Association held in Columbia Oct. 29 during Farm Week, Guy Q. McDaniel of Bolivar was elected president for the coming year. A graduate of the college in 1917, he succeeds Glenn Davis of St. Louis county.

Five vice-presidents were chosen to serve with Mr. McDaniel. They are: John Sam Williamson, McBaine; Sam

Utz, St. Joseph; Drew Pippin, Waynesville; Clarence Palmer, Troy; and Cliff Talbert, Kennett. H. E. Slusher of Lexington was named a director for a three-year term and Tom Douglass of McBaine was renamed as representative on the General Alumni Association's board. F. E. ("Jack") Rogers of Columbia was re-elected secretary-treasurer.

An overflow crowd packed the dining hall of the Christian Church for the banquet meeting. Mr. Davis, the retiring president, presided. Music and entertainment were furnished by a group of girls from Christian College. President Middlebush, Dean Emeritus Mumford, Dean M. F. Miller, W. J. Loeffel of the University of Nebraska, and R. L. Hill of the alumni office were called upon for short talks. Congressman W. L. Nelson of Columbia delivered the principal address.

President Middlebush talked on the progress of the University and Dean Miller reported on affairs at the College, and of the progress of the Alumni Foundation of the College.

An invitation from J. C. Penney to visit his famous farm at Hamilton, Mo., was read to the alumni. Among the resolutions adopted was one calling for a new directory of agricultural alumni.

Third Place in Big Six Conference

Tigers End Colorful 1940 Campaign
Behind Cornhuskers and Sooners with Record of Six Wins, Three Losses—Kansas Crushed 45-20

SINCE the beginning of grid rivalry between the Universities of Missouri and Kansas back in 1891 it has been said that either of the teams could lose every game on its schedule, and then consider the entire campaign successful if it could conclude with a thumping victory over its arch-rival. By this standard Missouri's 1940 season was a howling success by virtue of the Tigers' 45-20 victory over the Jayhawk on Thanksgiving Day in Memorial Stadium.

Yes, it was a successful season, and not only because of the Kansas triumph. Playing a tough nine-game card, Don Faurot's boys succeeded in hanging up six wins as against three losses, and we'll say that's good. As a whole this year's aggregation lacked the fire and polish of the 1939 championship squad, but it never failed to give a good account of itself. In each Missouri loss, the victor knew he had had a battle on his hands.

Already the Tiger rooters are beginning to look to 1941 and their pleasant expectations are not unjustified. Faurot will lose eleven veteran performers, including the one and only Paul Christman, but he has returning the nucleus of a powerful squad. To this will come what has been rated the finest group of freshman gridders in recent years.

Missouri's ascendancy in the national football limelight continued this year and it is not too much to expect that the welcome cycle which began in 1935 will progress even further, despite the loss of Christman.

The season just closed produced one of the most remarkable Tiger teams in history. Rarely have the Bengals displayed such offensive strength and the boys seemed imbued with the spirit of "we can get a touchdown when we need it." The high-scoring contests which studded a brilliant season were a delight to spectators. Something was always happening when Missouri had the ball. At the Kansas game we overheard one Jayhawk rooter say in awe: "Look at that! Just look at it! Those boys are ready to toss a lateral all the time!" And that is indicative of the wide-open style of play that Faurot has brought to Missouri and which has brought him to national attention as one of the smartest and most progressive coaches in the game today.

If you have to lose a game now and then it softens the blow considerably to know that your team can generally punch over a touchdown or two. The Tigers can do that. A shining example of the solace that scoring can bring to a team's supporters was evident at the Kansas game. The Jayhawkers, badly outweighed, outmaneuvered, and outplayed, fought like only those Jayhawkers can fight and their scrappiness against a superior opponent produced three touchdowns, the only three that Kansas had scored in conference play all season. This scoring punch which the Jayhawks displayed brought considerable comfort to their adherents and caused hopes to rise for Gwinn Henry's boys next year.

Following is a summary of the Tiger schedule, continued from last month's issue of the magazine:

Missouri 7, Nebraska 20

What satisfaction Missouri partisans got out of this game came in the last 30 seconds of play when Paul Christman completed a pass to Sophomore "Red" Beattie for one touchdown, and made a frantic bid for a second. Until then the Tigers had been able to get no place offensively and their defense had allowed three Husker tallies.

The story is pretty well told by statistics of the game. Three Missouri first downs to nineteen by Nebraska, a net loss of three yards in rushing for the Tigers to a net gain of 290 by Nebraska. The Tigers took a severe trouncing.

The boys were never threatening in the first half and didn't make a first down until the last few seconds before the intermission when Christman completed two passes, one to Jack Lister and the other called complete on a penalty, for two first downs. But then the Missourians only reached midfield, and the half was over. In the meantime Nebraska had scored a touchdown in each of the first two quarters and had successfully converted the point after each.

Petsch used a double reverse to run 53 yards through the whole Tiger team for the first one. Then Herman Rohrig, who has always shown well against Missouri, made a brief appearance in the lineup to pilot the Huskers to their second quarter touchdown. Starting on the Missouri 46, Rohrig threw two consecutive passes to Luther who scored. A 67-yard march in the final quarter brought the Nebraskans their third and final score. Hopp passed to Luther for the tally.

Tiger Don Greenwood recovered a Nebraska fumble on the Huskers' 46 with four minutes to go, and Christman struck at once with a pass to Lister for first down on the 26. After an exchange of fumbles, Missouri got the ball again and Paul tossed four passes in 20 seconds, one complete to Beattie for eight yards and the other complete to Beattie for a touchdown. The Tigers bid again with their famous short kick-off stunt by Jerry Notowitz. Beattie recovered the ball on the Husker 31. But Christman's end zone pass went into Hopp's arms and the game was over.

Missouri 33, New York U. 0

The Tigers met the New York Violets in Memorial Stadium Nov. 2 and won by a lopsided score. They were without the services of Bob Steuber, end; Ralph Carter, halfback; Jack Landers or Don Ducheck. Council made only a brief appearance, as did Jim Starmer, halfback, and Bill Cunningham went in only to kick points after touchdowns. But New York did not have the team that met the Tigers a year ago, and the result was never in doubt.

Paul Christman's appearance in the game was comparatively brief, but he did his usual masterful job of passing and quarterbacking while he was on the field. Early in the first quarter he threw a short pass to Jack Lister, sophomore end, with Lister breaking away for a sprint of nearly 20 yards to take the ball to the Violet 25, and then called plays which set up the end-around play by which Lister scored the first touchdown from the nine-yard line. Later in the same period Paul heaved a 30-yard pass to Beattie who took the ball on the Violet 35 and outran the secondary to score.

Christman passed to Capt. Jack Crocker for another touchdown in the third quarter after a New York fumble had been recovered by Mike Fitzgerald on the visitors' 28-yard line. That fumble was one of three in the desperate New York air attack which the Tigers promptly converted into touchdowns. Another came in the second quarter when Chase intercepted and returned the ball to the Violet 18 from whence Beattie and Harry Ice scored in three tries. The other was in the fourth quarter when Bert Ekern ran back another interception to the Violet 13 and two ground plays produced a tally with Chase scoring.

New York was never dangerous. Only once, in the second quarter, when a Violet pass was called complete because of interference on the Missouri 23, did the visitors get very far across midfield, and Missouri promptly held them for downs then.

Missouri 21, Colorado 6

This game, played in Boulder on Nov. 9, was noteworthy in one respect. It has often been said that a visiting team, unaccustomed to the Colorado altitude, usually tired rapidly in the closing moments and was easy prey for the home team. But the Tigers did their best work in the final quarter, scoring two touchdowns in quick succession.

The first period was scoreless. Colorado made the first tally midway in the second quarter after a Tiger punt from behind the goal-line was grounded on their own 30. A long pass carried the ball to Missouri's 12 and from there the Buffaloes mixed line bucks and short passes to carry the ball over from the two-yard line. The conversion attempt was unsuccessful.

Then Christman and Company opened up their vaunted passing attack which produced a 72-yard march, ending in a touchdown pass to Bob Steuber. Cunningham's kick was good and the half ended with the Tigers leading 7-to-6. The third period was scoreless but within five minutes of the final quarter Christman had scored from the eight-yard line after a downfield drive which started back on Missouri's 26-yard line. Again Cunningham's kick was good and the Tigers led 14-to-6.

Tiger Captain for 1941

In the dressing room after the Kansas game the jubilant Tigers settled down long enough to elect DAROLD JENKINS (above) captain of the 1941 grid squad. Jenkins, a junior in the College of Arts and Science, started the past season as a second-string center, but when the veteran Don Ducheck was injured he stepped into the starting lineup—and stayed there. He measures 5 feet 11 inches, weighs 190 pounds, and hails from Higginsville, Mo.

The final touchdown was set up when Christman intercepted a Colorado pass on the home team's 45 and returned it to the 39. Passes and running plays took the ball to the seven-yard line and from there Paul passed to Ice for the counter. Liebig's kick was good. The game ended with Colorado passing desperately to close the gap, but without success.

Missouri 0, Oklahoma 7

The Tigers took their severest pounding at the hands of the Sooners in Norman on Nov. 16. This game is generally the hardest on Missouri's conference schedule from a physical standpoint, and although they outgained the Sooners and apparently outplayed them, what little scoring was done went to Oklahoma's side of the ledger.

The Tigers missed a chance to score when they drove deep into Sooner territory in the third quarter shortly after Oklahoma had scored its lone tally. Starmer received the ensuing kick off and returned to the 25-yard line. Two Christman passes to Starmer and Steuber reached midfield. Ground plays carried the ball to the 32. Christman then faded back to midfield and shot a long pass to Carter on the 13-yard line. Carter was blocked out of bounds against a fence which surrounded the track and was injured on the play.

Missouri was penalized for excessive times out. An attempted end-around by Steuber and three passes fell incomplete and thus the Sooners stopped the serious Tiger thrust when they took the ball on downs.

Missouri 45, Kansas 20

This was balm to thousands of alumni who had dreamed about such a game but never hoped to see it. There were seven touchdowns for Missouri, three for Kansas—and everyone went home happy. The Missourians were happy because the victory was a fitting climax to a real homecoming celebration; the Kansans were happy because the Jayhawk had scored, something he hadn't been able to do in previous conference games.

Kansas never had a chance to win, but the boys never quit trying. They were outmanned by the powerful Tiger forwards and backs, but they flashed bits of offensive play that carried deep into Missouri territory and were tokens of what they had in store as the game wore on and the Missouri defense loosened under frequent substitutions and the commanding lead.

Despite the margin of 25 points the game was a thriller, especially in the last half when the courageous Kansans, always fighting, did a little scoring on their own hook. Fumbles were frequent and pass interceptions came thick and fast in the second half. In the last quarter three successive plays produced pass interceptions.

Missouri had a touchdown in eight minutes of the game. The Tigers drove 80 yards in 16 plays and not a pass in the sequence. Reece powered the running attack, with Christman helping. The second touchdown came within five minutes of the second quarter. Taking a Kansas punt on the visitors' 33, Missouri struck pay dirt in six plays, one of the game's most spectacular offensives. A forward pass, Ice to Crocker, netted 17 yards. Beattie added eight off right end in a play that saw Chase and Lister handling the ball before Beattie got it. The touchdown was made from the four-yard line. Chase handed the ball to Adams who lateraled to Ice, and the latter cut inside right end to score standing up. Cunningham placekicked to a 14-to-0 lead.

The third touchdown came within two minutes of the end of the first half. Following a pass interception

The above photograph was undoubtedly dreamed up by some publicity man somewhere and probably has to do with the Tigers getting someone's goat, but Mark Cox, M. U.'s sports publicity man out at Rothwell Gym, refuses to claim it. Says Mr. Cox: "I never saw it before in my life." Anyhow it's different, so we printed it.

Missouri rumbled 61 yards in seven plays, culminating in a Christman-to-Starmer pass. The Tigers were ahead 20-to-0 at intermission time.

They went right to work in the third quarter and scored a fourth time within three minutes. This time five plays were necessary to complete a 53-yard drive. Starmer carried it over around right end and a few minutes later took Christman's pass for the point after touchdown. Then in another six minutes Missouri had boosted its lead to 33-to-0 with Paul marshaling the team 71 yards in nine plays. Chase made the score from the nine-yard line.

Then Kansas came in for her first touchdown with one of the hand-somest drives of the day, 82 yards in all. And ten plays turned the trick. That score must have jolted the Tigers because they got it back eight plays later after a 67-yard drive in which Christman mixed up passes and ground plays. Christman scored the marker and the Tigers went into a 39-to-7 lead.

Kansas' turn came next. A series of passes carried the ball to Missouri's 28. On the next play Hayden of K. U. tossed a long one over Missouri's right end. On the five-yard line Jerry Notowitz leaped to bat the ball and did but it—right into the arms of Jayhawker Gibbens who ran across the Tiger goal. The attempted conversion was no good. The press box statisticians were groggy from trying to keep tabs on this free-scoring contest, and the crowd was eating it up.

Missouri downed the Kansas kick off on her own 32 and in four plays had made touchdown No. 7. Christman's forward to Crocker over center was good for fourteen. Then he threw to Starmer who broke away and was in the clear. With no one near him, Starmer stepped out of bounds on the one-yard line so that Council might get into the scoring column. In two plays the senior fullback did just that. The try for extra point was bad and Missouri's scoring for the day was over with 45 points. The final Kansas tally came on a pass, Hayden to Studer.

The final score, 45-to-20, was the greatest in the long rivalry between the two schools. We can't fully describe that game. If you saw it you know what we mean. If you didn't, well—you missed something.

Tiger Cagers Open Against Washington

With the season's opener only a few weeks off, Coach George Edwards is rounding his cage squad into shape for the coming campaign and building his hopes on a nucleus of last year's reserves. The Tiger team will be one of the smallest, man for man, in recent years but it may be able to make up for this deficiency in speed.

The entire starting lineup of last year's team that won a piece of the conference championship has graduated and Coach Edwards has a job on his hands. The starting five for this year's team will probably be Capt. Martin Nash and Loren Mills at the guards; Arch Watson at center; Keith Bangert and Herbie Gregg at the forwards. All of them are lettermen from last season.

The Tigers will open their season Dec. 13 against Washington University in St. Louis. Westminster College will play in Columbia Dec. 19. This will be the only home game before the Christmas holidays. On Dec. 14 the Tigers will meet St. Louis U. in St. Louis.

The Tigers must play five straight Big Six games away from home during the first half of the season. This might cause the boys to get off on the wrong foot, since statistics give the home team the advantage.

K. U. Game Quirks

Indicative of the Tigers' offensive power in the game with Kansas was the fact that not once did Missouri punt. This is a rare occurrence in any football game, and particularly so for Missouri. Each time the Tigers had the ball they ended with a tally, a pass interception, or a fumble. Kansas punted eight times for an average of 30.5 yards.

* * *

In the closing minutes of the game Kansas had the ball and after running one play, the clock was stopped by the referee who called a 15-yard penalty against the Jayhawks for illegal use of the hands. Missouri refused the penalty. According to "Stan" Stankowski, it was the first time in his many years of experience that he had seen a penalty of that size refused by the opposing team. The Tigers did not want to sacrifice a down.

* * *

With his way clear for another touchdown in the last quarter, Jim Starmer chose to step out of bounds on the one-yard line in order to give Myron Council, Tiger fullback, a chance to score. Council had been out with injuries most of the season and his teammates were determined to see his name in the scoring column. He scored in two line bucks. The gallantry on Starmer's part received a write-up in the editorial columns of the NEW YORK SUN a few days later. Alumnus Robert Caldwell of Kansas City was in the East on business at the time and sent us the clipping from the SUN.

Tigers, Sooners Have Peace Pipe Trophy

Added to the collection of football game trophies which the Missouri Tigers vie for each year with conference opponents is a genuine Indian peace pipe which Dr. John S. Knight of Kansas City instituted this month. The peace pipe which is also a tomahawk will pass between the Tigers and the Oklahoma Sooners. The latter gained possession of it this year with their 7-to-0 victory over the Tigers on Nov. 16.

The ceremonial tomahawk-peace pipe belonged to Chief White Eagle, a Pawnee Indian, and it is believed to be at least 100 years old. The Pawnees were a tribe that left Nebraska, fought a series of battles near Fort Osage on the Missouri River about 40 miles east of Kansas City. The tribe then went to Kansas where they battled with the Potawatomie tribe near St. Mary's Catholic Mission. They finally arrived in Oklahoma territory in 1848 or 1849. As Dr. Knight pointed out in presenting the trophy, much of the territory embracing the schools of the Big Six conference has been the scene of battles of this tribe.

Mystical Seven, senior honor society at the University, will be custodian of the pipe when it is in Missouri's possession. Other grid trophies are the Indian tom-tom passed between Missouri and Kansas, and the Victory Bell between the Tigers and Nebraska.

Dr. Knight is a specialist in otolaryngology and broncho-esophagology with offices in Kansas City. He played on Tiger teams during his undergraduate years and is a past-president of the "M" Men's Alumni Association. He graduated from the University in 1923 with A.B. and A.M. degrees.

Prof. Ellard Accepts Columbia U. Position

Roscoe B. Ellard, professor of journalism at the University since 1930, has been appointed to a similar position in the Graduate School of Columbia University, according to an announcement by Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler on Nov. 17. Mr. Ellard is a Missouri graduate, having obtained A. B. and B. J. degrees in 1917 and a master's in 1930. He has tendered his resignation at M. U., effective Feb. 1, 1941.

Mr. Ellard, who during the second semester of last year was visiting professor at Columbia, will teach a course dealing with problems of the small daily newspaper, and will assist Henry Pringle and Herbert Brucker with graduate work in reporting. Next September he will take over his permanent work with the graduate students. He has taught courses in editorial writing, public opinion, journalism research, and history and principles of journalism while on the faculty here.

Before coming to Missouri as a member of the faculty, Prof. Ellard did newspaper work in Chicago, Milwaukee, and Beloit, Wis., and was head of the Lee Memorial School of Journalism at Washington and Lee University. During the illness of Dean Frank L. Martin, from March to September, 1938, he was acting dean of the School of Journalism.

Prof. Ellard has published about fifty articles on phases of and research in journalism while here, and was co-author of a book, "Pictorial Journalism," which went into a second edition last month.

"The Sarge" Leaves

Sergt. Eugene C. Viera, for fifteen years a member of the University R. O. T. C. staff, was transferred to St. Louis this month where he will hold a similar position at Christian Brothers College High School. Viera was best known as director of the M. U. rifle teams, national champions on numerous occasions. Rifle instruction was discontinued here when the infantry regiment was disbanded in favor of field artillery. "The Sarge" was well known and well liked on the campus. He was perhaps best known for his colorful instruction of freshmen in the basic formations of close-order drill.

Annual Ag Breakfast At International Show

The annual breakfast held by alumni of the College of Agriculture at the time of the International Livestock Show in Chicago will be held this year on Monday morning, Dec. 2, in the Saddle and Sirloin Club Rooms of the Stock Yards Inn.
