Merry

"These specifications added up to just one career..."

I WENT from the University of Tennessee directly into the Army. And after the war ended, a lot of serious thinking convinced me that the life work I wanted to follow would have to offer three things:

First, a business of my own, preferably one dealing with people I'd enjoy serving; second, a business that would provide genuine personal satisfaction as well as a living, and third, one that would increase my income in direct proportion to my ability and willingness to work.

These specifications added up to just one career — life insurance. The next step was to choose a company. So I talked with nine different organizations, and out of this survey three factors emerged to help me decide on the New England Mutual. The first factor was the caliber of New England's men here in Memphis. The second was the company's outstanding training program, and the third, the recommendations of several successful business men.

So, in February, 1946, I joined New England Mutual. During my first year I completed two exacting training courses and sold a creditable volume of life insurance. Trips to company meetings introduced me to the company's friendly and able nationwide organization, increased my proficiency, and added greatly to the enjoyment I get out of my work.

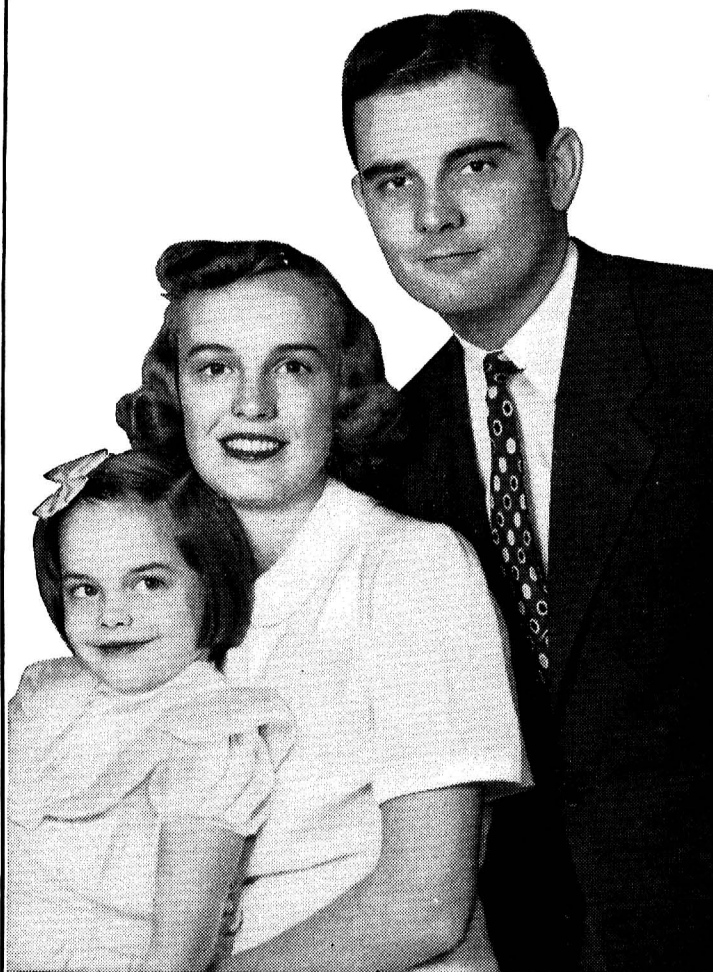

Now, thanks to the knowledge of the business I have acquired, I am getting solid satisfaction out of serving a steadily growing clientele, and am earning considerably more than I could have earned elsewhere on a salary.

Recent graduates of our Home Office training course, although new to the life insurance business, earn average first-year commissions of $3600 — which, with renewal commissions added, brings the total yearly income average to $5700. From here, incomes rise in direct proportion to each individual's ability and industry.

If you'd like information about a career that gives you a business of your own, with no slow climb up a seniority ladder and no ceiling on earnings, write Mr. H. C. Chaney, Director of Agencies, 501 Boylston Street, Boston 17, Mass.

Mizzou Girl Smacks Good Samaritan

The age of chivalry may not be dead—but Tim Donovan, student living at 811 Sandifer St., believes it ought to be.

Yesterday while walking to school, Tim saw a studious co-ed, her nose buried deep in a textbook, step in front of a panel truck which was turning the corner at Paquin and Hitt Sts.

Tim reached out and pulled her to safety by her collar. The side of the vehicle caught Tim's arm, cutting it.

The girl, unhurt but shaken, picked up her fallen book, slapped her rescuer, and walked off.

Tim had time to muse over the incident while the doctor at Noyes Hospital was putting nine stitches in his arm.—The Columbia Missourian.

They are: Lowell Lee Smithson, son of Mrs. Lena R. Smithson, 1500 Third St., Chillicothe, Mo.; George M. Gaither, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe B. Gaither, Mexico, D. Selection on the Junior and Senior Five does not constitute election to membership in Phi Beta Kappa, but makes the student a candidate for such election if he qualifies at graduation. Only members of the graduating class are elected members of Phi Beta Kappa, usually considered the highest scholastic honor in Arts and Science.

New officers elected to head the Missouri chapter are: President, Edward H. Weatherly; vice-president,

CHESTER L. BREWER

Will L. Nelson, Jr.; and secretary-treasurer, Wm. N. Cassella, Jr. Dr. Weatherly is professor of English and Cassella is an instructor in political science at the University. Nelson is a Columbia attorney.

The Missouri Association of Junior Colleges and the University faculty participated jointly in the sessions in the Education Auditorium.

Dr. Edward U. Condon, noted physicist and director of the United States Bureau of Standards, addressed the luncheon meeting at the Daniel Boone Hotel.

Supt. E. E. Camp of Monett, president of the Missouri Association of Junior Colleges, was chairman of the morning session of Junior College Day at which University speakers were heard. Dean Elmer Ellis of the College of Arts and Science discussed "A Program for the Improvement of College Teaching," and Prof. Donald F. Drummond, director of the program, spoke on "The Qualities of Superior College Teaching."

Dr. Blanche H. Dow of Cottey College presided at the session devoted to "The Improvement of Learning by Improving Reading Abilities." Speakers were: Dr. A. Sterl Artley of the University, and Dr. Orpha Stockard, Cottey College.

Chet Brewer to Be Honored For His Great Service to M.U.

Plans are being made by the Missouri "M" Men's Alumni Association and the general Alumni Association to honor Chester L. Brewer, retired athletic director and former coach at the University, by having his portrait hung in Brewer Field House.

Lacy J. Roberts, president of the "M" Men, says that the presentation will be made either next spring at commencement exercises or at the annual homecoming ceremonies next fall on Thanksgiving Day.

A portrait committee has been appointed to carry out the details. It is composed of Arthur M. Idler, banker, St. Louis; Dr. Ralph R. Coffey, Kansas City; Sam B. Shirkey, faculty representative on the athletic committee of the University; Dr. Herbert L. Bunker, alumni director; Dr. Jack Matthews, physical education department; A. J. Stankowski, physical education department; Dick Schoefield, president of the active "M" Men's Association, and Gilbert L. Phillips, Jr., secretary of the active group, Columbia.

Chester L. Brewer, or Chet, as he is known to the thousands of athletes and students in the thirty-five years he has been on the campus, came to Missouri in 1910. He has been with the University since his graduation from college with the exception of a brief period at Michigan State College.

The present athletic plant, in a great part, can be attributed to Brewer and his splendid leadership. The tennis courts, Rollins Field, the baseball diamond, the old golf course, Memorial Stadium, and the fieldhouse that bears his name are among the accomplishments during his tenure of activity at Mizzou.

"His indomitable spirit and fine leadership have made a large contribution to the placing of Missouri near the top in the athletics of the nation," Roberts said.

Dr. Thomas Orr Honored at Kansas U.

Out at the University of Kansas school of medicine is a Missouri alumnus who is making medical history. Perhaps most of you have seen his name in the morning newspaper for his reputation has not been limited to the Midwest. He is Dr. Thomas G. Orr.

Dr. Orr received his A.B. degree here in 1907 and three years later received a degree in medicine. Later he went to Kansas U. and has been chairman of the department of surgery for the past twenty-five years.

Earlier this year Dr. Orr was chosen president of the American Surgical Association and in September he was elected president of the Southwestern Surgical Congress. Just a few weeks ago he performed an operation which was televised to another room for the benefit of his students, but that is getting ahead of our story which we have reprinted from the November 21 issue of the Kansas City Star.

A Star on His Big Day

It was Dr. Tom Orr day, or half day, to be exact, at the University of Kansas Medical Center this morning, in prelude to the dedication late today of the $1,035, 000 new surgery unit there.

Dr. Thomas Grover Orr began teaching surgery at the K. U. medical school in 1914, was head of its surgery department twenty-five years, and, far from being retired, conducted the "dedicatory" operation in the new surgery quarters this morning.

Younger surgeons who learned their profession as students of Dr. Orr were on hand to honor him today. Assisting at the dedicatory operation were three of these, Dr. Vincent Cedarblade of Denver, Dr. Alfred Dietrich, Horton, Kans., and Dr. Wayne Bartlett of Wichita.

Today he was "the chief" to them again, in charge of a hernia operation that was televised for instruction of students assembled in an auditorium some distance from the operating room. It wasn't possible to teach surgery that way in 1914, when Dr. Orr operated in the old university hospital north of the present medical center.

The school's new television camera enables close-ups of surgery now for scores of students, compared with the three or four who could watch beside the surgical table in pre-television times.

If Dr. Orr was excited, he didn't show it at the events today. The same calm, friendly artisan and explainer, he performed the operation smoothly and appeared later in the children's pavilion for the presentation of his portrait to the medical school.

Staff members, students, friends and members of the Kansas board of regents gathered for the presentation—and most important, Thomas G. Orr III and Corlett Marion Orr, each 8 months old, were on hand with their parents, Dr. and Mrs. Thomas G. Orr, Jr.

These twin grandchildren, boy and girl, may not have realized the meaning of the gathering honoring Dr. and Mrs. Orr today, but in later years they'll see the portrait in the medical school library, and understand.

Dr. Franklin D. Murphy, dean of the school, presented the portrait, painted by J. Young Hunter of Taos, N. M. The acceptance was by Deane W. Malott, chancellor of the university, and the speech in tribute to Dr. Orr was by Dr. Owen H. Wangensteen, professor of surgery at the University of Minnesota.

"This is Dr. Orr's day in Kansas," Dr. Wangensteen said, "A day hailing his years of service to his profession, the state, and the medical school with influence now spread widely throughout the nation.

"Tom Orr is known for his interest in young aspiring surgeons, his modesty and his substantial achievements in the promotion of surgical research and better teaching.

"In surgical circles he attracted attention by his studies, made jointly with Dr. Russell Haden, in the improved handling of the surgery of intestinal obstruction. In the late '20s Dr. Orr and Dr. Haden showed imaginative diligence in seeking through experiment the answer to surgical shock and debility in such cases.

"They confirmed beliefs that fluid and salt loss from vomiting was a big factor in surgical shock and could be offset with restoration of fluid balance. Dr. Orr's studies on hernia management, and surgery of viscera malignancies, especially of the pancreas, also added to professional knowledge."

In the teaching field Dr. Orr contributed two widely-read books, Dr. Wangensteen pointed out—in 1926 with a volume on "Modern Methods of Amputation" and in 1944 with his book on "Operations of General Surgery." A second edition of this book was published several months ago.

Dr. Orr's activity in surgical societies led to important posts in the profession. He is currently president of the American Surgical association, and of the Southwestern Surgical congress, and is a past president of the Western Surgical association. He was an original member of the American Board of Surgery, which sets standards for the admission of surgeons as specialists in American Board of Surgery, which sets standards for the admission of surgeons as specialists in American practice. He is a past president of the Kansas City Academy of Medicine and has long been a leader in the Kansas City Southwest Clinical society.

This strange twist of events to one in the law profession started with the recent World War. Graham, who had practiced law for 12 years in Kansas City, entered the service as the skipper of a PT boat in the South Pacific. Upon his return to the states he landed in California and liked it. A year ago, Graham and his wife and two young sons established their home in San Diego.

What is a Boy?

By ALAN BECK, B.J. '32

Between the innocence of babyhood and the dignity of manhood we find a delightful creature called a boy. Boys come in assorted sizes, weights, and colors, but all boys have the same creed: To enjoy every second of every minute of every hour of every day and to protest with noise (their only weapon) when their last minute is finished and the adult males pack them off to bed at night.

Boys are found everywhere—on top of, underneath, inside of, climbing on, swinging from, running around, or jumping to. Mothers love them, little girls hate them, older sisters and brothers tolerate them adults ignore them, and Heaven protects them. A boy is Truth with dirt on its face, Beauty with a cut on its finger, Wisdom with bubble gum in its hair, and the Hope of the future with a frog in its pocket.

When you are busy, a boy is an inconsiderate, bothersome, intruding jangle of noise. When you want him to make a good impression, his brain turns to jelly or else he becomes a savage, sadistic, jungle creature bent on destroying the world and himself with it.

A boy is a composite—he has the appetite of a horse, the digestion of a sword swallower, the energy of a pocket-size atomic bomb, the curiosity of a cat, the lungs of a dictator, the imagination of a Paul Bunyan, the shyness of a violet the audacity of a steel trap, the enthusiasm of a fire cracker, and when he makes something he has five thumbs on each hand.

He likes ice cream, knives, saws, Christmas, comic books, the boy across the street, woods, water (in its natural habitat), large animals, Dad, trains, Saturday mornings, and fire engines. He is not much for Sunday School, company, schools, books without pictures, music lessons, neckties, barbers, girls, overcoats, adults, or bedtime.

Nobody else is so early to rise, or so late to supper. Nobody else gets so much fun out of trees, dogs, and breezes. Nobody else can cram into one pocket a rusty knife, a half-eaten apple, 3 feet of string, an empty Bull Durham sack, 2 gum drops, 6 cents, a sling shot, a chunk of unknown substance, and a genuine super-sonic code ring with a secret compartment.

A boy is a magical creature—you can lock him out of your work shop, but you can't lock him out of your heart. You can get him out of your study, but you can't get him out of your mind. Might as well give up—he is your captor, your jailer, your boss, and your master—a freckled-face, pint-sized, cat-chasing, bundle of noise. But when you come home at night with only the shattered pieces of your hopes and dreams, he can mend them like new with the two magic words—"Hi Dad!"

History Repeats for Goode Family As Husband-Wife Receive Degree

By WALTER REED

College commencements where husband and wife obtain degrees at the same time no longer are a rare occurrence; but the case of W. Preston "Pres" Goode and his wife, Nelda "Dee", marks a new departure in husband-wife graduations.

Pres and Dee attended the University as husband and wife, just as his parents had done after they were married in 1919, when married student couple were still a rarity on college campuses.

While Pres received a B.S. in Mechanical Engineering at the end of the summer session, his wife was awarded a Master of Arts degree in Speech, having completed her bachelor's degree at the University in 1947.

Pres' parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Goode, 7805 Grove, Webster Groves, Mo., were married in 1919, two years before Mr. Goode obtained his degree from School of Business and Public Administration. Pres' mother also was graduated from the University, with a B.S. in Education degree in 1921.

It was soon afterward that Pres was born in Columbia, and meanwhile the elder Goode had become manager of the University Cafeteria. Later they moved to St. Louis, and they now live just a few blocks from the home of Dee's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Heiner.

Pres and Dee were married while he was in the service, and it was during the war that Dee got ahead of Pres at the University, for he had a 2½ year stretch of duty to cover while a staff sergeant with the Army Air Corps in Hawaii.

Pres' family is another one of those "All-MU" clans for in addition to his parents, an uncle and aunt, both on his mother's side, attended the University for several years.

Ruth Vicks belongs to the class of 1926, and the Uncle, Stuart Vickers, as well as his wife attended the University.

With such a heritage of MU tradition it comes as no surprise that Pres was a "campus wheel." Among others he belongs to Phi Sigma freshman scholastic fraternity, Tau Beta Pi scholastic engineering fraternity, Pi Tau Sigma mechanical engineering fraternity, Omicron Delta Kappa national college leadership society, and he was made a Knight of St. Patrick in 1949.

To top all that he served on the student council of SGA, and had charge of a 1948 Homecoming committee. His grade average? Somewhere around 3.5, his wife says. And that seems to run in the family, although Dee admits to "a lowly B average."

Dee hasn't been idle at MU either. After teaching at Stephens College for one semester, she became an instructor in Speech at MU, and keeping at it for two years, she managed to hrowd studies, teaching and keepink house into the couple's active college life.

Pres has a deep interest in automobiles, and that's probably the field he'll enter. In fact, his own car now has three carburetors, and that leaves no doubt that MU's second-generation commencement couple will go full speed ahead.

A Missouri alumnus, D. W. Gilmore, '34-'37, of Benton, Mo., recently was elected president of the Young Democratic Clubs of America at its convention in Chattanooga, Tenn. Gilmore is also State Senator from the 23rd district in Missouri.

Missouri 34
Kansas 28

Racking up a total of 667 yards on the ground and in the air the Tigers rolled over the Kansas Jayhawks 34-28 on November 19 in Lawrence.

It was a wild game and one that kept the spectators on the edge of their seats. The Tigers got off to a big lead in the first two quarters and at halftime the 27-7 score indicated that Missouri would run up its biggest score of the year.

However, the Jayhawks came back strong in the last half to take advantage of several breaks and early in the fourth period the Tiger rooters were stunned as Kansas overcame the three touchdown lead to go ahead, 28-27.

Kansas joy was shortlived for the Tigers roared back to score. After that it was a matter of ball control.

All-Star

DICK BRAZNELL

All-Big Seven

The 1949 All-Big Seven football team chosen by the Associated Press named Missouri's Dick Braznell to a backfield position.

The southpaw passing halfback was one of Coach Don Faurot's best running backs this season and his passing made him a double threat. He led team scoring with 60 points.

Braznell is a senior and will play his last game for Mizzou in the 'Gator Bowl on January 2.

1950 Football Captains

End Bob Ebinger and guard Bronko Marusic, both two year lettermen with the Missouri football machine, were chosen by teammates to captain the Tigers' 1950 team.

Ebinger was first-string left end on the defensive eleven while Marusic was a starting right guard on Coach Don Faurot's offensive unit for the 1949 campaign.

Not so long ago the new co-captains were on opposite sides of the line.

In 1944 they rubbed noses while playing for St. Louis Southwest and Beaumont High Schools, respectively.

That season Ebinger was added to the all-district first team at left end. Marusic made honorable mention on the St. Louis County dream squad at both fullback and tackle.

Ebinger and Marusic are service veterans. Both won major monograms in 1948 and 1949.

FOOTBALL

Missouri 34
Kansas State 27

On a cold windy Thanksgiving Day the Tigers climaxed a successful football season by defeating Kansas State 34-27 before a shivering crowd of 20,000 at Memorial Stadium.

It was another wild and spine-tingling game which has marked the Tigers' play throughout the season. A deadly aerial attack by K. State's Dana Atkins, who completed 18 of 25 passes, kept the Kansans within striking distance all afternoon.

However, the big Missouri team rolled up 311 yards rushing and that made the difference.

The victory gave the Tigers a 7-3 record for the season and a 5-1 record in conference play.

Indoor Track

The indoor track season got underway this month when about 100 running prospects, 60 varsity men and 40 freshmen, reported to Coach Tom Botts.

Botts said the freshmen turnout is a little below normal and the neophyte tracksters lack strength in field events—shot put, broad jump, high jump and pole vault—he added.

"The men are shaping up as well as could be expected," Botts reports.

The names of 9 men who are to receive varsity letters and freshman numerals were announced by Coach Botts.

The men to get varsity cross-country runners are: Chester Franz, Bob Fox, Jean Madden, Gale Holsman, and James Long.

Freshman numeralmen are: J. B. Nations, James Rogers, Peter Gallup, and Leo Piper.

'Sparky' Stalcup

When Wilbur 'Sparky' Stalcup took his place on the Missouri bench on the east side of Brewer Field House as the Tigers met Texas Christian in the 1949-50 hoop opener, Dec. 12, he started his fourth season as head of Black and Gold cage destinies.

In three previous years, the Bengal coach twice led Missouri to second place in the Big Seven conference. Last season the Tigers finished fourth on an 11-13 mark, the first time 'Sparky' had coached a losing squad.

The fireball coach began his basket career at Oregon, Mo., where he led the local high school five to the state championship. Sparky then was selected an all-star forward for Missouri secondary schools.

From 1931 through 1933 he paced the Maryville State Teachers, being added to the All-American second team in his senior year.

Sparky stayed on at Maryville from 1933 through 1942 as head basketball and track coach. He also prepped linemen for the Maryville football squad. After a three-year service stint, Sparky returned to Maryville in 1945 before moving to M.U. early the following year.

Stalcup-coached basketball teams have won 242 games while losing 85.

The handsome, 39-year-old coach hopes to help Missouri to the same type record that led his Maryville teams to National Intercollegiate Basketball Association invitational tournaments six different times.

Long an advocate of slow, ball-possessive type of play, "Spark" has made it known that the current Missouri edition will fast break at every opportunity.

This year's team will present more speed but less size than last year's quintet. But the Stalcup-inspired fight—a Missouri trademark these past three seasons—will be as strong as ever.

Missouri vs. Maryland In Alligator Bowl

Coach Don Faurot's perennial bowl favorites will make their fifth post-season exodus south in the past ten years when Missouri invades Jacksonville to face Maryland, Jan. 2, in the 'Gator Bowl.

This will be the second 'Gator Bowl appearance in 12 months for a Missouri squad that was edged by undefeated Clemson, 24-23, in this year's classic.

Faurot's men will be looking for their first win in a New Year's day game.

Back in 1940, when the whole Tiger bowl fad started, a crew quarterbacked by All-American Paul Christman met its match against Georgia Tech, 21-7, in the Orange Bowl.

Basketball

Missouri opened the 1949-50 basketball campaign by splitting a double-header with Texas Christian, losing to the Horned Frogs, 35-33, Dec. 12, while coming back the following night to win, 54-45.

Coach Sparky Stalcup's Tiger crew, short on veterans, looked well even in bowing in the first game. The Missouri club played a good floor game, but ran into most of their troubles in finding range of the enemy basket.

The Bengals found their eyes the following night to outrun, outscore and generally outplay the Texas club.

Sophomore Gene Stauffer was high man in the Black and Gold point parade, sinking four baskets and seven free throws, for 15 markers.

WILBUR 'Sparky' STALCUP

Two years later the Sugar Bowl called, and Missouri went down in the mud before a then powerful Fordham, 2-0.

The last Missouri conference championship eleven bowed to Texas, 40-26, in the 1946 Cotton Bowl.

Last season's second place Big Seven team came closest to shattering the traditional bowl jinx.

To win this year's classic, Faurot must get by an old associate—Jim Tatum.

Tatum, who worked under the Missouri master at Iowa Pre-Flight, is well versed on the Faurot-devised split T. His Maryland men have used it to great advantage in winning eight of nine games this season. The only Terapin setback was a respectable 14-7 defeat by Michigan State, one of the country's top notch teams.

Tatum calls this year's Maryland edition a better one than the squad he molded at Oklahoma in 1946. That Sooner combine, led by All-Americans Joe Gelding, Buddy Burris, Plato Andros, Wade Walker, Jim Owens, Jack Mitchell, and John Rapacz, rolled over all in the old Big Six and went on to whip North Carolina State in this same 'Gator Bowl, 34-13.

Chances are the Missouri-Maryland clash will prove a contest of the irresistible force and the immovable object.

The Tigers are somewhat notorious for a blistering ground attack, which most times balances their being a bit shy when the other team has the ball.

By contrast, Maryland ranked third in the nation for overall team defense behind Kentucky and Wyoming. Terp opponents were rationed an average 191.4 yards a game.

With men like Dick Braznell, John Glorioso, Win Carter, Nick Carras, Bob Henley, Ed Stephens and Harold Carter carrying the mail, the engagement should prove interesting.

The Tigers also boast an effective passing attack, with Phil Klein, Glorioso, and Braznell doing most of the pitching to Gene Ackermann, Dick Armstrong, and Fred Hulse.

Missouri has been practicing daily for the game since early December. Squad members will have five days of their holiday at home before leaving for Florida for a week's final prepping.

Faurot plans to take 45 players.

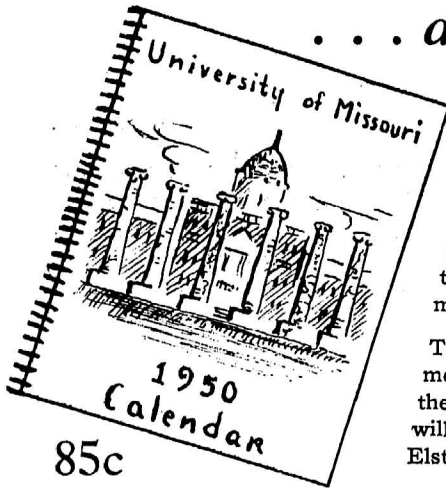

Accompanying the team will be coaches' wives and Mrs. Bob Fuchs, Mrs. Marin Sauer, Mrs. Dick Scholfield, Mrs. Dave Ashley, and Mrs. Bob Ebinger.

Tiger Kingpins

Dick Braznell, Phil Klein, John Glorioso, and Gene Ackermann were the big guns in the Missouri attack this season, statistics recently released by the athletic office show.

Halfback Braznell, who made everyone's All Big Seven star team, led in total offense with 1128 yards. Dick picked up 761 yards in 136 rushing attempts, for an average of 5.6 per carry. The senior right half also completed 23 of 48 passes for 367 yards.

Left half Glorioso was close behind in the running department with 581 yards in 102 tries against the line for a 5.7 average, Glorioso's 292 yards through the airways placed him second to Braznell in overall offensive effort with 873 yards.

Klein was the outstanding passer, though, hitting 46 of 94 tosses for 665 yards and four touchdowns.

Ackermann was on the receiving end 40 different times to pick up 576 yards.

Glorioso was top scorer with 76 points on eight touchdowns and 28 conversions.

Braznell crossed the double stripe an average of once in each of his ten games for 60 points. Klein was third with eight touchdowns for 48 points.
