

The Maneater Daily

View this email in your browser

The MANEATER Daily

Tuesday, January 17, 2017

After the ice storm scare that never came in CoMo, today's going to be a breeze. The high temperature is going to be 41 degrees, and the low will be 30. A nice start to the spring semester.

Daily Roundup

Participants at an Iraq War relief event dance at Cafe Berlin in 2010 | Maneater file photo

Here's what you missed over break:

- Cafe Berlin had a bad break-in Saturday night, but they still reopened Sunday night for a concert

The break-in left tens of thousands of dollars in damages at the local restaurant and music venue, with all their iPads smashed and all the sound equipment destroyed. Despite the damage, nothing seemed to have been stolen from the restaurant, according to a Missourian interview with the owner, Eli Gay. The community came together to support the business and help them through the tough time. Lakota Coffee donated 25 pounds of coffee beans to help, Logboat Brewing Company donated multiple cases of beer, and other local businesses donated food for the group helping with the cleanup.

- The Craft Studio finds a new home in Gentry Hall with the Department of Architectural Studies

The studio used to reside in the basement of Memorial Union until building repairs forced it out last semester. After canceling their events for the the back half of fall semester, the Craft Studio will begin hosting events in Gentry Hall during the spring semester.

- An associate professor of biological sciences receives recognition from the U.S. government

Dawn Cornelison, an investigator at the Bond Life Sciences Center, received the Presidential Early Career Awards for Scientists and Engineers. Her work focuses on satellite cells, the stem cells responsible for growth, repair and regeneration of skeletal muscle. This award is the highest honor given to science and engineering professionals working in their early careers.

Sports

Recap:

There were highs and lows for Mizzou sports over winter break.

- The men's basketball team has been struggling since their last victory in early December and have racked up a six-game losing streak. Their record has made people question coach Kim Anderson's future here at Mizzou.

Larry Thornton
@Larry_Thornton

Follow

I have never coached a game for Mizzou and I have the same amount of road wins as Kim Anderson. This is saddest tweet I've ever sent

RETWEETS 5 LIKES 9

4:58 PM - 14 Jan 2017

- Mizzou gymnastics, on the other hand, had a strong start to the season, beating Arkansas and remaining undefeated in their season so far.
- Track and field kicked off their season at Border Battle and finished with nine top-three finishes against Illinois and Iowa.

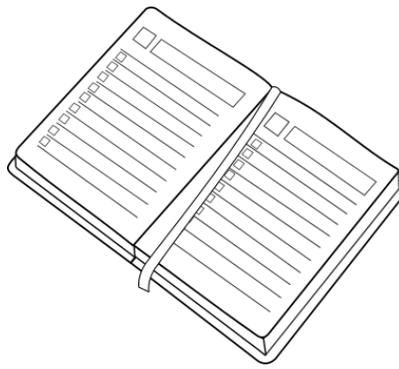

What to Watch:

The Blues are playing the Senators at home at 7 p.m. and the Blackhawks take on the Avalanche at 8 p.m.

WANT YOUR AD HERE?

CONTACT US
ADVERTISING@THEMANEATER.COM
$10 per day, or $50 for 7 days

MOVE
magazine

3 new semester resolutions

You can follow them or just read — we're not your mother.

- Find a new study spot
Research has found that switching up where you study can help you create new pathways in your brain, which helps you remember things better.
- Have a consistent alarm clock
If you have 9 a.m.s three days of the week, you might as well keep your body clock in tune and wake up at the same time each day.
- Reward your work
Spent your Saturday studying at Ellis? Treat yourself to Starbucks. Finally got through your midterms? Spend the entire weekend with your friends. Not everything has to be serious.

What to Do Today

- Go to class! It's the least you can do during syllabus week.

Compiled by Regina Anderson

Want to change how you receive these emails?
You can update your preferences or unsubscribe from this list

The Maneater Daily

View this email in your browser

The MANEATER Daily

Wednesday, January 18, 2017

The high today is 52 degrees, and there is going to be a light breeze, too. If you have an early morning class today, it'll be 40 degrees during your walk. Not terrible, but definitely grab a warm jacket. It will likely shower tonight, though, so if you're staying on campus late, bring an umbrella.

Daily Roundup

Eric Greitens, political newcomer, gave the State of the State speech yesterday. | Courtesy of Wikipedia Commons

- The new Missouri governor cut over $30 million from the UM System budget

Gov. Eric Greitens, who was just sworn in earlier this month, announced nearly $150 million in budget cuts Monday, with over half of that — around $80 million — coming from higher education. The Columbia Daily Tribune reports that the UM System as a whole will be out $31.4 million after Greitens' cuts. Budget shortfalls and cuts are not new here at MU — over the past year, state funding has been cut by several million dollars, and a freshman class that's about 25 percent smaller has left the university short on revenue.

- An open forum will be held to get student and faculty input on the chancellor search

The forum will be held at 10 a.m. Thursday, Jan. 26, in the Reynolds Alumni Center. According to an email from the UM System, faculty, staff, students and retirees of the university are invited to share their opinions on what characteristics the new chancellor should have. The university has been without a permanent chancellor since R. Bowen Loftin resigned in fall 2015 amid campus protests. The campus has since been led by interim Chancellor Hank Foley, who's also gunning for the permanent position.

Sports

Recap:

- The Blues lost at home to the Senators, 6-4.

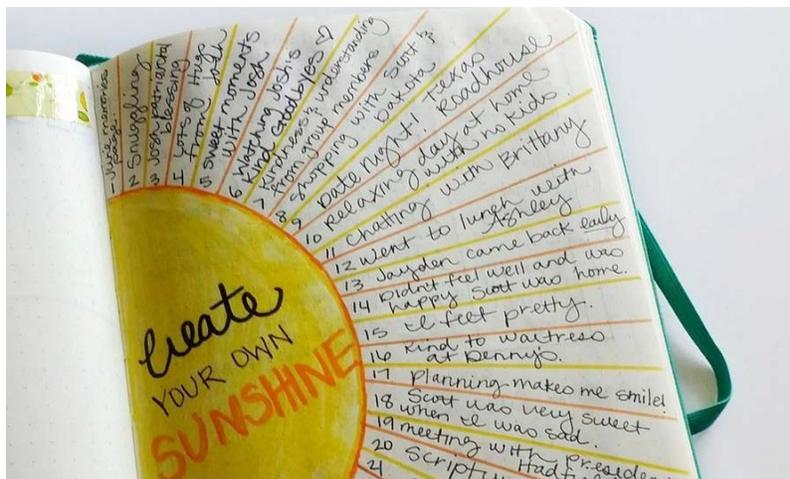

What to Watch:

Basketball: The Tigers take on the Crimson Tide in Alabama at 6 tonight on ESPN. The Tigers are currently 5-11 and on an eight-game losing streak — causing people to wonder how much longer head coach Kim Anderson might have at Mizzou.

WANT YOUR AD HERE?

CONTACT US
ADVERTISING@THEMANEATER.COM
$10 per day, or $50 for 7 days

MOVE magazine

When searching for a new planner for this semester, keep a gratitude notebook in mind too!

As MOVE editor Kat White writes, “The principle is simple: you keep track of the things you’re thankful for or happy about at any given time. It’s like Thanksgiving, minus the football and delicious feast. However, by making it an active practice and not just a once-a-year tradition, it forces you to think beyond the typical answers of friends, family, faith and health.”

What to listen to:

The xx, an indie pop trio, recently released their newest album, “I See You,” and MOVE’s music columnist Grant Sharples likes it quite a bit. The band made some changes to their signature minimalist sound for this record, but the lyrics are just as powerful. Sharples described the album as an “uplifting musical work focused on celebrating the strength to move on, while not forgetting the tribulations that you endured to arrive where you are.”

What to Do Today

- Yoga @ The Missouri Theatre, noon

Compiled by Jared Kaufman and Katie Rosso

This daily newsletter is a product of The Maneater and MOVE Magazine.

Want to change how you receive these emails?
You can update your preferences or unsubscribe from this list

The Maneater Daily

View this email in your browser

The MANEATER Daily

Friday, January 20, 2017

Today will be cloudy, with little chance of rain. The warm trend continues, with a high of 55 degrees and low of 45.

Daily Roundup

Courtesy of womensmarch.com

Columbia is hosting a march in support of the Women's March on Washington

While the Women's March on Washington is happening Saturday in D.C., the Mid-Missouri Solidarity March will be happening in Columbia. The Solidarity March is one of 616 sister marches, according to the Women's March's website. This isn't the first time that there have been rallies in response to Trump's presidency in Columbia. A peace march took place in November right after the election.

Women in Missouri have seen little economic improvement, according to recent research from the Women's Foundation

Over the past few years, there haven't been improvements in women's equality, especially with representation in state offices. The research by the Women's Foundation, a nonprofit organization based in Kansas City, highlighted problems such as poverty, lack of education, unemployment, lack of healthcare and pay inequality. The Women's Foundation hopes to continue to release updated status reports and create community partnerships to help improve the lives of women in Missouri.

Sports

Recap:

The St. Louis Blues lost to the Capitals yesterday, 7-3. Mizzou women's basketball beat No. 25 Texas A&M, 78-76.

What to Watch:

Gymnastics will be competing against Alabama at 7:30 p.m. at Hearnes Center. The Chicago Bulls take on the Atlanta Hawks at 7 p.m. on FSSE.

WANT YOUR AD HERE?

CONTACT US
ADVERTISING@THEMANEATER.COM
$10 per day, or $50 for 7 days

MOVE
magazine

Courtesy of Wikimedia Commons

Get your geek on over the new Nintendo Switch with MOVE Culture Editor Kat White. Although the release of the Switch isn't until March 3, there's still lots of hype surrounding the new console-handheld hybrid. Along with the announcement of the Switch, Nintendo also shared info about new games coming soon, like Super Mario Odyssey and Mario Kart Deluxe. All of this gaming news will tide you over until March.

What to Do Today

- Men's and Women's Swimming and Diving vs Drury, 5 p.m. @ Mizzou Aquatic Center
- Track and Field Missouri Invitational, 2 p.m. @ Hearnes Center

Compiled by Regina Anderson

This daily newsletter is a product of The Maneater and MOVE Magazine.

Want to change how you receive these emails?
You can update your preferences or unsubscribe from this list

the
MOVE
groove

In celebrity lives: Supermodel Gigi Hadid has been spotted wearing what is rumored to be an engagement ring, leaving us wondering if we should be expecting a #Zigi wedding in the near future.

In music: Paul McCartney has filed a lawsuit against Sony/ATV with the hopes of reclaiming the copyrights to songs he wrote with The Beatles. According to Rolling Stone, some of these songs include classics “Yesterday,” “Hey Jude” and “The Long and Winding Road.”

In Pixar cartoons: Numerous posts have been made pointing out “Easter eggs” or references between different Pixar films. Finally, Disney has released a video showing some less obvious connections. Hopefully, this is the first of many. Check out which 17 films are connected here.

```
<iframe src="https://www.facebook.com/plugins/video.php?
href=https%3A%2F%2Fwww.facebook.com%2FOhMyDisney%2Fvideos%2F10154605894164130%2F&show_text=0&width=560" width="560" height="315" style="border:none;overflow:hidden" scrolling="no" frameborder="0" allowTransparency="true" allowFullScreen="true"></iframe>
```

If you like film: A lot of highly rated movies (according to Rotten Tomatoes) are currently playing at our very own Ragtag Cinema. These include "La La Land" (which is positively life-changing), "Lion" (which has a really cute child actor in it), and "20th Century Women" (which is paradoxically nostalgic and modern).

If you like Jane Austen: Emma may have been written in 1815, but it is in no way archaic. Go to the live retelling of the scandalous work at Macklanburg Playhouse at 7:30 p.m. on Feb. 3-4 or at 2 p.m. on Feb. 5 to join in on the drama.

If you like Mozart: As part of the University Concert Series, the St. Louis Symphony will be playing at Jesse Auditorium on Feb. 2. Tickets range from $35 to $45 and can be purchased here.

If you like Netflix:

Your favorite cynical childhood book series, A Series of Unfortunate Events, is one of the latest Netflix originals out now. Let the binging begin.

If you like cooking: It's been a hella long week, so treat yourself to some slow-cooked baked ziti. It's easy and delicious and will straight up give you life.

If you like wine: A medium-bodied red wine will pair well with the acidic tomato-base in the recipe above. A Zinfandel should do the trick.

Copyright © 2016 MOVE Magazine, All rights reserved.

This weekly newsletter is a product of The Maneater and MOVE Magazine in coordination with Mizzou Student Media. Compiled by Victoria Cheyne, Bailey Sampson and Katherine White.

MOVE

Want to change how you receive these emails?

You can update your preferences or unsubscribe from this list

MOVE: Music. Outings. Venues. Events.

View this email in your browser

The Sports Report

From The Maneater Sports Desk, everything you need to know about the week in sports, at Mizzou and beyond.

The week in Mizzou sports

Sophomore Sophie Cunningham scored a game-high 36 points to lead Mizzou to a 78-76 overtime victory over #25 Texas A&M (Maneater file photo)

Men's basketball falls to Ole Miss 75-71

By Joe Noser

Despite tremendous performances from sophomore Kevin Puryear and senior Russell Woods, the Missouri Tigers were unable to stop their losing streak on Saturday afternoon at Mizzou Arena, falling to the Ole Miss Rebels, 75-71.

Puryear had 26 points and eight rebounds, and Woods posted his second career double-double to lead the Tigers, who fell to 5-13 overall and 0-6 in SEC play. The Tigers have now lost ten in a row.

Mizzou was sunk by poor free-throw shooting, going just 6-17 from the line, and an inability to contain Ole Miss senior forward Sebastian Saiz, who had 19 points and 10 rebounds.

Read the full recap from last night's game on theman eater.com.

Women's basketball upsets #25 Texas A&M 78-76 in overtime

Sophie Cunningham was spectacular on Thursday night, as she scored a game-high 36 points. Cunningham was clutch down the stretch in the fourth quarter with a couple of made free throws and a layup to force overtime. Cierra Porter contributed 14 points in the Tigers' 78-76 overtime victory over Texas A&M, their second win in a row. Read the full recap here.

Gymnastics lose first meet of regular season to #4 Alabama

The #8 Mizzou Gymnastics hosted #4 Alabama on Friday night at the Hearnes Center in hopes of keeping their undefeated season going. The Crimson Tide played the act of spoilers, as they defeated the Tigers 197.225 to 195.500. Read the full recap here.

Mizzou wrestling goes 5-1 over the Winter Break

By Joe Noser and Langston Newsome

The Missouri wrestling team had very little time to rest over winter break as a jam-packed schedule saw them go 5-1 in dual meets and take second in the Southern Scuffle in Chattanooga, Tennessee, on Jan. 2.

Senior J'den Cox won his second Southern Scuffle individual title of his career and led his team to three Mid American Conference victories to improve the Tigers' overall conference record to 5-0.

Read the full recap here.

Mizzou men's basketball Manager Team moves to #11 in the country

The men's basketball Manager Team moved up to #11 in the KPI Sports manager rankings after winning against #29 Alabama 88-81 on Monday night. The Tiger Managers' improve to 2-1 on the year and 2-0 in SEC play. Their only loss is to #2 Western Kentucky.

SEC Standings

Men's Basketball

1. #5 Kentucky (7-0 SEC, 17-2 overall)
2. #24 South Carolina (5-1, 15-4)
3. #19 Florida (5-2, 14-5)
4. Alabama (4-2, 11-7)
5. Arkansas (4-3, 15-4)
6. Georgia (4-3, 12-7)
7. Mississippi State (3-3, 12-6)
8. Ole Miss (3-4, 12-7)
9. Vanderbilt (3-4, 9-10)
10. Tennessee (3-4, 10-9)
11. Auburn (3-4, 13-6)
12. Texas A&M (2-5, 10-8)
13. LSU (1-6, 9-9)
14. Missouri (0-6, 5-13)

Women's Basketball

1. #4 Mississippi State (6-0 SEC, 20-0 overall)
2. #5 South Carolina (6-0, 16-1)
3. Auburn (4-1, 14-5)
4. #25 Texas A&M (4-2, 14-5)
5. Kentucky (4-2, 13-6)
6. LSU (3-3, 14-5)
7. Missouri (3-3, 13-7)
8. Tennessee (2-3, 11-7)
9. Georgia (2-3, 10-8)
10. Alabama (2-4, 14-5)
11. Ole Miss (2-4, 13-6)
12. Arkansas (2-4, 13-6)
13. Florida (0-5, 9-9)
14. Vanderbilt (0-6, 10-9)

The week ahead

Cullen VanLeer shoots a 3 pointer against Western Kentucky earlier this season. (Emil Lippe | Senior Staff Photographer)

Today: Wrestling takes on Central Michigan in the Hearnes Center at 1 p.m. You can also watch it on the WatchESPN app.

Monday: Women's Basketball travels to Fayetteville to play Arkansas at 6 p.m. on the SEC Network.

Wednesday: Men's Basketball plays at Mississippi State at 6 p.m. on the SEC Network.

Thursday: Women's Basketball returns to Mizzou Arena to take on Auburn at 6 p.m.

Friday: Swimming hosts the two-day Tiger Invite. Track and Field is at the Razorback Invitational. Gymnastics travels to Athens to play Georgia at 6 p.m. Wrestling hosts Oklahoma State at 7 p.m.

Saturday: Men's Basketball hosts the #24 ranked South Carolina Gamecocks 7:30 p.m. on the SEC Network.

Pro Sports Recap

- The NFL's two conference championship will be played on the gridiron

today. The Green Bay Packers will travel to Atlanta to face the Falcons at 2:05 p.m. on Fox for the NFC Championship, and the New England Patriots host the Pittsburgh Steelers at 5:40 p.m. on CBS for the AFC Championship. The two winners will play in Super Bowl LI at NRG Stadium in Houston.

- The NBA released the starters for the 2017 All-Star Game in New Orleans. Kyrie Irving, DeMar DeRozan, LeBron James, Giannis Antetokounmpo and Jimmy Butler will start for the Eastern Conference. For the Western Conference, Stephen Curry, James Harden, Kevin Durant, Kawhi Leonard and Anthony Davis will start. Russell Westbrook was not named a starter but is expected to make the team as a reserve for the West.
- The NHL All-Star Game will be played on Sunday, January 29. They will play a four-team tournament once again this year with the Atlantic Division facing the Metropolitan Division and the Central Division facing the Pacific Division with the winners advancing to the Finals. They will stay with the 3-on-3 format with each game lasting 20 minutes. The winner of the Championship game will earn $1 million.

Week 12 NBA Power Rankings

By Cole Bollinger

1) Golden State Warriors - This week was supposed to be their most challenging week of the year, but instead the Warriors rolled. Golden State beat Cleveland, Oklahoma City and won at Houston by over 24 points per game. When the Warriors are at their best, no one is better. (Last Week: No. 1)

2) San Antonio Spurs - San Antonio went a perfect 3-0 this week with the most impressive win coming yesterday at Cleveland. The Spurs held off LeBron and the Cavs in overtime to leap them in the power rankings. (Last Week: #3)

3) Cleveland Cavaliers - The defending champs are struggling as of late. Cleveland has gone 5-5 in their last ten games with two losses coming this week at the hands of Golden State and San Antonio, the two teams they are currently looking up at in the power rankings. Cleveland will be fine, but it will be interesting if this recent slide will give Toronto life in the chase for the No. 1 seed. (Last Week: #2)

4) Houston Rockets - Houston didn't have a great week, but it also wasn't terrible either. They had a bad loss at Miami, and they lost at Golden State. But they did handle Milwaukee and won at Memphis to go 2-2 this week. That's enough to keep the four spot, as Toronto also struggled. Houston isn't on the level of the three teams ahead of them, but they are still a very good team. (Last Week: #4)

5) Toronto Raptors - With Cleveland sliding recently, Toronto could have made up some ground in the No. 1 seed chase, but instead the Raptors faltered as well. Toronto has also gone 5-5 in their last ten games, and they have lost their past two. If it wasn't for teams behind them also losing, the Raptors would have been out of the top five. (Last Week: #5)

Next Five: Utah Jazz, Boston Celtics, Los Angeles Clippers, Memphis Grizzlies and Oklahoma City Thunder.

On deck and on TV

NFL: Today, the Green Bay Packers play the Atlanta Falcons at 2:05 p.m. on Fox for the NFC Championship, and the New England Patriots host the Pittsburgh Steelers at 5:40 p.m. on CBS for the AFC Championship.

NBA: Highlights for the week include: Warriors at Hornets on ESPN on Wednesday, Rockets at 76ers on ESPN on Friday and Clippers at Warriors on ABC on Saturday.

NHL: The Redwings host the Rangers today on NBC at 11:30 a.m. The Blues will have two games on NBC Sports this week. The Blues will play the Penguins on Tuesday night and the Wild on Thursday night.

College Basketball: No. 7 West Virginia hosts No. 2 Kansas at 6 p.m. on ESPN on Tuesday. No. 5 Kentucky hosts No. 2 Kansas at 5:15 p.m. on ESPN on Saturday.

question or comment? Email us at editors@theman eater.com.

Want to change how you receive these emails?
You can update your preferences or unsubscribe from this list

Compiled by Cole Bollinger