

The Maneater Daily

View this email in your browser

The MANEATER Daily

Monday, April 10, 2017

The weekend's warm weather continues into the week. The high today will be 73 degrees, and the low will be 43.

Daily Roundup

Michael Porter Jr., Blake Harris and Kevin Knox | Courtesy of Twitter

Michael Porter Jr., Kevin Knox and Blake Harris spotted around CoMo

Students got excited when the star basketball recruits were visiting Mizzou. Fans roamed around campus to try to get selfies with them before they finished their tour. Porter retweeted the selfies on Twitter, along with photos of the banners displayed by various fraternities in Greektown. Read more in Sports.

Lexi Smith
@Lexi5mith

Hey I'll see y'all at formal tonight

RETWEETS
67

LIKES
700

Gabe DeArmond ✓
@GabeDeArmond

Some of the fraternities at #Mizzou are doing some recruiting of their own with big time visitors headed to town

RETWEETS
357

LIKES
1,083

8:22 AM - 7 Apr 2017

Column: Kendall Jenner should apologize for her Pepsi ad

Columnist Bizzy Emerson explains why Pepsi isn't the only one who should apologize for the failed commercial.

"I appreciate Pepsi's quick action in removing the ad but wish they had done something more to promote the message they were initially trying to spread, such as making a donation to a progressive organization. However, my neutrality ends when the company also apologizes to Kendall Jenner. Activist DeRay Mckesson put it best on his Twitter: "It's incredible that @pepsi apologized to Kendall. She chose to be a part of that ad. Pepsi needs to apologize to the protesters."

Read the rest here.

Sports

Sports Recap

- Sergio Garcia defeated Justin Rose in a playoff at The Masters to win his first major. Garcia made a birdie-putt on the first hole of the playoff to clinch the victory. Rose led by a stroke heading to 17 but bogeyed the hole to create a playoff.
- The race for the NBA's most valuable player award got even more interesting with the top two contenders having impressive outings Sunday night. James Harden put up 35 points, 15 assists and 11 rebounds to earn his 21st triple-double of the season in the Houston Rockets' 135-128 win over the Sacramento Kings. Meanwhile, Russell Westbrook had his 42nd triple-double of the season to break the triple-double record set by Oscar Robertson 55 years ago. Westbrook's 50 points, 16 rebounds and 10 assists culminated in his buzzer-beating 3 to lead the Oklahoma City Thunder over the Denver Nuggets 106-105.
- The Detroit Red Wings said goodbye to historic Joe Louis Arena on Sunday night when they beat the New Jersey Devils 4-1. The Red Wings have played in Joe Louis Arena since the 1979-80 season and will move to the new Little Caesars Arena in downtown Detroit, which will be shared with the Detroit Pistons.

Around Mizzou Recap

- Mizzou baseball rebounded from a tough stretch of games to grab a series win at Georgia. The first two games were played in Athens, but the series finale was played at the new Atlanta Braves stadium. Mizzou won the final two games 8-5 and 6-1.
 - Mizzou basketball had a big recruiting weekend with five-star power forward Kevin Knox and four-star point guard Blake Harris both on campus. Michael Porter Jr. also had his official visit this weekend. The three were spotted across campus this weekend, as they were taking pictures with students and fans. Harris committed to the Tigers on Sunday at the end of his visit.
 - Mizzou softball lost a tough series at home to No. 25 Arkansas, dropping the final two games of the series. Mizzou won on Friday 1-0, but fell 6-5 and 4-2 on Saturday and Sunday, respectively.
-

Looking for some great restaurants to spice up your food selections during the week? MOVE's got some suggestions for you. If you're in the mood for some good Mexican food, check out Las Margaritas. Walnut Street Tap + Kitchen has a 10 percent student discount if you bring your ID, and you can get a variety of burgers, wraps and salads. Jina Yoo's Asian Bistro is the place to get great sushi. Check out the rest of the list here.

What to Do Today

- Kickoff Rally for Mizzou Sustainability Week, 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. @ Student Center
- Local Food for Local People Food Drive, 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. @ Speakers Circle

Compiled by Regina Anderson

This daily newsletter is a product of The Maneater and MOVE Magazine.

Want to change how you receive these emails?
You can update your preferences or unsubscribe from this list

The Maneater Daily

View this email in your browser

The MANEATER Daily

Tuesday, April 11, 2017

Today will be cooler than yesterday. The high will be 64 degrees and the low will be 44 degrees.

Daily Roundup

Artistic rendering courtesy of the School of Music

School of Music building construction to begin in January

Construction on a new building for the School of Music will bring together the music faculty and students, who are currently spread across six buildings on campus. The new facility was announced in March and will cost an estimated $45 million. It will be located at Hitt Street and University Avenue. The project will likely be completed in two phases, unless the school can raise more money before construction starts.

Sports

Recap:

The Kansas City Royals lost 2-0 to the Oakland Athletics.

What to Watch:

The St. Louis Blues are playing the Minnesota Wild at 8:30 p.m. on NBC Sports in game one of their playoff series. The St. Louis Cardinals play the Washington Nationals at 6:05 p.m. on ESPN.

MOVE

magazine

Courtesy of Moyan Brenn on Flickr

Cooking is hard to do, especially if this is your first time in your kitchen. Luckily, Opinion Editor Kasey Carlson is coming to the rescue. She's got some tips to help you learn the skills you need in the kitchen to not accidentally burn it down in the process.

“Learning how to cook for yourself is hard. Cooking takes a lot of different small skills and combines them to make a delicious meal that you can hopefully be proud of. Everyone needs to start somewhere, and there are plenty of basic tricks you can learn that will help you on your culinary journey, no matter how novice you are.”

Read more here.

What to Do Today

- Local Food for Local People Food Drive, 10 a.m.-2 p.m. @ Speakers Circle
- Marketing Your Campus Job Experience Workshop, 4-5 p.m. @ Memorial Union South 203

Compiled by Regina Anderson

This daily newsletter is a product of The Maneater and MOVE Magazine.

Want to change how you receive these emails?
You can update your preferences or unsubscribe from this list

The Maneater Daily

View this email in your browser

The MANEATER Daily

Wednesday, April 12, 2017

The rest of the week will be warm! The high today will be 76 degrees, and the low will be 57.

Daily Roundup

Vinyl Renaissance on N. Tenth Street | Nat Kaemmerer/Photographer

Vinyl Renaissance in CoMo to move locations

Vinyl Renaissance, the record store on N. Tenth Street, is moving to Woody's Gentlemen's Clothiers' former location on S. Ninth Street. The move is to give the store more space. Vinyl Renaissance was originally a small record store in Kansas City that eventually expanded with more locations. The CoMo location opened in 2014.

Colleges and departments to cut amounts decided by chancellor's office

Faculty positions, research funding and classroom resources are likely to be the things to go as MU prepares to accommodate for budget cuts. The School of Medicine has the largest required cut at $3.1 million. The School of Nursing may have to put a new building's plan on hold. Deans and division administrators have to figure out their cuts in their respective sections by the end of June.

Sports

Recap:

The St. Louis Cardinals lost 8-3 the Washington Nationals.

What to Watch:

The St. Louis Blues play the Minnesota Wild at 8:30 p.m. on NBC Sports in game one of their playoff series.

MOVE
magazine

Courtesy of Nat Kaemmerer

College living isn't easy. Sometimes you want to eat a brownie without going to the effort of making an entire batch. That's where mug recipes come in. These minimal effort dishes are perfect for a microwave-only chef. There's sweet options like chocolate chip cookies and French toast. If you're looking for something more savory, check out the recipes for the quiche. You can see the rest of the mug recipes here.

What to Do Today

- MIZ GYT \(Free STD Testing\), 10 a.m.-3 p.m. @ 2206 Student Center
- Operation Free Lunch, 11 a.m.-2 p.m. @ Lowry Mall

Compiled by Regina Anderson

This daily newsletter is a product of The Maneater and MOVE Magazine.

Want to change how you receive these emails?
You can update your preferences or unsubscribe from this list

The Maneater Daily

The MANEATER Daily

Thursday, April 13, 2017

Today is going to be the hottest this week. The high temperature today will be 80 degrees, and the low will be 61.

Daily Roundup

Photo Illustration by Lane Burdette/Staff Photographer

Feature of the Day

Column: CoMo chefs dish on their careers, favorite recipes

“Every second store downtown offers a distinctive dining experience, all the way from the busy-but-enjoyable Shakespeare’s to the soft and classy

Sycamore. Variety is something that Columbia is never short on.

No one is more closely attached to food than the people who prepare it. A chef is at the heart and soul of any meal that reaches the table. And while Columbia's scrumptious food continues to leave customers hungry for more, there lies a unique story behind each dish — the chef's story.

Patience and passion can make a culinary revolution. Many chefs in Columbia have cooked almost their whole lives and have seen their restaurants blossom in business and popularity.

Mike Odette, chef and co-owner of Sycamore since its opening in 2005, has been a staple in the Columbia scene for a long time.

'I've been cooking and baking professionally for almost 30 years, but before I started cooking, I was a Mizzou student," Odette said. "It was around my seventh year as an undergrad, having switched majors from chemical engineering to French, when I dropped out of school for good."

Read the rest of the feature here.

Sports

Recap:

The Cubs got their World Series Championship rings but lost 2-0 against the Dodgers. The Chicago White Sox won 2-1 against the Cleveland Indians.

What to Watch:

The Chicago Blackhawks play the first game in their playoff series against the Nashville Predators. The Chicago Cubs play the LA Dodgers at 1:20 p.m. on CSCh.

Courtesy of Master Chef Junior Twitter and Food Network

The five best Food Network shows you should be watching

“When I was a kid, I thought Food Network was boring. Sure, I liked seeing the food and how to cook it, but there was no spark to keep my 9-year-old self captivated. Beyond Good Eats, with chef Alton Brown’s zany food lessons, it all seemed very blasé.

Then, it all changed.

In 2005, Iron Chef America flipped the script and introduced cooking challenges, a competition-style way for viewers to learn how to cook. It wasn’t about just the food anymore; it was about the flashiest style, the quickest thinkers and what the chefs could do in a stringent time limit. They called it a “culinary battle,” and Food Network never looked back.”

Read the rest here.

What to Do Today

- Campus Farmers Market with Fair Trade Sale, 10 a.m.-2 p.m. @ Lowry Mall
- Pride Lecture, 11:30 a.m.-12:30 p.m. @ LGBTQ Resource Center, MU Student Center
- How-To Leverage LinkedIn – Workshop & Photos, 3:30-5 p.m. @ S204 Memorial Union
- TedXComo Presents “Citizen,” 5-9 p.m. @ Missouri Theatre

Compiled by Regina Anderson

This daily newsletter is a product of The Maneater and MOVE Magazine.

Want to change how you receive these emails?
You can update your preferences or unsubscribe from this list

the
MOVE
groove

Photo courtesy of Wikimedia Commons

In music: Harry Styles has finally answered the call of One Direction fans who have been waiting for his music for two years. The first single off of his first album is “Sign of the Times.” He released the album art on Instagram for HARRY.STYLES, which is expected to be released May 12. Styles is the last of the band members to put out solo work.

In film: This year’s Cannes Film Festival will feature virtual reality work, Netflix films and two TV series for the first time in the festival’s history. Topics for this year’s lineup revolve around tension and conflict, particularly in the political sphere. In a Variety interview, the festival’s artistic director Thierry Fremaux said, “Festivals are an echo of the work of artists who don’t live in a bubble.”

In tech: The U.S. government has auctioned off a large chunk of wireless TV airwaves to private, mobile data companies. Among the top bidders are T-Mobile, Dish Network, Comcast and AT&T. The sale of these strong, low-band airwaves by the Federal Communications Commission is another step toward privatization of internet competition in hopes of faster internet and higher traffic capabilities. Ultimately, what is done with the airwaves is up to the winners of the auction.

If you like dogs: Yappy Hour comes to Twin Lakes dog park this Saturday from 3-6 p.m. For $5 each at the door, you and your dog (or just you) can take in pupper-themed booths, food trucks, live music, dog pageants and other activities.

If you like farmers markets: Get some fresh produce for your weekend cooking endeavors at a local farmers market. Both Columbia and Boone County are hosting a market from 8 a.m. to noon tomorrow at 1701 W. Ash Street and Columbia Mall, respectively.

If you like walking and/or running: Lace up your shoes tomorrow and run (or walk) for a good cause. Stronger Together is a 5k put on by Synergy Sports that raises funds for the athletic youth of mid-Missouri. The event starts at 8 a.m., and you can register here.

If you are tired of Netflix: April the Giraffe, of Animal Adventure Park in New York, has still not yet given birth. A live stream of the pregnant giraffe has been up since her original due date in mid-February. Watch more of the live stream of her doing nothing if you have time to kill. Maybe you will catch the beginning moments of her long-awaited labor, or maybe not. If you're more interested in less-exotic household pets, peep Keeping Up with the Kattarshians, a live stream of kittens playing in a dollhouse, presented by the Icelandic Cat Protection Society.

If you like cooking: Try this pad Thai from BuzzFeed for a somewhat advanced, cozy meal to enjoy while you watch the animal live stream of your choice.

If you like wine: Pair this spiced-up dish with a slightly sweet Riesling to get that sweet and spicy mix.

Copyright © 2017 MOVE Magazine, All rights reserved.

This weekly newsletter is a product of The Maneater and MOVE Magazine in coordination with Mizzou Student Media. Compiled by Victoria Cheyne and Bailey Sampson.

MOVE

Want to change how you receive these emails?

You can update your preferences or unsubscribe from this list

MOVE: Music. Outings. Venues. Events.