

The Maneater Daily

The MANEATER Daily

Tuesday, April 25, 2017

The heat wave continues! The high today will be 82 degrees, and the low will be 61. It'll be partly cloudy all day.

Daily Roundup

Photo illustration of an empty Leadership Auditorium. | Maneater File Photo

Proposed MSA legislation calls for curators to allow campus carry

The legislation will be up for a vote at the MSA Campus and Community Relations Committee meeting at 7 p.m. this Tuesday in the Kansas City and St. Louis rooms in the Student Center. Currently, the UM System's Collected Rules and Regulations prohibit the possession and discharge of firearms, weapons and explosives on university property. This MSA legislation would ask the Board of Curators to change the rules and allow guns on campus. Missouri law states that concealed carry is not authorized on college campuses without approval from the governing body of the university.

---

Sports

Recap:

The Chicago Cubs beat the Pittsburgh Pirates, 14-3. The Kansas City Royals lost 12-1 against the Chicago White Sox.

What to Watch:

The St. Louis Cardinals play the Toronto Blue Jays at 7:15 p.m. on FSMW. The Kansas City Royals take on the White Sox again at 7:10 p.m. on FSKC. The St. Louis Blues play the Nashville Predators at 7 p.m. in game one of the series on NBCS.

---

MOVE
magazine

Courtesy of Shannon McGee via Flickr

If you missed out on Coachella this year, don't be too sad. MOVE Magazine staff writer Caroline Watkins says that "the summer is just about to start, and there are a handful of festivals to satisfy anyone's concert cravings." She compiled a list of the best music festivals you should go to this summer in case you're experiencing Coachella FOMO. She writes, "For those unable to attend the much-hyped music festival due to school, money or a laundry list of other logical excuses, no need to fear." Watkins recommends Sasquatch! Music Festival, Bonnaroo, Firefly Music Festival, Lollapalooza and Outside Lands Music and Arts Festival. To read more about these festivals, check out the story here.

---

What to Do Today

- Living History: LT Jim Downing, US Navy \(Ret\), 5-6 p.m. @ Crowder Hall
- Movie on the Mall: Grease Sing-Along, 8:30-11 p.m. @ Lowry Mall

---

Compiled by Regina Anderson

---

This daily newsletter is a product of The Maneater and MOVE Magazine.

Want to change how you receive these emails?
You can update your preferences or unsubscribe from this list

The Maneater Daily

Wednesday, April 26, 2017

In classic Missouri fashion, the weather will be cooling down after two days of heat. The high today will be 62 degrees, and the low will be 43. It will be raining most of the day, so pack your umbrella and your rain jacket.

Daily Roundup

UM System President Mun Choi spoke to MU faculty on Wednesday. | Courtesy of UM System Twitter account

UM Board of Curators decided to postpone vote on tuition and fee changes

The curators won't vote on tuition and fee changes at this week's meeting, they plan to postpone the vote until the legislature finalizes the budget in

May. They will still discuss the possible changes at the meeting scheduled for Thursday and Friday. This will be the first meeting for UM System President Mun Choi and the three new board members, Darryl Chatman, Jeff Layman and Jamie Farmer.

MU launches business administration degree program online

The new online bachelor's degree was one of the most-requested programs for MU online. The program is designed to be a degree completion program. Students must have 60 credit hours or an associate's degree to be accepted to the online program, and it is now accepting applications for classes that will start in August.

---

Sports

Recap:

The St. Louis Cardinals lost 6-5 against the Toronto Blue Jays. The Kansas City Royals lost to the White Sox, 10-5.

What to Watch:

The Chicago Cubs play the Pittsburgh Pirates at 6:05 p.m. on RTPT. The St. Louis Blues play the Nashville Predators at 7 p.m. in game one of the series on NBCSN. The Chicago Bulls play the Boston Celtics at 7:30 p.m. on TNT for Game 5 of the playoff series.

---

MOVE
magazine

Courtesy of Max Pixel

Exercising can be difficult because it feels like you have to carve out extra time from your already packed week. MOVE Magazine staff writer Hannah Simon has great ways to integrate exercise into your everyday routines. Try doing a wall sit while you're brushing your teeth or taking the stairs whenever you can. You can check out the rest of her tips and tricks here.

---

What to Do Today

- Tai Chi & Qigong with Breathe, 3-4:30 p.m. @ Carnahan Quadrangle
- The Laramie Project, 7:30-9:30 p.m. @ Rhynsburger Theatre
- FREE Wednesday Film: 20th Century Women, 8-10 p.m. @ Wrench Auditorium, Memorial Union South

---

Compiled by Regina Anderson

---

Want to change how you receive these emails?
You can update your preferences or unsubscribe from this list

The Maneater Daily

The MANEATER Daily

Thursday, April 27, 2017

You can forget your umbrella today because the rain has gone away. The high today will be 66 degrees, and the low will be 51.

Daily Roundup

Jesse Hall | Photo by Lane Burdette/Staff Photographer

Feature of the Day

As MU searches for diversity, faculty of color face systemic discrimination

Most semesters, associate professor Richard Callahan's African-American religions class consists of about 30 students, 25 of whom are usually black women. As a white man, he said, it's clear as soon as he walks into the room that he has not had the same life experiences as his students.

He said that ideally, the class would also be taught by a black woman — someone the students would be able to see themselves in.

But if the professor himself thinks his class should be taught by a black woman, why isn't it? As Callahan explains on the first day of every semester, MU just does not have enough faculty members of color for that to happen.

In fall 2015, student activist collective Concerned Student 1950 released a list of demands to change the systemic discrimination the group saw on campus. One demand was for former UM System President Tim Wolfe to resign, which he did in a high-profile manner on Nov. 9. Another demand was for faculty diversity to be increased to 10 percent black faculty and staff. This has not yet been met.

Continue reading here.

---

Sports

Recap:

The Chicago Cubs lost 6-5 against the Pittsburgh Pirates. The St. Louis Blues lost 4-3 against the Nashville Predators in game one of the series playoffs. The Chicago Bulls lost 108-97 against the Boston Celtics for Game 5 of the playoff series.

What to Watch:

The New York Rangers play the Ottawa Senators at 6 p.m. on CNBC. The St. Louis Cardinals take on the Toronto Blue Jays at 12:45 p.m. on FSMW.

---

MOVE
magazine

Courtesy of Roderick Eime via Flickr

Here's film news from this week:

- The trailer for the not-really-anticipated Cars 3 was released. This upcoming Pixar sequel is looking to tell the story of Lightning McQueen's last lap as a professional racer. You can watch the trailer here.
- Disney has been all about the live-action remakes ever since its 2015 "Cinderella" film hit theaters. One of its upcoming projects is "The Lion King," and it was announced that Billy Eichner and Seth Rogen will be playing the dynamic duo of Timon and Pumbaa.
- Finally, Jeff Goldblum is set to return to the franchise that started it all for him, as he is set to star in Jurassic World 2 alongside Chris Pratt. He should have no trouble keeping up with the dinosaurs, considering this is the fifth movie where they've accidentally been set loose on human society.

---

What to Do Today

- Denim Day, 10 a.m.-2 p.m. @ Tiger Plaza
- Take Back the Night, 6-9 p.m. @ Traditions Plaza
- Kristin Chenoweth, 7-10 p.m. @ Missouri Theatre

---

Compiled by Regina Anderson

---

This daily newsletter is a product of The Maneater and MOVE Magazine.

Want to change how you receive these emails?
You can update your preferences or unsubscribe from this list

the
MOVE
groove

Stephen King ✓
@StephenKing

Deeply sad to hear my friend,
neighbor, and colleague Jonathan Demme has passed on. He was one of the real good guys. I miss you, buddy.

4/26/17, 11:06 AM

2,249 RETWEETS 12.7K LIKES

Stephen King's tweet in reference to his recently departed friend. | Courtesy of King's Twitter.

In film: Jonathan Demme, Oscar winner and director of Silence of the Lambs, died at age 73 on Wednesday. Demme died of complications from esophageal cancer in his New York apartment. Hollywood stars including Bryan Cranston and Stephen King reacted to his death on Twitter. See some of the Tweets here.

In fashion: For the low price of $425, you can now own your own pair of mud-caked jeans. The "Barracuda Straight Leg Jeans" by PRPS are being sold at Nordstrom. According to the company's website, the jeans "embody rugged, Americana workwear" and make it easier than ever before to look like you get "down and dirty."

In music: Sony dropped producer Dr. Luke as CEO of Kemosabe Records on Monday after pop star Kesha accused him of sexually assaulting her. Dr. Luke has produced a number of hits by artists including Miley Cyrus, Kelly Clarkson and Avril Lavigne.

If you like music: The bands Mangosteen and Bockman are having a dual album release at 9 p.m. on Friday, April 28 at Rose Music Hall. Tickets are $7. Read about the event and the bands' styles here.

If you like theatre: The Maplewood Barn Theatre is putting on Lorraine Hansberry's A Raisin in the Sun this Friday, Saturday and Sunday at 8 p.m. The play explores family dynamics, especially when money is involved. Read about the play here.

If you like running and/or walking: The Division of Inclusion, Diversity and Equity is holding the Mizzou (Principles of Community) Mile, a mile run or walk, around campus. According to its flyer, the event is focused on "acknowledging and respecting our differences while affirming our common humanity." Register for the event here.

Cover art from The Handmaid's Tale. | Courtesy of Flickr.

If you like Margaret Atwood: “The Handmaid’s Tale,” a new show based on the novel by Margaret Atwood, premiered on Wednesday. The show depicts a dystopian society in which women are forced to reproduce with men of higher statuses. The show is being released on Hulu, three episodes at a time.

If you like a good read: Sitting at number three on the New York Times bestseller list for this week, Big Little Lies sheds light on domestic abuse. The novel explores the relationships between a group of elementary school moms and their families. The book has also been made into a popular miniseries on HBO, starring Reese Witherspoon, Nicole Kidman and Shailene Woodley. Check out the full list of novels here.

If you like dessert: Check out these recipes for four easy desserts. You can make peanut butter cups, strawberry icebox cake, chocolate cereal treats or a cookies and cream ice cream pie, each with only three ingredients. Or you can make all four at once.

Copyright © 2016 MOVE Magazine, All rights reserved.

This weekly newsletter is a product of The Maneater and MOVE Magazine. Compiled by Libby Stanford.

MOVE

Want to change how you receive these emails?
You can update your preferences or unsubscribe from this list

MOVE: Music. Outings. Venues. Events.