FOREWORD

The Aids and Awards Bulletin of the University of Missouri, Columbia, describes the many scholarships, awards, and prizes available to undergraduate and graduate students on this campus and contains information on loan funds and student employment.

The names of the recipients listed herein are students enrolled during the 1965-66 school year. All are residents of Missouri except where indicated. In instances where no recipient is listed, there may not have been money available in the particular fund at the time the scholarship winners were selected, or perhaps no student met the particular academic and other qualifications required. Sometimes the recipients are chosen after the bulletin goes to press, in which case their names are listed in the next issue.

The Aids and Awards Bulletin is one of a series of publications of the University. Others include the General Catalog Including Description of Courses, the Summer Session Bulletin, Correspondence Courses, and announcement books of each of the 14 schools and colleges on the Columbia campus.

For University bulletins and general information, write to the Director of Admissions, 130 Jesse Hall, Columbia.

SCHOLARSHIPS, AIDS AND AWARDS

The primary purpose of aids and awards at the University of Missouri is to encourage worthy students to obtain a higher education and to assist those for whom college financing is a problem. This goal is accomplished through two means. First, the various scholarships, fellowships, awards, and prizes are to give recognition for excellence in the various academic fields of study and related activities both in high school and at the University. Second, where the best efforts of the student and his family fall short of being able to meet the necessary University costs, the aids program is to help make up that difference.

The costs of attending the University are kept as low as possible so the educational opportunities offered in its many divisions may be within the financial reach of all the citizens of Missouri who earnestly desire an education. This bulletin is prepared to help acquaint the student with the three types of financial aid available: part-time student employment; scholarships, fellowships, awards, and prizes; and student loans.

Cost figures quoted in this bulletin are subject to change without notice. When increases have to be made they are kept as low as possible so there will be no marked disruption of the student's financial planning.

Certain scholarships are listed to continue for more than one year. In such cases it is understood that continuation will depend upon the recipient's making satisfactory academic achievement, maintaining good citizenship, and otherwise continuing to meet the qualifications on which the scholarship was granted.

COSTS OF ATTENDING THE UNIVERSITY IN 1966-67

For one semester of approximately eighteen weeks

Incidental fee	$165.00
Student Union fee	10.00
University Residence Halls (room and board)	385.00
Books & Supplies (estimated)	65.00

Students in the School of Medicine pay an additional fee of $75.00 per semester, and those in Veterinary Medicine pay an additional fee of $32.50 per semester. Also, students enrolled in applied music pay an extra fee of $30.00 per course each semester.

Undergraduate students who are not residents of Missouri pay an out-of-state tuition of $250.00 per semester in addition to the above costs. School of Medicine students who are not residents of Missouri also pay a fee of $250.00.

By joint agreement with the administrative bodies of institutions of learning in Kansas, Nebraska, and Arkansas, the University of Missouri provides some exceptions in the non-resident tuition fee for curricula offered here but not at the other campuses. Information may be obtained from the Director of Admissions, 130 Jesse Hall.

Out-of-state tuition is not required of students enrolled in Graduate School.

Personal expenses (laundry, haircuts, and other necessary incidentals) will need to be added to the above. A conservative student will limit his spending to $20-$25 per month for these items.

SOURCES OF GIFTS

This listing of scholarships, fellowships, awards, prizes, and loan funds gives general information concerning each one so the student may locate those for which he is eligible for consideration. These gifts are available through the generosity and thoughtfulness of hundreds of people who desire to help worthy students obtain a higher education.

Funds have been donated by business firms, foundations, public organizations, clubs, and societies, as well as by individuals who are friends and alumni of the University. In addition, the Board of Curators provides more than 800 scholarships and awards to freshmen and to students transferring from other Missouri colleges; numerous scholarships for science fairs and interscholastic events; 100 sophomore scholarships; 32 scholarships for graduates of accredited junior colleges in Missouri; 25 fellowships at the graduate level; summer session scholarships for members of college faculties in Missouri; and grants-in-aid for refugee and foreign students.

PART-TIME STUDENT EMPLOYMENT

There are 1800 to 2000 part-time jobs on the University campus which are regularly filled by students who need to work in order to help with their college expenses. These jobs range from $1.00 per hour for a beginning freshman up to $1.25 or $1.50 for skilled upperclassmen. Jobs are available in the cafeterias, libraries, laboratories, offices, and on the research farm. Advanced students frequently may find work on various research projects in the division of their major study.

Naturally, the best jobs are usually held by those students who have already been on campus and have worked up to these positions. Therefore, students have an incentive to do good work so that they may move into the better jobs as the older students graduate. Wherever possible, students are assigned to work in the area of their major study and thus gain additional valuable training and experience.

Hundreds of part-time jobs are also available downtown and throughout the community. There are jobs in restaurants, hotels, stores, warehouses, theatres, and other business firms. Many householders use students to do odd jobs and baby sit, usually during the afternoons, evenings, and on weekends.

Students are cautioned that college courses require much more time for study than do high school courses. If outside work is not really needed, they would be wise to devote full time to their school work. But if a student needs to work, he should not hesitate to write for an application blank. Students can earn $35 to $60 per month by working 10 to 15 hours per week while carrying the normal number of academic studies. With proper planning, this much work will not interfere with study but it will cut down on leisure time. Working more than 15 hours per week may result in lower grades. New students may write for part-time work applications to Director of Aids and Awards, 123 Jesse Hall, Columbia.

Graduate students interested in teaching or research assistantships should contact the department at the University of Missouri in which they will be doing their major study.

THE COLLEGE WORK-STUDY PROGRAM

In 1964 the federal government passed the Economic Opportunity Act which includes part I-C, The College Work-Study Program.

The Work-Study Program provides that the federal government will pay 90 percent of the wages of students from low income families who need work in order to earn money so they can go to college. The colleges and universities will pay the other 10 percent for jobs on campus and will assist in arranging other jobs off campus on community projects and with non-profit organizations and agencies which work for the good of the public.

Hence, students from low income families who are academically qualified to attend college are assured of work opportunities. Full-time summer jobs of 40 hours per week at $1.25 per hour will enable students to save money for the following school year. Some can work during the fall months and arrange to start college at the beginning of the second semester.

Part-time work on campus can be arranged to fit into the regular class schedule. Beginning wage rates will depend upon skills and qualifications of the worker and will be from $1.00 per hour and up. Jobs are available in libraries, laboratories, cafeterias, maintenance, offices, farms, etc.

Students selected for the Work-Study Program may also apply for scholarships and loans. All students must have satisfactory academic records. Further advice can be obtained from your high school counselor or principal.

Many colleges in Missouri are participating in this program. If finances are a problem, you should select the college that best fits your academic needs and is most feasible from a financial standpoint. You may write the office of Aids and Awards, 123 Jesse Hall, Columbia, for further information.

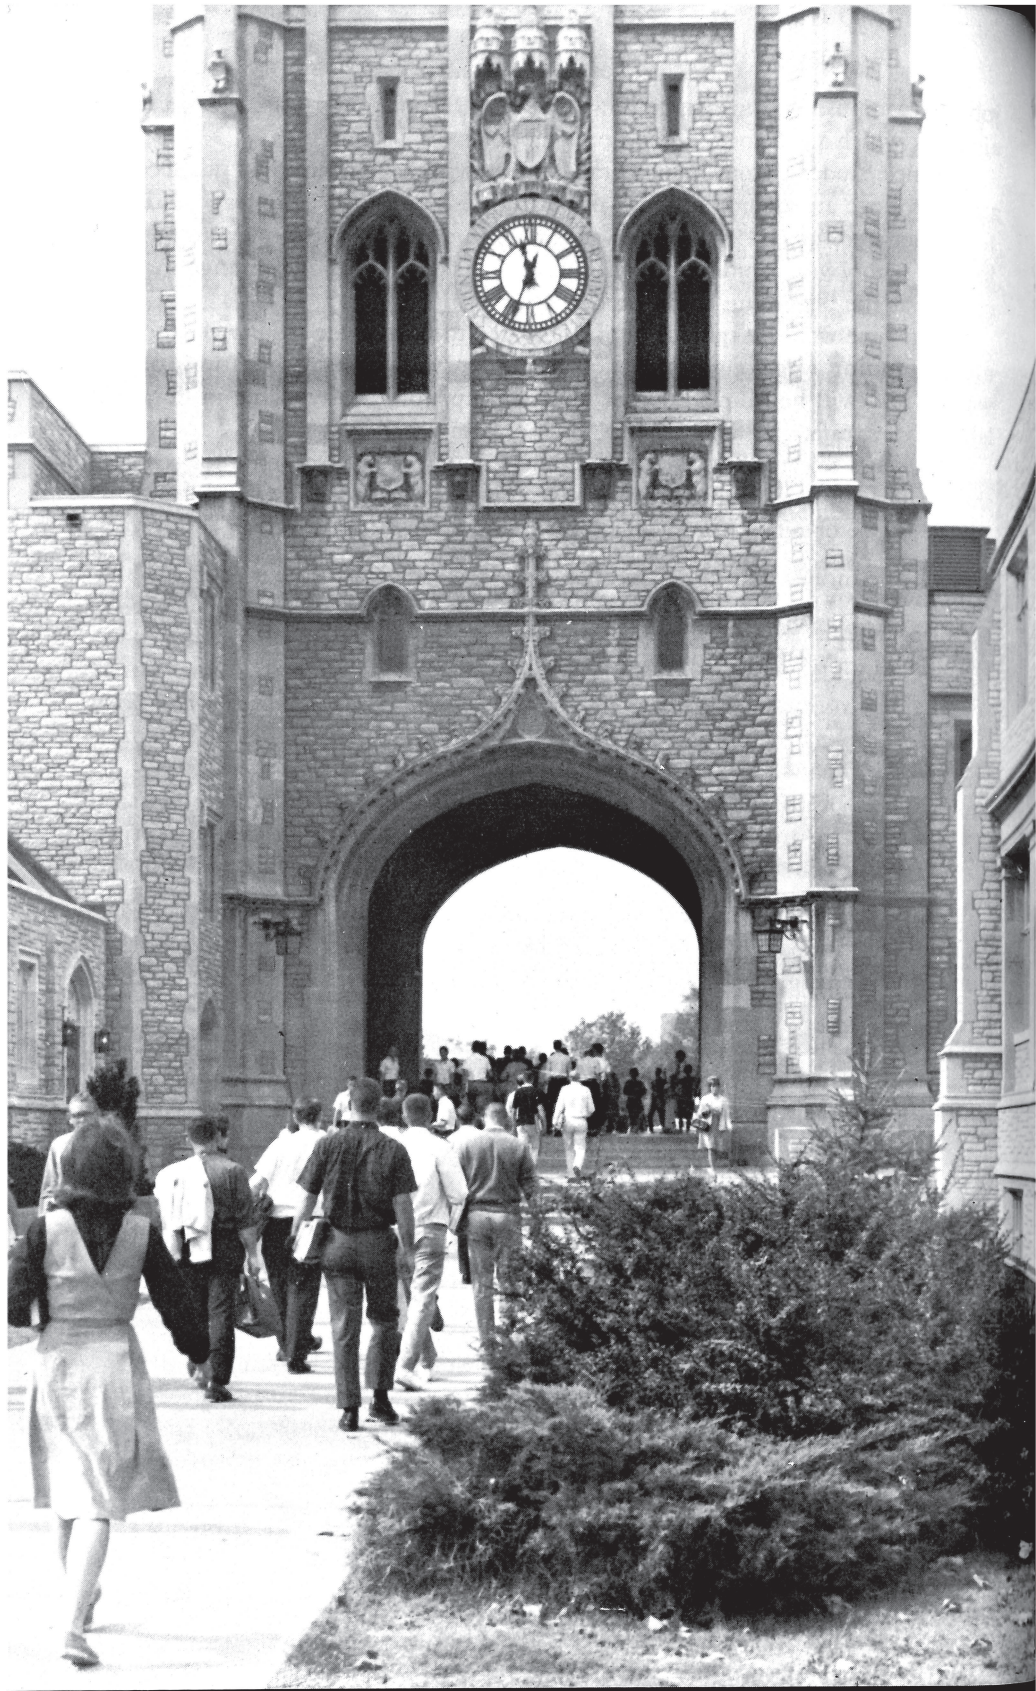

EDUCATIONAL OPPORTUNITY GRANTS

Under the provision of the Higher Education Act of 1965, grants of from $200 to $800 annually will be provided by the federal government to those students who are in greatest financial need. All undergraduates are eligible for consideration.

A statement of the parents' financial situation is required by the University in order to determine who is eligible for help under this program. Inquiries and applications should be sent to the office of Aids and Awards, 123 Jesse Hall.

This program is not limited to only those in the top academic ranks. However, an applicant's past scholastic record and test scores must show that he is capable of maintaining satisfactory college work. After the first year a student will receive a $200 additional bonus if he ranks above the middle of his college class.

Approximately 400 students can be helped under this program.

UNDERGRADUATE SCHOLARSHIPS, PRIZES AND AWARDS

Recipients of undergraduate scholarships are approved by the Committee on Aids and Awards and may be recommended by a divisional faculty or a special committee appointed for that purpose. Application forms and further information about these scholarships may be obtained from the Office of Aids and Awards, 123 Jesse Hall, University of Missouri, Columbia, Mo.

General Scholarships for FRESHMEN in Any Division

Alumni Development Fund Freshman Scholarships: Stipends of $280 are offered to several students who are graduates of accredited out-of-state high schools. These recipients must be worthy students who are top-ranking scholars, whose test scores indicate high ability and who need financial assistance. This program was established by the University of Missouri Alumni.

Ronald Stephen Sloan, Platte City

Scholarship in American Citizenship: The annual stipend, $250, is awarded for four years to a graduate of a Missouri high school, preferably a woman, who ranks in the upper one-fourth on the statewide test and in high school average and who needs financial assistance. Satisfactory academic progress at the University must be maintained by the recipient in order to continue holding the scholarship. The scholarship was established in 1908 by the National Society of Colonial Dames of America in the state of Missouri.

Connie Sue Short, Kahoka

Steve Ankrom Memorial Scholarship: One scholarship of $50 is granted each year to a graduate of Halfway (Mo.) High School on the basis of academic excellence, leadership and service in FFA and community activities. This fund was established in 1965 by family, friends, and the FFA chapter of the school where Steve was a member at the time of his death.

Frank P. Blair Scholarship: The annual income from $7,400 is awarded for four years to a high school senior who ranks in the upper one-fourth on the statewide test and in high school average, and who needs financial assistance. Satisfactory academic progress at the University must be maintained to continue holding the scholarship through four years. The scholarship was established in 1911 by Mrs. C. B. Graham of St. Louis in memory of her father.

Beverly Jean Hartman, Kansas City

Thomas A. Brady Memorial Scholarship: Family and friends of the late Thomas A. Brady have contributed to a fund in his memory for the assistance of worthy undergraduate students at the University of Missouri, Columbia. It was under Dr. Brady, as Dean of Extra-Divisional Administration, that the office of Aids and Awards was established in 1958 and student financial aids were coordinated to give greater help for students. The income from the endowment will provide an annual scholarship.

Carter United Club Scholarships: Four or more annual scholarships of $250 each are available to sons and daughters of employees of the Carter Carburetor Corporation, Division of ACF Industries, Inc. Recipients are chosen on the basis of academic excellence, good moral character, and need for financial assistance in order to pursue a higher education. Students may choose any division of the University located at Columbia, Rolla, or St. Louis. Recipients will be chosen by a committee representing the three campuses of the University of Missouri and guidance counselors of two St. Louis high schools. A student may compete for a scholarship during any year of his college study. This scholarship was established in 1961 by the Carter United Club, composed of employees, both labor and management, of the Carter Carburetor Corporation, St. Louis.

James Paul Dimmerling, St. Louis
John Edward White, Ferguson

Certificates of Recognition: Each year the University and the accredited Missouri high schools which participate in the state-wide testing program issue a Certificate of Recognition to each graduating senior in the upper one-fifth in class rank and on the state-wide test. It is an honor for a senior to receive this recognition for excellence in his high school work. The Certificate is not a scholarship but it does carry with it an invitation to apply for a Curators Award if financial assistance is needed to help with University expenses.

Curators Freshman Scholarships: The one graduate of highest scholastic promise in each accredited Missouri high school is offered a scholarship worth $330, the amount of the incidental fee for two semesters at any of the four campuses of the University. Two scholarships are offered in schools with more than 100 graduating seniors. Selection is made from reports sent by high school officials and from state-wide testing, and no application is required. Scholarships that are not accepted cannot be passed down to lower ranking students. Recipients must be Missouri residents and must use the scholarship during the two semesters following high school graduation. Those eligible for the scholarship but who choose to go to another Missouri college, possibly closer to home at less expense, may apply for a Curators Scholarship after one or two years of college work elsewhere if a B average is maintained, if financial assistance is needed, and if recommended by the dean of the college attended.

Curators Freshman Awards: Seniors in accredited Missouri high schools who rank in the upper third of their graduating class, rank in the upper third on the state-wide testing program, and have need of financial help in order to attend the University may apply for a Curators Award worth $330, the amount of the incidental fees for one year, to be used during the two semesters immediately following high school graduation. Recipients must be residents of Missouri. Curators Scholarships and Awards were established by the Board of Curators in 1950. Most high school principals and counsellors will have application blanks, and inquiries may be addressed to Curators Scholarship Committee, 130 Jesse Hall, Columbia, or to the scholarship committees at the University of Missouri at Rolla, Kansas City, or St. Louis.

John M. Dalton Educational Trust Scholarship: In 1966 John M. Dalton, former governor of Missouri, established a scholarship program especially for students from Vernon and Dunklin counties in Missouri. Three scholarships of $250 each are available to recipients in need of financial assistance, chosen by the University on the basis of superior grades and a strong interest in public affairs.

Robert C. Fields Memorial Scholarship: The annual income on a fund of $1,900 or more is awarded to a boy or girl, resident of Laclede County, Mo., for the purpose of attending the University. Financial need is considered by a committee in Laclede County which selects the recipient. The scholarship was established by the widow and son of Robert C. Fields, former student and instructor at the University, and Laclede County attorney.

Richard Steve Ruble, Lebanon

General Motors Corporation Scholarships: Two scholarships are offered for entering freshmen in any division of the University at Columbia. Recipients are selected by the Committee on Curators Scholarships on the basis of scholastic achievement, promise, good character, and merit. All high school seniors who have received a Curators Scholarship or have applied for a Curators Award will be considered for the General Motors Scholarships. No additional application blank is needed, but a personal interview is required. The amount of the stipend will range from $200 to $1200 per year and is determined on the basis of need, as established by information on financial resources filed by the recipient. Scholarships may be retained for a four-year period if academic progress is satisfactory.

Luke E. Hart Memorial Scholarships: Four scholarships of $400 each are provided by the Knights of Columbus (Missouri Jurisdiction) to assist worthy sons and daughters of members and deceased members of the Knights of Columbus to obtain a higher education. Recipients may enroll on any campus of the University. This scholarship program was established in 1966 in memory of Luke E. Hart, a graduate of the University of Missouri School of Law who, at the time of his death in 1964, was the Supreme Knight of Knights of Columbus.

Lieutenant Harry Herrod Scholarship: The stipend, $500 per year, is paid to a man, designated by the faculty of the Joplin High School, or, in case the faculty fails to act, by the University of Missouri. Satisfactory progress at the University is required for the recipient to continue the scholarship, which may be held for not more than four years. This was established by the will of Pearl Herrod of Joplin, Mo.

Larry D. Tomlin, Joplin

Richard M. Higgins Endowment Fund Scholarships: The stipend of these scholarships will vary depending on need; the number granted, 10 to 25, will depend on the stipends allowed. The scholarships may be held only by men, who are selected on the basis of academic achievement, financial need, and good moral character. A statement of need, recommendations from teachers and others who know the applicant, and, in most cases, a personal interview, will be required. Payment will be made according to the terms established in the particular scholarship. These scholarships were established by the Boatmen's National Bank of St. Louis, trustee for the Richard M. Higgins Endowment Fund. The fund was created in the will of Jennie C. Higgins.

Moran E. and Anna O. Howard Scholarship Awards for Moniteau County: An endowment was established by B. K. Howard of Chicago in 1960 to provide scholarships for worthy high school graduates from Moniteau County in memory of Mr. Howard's mother. Additional funds from family and friends were received at the death of Mr. Howard's father in 1962. Four annual scholarships worth $500 each are awarded; one to a freshman, with the possibility of being renewed for three succeeding years, contingent upon maintenance of satisfactory academic progress. Selection of recipients is by the Committee of Aids and Awards on the recommendation of C. O. Putnam and Jack Crawford of California, Mo., who work with the high schools of Moniteau County in making these awards available to worthy students.

Friends of the Library Prize: An annual prize of $100 worth of books was established in 1962 by the Friends of the Library for the undergraduate or professional student submitting the best plan for a personal library. The University Library committee has set up specific procedures for receiving applications, and judging is based upon the significance of the works selected and the familiarity of the applicant with the chosen field, rather than on number, cost and rarity of items included. The University librarian will provide details for the contest held during the winter semester each year.

William Lee Valentine, Jefferson City

Edward K. Love Scholarships: Five scholarships, each carrying a stipend of $200, are awarded to the highest ranking boys or girls in wildlife conservation programs of the 4-H Clubs of Missouri. The scholarships were established in 1939 by the Board of Governors of the Edward K. Love Conservation Foundation. Application is made through the 4-H program and the recipients may choose one of several Missouri colleges.

La Verne Noyes Scholarship: The stipend, usually equivalent to fees, is available to direct descendants of men and women who served in World War I and were honorably discharged from the Army or Navy of the United States. These scholarships, available to deserving students needing financial assistance were established in 1928 under the will of La Verne Noyes of Chicago.

Robert J. Stuckey Memorial Library Awards: In 1964 Mrs. Juanita B. Stuckey, Knob Lick, Mo., and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Greer, established an endowment in memory of her son. The income is to be used annually to provide awards to deserving and worthy high school seniors who have demonstrated sincere interest in good books and a desire to start a collection of their own. These awards will be handled through the Friends of the Library at the University of Missouri, Ralph Parker, Librarian, Columbia.

Saralu Selvey, Lamar

Cleo Tayloe Memorial Fund Scholarship: The late William L. Tayloe provided in his will that the larger part of his estate be given to the University of Missouri to establish an endowment, the income of which was to be used for scholarships. One half of the annual income shall go to a girl from Greene County, Mo., the other half to a boy from Gasconade County, Mo., to assist them to attend the University during their freshman and junior years. Recipients shall be chosen by the Aids and Awards committee of the University from among qualified applicants from the respective counties. The fund is named in memory of Mrs. Tayloe, a native of Greene County, by her husband, a native of Gasconade County.

General Scholarships for SOPHOMORES in Any Division

Aids and Awards Scholarships: The stipend, which is variable depending on the need of the student, is used to assist students in financial need. Scholarships are awarded to industrious students of average as well as above average academic achievement. Good character and financial need must be clearly established. An application and, in most cases, a personal interview are required. An attempt is made to tailor the assistance to the needs, taking into account the availability of other forms of financial assistance. These scholarships were established in 1956 by the Curators of the University with funds from various sources.

Judith Kay Helm, Cameron
John Patrick White, Edina
David G. Zeilbeck, Columbia

Alumni Development Fund Sophomore Scholarships: A stipend to cover the incidental fee for two semesters is offered to 20 or more students in the sophomore year. These scholarships are awarded to merit-worthy sophomores who as freshmen maintained high scholastic averages and who are in need of financial assistance. These scholarships were established in 1956 by the Alumni Achievement Fund from funds contributed by alumni and friends of the University.

Federal Land Bank Scholarships: College of Agriculture. Two scholarships, each carrying an annual stipend of $500, are available to two high school male graduates who are enrolling in the College of Agriculture. Recipients are selected on a point system. Points are given on the basis of scholarship; participation in farm and high school activities, community responsibilities, and good character. Applicants may earn additional points by submitting a 500-1000 word essay on the farmer-owner cooperative Federal Land Bank and National Farm Loan association system. Financial need is considered but is not a determinate factor. Continuance of the award for the second semester is contingent on a satisfactory record for the first semester. These scholarships were established by the Federal Land Bank of St. Louis and the National Farm Loan Association of Missouri.

James H. Hodges, Clever
David R. Mertens, California

Federated Garden Clubs Scholarships in Floriculture: One or more scholarships, carrying stipends of $300, are available to students studying floriculture. Recipients must have minimum scholastic averages of 2.00 and must show leadership qualities. They are selected by the scholarship committee of the Federated Garden Clubs of Missouri from recommendations made by the floriculture scholarship committee and may be selected to hold the scholarship more than once. Application should be made to the Department of Horticulture. These scholarships were established in 1957 by the Federated Garden Clubs of Missouri.

Paul Ralph Long, Essex

Gilbreath-McLorn Fund in Entomology: This fund was established in 1965 by Olive Gilbreath McLorn of LaPlata, Mo., for the purpose of aiding students, either graduate or undergraduate, by means of scholarships, fellowships, or aid to research in the field of entomology, with particular interest in the control of insects detrimental to shade trees, ornamental shrubs and plants.

Greenlee Award: The stipend, $50, is available to a regularly enrolled student majoring in poultry husbandry. Selection of the recipient is made by the Department of Poultry Husbandry on the basis of scholarship, interest in poultry husbandry, and research. The fund was established by A. D. Greenlee of St. Louis.

Gary L. Hargus, Marionville

David M. Hardy Scholarship in Co-op Management: The St. Louis Bank for Cooperatives offers an annual scholarship of $750 to an upperclass or graduate man interested in the possibility of employment by a farmers' cooperative marketing, purchasing, or credit association. The recipient must be enrolled in Agriculture or Business pursuing courses toward a degree in the field of agricultural business. Selection will be based on academic excellence and a sincere, active interest in the field of cooperative management. The recipient may also be given an optional opportunity for summer employment by a farmers' marketing, purchasing or credit association. The Farm Credit Board of St. Louis authorized the St. Louis Bank for Cooperatives to establish this scholarship in 1963 in honor of David M. Hardy, retiring after thirty years of service as president of the St. Louis Bank for Cooperatives.

Stanley Byron Fink, Oregon

Hechler Memorial Scholarships: Two annual scholarships of approximately $200 each from the income of $10,000 are granted to upperclass students majoring in Agriculture, Engineering, Home Economics, or in closely related areas as Forestry, Veterinary Medicine, etc. They must be graduates of a Chariton County, Mo., high school or have been residents of Chariton County at the time of graduation from a high school located in any other Missouri county, must rank in the upper one-half of their University class, must have high potential leadership qualifications and be of good moral character and deportment. They are chosen by a University of Missouri faculty committee. Students transferring to the University from other institutions of higher education must have had at least two semesters of resident study at the University of Missouri, Columbia, to be eligible applicants. The scholarships were established in 1956 with a gift of $6,000 from W. R. Hechler of Dalton, Mo., and his brothers now deceased, Charles H. Hechler of Roslyn, N. Y., and F. G. Hechler, State College, Pa., in memory of their parents, George and Eliza Hechler, lifelong residents of Chariton County. The original fund was increased to $8,000 in 1960, and $2,000 was presented in 1963 by Mrs. Catherine Hechler in memory of her husband, Charles H. Hechler.

Gerald Anthony Link, Brunswick

John Harold Ratliff, Salisbury

Leonard Haseman Scholarship in Entomology: An annual scholarship of $100 is awarded to a student, either graduate or undergraduate, whose sincere interest is in the field of entomology. The basis of selection is high scholarship, good moral character, and financial need. The Kroger Company established these scholarships in 1947.

Herschel Jamison Gaddy Jr., Marshall

Mr. and Mrs. Rudolf Kruse, Sr.—Carroll County Scholarship: A scholarship of $225 annually is given to a boy or girl who enrolls in the College of Agriculture, having graduated from a Carroll County high school. Applications should be made at the County Agent's office in Carrollton, but the final selection is made by the Committee on Aids and Awards at the University. The recipient will be chosen on the basis of scholastic excellence, high moral character, financial need, and a sincere interest in the field of agriculture. The donors, Mr. and Mrs. Rudolf Kruse, Sr., established this scholarship in 1961.

Michael John Browning, Carrollton

E. P. Meiners Memorial Scholarship in Entomology: In 1961 an endowment was established by Mrs. E. P. Meiners of St. Louis in memory of her husband, Dr. E. P. Meiners. Dr. Meiners' chief interest during his lifetime, outside of his chosen field of medicine, was in entomology. The income from the endowment may be used annually for the scholarships for either graduate or undergraduate students majoring in entomology. Provision is also made that the funds may be used for travel to entomology museums or for procuring specimens, collections, or museum equipment needed to further entomological study and research.

Richard A. Kimerle, Columbia

Midwest Agricultural Chemical Association Marketing Scholarship: The donor organization established in 1964 an annual scholarship of $200 to be awarded to a junior or senior enrolled in the College of Agriculture. The recipient must be a resident of Missouri, and selection will be based upon ranking in the upper third of his class. While financial need may be considered, it need not be the decisive factor.

Stanley B. Fink, Oregon

Missouri Association of Milk and Food Sanitarians Scholarship: The donor organization in 1963 established an annual scholarship of $100 for an upperclass student enrolled in sanitary science or related fields such as dairying and biological sciences. Sanitary science majors shall receive first preference and the scholarship recipient may be considered for this award the second year.

Linda Gayle Stanley, Columbia

Missouri Seedmen's Association Achievement Award: An award of $100 annually will be given to a selected recipient who is an upperclass student in the Department of Field Crops at the University of Missouri. The recipient shall be recommended by the Achievement Awards Committee of the Department of Field Crops. Selection will be based on scholastic record and college activities. This award was established by the Missouri Seedmen's Association and announcement of the recipient is made at the annual meeting of the Association.

Marcia Lee Eickmeier, St. Louis

Moorman Manufacturing Company Scholarships in Agriculture: A sum of $1500 is used for scholarships for students in the College of Agriculture. Recipients and the amount of each scholarship are recommended by the scholarship committee of the College of Agriculture. These scholarships were established by the Moorman Manufacturing Company of Quincy, Ill., in 1960. Students with good scholarship, financial need, and a sincere interest in agriculture receive first consideration. Since it is recognized that the donor is primarily interested in animal agriculture, the selection committee will consider the students' interests along this line. However, students in any phase of agriculture are eligible for consideration.

Big Eight Intercollegiate Conference Medal: This medal is awarded by the conference to one student in the graduating class of each member school for outstanding achievement in athletics and scholarship. The award was established in 1929 by the Missouri Valley Intercollegiate Athletic Association.

Ralph (Robin) A. Lingle, Jr., Philadelphia, Pa.

Walter Robertson Fund for Deserving Members of the University of Missouri Football Squad: This fund is used for deserving members of the football squad as determined by the athletic director. These scholarships must conform to the regulations of the Missouri Valley Intercollegiate Athletic Association of which the University of Missouri is a member. The fund was established in 1952 by the will of Mayme Robertson in honor of her husband.

Henry F. Schulte Award: An award of about $25 is made to the first-year man on the football squad who has contributed most to the development of the team. It was established in 1926 by Earl Nelson of St. Louis in honor of Henry F. Schulte, former football coach at the University.

Stephen D. Sharp, Kansas City, Kans.

Virgil Spurling Memorial Football Scholarship: An annual scholarship of $500 is available for a varsity football player chosen on the basis of athletic ability, good citizenship, and academic achievement. This scholarship was established in 1961 by Harry Welsh, Jr. of Kansas City, in memory of Virgil Spurling, who served the University for many years as the Executive Secretary for the Committee on Intercollegiate Athletics. Alumni and friends have made additional contributions to this fund.

Kenneth E. Boston, Hillsdale, Ill.

Carl Yeckel Scholarship: A stipend of $135 per year will be paid in nine monthly installments of $15 each to a member of the football squad recommended by the head football coach and the director of athletics. The recipient's name is to be engraved on a plaque. Selection will be based 25 percent on academic achievement, 25 percent on citizenship, and 50 percent on football ability and value to the team. Holders of athletic scholarships are eligible since conference rules allow such a payment to cover laundry and incidentals. It was established in 1957 by Phi Yeckel, Ennis, Mont., brother of Carl Yeckel who, during his sophomore year, developed Hodgkins disease and despite the disease continued to engage in athletics until his senior year.

Military Scholarships and Achievement Awards

The University of Missouri, Columbia, offers Reserve Officer Training Corps programs in all of the military services—Air Force, Army, Navy, and Marines. The Marine program is included in the Navy program. Each of the services offers four year scholarships which provide tuition fees, books, uniforms and $50 per month during the four years that the student is working on a bachelor's degree.

Each service has its own manner of selecting candidates which includes the evaluation of the high school academic record, and certain specific tests which are given for selection purposes. In addition, each recipient must be able to pass the physical examination required by the service which he plans to enter.

In accepting the scholarship, the recipient is obligated to maintain acceptable academic performance, participate in certain summer training programs, accept a commission in the service, and to serve on active duty for a specified length of time after graduation.

Students who do not qualify for a four year scholarship, but volunteer to participate in the ROTC program, may receive uniforms and $40.00 per month for participating during the junior and senior years. Such students contract to accept a commission and serve on active duty after graduation.

Students wishing to participate in any of the ROTC programs, either scholarship or non-scholarship, should contact the service of their choice early during the senior year of high school. Students attending other colleges or universities, expecting to transfer to the university may arrange to participate in an ROTC program during the junior and senior years. Advance arrangements should be made with the service of their choice.

Armed Forces Communications and Electronics Association Honor Awards: A gold medal is awarded each year to one outstanding senior Army, Naval, and Air Force ROTC cadet in each service who is majoring in electrical engineering. The recipients are selected jointly by the appropriate ROTC department and the Dean of the College of Engineering. The award will be based on demonstrated qualities of leadership in ROTC, high moral character, aptitude for military or naval service, academic records, and leadership in recognized campus activities, especially in the fields of communications, electronics, or photography. These awards were established by the Armed Forces Communications Association of Washington, D. C.

Association of United States Army Medals: A medal is awarded to a senior Army ROTC cadet who is outstanding in leadership; one to the senior Army ROTC cadet and one to the junior Army ROTC cadet who are outstanding in artillery tactics and technique. These awards were established by the Association of the United States Army.

Board of Curators Medals: The Board of Curators in 1931, with later additions, has established the following medals for proficiency in the ROTC programs:

Marksmanship: A medal is awarded to the student in each ROTC program based up the highest average score in marksmanship during the current year.

Elementary Student Proficiency: A medal is awarded to the outstanding student in each of the freshman and sophomore courses of the Army, Naval, and Air Force ROTC programs, based upon his University ranking, his standing in ROTC, and his aptitude for general service.

Advanced Student Proficiency: A medal is awarded to the outstanding student in each of the junior and senior courses of the Army, Naval, and Air Force ROTC programs, based on his University ranking, his standing in ROTC, and his aptitude for general service.

Advanced Student Proficiency: A medal is awarded to the outstanding student in each of the junior and senior courses of the Army, Naval, and Air Force ROTC programs, based on his University ranking, his standing in ROTC, and his aptitude for general service.

Summer Camp or Cruise Proficiency: A medal is awarded to each of the two outstanding University of Missouri students who are rated as most proficient at the Army ROTC summer camp, to the two students with the best record in the first and second Air Force summer camps, respectively, and to the regular NROTC midshipman with the best record based upon average grades of the three summer cruises.

Chicago Tribune Awards: A silver medal is awarded to each of two outstanding cadets or midshipmen of the Army, Naval, and Air Force ROTC in the basic course. A gold medal is awarded to each of two outstanding cadets of the Army ROTC in the advanced course, in the Air Force ROTC in the third year of the course, and to the NROTC midshipman who has the highest grades in Navigation (junior year). The Chicago Tribune Publishing Co. established these awards.

Daughters of American Revolution Award: A medal is awarded annually to an outstanding cadet enrolled in the Army ROTC for the freshman year. The Columbia Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution established this award.

Daughters of Founders And Patriots of America Award: A medal is awarded by the Missouri Chapter of the Daughters of Founders and Patriots of America to an outstanding cadet enrolled in Army ROTC for the freshman year.

General Dynamics Award: This award is granted to the outstanding senior in each ROTC branch on the basis of demonstrated leadership and officer qualities.

Julius Horowitz Award: Awarded annually to the graduating senior student who, as a midshipman, has demonstrated the most outstanding characteristics of military appearance, personal bearing and command presence.

Marine Corps Association Award of Merit: This award is made to the outstanding NROTC graduate to be commissioned in the U. S. Marine Corps making the highest average in Naval ROTC subjects for his junior and senior years. It consists of a free membership in the Marine Corps Association and a two-year subscription to the Marine Corps Gazette.

U. S. Naval Institute Award of Membership: Two awards were established in 1952 by the U. S. Naval Institute; one to the outstanding midshipman in the regular program making the highest average in Naval ROTC subjects for the first three and one-half years; the other award is offered to a student in the contract program under the same provisions. The awards consist of free membership in the U. S. Naval Institute and a one-year subscription to U. S. Naval Institute Proceedings.

Reserve Officers Association Awards: A medal is offered, one each, to an outstanding sophomore in Army, Naval, and Air Force ROTC, based upon University standing, ROTC grades, and aptitude for general service as shown during the year. A medal is also offered, one each, to an outstanding senior in Army, Naval, and Air Force ROTC, on the same basis.

Scabbard and Blade Awards: This honor society of ROTC cadets and midshipmen offers annual awards to the outstanding cadet in the first-year course of each of the three ROTC programs.

Scabbard and Blade Scholarships: Two scholarships of $100 each are offered, one to a junior and one to a senior ROTC student, based on demonstrated excellence in ROTC studies and financial need. Recipients are recommended by a committee of campus ROTC faculty and Scabbard and Blade representatives. Recipients must have signed an agreement to accept a commission with the Army, Navy or Air Force when offered. This scholarship was established in 1965.

Jack Ray Carey, Macon
Alois Francis Kertz, Bloomsdale

Sons of the American Revolution Medal: One medal is provided for a cadet in each of the ROTC programs. The recipients are chosen on the basis of leadership, soldierly bearing, and excellence.

Superior Cadet Ribbon Award: This award is made annually to a member of each class in the Army ROTC, selection to be made by a board established by the PMST. Those eligible for consideration must be regularly enrolled students in Army ROTC, in the upper fourth of their ROTC class and in academic work, and must be recommended by the PMST and the dean of the division in which the student is enrolled. Criteria for selection also include military and academic leadership and potential officer qualities. The award was established by the Department of the Army.

Veterans of Foreign Wars Medals: A medal is awarded to the one outstanding cadet in each of the senior courses of the ROTC programs, based on his University rank, his standing in ROTC, and his aptitude for general service. Boone County Post 280 of the Veterans of Foreign Wars established these awards.

Awards For Organized Groups

Alumni Interfraternity Council Cup: The cup is awarded on a semester basis to the fraternity pledge class having the highest scholastic average for the semester, the recipient to be designated by the Dean of Students. It is a traveling trophy, the organization receiving it being entitled to retain the trophy until the next award is made.

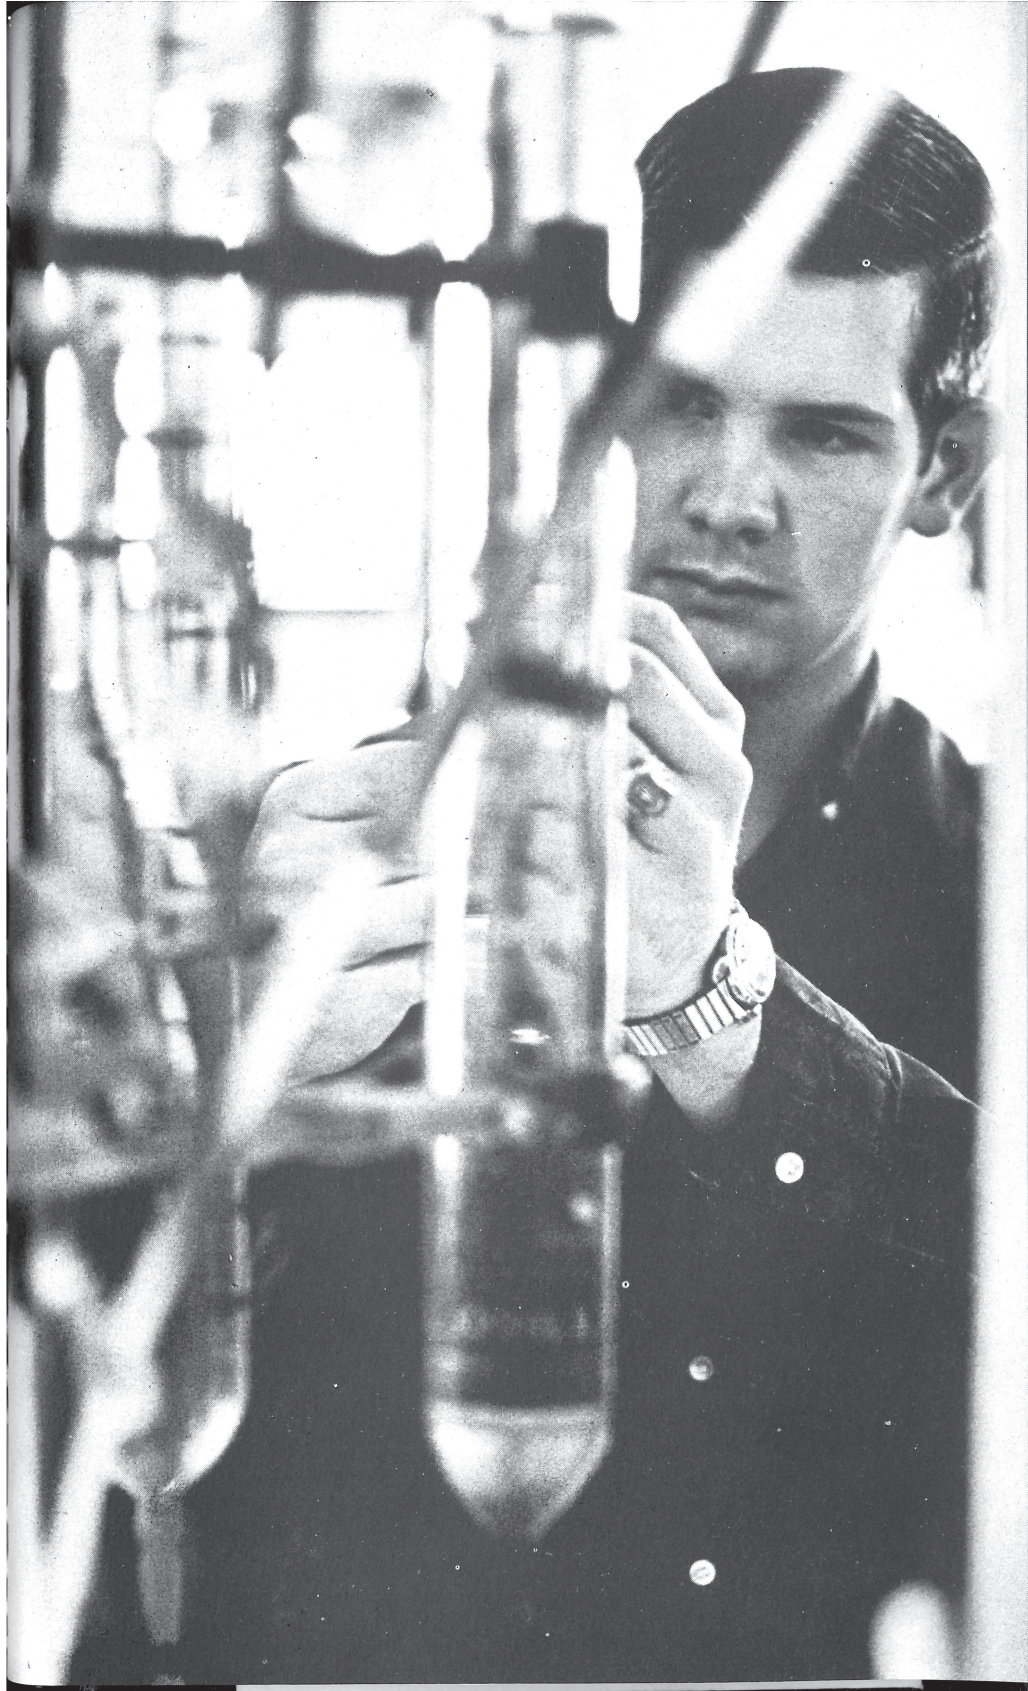

Board of Curators Cups: A silver cup is awarded each year to the best drilled unit in each of the Army, Naval, and Air Force programs. The cup will be retained by the University but will have inscribed upon it the name of the unit commander and the unit winning the award.

Interfraternity Council Cup: This cup is awarded annually to the fraternity having the highest scholastic average for the year.

Sigma Chi Foundation Fraternity Scholarship Cup: This cup is awarded annually to the fraternity, exclusive of those fraternities which draw their membership entirely from one division, with the highest scholastic averages for the year. This cup, which was established in 1946, will be awarded annually for twenty years and then awarded permanently.

Walter Williams Memorial Fellowship in International Press Problems: Interest on the funds of the Walter Williams Memorial Foundation is available every fourth year for a fellowship to be awarded to a candidate with a Master of Arts degree in journalism who has passed his language examinations and is proceeding for the Doctor of Philosophy degree. The candidate should have spent his two preceding graduate years specializing in the field of study roughly defined as the international press. The stipend is about $1,000.

Yong Chang, Korea

In addition to the Fellowships listed above, a limited number of graduate students are now benefiting from Fellowships provided by:

National Science Foundation Fellowships
National Defense Education Act (Title IV) Fellowships
Office of Vocational Rehabilitation Traineeships
Veterans Administration Traineeships

Fellowships and traineeship programs are sometimes arranged and announced during the year, but not far enough in advance to be included in this announcement bulletin. It is suggested that graduate students contact the subject matter department in which they are doing or expect to do graduate work for specific information on fellowships or assistantships which might become available. The office of the Dean of the Graduate School will also have current information on these programs.

STUDENT LOAN FUNDS

The University of Missouri student loan funds have come as gifts from alumni, business firms, foundations, trusts, and friends of the University. These monies have been entrusted to the University for the purpose of aiding worthy students to obtain a higher education. They are handled without charge to the donor in such a manner as to be the greatest benefit to the largest number of students.

Some of the funds may be loaned free of interest, but most of them are loaned at a low rate of 2 percent to 4 percent annual interest on the unpaid balance. All interest earned is returned to the respective fund from which the loan was made and thereby helps the fund to grow to be of greater benefit to others. Hence, when a loan has been repaid in full along with the interest, the student borrower has the satisfaction of knowing that he has made a contribution that will in turn help other students.

Short-term loans are available to students who need funds for a current expense and who will be able to repay it by the end of the semester or summer term in which it was borrowed. Usually the amount is not large and no security is required.

Long term loans are made to those who wish to repay some time following the end of the semester. Some loans are arranged for repayment during the following summer, but most are set up for repayment at the rate of $25 to $40 per month beginning four to six months after graduation. The borrower who drops out of school before graduation is expected to start repayment four to six months after dropping out.

Interest should be paid each year when due. However, borrowers in school who continue to be short of funds may request that the interest payment be delayed until after graduation. Interest will not be compounded.

Security is required on long term loans. Usually the note is co-signed by one of the student's parents or perhaps by a guardian or other responsible adult. In case of death of a borrower, the co-signer will have no obligation to pay since the debt would be paid in full by a special life insurance program carried by the University at no cost to the student. The University does not take collateral or handle mortgages of any kind. The loan is made on the student's character and reputation.

Title II of the National Defense Education Act of 1958 (Public Law 85-864) provides funds for student loans on very favorable terms. The loan fund is composed of money provided, 90 percent by the federal government and 10 percent by the University.

Some of the provisions and regulations provided in the law are as follows:

Student Qualifications for Receiving an NDEA Loan

1. A borrower must provide a financial statement for himself and his family showing that he needs a loan in order to attend the University. Financial need is the most important single factor in determining eligibility for a loan.
2. The student must have satisfactory scholarship.
3. The borrower may be a full-time or a half-time student, either graduate or undergraduate.

SPECIAL CONSIDERATION PROVISIONS

1. Special consideration shall be given applicants with a superior academic background.

TERMS OF THE LOAN

1. No security is required.
2. No interest is charged while the student is in school.
3. Interest at 3 percent annually begins nine months after the termination of school work.
4. Ten percent of the loan is cancelled each year the recipient teaches in an elementary or secondary school, college or university, for five years, giving 50 percent cancellation. Fifteen percent of the loan is cancelled for each year of teaching in a designated poverty area and the full amount of the loan may be cancelled for seven years of teaching.
5. The borrower may take as much as 11 years to repay, if that much time is necessary; but most students will repay in a much shorter time than this since others will be waiting to receive loans.
6. The entire debt is cancelled in case of death or permanent disability.

All of the student loan funds at the University, including those available under the provisions of the National Defense Education Act, are administered in the office of Aids and Awards under the direction of the Student Loan Committee appointed by the Chancellor.

Students and parents realize that the time and money spent for a college education are good investments, even though funds may be short and a portion must be financed by borrowing. The demand for student loans has increased markedly in recent years and the supply of loan funds is now insufficient to meet all requests. Hence, the loan committee endeavors to allocate the funds to those with the greatest financial need who are conservative in their expenditures. Others are urged to use outside sources of credit to the fullest extent possible.

Loan Funds For Medicine and Nursing

The Health Profession Act of 1964 provides funds for loans to students in the School of Medicine on very favorable terms for those who need assistance. Loans are not repayable until after the medical education, including internship, is completed and there is ample time allowed for repayment. Application is made at the office of the Dean of the School of Medicine, and the loans when approved are handled in the Office of Aids and Awards.

Students in the School of Nursing in need of financial help may borrow under the provisions of the Nurses Loan Program which is very similar to the NDEA loans for teachers. After graduation 10 percent of the loan is cancelled for each full year of service as a nurse in a public or non-profit hospital, for five years, giving 50 percent cancellation.

John Rufi Recognition Loan Fund: Former students and advisees of Professor John Rufi established a student loan fund in his honor at the time of his retirement in 1962. Gifts to this fund were made in recognition of Dr. Rufi's 34 years of service to the University of Missouri as a teacher in the College of Education. Loans are especially designated to help worthy graduate students in the field of secondary education administration.

St. Louis Florist Club Student Loan Fund: For needy students enrolled in floriculture, preference given to junior and senior students. The fund was established with funds submitted by the St. Louis Florist Club.

St. Louis Panhellenic Alumnae Association Loan Fund: The St. Louis Panhellenic Alumnae Association provides loans primarily for junior and senior women students enrolled in the University.

St. Louis Republic Loan Fund: This fund, established by the former newspaper of St. Louis through the efforts of the editor, Paul Brown, is for loans to worthy students in the College of Agriculture.

St. Louis University of Missouri Alumni Loan Fund: Established by the St. Louis Alumni Association, the fund is to be used for loans to members of athletic squads at the University of Missouri, including freshman squads. Loans are to be made by the Subcommittee on Student Loans on recommendation of the athletic director.

Saline County Medical Auxiliary Loan Fund: The Women's Medical Auxiliary to the Saline County Medical Society has provided funds to be loaned to young women in the School of Nursing and in other divisions of the University who are studying to be medical technologists.

Savitar Frolics Loan Fund: Established from proceeds from the annual Savitar Frolics, a student production, funds provide short-term loans in small amounts to any student in the University who needs assistance, subject to the approval of the University.

Orland M. Scott Student Loan Fund: Orland M. Scott, a 1944 graduate of the School of Business and Public Administration, has established a loan fund for worthy students at the University of Missouri in need of financial help. Mr. Scott's gift to the University was matched by the IBM Corporation of which he is now an executive.

Clarence Setzer Memorial Fund: The family and friends of Clarence Setzer established a student loan fund in his memory. Mr. Setzer was a resident of Steelville, Missouri.

Harry I. Shaefer Loan Fund: Established by the will of Dr. Harry I. Shaefer, loans may be made to needy and deserving students seeking an education at the University at Columbia.

Stanley N. Smith Memorial Fund in Veterinary Medicine: The family, friends and associates of Dr. Stanley N. Smith established a student loan fund for students in the School of Veterinary Medicine. This fund was given in Dr. Smith's memory in recognition for his 58 years of service as a practicing veterinarian in Boone County and 10 years on the staff of the University.

Southwestern Missouri Student Loan Fund: This fund was established for loans to students in the University who can qualify on the basis of financial need, scholarship, and good character.

The Stern Placement Loan Fund for Magazine Majors: The Philip M. Stern family established a loan fund in 1964 for the benefit of magazine majors in the School of Journalism for undergraduates or graduate students who are in need of financial assistance to find employment in the field of their major study.

William L. and Cleo Y. Tayloe Memorial Fund: The will of W. L. Tayloe provided that certain proceeds from particular insurance policies be given to the College of Agriculture with no designation as to its use. Since Mr. Tayloe, a graduate of the College of Agriculture, had so frequently expressed his interest and desire to help students in agriculture, these funds are now being used for loans to agriculture students.

Loran G. Townsend Special Education Student Loan Fund: Former students and friends of Dr. Loran G. Townsend, Dean Emeritus of the College of Education, at the time of his retirement in 1963 established a fund to aid worthy students in the field of special education teacher-training. The fund is in recognition of Dr. Townsend's service in the field of special education at the University and throughout Missouri.

E. A. Trowbridge Memorial Student Loan Fund: Established by the Board of Trustees of the E. A. Trowbridge Memorial Fund, assistance from this fund is available to an entering or enrolled student in the University of Missouri who is of good character and needs financial aid to continue his education.

University of Missouri Fortnightly Club Loan Fund: This fund was established by the Fortnightly Club for girls enrolled in the University who are graduates of one of the high schools of the state and who need financial aid to continue their education.

University of Missouri Law School Foundation Loan Fund: The University of Missouri Law School Foundation established in 1963 a fund for the making of loans to students in the School of Law at Columbia. Loan recipients are to be approved by the dean of the School of Law or someone authorized by him.

The University of Missouri School of Veterinary Medicine Alumni Association Loan Fund: Established by the Alumni Association of the School of Veterinary Medicine this fund provides loans for worthy junior or senior students in the School of Veterinary Medicine.

Missouri Student Chapter of the American Veterinary Medical Association Memorial Loan Fund: Established by the Missouri Student Chapter of the American Veterinary Medical Association, this fund was formerly called the Boyer-Matthews Memorial Fund. This is a loan fund from which a student in the School of Veterinary Medicine who has a financial need may be assisted if he has the recommendation of the Dean, School of Veterinary Medicine, or the faculty adviser of the chapter. Additional contributions to this fund have been made in memory of Marlyn Rhoades, deceased wife of a student in the School of Veterinary Medicine, and in memory of David Rosner by his parents, Dr. and Mrs. L. A. Rosner, and their friends. Dr. Rosner was the State Veterinarian of Missouri for 12 years.

Thomas J. and Ruth B. Walker Loan Fund: Loans from this fund may be made to students enrolled in the College of Education. It was established by Mrs. Thomas J. Walker, Pasco, Wash., whose husband, Thomas J. Walker, was for many years secretary of the Missouri State Teachers Association.

The Charles F. Ward Student Loan Fund: A loan fund was established for men or women students enrolled in any classes or any divisions of the University by the family and friends of Charles F. Ward of Plattsburg, Mo., a former member of the Board of Curators.

L. A. Weaver Loan Fund: Friends, associates, and former students of Professor L. A. Weaver established this loan fund for students in agriculture at the time of his retirement as chairman of the Department of Animal Husbandry in 1958. Recent additions have been made by the family and friends at the death of Mrs. L. A. Weaver in 1965.

Sara Lockwood Williams School of Journalism Loan and Scholarship Fund: In 1962 the Missouri Press Women established a fund to be used for loans to single women enrolled in the School of Journalism. Income from interest charged may then be used for women's scholarships in Journalism. The fund was established in memory of Sara Lockwood Williams, wife of the first Dean of the School of Journalism.

Women's Extension Club Loan Fund: This fund was established by the Women's Extension Club of Columbia as a fund for loans to seniors in the College of Agriculture on the basis of financial need, scholastic ability, and character.

Women's Residence Halls Association Loan Fund: The women of the Residence Halls Association in 1963 started a fund for loans to their members. They plan to add to the fund annually.

Romaine Wood Panhellenic Loan Fund: Established by the Columbia Alumnae Panhellenic Council this fund provides loans to women students who are members of a national sorority. In 1948 the fund was named in honor of Romaine Wood, one of the founders of the Columbia Panhellenic organization.

The Jessie E. Wrench Memorial Loan Fund: The family and friends of the late Jessie E. Wrench have provided a fund to help worthy students at the University of Missouri. In recognition of Professor Wrench's lifelong interest in student cooperatives, this fund was made available for loans to these organizations. The interest is to be added to the original fund, along with any other contributions which may be made. When the endowment's annual income becomes $100 or more, a scholarship program for students in archaeology will be established in Professor Wrench's memory.

The Yeater-Watson Loan Fund: The money in this fund was collected under the provisions of the Act of April 1, 1895, which provided for the endowment of the University and for the establishment of free scholarships of merit. It was named in honor of Charles E. Yeater of Sedalia, who conceived the idea, and Drake Watson of New London, who introduced the bill in the legislature.

Guaranteed Bank Loans for University Students

Since the loan funds listed above are insufficient to meet the ever-increasing demands for student loans, the University of Missouri is participating in a nation-wide plan called United Student Aid Funds. Under the provisions of this plan a deserving student in need of funds may arrange a loan of reasonable size with his home town bank and the note will be endorsed by the USA Funds. Thus the student does not have to provide collateral and the bank is assured that it will sustain no losses on student loans.

Under the provisions of the Higher Education Act of 1965, for any student whose adjusted family income is less than $15,000 annually, the federal government will pay the interest to the bank at a rate not to exceed 6 percent while the student is in school and not to exceed 3 percent after completion of college studies. Repayment is to start on a monthly basis beginning nine months after the borrower ceases to be a student.

Additional information on this bank loan plan may be secured at many banks throughout Missouri and other states, also at the Office of Aids and Awards, 123 Jesse Hall.

Also, the American Medical Association provides a guaranteed loan fund for medical students and the American Bar Association guarantees loans for students in the School of Law. Inquire at the respective dean's offices for further information.
