DEDICATION

It seems just a short time ago now that the Chancellor of the University of Kansas City talked with me on the telephone. He told me of a very cogent plan to better the University. By now, the "Friend Raising" campaign carried on by Dr. Richard M. Drake is a proven success.

Mere statistics do not tell the full story. Nor could a lengthy essay say all that is necessary. Only the spirit of friendship gained for this University by the untiring efforts of Dr. Drake and his staff can show just how successful "Friend Raising" has become.

Dr. Drake told me of his speech-making campaigns in which he carried the story of the University to some 5,000 people by giving an average of 2 speeches per week to civic and social clubs in the Kansas City area.

But "Friend Raising" doesn't pay the bills. The quiet campaign conducted by the University has raised some $220,000 to help pay the difference between tuition and the actual cost of running such an institution.

A true portrait of a university would be incomplete without mention of the efforts of Dr. Drake. For this is the picture that will make or break the University of Kansas City as a truly great university.

Therefore, the Kangaroo staff dedicates this yearbook to Dr. Richard M. Drake, Chancellor, and to the spirit of "Friend Raising".

—Roger Wilson, Editor, University News

PROLOGUE

Events are the milestones of the passing year. The coming of the first earth satellite, the consequent race for bigger and better Sputniks, civil disturbances in Little Rock, the beginning of what is currently known as The Recession—all have arisen, marked their place, and have been passed by in the course of the year. Closer to home, at the University of Kansas City there have been milestones also as we have reached our twenty-fifth year. At the homecoming festivities in February the first graduating class—1936—celebrated its twentieth anniversary and ten professors—Drs. Adams, Buschman, Cappon, Crain, Eisenbrandt, Ekblaw, Mannheim, Misbach, and Stone—were honored for their twenty years of great teaching at The University of Kansas City. The expanding Development Office reported more than $350,000 received in gifts in the Great Teaching program. The expansion of the Evening Division serves as a mark of progress, as the University has become more a part of the community. The many aspects of the Continuing Education division have brought the University and the community into closer contact. We now have our own FM radio station, KCUR-FM, bringing good music and informative programs to its ever-growing audience; and the scope of our music program has been further widened by the addition of the modern jazz concerts, which were indeed well received. There has been the raise in tuition which has been met with mixed feelings, depending on whether or not one will have to pay it; feelings toward the increase have been smoothed somewhat by the fact that a part will go to help build the new student union, which is scheduled for construction beginning in September, 1958. Another national professional fraternity joins the ranks as Apotheke became Kappa Epsilon. Many things, large and small, have marked the passing year; the appointment of Dr. Drake as Chancellor, and the untimely death of Dr. Misbach being two of the greater.

Dr. Richard M. Drake has completed his first full year as Chancellor of The University of Kansas City, and we note with satisfaction and pride the progress already made under his leadership. Dr. Drake came to us from the University of Buffalo where he served as professor of education, dean of students, director of the office of institutional research and professor of higher education. During his three years at The University of Kansas City he has held the posts of vice-president and professor of higher education, acting chancellor, and now chancellor. Dr. Drake is also active in community life as a director of the Truman Library, trustee of the Kansas City Museum and the Nelson-Atkins Art Gallery, member of the Governor's committee on education, and numerous other activities. He is the author of several studies in mathematics. In his first year as Chancellor, Dr. Drake has attacked with signal success the major problem of increasing faculty salaries in order to retain present faculty and insure quality in new additions. The faithful and competent discharge of his duties is the greatest single asset this University possesses.

Since the founding of the University of Kansas City 29 years ago, the members of the Board of Trustees have worked diligently for its growth and betterment. These men have insisted that a great university is vital to the progress of Kansas City as a major business, commercial, industrial, and cultural center. Under the enthusiastic leadership of David T. Beals, Jr., Chairman, the Board has initiated a program of growth and progress that will transform the University of Kansas City into a truly great metropolitan university.

ARTS and SCIENCES

DEAN JOHN E. BARNETT

The College of Arts and Sciences was founded in 1933 and since that time it has grown rapidly, paving the way for the six other schools which, along with it, make up the University of Kansas City. Under the leadership of Dean John Barnett, the college provides a balanced, all-round education for its students, trains them for the specific fields which they desire. Last year, a department in engineering was added to the college and already has proved itself a popular attraction. The addition of this new department is an indication of the growth, past and future, of the College of Arts and Sciences. Several degrees are offered in the college. They are the B.A., B.S., M.A., and the M.S. (in biology, chemistry, and mathematics).

Dean Barnett, head of the college, has done an especially excellent job of performing his many and varied duties. His untiring devotion to his work accounts for much of the progress of the college. Well-known and well-liked by all students, Dean Barnett is an efficient, personable man who accomplishes all that he sets out to do.

ARTS and SCIENCES

ASSOCIATE DEAN LORENZ MISBACH

May 3rd marked the passing of Dr. Lorenz Misbach, Associate Dean of the College of Arts and Sciences. The educator had been in critical condition in Menorah Hospital as a result of an auto accident two days earlier. Dr. Misbach joined the University faculty in 1935 and served as chairman of the Psychology Department from 1941 to 1954; he became Associate Dean two years later in 1956. He received his Bachelor of Arts degree from Baker University in 1929, and his Master's degree in 1931 and his doctorate in 1933 from Northwestern University. Listed in "Who's Who in America" and a member of Phi Beta Kappa, Dr. Misbach was chairman of the Foundations Program at the University, and fellow of the American Psychological Association, and a director of Greater Kansas City Mental Health Foundation. A capable and efficient administrator, he was appointed in 1957 Acting Vice-Chancellor of the University. In his twenty-three years of devoted service he influenced the development not only of his own department but of this University as a whole. He has earned an enduring place in the annals of the University of Kansas City and in the hearts and minds of students and alumni.

BUSINESS

DEAN CHARLES E. GILLILAND, JR.

Dean Charles E. Gilliland of the School of Business Administration resigned his post in February to accept a job with the State Department. He became Dean of the Business School in 1954 when that school became a separate division of the University. In its second year the Business School showed a tremendous increase in enrollment; now in its fourth year, it shows promise of becoming one of the biggest schools of the University. Situated in this large metropolitan area, the school offers unlimited advantages and opportunities to students training for positions in commerce and industry. By gradually introducing new programs, the Business School intends to keep pace in growth with the rest of the University. The latest program initiated by Dean Gilliland before he left the University is a course in retailing, already very popular.

Liked and admired by all who knew him, Dean Gilliland led the Business School through its difficult formative years. Filling the position he left is of paramount importance in the University's future. Don Carlyon, Business Manager of the University, served as Executive Officer for the remainder of the year, in addition to carrying out his many regular duties.

EDUCATION

DEAN HUGH W. SPEER

Lord of Epperson Manor, Dr. Hugh W. Speer has been Dean of the School of Education since its organization as a separate school in 1954. The fine old mansion at Fifty-second and Cherry housed for the second year a veritable hive of activity, which is, under the leadership of Dean Speer, one of the strong attractions of the University, in both winter and summer. Dr. Speer came to The University of Kansas City in 1945, and became chairman of the department of Education in 1948. Under his sure and expert guidance the department grew into a separate school which offers the Bachelor's, Master's, and Doctor's degree. Dean Speer's experience in the field of education has been quite varied, having been a public school administrator for ten years prior to World War II, directed the Veterans Advisement Center at U.K.C., served as principal of high schools in Fredonia and Hays, Kansas and as lecturer in the University of Tehran and advisor to the Minister of Education on curriculum as a Fulbright Scholar in Iran. The author of numerous articles in educational journals, he is listed in Who's Who In America, Leaders in Education, and Who's Who in American Education. Dr. Speer is married and the father of two daughters. He received his Bachelor's degree in 1928 from American University, his Master's in 1932 from George Washington University, and his Doctor's in 1950 from the University of Chicago.

PHARMACY

DEAN LESLIE L. EISENBRANDT

Dean of the School of Pharmacy since 1953, Dr. Leslie L. Eisenbrandt has been on the faculty of the University since 1936, when he started his career here as an instructor in biology. Serving for a time as director of research and associate professor of physiology in the School of Dentistry, in 1947 he began working full time in pharmacology. Specializing in the fields of physiology and biochemistry, Dean Eisenbrandt received his Bachelor of Arts degree from Emporia in 1932, his Master of Sciences degree from Kansas State College in 1934, and his doctorate from Rutgers University in 1936. A member of Sigma Xi, the honorary science society, the American Society of Pharmacology, and the Society for Experimental Biology and Medicine, Dr. Eisenbrandt is married and has four sons. Though quiet and unpretentious, he has capably assumed the myriad administrative duties of his position, and has ably led the University of Kansas City School of Pharmacy to greater heights of achievement and respect in the annals of the profession.

EVENING DIVISION

DEAN CJ STEVENS

A man of many talents and titles, Dr. Cj Stevens serves the University as Acting Dean of the Evening Division, Director of Radio and Television Department, and Assistant Professor of Speech. Since these three jobs could not satisfy him completely, he found time this year to use his ability as a poet to do a new and very fine translation of the libretto of Strauss' opera, Der Rosenkavalier, which was a highlight of the Kansas City theatre season, presented by the University in March. In addition to poetry, Dr. Stevens has published several articles on speech in learned journals. A popular and very active member of the faculty, he is a man with lots of ideas, and has been responsible for promoting the Evening Division program of non-credit courses to a doubled enrollment over last year. His untiring efforts are a vital asset to our University, as we strive to become more and more an integral part of this metropolitan area. Both former undergraduates of The University of Kansas City, Dr. Stevens and his wife have a son 19 and a daughter 13. One of the most important fruits of these efforts, the first, and very successful year of operation of KCUR-FM stands as a milestone of achievement for Dr. Stevens, the Radio-TV Department, the University, and the Kansas City area as a whole.

LAW

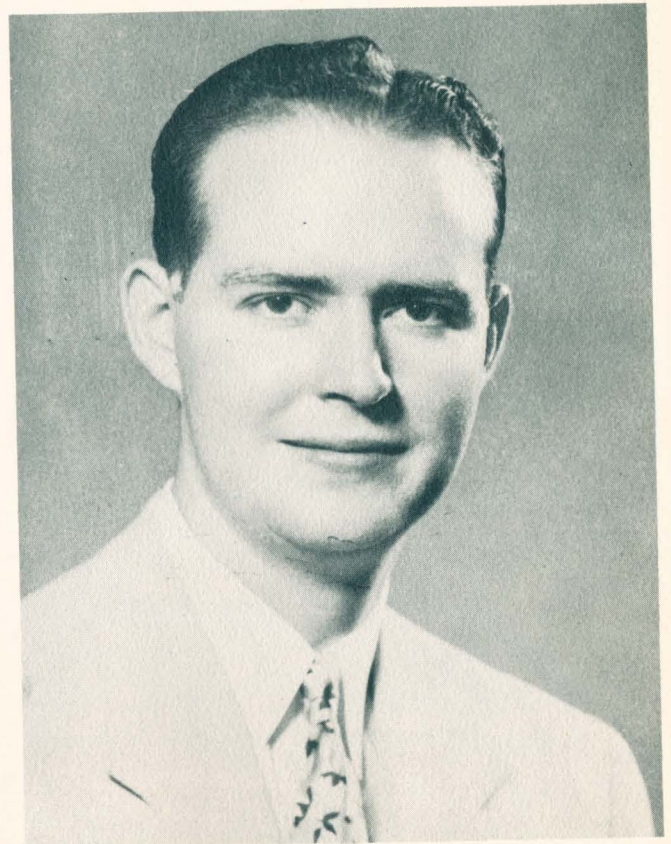

DEAN MARLIN M. VOLZ

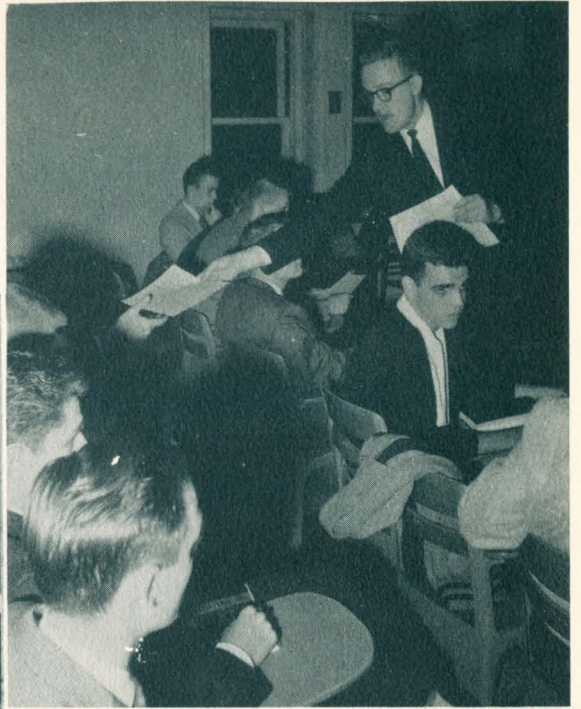

It was with deep regret that the University heard the news of Dean Volz' appointment as Dean of the School of Law at the University of Louisville. One of the most prominent and well-liked members of the faculty, Dr. Marlin M. Volz has served the University of Kansas City in that capacity for eight years. With the new building dedicated in 1950, an assortment of prominent alumni, a long and outstanding record of high achievement, and the fine leadership of Dean Volz, the University of Kansas City has had good reason to be proud of its School of Law. Holding all three degrees from the University of Wisconsin, Dean Volz developed at UKC a continuing legal education program, inaugurated the Legal Aid Clinic, established the annual Law Day, and developed a Master's degree program in Law. Much respected by students, faculty, and alumni, Dr. Volz held the responsibility of being chairman of the faculty committee for the selection of the chancellor. The Law School being another vital link with the community, Dean Volz was very active in civic organizations; he was President of South Kansas City's Business Club, Commander of the Bland American Legion Post, member of the Mayor's committee on human relations, and chairman of the Kansas City Citizens' committee on juvenile delinquency.

DENTISTRY

DEAN JOSEPH F. JACOBS

Dr. Joseph F. Jacobs has carried on well the long-established tradition of excellence at the School of Dentistry in this, his first full year as Acting Dean. A friendly and likeable man, he has capably handled the mass of details and problems of administrating this very busy school. Himself a graduate of the school, Dr. Jacobs has maintained the "A" rating for the school in the annals of the Council on Dental Education of the American Dental Association and the high esteem of the entire profession. He has served on the faculty since his graduation in 1943. A professor of periodontics, Dr. Jacobs was made Assistant Dean in 1953, and has always been an efficient and popular administrator.

ADMINISTRATIVE STAFF

ADMINISTRATION

The Dean of Students, Dr. S. Wheadon Bloch, has a job that on occasions seems better suited to a Solomon: he acts as co-ordinator for the Student Personnel Services, aiding students of the University with their problems which may be academic, personal, financial or vocational, and may involve the health, happiness, and general welfare of the student. He is, fortunately, equipped with a fund of tact, consideration, and sympathy which enables him to engage daily the troubles of the student body. In turn, the students have come to know and like him; he has, through his efforts, earned respect all around him.

Mrs. Christine Hogin, Director of Student Activities, is in a position of proximity to student. She serves as advisor and counselor for student organizations, arranges for meetings and space for meetings to be held, works with students to plan all of the social events held on campus, keeps track of rules and governing policies, is on hand to present awards, and in general takes care of all of the problems and pleasures which fall under the heading of her office. Friendly and helpful, she is known as one who may be depended upon.

It is difficult to realize that a comrade and friend is no longer with us. Those who have shared the close relationship of nearly four years of dental education know what a bond is forged among us. It is a chain of trials, anxiety, frustrations, ambitions and dreams. Jim Carter was a part of our chain . . . our fellowship. He will always be a part of our happiest memories. Jim will be graduated with us as befits a good student and a fine dentist. We all miss him very much.

Torch and Scroll is the student scholastic honorary society on the Kansas City University campus. Its members must have completed five semesters of college work, of which two are in residence at the university. They must have a scholastic average of 2.0 or above. Initiation is held twice a year, followed by a dinner for the initiates. From time to time, honor students in the graduating class of the High Schools in the area are entertained at a spring tea by the society. Members are also honor ushers at commencement.

Founded three years ago, Omicron Delta Kappa, Men's National Honorary Fraternity, was able to present KCU's first leadership conference this year. While grade point standing is a prerequisite for membership, extra-curricular activity is also an important requirement. The purpose of Omicron Delta Kappa is to recognize men for outstanding work in activities, to bring together men from all phases of college life and to bring together members of the faculty and student body on a basis of mutual interest and understanding. The membership is composed entirely of seniors.

The University of Kansas City believes that classes alone do not make a well educated person. Therefore, the many organizations and clubs on campus were founded to implement this learning process. Professional, departmental, and social, these organizations add much to the life of the University.

The members of Omega Chapter of Kappa Epsilon were initiated Saturday, April 12, 1958. Kappa Epsilon is a National Pharmaceutical Sorority for women students in Pharmacy. Installing officers were Miss Phyllis Platz and Miss Pem Bremer from Beta Chapter, located at the University of Nebraska.

This group originally formed under the name of Apotheke. In compliance of University rules this local organization observed the one year waiting period before going national.

The purpose of Kappa Epsilon is to unite the women students in Pharmacy, to cooperate with the faculties of the colleges where chapters are established, to stimulate in its members a desire for high scholarship, to foster a professional consciousness and to provide a bond of lasting loyalty, interest and friendship.

MU PHI EPSILON

Mu Phi Epsilon is a national music sorority in the professional field. The University of Kansas City chapter was chartered in 1945. Music, friendship, and harmony, the three ideals of the sorority, exemplify its activities and those of the alumnae chapters. These activities are the Kansas City Morning Musicales Concert Series, scholarships, business and social meetings, and participation in school, city, and national activities. Membership is comprised only of those who are interested in a musical profession or are working in some field connected with music.

Dean Gilliland presents the annual award to Bill Fetzer.

The professional business fraternity, Nu Rho Psi, aims to further business education from the business standpoint. Striving to acquaint the Kansas City business community with the graduates and students of the KCU School of Business Administration, the fraternity published their first directory of graduating Business seniors. Over 1000 copies were distributed, most of them to Kansas City firms. Some, however, have gone out to business houses all over the country. The response has been very rewarding, and the publication has served to make known the many advantages of hiring KCU Business graduates. The organization also sponsored an annual car wash on Bum Friday to raise money for their scholarship fund. A $100 scholarship is given to a member of the fraternity every year to help defray the expense of his education. Every year, the group conducts tours of various business establishments in this area. The continued expansion of their activities makes Nu Rho Psi one of the up and coming organizations at the University of Kansas City.

PHI DELTA DELTA

Phi Delta Delta was founded November 11, 1911, at the University of Southern California and now has over thirty active chapters in the United States and Canada, as well as many members in foreign countries who have been accepted into membership because of their outstanding legal achievements. Psi Chapter was installed at the Kansas City School of Law on May 5, 1925, and has been continuously active on the campus since that date. Membership is by invitation only and is extended by the unanimous vote of the chapter members to women law students who show good character and scholastic ability and take an active part in Law School activities. This year's membership roll includes students outstanding in both academic and extra-curricular fields, as well as in community law activities. The most important event on the Psi Chapter calendar is the Law Day Breakfast, which has been given annually since Law Day was initiated at the University in 1952. It honors the Law School faculty and the distinguished guests of the day.

LEGAL AID CLINIC

The Legal Aid Clinic was established in April 1951 as a charitable institution with the three-fold purpose of (1) aiding with advice those people who are unable to afford the services of an attorney, (2) assisting the local bar, by handling unremunerative legal matters, (3) enabling students of law to prepare themselves better for practice of law after graduation. It is operated by second and third year UKC law students who must be in good academic standing. They are selected for the group on the basis of interest and ability. The staff is headed by a Chairman and Secretary-Treasurer under the supervision of a Faculty Advisor. Professional Lawyers from Kansas City operate as Attorneys of Record and assist the staff members in preparing the necessary legal documents. The group considers qualified cases brought by residents of Kansas City, Missouri, and handles cases referred to the Clinic by public welfare agencies, which usually concern some phase of domestic relations, and also accepts the cases of servicemen, of the kind which the Bar Committee would assist without charge, such as the drafting of a power of attorney, or of drafting a will for a serviceman. The Clinic also aids in cases referred to it by lawyers, as well as in small collections, and in small claims cases, again, for persons unable to afford the services of a lawyer.

The Clinic does not consider bankruptcy cases, personal injuries cases, criminal cases, except insofar as the Clinic may be able to assist an attorney appointed by the court to defend a person accused of having committed a felony, or in any other case in which it appears that an attorney could earn a fee.

PHI MU ALPHA SINFONIA

To advance the cause of music in America, foster the mutual welfare and brotherhood of students of music, develop the truest fraternal spirit among its members, and encourage loyalty to the Alma Mater are the aims of UKC's Epsilon Mu chapter of Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonia. Among the group's activities are various programs of music and their annual spring song contest on Bum Friday.

RELIGIOUS GROUPS

Scenes from the Canterbury Club's production of The Second Shepherd's Play.

A college is more than ivy covered buildings, parties, and social activities. It is also a group of people who, for a few years of their lives, live together in a community of their own. While academic activities and social life are an important part of that community, the gathering together of its members to worship their God in their own way is also important. The following pages tell of the activities of those groups who unite students of every faith in a fellowship based on a reverence of God.

The Liahona Fellowship of K.C.U. is this campus' branch of the national student religious club of the Reorganized Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints. The group's purpose is to promote good will between the church and campus and act as a fellowship center for these students of like faith. Through the year the group had a series of Sunday evening meetings with guest speakers, panel discussions, and devotionals. Speakers included many high church officials, professional people, and the students themselves. Nursing students from the Independence Sanitarium were frequently guests of the organization. The group's advisor, Dr. Alice Edwards, brought this year's activities to a close with an outdoor Spring barbecue in May.

To bring about a closer relationship between religious, social, and educational activities is the aim of the Newman Club. Representing students of the Catholic faith at KCU, the Newman Club attends Mass and Communion together once a month and breakfasts together afterward. Talks and lectures by outstanding priests and laymen throughout the year are part of the organization's active calendar.

It is the purpose of the Student Zionist organization to encourage their members to assume a more positive attitude towards the Jewish heritage by strengthening the bonds between their membership and the spiritual ideals of the state of Israel. They strove to reach this objective by educational meetings in this first year of organization on the KCU campus. They are a part of the national organization.

DEPARTMENTAL CLUBS

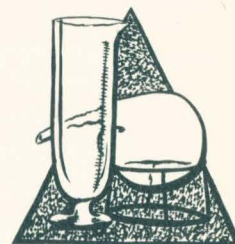

To gain a liberal education in any field, not only is it necessary to learn in a classroom, but it is necessary to learn in a less formal atmosphere. Such is the function of the Departmental Clubs and Organizations at KCU. Offering many varied activities in a host of fields, the Departmental Clubs implement the learning process in a very pleasant way. They have their social life also, which is just as important. The Kangaroo presents a record of the activities of all these organizations for the past year.

The Student Affiliate Group of the American Chemical Society constitutes the departmental club in chemistry. All chemistry majors and all those interested in chemistry are eligible for membership. In addition to field trips and guest speakers, the group was host to the Kansas City section of the A. C. S. at their annual Fall meeting on campus.

DEBATE TEAM

For the second year, the University of Kansas City Debate Team participated in intercollegiate debate. With more people taking part in more tournaments, the debate team had a successful year winning an overall total of 38 debates. Members of the team took part in 9 tournaments. The novice debaters journeyed to K. State at Manhattan and Rockhurst while the whole team participated in tournaments at Southwestern, Winfield; William Jewell, Liberty; Emporia State, Emporia; Pittsburg State, Pittsburg; Nebraska University, Lincoln; St. Thomas College, St. Paul; and the State debate meet at William Jewell. Highlights of the year were the first major tournament at Southwestern, the trip to Lincoln and to St. Paul. The team achieved their greatest accomplishments at the state tournament at William Jewell with Roger Wilson winning first place in Senior Men's Oratory to represent Missouri in the Old Line Oratory Contest at Michigan State University. Truman Dollar received honors in Extemporaneous Speaking, Jess LaPuma in Junior Oratory, and Don Emler in After Dinner Speaking. All in all, it was a fine second year for Coach Jack Murphy and his team. They are looking forward to an even more successful year next year.

Easy Chair, the English Departmental Club on campus, offers informal programs for departmental majors and others who have an interest in literature. Because literature is diversified, the discussions have ranged from Jazz and its effect on contemporary poetry to a platform reading of Seneca's Medea. Easy Chair sponsored a lecture by Doctor Harold Whitehall of the University of Indiana on "The Poetics of Shakespeare," and Doctor Lou La Brant of U.K.C. lectured on modern continental literature. Easy Chair is responsible for the student literary publication Number One, a magazine of original writings. This year, the spring and winter issues were combined and a fifty dollar award for the best prose contributed stimulated the creativity of many students. George Kuhn received this award. No officers were formally elected; Dr. King is faculty sponsor.

The members have seen historical movies and enjoyed lectures by such men as Dr. C. S. Urban of Park College and Dr. Levitas of our own University. Members have also enjoyed slides of Korea taken by Mr. Jung Gun Kim and other Korean students of this University. One of the highlights of the club was a tour of the Truman Library, with a talk given by former President Harry S. Truman. Mr. Truman and Dr. Phillips Brooks, Director of the Library, were both presented with honorary memberships to the club. The History and Government Club is popular with students in all fields. Its membership is growing and it promises to be a prominent fixture at the University of Kansas City for many years to come.

The Geology-Geography Club was re-organized this year after a year of inactivity. It is the purpose of this club to pursue and promote the interests of the geological and geographical professions. A five day field trip was conducted during the Spring vacation in the Maguet Cove district of Arkansas this year. On this trip the members collected mineral samples of lead, iron, silver, and cobalt. At each meeting the program was furnished by a prominent geologist or geographer. These functions and the social aspects of the club make up the activities of the organization.

Every other Tuesday this year saw thirty-one theatre-minded students meeting in the Green Room of the University Playhouse. The K. C. U. Players organization was formed during the University's early years as a departmental club for speech majors. Since then, it has also become a service organization for the theatre. Requirements for membership include technical work on Playhouse productions — costumes, make-up, lighting, stagecraft — as well as acting. This year the group contributed actors to every play, including principals in Teahouse of the August Moon, The Lark, The Emperor's New Clothes and Rip Van Winkle. Two rush parties were held for the group's twenty pledges, a number demonstrating the group's substantial growth in the past year. This growth may include affiliation with a national theatre group in the near future.

Le Cercle Francais, the KCU French Club, is one of the most ambitious organizations on campus. In 1947, the club, still in its infancy, managed to ship some 10,000 pounds of food to French children at Christmas time. The climax of this campaign was a dance named after the denizens of the Paris sewers. Since that time, the Apache Dance has become an annual affair. This year the Apache was its usual successful self with Paris coming alive on the KCU campus. The return of Dr. Crain from Sabattical leave provided the necessary spark to lift the spirits of the club.

PENATES

In its first year of existence, the Home Economics Club was one of the most active and successful departmental clubs on campus. Its purpose is to acquaint its members with opportunities in this field, and to promote the professional aspect of home economics. A wide variety of programs directed toward this end included the subjects of extension service, electronic cooking in the future, arts and crafts in the home, and home life in foreign countries. The club visited the home economics department at Missouri University and the State Convention in Jefferson City.

Psi Chi, affiliated nationally, is the professional honor and recognition society for students in the Psychology Department. To be eligible for membership a student must have completed nine hours in psychology with a B average. The group had three meetings each semester and various social gatherings. Panel discussions were popular for program meetings. The major project sponsored this year was the Roland Hall Memorial Fund. Roland, last year's president of Phi Chi, was killed in a hunting accident. An educational fund was created in order that his wife, Marion, might continue graduate work in psychology.

TEACHERS NOW TRAINING

With their annual High School Day over for another year, the members of Teachers Now Training can relax with the knowledge that they did a job well. Promoting interest on the part of high school students in education as a profession is only part of the aim of TNT. They also represent the students of KCU interested in education and serve to acquaint others with the profession. Many lectures throughout the year, open to Education students and others, help to carry out their responsibility. Affiliated with the National Education Association and the Association for Childhood Education, TNT is an evergrowing organization serving the needs of students in the School of Education.

With pledge classes increasing in size, and campus activities increasing proportionally, the fraternities and sororities of the University of Kansas City completed another year. With national fraternities represented at KCU, the national affiliation of the sororities would be a welcome addition to campus social life. With increased interest on the part of the members of the sororities in a national affiliation it is hoped that the next year will see KCU represented among the women's national social groups. Presented on these pages are a record of the activities of the social organizations.

The Panhellenic Council is the governing body of the three social sororities on the Kansas City University campus. The Council is composed of two representatives from each of the three sororities. The basic functions of this group are planning rush for both semesters and sponsoring the "Snowball Dance," which is one of the most enjoyable school dances of the year. This year the Council collaborated with the IFC in presenting an evening of enjoyment for the new students. The Council sponsored a tea for the women and later a dance in the Roost. ALPHA EPSILON PI

Alpha Epsilon Pi

The Alpha Epsilon Pi Fraternity is a national social fraternity founded on November 7, 1913 at New York University. Its purpose is to help further the student's social education as well as his academic education. The fraternity aims to build its men into well rounded persons, stressing scholarship, leadership, and social comity and propriety. Its men have contributed to the student leadership on campus. Its social activities are designed to carry forth the high ideals and goals of the fraternity. The Kappa Mu Chapter of AEPi was one of the original three national social fraternities founded at the University of Kansas City. Members not pictured are: Art Katz, Morrie Kross, Herbert Rosenstein, and Stanley Weiner.

Increasing in membership and activity, the Beta Zeta social sorority strives to unite girls in a friendly organization. Expanding their participation in campus activities this past year, the sorority was represented in the pep club, the choir, and the Pan Hellenic Council. An annual spring dance and a mother-daughter tea were but a few of the Beta Zeta sponsored activities. Entering wholeheartedly into Bum Friday activities, the Beta Zeta's defended their trophy won in the skat contest last year. It was a very busy year for all the members of the group.

The Beta chapter of the Cho Chin Sorority celebrated its silver anniversary this year. Cho Chin's group activities included informal parties, a spring formal dance, and the annual summer trip to the Ozarks. The members of Cho Chin participated in many departmental and professional groups on campus. Some of these are: University Choir, Delta Alpha, Pep Club, WRA, Student Council, Sigma Alpha Iota, Mu Phi Epsilon, the Orientation Committee, and Homecoming Committee.

Delta Chi came to KCU only two years ago, but their tradition dates back many years through the old Bounder Fraternity. During this past year, Delta Chi has proved itself to excel in the fields of leadership, scholarship and athletics. At mid-year, their pledge class held the highest grade average among the fraternities on campus, and for the third year in a row, the Delta Chi's won the Inter-Fraternity Council Basketball Championship. Socially, the Delta Chi's highlight of the year was their Pair-O-Dice Dance, and Homecoming tea for parents of members.

DELTA CHI

Founded in 1934 as a sister sorority to the V.V.V.'s at Junior College, Sigma Beta has since grown to become one of the largest social groups on campus. The purpose of Sigma Beta is to promote social activity among the women on the Kansas City University campus and through its ideals of leadership, scholarship, sportsmanship and character to establish a lasting bond between its members.

Sigma Beta this year established a revolving fund whereby each year fifty dollars will be contributed to the Student Union Fund by the members of Sigma Beta, the disposition of which will be decided by the current membership at the completion of the Union. Events on the Sigma Beta calendar included the Christmas dance, at which this year's Cupid, Mike Moore, was crowned; and the spring dance at which the Sigma Beta sweetheart was crowned. Sigma Beta also participated in various service projects for the university such as furnishing ushers for Playhouse productions and hostesses to visiting groups on campus.

This fraternity was organized to develop the spirit of brotherhood. It is based on the principles of charity, esteem, and love. The Tekes were active in all phases of campus life. Twelve of the men were presidents of campus organizations. The fall semester was highlighted by the formal Playboy Dance, held at the Hotel Bellerive. One of the main social attractions of the spring semester was the elegant Red Carnation Ball. Linda Cureton was chosen the sweetheart for 1958 and Mary Ann Conroy was the TKE-sponsored winner of the Sno-Ball Queen contest. The fraternity was active in all intra-mural activities. This chapter of TKE received national recognition for having the highest academic rating of all TKE chapters in this province.

The Inter-Fraternity Council is composed of two representatives from each social fraternity on campus; its basic purpose is to correlate the activities of the three fraternities. Aside from this task, the I.F.C. works with the Panhellenic Council to plan the activities during Greek Week. This year the local I.F.C. has taken a step toward more effective organization by affiliating with the National Inter-Fraternity Council. Delegates were sent to Colorado to the National I.F.C. convention in December.

OFFICERS

Founded in the traditions of service to fellow man, to community, to school, and to country, Alpha Phi Omega, the national service fraternity is a long established institution at The University of Kansas City. This year was a turning point in the history of the Alpha Eta chapter. Reorganizing and boosting the membership were the chapter's immediate goals. APO was very active both on and off the campus, aiding in the Hi-Fi Festival, ushering at several campus functions, helping the American Red Cross in its disaster program, and assisting the library in moving sections of its reserves to another building. APO's members look forward to another even more fruitful year next year.

No less than fifteen foreign countries and the territories of Puerto Rico and Hawaii are represented in the student body of the University of Kansas City. The Cosmopolitan Club's purpose is to give the students from these countries a chance to meet together socially. The twice monthly meetings have included programs about the various countries and panel discussions comparing problems in the several nations and the United States.

MODERN DANCE

Possibly the most energetic organization of campus is Mrs. Arney's Modern Dance Club. The group, newly formed this year, is devoted to stimulating an interest in modern creative dance, and this they have gone at with a will. To further their cause the club sponsored a program of modern dance presented by the Ment-Brooks Company from New York, an event which was exceptionally well-attended. After this the company gave a demonstration of creative dance technique, which was attended by seventy-five guest students from high schools and other universities. Then in February the club presented their Creative Dance Concert, which was filled with sailors, slave girls, Swiss misses, and even Fiji islanders. The production was quite a success, and was enjoyed by everyone. The spirit of the modern dance group seems to be on the way toward becoming a tradition at UKC.

The K.C.U.V.O. is proud to be the first Veterans' organization on this campus. The Vets had a very successful year boasting an impressive increase in their membership. Their basketball team, managed by Ray Muckenthaler, was a contender in the intramural program during the year. Activities included regular business and social meetings, a Christmas party, and a spring picnic. The purpose of the Vets is to assist veterans in any problems that occur on campus.

There are undoubtedly many things that go on on a campus that are not heard of. We won't concern ourselves with these activities, but rather report on those that were held out in the open. The following pages present these activities in all their splendor.

STUDENT GOVERNMENT

There are many things that make a University great, but perhaps most important is the maturity with which the students conduct their governmental affairs. The University of Kansas City is especially fortunate in having one of the most liberal systems of student government anywhere. At KCU, students themselves determine what activities they shall participate in, and what the policy of their government shall be. Carrying out traditions of long standing, the various student government assemblies work closely with the administration and faculty as well as with students to promote an efficient form of government. KCU students are proud of the freedom to regulate their own affairs.

The Student Council of the All Student Association is the principle student governing body of the University of Kansas City. Composed of the president and vice-president of the College of Arts and Sciences, four councilmen-at-large, two representatives from the freshmen class and representatives from the professional schools, the Student Council carries on the day to day chores of a student legislature. Through the committee system, the Council conducts all student activities, distribution of activity ticket funds, elections, student publications, social affairs, financing, and chartering of organizations.

RESIDENCE HALL

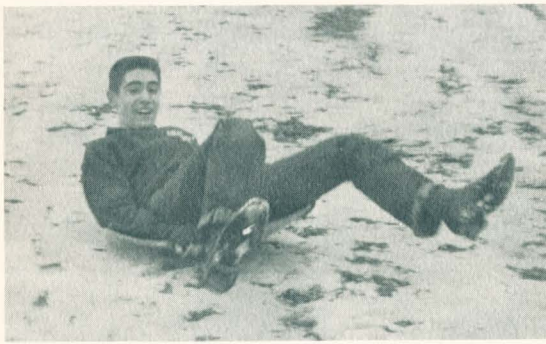

The University of Kansas City's Men's Residence Hall saw a very eventful year, highlighted by a spectacular chili supper and a blast in Swope Park. The Dorm had a very capable staff this year in Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Nugent, Head Residents, and Ed Lamb and Bill Marshner, House Fellows. This Staff was aided throughout the year by the Dorm Council, headed by President Jerry Dickson. Through their efforts, the Dorm, in its first full year of operation, proved a happy and friendly home, in spite of a few slight "invasions", for the many men it housed. The many nationalities represented on its roll quickly earned the nickname "Little U. N.", as the residents hailed from Puerto Rico, Hawaii, the Middle East, and Illinois.

STUDENT PUBLICATIONS

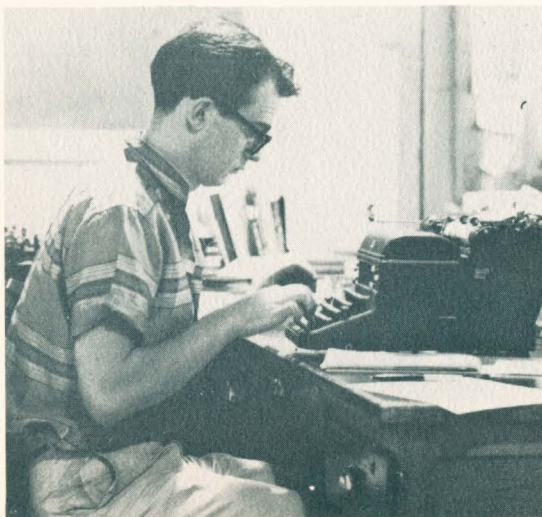

W

The continual bang of typewriters . . . the sometimes frantic swearing of editors and associate editors . . . the rush to meet deadlines. All are a part of the underground cellar called Student Publications. To an uninformed stranger who might walk into the basement of the Roost, the artwork and humor of the Holman Brothers is clearly evident. If this stranger should happen to walk in on a Tuesday afternoon, the glassy-eyed stare of Roger Wilson would greet him from behind the U-News editor's desk. And then there is the Black Hole of Calcutta, which sometimes serves as a darkroom for Kangaroo and U-News photographers. This is the bailiwick of Student Publications, a good place to take shelter from the rain and also learn a little about journalism. But if you prefer the more refined atmosphere of the KCU Law Review and the English department publication, the Number One, then stay away from the Student Publications office. They will only corrupt you.

"The royal road to chaos," seems to describe the yearbook office this year. There have been troubles, trials, and a fair amount of undue running in circles. In spite of tedious work, irregular meals, and hours "which no one has enough money to pay me for," it has still been fun. There is a certain feeling of accomplishment gained when one hews a page from the jungle of confusion; and a bond has formed among those of us who survived the "creeping plague" during the winter's flu epidemic. Seriously though, we of the staff wish to extend a heartfelt thank you to a number of people: first to those who came in during spare moments between classes and got rubber cement in their hair and paper cuts on their fingers, risking envelopment in the quicksand of the Kangaroo; then a special note of gratitude to Armand Glenn, our printer, who has more or less calmly put up with "production difficulties" which would have driven a lesser person out of his mind; and all of those whose cooperation and encouragement have helped make this book possible. A yearbook is people; without those mentioned here this book could never have been done.

UNIVERSITY NEWS

Perhaps no newspaper has ever had such a stormy history as has the University News this year. Three editors attempted to publish a decent newspaper that would be read by the students for which it was published.

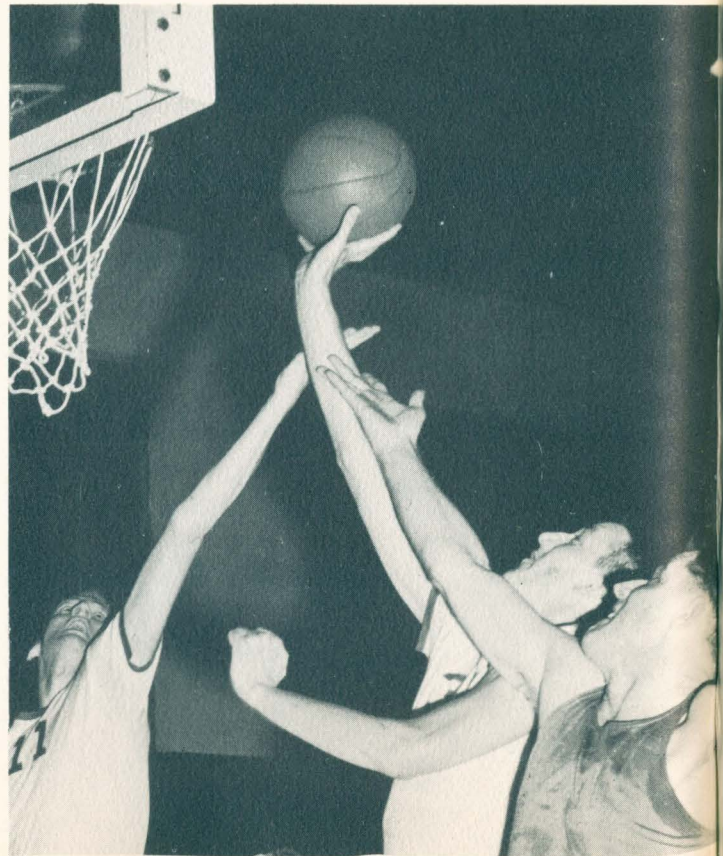

Despite these difficulties, the U-News has managed to survive. Ron Johnson, Editor last year and for the first part of this year was forced to resign because of press of other duties. H. R. Wurst was then appointed Acting Editor and served until the start of the second semester. Roger Wilson finished out the rest of the year. Between the time of Johnson's resignation and the appointment of Wurst, Ken Ward, the Associate Editor, published the paper. Plagued with the usual staff problems and the uncertainty of who would be editor next week, the U-News has carried on the job of informing the students of what happened on their campus. It is hoped that the U-News next year will not suffer from such uncertainties as plagued it this year. Those hardworking people who composed the staff perhaps deserve the most thanks. For without their untiring efforts, the U-News would be a shallow mockery of the journalistic art.

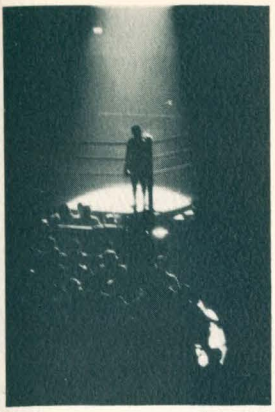

72nd COMBAT PHOTO TEAM

Photographic Arts pages are traditionally given to the staff photographers to show their mettle with the camera. This year disclosed a new development in Kangaroo photographic annals. A group of newcomers to the darkroom who were limited in time and finesse decided to pool their resources. Thus Dave Holman, Bruce Holman, and Jim Wallington formed the 72nd Combat Photography Team. The team's pictorial log shows that all is not necessarily quiet on any front.

DANCES

Mrs. Hogin's office . . . the Student Council spotlights . . . Sunday morning clean-up . . . chaperon cards . . . Doc White's . . . purchase orders . . . extension cords . . . requisitions in quadruplicate . . . masking tape . . . ladders . . . and "Has anybody seen Ben Henderson?" All these things have a special meaning to the many hardworking people behind the scenes of KCU's dances. And so, to the unthanked, heroic veterans of the red-tape treadmill, we dedicate this section. From cornstalks to carnations, we thank them for many hours of enjoyment.

I wonder if he gets violent?

Welcome Dance

After a week of classes and book-larnin' and all that stuff it was sorta nice to relax in the quiet atmosphere of the Welcome Dance. Here was a chance to meet those people who were in your classes and see old friends who seemed to disappear during the summer. With the bubbling music of Don Glasser and the orchestra, the gym turned into more than a basketball court. With new friends for the coming year, we were prepared to sweat through tests and lectures and such.

ORIENTATION DANCES

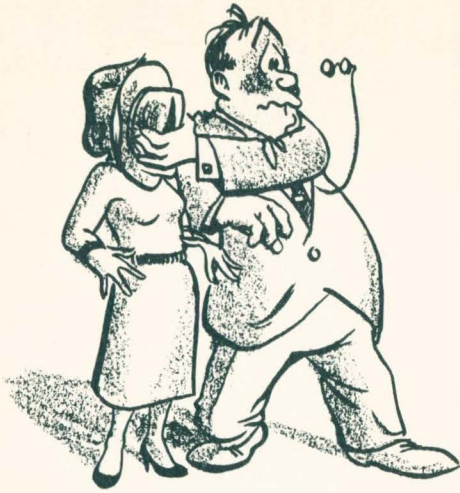

Tuesday evening of Orientation week, the Inter-Fraternity council and the Pan-Hellenic council sponsored a get-together for new students. A smoker for the men, a tea for the women, and later a dance for all was the program of the evening. Before the dance, Dr. Drake finished showing the set of slides he had begun the same morning. This was the first year an informal mixer had been included in the Orientation activities; the smiles and many handshakes of after-vacation reunions and newly-made friendships proved the dance a highlight of Orientation week.

And this is my beloved . . .

If looks could kill . . .

A skit contest written and produced by the new students highlighted the evening of the Beanie Blasts. Several members of the faculty seemed shocked by the subject matter of the skits, but the students had a gay time. Later, everyone attended the dance presented by the orientation committee. The men were given address books and a prize was awarded to Don Emler for acquiring the most names in his book. The prize for Don's bird-dogging was . . . a dog, of course.

But we do need Greeks on campus!

The highlight of the annual Fall Frolic was the bonfire behind the Gym. A pyre of wood was lighted, straw was spread over the muddy ground, and couples participated in such games as "Hide the pumpkin", "Throw straw at your date", and . . . other campus activities. Before the bonfire, students and faculty were treated to an indoor picnic and later in the evening all attended a dance held in the Roost. Hollis Hanover was in charge of the evening of fun, while June Hyatt and Clara Cornwall paired up to make the dance successful. A liberal supply of corn kernels made dancing much easier.

Hmm, I wonder . . .

ALL FROLIC

This was obviously a very sedentary type affair.

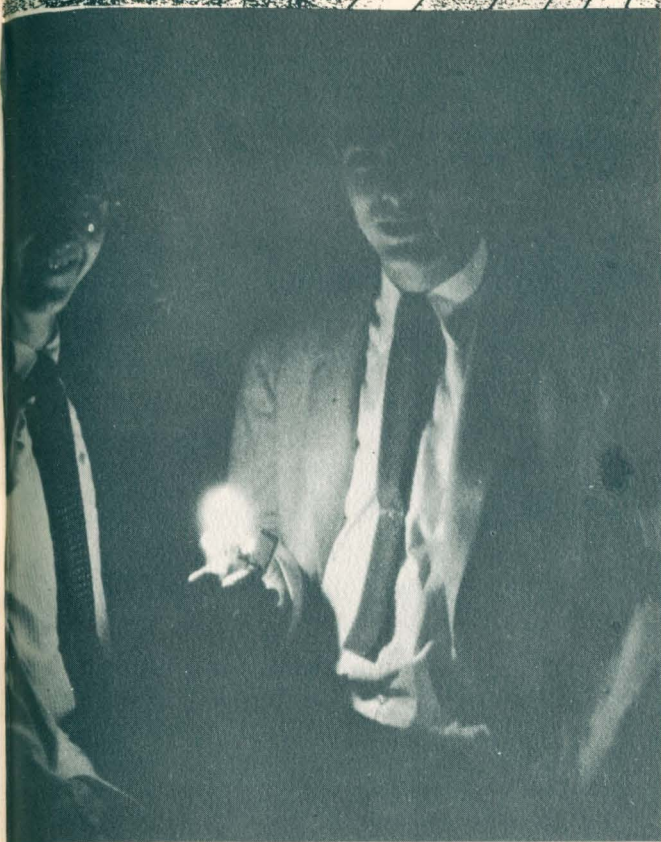

Peter, Peter, Pumpkin eater . . .

QUAD DANCE

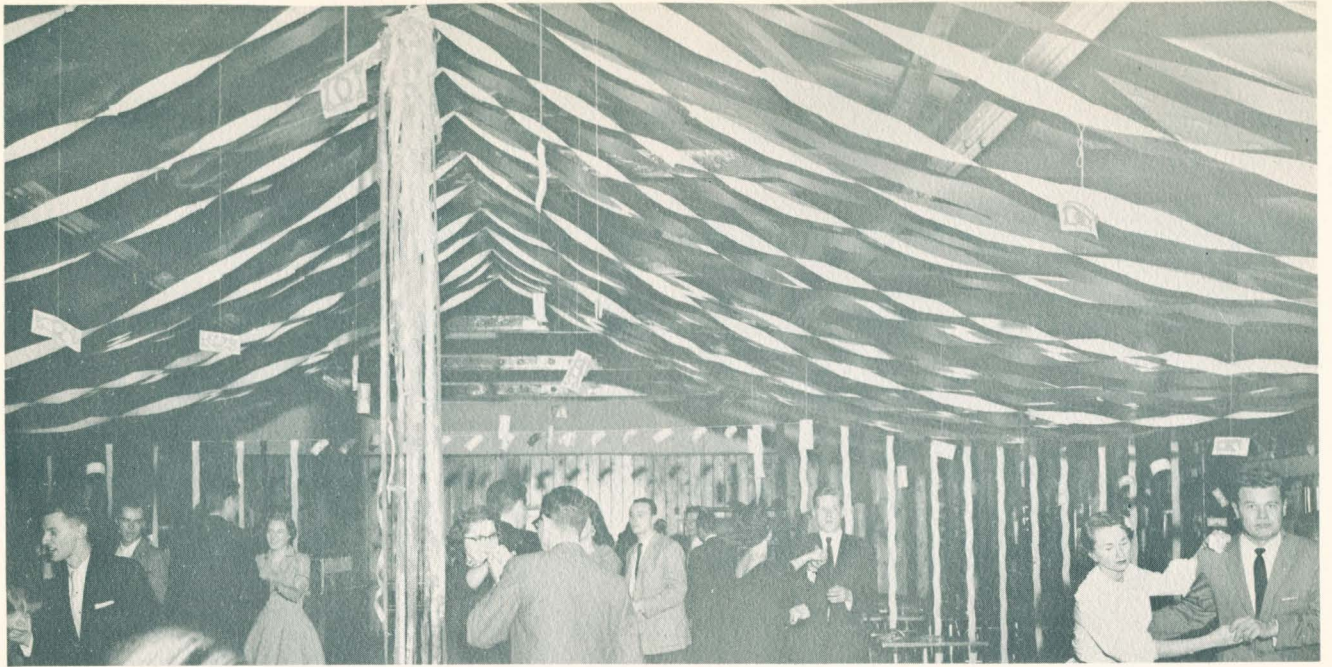

Hold the light a little higher, gentlemen;
the seance is about to begin.

"Bubble, bubble, toil and trouble. Fire burn and Caldron bubble." And this caldron bubbled and boiled with alcohol and dry ice. Amid the dimness of the Roost and swaying dancers, the Witches' Caldron theme of the Quad Dance bubbled away. Ghosts and goblins were present in abundance, thanks to the diligent efforts of Chuck Goodman and the Freshman Steering Committee. With Hallowe'en as a background, the Quad Dance had that mystic quality of success about it.

Of course it's real. I printed it this morning.

'Round and 'round she goes . . .

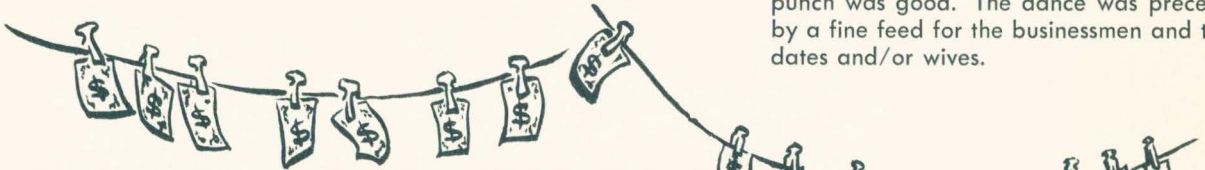

Oh, did I step on your foot again?

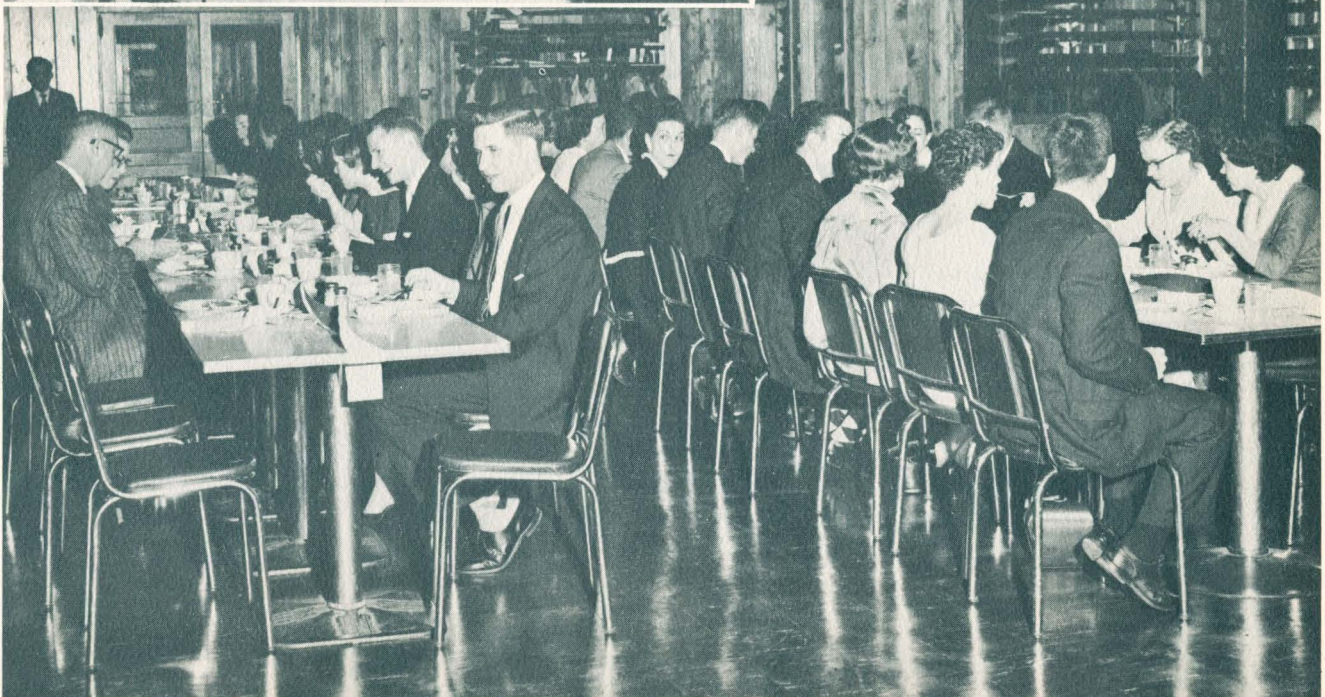

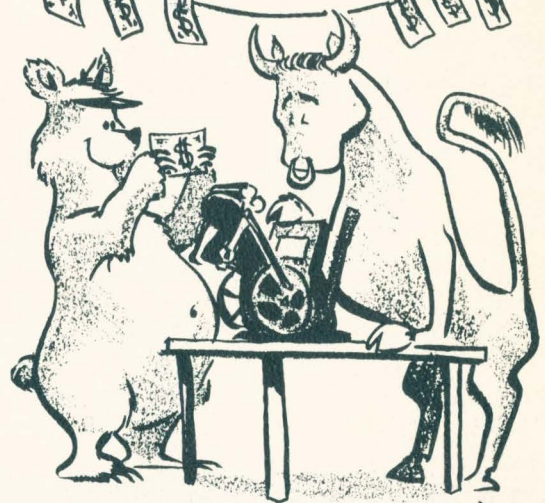

Stocktickle's Ball

The path from the Playhouse to the punchbowl was well worn that night as the Business School presented their annual Businessmen's Blast, the Stocktickle's Ball. With mostly students from the Business School in attendance, it was noted that a few wayfaring strangers also attended, coming and going by way of the Playhouse.

Paper money and stock ticker tape hung from the walls and ceiling to give that aura of Wall Street. And on top of that the punch was good. The dance was preceded by a fine feed for the businessmen and their dates and/or wives.

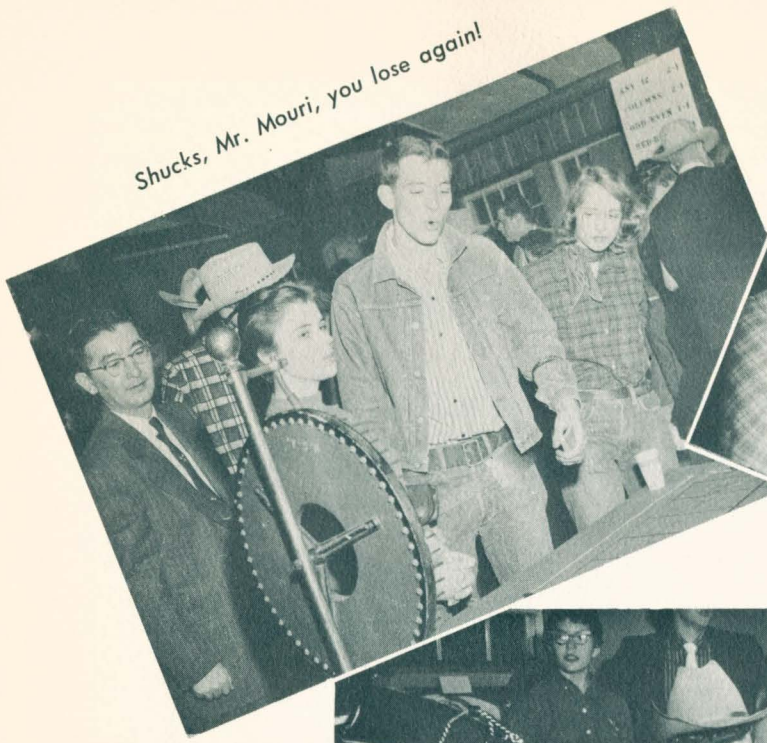

Now Henry, remember your ulcers.

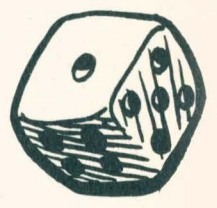

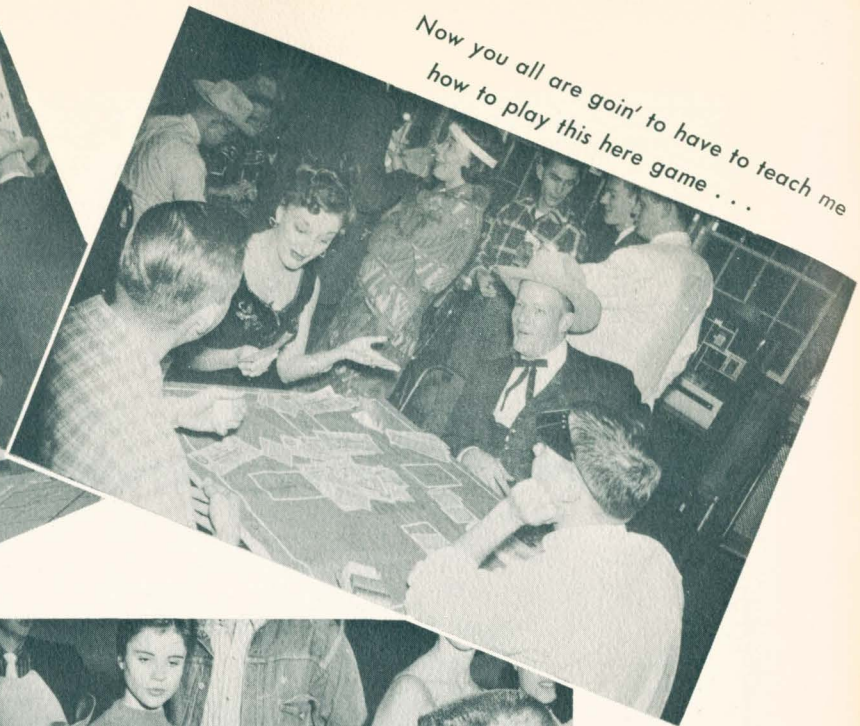

Why, Harvey! You've hardly touched your spinach!

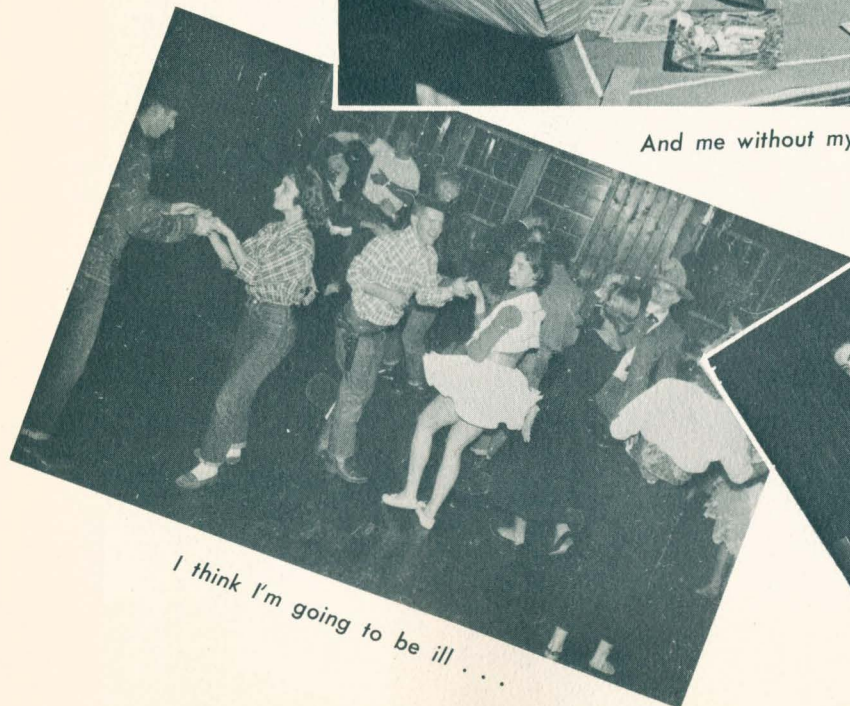

Shucks, Mr. Mouri, you lose again!

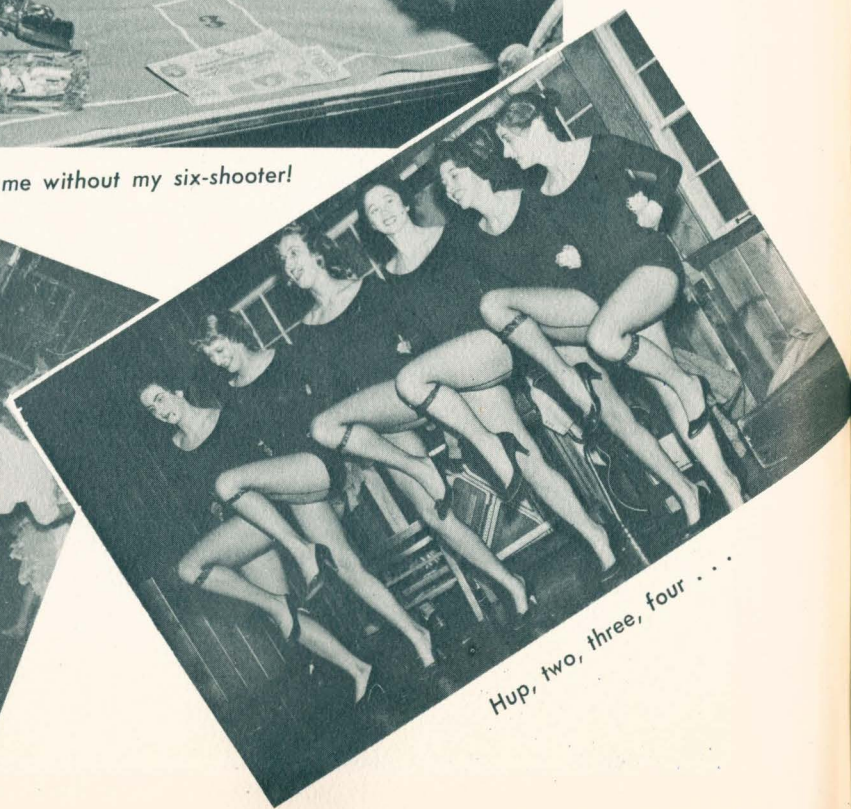

Now you all are goin' to have to teach me how to play this here game . . .

And me without my six-shooter!

I think I'm going to be ill . . .

Hup, two, three, four . . .

Sold . . . to the man in the Delta Chi pin!

In the tradition of High Noon and Shane, the Delta Chi fraternity gave K.C.U. its first live adult western in the form of their Pair-O-Dice Palace Dance. Besides dancing, there were games of roulette, stud poker, dice, and various money losing devices (Delta Chi dollars were supplied at the door). Inara Perzins and Joyce Lantz tied for top honors in the girls' costume contest; John (Stonewall) Mitchell won in the men's division. The highlight of the evening was a floor show featuring a Sigma Beta can-can line directed by Clare Vogel. The western gambling hall theme was ably carried through by Wild Bill Hines and Marshal George Kerr to make this one of the best and most successful dances of the year.

Bang, dammit! Bang!

Why, of course you'd like to buy a share, son!

Well, sweetie . . .

SNO BALL

Now do I get my diploma?

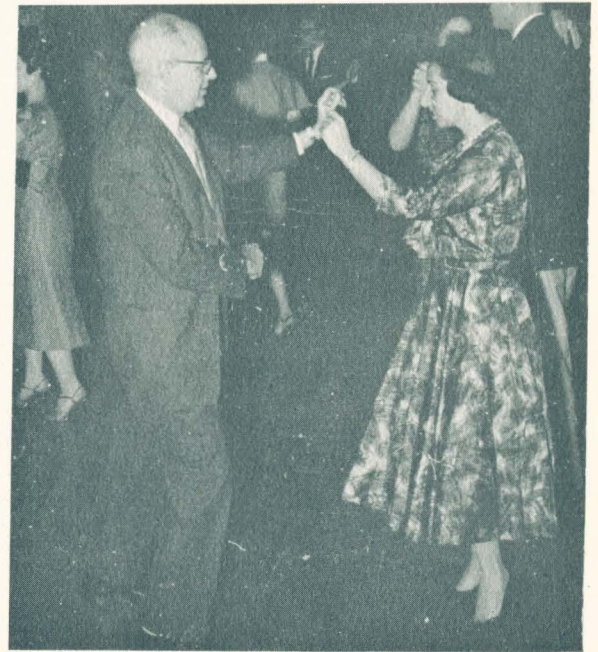

Sometimes they won't even fade away.

The decorations of December's Sno-Ball served as a sparkling background for the couples who danced, whispered in the corners, or just listened to the music. Murals, crepe paper, white linen, and snow flakes turned the gymnasium into a bright wonderland. To make all of this possible a labor operation rivaling the construction of Cheops' pyramid was carried on. Sorority pledges, under the staunch leadership of Donna Jones, swarmed over the building, painting, tacking, and tying. Then as the hour drew near, they hurried home and a transformation took place—from blue jeans and paint spots to formals and perfume. It was a dance to remember.

No, sonny, this isn't the USO.

Eyes front and center.

The French Club flung its yearly fling on the eve of March 8. A real gone snow-storm rendered driving hazardous, but a good number of hardy souls braved the elements to attend the affair. The Roost was miraculously transformed to depict the Left Bank of Paris and was decorated in accordance with the theme, La Rue de Plaisirs (The Street of Pleasures, for you cats who don't dig French). Roy Cunningham's combo, which provided the sound effects, will be remembered for its rendition of "When the Saints Go Marching In," a real mover that set the joint jumping. After hours of brain-racking and back-breaking toil, Katy Shrago, entertainment chairman, was all shook up to learn at the last minute that her carefully-planned intermission program had to be cancelled due to unfortunate circumstances. Marshal Saper, emcee, conducted the costume contest, of which Mickey Wilkinson and JoAnn Weatherman were the winners. Mrs. Hogin presented each of them a five dollar prize. All in all it was a profitable evening — everybody was well-spent.

I could have sworn I came in stag.

I'm sorry, but this establishment has a very select clientele.

BUSHWHACKER BALL

Upholding the annual tradition, The Junior Class again presented the Bushwacker Ball in honor of the graduating Seniors. A tremendous success, as usual, and the highlight of the social season, this year's Bushwacker provided a much needed respite from the daily routine and a good time for all. During the course of the evening a series of skits was given, hilariously depicting a prospective student's first visit to our esteemed institution. High point of the gala affair came when Dr. Dwane Johnson, voted "most popular instructor of the year", crowned beautiful Mrs. Bernardine McLaughlin Queen of the Bushwacker Ball—honors befitting the occasion and ones which both richly deserved.

Red Carnation Ball

A red fountain, red atmosphere, and red shields marked this year's Red Carnation ball presented by Tau Kappa Epsilon. Linda Cureton was crowned the TKE Sweetheart of the year and reigned regally over the dance. Fraternity honors were given to several members. The Sittler Award for outstanding fraternity activities was presented to Don Brackhahn who also received the award for the fraternity member with the highest grade standing. Ben Sparks received an award for the member with the most improved grades. The outstanding achievement of the year for the members of Tau Kappa Epsilon, the Red Carnation was a roaring success.

KANGAROO HOP

Last year's royalty relive old memories.

Most Fascinating Man Jon Skelton fascinates.

Guy and Dolls was the theme of the Kangaroo Hop, and the guys and dolls of UKC were there in force. Everyone had washed, scoured, or scraped away the mud of Bum Friday, and a bystander would not have recognized the formal-clad couples as being the "bums" of that morning. Through the efforts of the Student Council, Ralph Marterie and his orchestra were there providing music for the occasion. During the intermission, Marty Glass was crowned Kangaroo Queen, and reigned, a pretty monarch, over the song contest which followed. The fraternities and sororities sang as never before, doing credit to the long hours of practice they had put in during the preceding weeks. The winners of the contest were Tau Kappa Epsilon and Sigma Beta. The dance was one of the most outstanding of the year, and marked the climax of carefree day.

The Beta Zeta's celebrate their victory in the skit contest.

ORIENTATION

It never fails. Just when you think you're all set, some ornrey looking upper classman comes along and tells you that you filled out your registration form wrong. Of course, if you're the caliber of most of the KCU freshmen, this will never happen to you, especially if you went through Orientation. Orientation is that period of time where everything becomes oblivion, where a maze of forms of all kinds pass in front of your bloodshot eyeballs and at the end of which you are a sure-nuff college student. KCU tries to make it as pleasant as possible, however. For instance, as the pictures on this page will show, everyone is in a happy state of carefree perplexity. Then there's the skit contest. After the blue air has cleared, there's the "Beanie Blast." And a new innovation this year, an informal mixer right in the middle of all the confusion. Under the able direction of JoAnn Johnson and Jim Job in the fall and Pete Donnici and Mel Freed at mid-year some 500 students were initiated to the mysteries of dear ole Alma Mater. Looking back on it, it really wasn't as bad as it seemed, now was it?

For the third year, the Inter-Fraternity Council presented their Greek Week celebration. Complete with Chariot race, won by the TEKE, the basketball game, won by Delta Chi, and a dance, won by everybody, Greek Week was a noisy success. The social fraternities presented a Yell-In for pledges and everyone had a good time. By winning the basketball game, the Delta Chi's were able to obtain permanent possession of the trophy. An organization must win three games in a row in order to achieve that honor. Greek Week will be an annual affair and perhaps, in the future, the sororities will take a more active part.

You aren't really going to throw me in the pond are you?

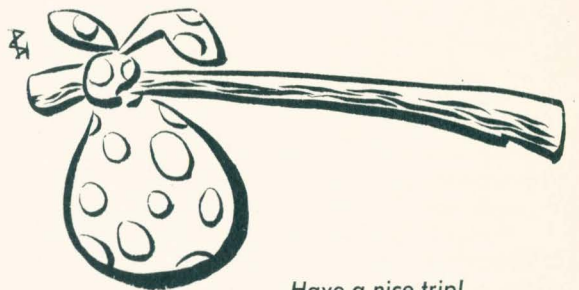

Quick, fellows, there's a dry one!

That's odd, I was sure this was where she went in.

As has been the case in past years, Bum Friday was a gay, wild affair. The fraternities got off to an early start in the festivities—Thursday evening—and so were in the proper spirit for the day. There was also a square dance and weinie roast held that evening. The fellows of Nu Rho Psi did a land-office business washing cars to raise money for their scholarship fund, while the young ladies on campus came through with their usual entertainment by providing fish imitations in the pond. The plight of the girls in the water was alleviated (or is the word "aggravated"?) by the presence of certain persons with rafts and aqualungs. The skits and talent show were presented in the afternoon, featuring some unusually good talent acts, and skits which were recorded as being "as subtle as a sailor on a six hour pass." Cliff Hoehns was elected King of Bums, while Dave Hoff—in order to prove that anything can happen on Bum Friday—was elected Queen of Bums. The tug-of-war across the mud pit showed the Delta Chi's gooey but victorious. In the evening music for the formal Kangaroo Hop was provided by Ralph Marterie and his orchestra. During the intermission the song contest was held and subsequently won by Tau Kappa Epsilon and Sigma Beta. And so ended UKC's once-a-year day.

Have a nice trip!

Is she for real?

Man! It's hot in here!

1958 will be remembered by all as the year of the "revolution" . . . mechanization finally came to 10th and Troost! Among the latest additions were ultra-high speed, multiple electronic soup-to-nuts dispensing machines in the new lounge and, for those fortunate enough to sling a 10c, pearl-handled paper punch, new elevator; making it possible to shuttle almost directly from the faculty locker room to the coffee machine "without" having to venture through the "Rubber Dam Jungle".

Social activities were also somewhat of a revolution this year. The Bushwacker Ball, traditionally given by the Junior Class in honor of the graduating Seniors, found a new "home" in Kansas. This year's Bushwacker, the Dental School's answer to the Academy Awards, led the list of social successes followed close behind by the Psi Omega's Christmas Dance, the Xi Psi Phi's "Ship Wreck Dance," and the Delta Sigma's Spring Dance.

Spring came at last and the Dental activities ventured into the bright sunshine in the form of Class and Departmental picnics — a welcomed relief for those fortunate enough to be completing the four-year obstacle course required for . . . D.D.S.

LAW SCHOOL ACTIVITIES

Co-Chairman George Kerr and Sandy Flueckinger await Dr. Drake's announcement of the queen.

There is one time of the year when the school spirit really stands out and that is the time when everyone comes back to our ivy covered institution to renew old acquaintances. This is the time of Homecoming. There was a basketball game, which we won, a crowning of a queen, Margaret Nichols, and a dance, which everyone enjoyed. Dr. Drake told a banquet meeting of the Alumni Association of his "Friend Raising" campaign and many friends were obtained by his presentation. Ten professors were honored by the presentation of silver bowls for their tenure of service to the University. Such was KCU Homecoming, 1958.

Honors Day is set aside as a time to acknowledge outstanding achievements of students in both academic and extra-curricular fields. The program for this year's Honor Day was highlighted by a Convocation address by Dr. James A. McCain, President of Kansas State College, on the subject of the American and European systems of education, and the third annual banquet, which established a style for sumptuous repasts at UKC that will be hard to top. In his after-dinner address to this assemblage of most esteemed members of the student body, Dr. Drake discussed the most recent developments toward that Mecca of Meccas, the proposed new Student Union Building. The morning exercises honored those students who had merited recognition for high academic achievement; awards for outstanding contributions to extra-curricular activities were made following the banquet. Spring initiations for the men's and women's leadership honorary fraternities were held in the afternoon.

The Olympic Tray-Sliding team is a group devoted to the pursuit of healthful winter sport and testing the resilience of human bones. The first meeting occurred late one night this year when a member reasoned that there would be a low coefficient of friction between trays liberated from the cafeteria and the ice on the hill just north of the student union building. (Later it was found that fiberglass "flying saucers" served the purpose as well as cafeteria trays without arousing the antagonism of the administration.) The procedure for proper tray-sliding is simple if somewhat bruising: one places the vehicle on the hill's crest, steps back about twenty feet, executes a running broad-jump onto the tray, and then goes whizzing down the hill. (The ride is equally as thrilling if one misses the tray.) The steering of the trays ranges from erratic to impossible, so spectators are occasionally run down by mistake. Stopping the tray is accomplished by crashing into a cheap tree. Activities of the group have been temporarily halted by a lack of snow and the slowness with which certain bones knit, but the Tray-Sliding Team hopes to overcome these minor setbacks soon and be back into operation.

PEP CLUB

At the business of stimulating school spirit, the KCU Pep Club surpassed itself this year. Leading the cheers for the athletic events at home and away, the organization added several other duties to their busy schedule. Handling the concessions at all basketball home games, and boosting the cheering section for the Kangaroos, the Pep Club added immeasurably to the sports events of the University.

Eight bouncy girls with plenty of pep characterize KCU's Cheerleader squad. At every game—won or lost—these girls were on hand to give the team extra spirit and support. Whether by leading the grandstand in yells or just by smiling to the boys, this octet was elemental in creating the excitement and good feeling at our games. Much outside time was contributed by these girls to perfect their work in representing our school spirit.

AVEC LA VILLE

The successful Playhouse year of 1957-58 was begun with John Patrick's Teahouse of the August Moon. Playing October 15 to 19, the play was light, happy, and brought crowds to the theatre. Standing room only was the rule on both Friday and Saturday nights. For five beautiful autumn nights, Jess La Puma as Sakini, the philosophical Okinawan interpreter, and Jim Lawless, misfit Captain Fisby, led an unsuccessful battle against the charms of Lotus Blossom, Pat Nicholson. The production had the novelty of set changes being made by the cast during the action of the play. The play was directed by Dr. Alban Varnado. After the opening night performance, refreshments were served under Japanese lanterns in the Patio, to celebrate the opening of the new Playhouse season.

The year's second production gave Kansas City children a new version of an old tale, November 5 to 16, when sixteen performances of Hans Christian Andersen's The Emperor's New Clothes were given in an oriental, rather than European setting. The emperor in this instance was Chinese. His foils were two mythological creatures, Zar and Zan. The greedy Han, an enemy to the city's weavers, desired not only to pocket their profits for himself, but to gain control of the vain emperor, as well. However, through the shrewd manipulating of the two good sprites the evil Han was brought to task and the emperor's silly vanity revealed for all its foolishness. J. Morton Walker directed the play, the first of two staged for the Community Children's Theatre Inc.

Early December saw modern French drama on the Playhouse stage in the form of Jean Anouilh's The Lark. An adventure in stylization, the production had no realistic set, rather, was played on a series of stairs, levels, and cubes. Bits of scenery hinted at changes of place, and much "painting with light" was done. Norma Langer, in the tremendous role of Joan of Arc, brought a star performance to the part; Don Sollars was a dashing, yet suave Warwick; and Alex Santoro's Dauphin brought much favorable comment. The climax of the play featured an amazing stage effect—Joan was burned at the stake right before the eyes of the audience. Dr. Patricia McIlrath directed the play, which had a happy ending after all, when Joan popped back to witness the success of her career—the crowning of her "Charlie" as the king of France.

In February, Dr. McIlrath again was the director, the play this time being Anton Chekov's poignant and powerful The Cherry Orchard. The wistful air of a Russia which died fifty years ago drew overflow crowds and extra chairs were required to seat them all. The director experimented with the Stanislavski "method" in aiding the cast to faithfully reproduce the sensitive, introspective Russians of the Ranevskaya estate—one of the few times it has been used by the Playhouse staff. To stage this masterpiece, three sets were required, and the slip stage was put into use. Lawana Walters, Tom Buckley, John Nelson, and a generally fine cast created a successful run for this, Chekov's pastel giant.

Bravo! A bright red-orange curtain went up, revealing two figures in a bright red-orange bed—thus began the first act of a rollicking, boisterous, and uninhibitedly funny production of Richard Strauss' Der Rosenkavalier. The opera was done up in truly grand opera style, with three colorful sets and gay, elaborate Rococo costumes. Chester O'Bannon triumphed as clumsy Baron Ochs, and both sopranos (the show was double-cast) were regal Marschallins. The clever dialogue was a new translation from the German by Dr. Cj Stevens, Dean of the Evening Division. Indeed, many people took many hours to put together this Playhouse "spectacular." J. Morton Walker was the proud father of this success, a combination of the talents of both speech and music departments. The opera, presented in March, ran for six performances instead of the regular five, playing an extra matinee on Sunday.

The second production for Community Children's Theatre Inc., also presented in March, was based on Washinton Irving's tale of Rip Van Winkle. The play was a cut made and modified from the original book by the play's director, Durward Redd. Through the magic of make-up, Tom Buckley as Rip aged twenty years to become a stranger in his own home town. Buddy Zimmer, who had starred earlier in the first children's production, returned to share the lead with Buckley in this one. Special effects, complete with falling leaves and falling snow, were put into use to create the passage of twenty years, and Rip's rendezvous in the mountains with Henry Hudson and his ghostly crew included thunder and lightning.

Generally receiving bad reviews, William Gibson's new play, Joseph and Herod, had its world premiere on the Playhouse stage in April. The play was even directed by its author, but despite the fact, did not attain the high standards of the overall season. Biblical in theme, the drama recounted the struggle of Joseph, father of Christ, as he was torn between materialism and spiritualness—a struggle resulting in his death. Although the production was lacking, it did point the way towards more original writing in the Kansas City area. The work was presented by Mr. Gibson as his Master's degree project.

William Shakespeare's comedy, Much Ado About Nothing, brought the season to an end in May. Like the season's opener, this play, too, was directed by Dr. Alban Varnado. The production sparkled. Mila Jean Ehrlich and Jim Lawless as the famous Beatrice and Benedict fired at each other with smiling glee, and veteran actor Art Ellison brought the house down every evening with his uproarious Dogberry. The show was very light and witty. The cast played it very vigorously. The set was of the unit variety, with only the raising and lowering of curtains indicating a change in scene, and the colorful, stylized-Renaissance costumes helped along the bright comedy atmosphere.

Douglas Russell designed the costumes for this year's season, and J. Morton Walker did all of the sets, except Der Rosenkavalier and Rip Van Winkle, which were created by Durward Redd. This year demonstrated the fine cooperation between student and community players; many fine actors were found to exist on campus as well as in the city itself. In May, at the annual Playhouse Awards Banquet, the many people who worked on this year's plays were recognized, and plans were already under way for the new season.

MUSIC DEPARTMENT

The Music Department began its year with the appointment of two new members to its faculty: Maurice Cater, band director, and Hugo Vianello, orchestra conductor. Under Mo Cater's direction, the University Band made several appearances in the community. Despite many difficulties and hardships, Mr. Vianello built the University orchestra into a fine performing group and their annual concert at the Playhouse was very well received. Many members of the department participated in "Der Rosenkavalier", this year's opera offering, which the Music Department produced in co-operation with the Theater and Art departments. The vocal ensemble appeared on several programs, and throughout the year, the many soloists in the department also appeared often in the community. Faculty members also made many appearances in the vicinity as guest soloists, conductors, etc. Under the direction of Dr. Everett Hendricks, the choir began its year with an appearance with the Kansas City Philharmonic Orchestra performing Stravinsky's "Symphony of Psalms", a television appearance, and several convention programs. Then came the annual Christmas concerts, which included a repeat performance of Respighi's "Lauda per la Nativita del Signore". With four successful concerts out of the way the choir began preparing for the approaching twenty-four spring appearances, ten of which would be during their tour through Minnesota and Iowa. Upon their return from the tour, the choir cut a record on the RCA Victor Artists' label. With anticipation of more appearances and a longer tour in 1958-59, the choir closed the year by singing at the Commencement Exercises.

HI FI FESTIVAL

OCTOBER 25 - 26

Under the auspices of the Radio Department and the direction of Dr. Cj Stevens, Gary McCoy, and Ron Christison, the third annual Hi-Fi Festival was held in Haag Hall in October. A large part of the community, as well as many students, turned out to look over this varied display of Hi-Fi sets, records, tape recorders, and other electrical equipment. The Festival gave the University a chance to serve the City, and the City, in turn, became more familiar with the school. A big feature of this year's Festival was the announcement of the University's own contribution to radio and fine music—Station KCUR-FM.

After spending a year locating, installing and testing equipment, and ironing out technical and production problems, KCUR-FM began broadcasting October 21, at 7 P. M., on 89.3 megacycles as Kansas City's second FM station. It is Missouri's second such educational station. The seemingly impossible technical problems were solved by the hard work and technical knowledge of Bill Hunacutt, KCMO-FM engineer, Sam Scott, managing director of KCUR-FM, Cyril Feldstein, Gary McCoy and Bob Musburger. KCUR-FM provides radio service not otherwise offered in this area. It features twenty-one hours of broadcasting daily, fifteen of which are music ranging from opera to jazz and from symphonies to children's music. Six hours of discussion with speakers on subjects ranging from world trade to juvenile delinquency rounds out the schedule. The loyal audience, built up by this programming, is growing steadily, with requests for advanced program schedules numbering over 1000 each month. KCUR-FM is looking forward to an increased programming schedule and a boost in transmitter power to be accomplished as soon as funds are made available. The part KCUR-FM has played in bringing the University closer to Kansas City is explained by the fact that it reaches many people of the community who had never been reached by any other means. This should make it obvious that the plans for the future need to be carried out immediately.

KCUR-FM

Sodiphene

For the COMFORT of Patients

The analgesic effect of Sodiphene is invaluable in giving comfort to patients. It is soothing to irritated or painful areas.

For It's Remarkable Germicidal Qualities

"Sodiphene, DILUTED one part Sodiphene to two parts water, kills

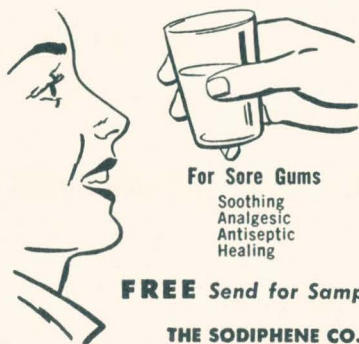

STREPTOCOCCUS VAR. HEMOLYTICUS

MICROCOCCUS AUREUS

SALMONELLA TYPHOSA

LACTOBACILLUS CASEI

in 15 SECONDS when tested according to the F.D.A. procedure for testing antiseptics and disinfectants."

DENTAL "PREP"

calls for SODIPHENE

Before every examination or treatment make mouths professionally clean with Sodiphene—rinse mouth thoroughly with 1 part Sodiphene in 2 parts water.

- Kills bacteria
- Soothes oral tissues
- Freshens breath
- Relieves pain

It's A Pleasure!

It's a pleasure — to be of service to you in college and we thank you for your patronage, helpfulness and courtesy.

It's a pleasure — to help you locate a dental office. And it is easy, for with our files and information we can save you time and expense.

It's a pleasure — to design your office from the partitioning to the color scheme. It's a fast service and satisfying one, too, for we have the means of personalizing to meet your satisfaction.

It's a pleasure — it is a real pleasure, to watch your practice grow and to have the feeling that we are part of it.

The four Ney publications mentioned above contain basic up-to-date information about Ney golds and dental laboratory techniques. We are glad to make them available because we feel sure that you will find them truly useful in your daily work. We also want to call to your attention the consulting services of the Ney Research and Technical Departments and then, closer to you, the availability of your local Ney Technical Representative. You will find him particularly helpful when you establish your practice.
