The Capital of Missouri at Jefferson City

Universities are, by nature, not only citadels of higher learning, but are vast repositories of signs, symbols, mottos, hymns to the alma mater, mascots, curious titles, and quaint Latin phrases. The old University of Kansas City never grew very old, as universities go, but it possessed all of these attributes, and it was a major contributor to the life of its home community. But limited available financial resources and the absence of a massive endowment proved insufficient in comparison to spiraling costs. Even a relatively low tuition rate for a private institution proved too high for thousands of eligible students in the community who could not afford to go elsewhere. Several of UKC's professional schools had attained national distinction, but the university was handicapped, fettered by its lack of financial resources, and unable to plan future development. Simultaneously, the State of Missouri was confronted by the necessity of drastic expansion of its own tax-supported system of higher education in order to meet flooding enrollments. Months of patient negotiation and backing by the Missouri Legislature produced the integration of Kansas City University into the Missouri State System. What had been one of the few remaining private urban universities now became a division of an expanded state system of higher education. On July 25, 1963, our university changed its name.

Campus leaders, Steve Sturdevant, Bill Isenhour, Bettye Sue Volkart, John Simon and Shirley Capps met with Governor John Dalton at the capital to discuss the future of UMKC.

Change of signs marked signs of change . . .

"You will study accompanied by bulldozers," predicted Chancellor Scofield.

The campus changed,
but familiar sights

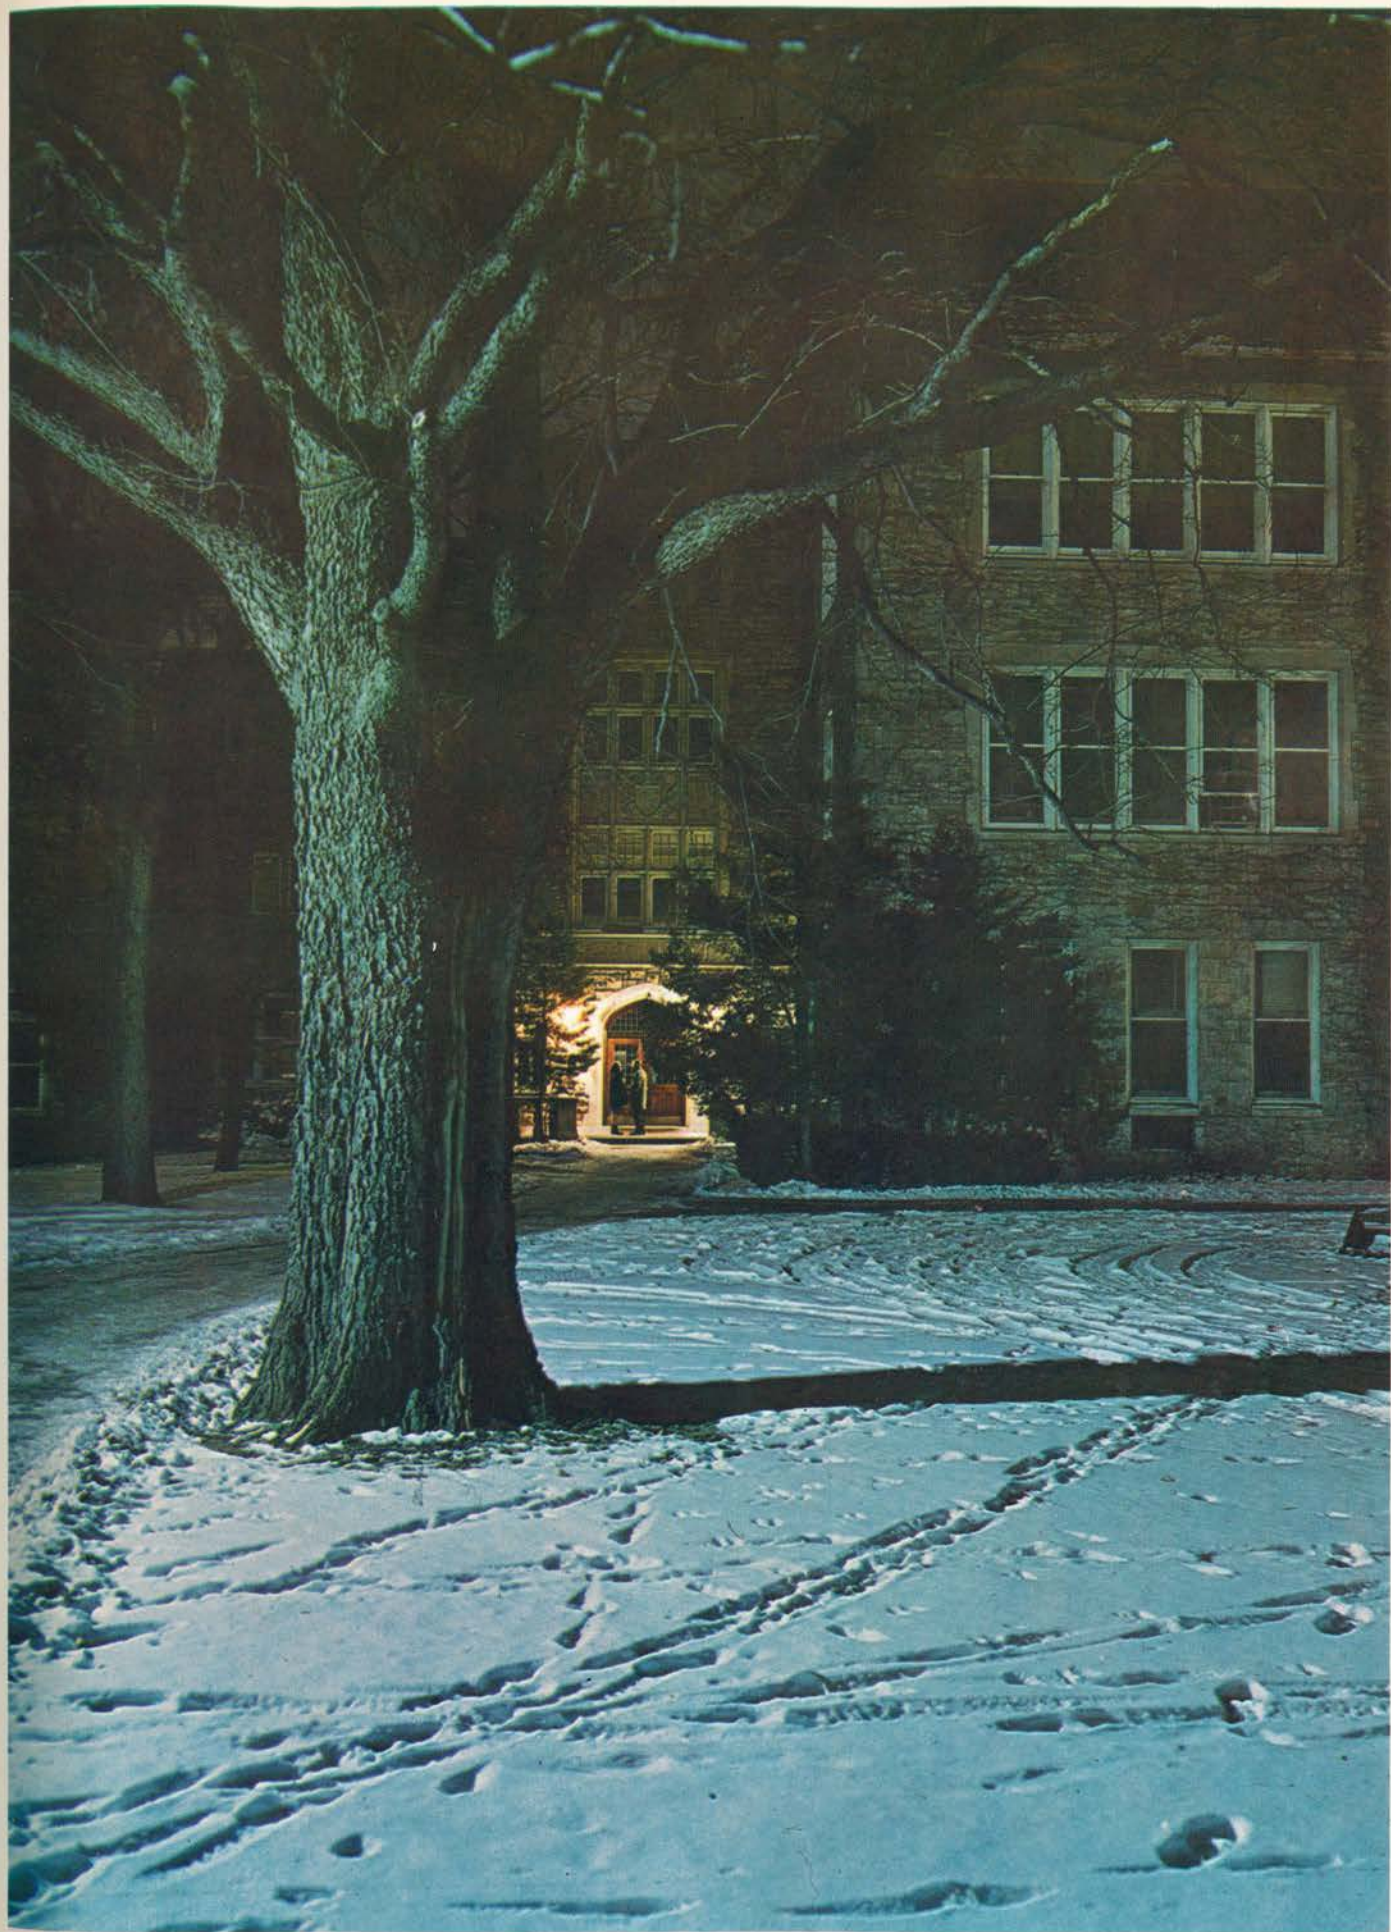

the Haag Hall crest,
the sun dial,

the "nifty-nudies", reminded us of our past identity.

Winter came to campus

with winter came snow.

Spring returned. The pond thawed.
The quad turned green...

Our parking problem didn't change.

WE HAVE CHOSEN UMKC
UMKC HAS CHOSEN US
THIS INDICATES OUR BELIEF IN IT

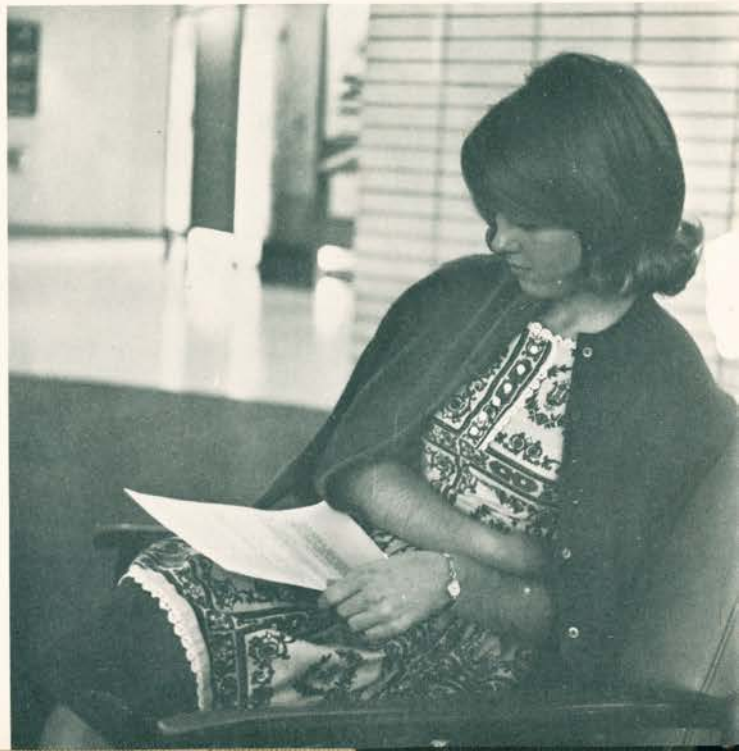

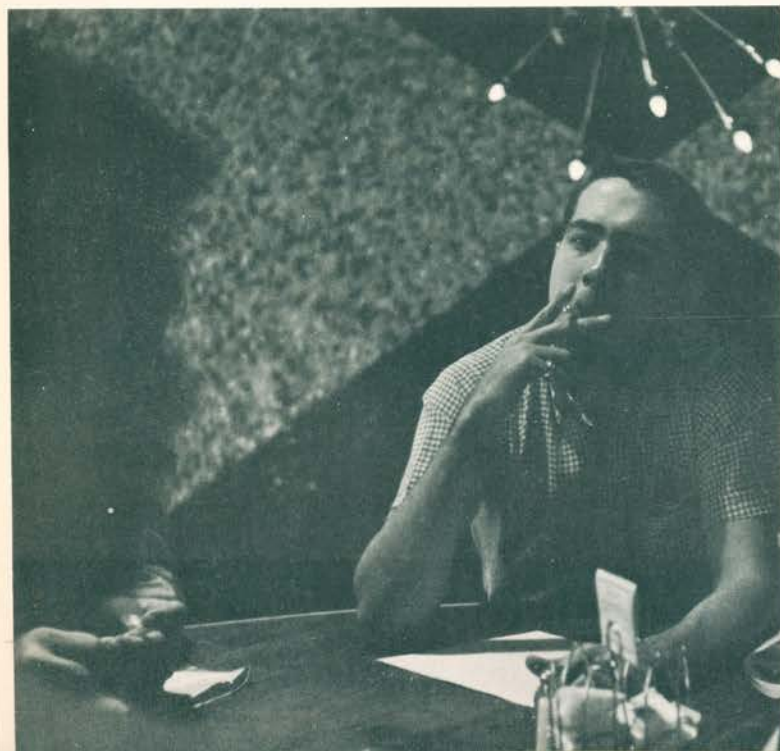

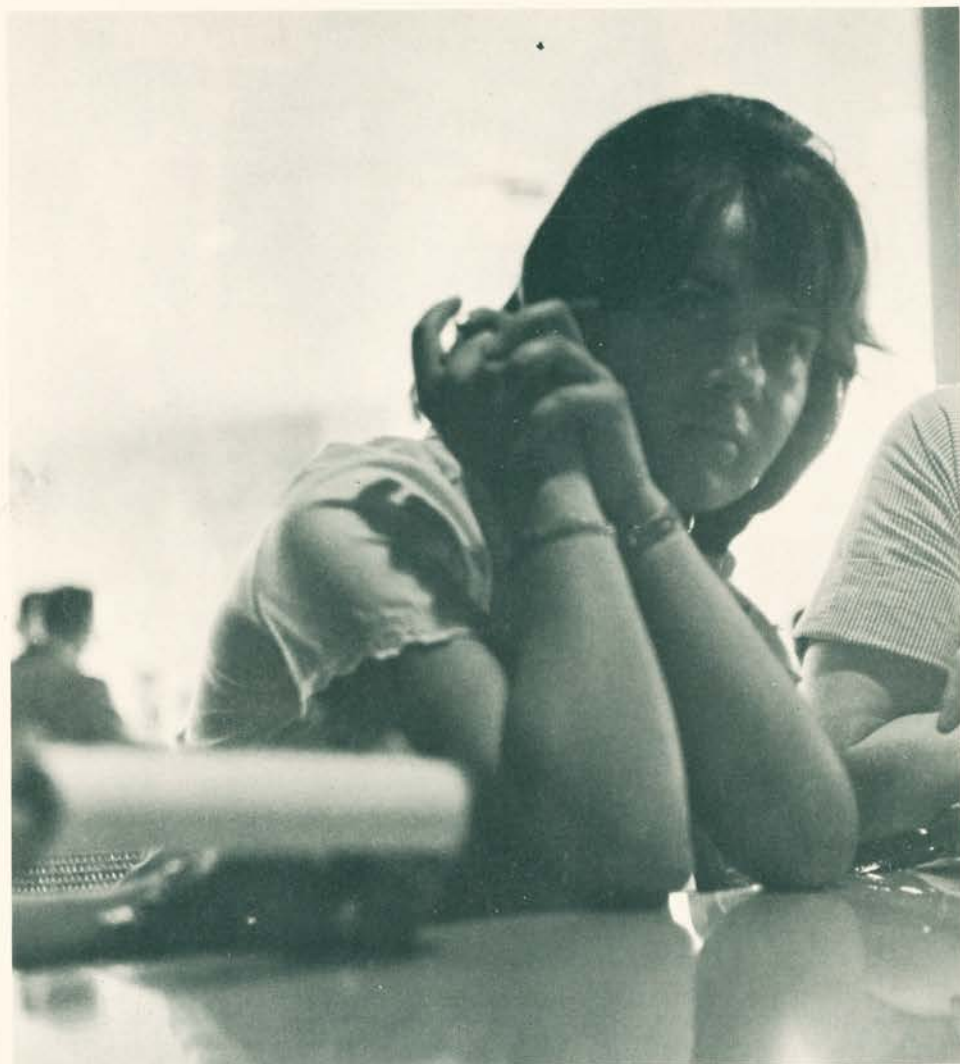

We came from everywhere united with a common interest...

*Orientation... Hurried Impressions
Expectations of things to come*

Some of the faces in the crowd became new friends.

Some

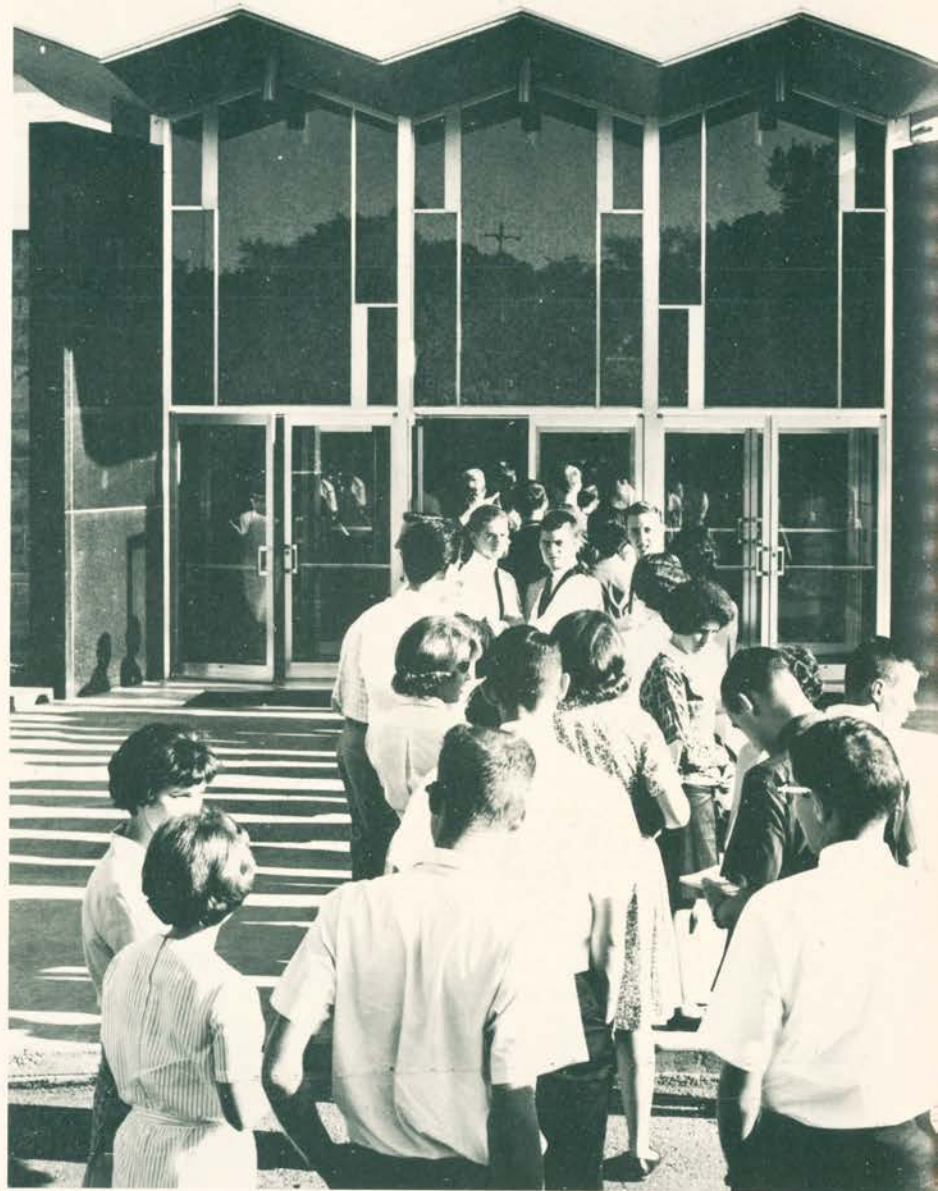

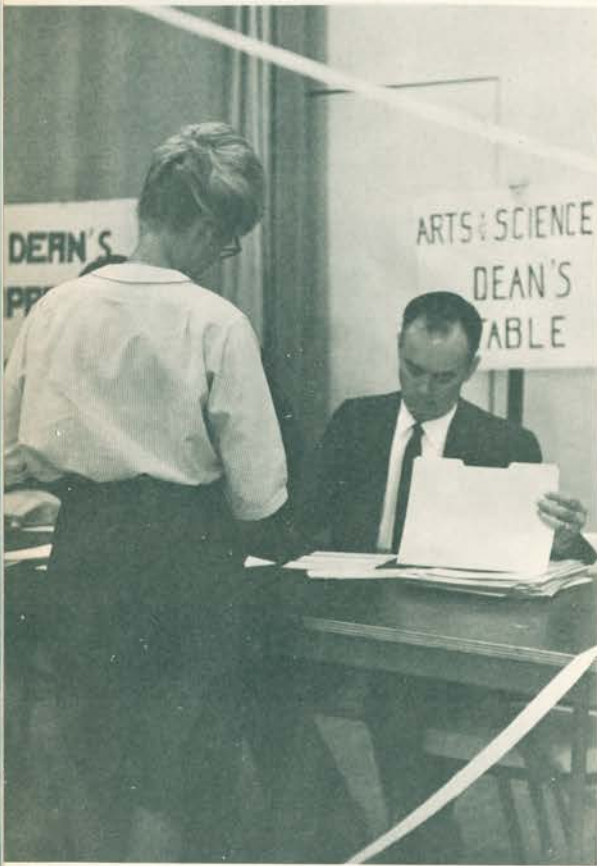

We liked

Better

Than others.

We stood, we waited...one alone, hundreds together.

Orientation 1964 will be remembered as a beginning, a series of firsts. The freshmen entered the different and unknown world of university life. Transfer students from other colleges brought a little of each college with them. Some hoped that somehow UMKC would seem a little familiar. Others hoped to bury memories of a college-past and build something new. Maybe UMKC became a little of both. We lost our individuality, and succumbed to herd-movements. We were a mass of new faces, a name among names or a number among numbers.

We attended lectures, met our peers, took placement tests, participated in discussion groups, and, on tired feet, under the blistering sun, we toured the campus. We were warned of the polluted pond, we viewed the nifty nudies, and we saw the buildings and classrooms where we would spend the next few years of our life. This was Orientation Week, when it all began.

The line of Registration moved on eight thousand tired feet. We were allowed thirty minutes to complete the process. We began, armed with a packet which reduced the story of our lives to a series of punched holes, and pencils which grew shorter with our patience.

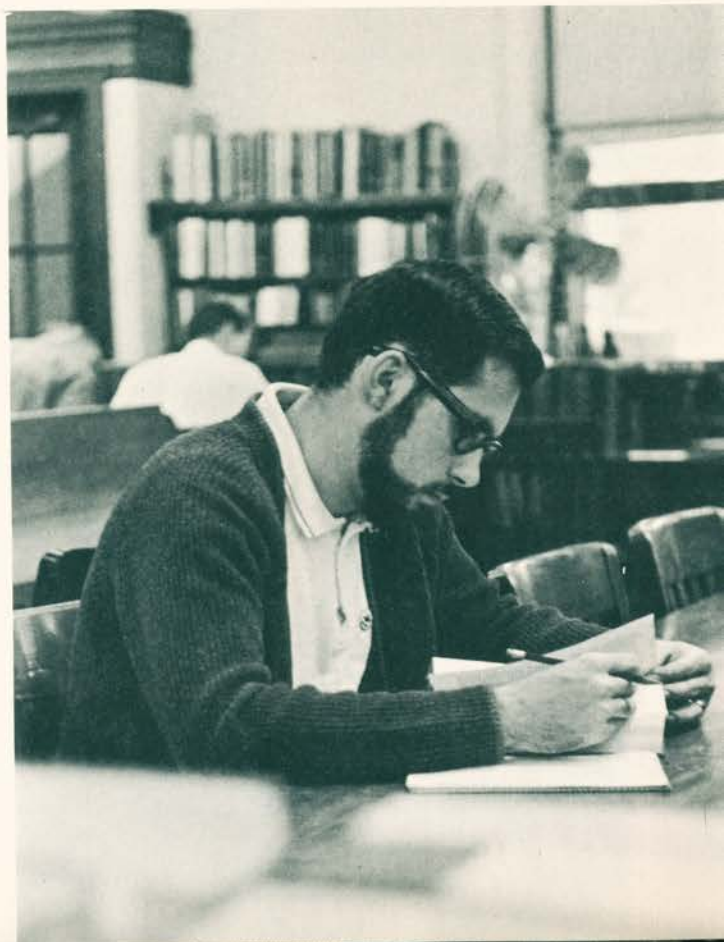

Many of us entered registration with carefully prearranged schedules of courses, and most of us emerged with carefully rearranged schedules of courses. We were greeted at each phase of the long line with a cheerful announcement that one by one our classes had closed out, and the line moved on.

At last we approached the beginning of the end. We were relieved of our course cards and the burden of our money. Attacked by the smiling faces of the yearbook staff, we tiredly agreed that the Kangaroo was a necessity, and convinced ourselves that, yes, we should take out life insurance. It was over. The line was behind us now.

From the long registration lines, we moved to long hours of classes and study. We were told we were not here to be taught but to learn. Before us opened new realms of thought and we began to live, rather than to exist. We moved in a world of ideas, challenged tradition, agreed and disagreed, and began to find ourselves as we learned from our classes, our studying, and from each other.

We were here

Not to be taught

But to learn...

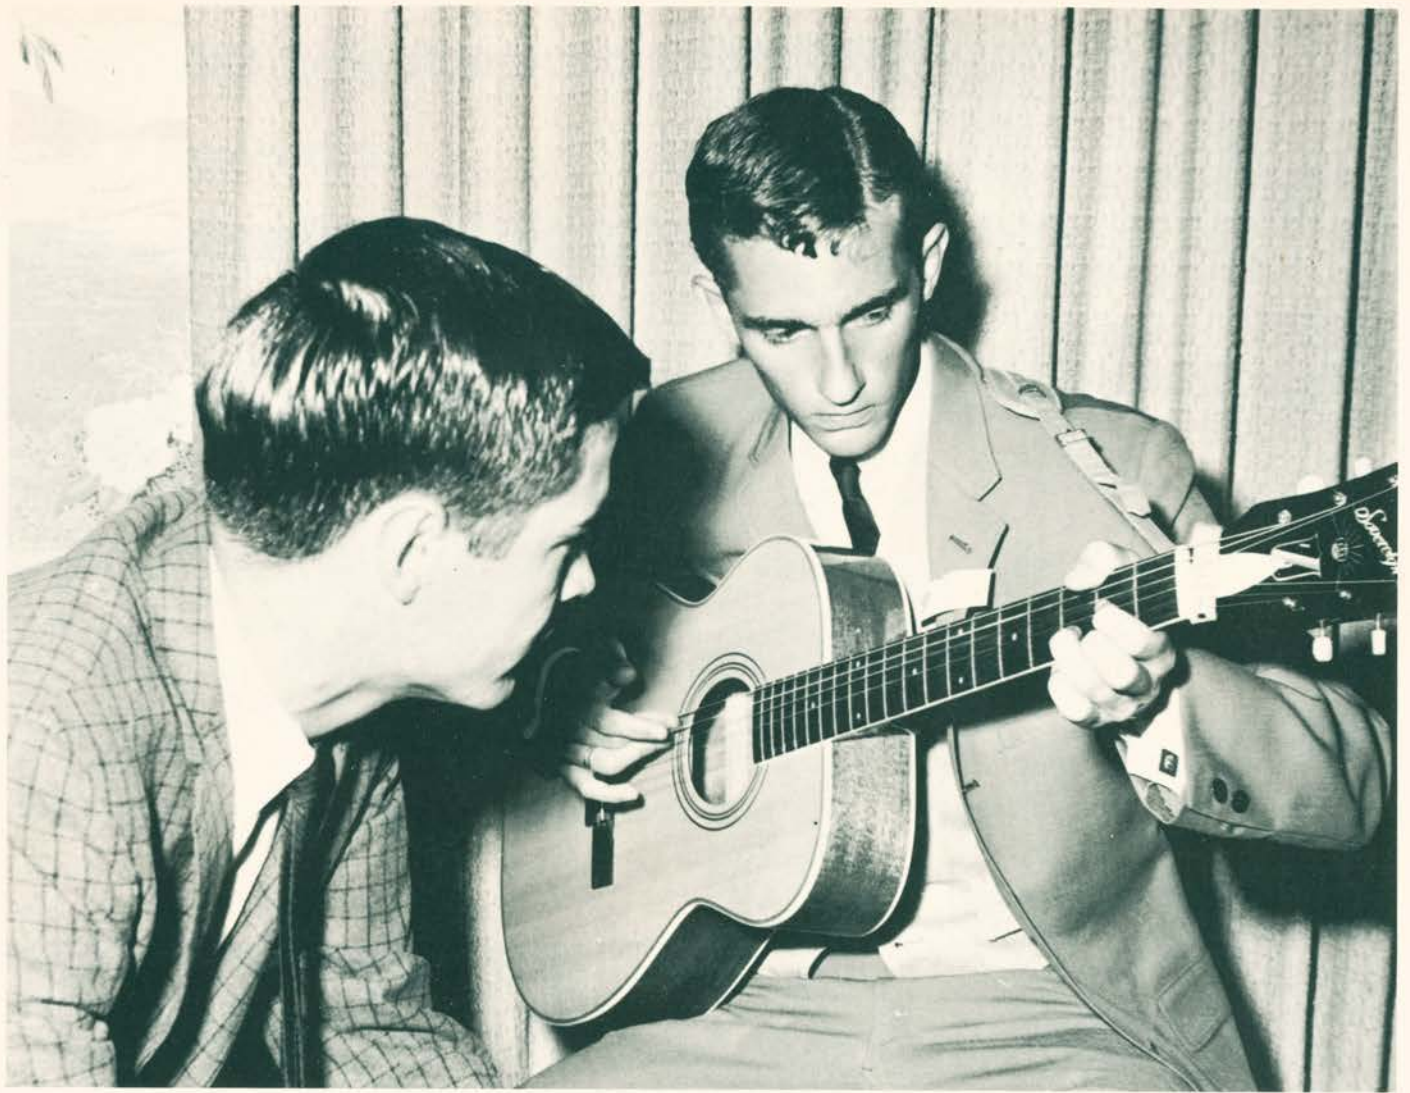

*College is more than

*It is people

*Working together, talking, planning, producing,

Dr. Carleton F. Scofield
Chancellor

On July 25, 1963, Dr. Carleton F. Scofield became the Chancellor of the University of Kansas City, now the University of Missouri at Kansas City. Since Chancellor Scofield came to the University as Executive Assistant to the Chancellor and Director of Graduate Studies in July, 1960, he has won the respect and admiration of everyone loyal to U.M.K.C. However, judging from Chancellor Scofield's past laurels, this success was to be expected. Chancellor Scofield received his A.B. in 1921, at Wesleyan University, Middletown, Connecticut, as a psychology major, and his Ph.D. in 1928 at Yale University. From 1928 to 1956, he served in the department of psychology at the University of Buffalo, Buffalo, New York, and eventually became a full professor and chairman of the department. Chancellor Scofield has to his credit numerous publications, psychology journals, miscellaneous popular articles, and a chapter in a book published by Penguin Books, "Psychology for the Fighting Man." He is a member of Sigma Xi, Society for the Psychological Study of Social Issues and American Association for the Advancement of Science.

With such a background, Chancellor Scofield's future with the University holds only promise. He is an administrator dedicated to the students and to bettering their education.

Myriads of details occupy a Chancellor's day.

Chancellor Scofield helps to change his title officially from "president" to "chancellor."

"I am convinced that no event taking place during my administration will have such far-reaching effect as creation of the state university system. The University of Missouri at Kansas City is certain to shine as a very bright star in that system. Its added luster will come because U.M.K.C. is to have not only the support of the State of Missouri, but supplemental financial aid from leading members of the Kansas City community—citizens who want "their" campus to have unusual qualities of educational excellence that might not come to it otherwise. I know this is going to be a campus for greatness, and I am proud of the new title it wears. In behalf of all Missourians, I say to its students and its staff, "Welcome Aboard!"

THE ADMINISTRATION

Faculty and administration must work together, discussing and solving problems, and in an atmosphere of mutual understanding and co-operation.

Dean of Students, Wheaton S. Bloch, is never too busy to discuss a problem or counsel students.

Dean Wheadon Bloch, Dean of Students, has as his foremost administrative duty, the handling of student problems, academic, personal and financial. Maintaining the official obligations of his office, as well as a close contact with the students themselves, Dean Bloch serves as a liaison between the students and the administration. The Dean of Students acts on many different levels of responsibility, serving as ADVISOR, to the Student Council, Torch and Scroll, Interfraternity Council; Chairman, Student Aid Committee, Extra-curricular Policy Committee, Student Conduct Committee; MEMBER, Admissions and Academic Requirements Committee, traffic Committee, University Center Board; SECRETARY, Omicron Delta Kappa; SUPERVISOR, Residence Hall, Student Financial Aids, Student Health, Student Placement, Counseling, and Testing.

Charles L. Linn, Business Manager

Charles L. Linn must meet the responsibility of all the business and financial operations of the university. The major areas include bursar operations, supervision of the physical plant and grounds, and all activities connected with university expansion and development. Auxiliary enterprises include the bookstore, mail delivery, duplicating, campus transportation, faculty housing.

Charles L. Linn, Business Manager; Bob Oberland, Superintendent, Buildings and Grounds; James E. Pearce, Assistant to Business Manager; Mel C. Kirk, Bursar; Evelyn Eastwood, Superintendent, Addressograph; Kathryn Byers, Superintendent, Duplication; Leonard Fagan, Purchasing.

Leo J. Sweeney, Director of Admissions and Registrar, plans and supervises the operations of U.M.K.C.'s admissions office, the registrations office, the records office and the data processing center. His duties and responsibilities, relative to students, are constantly expanding with the university.

Leo J. Sweeney, Director of Admissions

Mr. Ralph M. Henderson, Associate Director of Admissions; Mrs. Jessie M. Gilmore, Associate Registrar; Mr. Charles G. Volk, Director of Data Processing; Mr. Leo J. Sweeney, Director of Admissions and Registrar.

Ed Barth, University Center Director

Ed Barth, Director of The University Center, and co-ordinator of student activities, is responsible for the administration and functioning of The University Center. In connection with the general co-ordination of the department of student activities, he works closely with students on The Center Board and through his interest in The All Student Association.

Kenneth J. LaBudde, Director of Libraries

Kenneth J. LaBudde, Director of Libraries and Professor of History, in addition to teaching and publishing, has the responsibility of learning the library needs of faculty and students. He must plan how they can be met, determine the priority in meeting needs as resources become available, and supervise the operations designed to meet these needs. He is responsible for seeking the library collections, staff, and buildings which will support and advance the University academically.

James L. Fries, Director of University Relations

Jim Fries, Director of University Relations, is responsible for creating and maintaining opinion throughout the community and state. This climate of opinion will provide the interest and support necessary for the University to achieve its various academic and public service goals.

James Fries, Director of Public Relations; Mariellen Deveney, Secretary to Mr. Fries; Robert Hencey, Director of Publications; Edwina McLaughlin, Gift Recorder; Lowell Erickson, Assistant Director, University Funds; William Lund, Director, Alumnae Relations; George Speer, Staff Assistant, University Relations; Eleanor Dittmore, Secretary to Mr. Lund; Adriana Howell, Record Clerk; Sherry Goodman, Secretary; Vesta Benson, Secretary to Board of Trustees.

Mrs. Mary Norberg, Secretary; Mrs. Iona Henderson, Administrations secretary; Mrs. Dorothy Wilson, Assistant Director; Mr. Walter B. Wright, Director.

Walter B. Wright, Director of the Division for Continuing Education, is responsible for a non-credit educational program that may involve all divisions of the university. He works closely with each dean in developing, co-ordinating, budgeting and implementing a program that not only is consistent with university policy but also provides each division maximum opportunity to develop its area of interest to the fullest. He communicates with other members of the university community through the Non-credit Program Committee of the University Senate. Working relations are maintained with individuals and organizations in the community in order to effectively and efficiently use the university's resources to fulfill their educational needs.

Walter B. Wright, Director of Continuing Education

Stanley S. Dalen, Administrative Assistant to the Chancellor.

The function of the Administrative Assistant to the Chancellor is to handle administrative matters and details that are delegated to him by the Chancellor. This includes coordination and liaison with other divisions of the University. In addition, Mr. Dalen supervises and directs the operation of the Chancellor's Office and, at the request of the Chancellor, handles special projects that do not come within the scope of other University divisions.

Mrs. Alberta Manley, Secretary to Stan Dalen; Mrs. Virginia Bradish, Secretary to Chancellor Scofield.

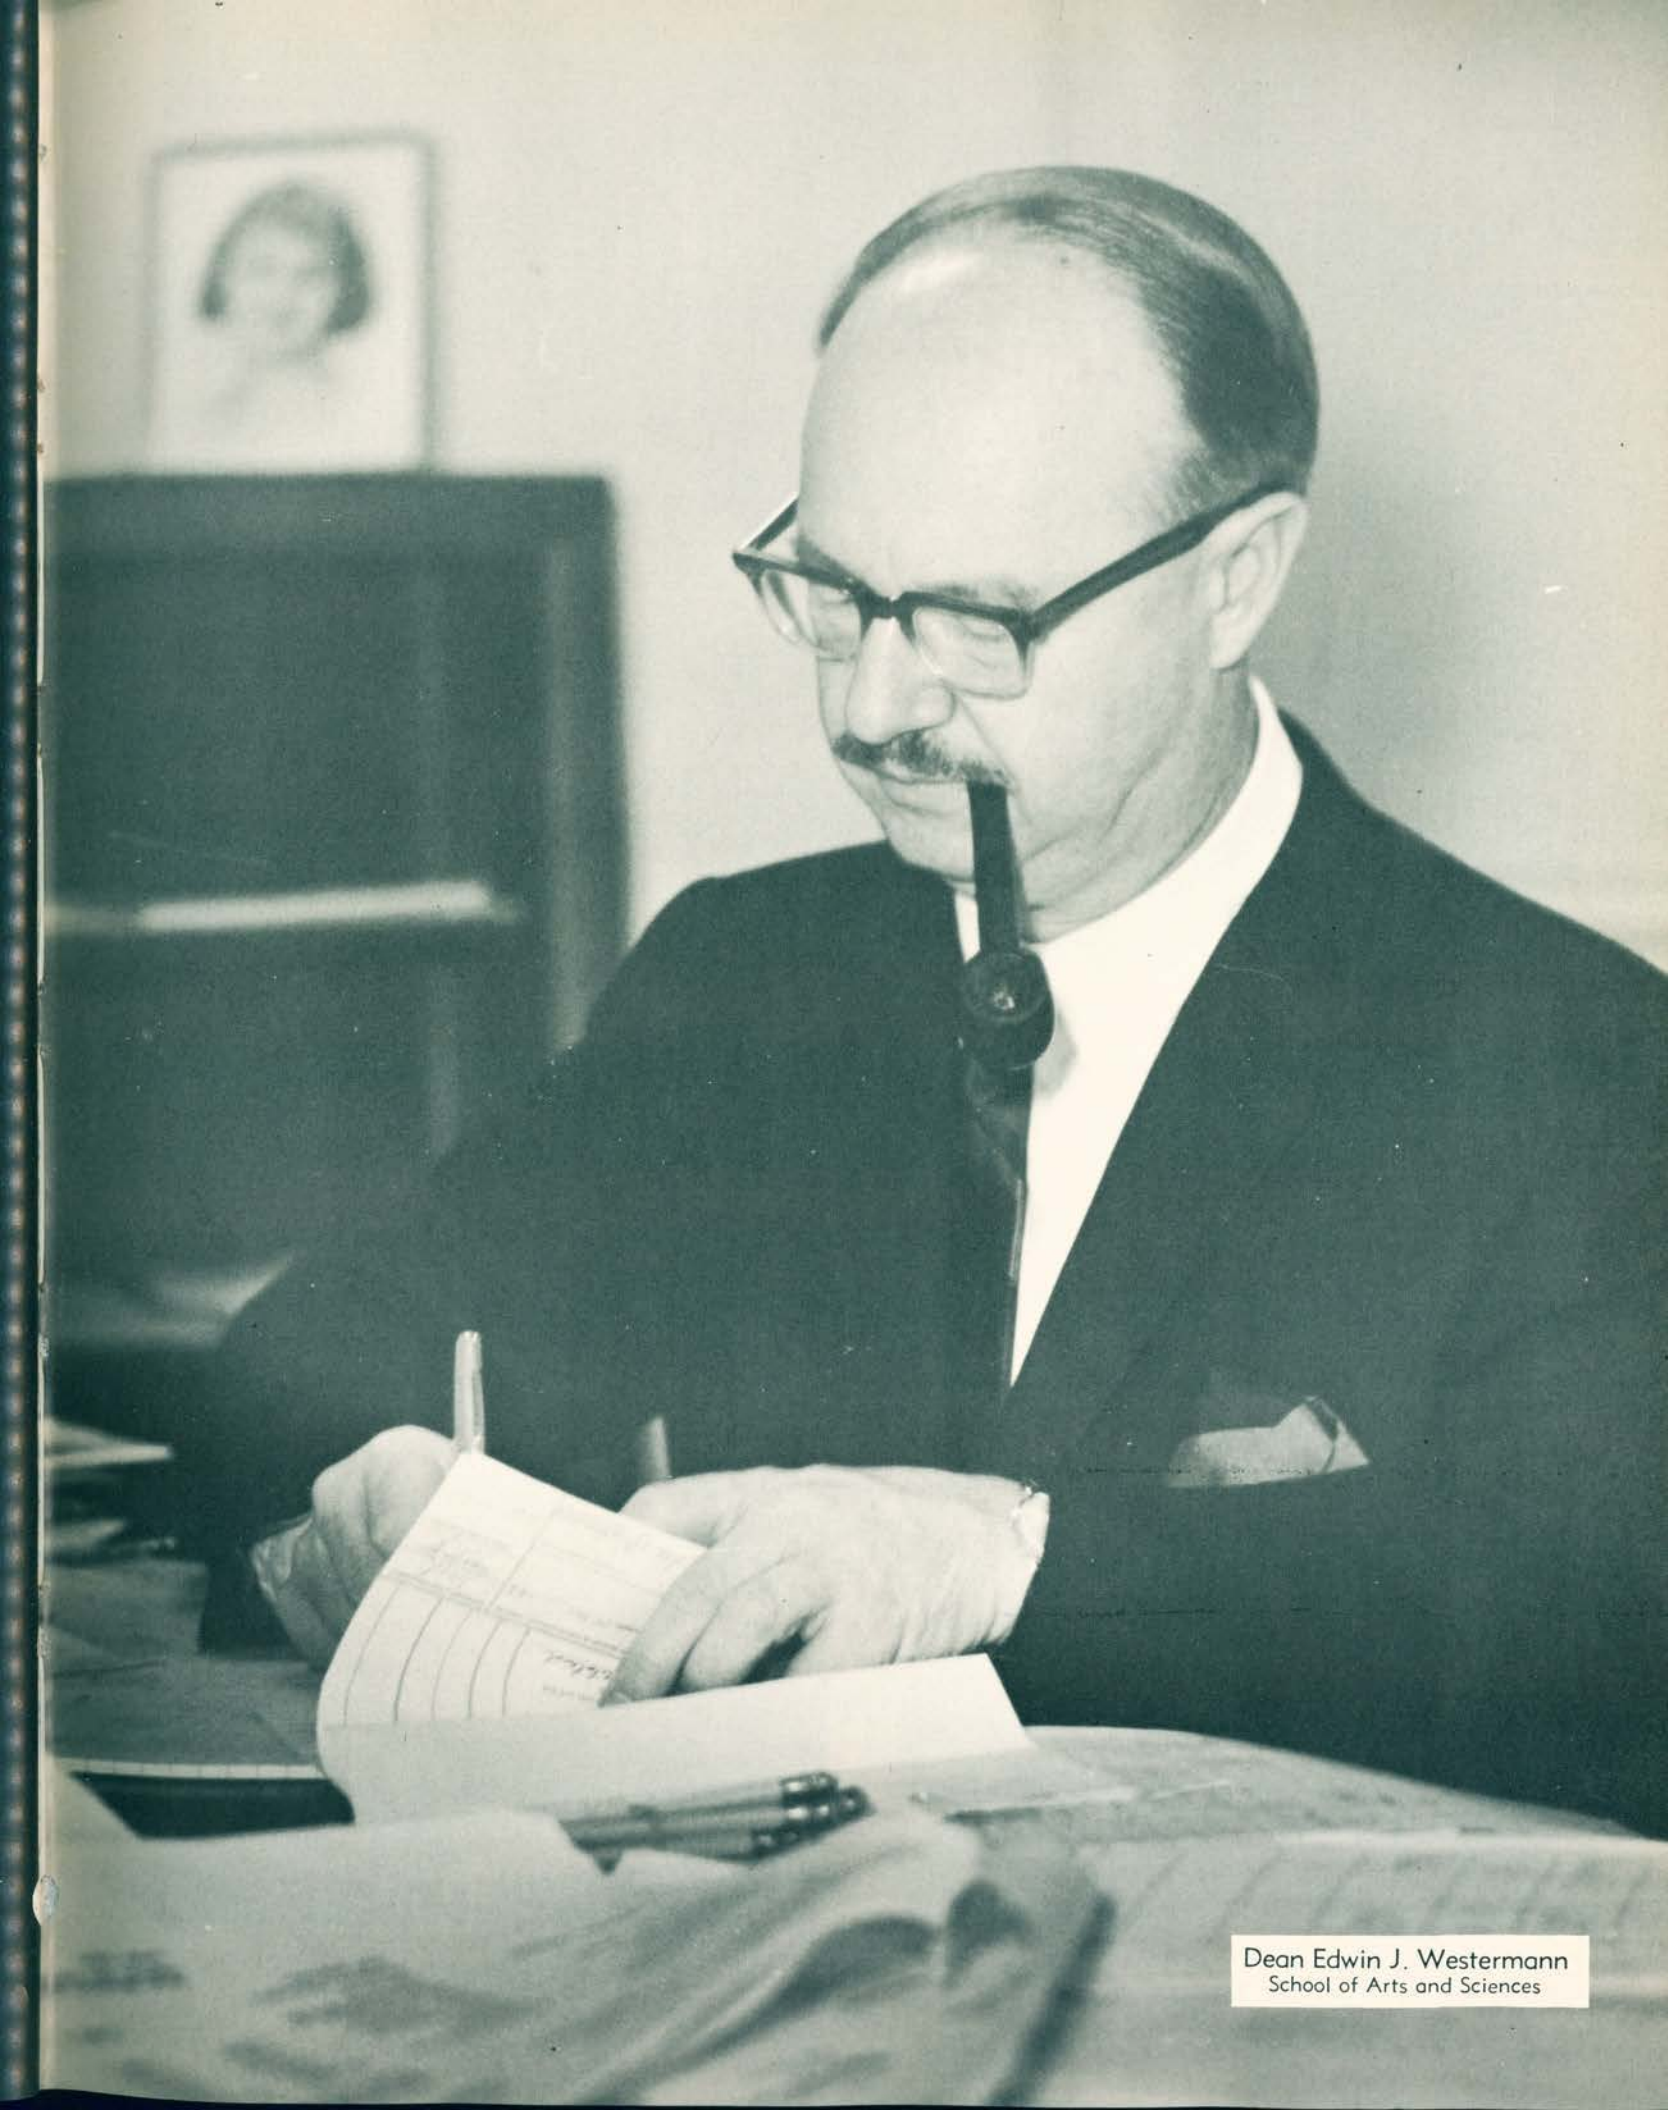

7 schools form the core of U.M.K.C. The function of a university, education and inquiry, is located in these seven schools. The College of Arts and Sciences touches all students, regardless of their major interest, through required foundations courses. The other six schools provide professional training in Business Administration, Music, Dentistry, Education, Pharmacy, and Law Initiative on the part of the student is the determining factor in a successful academic program. University facilities, deans faculty, and administration provide the materials, but students achieve their own degree of educational attainment through individual inquiry and their academic dedication. The honors program in the College of Arts and Sciences allows a group of College Scholars to participate in a program that cuts across departmental lines and provides an opportunity for greater freedom and independent study. The Dean's List, a cumulative scholastic record of students who rank in the upper ten per-cent of their class, honors superior students. Seniors on the Dean's List are graduated "with distinction." Omicron Delta Kappa, men's honorary, and Delta Alpha, honorary for women recognize outstanding students each year. Honorary societies in all schools promote scholarship in the professions. The University Graduate School provides advanced education to qualified students. The Division for Continuing Education is dedicated to the idea that education is a life-long process. It offers adult education courses. These university divisions work together to form not a 'multi-' but a "uni-"versity. They are the framework around which U.M.K.C. is built.

The College of Arts and Sciences is the keystone of the structure of the university. It offers a foundations program in the humanities and natural and social sciences which endeavors to broaden the student's scope of knowledge. It is hoped that this broad educational background will provide students with the basic ideas and the values needed for the development of intelligent citizens. The student who has not yet realized his educational objectives may enroll in this college. He may take a variety of courses and make an effort to discover his abilities and interests. In this way, the student avoids the possible loss of time that could occur if he specializes too early and later finds that he must change his program. After completing his sophomore year in the College of Arts and Sciences, the student may change to one of the professional schools or may remain in this college to work toward his degree. There are sixteen major departments which make up the curriculum of the college. Nine departments offer masters degrees. Also included in the available courses of study are a nursing program and a medical technology program. A general engineering course which is not usually offered in the engineering program, is a special feature of this department. Although there were no new additions in the curriculum of the college this year, a constant scrutiny of the curriculum was carried out in order to determine its application to the changing times. Charged with the responsibility of keeping the College of Arts and Sciences running smoothly is Dean Edwin J. Westermann. Dean Westermann received his degree from the University of Colorado, where he taught for a year. Dean Westermann has been at the University since 1946. He served as Acting Dean of the College of Arts and Sciences, in 1960 and 1961, and became the official head of the College in 1962. Dr. Westermann is an authority on the social and intellectual history of the Middle Ages and English History, and this remains his major field of interest.

BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION

In recent years, a fundamental change has taken place in the attitude of businessmen toward a formal business education. Because of the increasing complexity and rapid development in industrial practice and technology and because of the growing public responsibilities of business, industrial leaders and those responsible for the management of enterprises expect from universities a student with greater maturity and sophistication than at any time in the past. There is a great need for persons who are capable of breadth of development. Many employers instead of placing all their hopes in obtaining the relatively few persons who have the inclination and means to educate themselves, are spending company funds to aid potential managers as a matter of business policy. A second responsibility of business schools is to assist the student in gaining a perspective of the world in which he lives in order that his life may be one of integrity and service. Since the initiation of its new program in 1958, The School of Business Administration has been a recognized leader in educating persons to meet the growing demands which American industrial dynamics place upon them. The dean of The School of Business Administration, Reverdy T. Gliddon, must work with the faculty in developing programs which keep pace with the developing knowledge of physical and social sciences, on the one hand, and the ethical and professional problems which grow out of the emerging economic system, on the other. The Business School, by providing leadership through proper education of students, can liberate the creativity of prospective business and community leaders. It can equip them to advance with the future as the next generation of leaders. The role of The School of Business Administration is to create effective professional administrators and responsible civic leaders.

SCHOOL OF DENTISTRY

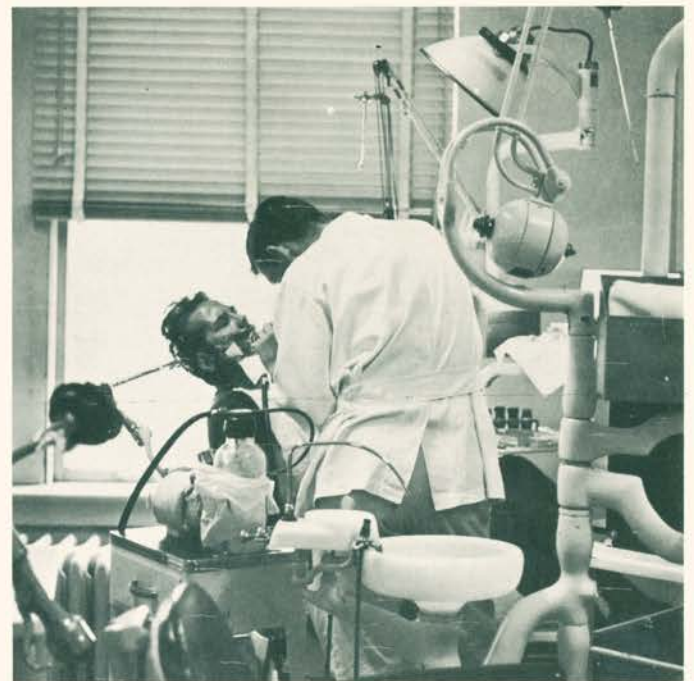

The School of Dentistry is separate from the main campus and is surrounded by a non-collegiate, urban atmosphere. An upper-level dental student, once he has completed his foundations program, moves full-time to the downtown location and is not only physically, but circumstantially isolated from campus life. He is engaged in the demanding study of health sciences. Students who are not associated with the study of dentistry often have vague ideas about the dental curriculum. The dental student must learn basic mechanical skills, but he is more than a craftsman. He is an individual involved in the total care of patients. The mainstay of a dental education is the study of basic medical sciences. This involves learning to diagnose and treat diseases which enter the body through the teeth and gums. This is accomplished through classroom study and practice with cases. The dental student must have a thorough knowledge of the function of the mouth, the structure of bone and flesh tissue, and the diseases which affect them. He must also have considerable knowledge of general medicine, enough to be a competent surgeon, and a practical knowledge of anesthetics and the use of the X-Ray. Over eighty percent of the drugs, instruments and materials used by dentists today were research curiosities in the nineteen-forties. Dental students are encouraged to research and to employ new methods and tools so that they will be able to advance with their profession. The dental school is not only an institution of learning, it is a research center. Through recent research, the dental school has branched out into the study of bone diseases and into other fields not usually associated with dentistry. Such research is initiated by staff members and involves interested and enterprising students. The only course at U.M.K.C. which is open only to women is the Dental Hygiene Program. Students studying for a degree in Dental Hygiene must complete one year of a liberal arts education before entering dental school. The minimum course of study is two years in dental school and students may continue for a fourth year and obtain their Bachelor of Science degree. A modern dental building is planned for completion in 1967. This building will mean more facilities for additional students of dentistry and dental hygiene, and will make possible expanded graduate and post-graduate programs. Dean Robinson, head of The School of Dentistry, is concerned with equipping dental students for the future. He advocates that they should not be molded in the image of their teachers, but should be encouraged to advance in knowledge and research. Dean Robinson enjoys teaching classes, for in this way he maintains contact with students in a capacity other than that of an administrator.

Since its establishment in 1954, the School of Education has expanded rapidly in both its curricular offerings and its enrollment. Through a well-designed and well-balanced program it endeavors to help the student develop as a person, as a citizen, and as a professional. Four degree programs; the Bachelor of Arts, Master of Arts, Educational Specialist, and Doctor of Philosophy are offered, which include preparation for such fields as teaching, school administration, school supervision and counseling. This year's enrollment, numbering 500, increased 40 percent over last year's enrollment, and it is speculated that by 1970 there will be 1500 students enrolled in the school. In its 10 years of history the School of Education has received 10 grants and contracts from foundations and the United States Government totaling over $800,000, the largest grant coming from the Ford Foundation. This grant is being used in numerous capacities extending to research projects, scholarships and fellowships, and reconstruction of the school's curriculum. The School of Education is a member of the American Association of Colleges of Teacher Education, and its Bachelor of Arts, Master of Arts, and Doctor of Philosophy degree programs are accredited by the North Central Association. Presiding over the School of Education is Dean Hugh W. Speer who was chairman of the Department of Education before maintaining the position of Dean of the School when it was established. Dean Speer said of his job in the development of the school, "It is to plan the development in both a short range and long range way . . . in order to meet its needs and take advantage of the opportunities in its environment . . . and, to recruit the best possible faculty and most capable students."

Personal teaching problems are easily solved when they can be discussed with a competent colleague.

Learning from others is an important part of any teacher-training program.

Although the Law School is located on the main campus, separated from the cluster of buildings on the quadrangle by only one street, it has a graduate school atmosphere which sets it apart. The primary objective of The School of Law is to train men and women for the practice of law. Graduates, however, choose to enter related fields such as government or business. While the emphasis in Law School is placed on a thorough knowledge of the principles, processes, and institutions of the Anglo-American system of law, the integration of law with the physical and social sciences and with ethical and philosophical systems is not neglected. The lawyer, in order to be of utmost service to his clients must appreciate the fundamental unity of all social and political phenomena. The method of instruction in Law School is different from any other university division. The Case Method is used. This involves the analysis, comparison and synthesis of cases decided by the various courts. It also permits the use of the Socratic method of instruction. The program is augmented by some training in the skills of the law. An example of this is the trial and practice course given in the senior year. Each student prepares and tries a case before judge and jury. The experience squarely coincides with that which the student will have when he enters the law profession. The State Bar Examination, a comprehensive examination designed to determine whether the candidate has acquired the professional competence necessary to enter the legal profession, is a hurdle which every law student must overcome. Students are conscious of this from the beginning of their law school career and prepare themselves for this eventuality and ultimately for professional service. The Dean of Law School, Dean Frederick Lewis, is best characterized by this motto which he uses frequently in his everyday dealings with others and which reflects his general positive approach to problems. "If it is worth doing, there is no word, 'can't'. The question is 'how'." The important thing is the solution. Finding excuses is unacceptable. Coupled with this approach is his personal enthusiasm which he tries to instill in law students because he feels that, as potential lawyers, they should possess an abiding zeal for service to client and to community.

Arts and Science Council

The Arts and Sciences Council, as the representative body of the College of Arts and Sciences, has made steps this year to secure a more efficient and smoother working council to benefit the College. We have strived to supply ideas and guidance to the students and the administration in the various areas of student activities.

Dental Executive Council

The Executive council for the School of Dentistry was formed for the purpose of providing a means of official communication between the school administration and the students of the school. In recent years this purpose has been effectively fulfilled through the efforts of the school administration representatives and the student members who make up the council. Each of the four classes in the school send their respective class officers as delegates and the senior class president presides with the senior vice-president acting as secretary-treasurer for the body. This past year Dr. Jack E. Wells, administrative assistant to the Dean of the Dental School, has continued in the capacity of faculty representative. Dr. Wells' cooperation with the council was largely responsible for the measure of success achieved this year.

The Council met monthly through the year with the final meeting held jointly with the newly elected council members for the coming year and Dean Hamilton B. G. Robinson. Formulation and administration of the dental school budget, proposals for improved conditions on both the freshman-sophomore and the clinic levels, and deliberation of extra-curricular problems are some of the major subjects before the council during this academic year.

Solving problems via a group discussion.

Student Bar

The Student Bar Association is composed of the student body of the Law School. The Board of Governors is the student governing body and consists of representatives elected by the members of the Student Bar Association. Meeting at least once each month, the board routinely acts in the areas of finance, orientation of new students, professional seminars, speakers' programs, and social functions of the Law School. In addition, it handles special programs and problems germane to the student body.

Highlights of this year's activities included a highly successful Christmas dance, "In re Noel," a panel discussion of various legal careers by prominent local attorneys, informal student-faculty meetings, and the sponsorship of the Freshman Case Club Appellate Competition.

However, the primary function of the Student Bar Association is to prepare its members for the legal careers which lie ahead by not only encouraging them to become acquainted with some of the practical problems with which they will be confronted, but by instilling within the members a sense of professional responsibility to their clients and to their community. It is, after all, this sense of professional responsibility, instilled while a student, by which a lawyer and his school will ultimately be judged.

Education Council

Front Row: Ronni Bisman, President; Chari Winn, Secretary; Jane Frieze, ASA Representative; Karen Peterson, Treasurer; Shirley Capps, Vice-President.

Business School Council: Nelson Adams, Louie Lravalent; Jerry Stewart, Chuck Ventimiglia, Fred Johnson, Larry Kirkhart, Rich Tavella, Henry Gillespi, Steve Hammer, Roger Shively, George Gant, Jim Copeland, Steve McGinnis, Larry Blessing, Tyler Alexander, Ed Doherty, George Le Bonte, Ken Gottschall, Dean DeWald.

The Business School Student Association, consisting of 80 members, enjoyed a very productive year. The Wallstreet Waltz was attended by the largest percentage of students than ever before. An informal discussion group met every two weeks to discuss everything from soup to sociological economics and provided the students with enjoyable evenings at an intellectual level. This years' Business Day provided students with an insight into the philosophy and relationship of the School to the business world, and of business in general.

American Pharmaceutical Association

The American Pharmaceutical Association (A. Ph. A.) is the governing body of the School of Pharmacy. Chartered in 1947, it was the first national professional organization at UMKC. All full-time students in the School of Pharmacy are members of the association. The A. Ph. A. had monthly meetings, at which time the business for the group was taken care of and special programs were presented. These programs were held in an attempt to bring the students up to date on campus activities. Several speakers throughout the year were presented.

American Pharmaceutical Association: Tom Frazier, Student Council Rep.; Bert McClary, Treasurer; Norman Waitley, President; Velda Hinnen, Secretary; Al Durand, Vice President; Jon Genisio, Student Council Rep.

SPOTLIGHT ON FACULTY

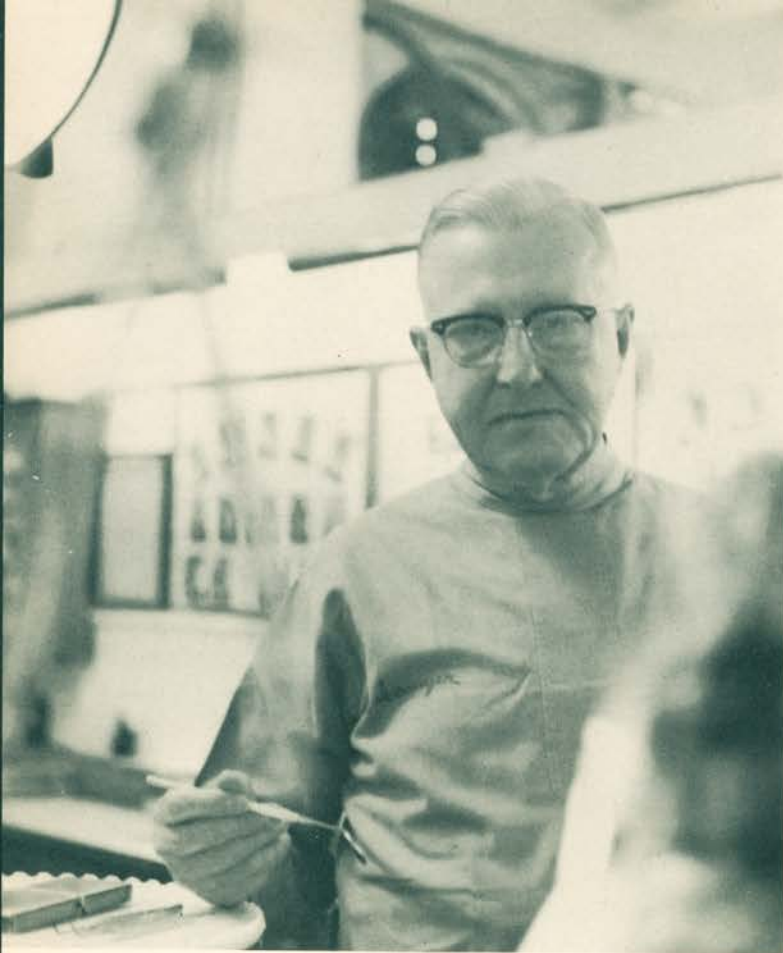

Doors of opportunity are opened wide to students by outstanding professors who are evidence of the value of real scholarship. Their academic achievements are many, but academic qualifications are only one part of teaching. Educators must not only give of their knowledge but must give of themselves to make education a dynamic, living experience. This spotlight is focused on a cross-section of professors, one from each school. It is to them that this section is dedicated. We hope it will become a yearbook tradition.

ARTS AND SCIENCES

Samson Soloveitchik

In 1946 an interesting and arresting scholar wearing a blue beret and carrying a cane came to this university. Professor Samson Soloveitchik became in a short time a familiar figure on campus. Not only his scholarship, which is both wide and deep, but also his innate kindliness and humanity quickly endeared him to the faculty and students alike. His colleagues will long remember his sharp questions and his passionate devotion to the democratic processes. Born in Russia well before the beginning of the present century, Professor Soloveitchik soon attached himself to the liberal movement in that country. He was a colleague of Kerensky's regime. With his wife and child he fled the Bolsheviks for his life, coming to rest finally in Paris. In 1940, he and his family again fled Paris, this time in the face of the advancing German army, and found a haven in the United States. Fortuitous circumstances brought him to Kansas City and its University. Still vigorous in Mind, Professor Soloveitchik has continued to teach far beyond the usual age of retirement. The contributions which men make to the life of an institution are by no means identical. In the present instance, it is the force of professor Soloveitchik's character and the impression of his personality upon the University that will be long cherished and remembered.

DENTISTRY

Dr. Carl Sawyer

Dr. Carl Sawyer, who has taught at the School of Dentistry continuously for thirty-eight years, accepted his first appointment seven years before the first classes were held on the Volker campus. Dr. Sawyer has taught in the clinic all these years and is recognized for his outstanding ability in teaching the restoration of teeth with gold foil. He has served as Director and Coordinator of the large general clinic of the school, and since 1932 has taught the carving of teeth and their anatomy to first year dental students. In 1946 he became a full professor and served for many years as the Chairman of the Department of Operative Dentistry. In 1936 he was relieved of that chairmanship so that he might devote more time to Endodontics, the treatment of the root canals, and to become the first chairman of that department. Dr. Sawyer is recognized as a capable teacher in the clinic laboratory and lecture room and has been in demand as a speaker by dental societies both locally and nationally. He is the author of many recognized articles in the field of dentistry. Dr. Sawyer's office is affectionately referred to as "Carl's Bad Cavern" by his devoted and appreciative students who find his guidance both necessary and enjoyable.

PHARMACY

Lyle Willits

There are strong ties between Professor Willits and his students. He is never too busy to listen to problems or to counsel or advise. This feeling of closeness causes almost everyone automatically to know Professor Willits simply as "Lyle". His relationship with his students results partially from his work as Chief Pharmacist in the Dispensary. Here, he trains Pharmacy students in the actual dispensation of pharmaceuticals. Mr. Willits is introduced to freshmen by his course in Metrology. His senior course, Dispensing Pharmacy, is considered a highlight of the Pharmacy School curriculum. Mr. Willits has given freely of his time and services for the good of his students. He goes beyond the confines of the University and into the city through his work in many Kansas City Hospitals. He is active in alumni affiliations and is a Past President of the Pharmacy Association. From 1960-62 he was Assistant Dean. Mr. Willits teaches his students with a tenacity of purpose, and to them, he is both an educator and a friend.

CONSERVATORY OF MUSIC

Stanley Deacon

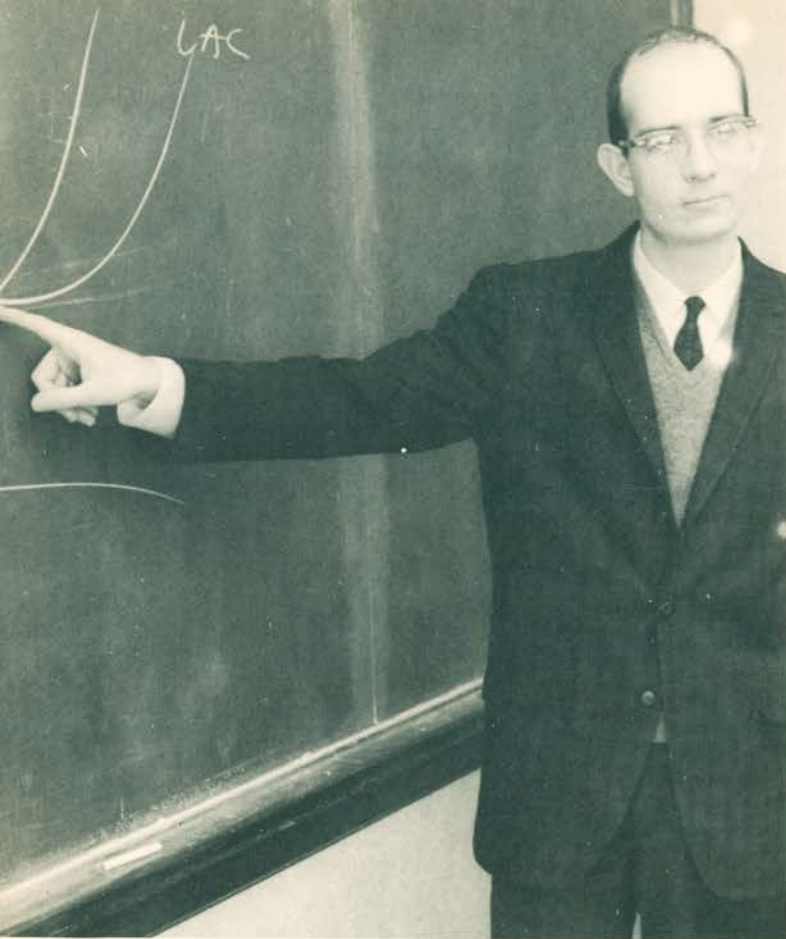

Stanley Deacon is known as an accomplished Baritone, teacher, lecturer, and author. During the 1920's he began his outstanding career as a concert artist. He has sung in countless operas, oratorios, and concerts. Mr. Deacon comments that he has participated in every phase of vocal music except Burlesque and admits candidly that he still has this to look forward to. Mr. Deacon has produced many fine singers. He has long been a favorite of students, for he takes a personal interest in all their activities. The Conservatory adopted a Christmas program in 1927, which has since become an annual tradition. An integral part of this tradition is Mr. Deacon's performance of "The Birthday of a King," one of the highlights of the Christmas musical season. Mr. Deacon's classes are informal, his lectures are personal, and his teaching is of great value to all those training in the musical arts. His scope of knowledge is diverse and he is admired not only for his knowledge of things past, but for his open-mindedness, and his contemporary view.

EDUCATION

Margaret Dudley

Miss Margaret Dudley has distinguished herself on three continents as well as at UMKC. She directed a school for American children in Venezuela from 1943 to 1947. She went to Iran on an educational mission in 1953-1954 under the Smith Mundt Act, serving part of the time in teacher-training in the remote northwest province of Azerbaijan during the Mossadegh revolutionary period. She was a member of a school improvement team in Pakistan under a Fulbright award. She has been on the Educational faculty since 1949, and under her leadership the elementary education division has developed into one of the outstanding programs of the Midwest. Many teachers in the area have enjoyed Miss Dudley's Children's Literature course. She has pioneered in the new mathematics, teaching classes regularly on campus and whole faculties off campus. In 1958 Miss Dudley was the first recipient of the AAUW Chair of Learning. Miss Dudley is a charming person, a students' friend, and an educational leader. She has courage, a sense of humor, and perhaps most conspicuous, a contagious enthusiasm. For fifteen years she has been one of the university's master-builders.

SCHOOL OF BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION

Daniel Carbaugh

Bits of humor, astute insights and continuity of presentation are the hallmarks of Mr. Carbaugh's lectures. His rapid fire delivery is a frequent topic of discussion because he has the unusual talent of talking quickly and maintaining clarity of thought in an exceptionally interesting manner. Careful preparation and scholarly understanding of complex arguments are obvious from the content of his lectures. Mr. Carbaugh is known by the students as simply, Dan. He never has a closed ear to the students' problems. The emphasis upon student understanding when coupled with the previously mentioned attributes is the reason Dan was chosen as Business Teacher of the Year.

SCHOOL OF LAW

Patrick Kelly

Pat Kelly joined the law faculty as Professor of Law in September of 1961. His background includes degrees from the State College of Iowa and Drake University. He has taught secondary school, acted as a school principal and baseball and basketball coach. Mr. Kelly has also been employed as an insurance agent, and a practicing lawyer. Professor Kelly received national recognition for his initiation of the law school's Clinical Trial Practice Program for the trial of actual lawsuits by senior law students. He is chairman of the Campus Planning Committee, Director of the Medical-Legal Division of the UMKC Law Center, director of law school placement, and advisor to Obiter Dicta, the law school publication. Professor Kelly is, in addition, actively involved with The Student Bar Association, and Delta Theta Phi Law Fraternity. His contributions extend beyond law school, for he works regularly on projects in connection with the state and local bar associations.

Supplement

We found ourselves involved in a great number of activities. Often, we found no time left for studying. Despite fervent vows to pare extracurricular involvements to a minimum, many of us found ourselves entangled to a greater or lesser degree in some phase of student life. In our most harried, tension-taught moments, we tried to convince ourselves that this was a basic part of college and that our active part in campus activities was profitable. We attended university functions. We danced, listened to Bach and Basie, and attended lectures. We emoted on-stage, helped back-stage, or formed an audience to watch. We were team-joiners. We toured with the choir or band. We took debate trips. Athletic intramurals captured our attention. We worked on publications, at KCUR-FM, in student government. All of it was part of Student Life.

Sadie Hawkins "Dogpatch U.M.K.C."

A literal Dogpatch Paradise was created at the Sadie Hawkins Dance. Al Capp contributed his publicity cartoon especially for the UMKC function, and detailed planning resulted in large attendance and a successful evening. Ragged jeans, patched shirts, and splashes of outlandish color echoed the feverish pitch of dogpatch merriment. "Marryin' Sam" appeared to initiate an official Sadie Hawkins Chase, and speedy gals who caught their protesting men dragged them back to Pearson Hall for a legal mass "shot-gun wedding ceremony." Although the wedding rings resembled rubber washers, the over-all effect of the evening was realistic and enjoyable enough to make students wish that February 29 would come more often than only once every four years.

We're Gonna Have a Hootenanny . . . Hootenanny . . . Hootenanny . . .

Campus folk gathered together in Pierson Hall on October 12, for the "Ethnic Review," a campus contest organized by the U.M.K.C. Program Council, to choose a folk singing group representing the colleges and universities in this area. The winning group was to compete nationally against other groups from other areas for the title of Grand Champion Collegiate Folk Singing Act, and the opportunity to receive $500 and an agency contract. (Too bad it was called off.) A trio under the name of "Pat, Mike, and Dave," came through for U.M.K.C., and won first place over seven other groups. Fine picking in the "good ole blue-grass style" blended with the mellow harmony of the group-three, Pat Miley, Maureen (Mike) Darrah, and Dave Dinges, to give them the spot of First and dub them U.M.K.C.'s Peter, Paul, and Mary.

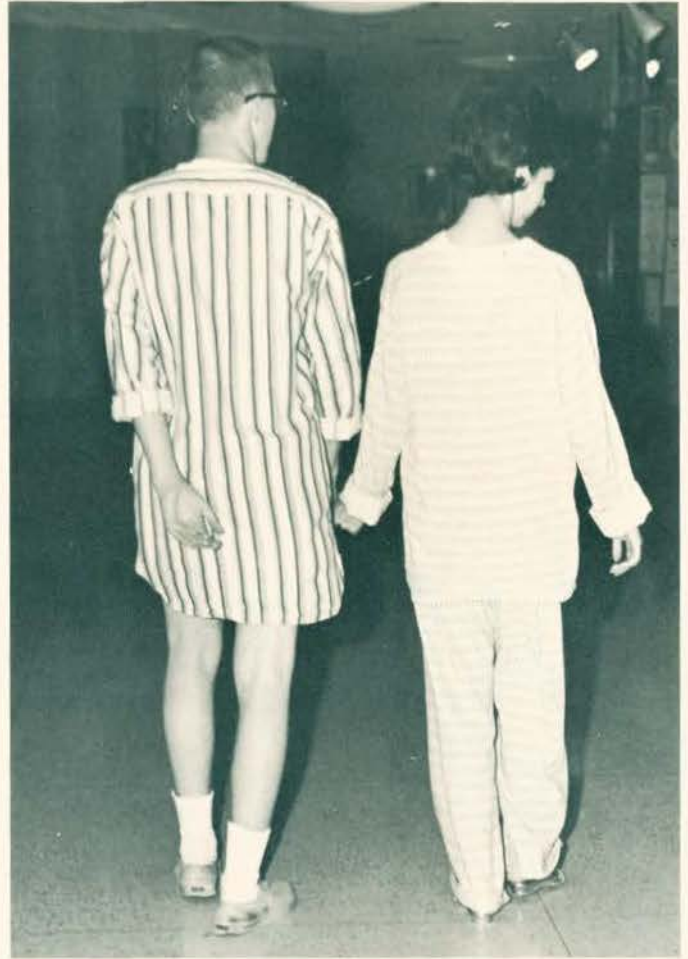

PAJAMADANCEPAJAMADANCEPAJAMAD

A mass of polka-dots, bright stripes, loud plaids, and long-johns combined with hair-rollers, house slippers, night caps, and cold cream made the scene at the pajama dance. A nocturnal Program Council product, the dance theme was a revival of a past tradition, one which had been forgotten for several years. Bedtime beauty, Mary Price, was chosen "Miss Beauty Rest" and Roger Kennicutt reigned as "King Coil". Sue Sherrick and Joe Manley were named "Mr. and Miss Insomnia". An honorary award for looking "most natural" was presented to Ed Kriss. The pajama dance was a far cry from a "sleepy-time" evening.

Mary Price, bedtime beauty, reigned as "Miss Beauty Rest." Roger Kennicutt was "King Coil."

A super-casual attire was in evidence everywhere.

"His name is 'Charmin'—er, I mean, 'Gentle.'"

A Fable-ous Evening . . . Beauty and the Beast

The Beauty and the Beast, sponsored by Alpha Phi Omega, was a fall activity on campus. In the days preceding the dance on Saturday, November 2, the campus was cluttered with posters and eye-catchers dangling from ceilings advertising competitors for Beauty and Beast. Beauty candidates were Irene Sarras, Joyce Adams, Pat Schmedeke and Tracy Roach. The Beast nominees were Fred Fready, Jim Eisenbrandt and Dave Milner. The votes were cast at the dance and Joyce Adams, an independent on campus, won the title of beauty. Jim Eisenbrandt, a member of Tau Kappa Epsilon, was chosen Beast for 1964.

The 1964 Beauty, Joyce Adams, is crowned by Alpha Phi Omega President, Bob Day.

The Beauty and The Beast . . . fable-ous evening.

"Winter Heraldry" The Sno-Ball

In gaily decorated Pierson Hall, the annual "Sno-Ball" was held amid whirling skirts, glistening brass, and bright feminine faces. The "Sno-Ball" was sponsored by the Panhellenic who planned, organized, and decorated under the theme "Winter Heraldry." Throughout the evening, Woody Herman and his band provided the music. But at one point the music stopped. The crowd held its breath. At last it was announced. Karen Schull, escorted by Dave Milner, was crowned the 1963 Sno-Ball Queen, and Susan Hogg and Linda Williams were named as her princesses. Towards midnight the music ceased, the lights dimmed, and the brightness faded as the couples walked off into the night. But to those who attended, the evening will long remain a bright memory, Sno-Ball 1963.

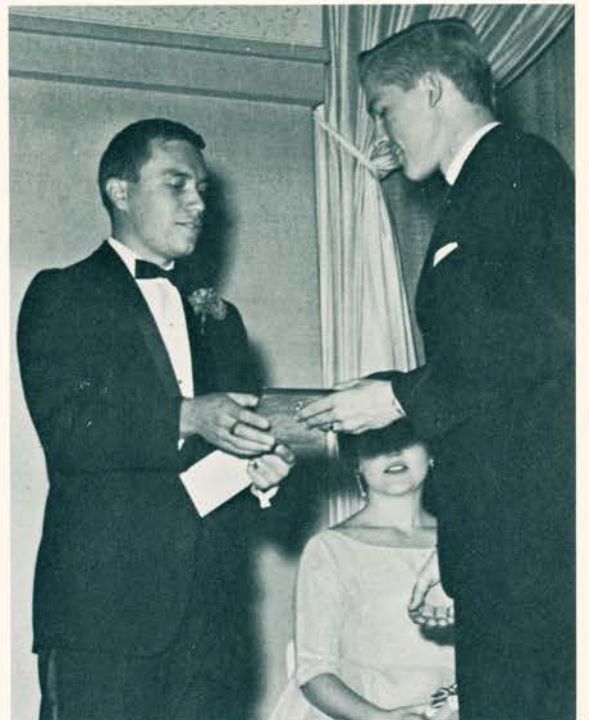

Karen Peterson congratulates the new queen.

Wall Street Waltz

"Wall Street Waltz" was the theme of the Business School's annual Dinner Dance. Dean R. T. Gliddion of the Business School, and Nelson Adams, President of the Business School Student Association, presented Donna Rohning with a plaque for representing the Business School as 1963 Bum Friday Queen. The dance was held in Pierson Hall November 2nd and was termed a very successful evening.

Donna Rohning was presented a plaque for her Bum Friday victory.

The Shipwreck

The annual Shipwreck Ball, sponsored by Xi Psi Phi, was one of three sponsored each year by the dental fraternities. It was held at the Party House and proved to be as successful as ever. The costumes were both attractive and entertaining. Top prize for costumes went to John and Ann Hayhurst. Refreshments were most refreshing and an enlightening center of the evening. No one really minded being shipwrecked.

A clown and a court jester make a "very funny" couple!

One way to snare a dancing partner is to wrap her in your net . . .

Yes dahling, blondes do have more fun!!

"Ugh. Me like to dance heap much!"

The fourth annual dinner of The Carolyn Benton Cockefair Chair in Continuing Education was held on November 21 in Pierson Hall. The Cockefair Chair, devoted to advancing cultural and educational opportunities in the Kansas City area through The University of Missouri at Kansas City, dubbed 1964 "Shakespeare Year" in commemoration of the four-hundredth anniversary of Shakespeare's birth. In keeping with this theme, guest speaker at the Cockefair Dinner was Dr. G. B. Harrison of The University of Michigan who discussed "The University of Shakespeare." Chancellor Carleton F. Scofield, in a tribute to Mrs. Cockefair, characterized her aptly when he commented, "Carolyn Benton Cockefair always says what she wants to say, and we are always eager to hear it." The annual Cockefair Dinner was a formal tribute to a beloved professor who is revered by her students informally every day.

Around the World ... The International Night Dance

"International Night comes but once a year." . . . The brevity of this wonderful night was packed with feelings, voices from many lands, gestures, and symbols. It was a host of cheer and fun, inspired by the U.M.K.C. Cosmopolitan Club and actively supported by the student body. "Through International Night, we showed that together we have progress, harmony and peace."

Victor Aning, Howard Painter, and Mrs. Gonzalo Medina assumed ticket-sale duty.

Cosmopolitan Club sponsor, Marilyn Horton, acted as a gracious hostess.

Pouri Modir-Fatemi and Mrs. Howard Painter took time out for friendly conversation.

Under the sponsorship of various organizations many famous people from the worlds of entertainment and academics visited the UMKC campus to perform or to lecture and teach. The UMKC "welcome" was warm and responsive. Contacts with campus guests constituted a highlight of the year.

THIS IS "THE UMKC PLAYHOUSE." Vaudeville, musical comedy, the circus, the opera, the works of Shakespeare, George Bernard Shaw, Ibsen, Miliere, Goethe, Tennessee Williams, and the Greeks belong here. The clown, Pierrot, pierrette, Charlie Chaplin's creations, Hamlet Tartuffe, Hedda Gabler, and Oedipus call this "home." Old torn blue jeans tattered shirts, exquisite ball gowns, leotards, ballet shoes, fringed flapper dresses, tunics, and sneakers, are usual attire. Grime, grease paint, glue, soap, and size water, paint and plaster are staples. Long hours, little sleep, sweat, and swinging cast parties are a part of this place.

The stage is the kingdom of its actors. The Playhouse is their home. It is here that frugal typewritten scripts are transformed into living creations. The sights, smells, and sounds blend together and envelope everything inside these walls. There is a special feeling here . . . a certain atmosphere that builds towards a crescendo and bursts with electric fury on opening night. THIS IS THE UMKC PLAYHOUSE.

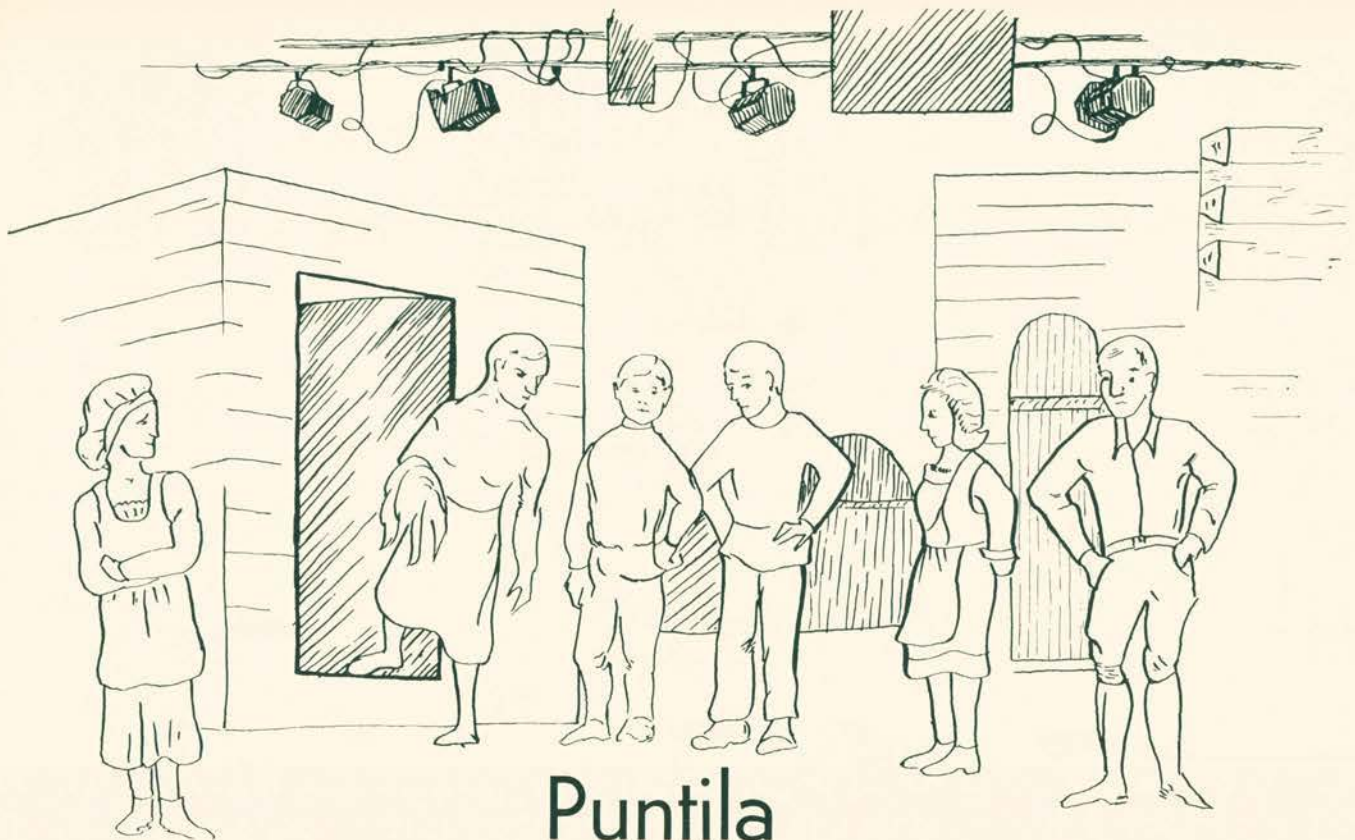

THE PLAYHOUSE

Three Sisters

At first glance, a work by Checkhov may seem morose and full of misery. But a deeper look reveals much about Checkhov's philosophy and insight into the human soul. In "The Three Sisters" Checkhov presents three-and-one-half years of life as it was for the three sisters and their friends. The audience views the miserable fruitlessness of his characters and the rampant emotions of those who strive to be happy. One character, "Vershinin", comments, "It's our fate, it can't be helped. A time will come when everything that seems serious, significant, or important to us will be forgotten or considered trivial . . ." In the future, there lies hope. The three lead roles, the sisters, were portrayed by Anne Barasch, Elizabeth Gibson and Kevin Kirk. "Natasha" was portrayed by Mildred Gillespie. "The Baron" was Bob Bahr. The Russian temperament and misery envisioned by Checkhov was successfully conveyed in this opening Playhouse production.

Puntila

"Puntila", a robust satire comments, in one sense, on the Marxist rage against the class of rich landowners. It also examines conditions that divide men one from another. Whether Puntila, the rich landowner, thinks his money entitles him to be ribald and obnoxious or whether he is so intoxicated that he does not realize his gaucheries, is disputable. Yet Puntila is capable of warmth and understanding. Matti, Rich Farrell, is the character whose job is to convey the author's serious thesis. He represents the working class. Matti looks up to Puntila, understands him, and, despite his lower station, enjoys a comradeship with him. But in the end, Matti concludes, "friends your kinds and mine can't be." Eva, Georgan Lawless, Puntila's daughter, and Ralph Buchanan, the attache, rounded out the cast of main characters. Singing and dancing ensembles contributed to this raucous production of Brecht's satire.

Hamlet

The U.M.K.C. Production of "Hamlet" was a credit to any dramatic department. Jim Assad, in the title role, won wide acclaim for his portrayal of this, the true test of any actor's ability. The production was especially timely, if considered part of the celebration of the 400th anniversary of Shakespeare's birth, and played a part in the activities on campus which recognized this memorial year.

Rhinoceros

The Theatre of the Absurd has, perhaps, no better spokesman than Ionesco. "Rhinoceros", the saga of conformity versus non-conformity, created the desired controversy and intellectual consideration. This production was another link in the series of Theatre of the Absurd productions begun by The Playhouse several years ago with Aristophene's "The Frogs" and followed by "A Dream Play"—Strindberg, and "Puntila" by Brecht.

The Group Efforts

Dr. Francis Buebendorf has been Professor of Composition and advanced Theoretical Subjects at the Conservatory of Music for seventeen years. His present conducting activities include the Mendelssohn Choir which specializes in major works of the oratorio literature, and the University String Orchestra. The repertoire of his organization includes works from the early Baroque to the present day.

The University String Orchestra: James Gaskill, Irene Spencer, Gertrude Phalp, Dr. Merton Shatzkin, Norman Beauchamp, Bonnie Trimmer, Marjorie Cates, Miriam Lerner, Elmer Davis, Jane Fountain; Henry Scott, Gerald Divoky, Marian Zumbrun, Ann Holt, Georgia Scott, Marcy Cates, Sherman Foster, Alice Decker, Orion Mehus, John Beavens, Lucy Previtt, Gary Grantham, Mike Smith, Dr. Francis Beubendorf, Conductor; Louise Binger, Marvin Leuchter, Lenore Ragen, Donald Duncan, Jay Decker, Shirley Cecil, Paul Carlson, Frank Smith, Frederic James, Carol Brenner, David Shipman; Matthew Swora, Norman Beubendorf, Catherine Farley.

The Midwestern Jazz Quintet was organized this fall with one goal: to enter the Oread Jazz festival at the University of Kansas. Members of the Quintet are Bill Hargrave trumpet and leader; Herb Smith from the University of Kansas, alto saxophone; Manford Eaton, piano; Dick Youngstein, bass; and Chuck Gray, drums. The Quintet was among the twelve collegiate groups reaching the semi-finals. They also presented several concerts at U.M.K.C. and at the University of Kansas and were very well received.

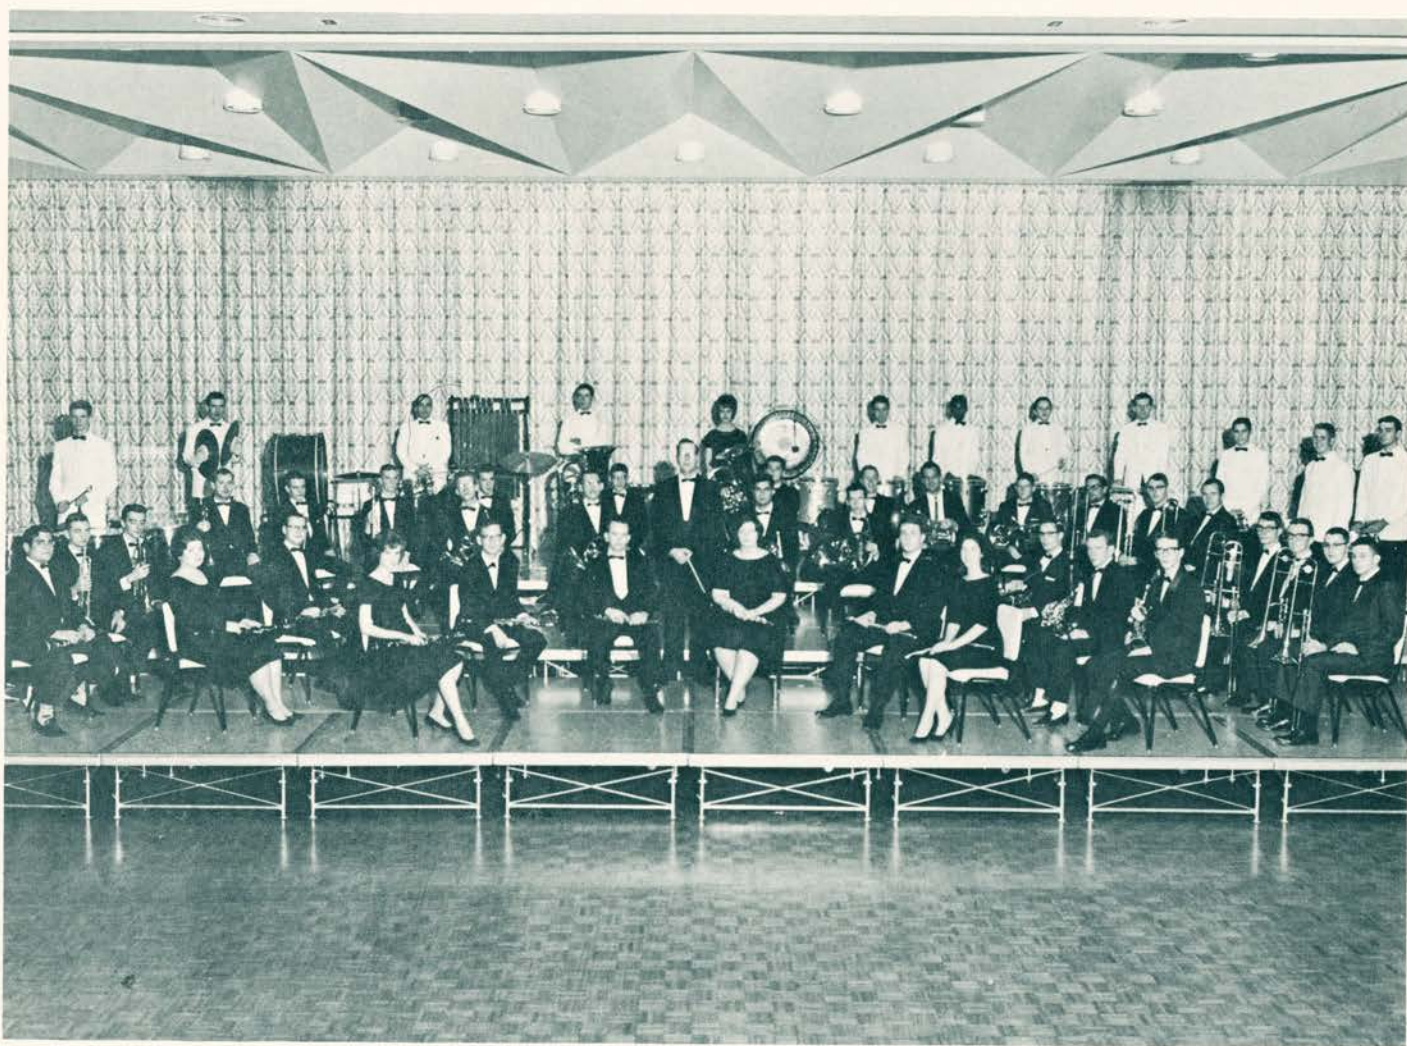

Manford Eaton, Bill Hargraves, Dick Youngstein, Herb Smith, Chuck Gray.

The University Symphony Orchestra under the direction of its new conductor, Mr. Jay C. Decker, has developed into one of the fine musical organizations on campus. The Orchestra was one of the groups who performed at the convention of the National Music Critics in October. In December, the Orchestra provided the musical background for Tschaiakovsky's NUTCRACKER SUITE, presented by the ballet Department on their CHRISTMAS GALA. The Orchestra was heard in concert in the Winter and the Spring. Mr. James Spencer, graduate student at the University, served as assistant conductor of the orchestra.

The University Wind Ensemble, an outgrowth of what was originally known as the University Band, was under the expert guidance of Russell Patterson. Through the assistance of Jesse Peterson, UMKC doctoral candidate, the wind ensemble program was developed and expanded to include several concerts and outside engagements featuring a three-day state-wide tour from Kansas City to St. Louis.

The University Glee Club, directed by Chester O'Bannon, presented two major works this year. Schubert's MASS IN G, performed two days after the death of John F. Kennedy, was dedicated to his memory. In the Spring, the Glee Club, augmented by members of the University Choir, presented Mendelssohn's ELIJAH. Members of the University Glee Club gained enjoyment from singing together and had an opportunity to learn important choral literature.

And All That Jazz . . .

The University Jazz Workshop originated several years ago as an extra-curricular activity. Today, because of the intense interest in this relatively new form of expression, Jazz Workshop is now an accredited course and is attended by over twenty enthusiasts. Like any new group, Jazz Workshop has endured many trials. However, there are two overwhelming forces which maintain this group: enthusiasm for music and the desire to swing.

Not only does the Workshop afford invaluable experience in working together, but some of the members have proven themselves in the fields of composing and arranging. Many of the numbers performed in concert are original compositions and most of the arrangements played by the Workshop were done by members of the group.

Jazz Workshop did much to promote UMKC through concerts which were presented throughout the year.

Jazz is proving itself as an increasingly dynamic force of musical expression and Jazz Workshop serves as a dynamic center of jazz at UMKC and in the Kansas City area.

The Voice of the Campus:

KCUR-FM

"Puccini, Respighi, Rossini, Scarlatti, Sgambati, Tagliavini, Toscanini." That's what that group in the Beethoven sweatshirts mumbled at lunch time in the Center. And that boy or girl running across campus, as the clock on the gym pointed to 4:30, was rushing to turn on the transmitter. These students were all involved in "On-the-Air" training in broadcasting at KCUR-FM, the University's radio station. KCUR-FM is one of the few educational stations in the country where students can gain experience broadcasting to a metropolitan community.

KCUR-FM seeks to reflect the character of the University and share with the community the University's intellectual and cultural resources. The programming is devoted to fine music, science and literary reviews, programs from European radio, and lectures by University faculty.

It is the philosophy of KCUR-FM's training program to provide the broadcasting student with an exposure to music, literature, history, and art; to provide a culmination for his knowledge gained in his Liberal Arts education; to give him the opportunity for creative experimentation with which to enrich the broadcast industry.

THE UNIVERSITY NEWS

THE UNIVERSITY OF MISSOURI AT KANSAS CITY

The University News sought the elusive goal of quality journalism. With only a skeleton staff, the editors found the going rough. The paper found itself bombarded with barbed criticism as well as praise in some areas. But regardless of the validity or non-validity of opinions about the newspaper, the U-News did create raging campus controversy, a rarity on a campus so often labeled, "apathetic."

The Kangaroo Keepers

A yearbook is, perhaps by necessity, accident-prone. The odds in favor of effortless production are non-existent and editors and staff accepted this fact at the start. Producing a publication that must represent thousands of students, and hundreds of activities and events was a magnanimous undertaking even if the course of production was not cluttered with unforeseen difficulties. The temptation to forget the whole thing in favor of a well-earned vacation on some remote, sunny beach seemed most inviting, but somehow, we always conquered our crisis. Teamwork was a necessity. Procrastination was deadly. Time was of the essence. Perseverance saved the day. We, the Kangaroo staff, tired and weary, were exerting a common effort, working towards a common goal: The publication of The 1964 Kangaroo. We feel that we won our battle. We hope that U.M.K.C. thinks so too.

Number One

Number One, the campus magazine for original student writing, completed its 18th consecutive year of publication. With its aim of encouraging creative writing by students, the magazine broadened its scope to include art work essays, and photography, as well as the traditional short stories and poetry. It is the goal of the magazine to represent the creative activity of the students, and with the help of Mr. Jaffe, the staff believe this year they have laid the ground-work for this type of magazine. It is the staff's hope to include one act plays, and any other original creative accomplishments of students.

The Great Debates

In his fifth year at the University, and his first under the University of Missouri at Kansas City, Dr. Walter H. Murrish, Director of Forensics, fielded a team with reputable results. Once again faced with only two varsity debaters, Bill Cohen and Steve Sturdevant, Murrish's squad ranked high nationally.

Bill Cohen, a senior speech major from Lawrence, Kansas, ended his career as UMKC's most outstanding debator. This career extended over seven years in high school and college forensics, and was topped with trips to three West Point Regional and one West Point National tournament.

In debating this year's national topic, "Resolved: That the federal government should guarantee an opportunity for a higher education to all qualified high school graduates," Cohen and colleague Steve Sturdevant, a junior sociology major, made an auspicious debut at Texas Christian U. with an 8-2 record and first place trophy. Central State College at Edmond, Oklahoma, was the next tournament and a loss in the quarter-finals resulted in a fifth place trophy. After a 3-1 record at Kearney State College in Nebraska, the squad went on to win their second championship trophy with a 9-0 record at Arkansas University.

The oldest debate tournament in the nation, Southwestern College, Winfield, Kansas, meant another fifth place trophy and following the Christmas vacation, Bill and Steve were awarded a third place trophy at Millshaps College in Jackson, Miss.

A loss to TCU in the semi-finals of the Kansas State Tournament at Pittsburg led the team to another third place trophy. The Harvard debators proved an un-cooperative host, defeating UMKC in the quarter-finals of the Harvard Invitational Debate tournament. Once again, a fifth place trophy. The final two tournaments proved to be a let down for the boys, for at the annual Cherry Blossom tournament at Georgetown U., Washington, D. C., and the Nebraska U. Invitational Debate tournament, Bill and Steve could only muster up 67% records.

On the strength of Cohen and Sturdevant's impressive 51-17 record, UMKC was selected as one of sixteen teams to participate in the West Point Regional Debate tournament at Iowa State College, whereupon the six best teams would represent the Midwest Region at the National Championship West Point Debate tournament—"The World Series"—of debate.

Although UMKC was seeded third at the Regional contest, finished fourth in quality ratings and third in total speaking points, the squad lacked only one ballot necessary to qualify for the national tournament. Thus ended the debate season and all that was left was next year.

Recognition is also in order to the junior division squad, and individual winners: Bill Cohen, superior certificate in debate at Nebraska; Steve Sturdevant, first in radio speaking at KSC, Pittsburg; and veteran orator Bervin Fisher, with championship trophies in oratory at KSC, Pittsburg, and Southwestern College.

1963 was a year for precedents. After the merger, many questions were asked. One of the most prominent was "Will UMKC have inter-collegiate athletics?" The answer to this question was "no, at least not until 1965." The intramural sports program was to prevail, and prevail it did. Approximately seven-hundred students participated in twenty intramural activities, an increase of 25% over last year. The beginning of first semester featured football with fifteen teams battling each other. Almost any afternoon, crowds of students gathered on the sidelines to cheer for their favorite team. Linnie Washburn of the sophomore Dents, dazzled spectators with his speed and brilliant running and passing ability. The Junior Dents played one of the best games of the season when they met the Freshmen Dents II for the championship. When the brisk wind turned cold, UMKC turned to other sports.

TKE met the Junior Dents. TKE lost and the score was 48-0. Well, you can't win them all.

Let's go over the rules again. . .

Going on almost simultaneously with intramural football was archery, golf, and handball. Looking out on the football field, one could see a boy with a drawn bow, his sight on the target, his arrow flying through the air during target practice. Another student, his iron stationary in mid-air, was teeing off. The cry "en garde" accompanied the metal clash of foils and the sight of two masked figures brought back the days of Cyrano de Bergerac. Inside, the gymnasium on the handball courts, two mobile figures volleyed a ball off the walls and corners. The swish of a net attracted attention to the free-throw contest. Don Horn's lanky frame was ready to sink a throw. A future olympic champion, an athlete pushing himself to exhaustion, a weary student fulfilling his physical education requirements, or simply a sports-lover . . . all kinds of people entered all kinds of sports events and comprised the sports scene at UMKC.

John Thornbrugh looked towards the bullseye to capture seventh place in the archery tournament.

"I Knew I could do it!"

"If you ask me, she not only needs sunglasses, but . . ."

"Now, with the music, one—two—three—four . . ."

With snow covering the campus, UMKC sports turned indoors. Dent students, independents and various teams could be seen any afternoon covering the courts.

The sound of swishing nets and dribbling balls echoed on the gymnasium floor.

From the very start, the Junior Dents No. 1 looked to be the number one team in the American League. As John Osteburg shot with the skill of a Bob Pettit and rebounded with the greatness of Elgin Baylor, they quickly took the lead in the league with a 4-1 record, but their plans for the League championship were altered temporarily... The date was March 12th... the Junior Dents called it "Black Thursday"... the Junior Dents No. 1 met their demise at the hands of the Senior Dents No. 1. From then on it was a nip and tuck race for the championship. The Junior Dents edged the Seniors for the intramural championship.

The Newman Club of the National League got off a good break from the starting blocks at the sound of the gun and rocketed out front, but their pace couldn't last as first the Freshman Dents No. 3 made a bid for the lead but were passed up by the Junior Dents No. 3 and finally the Sophomore Dents No. 3 who captured the National League Championship.

The Tortfeasors finished fifth with the Dorm following. Lanky Ron Horn missed most of the season due to injury and would probably have been a great asset to the Dorm team. The Defectors, also with a good team, had their good and bad breaks like everyone else, but managed to finish ahead of the Freshman Dents No. 1.

TKE and Kappa Psi fought it out to the bitter end in the Club League. Both tied for first place with a 6-1 record. Fred Farmer of the Jayhawks played a terrific season, with an average of approximately 16 points per game. The GDI's and T-Squares placed fifth and sixth respectively. But the noise of shuffling feet and bouncing balls were not the only sounds to permeate the air. The cry of "En Garde", and the sound of metallic clashes were to be heard as well.

After the courts were emptied and the quiet had just begun to enclose the stillness of the courts, volleyball nets were spread across the courts, and the girls got their chance for a little fun.

Soon winter would change into Spring and UMKC. athletics would again take place in the fresh air and under the warming sun.

With the new University came a new approach to student government. The All-Student Association Student Council began this year a new approach that carries its efforts away from programming (now handled for the Student Council by the University Program Council) and into the other areas of student affairs.

Identification of campus needs and ways to meet those needs was the focal point of this year's Council. The need for a new general library on campus, for example, lifted the realm of student activity into a meaningful, purposeful endeavor. As the University grows and matures, so the student government must also grow and mature. It must begin to determine, what is the mainstream of American student life, and how do we join into that mainstream? The search for an understanding of this mainstream has begun, and the search passes now to a new group.

The University Program Council

The University Program Council has played a new role on the campus this year as the central programming agency for both the University Center and the Student Council. Eight committees have provided a select and varied program of activities and special events throughout the year. The main goal of the Program Council this year was to plan programs that would stimulate participation from everyone on campus.

Following is a list of the committees and some of their functions this year:

1. Music-Entertainment Committee (Freshman Fall Talent Show, Peter Nero Concert, Inter-University Hootenanny, Ford Caravan with Nina Simone and Herby Mann, Bum Friday Talent and Skit Show)
2. Art and Exhibit Committee (Maintained three art galleries in Center, Student Art Show, Decorations for dances, Christmas Decorations Contest)
3. Recreation Committee (Tour of Kansas City, Ski Trip to Winter Park, Colorado)
4. Library-Lecture Committee (books and magazines for Center browsing library, Coffee-Lecture Series, Hans Conried)
5. Dance Committee (Pouch dances, Pajama Dance, Bum Friday Dinner Dance, Street Dance)
6. Film Committee ("Cinema 16", Noon Movies)
7. Public Relations Committee (Foreign Student Receptions, Hospitality, News releases)
8. Poster Publicity Committee

Inter-Fraternity Council

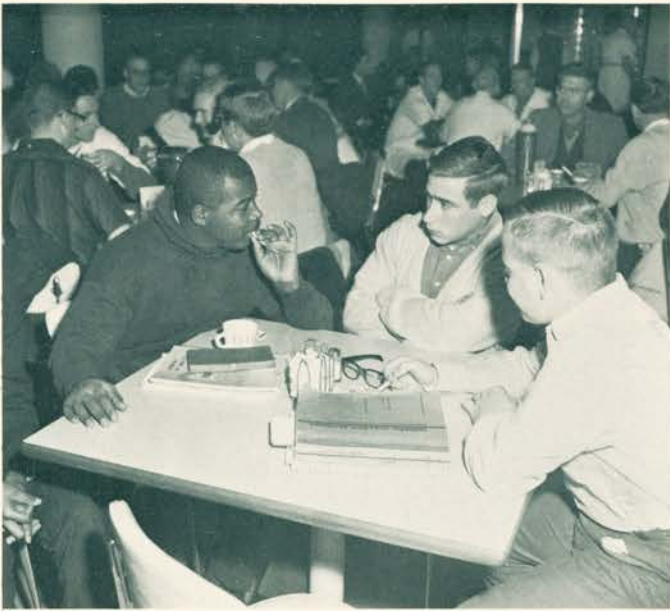

Men's Inter-Fraternity Council is composed of the President and two representatives from each of the four fraternities at the University of Missouri at Kansas City: Alpha Phi Alpha, Alpha Epsilon Pi, Delta Chi, and Tau Kappa Epsilon. Dean Bloch, Dean of Students, acts as advisor. The officers of IFC are: Mel Blonsky (AEII) President; Curtis Rodgers (APA) Vice-President; Ron Kraft (AEII) Treasurer; and Gary Lowe (DX) Secretary. IFC is designed for the purpose of helping to promote fraternities on campus, bolster their spirit, create an air of cooperation between the various organizations, with the University in all campus projects. IFC began the year with Rush Smokers on Sunday, September 15, at which time the prospective pledges were introduced to their first taste of fraternity life. Approximately fifty boys pledged the four fraternities, after going through a hectic week of parties and decision making. IFC held a Greek Yell-In Dance in October in conjunction with Panhellenic Council. Entertainment was provided by the pledges of the fraternities and sororities. A Greek day was held second semester; contests which were highlighted were chariot races and other forms of competitive competition. The all-day affair was culminated with a lavish dance held at the University Center. Proposals were brought before Dean Bloch, the Expansion Planning committee and E.C.P.C., concerning housing and approval was tentatively granted. Dean Bloch attended National Interfraternity Conference held in New York and brought back many new innovations to strengthen the fraternity system at UMKC. IFC held second semester rush with great success. The year was a creative one with progressive results for the future.

Panhellenic

The Panhellenic Association is composed of members of the two national social sororities on campus, Alpha Delta Pi and Chi Omega. They sponsored the annual Sno-Ball dance, which was the social highlight of the campus Christmas season. Panhellenic's main function is to be a council to coordinate the sororities' campus life. Of course one of the main functions is formal rush. This year, for the first time, Panhellenic had a pre-school rush. Another first for this year was the organization of a Junior Panhellenic Council. The junior Panhellenic is composed of the pledges from the two sororities. This cooperative work provides an adequate background for pledges that will be useful when they become active members of their chapter.

Men's Residence Hall Association

An important part of the "college experience" as often quoted in preparatory leaflets so generously handed out by high school counselors, is the true experience of living in a dorm. It's a storage space for people, their clothes, books left-over food from the Saturday night smorgasbord, dirty coffee cups, empty coke bottles and over-flowing ash trays. It is also a "nook" for studying for those hard earned grades—that is if you have time to study between digging out the books from underneath the assortment of "treasures" laying on the desk, cleaning for room-checks, dodging the counselors, listening to the latest Ray Charles record, running down to the cigarette machine, watching the television, or talking on the phone. The men organized several parties during the year. The Halloween Wiener Roast followed by a dance, a Christmas party, and a Valentine party were all results of their organization. The Men's Residence Hall worked together with the Women's Residence Hall Association as the chief representative bodies for students who lived in the dormitory. Officers were: President, Gary Evert; Vice-President, Warren Palitz; Secretary, Al Durand; Treasurer, Steve Longmire; Faculty Adviser, Roger N. Sybrant; Wing Representatives, Les Riblet, Bob Moe, John Gravotta, Bill Snyder, Kermit Johnson, Mike McGettrick, and Larry Marica.

Steve Longmire, Warren Palitz, Al Durand, and Gary Evert.

Where the Girls Are

Contrary to popular belief, the Dormitory, located at 5030 Cherry, is not an extension of Potter's War Museum; actually, it houses 103 lovely and lively young women. Going on within its walls are activities pertaining to the adventure and, sometimes, the problems of close communal living.

Functioning on a democratic basis, its governing body consists of a legislative House Council, a Judicial Board, and the executive officers. These three branches establish and enforce the regulations necessary for dealing with the peculiar aspect of dorm life.

A "mother" in the truest sense, Housemother Mrs. Dorothy Baldwin has an "open door" policy and is ready for problems ranging from broken hearts, to shattered dreams, to love. Also functioning as personal counselors for the women are Resident Advisors, Karen Shull, Sandy Benvenuti, and Norma Herbertson.

A participant in campus activities, the Residence Hall brought home honors for Sno Ball Queen and sponsored an all-campus Leap Year Dance for the Valentine season. A cheering, non-organized "pep club" also attended the intra-mural football games taking place in the sports arena directly across the street from the Hall.

The Women's Residence Hall is a large family of women surrounded by a dominant quality of Friendship. There is the hush of serious college women and the hustle of fun-loving youth making every day a complete one for the residents.

Center Board

The University Center Board is the governing body of the Center. It sets the policies, approves the Center's program, determines the budget and acts in an advisory capacity to the Center director. The board, composed of students, faculty members, alumni and several ex-officio members, the Dean of Students, Bursar, Acting Director of Development and the Center Staff, works during the year as the chief instrument used in Center planning.

Pi Kappa Delta

Pi Kappa Delta, is the national forensic honorary society. This year the Missouri Pi Chapter was headed by Bill Cohen, president; Steve Davis, vice-president; and Steve Sturdevant, acting secretary-treasurer.

Membership in Pi Kappa Delta is determined by participation in the University Forensic Program. This year Pi Kappa Delta again played host to the University of Missouri, at Kansas City Forensic tournament, a tournament of area High Schools. This year the tourney was won, for the second year in a row, by North Kansas City. This year Missouri Pi played host to the National Forensic Tournament for the state of Missouri.

All in all it was a full year. But there is hope in the national convention, next year at Portland, Oregon.

The Missouri University at Kansas City Young Democratic Club is the organization of students interested generally in their government and particularly in the philosophy of the Democratic Party. This club fulfills a dual purpose. It provides an organization for those students interested in current events and governmental action; and also stands ready to aid in the political activities on a national, state and local level. Primarily this organization is an educational device for all interested students. By having speakers on subjects of current interest and seminar discussions, this club has brought one of the most important phases of public life before the students on this campus.

Young Democrats

Young Democrats: Sue Ellmaker, A. G. Dietrich, Tomas Graf, Jim Carter, Carole Brentson, Rita Mortimeyer.

The Biology Club sponsored a series of programs to introduce biology students to different fields and careers in biology. The first program of the year was an introductory panel discussion by professors in the department, and subsequent programs featured lectures by biologists in the Kansas City area as well as guest seminars by professors visiting from other universities. The second semester program included lectures by club members and faculty members. The club also sponsored social events and provided coffee for the department and the Senior Seminar.

Cosmopolitan Club

We appreciate the beauty of the UMKC campus! . . . though nature has made our surroundings beautiful with trees, flowers, and winding paths . . . there is no greater loveliness than happy cosmopolitan students . . . From dormitory life to class-room and to Cosmopolitan activity . . . it's Cosmopolitan in focus . . . We see our members have many interests . . . centering on social life, lectures, films on different nations . . . and international affairs. We find our members at their best . . . and so we whirl into the activities on campus. Study . . . plan . . . give . . . Getting into such a routine is very interesting and consequential. But the greatest of all is to practice tolerance and work together in united strength with one another. We therefore resolve ourselves to make the most of the Cosmopolitan activity while we are at the UMKC, our home away from home.

National Collegiate Players

National Collegiate Players, a member of the Association of College Honorary Societies, was installed at UMKC as Chapter 80 in May, 1963.

The purpose of the organization is to stand as a college unit in national movements for the betterment and welfare of drama and the theater in the United States; to raise the standards of college and university theaters by recognizing the most worthy individual and group efforts in the creative arts of the theater, and to assist in the attainment of these purposes as an end toward the building of a permanent community culture.

Geology and Geography Club

The purpose of the Geology and Geography Club is to provide practical application of the Geological and Graphical sciences for the student and to promote a greater interest in these disciplines at U.M.K.C. Among the activities of the club are meetings, special lectures, films, organized field trips, both local and distant, and the annual spring picnic.

Conservative Society

The Conservative Society of the University of Missouri at Kansas City exists on the following principles: that the individual must be able to exercise complete freedom of action, except when his action infringes upon another's opportunity for the same freedom; that the individual, in opposition to collectivism, is supreme; that the legitimate function of government is the protection of individual freedom through the preservation of internal order and national defense; that only private enterprise in a free market system is compatible with individual freedom.

Executive Board: Tom Willy, Bill Anderson, Randolph Rodgers.

Young Republicans

The Young Republican Confederation provided an opportunity for student members of the "Loyal Opposition" to work together in the advocacy of their political beliefs. Membership in the Confederation was open to any UMKC student who had an interest in the workings of his government and identified himself with the goals and purposes of the Republican Party.

Young Republicans: Steve Wheelock; Randolph Rodgers, President; Tom Willy, Executive Board Chairman; Anthony Saper.

Psi Chi

The National Honorary Society in Psychology is known by the Greek letters, Psi Chi, which phonetically suggest the term "psychology," the science which this organization strives to advance. It is the hope of Psi Chi and its members that, through the programs of the society and its individual chapters, scholarship, and interest may be encouraged, stimulated and maintained in all fields, especially psychology. In an attempt to develop the young chapter on this campus and maintain these principles, the best means possible are to be employed—from educational symposia to cinema of significant interest and moreover to just plain "fun" events characterized by the "Goat Roast," and of course all in the interest of psychology.

The German Club has as its function the coordination of fun and facts to provide an acquaintance with "Deutschland". Their meetings, of varied interest, ranged from an evening of choice slides, to a night at Mierhoff's. This year a talk was given by Miss Gertraud Schuh, a native German girl, concerning Cologn. Miss Schuh spoke about the school system, the annual "Karneval" in Cologne and explained the distinguishing language characteristics of each portion of the country. Another enjoyable event was provided by an elderly couple, Mr. and Mrs. Pretz, who brought the highlights of German architecture and culture to the club through their slides. In the annual event of Christmas caroling German Club members visited including that of the Chancellor's. German Club is practical as well as enjoyable. It affords each member an opportunity to gain insight into the manners and mores of Germany.

Pi Kappa Lambda

Pi Kappa Lambda is an honorary fraternity whose membership is bestowed upon those students with the highest scholastic achievement in music. Its purpose is to provide an organization dedicated to the furtherance of music in education and education in music in colleges, universities and other institutions of higher learning which offer programs in musical instruction.

Bench and Robe

The Order of the Bench and Robe is the honor society of the School of Law. The purpose of this organization is to give recognition to the attainment of scholarship of a superior quality by students in the School of Law. Student members must have at least a 2.0 scholastic average of their entire professional course record in the Law School and rank not lower than the highest ten percent of their class.

Bench and Robe: Joel P. Owens, Betty J. Anderson, John F. Marvin, Michael J. Maloney.

Omicron Delta Kappa

The purpose of the Omicron Delta Kappa Society is threefold: First, to recognize men who have attained a high standard of efficiency in collegiate activities and to inspire others to strive for conspicuous attainments along similar lines. Second, to bring together the most representative men in all phases of collegiate life and thus to create an organization which will help to mold the sentiment of the institution on questions of local and intercollegiate interest. Third, to bring together members of the faculty and student body of the institution on a basis of mutual interest and understanding.

Rho Chi

Rho Chi, the National Honor Society in the field of Pharmacy, was founded in 1922. The Alpha Omega Chapter was established at the University of Kansas City in 1954. Membership is based on scholarship and high personal qualifications. Rho Chi aims to acquaint the student with the professional aspects of pharmacy and to point the way to instructive study and research in this field. Rho Chi strives to make its members better pharmacists and citizens.

Organization of Jewish Students

The Organization of Jewish Students, a new group on campus, was formed in the late summer months, and began functioning during registration. Although there were many problems which had to be resolved, the group met and elected their first slate of officers in late September. Elected were: William Cohen, President; Harriet Cooper, Vice President; Michele Caviar, Recording Secretary; Jackye Greenberg, Corresponding Secretary; Sharon Martasin, Treasurer; Rabbi Chiam Rozwasky, Advisor. A Hootenanny was the social orientation of the group; THE PLEDGES, a well-known Kansas City folk singing group, provided the entertainment. During the Jewish High Holy Days the organization provided out-of-towners with Synagogue Facilities and with a Chanukah Party, celebrating the holiday of Chanukah. The goal of this group is to represent the Jewish students on the UMKC campus. The group will function in that capacity until an official Hillel can be established.

Obiter Dicta

Obiter Dicta is a newspaper written and edited by students and faculty members of the University of Missouri at Kansas City School of Law. The paper contains information exclusively for the School of Law and is predominantly a communication for alumni. It is published three to four times a year with an average length of six pages. The paper includes such features as "Faculty Notes", "Dean's Memo", and "alumni in the news." There is a section devoted entirely to editorials besides a complete coverage of all activities. This publication has been made possible through the financial support of the alumni foundation of the University of Missouri of Kansas City and is a paper which is certainly worthy of note in its achievements.

The object of this organization is to unite fraternally congenial students of the law, to lead them and their fellow students to high scholarship and legal learning, to surround them with an environment such that traditions of the law and of the profession may descend upon them, to promote justice, to inspire respect for the noblest qualities of manhood and to advance the interests of every school of law with which this fraternity shall be associated.

Law Review

The Law Review is composed of a select group of law students maintaining a high grade-average throughout their three years of study. The freshman law student who obtains a B average in the first semester examinations is selected as a candidate. In order to be accepted as a staff member a student must write a publishable case note. Once accepted, a student must maintain his position on the staff through hard work and a high academic average. The Law Review publication consists of a selected group of lead articles, case notes, and comments on important points of law. The lead articles are written by law school professors, judges, and practicing attorneys while the case notes and comments are from the Law Review staff. The purpose of the Law Review is not only to educate the staff members in legal research, writing, and editing but also to furnish to the subscribers information on important subjects of law. Many times an attorney will find his problem has been completely researched and published as a law review article. Like any other publishing organization the Law Review staff may be found hard at work on Saturday mornings correcting manuscripts, footnotes, or galley proofs in order to meet a deadline. However, they also have a chance to ease tension when they meet annually for an outing at the Lake of the Ozarks or get together for an evening of light law and a small keg.

Phi Delta Phi

Phi Delta Phi International Legal Fraternity is the oldest and largest professional fraternity in the United States. From an original membership of ten in 1869, the fraternity has grown to now include over 80,000 members of student and Barrister Inns. Phi Delta Phi's avowed purpose has been to promote scholarship and develop character by associating men of ability and integrity. The successful fulfillment of this goal is evidenced by the many important roles in American public life, including among others, Governors, Senators, Supreme Court Justices and Presidents, which have been occupied by Phi Delta Phi law graduates. Powell Inn, the Phi Delta Phi chapter at U.M.K.C., has this past year observed its usual program of social and educational activities. A pre-semester Patio Party was held in August at Lake Tapawingo for actives and alums. A stag Keg Party for new students at the home of a member, a Judicial Reception for prominent Phi Delta Phis at the University Center, and a Welcome Cocktail Party for pledges at the Rockhill Club highlighted the rush activities. A fall Hootenanny, spring Picnic and Initiation Banquet rounded out the year. The Phi Delta Femmes proved successful fund-raisers and enthusiastic supporters of the fraternity's social activities.

Christian Science College Organization

The Christian Science Organization at UMKC holds weekly meetings which consist of readings from the Bible and Science and Health With Key to the Scriptures by Mary Baker Eddy, and the sharing of experiences and healings with Christian Science in every day college life. The purpose of the organization is twofold: It promotes the spiritual growth of the members and is a source of information about Christian Science to the college community in general. In this function the meetings are open to anyone interested in Christian Science; also a free lecture specifically designed for all students at UMKC is given each year.

Phi Delta Delta

Phi Delta Delta Legal Fraternity is an international professional fraternity for women in the field of law. It was incorporated under the laws of the State of California October 25, 1912, and now has chapters in Canada and other foreign countries. The purposes of Phi Delta Delta are to promote a high standard of scholarship, professional ethics, competency and achievement among women law students and women in the legal profession. The aim of Phi Delta Delta is to serve its profession. In so doing it maintains an observer and reporter at the United Nations, is a member of the Inter-American Bar Association, sponsors an annual breakfast at the American Bar Association Conventions, and gives awards for outstanding legal articles. The local chapter gives an award to the highest ranking Torts student and endeavors to support all other school activities. The faculty sponsor is Professor Rudolph Heitz, School of Law. Canterbury Association

Canterbury is that part of the program of the Episcopal Church reaching to the college and the university campus. The program exists to meet our needs—changing as the needs change—to provide religious services, parties, and lectures or discussions, or a combination of these and others. These words characterize the concerns of Canterbury: "We believe: that God gave man reason and free-will; that God wants us to use these gifts to extend our knowledge of Him and discover fresh aspects of the universe He created; that scientific progress is part of this process; that making the most of our life-long opportunities to learn more ourselves and teach others is one of our basic obligations as children of God."

Women's Recreation Association

The Women's Recreational Association is the governing body of intramurals for girls. The purpose of the organization is to provide extra-curricular activities for girls interested in sports. Bowling, basketball, volleyball, badminton, tennis, and softball were among the varied sports provided for students. Officers for 1963-64 were: Edie McClurg, president; Irene Sarras, Vice President; Cindy Rowan, Secretary; Nancy Kvaternik, Treasurer; Linda Muncton, Publicity Chairman; and Sharon Wiber, Point Chairman. The sponsor was Marian Simpson, physical education instructor.

The Newman Club

The Newman Chapter is the student organization for Roman Catholics attending the University of Missouri at Kansas City. Its primary interest is to make a positive contribution to university life through its evaluation in classes, conferences, lectures and private discussions, of contemporary problems in the light of present-day Catholic thought. Classes are conducted during the scholastic year; lectures on current questions are presented at each of the bi-monthly Sunday evening meetings. The Chapter also sponsors cultural and social events during the course of the year. Facilities at the Chaplain's Residence, 5221 Rockhill Road, include opportunities for the reception of the Sacraments, individual counseling, the use of the library from 9 a.m. until 10 p.m. daily.

Torch and Scroll

Torch and Scroll is the student scholastic honorary on campus. Its members must have completed five semesters of college work, of which two are in residence at The University of Missouri at Kansas City. They must have a scholastic average of 2.0 or above on each semester. Initiation is held twice a year, followed by a dinner for initiates. Members serve as ushers on Honors Day and at Commencement.

Delta Alpha

Delta Alpha is a senior women's leadership society. In order to be a member of Delta Alpha, young women must be outstanding on campus for they are selected on the basis of leadership, character, scholarship and their participation in campus activities. Delta Alpha helps in the preparation of the "Coed Cues" handbook, distributed to new women students during orientation, and other service projects during the year. New members are tapped in a traditional ceremony on Honor's Day.

Gamma Delta

The Zeta Pho Chapter of Gamma Delta was installed on the University of Missouri at Kansas City campus on October 27, 1963. Gamma Delta, the International Association of Lutheran Students, has two major concerns: That college students know Christ, and that they are moved to do something for Him. Gamma Delta's minimum goal for each member is spiritual understanding and growth on par with his progress in secular education. Accordingly, Bible study and worship constitute the very center of the Gamma Delta program. The Zeta Pho chapter furthers Christian service by conducting programs of Christian fellowship, which include songs, picnics, parties, athletics, and cultural activities. In all these activities, Gamma Deltans give corporate expression to their faith in joint recreation, work, worship, and prayer. One of their purposes in Christian fellowship inasmuch as life itself is fellowship.

Xi Phi

Xi Psi Phi, Dental Fraternity, better known as ZIP, had a very successful year socially and academically. Highlights of the social year included the annual Shipwreck Ball and the Senior Dinner Dance, in honor of the graduating seniors. The Zipettes, composed of the wives of the members, proved themselves indispensable again this year by lending valuable assistance to the fraternity and enabling the ZIP functions to be extremely successful.

Psi Omega

The concrescence of the individuals in our University School of Denistry and their personal segregation into fellowships creates a new maturity in professional growth. This is by no means a deprivation but rather an enrichment of each person through the dental fraternity. Psi Omega of the University of Missouri at Kansas City is unique in its presentation of curriculum to the member, his family and colleagues. Achievement in the fraternity is stimulated by a keen interest in both professional and scholastic attainment. Our programming is devised in such a manner as to correlate text book information with the practical knowledge of everyday practice and enjoyment of our future careers. Although the culmination of theory and knowledge is one plateau with a subsequent practical maturity through professional educators creates an elevation to our upmost goal. The force and support by the wives of the students is made manifest in an auxiliary organization from which entertainment and educational values are derived. To the women behind the "prophesized" Doctors of Dental Surgery of Kansas City, we take this opportunity to express humble gratitude for their sacrifice, indulgence, and comfort. The Psi Omega Auxiliary officers are Sally Simpson, President; Betty Byland, Vice-President; Jan Marburger, Recording Secretary; Corrine Boyd, Corresponding Secretary; Frances Ritchey, Treasurer; Sandra Falkensten, Historian; Camille Hamilton, Editor; Sharon Schmitt, Nita Adams and Andrea Clark, Tri Dental Representatives; and Jerilee Gott and Barbara Nichols, Rush Chairmen. During the 1964-65 school year the Psi Omega Auxiliary will be in charge of the Tri Dental Auxiliary Council with Sharon Schmitt presiding.

Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonia

The Alpha Psi Chapter of Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonia was established at the Conservatory of Music on November 18, 1927, having been originated at the New England Conservatory of Music at Boston on October 6, 1898. The purpose of the fraternity is to advance the cause of music in America, foster the mutual welfare and brotherhood of students and music, develop the truest fraternal spirit among its members, and to encourage loyalty to the Alma Mater. Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonia places emphasis on scholarship, musical knowledge, performance, and/or interest in composing.

"Service to the campus and to the community—" Alpha Phi Omega

This has been the aim of the Alpha Phi Omega, National Service Fraternity, for the 25 years it has been in operation. Alpha Eta Chapter of UMKC had an active Chapter of fourteen and a pledge class of ten this year. APO sponsored their traditional Beauty and Beast Dance on November 16 at which time Joyce Adams, sponsored by Tau Kappa Epsilon, was chosen Beauty and Jim Eisenbrandt, sponsored by Sigma Alpha Iota, was chosen Beast. All proceeds from this dance were given to the charity designated by those groups sponsoring a candidate. Members of Alpha Phi Omega served their campus this year by acting as ushers for convocations and commencement, collecting for the United Funds Campaign, and aiding the Peace Corps.

Delta Sigma Delta

Delta Sigma Delta, the first professional dental fraternity, was founded in November of 1882. The Kansas City Chapter, the first dental fraternity at the University of Missouri at Kansas City, was organized March 15, 1898. Delta Sigma Delta has initiated over 30,000 members since 1882, has 24,000 active members, and over 14,000 life members. The Kansas City chapter is proud of its past record, having furnished not only for the dental school, but for the entire University. The Kansas City Chapter is equally proud of its national ranking. It ranked ninth among the thirty-six undergraduate chapters last year.

Mu Phi Epsilon is an International Professional Music Sorority dedicated to the recognition and promotion of scholarship and musicianship, the advancement of music in America, loyalty to the Alma Mater, and development of friendship within its sisterhood. It was founded at the Metropolitan College of Music in Cincinnati, Ohio, on November 13, 1903, and since that time has expanded to include—collegiate chapters and—alumnae chapters. It became international on November 13, 1962, with the installation of a chapter at Philippine Women's University, Manila, Philippine Islands. Alpha Kappa Chapter was installed on November 13, 1959, upon the merger of Mu Delta Chapter of the Conservatory of Music and Phi Phi Chapter at the University of Kansas City. Election to Mu Phi Epsilon is based upon scholarship, musicianship, character, and personality. Those eligible for membership are music majors or minors enrolled as candidates for a degree who have attained second semester freshman standing, graduate students, and faculty members.

Sigma Alpha Iota

The Tau Sigma chapter of Sigma Alpha Iota is one of 132 collegiate chapters of this international professional fraternity for women in the field of music. With a membership based upon scholarship, musicianship, character, and seriousness of purpose; the main aims and ideals of Sigma Alpha Iota are to form chapters of music students and musicians who shall uphold the highest ideals of a musical education, to raise the standards of productive musical work among women students, to further the development of music in America and promote a stronger bond of musical interest between foreign countries and America, to give inspiration and material aid to its members, to organize the social life of its members as a contributing factor to their educational program, to cooperate with the purposes of the Alma Mater, and to adhere to the highest standards of American citizenship and democracy. This year Sigma Alpha Iota became the sponsor of the Music Committee of the People-to-People Program. Tau Sigma chapter works locally with the Kansas City Alumnae chapter and Patroness chapter in a scholarship program to assist women music students. Musicals are presented by chapter members at meetings and at Conservatory Convocations. Members of Sigma Alpha Iota strive to maintain the serious attitude of a professional fraternity and still contribute to the social life of the campus.

Kappa Psi

Kappa Psi is the oldest and largest professional pharmacy fraternity in the nation. It was founded in 1879, at Russell Military Academy in New Haven, Connecticut. There are now fifty-five active chapters and twenty graduate chapters, including the Kansas City Graduate Chapter. Gamma Theta, the local chapter, was chartered in 1957, and is the largest pharmacy fraternity at the University of Missouri at Kansas City. The object of the fraternity is to promote professional interest among pharmacy students so that they may be more useful members of the profession.

Phi Delta Chi

Patrick McGraw, President

Since the founding of Beta Epsilon Chapter in December of 1960, Phi Delta Chi has developed into a dynamic organization in the School of Pharmacy. It has participated in campus activities to a significant degree and has received honors for its excellence of organization from the national offices in Columbus, Ohio. This has taken place in three short years.

For eighty years Phi Delta Chi has played a prominent role in Pharmacy. The purpose of the fraternity is to help educate the pharmacy student in his chosen profession and offer him the inherent benefits of a fraternal organization.

We are proud to be called Greek. We are proud to be sorority sisters . . . or fraternity brothers. We are members of closely knit organizations. We work together and we have fun together. We pool our efforts and our finances to sponsor projects and activities. Competition is a watchword among us. We are particular about who may become a member of our ranks. We have to be. But those who make it are aware that they have achieved something and that they will have to maintain their personal image if they are to remain among us. The frenzied choosing season, Rush, is crucial to us, for it is at this time that we gain new members to further our organization; its cause and its meaning. We help each other, we learn from each other, we are loyal to each other. Our year, filled to the brim with Greek activities, is overflowing with moments-to-remember. Yes, we are proud to be called Greek.

Alpha Epsilon Pi

The men of Alpha Epsilon Pi completed a successful year under the leadership of Edward Barash and Ronald Kraft, first and second semester masters.

The social highlights of the year included a hayride given by the pledges for the active brothers, several dinner dance parties and informal house parties.

Scholastically, A.E.Pi led the fraternities in grade averages with four men averaging better than a 2.0 grade point average.

The brothers were also active in campus organizations, many holding offices. Melvin Blonsky was president of I.F.C., Steve Marten, secretary, and Ronald Kraft, treasurer. Bill Cohen headed the Organization of Jewish Students, and Warren Palitz was vice-president of the dormitory. Summer time will bring a Fourth of July party to kick off the rush season, many trips to the Ozarks and fun in our new speed boat.

Alpha Delta Pi

Alpha Delta Pi is proud of its heritage as the oldest secret society for women. The National sorority was founded on May 15, 1851, at Wesleyan College in Macon, Georgia. Delta Phi Chapter at UMKC is of the more recently established of the sorority's 106 collegiate chapters. It was another fun year for ADPi. The Halloween Party at Wyandotte County Lake, and the Christmas slumber party were nights that will be remembered for a long time. The active members of the chapter were delightfully entertained by the pledges at the pledge-active party. A very special occasion was the first annual Diamond Dance where John Thornbrugh was crowned cupid of the pledge class. ADPi also participated in more serious events such as the Founders Day Program and Missouri State Day. Campus honors again were awarded to members of members of Alpha Delta Pi. Jan Seelinger was chosen playmate of Tau Kappa Epsilon Fraternity. Donna Rohning was crowned "Miss ADPi" at the sorority's National Convention at Hot Springs, Arkansas. Sharon Williamson served as president of Delta Alpha. The sorority had the highest scholastic average for sorority women on campus. ADPi's also served as officers of Student Council, Center Board, Program Council, and members of the yearbook staff. The diamond pin did shine this year as Alpha Delta Pi's attained high scholarship, served the campus, and just had fun.

A Walkout!! "Cake was great, see you around. Pledges".

Chi Omega

The year for Chi Omega began early in the summer with plans for a pre-school rush program in which fifteen enthusiastic pledges became part of the chapter roll. With their usual fun-loving spirit the pledges invited the actives to a Sunday afternoon tea which turned out unexpectedly for the actives as a 6 a.m. breakfast and romp through the woods at Minor Park. In return the actives challenged the pledge class to a grade contest which would end in the losers making steak for the winners and eating beans themselves. On February 28 at Cindy Rowan's home, about a dozen varieties of beans were assembled—the actives ate them with proper humility.

Linda Monckton, social chairman, planned various social functions for the chapter, among which were the masquerade Halloween party and the Fall Formal held November 23 at Eddy's at the Prom. John Ralston was reaffirmed Chapter Sweetheart at the annual Valentine Dance. Chi Omegas worked industriously on their three wisemen for the campus Christmas display and for Pan-Hellenic Ugly Man candidate Dave Milner. The chapter was proud to see Susan Hogg chosen first princess at the Sno-Ball. For their Christmas Kindness, Lamoda Zeta visited the Presbyterian Home for Women for an evening of songs and entertainment. February 29 was a highlight date for the chapter—initiation of their pledge class. Second semester, Chi Omegas planned Bum Friday activities, Parents' Evening, and the award of the annual Social Science Prize which recognized a girl excelling in the Social Science department at the university.

Delta Chi

The Delta Chi Fraternity was founded October 13, 1890, at Cornell University to promote brotherhood among college men. During the past year, Delta Chi has been active in campus politics, Center Board, Orientation Week, Christmas display contest, the Kangaroo, and athletics. As a social fraternity, the Delta Chi's were quite active in their informal get-togethers, their famed Purple Passion Party, a New Year's Eve dance, the Pair-O-Dice Western Costume dance, the Annual Tri Chapter Party at Wyandotte County Lake, a Spring Formal at the Town House Hotel, and the Regional Conference at Ames, Iowa. Once again the chapter held a Christmas Dinner and party for a group of orphans in one of the actives' homes. The Chapter has received personal attention and interest from the National Headquarters, because of the extensive growth the University is undergoing. The Chapter enjoyed a very successful year, while promoting and providing leaders for all phases of campus life.

Tau Kappa Epsilon

A group of men from all conceivable backgrounds, chosen for personal worth and character and striving to achieve the ideals dictated by a strict ethical and moral standard—this is a fraternity, a fraternity called Tau Kappa Epsilon. A smaller group of men, all members and pledges of that fraternity, working together for those principles, the goals of the campus, their common advancement and the individual development of each man—this is a local chapter, a chapter called Epsilon Lambda. These two, each an integral part of the other, unite to form the character of a body which is a "Fraternity for Life"—a fraternity where brotherhood and friendship do not end upon graduation. But more than a fraternity for the duration of life, it is a fraternity for the living of life. As you find TEKES in all walks of campus life and leadership, such as A.S.A., University Program Council, University Center Board, Arts and Science Council, Student Bar Association, and many others, you will find TEKES in all walks of successful life.

The Cornstalk Stomp

The annual rip-roaring Cornstalk Stomp was held at the Round Hill Country Club. In the course of the evening TKE's and their dates nibbled pretzels, sipped liquid refreshment, and danced the night away. The girls each received a big "TKE" brand as a memento of a real western-type evening.

"I'm okay sweetie, just get me to the car and put the key in the ignition."

"Oh God, it's cold"—A typical reaction to the brand!

"Okay, so it's bad manners; last year by the time I got a cup the tap was dry."

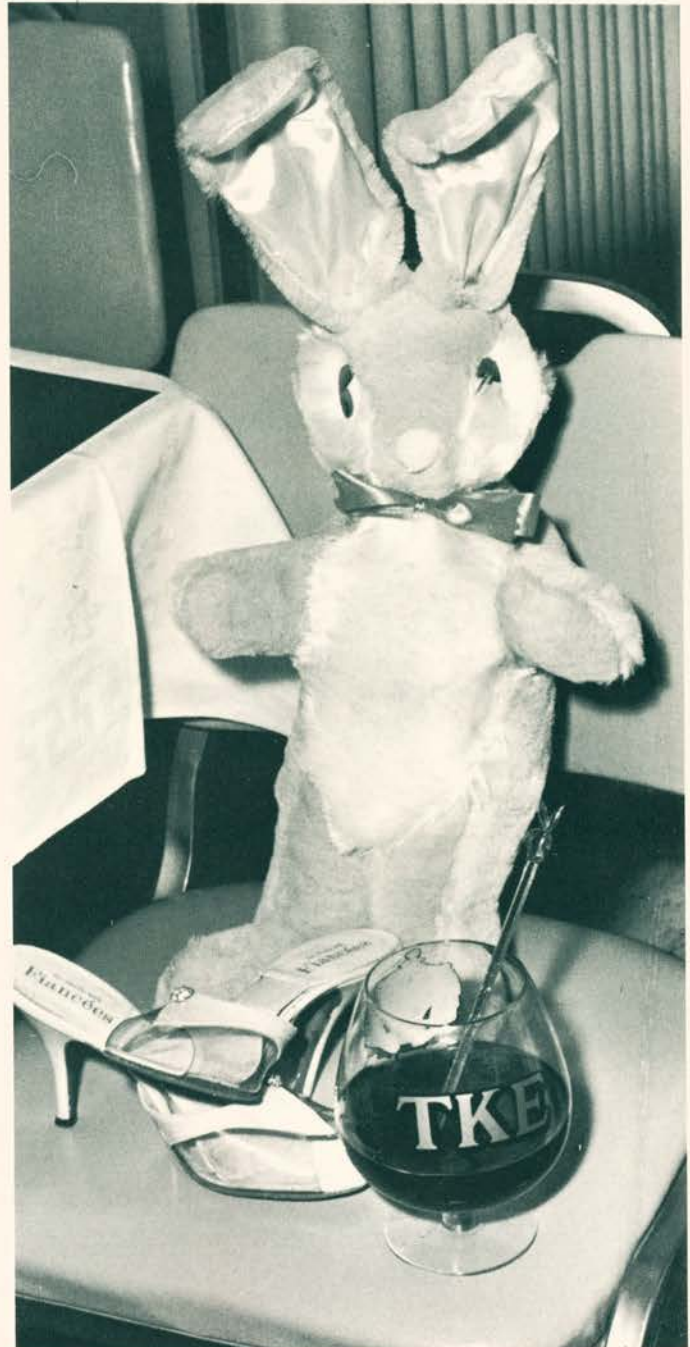

TKE's Playboy Party

Jan Seelinger and Bill Teiwes were announced as Playmate and Playboy at TKE's annual Playboy Party. The semiformal dance, held at the Mill Wheel Restaurant on February 22, was a highlight of the fraternity's activities. Music was provided by Dee Peterson and his band.

"Hold it Bill, you may be Playboy but what would your date say?"

"They're very nice Roger, but what am I gonna do with a pair of Playboy cuff-links?"

Red Carnation

Tau Kappa Epsilon held its formal banquet-ball, The Red Carnation, at the Hotel President on March 14. About one-hundred couples attended. After dinner, a speech was given by the honored guest speaker of the evening, Frater Tom Talbott. Following this, the dance began to the music of the Dee Peterson Orchestra. Intermission came next on the list. First, awards for scholarship were given to Fraters Gary Tuttle, Bill Teiwes, Steve McLaughlin, and Al Share. The Gerald Sitler Award, presented to the Frater who has done the most to further the interests of the chapter in his college career, was given very appropriately to Frater Rick Nash. Following these Awards, Prytanis Roger Kennicutt turned over the badge of office to the new Prytanis, Frater Phelps Murdock. Miss Vikki Bond, Sweetheart 1963-64, then crowned the new Sweetheart, Miss Toni Lancaster, who will reign during the next school year. Following the dance, Fraters and dates adjourned to the home of Frater Steve Davis, where the post party lasted the better part of the night. Thanks go to Fraters Jim Judd and Steve Davis, Co-Chairmen of this most successful evening.

A standing ovation was given for Miss Vikki Bond . . . a fine tribute to a most wonderful Sweetheart.

Miss Vikki Bond, Sweetheart '63-'64, crowns Miss Toni Lancaster, Sweetheart '64-'65.

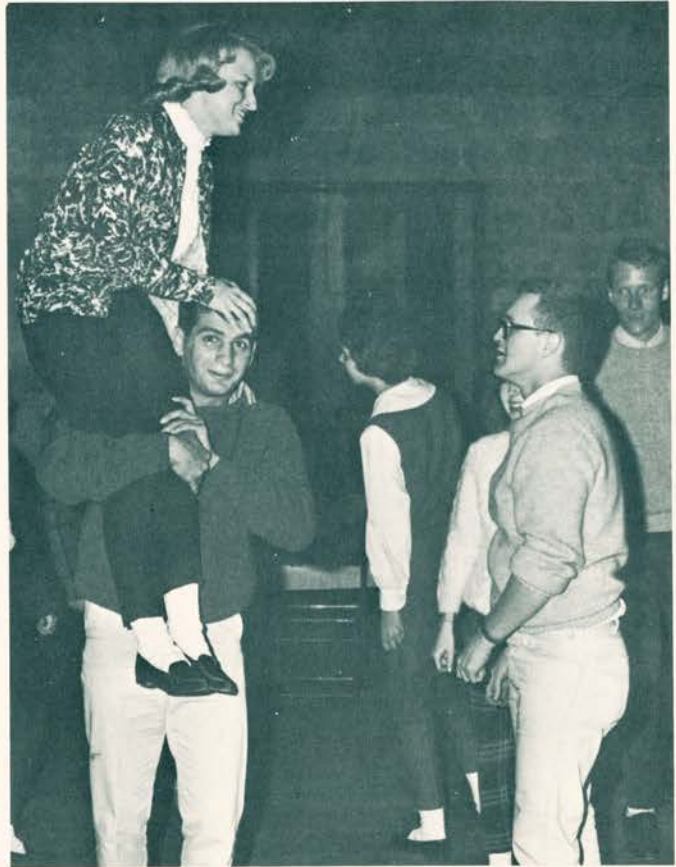

TEKE Life!!

"... fits right, color's perfect, and all we've gotta do is get rid of the label and..."

"O. K., Louie, that's enough of the judo lessons for tonight."

"He does it every night George; that year and a half he worked in the stone quarry really affected his mind."

"Damn those cheap light bulbs."

Alpha Phi Alpha

This year Alpha Phi Alpha Social Fraternity celebrated its fifty-ninth anniversary. Delta Rho Chapter, established as a city chapter in 1952, completed its first full year at U.M.K.C. The officers for the year were Dave Carr, president; Forestal Lawton, secretary and pledge master; Curtis Rogers, first semester treasurer; and Carl Moore, second semester treasurer. Curtis Rogers also served as Vice-president of the Inter-fraternity Council during the first semester. The first event of the year for the "Alphas" was a "smoker" held at the University Center and an after party held at the Native Sons Club. Ronald Horn, Weldon Jolly, and Jesse Lowery received and accepted bids. The Retreat to Lincoln University in Jefferson City, Missouri took place during the Homecoming weekend at Lincoln. Founder's Day Celebration held on December 4, 1963. During the semester break Bro. Thomas Wrenn entertained several fraternity brothers at his home in Texas. Bros. Carr and Lawton took part in a Tutorial program new to Kansas City this year. Bro. Carr was one of twenty to first sign-up to volunteer his services to tutor local high school students. The chapter also took part in Bum Friday festivities and the election campaign for 1964.

We waited anxiously for the tour to begin. Finally, we boarded the buses for the first time.

We cared enough to send the very best...

On a cold, blustery day in late March, the sixty members of The Concert Choir waited, amid baggage and buses, for the long-awaited concert tour to begin. After long months of detailed planning, charting, and scheduling, the date of departure had finally arrived. Ahead of us were 2500 miles of concerts, little sleep, little privacy, lots of regimentation, new acquaintances, new friends, hotels and "foster" homes, interesting sights, strange towns every day, and myriads of happenings that were soon destined to become memories. Our ultimate destination was Washington, D. C. Our main objective there was a guest appearance under the auspices of the State Department and recording tapes for The Voice of America to be broadcast around the world. En route, between Kansas City and Washington, were six days of concerts. Then, after three days in the capital, we began the homeward journey. A total of almost two weeks on the road held much in store for all of us.

Rushed primping. . .

Time to sleep or to just sit quietly. . .

The effort to arrive early for bus-loading. . .

A carefully budgeted lunch-break. . .

There was never enough time . . .

Brief instructions before a concert. . .

The carefully scheduled life...

Endless loading and unloading, lifting and carrying. . .

Intermission refreshment for tired throats. . .

A last minute harpsichord tuning. . .

"This had two snaps at the last concert!"

New situations and new audiences...

We sang in churches...

in schools and colleges.

in concert halls...

We recorded for "The Voice of America."

The endless search for perfection in performance.

Tired feet, but ever-eager voices. . .

Critical listeners and a tape play-back. . .

Time to meditate over great thoughts. . .

Time to pause and enjoy a special view. . .

Time to laugh. . .

Our home concert in packed Pierson Hall was a fitting finale.

We returned home, weary and facing the prospect of returning to classes the next day and orientation into a study routine. Together as a unit, we had lived, and made music, we had laughed, and occasionally we didn't feel much like laughing. But something kept us going. We liked what we were doing. We enjoyed singing for people and they enjoyed listening to us. We were told that we were ambassadors of U.M.K.C. and ambassadors of our United States Government. But above all, we were working together, engaged in a common effort, working for a purpose, and we achieved results. We were proud to be members of the family of the University Choir.

We are leaving the world of student passports and semester-orientated calendars and are entering the world where passports are earned, not distributed, a world in which the calendar stretches ahead far beyond our present comprehension.

Some of us will return for graduate study, but for others this is the last time we will be a part of college. But whether we are graduate students or whether we return merely to "visit" we will never feel quite the same walking between the upper or lower campus or drinking coffee in "the pouch".

This chapter is drawing to a close. We have tried, in some way, to prepare ourselves. Now, we will put what we have learned to the test.

In a modern denture, the one element

most essential to lifelike esthetics is ...

NATURAL

TOOTH

Even when tooth selection procedures are meticulously followed, a denture may well be an esthetic failure if it does not exhibit natural tooth color in the mouth. It's easy to avoid this embarrassing and costly problem by making color selection with the Trubyte Bioblend Selector your first step in designing every denture case. Specify Trubyte Bioblend—the world's only multi-blended porcelain anteriors—there is no substitute!

TRUBYTE [®] Bioblend

The world's only multi-blended porcelain anteriors.

THE DENTISTS' SUPPLY COMPANY OF NEW YORK • YORK, PENNSYLVANIA

CRAFTSMANSHIP

Our clients demand the finest in dental prosthetics . . . and get it! When they entrust their bridgework to us, the end result is more than just another restoration . . . for the secret of our processing success is CRAFTSMANSHIP, the invisible ingredient in superior dental service.

As master craftsman, we recommend vacuum fired porcelain fused to gold restorations. They combine the esthetic naturalness of translucent porcelain with the perfect fit and permanent strength of gold bonded to it underneath.

In performance, gold and porcelain restorations are shock proof, impervious to mouth fluids, and benign to tissue; in appearance, beautifully life like with perfect shade and anatomy permanently built in . . . truly a product of superior craftsmanship.

Vacuum fired porcelain fused to gold restorations have been accepted the world over as the finest in full coverage. Let us prove it to you.

full details

Flick on the Wig-l-bug switch and start the count-down.
Within 7 to 10 seconds, the "wonder electric mortar and pestle" delivers smooth, fine-textured, uniform mixes of alloy and mercury ready for insertion in the cavity. Wig-l-bug owners the world around tell us that the result is better, stronger, longer-lasting fillings every time. / What makes the Wig-l-bug so efficient? The answer is its unique, oscillating, figure-8 mixing motion. Other advantages? Yes, it impresses patients, saves chairtime, avoids waste, eliminates guesswork and human errors. / The Wig-l-bug is available in Beautiful Black (at $75.00), Ivory White or Pure White (at $82.00), and your choice of popular colors (at $88.00 to $95.00) at your dealer's. Order one today.

A few words to young family men with big responsibilities and tight budgets.

Your BMA Man can show you how to assure the good things in life for your family even if you aren't here — for the smallest tug on your budget.

BMA's new Maximum 10 Protection plan gives you 40 per cent more life insurance (at no extra cost) for the first ten years. You can get $10,000 of life insurance protection for about the price of $7,000.

Ten years from now when your talents are really paying off and your income has substantially increased, you begin to build up more in savings for yourself.

Call your BMA Man today for details on this new young marrieds life insurance plan.

The other day I stopped in at Luybens . . . (just to say “hello” . . . and get a new G-String for my viola d’amor . . . and the most astonishing thing happened. This absolutely huge bearded stranger walked up to me, introduced himself, and asked if I was interested in new-classicism. I said I most certainly was . . . (interested in new-classicism . . .) Well, we started talking, anyway, exciting things do happen at Luybens . . . and besides they have absolutely every musical need . . .

in retrospect . . .

Curiously enough, it is remarkably difficult for an Editor to compose the last block of copy, knowing that the job, at long last, is finally finished. At the countless times that the cry, "Oh, how I wish this book was at press . . ." was uttered in desperation, it was unthinkable that, in the final analysis, saying "good-bye" would be hard to do. But the final blank page presents itself.

A yearbook is, initially, abstract ideas, long range plans, glimmers, gleams, and hope. The groundwork begins in early summer with brainstorming sessions and sketched plans. The staff is assembled in bits and pieces, and then arranged and re-arranged to compose a working body of people known as a "staff." In September, when orientation begins and the campus feels alive, the race is on. From September through May, the calendar is composed of deadlines, and life's most pressing question is, "Will we meet D-Day successfully and how?"

An Editor regards, "the book" as a very precious entity. An Editor tries to realize her hopes, her plans, and tries not to settle for less. Sometimes, under the stress of production, a "give-and-take" attitude is the only realistic one, for deadlines must be met, and crises overcome; but through it all, an Editor looks forward, with anticipation and some trembling, to the day when "the book" will make its debut. With honesty, it is admitted that one simply can't please everyone . . . an Editor can't even please herself one-hundred percent! But the feeling that the best possible job has been accomplished is necessary. An Editor simply can't settle for less.

When examining the finished product, an Editor knows all the headaches, all the backaches, all the myriads of details that went into composing every page, and an Editor also realizes that these pages will be read casually by some, and not-so-casually by others. "The book" is a blend of many things, all of them "behind-the-scenes" events that will not be evident when leafing from page to page. But these trials and tribulations, and these moments of triumph that filled the year are part of being an Editor.
