Francis Quadrangle

At the heart of Mizzou's 1,262-acre main campus, the Quad includes Switzler Hall, the university's oldest classroom building; Jesse Hall, MU's white-domed administrative building; and the Columns, all that remains of Academic Hall, the university's first building, which burned in 1892. The scenic space is named after David R. Francis, the Missouri governor who oversaw reconstruction after the fire.

A wide-angle photograph of the Francis Quadrangle at the University of Missouri. In the foreground, a large green lawn is populated with several people walking and sitting. A row of six tall, white, fluted columns stands in a line across the middle ground. Behind the columns, the red brick Jesse Hall building is visible, featuring a prominent white dome with a blue roof and a spire. The sky is bright blue with some light clouds. The text "we will tramp, tramp, tramp around the columns" is overlaid in white at the bottom of the image.

we will tramp, tramp, tramp around the columns

Peace Park and the bridge

Once known as McAlester Park, the picturesque oasis northwest of Francis Quadrangle along Elm Street was renamed Peace Park in 1970 after the tragic shootings at Kent State University in Ohio. On a happier note, legend says that if you walk across the bridge with your sweetheart, the two of you are destined to marry.

Residence on Francis Quadrangle

The oldest building on the oldest public university campus west of the Mississippi River was built in 1867. It has hosted many famous Americans, including Mark Twain, Harry S Truman and Eleanor Roosevelt.

Bust of David R. Francis

Missouri's governor from 1889–93, David R. Francis is credited for keeping the university in Columbia after the fire that burned Academic Hall in 1892. It is a Mizzou student tradition to rub the sculpture's nose before a test for good luck — hence Francis' buffed bronze beak.

School of Journalism and the Reynolds Journalism Institute

If you're standing on Mizzou's campus, you are likely already aware of the School of Journalism's reputation. The world's first journalism school is also one of the best, producing elite reporters, editors and high-tech professionals. Alumni include ESPN anchor John Anderson, presidential debate moderator Jim Lehrer and ABC News reporter Elizabeth Vargas.

The Reynolds Journalism Institute — named after Mizzou alumna, media mogul and philanthropist Donald W. Reynolds, BJ '27 — strives to engage media professionals, scholars and citizens in programs aimed at strengthening journalism in the service of democracy. Researchers in the institute carry out major projects that enhance journalism and advertising, and resources such as the Journalism Futures Lab and Technology Testing Center provide a state-of-the-art setting.

A familiar sight in the Columbia skies, the Staff for Life Helicopter provides stabilization and transportation of critically injured patients.

Spotlight on: MU Health

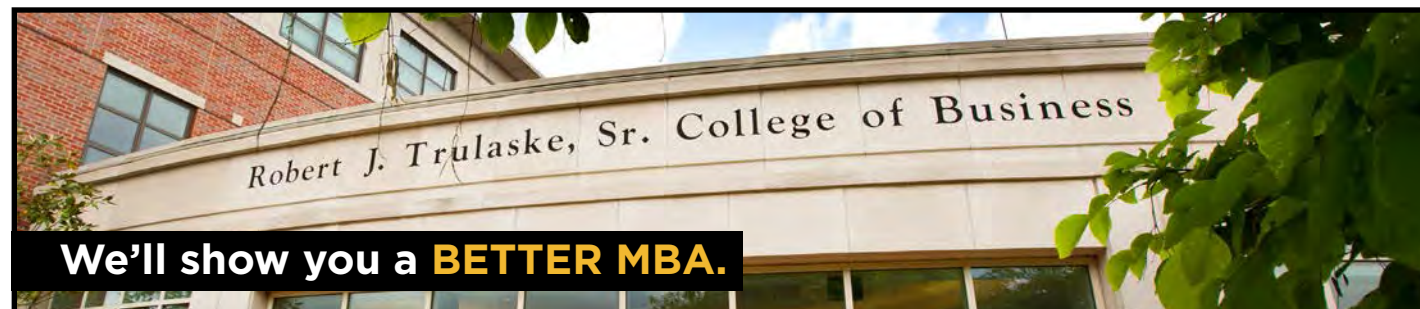

As mid-Missouri's only academic health center, University of Missouri Health offers a full spectrum of care, ranging from primary care to highly specialized, multidisciplinary treatment for patients with the most severe illnesses and injuries. Patients from each of Missouri's 114 counties are served by approximately 6,000 physicians, nurses and other health care professionals at MU Health. More than 50 MU Health clinics in central Missouri receive more than 500,000 annual outpatient visits.

Carnahan Quad

Originally referred to as the South Quadrangle for its position relative to Jesse Hall, the area was dedicated as the Mel Carnahan Quadrangle in 2003 to honor the late Missouri governor, a 1959 MU law school graduate. The area includes six gardens, the Traditions Plaza amphitheater and Tiger Plaza, which features a 1,200-pound bronze tiger and a waterfall.

OLD MISSOURI

Old Missouri; Fair Missouri! Dear Old Varsity!

Ours Are Hearts That Fondly Love Thee; Here's A Health To Thee!

Proud Art Thou In Classic Beauty Of Thy Noble Past

With Thy Watchwords, Honor, Duty, Thy High Fame Shall Last.

Memorial Union

At 140 feet tall, this memorial was completed in 1926 and stands in tribute to MU students and alumni lost in all U.S. wars and conflicts. Those who walk beneath the neo-gothic archway are to speak in hushed tones out of respect for fallen troops.

Student Recreation Complex

One of the most impressive stops on the MU campus tour, the complex combines 100 years of buildings, including the original home of the Missouri Tigers basketball team, Brewer Fieldhouse. There are four pools — including a lazy river and the breathtaking Tiger Grotto (above) — a spa, a dance studio, a martial arts room, 100-plus cardio machines and more than 14,000 pounds of free weights.

Student Center

With nearly 230,000 square feet of space, this campus centerpiece is a great place to grab a slice, a sandwich or sushi. You can even shoot some pool or take advantage of countless study nooks. The building is also home to student-run media, such as The Maneater newspaper and the KCOU radio station, as well as The Mizzou Store. There's also Mort's Grill, named for MU alumnus and Beetle Bailey creator Mort Walker, BA '48, which is decked with vintage comic strips. And be sure to check out the Traditions Lounge, which features a limestone fireplace and artifacts from the university's history.

Ellis Library

Named after former University of Missouri President Elmer Ellis, it is the largest research library in the state. MU Libraries celebrated its centennial in 2015.

Beetle Bailey Statue

The famous comic book character's creator, Mort Walker, and son, sculptor Neal Walker, unveiled the sculpture during Homecoming 1992. The concept features Beetle loafing in a booth similar to those found in The Shack, a beloved campus hangout that burned in 1988. Walker often inscribes names of college chums on Beetle's comic strip booth, so it is fitting that the sculpture is covered with graffiti.

The Veterans Center is a one-stop center dedicated to helping Mizzou veterans from admission to graduation.

Homecoming Tradition

Mizzou's annual invitation for alumni to return to Columbia for a parade, football game and other events began in 1911. Back then, the late Chester Brewer, former athletic director, hoped to invigorate school spirit and rev up the rivalry with Kansas. Now MU's Homecoming includes student performances, massive house decorations and one of the world's largest blood drives.

old mizzou!

M-I-Z, Z-O-U!

Although the University of Missouri's nickname, Mizzou, goes back to the early 1900s, the signature chant that spells it aloud came along in the 1970s. Now it's used as a rallying cry at sporting events. Here's how it works: One side of the stadium shouts "M-I-Z." The opposite side answers "Z-O-U," and it's repeated until the crowd is whipped into a frenzy. The chant can even be used as a verbal, secret handshake. Suspect someone is a Tiger? Say "M-I-Z," and see if they answer back.

WHAT IF THE SOLUTION IS IN THE HEADS OF TWO RESEARCHERS WHO JUST HAVEN'T MET?

Because solutions don't care about fields of study, the University of Missouri has a longstanding culture of collaboration. The Mizzou Advantage initiative builds on this rich history by encouraging partnerships that uncover solutions and improve lives - in Missouri, throughout the nation and around the globe. The initiative supports networking and research in four deep-seated areas of strength:

- Food for the Future
- Media of the Future
- One Health/One Medicine
- Sustainable Energy

MU is one of a handful of research universities with a medical school, a college of veterinary medicine, a law school, an engineering college and a college of agriculture - all on the same campus, all within walking distance.

At the University of Missouri, we believe in higher education and the power of ideas to change the world.

THIS IS THE MIZZOU ADVANTAGE. COME BE A PART OF IT.

Eat, Drink and Be Merry

Foodies love Columbia because Columbia loves food. Whether you're looking for a quick snack, a white tablecloth experience or something in between, CoMo has everything your taste buds desire. International or American, burgers or pizza, sandwiches or appetizers — if you don't find something you like right away, just follow the aromas and keep walking.

Shakespeare's Pizza

220 S. Eighth St. 573-449-2454

"Shakes" has personality baked right into the crust. One of Columbia's most popular meeting places, it has been a Mizzou favorite since 1973. shakespeares.com

Booche's

110 S. Ninth St. 573-874-9519

Best burger in town? Many Columbians think it can be found at this comfortable pub and pool hall, a civic institution since 1884.

The Heidelberg

410 S. Ninth St. 573-449-6927

Atmosphere, a sunny patio and great happy hour specials have made this an old campus favorite. And its location just across the street from the J-School makes it convenient, too. theheidelberg.com

El Rancho

1014 E. Broadway 573-875-2121

On some late nights, the line for this homemade Mexican cuisine stretches out the door. Chimichangas, nachos and enormous burritos are among the student favorites.

Sub Shop

209 S. Eighth St. 866-475-6735

Since 1975, Sub Shop has been a sandwich haven for hungry Tigers. The fresh-baked bread aromas fill the dining room, and the atmosphere couldn't be more laid back. subshopinc.com

International Café

26 S. Ninth St. 573-449-4560

One of CoMo's favorite places for Greek, Mediterranean and Middle Eastern food. Try the gyro with hummus and tabbouleh. internationalcafecolumbia.com

Main Squeeze

28 S. Ninth St. 573-817-5616

Fresh, creative, vegetarian and committed to sustainability, this café offers wholesome smoothies, soups, sandwiches and salads made with local produce, when possible. main-squeeze.com

Café Berlin

220 N. Tenth St. 573-441-0400

One of Columbia's favorite breakfast locations offers dozens of vegetarian menu items, occasional live music and an Early Bird special on weekdays from 7 to 8:30 a.m. cafeberlincomo.com

The Broadway Diner

22 S. Fourth St. 573-875-1173

This cozy café offers greasy spoon fare and late-night hours for hungry students. Try the signature dish, The Stretch: hash browns topped with scrambled eggs, chili, cheddar cheese, green peppers and onions.

Ernie's Café & Steak House

1005 E. Walnut St.

Founded in 1934 by owner Ernie Lewis, this retro breakfast and lunch diner is known for its omelettes, French toast and Chopped Cow hamburgers. erniescolumbia.com

Festivals and Events

Festivals and gatherings are a year-round phenomenon in Columbia. Music, art, film — you name it — this college town's tastes are as eclectic as the population.

things are never slow-mo in CoMo

Roots N Blues N BBQ Sept. 30–Oct. 2, 2016

The Roots N Blues N BBQ Festival features award-winning music acts from around the country and smokin' barbecue of all types. rootsnbluesnbbq.com

True/False Film Fest March 2–5, 2017

The annual True/False film festival celebrates some of the world's best documentaries as well as films that blur the line between fact and fiction. truefalse.org

Citizen Jane Film Fest Nov. 3–6, 2016

True/False's "sister" film festival, Citizen Jane, showcases films produced and directed by women. citizenjanefilmfestival.org

Earth Day Festival April 2017

The Earth Day Festival, held each April on the Sunday closest to the holiday, features performers, educational exhibits, a street fair and children's activities to celebrate the planet. columbiaearthday.org

Art In The Park June 4–5, 2016

On the shores of Stephens Lake, you'll find Art in the Park, the oldest and largest fine arts festival in mid-Missouri. artintheparkcolumbia.org

Summerfest

Hosted by the Blue Note, Columbia's most popular downtown music venue, Summerfest brings national music acts to town for a huge block party on summer evenings starting in May. From Broadway to Walnut, Ninth Street is closed to automobile traffic while acts such as Wilco, Weird Al and Willie Nelson fill the mid-Missouri night sky with music. thebluenote.com

University Concert Series

Beyond Campus

There is plenty more to see and experience mere minutes from Mizzou. Whether you seek the bluff tops near Les Bourgeois Vineyards, the scenic trails of Rock Bridge State Park or the fragrant blossoms of Shelter Gardens, don't forget your hiking boots!

MKT Nature and Fitness Trail

501 S. Providence Road

Built over the old rail bed of the MKT (Missouri-Kansas-Texas) Railroad, the gravel MKT Trail is 10 feet wide and stretches across Boone County. There are five points of access in Columbia, including a gateway on the west edge of campus at Stewart and Providence roads. The trail also connects to Missouri's Katy Trail, which extends more than 200 miles across the state.

Perche Creek

5500 W. Van Horn Tavern Road

No matter the occasion, there's always time for go-carts, batting cages and miniature golf. It's just a four-minute cruise from the Columbia Mall west on I-70. For the big golfers, there's a par-3 course and a driving range. perchecreek.com

Shelter Gardens

1817 W. Broadway

The Shelter Gardens, part of Shelter Insurance's corporate office, is open to the public for relaxation, a picnic or a quiet stroll. The five acres contain many soothing features, including waterfalls and a garden for the blind. In June and July, the park hosts free concerts Sunday evenings.

Les Bourgeois Vineyards

14020 W. Highway BB, Rocheport, MO

The Les Bourgeois Vineyards in Rocheport, Missouri, just west of Columbia on I-70, sits on a rocky bluff with scenic views of the Missouri River. Opened in 1974, the family-owned winery is the third largest in the state. The company's 35-acre property includes an outdoor wine garden, a fishing pond, an A-frame restaurant, Blufftop Bistro and six acres of vineyards. missouriwine.com

Cooper's Landing

11505 Smith Hatchery Road

Sip a summertime beverage, tap your foot to live music and watch the Missouri River roll by at this popular outdoor venue. Just off the MKT Trail south of Columbia, be sure to try Chim's Thai Kitchen on site — an unexpected and tasty tradition. cooperslanding.net

Stephens Lake Park

2001 E. Broadway

With 116 acres of lawn, hills, ponds, trees, paths and, of course, the lake, this is a great place to toss a Frisbee or have a picnic. There's even a beach, and fishing is allowed on the east side of the boardwalk. It's located at East Broadway and Old Highway 63, east of the MU campus and downtown Columbia. gocolumbiamo.com

Rock Bridge State Park

5901 S. Highway 163

Fifteen miles of trails span the 2,273-acre park south of Columbia, with spectacular views to be enjoyed from horseback, mountain bike or hiking boots.

Shryocks Callaway Farms

2927 County Road 253

Located 20 minutes east of Columbia on I-70 in Callaway County, this fun getaway features a 17-acre corn maze with a different pattern every year. Take a hayride across the scenic mid-Missouri countryside, and afterward enjoy refreshments inside the iconic red and green barn. There's also a souvenir shop and a three-story gumball coaster. callawayfarms.com

National Churchill Museum

Westminster College, 501 Westminster Ave., Fulton, MO

Just up the street from historic downtown Fulton is a "virtual treasury of Churchillian knowledge." Learn about the former Prime Minister of Great Britain and why the leader is still important today. nationalchurchillmuseum.org

Warm Springs Ranch

25270 Highway 98, Boonville, MO

Come visit the world-famous Budweiser Clydesdales at this state-of-the-art breeding facility located west of Columbia in Cooper County (near Boonville). The ranch features a mare, stallion and foaling barn; a veterinary lab; and 10 pastures, each with a customized walk-in shelter. Reserve a tour of the 25,000-square-foot facility and look across 300 acres of pastures. Meet the horses featured in the famous Budweiser Super Bowl commercials. warm SpringsRanch.com

Tiger Trivia

- In 1839, Missouri legislature passed the Geyer Act, which created the Seminary Fund and set up the organization and powers of the university.
- Legendary American author Mark Twain, aka Samuel Clemens, received an honorary degree in 1902 at the University of Missouri.
- Mizzou owns Tucker Prairie, a 160-acre tract of land and the last sizable remnant of Missouri's grand prairie, which once covered large areas in northeast and central Missouri.
- Before Mizzou joined the Southeastern Conference in 2012, the Tigers competed in the Big 12, which was formerly the Big Eight, Big Seven, Big Six, and originally the Missouri Valley Intercollegiate Athletic Association.
- Mizzou has more than 300,000 alumni living all over the world. Emmy Award-winning actor Jon Hamm, Grammy Award-winning singer Sheryl Crow and Cy Young Award-winning pitcher Max Scherzer attended MU.
