Homecoming Royalty

Queen of the fiftieth Homecoming at the University, Mary Ann Azar of St. Louis, was chosen by student election from among seven finalists in the Queen competition which originally numbered more than fifty. Miss Azar is a junior in the School of Business and Public Administration, majoring in retailing. Her two attendants are seniors in the College of Education, Rebecca (Becky) Graham of St. Louis, who later was chosen Savitar Queen, and Jean McMonigle of Mexico, Mo. The Queen was crowned by Governor John M. Dalton during the half-time ceremonies of the Colorado-Missouri football game on November 10.

With her two special attendants, the Queen made trips to St. Louis, Kansas City and Jefferson City to call on alumni and city and state leaders. They were accompanied on the traditional tour by James Carothers, Homecoming chairman, and Jean J. Madden, assistant director of alumni activities and chairman of the University committee on Homecoming.
