GRADUATES RECEIVE DIPLOMAS! Officers Elected For 1972-73

By Katy Sears

Thirty-two seniors will graduate from U-High Friday night, May 19, at eight o'clock. Randall Vemer will be featured in a violin solo, Mike Teel will talk about the past years, and Pinney Allen will talk about the "future years." William H. Jones, a professor of English at MU will address the graduates, after which Mr. Ronnestad will announce the recipients of the Albert Holman Award, Outstanding Scholars' Award, and the Outstanding Key Club Award. Mr. Watkins will present the class while Mr. Snethen gives them their diplomas.

Pinney Allen and Carl Wingo received certificates of recognition from the curators of MU. Along with Pinney and Carl, Sue Craig, Sam Dwyer, Michele Johnson, Tres Mitchell, Ian Thompson, and Randall Vemer are graduating members of the Honor Society.

Di Nelson Competes IN August

By Jim Pfander

Miss Teenage America; splendor, glamor, pageantry, Di Nelson. Di Nelson? Yes.

Diana Nelson was chosen as the representative from the Columbia-Boone County area. She will travel to the Missouri contest on August 12. After an almost certain victory there, she will compete on the nationwide level on August 24.

STATE MEET FINISHES YEAR

by Mark Russell

U-High made another fine showing in the state track meet last Saturday at the football stadium. Charlie Evans compiled all four of U-High's points with a third place finish in the mile and a fifth in the 880 yard run. MSD won the class S title and St. Mary's won the class M title.

MITCHELLS COMPETE AT STATE

by Bob Barrett

The U-High boys' tennis team ended their season undefeated. All the boys on the team are finished for the year, except Tres and Brian Mitchell. The team's top two members will participate in the singles division of the state tournament to be held this weekend on the Missouri courts.

The girls tennis team is unvictorious so far this year. They lost once to Mexico, and twice to Hickman. The girls played their crosstown rivals Monday, losing 6-3. Cayte Odor and Sandy Crowson won their singles matches, and Paige Vemer and Stephanie Teel teamed up to win a doubles match.

Forgive My Guilt

Not always sure what things called sin may be,
I am sure of one sin I have done.
It was years ago, and I was a boy,
I lay in frost flowers with a gun,
The air ran blue as the flowers, I held my breath.
Two birds on golden legs slim as dream things
Ran like quicksilver on the golden sand,
My gun went off, they ran with broken wings
Into the sea, I ran to fetch them in,
But they swam with their heads high out to sea,
They cried like two sorrowful high flutes,
with jagged ivory notes where wings should be.

For days I heard them when I walked that headland
Crying out to their kind in the blue,
The other plovers were going over south
On silver wings leaving these broken two
The cries went out one day; but I still hear them
Ove all the wounds of sorrow in war or peace
I ever heard, time cannot drown them,
Those slender flutes of sorrow never cease.
Two airy things forever denied the air!
I never know how lives at last were spilt,
But I have hoped for years all that is wild,
Airy and beautiful will forgive my guilt.
